PROVINCES LOSE THEIR APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

Canadian Supreme Court to Hear Disputed Cases.

Privy Council Decides the Provincial Rights Controversy by Declaring That the Dominion Court Has Power to Hear Stated Case on Academic Questions — Marriage Hearing Goes On.

London, May 17.—Judgment was handed down by the Privy Council yesterday in the provincial rights case, dismissing the appeal.

The action was instituted by the Attorney-General of the Province of Ontario against the Attorney-General of the Dominion to decide whether the Supreme Court of Canada has jurisdiction to entertain a reference under section 60 of the Supreme Court Act raising questions as to the constitutional powers of the provinces, and as to the effect of provincial statutes. There were also questions pertaining to the Supreme Court Act and of the British North America Act.

The Lord Chancellor, in delivering judgment, described the case as most important. Speaking of the British North America Act, he said there could be no doubt that under this the powers distributed between the Dominion on the one hand and the provinces on the other, cover the whole area of Canada. It would be subversive of the entire scheme and policy of the act to assume that any point of internal self-government was withheld from Canada. Numerous points have arisen and may hereafter arise upon those provisions of the act which draw a dividing line between what belongs to the Dominion or to the province respectively.

On behalf of the province it is argued, indeed, that the Dominion Act authorizing questions to be asked of the Supreme Court is an invasion of provincial rights, but not because the power of asking such questions belongs exclusively to the provinces. The real ground is far wider. It is no less than that no Legislature in Canada has the right to pass an act for asking such questions at all. This is the feature of the present appeal which makes it so grave.

It would be one thing to say under the Canadian constitution what has been done could be done only to a Provincial Legislature within its own province. It is quite a different thing to say it cannot be done at all, being, as it is, a matter affecting the internal affairs of Canada, and on the face of it regulating the functions of a court of law which are part of the ordinary machinery of the Government in all civilized countries.

What in substance their lordships are asked to do is to say that the Canadian Parliament ought not to pass laws like this because it may be embarrassing and onerous to the court and to declare this law invalid because it ought not to have been passed. Their lordships would be departing from their legitimate province if they entertained the arguments of the appellants. They would really be pronouncing upon the policy of the Canadian Parliament, which is exclusively the business of the Canadian people, and is no concern of this board.

It is sufficient to point out the mischief and inconvenience which might arise from an indiscriminate and injudicious use of the act and leave it to the consideration of those who alone are lawfully and constitutionally entitled to decide upon such a matter. The appeal is therefore dismissed.

Supreme Court Has Jurisdiction.

Ottawa, May 17.—The news that the Privy Council had upheld the right of the Federal authority to submit a stated case to the Supreme Court on legal or academic questions was received with a great deal of interest in Ottawa. This decision establishes the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court to pass upon such a reference.

This decision of the Privy Council means now that there is no obstacle in the way of arguing the marriage question at this session of the Supreme Court. Sir Charles Fitzpatrick stated that the court had decided to await the decision in the companies case. Now that the Privy Council has established the competency of the court to decide it will mean that argument will be heard at this session of the court and probably this month.

Hon. C. J. Doherty stated yesterday that the decision removed obstacles to the hearing of the marriage law and companies case, both of which are of vital importance to the provinces and Dominion, and there were no obstacles to prevent their immediate hearing.

CANADIAN PACIFIC TO DOUBLE CAPITAL

New York, May 17.—The New York World says this morning:

The stock of the Canadian Pacific Railroad sold yesterday at 270 a share, an advance of about 20 points within the last month. The rise is supposed to be due to a plan of the company to distribute it assets by doubling the present capitalization, which is $237,000,000. Another reason for this increase in capital is that the road has an agreement with the Canadian Government to reduce the freight rates whenever its dividend is raised above 10 per cent. The earnings of the company for several years have justified this increase. The plan is to pay 6 per cent. on the increased capital, equivalent to 12 per cent. on the old stock.

Farmer Found Dead.

Keene, May 17.—Andrew McKinly of Manvers was found dead on the farm of Mr. G. Tripp, where he had been at work the day previous. He went out to work as usual with Mr. Tripp, who runs a sawmill, and was last seen about four o'clock, peeling poles. He did not return at night, and search being instituted the following morning, his dead body was found at the place where he had been working. Heart failure is supposed to have been the cause of death. He was 65 years of age, and unmarried.

Severe Drought In West Indies.

Kingstown, St. Vincent, West Indies, May 17.—A severe drought prevails throughout the West Indies, particularly in Trinidad, where conditions in the country districts are approaching those of a water famine. Villagers are obliged to walk in some places five miles in order to obtain drinking water.

MONEY TRUST

Lent Funds to Brazil to Keep up Price of Coffee.

Washington, May 17.—The first illustration of the activity of the so-called money trust given to the House investigating committee yesterday was testimony that three New York banking institutions, the National City Bank, J. P. Morgan & Co. and the First National Bank, lent financial assistance to the Government of Brazil to limit the output of coffee and maintain prices of coffee at a profitable figure for the benefit of Brizilian planters and American and European coffee dealers. This testimony came from Herman Sielcken of the New York firm of Corssman & Sielcken, large dealers in green coffee. Mr. Sielcken was on the stand for more than three hours and his testimony was the first oral information given to the committee.

Mr. Sielcken questioned the propriety of the committee going into Brazil's affairs and challenged the Attorney-General of the United States and all the attorneys of the country to discover any illegality in his actions as a coffee merchant.

The witness said that unless something had been done to help the planters of Brazil there might have been a revolution. The price of coffee had grown so low through over-production that the Brazilian Government exercised its right to encourage planters to diversify their crops.

"Which would have been the worst, revolution in Sao Paulo, or for the consumers of this country to pay much more for all of their coffee?" asked Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee.

"You would have had to pay that anyhow," said Mr. Sielcken.

He argued that coffee would be still higher if the valorization scheme had not been put into operation.

Mr Untermyer read from tables to show that the production of coffee for several years amounted to but 6,000,000 bags and that it sold at from 6 1-2 to 7 cents a pound. Now the production was 14,000,000 bags and the price was between 13 and 14 cents a pound.

Mr. Sielcken testified that there were 4,000,000 bags of coffee now being held out of the market by the valorization committee of seven, of which he is a member. Of that amount 500,000 bags were in warehouses in New York.

The big loan by which the valorization scheme was floated was $80,000,000. English, German, French and Belgian bankers took $65,000,000 of it through J. H. Schreider of London, who sold to the National City Bank $10,000,000. This amount was pro-rated between the Morgan firm, the National City and the First National.

THAW INTENDED TO KILL THREE

New York, May 17.—A new mystery was added to the Harry K. Thaw case yesterday by a letter, it is said the state will use in its forthcoming attempt to keep Thaw in Matteawan Asylum.

There are five names in Thaw's handwriting, three of them with "kill" underscored after them. Stanford White's name was third. The other two names so marked were Bancroft Davis and Freddy Gebhard. The two names without sinister notation are those of Craig Wadsworth and Reginald Francklyn. The letter was written from Pittsburg in December, 1905, almost three years before Thaw shot White. Gebhard died Sept. 8, 1910.

Rat Bites Kills Baby.

London, Ont., May 17.—A child named Miller died in Victoria Hospital yesterday morning as the result of bites by rats. The baby was being boarded with a family named Haslett and when they went to it Wednesday morning it was found that one of its nostrils had been eaten away, as well as part of the cheek and ears. The bed was dripping with blood, part of the nipple of the feeding bottle was also eaten. The mother of the child has been located in Berlin. An inquest has been ordered.

ALARM IN TEHERAN OVER ADVANCE BY PRETENDER TO THRONE.

PERSIAN PARLIAMENT.

PALACE OF PARLIAMENT IN TEHERAN.

There is great alarm in Teheran, caused by the details of the crushing nature of Salar-ed-Dowleh's defeat of Prince Farman Farma, Governor of Khonassan.

Unless Yephrem Klam checks his advance Salar-ed-Dowleh, who is a brother of the deposed Shah and pretender to the throne, will soon enter Hamadan and thence advance on Teheran. Russia, it is believed, is ready to oppose her troops at Kasvin to this advance, but if Russia saves the capital she will probably insist on the return of the deposed Shah from Odessa.

LLOYD GEORGE CALLS HIS OPPONENTS ROBBERS

Welsh Disestablishment Bill Passes Its Second Reading After a Scene of Great Excitement—Chancellor of the Exchequer When Accused of Robbing Church, Turns on Lord Hugh Cecil With Hot Retort.

London, May 17.—The Welsh disestablishment bill passed its second reading in the House of Commons last night by a vote of 348 to 267.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Lloyd-George, effectively used the charge that the noble families, whose representative were the most strenuous opponents of the bill on the ground that it pillaged the established church, obtained their vast wealth by the spoliation of the church in the time of the Reformation.

A stormy scene followed his reference to a political leaflet in which, he said, the Duke of Devonshire charged them with "robbery of God."

"Doesn't he know," queried the Chancellor, "that the very foundations of his fortunes were laid deep in sacrilege and built on desecrated shrines and pillaged altars?"

Among the voices raised in angry protest, Lord Hugh Cecil's was the most conspicuous, to which Lloyd-George retorted:

"These charges that we are robbing the church ought not to be brought by those whose family tree is laden with the fruits of sacrilege at the Reformation. Their ancestors robbed the Catholic Church, the monasteries, the altars, the almshouses. They robbed the poor. They robbed the dead. Then when we try to recover some part of this pillaged property for the poor, their descendants accuse us of theft—they whose hands are dripping with the fat of sacrilege."

THE RIGHT HON. D. LLOYD-GEORGE

British Chancellor of the Exchequer who says the nobility have robbed the churches.

Train Robbers' Rich Loot.

New Orleans, May 17.—Robbers who held up a Queen and Crescent express train near Hattiesburg, Miss., Wednesday, got at least $200,000, according to best information obtainable here yesterday. It is positively known that from the safe which was blown open the bandits got more than thirty packages of securities, one of which contained in excess of $50,000. One package of currency contained $140,000, according to an express messenger.

POWERS LOAN CHINA BIG SUM

Pekin, May 17.—The loan negotiations between the Chinese Cabinet and the bankers representing the six powers, Great Britain, Germany, France, Russia, Japan and the United States, were practically concluded yesterday.

The first $50,000,000 is to be advanced by the end of October and the expenditures will be under the supervision jointly of foreign and Chinese auditors.

Afterwards there is to be a loan of $200,000,000 under supervision similar to that exercised in the case of the Canton-Kowloon Railroad loan.

Brantford Boy's Body Found.

Brantford, May 17.—The body of Iver Rhodes, a ten-year-old boy, missing from his home since April [illegible] was found here early yesterday morning in Brantford canal, a mile from the spot at the river where he was last seen fishing. It is believed the boy fell in at the canal headgates. No inquest will be held.

Killed In Berlin Brewery.

Berlin, May 17.—An accident occurred at the Lion Brewery yesterday afternoon, which resulted in the death of Fred Govokiski, an employe of the Lindy Canadian Refrigerator Co., which is installing an engine in the manufacturing department of the brewery.

ALLEN GUILTY

Special to the Review.

Wytheville Va., May 17—Floyd Allen, the leader of the gang, who shot down several officers, in the court house at Hillsville, last March, was to-day found guilty of murder in the first degree, for the killing of prosecutor, William Foster.

STORY WILL BE DENIED

Special to the Review.

London ,May 17.—Henry E. Duke, counsel for Sir Cosmo Duff Gordon, intimated at the Titanic enquiry today that his case for his clients would be an absolute denial of fireman Hendrickson's story that they protested against returning to try and rescue passengers of the liner who were drowning. He also suggested that Hendrickson was the first to hint at a reward for the members of the crew in the lifeboat.

BRIDGE AT THE NARROWS OPENED TO-DAY

Gannon Narrows bridge was opened to-day, this being possible through the work of Mr. Wm. Leary, of Bridgenorth, who supervised the work.

RICHESON TO DIE THE FELON'S DEATH ON MONDAY NEXT

Doctors Decide Avis Linnell's Murderer is Sane.

Boston, May 17.—Rev. C. V. Richeson was taken yesterday to Charlestown jail where he will remain until shortly after midnight Sunday, when he will pay the penalty for the murder of Avis Linnell.

Richeson's last hope of escaping the death chair expired last night when Governor Foss announced that he would not refer Richeson's petition for commutation of sentence to the executive council.

The statement from the governor followed closely the filing of the reports of the special insanity commission, which declared the condemned man sane, although subject to fits of hysterical insanity. The commission found that Richeson was sane at the time of the murder and that he is sane at the present time.

The statement issued by Governor Foss shows that the alienists found that Richeson's family was afflicted very generally with insanity, and that the condemned man is himself a neurotic, a somnambulist and a neurasthenic and subject to hysterical insanity.

Before leaving the cell Richeson bade farewell to Butts, the colored prisoner who has been his cell-mate and personal attendant for more than three months. Butts, who has a dog-like affection for Richeson, broke down and cried.

Submarine Ashore.

Atlantic City, N.J., May 17.—The submarine Tunar, which grounded about four miles off the Great Egg harbor life-saving station yesterday morning, is still hard aground and appears to be drifting closer in shore.

Capt. Dannehauer, Chief Electrician Parks, Engineers Ecklin and Wilson, and a sailor, are still aboard the craft.

Western Tories to Gather.

Ottawa, May 17.—Hon. Martin Burrell and Hon. Robert Rogers will be present at the great Conservative banquet to be held in Regina on June 10. There will be 1,000 guests present.

HEAVY BLOCK CRASHED THROUGH STREET CAR ROOF

Was Being Hoisted to the Top of Skyscraper

Special to the Review.

New York, May 17—A fifty pound block being hoisted to the top of a sky scraper at the corner of Broadway and Thirty Fourth street, to-day, slipped from the tackle and plunged through the roof of a passing street car killing one woman and injuring several other passengers.

WERE THEY SLOWLY STARVED TO DEATH IN A SMALL BOAT ?

Signs Point to Terrible Fate of Titanic Victims.

Cork In the Mouths of the Three Bodies Picked Up by the Oceanic in a Collapsible Is Believed to Indicate That They Chewed It In Their Frenzy — White Star Line Officials Discredit Story.

New York, May 17.—That some of the passengers of the steamship Titanic starved to death in open boats after they had escaped from the sinking vessel, was made terribly probable yesterday morning with the arrival here of the White Star liner Oceanic from Southampton.

In a collapsible life-raft, which the Oceanic sighted and picked up on Monday last at 12.45 p.m., were found three bodies, all in such a condition that they were committed to the sea as soon as the burial service could be read over them. The bodies were of men, and one of them, that of a fireman, was chained by the leg to a thwart in one end of the boat, while the two others were huddled in the other end. In their mouths were small pieces of cork, which Dr. R. S. French of the Oceanic's staff believes the victims chewed in their delirium to ease the pain of hunger and thirst. One of the victims was Thomson Beattie, a passenger.

Officials of the White Star Line, in a statement late yesterday, discredited the theory that the three bodies were those of victims who had starved to death.

"With reference to the boat picked up by the Oceanic," the statement said, "the White Star Line repeats what it stated Wednesday, that Officer Lowe, before the Senate investigating committee in Washington, testified that he took from the boat 20 men and one woman, leaving in it the bodies of three men, who all the passengers said were dead, and who, he was certain, were dead some time before he abandoned the boat."

As to the bits of cork found in the mouths of the victims, an official of the line expressed the opinion that these fragments were washed aboard by waves after the boat was set adrift.

"The sea was full of floating cork," he said, "and finding of these particles does not, in my view, lend credence to the starvation theory."

Trestle Broke; Three Killed.

Brooks, Alta., May 17.—While a work train, consisting of nine cars and carrying twenty workmen, was passing over a trestle at the $1,000,000 irrigation dam at Bassano yesterday morning, the trestle broke, precipitating the train to the ground, forty feet below.

Harry Smith, a carpenter, was killed, and J. R. Constantine and M. F. Ogden were fatally hurt.

Used a Spade.

Cobourg, May 17.—Andrew Moffatt, an inmate of the county house of refuge, was brought before Police Magistrate Boggs here, charged with assaulting the superintendent, Mr. McMillan, with a spade. He was found guilty and sentenced to one month in jail.

Indian Fined $20.

Cobourg, May 17.—Smoke, an Alderville Indian, was convicted at Norwood under the new amendment to the Liquor Act, for being intoxicated in a public place in a local option municipality. He was fined $20 and costs.

KING'S BODY TAKEN HOME

Preparations Made for Funeral of Late Ruler.

Copenhagen, May 17.—Preparations have been completed for an impressive reception of the body of the late King Frederick VIII. of Denmark, which will arrive here at noon on Friday aboard the royal yacht Danneberg. King Haakon of Norway, son of the dead monarch, and other members of royal families, high Government officials and foreign diplomats will assemble at the landing place from which, after the coffin has been placed in a hearse drawn by six horses, the procession will start for the chapel of Christianborg Castle. It will pass through the principal streets, which have been draped in mourning, and which to-day will be lined with troops.

At the chapel a short service will be held, and the body will remain there, guarded night and day by detachments of army and navy lieutenants, until it is taken away for the funeral at Roskilde Cathedral, on May 24.

Body Leaves Hamburg.

Hamburg, Germany, May 17.—The body of the late King Frederick VIII. of Denmark, was started on its journey to Copenhagen at eight o'clock yesterday morning. A short and simple service was held in the rooms of the hotel before the casket was carried down stairs by twelve municipal employes, attired in quaint fifteenth century costumes. They wore black doublets, knee breeches, white stockings, black-plumed hats and swords. As the procession passed out, other officials in mediaval costumes lined up on each side of the door.

The widowed Queen Louisa left the hotel on the arm of Prince Herald, her third son. Prince Gustav and the Princesses Thyra and Dagmar, the, three youngest children of the late king, who had traveled with him and the queen from Nice, followed immediately after their mother. All were deeply affected.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT SAYS HE HAS BEEN CHEATED

Accuses Taft Men of Stealing Washington State Delegation.

Defiance, O., May 17.—When Col. Roosevelt learned of the outcome of the Republican state convention in the State of Washington, as a result of which two sets of delegates are to be sent to the national convention, he denounced the action of the supporters of President Taft there as "scandalous."

At Paulding, he said: "The most scandalous thing our opponents have recently tried and failed in is to steal from the State of Washington the delegates from that state. Wherever we held primaries in that state, we beat them. Where they were strongest we beat them two to one. Where they were not so strong we beat them about eight to one. They had no chance of any kind, and so they have endeavored to steal what they could not earn, to try by theft to get what they could not get from the people."

Montana Loyal to Taft.

Livingston, Mont., May 17.—When Montana Republicans met in the state convention yesterday the Taft forces were in control with 434 delegates against 222 for Roosevelt.

Would Save His Country.

Cleveland, O., May 17.—"I would not be here to bother you to-night if it did not concern the American people more than it does me to defeat Theodore Roosevelt for the Presidency."

This was the way President Taft introduced his criticism of Col. Roosevelt here last night.

"If it were a purely personal matter with me," he continued, "I would be content to abide the verdict of time and would remain in the White House silent under his misstatements and attacks upon me. But more than my own feelings in the matter is at stake. It is of supreme importance to the American people."

Roosevelt Can't Win, Says Taft.

Cleveland, O., May 17.—In a statement issued yesterday President Taft said that the claim of Theodore Roosevelt that he controls 552 delegates to the Republican national convention is without foundation and not borne out by the facts.

The President said that if Mr. Roosevelt were to get all the delegates yet to be chosen he could not be nominated.

PRESIDENT TAFT.

He says he has Roosevelt beaten in the race for the Presidential nomination.

TOO MUCH TO DO

The Dominion Railway board recently sat four days in Oakville disposing of a matter in which the construction of a short switch was involved. From all parts of the country such matters as well as innumerable questions of grade crossings are likely to come before the board. The task which has been set for the board, a general oversight of the railways of the country, is indeed a stupendous one. It means constant and late and early sessions. It is no wonder that during the short life of the board three chairmen have broken down.

WHAT ENGLAND EXPECTS

The German Reichstag has passed the second reading of the bill providing for the increase of the navy; only two votes, and those of Socialists, being cast against it. This circumstance has called forth an important statement from Mr. Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, in which he intimates the intention of the British Government to keep pace with the Germans by building more warships. In order to do this estimates supplementary to the naval budget must be brought in. Mr. Churchill notes with pleasure that the British Dominions over the seas are beginning to seize the opportunity to help in the development of the navy of the parent country under whose protection the colonies have flourished. A strong modern fleet unit has been developed in Australia. New Zealand has contributed a splendid ship to the navy. In Canada, Mr. Churchill adds, men of all parties and races are stirred up on the question of naval defence. Representatives of the Borden Government are expected in London to confer with the Imperial authorities upon a course of policy to be adopted in the future.

Two things are evident now. Germany has no intention of calling a halt in the construction of floating engines of destruction. So long as she continues to increase her navy so long will England keep on building dreadnaughts in order to hold forever her supremacy on the seas. There is no mistaking the words of Churchill. He expects Canada and the other self-governing dominions to contribute their fair share in the maritime defense of the empire.

FARMERS COMPLAIN

The farmers of the western provinces if they are correctly represented by certain newspapers, are the most discontented body of men in the world. They complain of the climate, often of the nature of the soil, the scarcity of cars, the grading of their grain, and last, but not least, of the freight rates charged by the railways in the west. While there is without doubt grounds for complaint in all these cases, the western agriculturalist has no monopoly in the matter of complaining against his lot. Although very little is heard from them in the nature of complaint, the condition of some of the farmers in old Ontario is indeed serious. So steady has been the tide of immigration to the west that it is now almost impossible to secure a farm laborer of any kind or at any price. And these farmers are depending almost entirely upon dairying and fruit farming, for which intelligent labor is indispensable. Some of the unfortunate owners of dairy herds or fruit orchards are at their wits' end striving single handed to accomplish the work of three men and regretting that the day is only 24 hours long and that part of the time must be devoted to sleep. No long winter vacation, no rest between seeding and harvest for the Ontario dairyman. He may not be making as much noise as his brother out west, but he has every excuse for being discontented just the same.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Sir Lomer Gouin had no speeches in favor of reciprocity in his campaign; hence he was returned to power stronger than ever.

The women of Germany refuse to attend the theatre unless they are permitted to wear their hats, and the theatrical managers have decided to let them have their sweet will.

Some of the leaders in the new Chinese Republic are already accused of graft. Who can say now that the Chink is slow to learn the ways of modern civilization?

"I am the logical candidate," says Roosevelt, "the only man in the country it is possible to nominate against the bosses." He was never modest.

The women voters in California helped to overwhelm President Taft even after he had made a special appeal to them for support. Roosevelt always was popular with the ladies.

The Scientific American figures that the Titanic struck the fatal iceberg with force equal to the discharge of twenty 12-inch guns. No wonder the vessel was shattered.

The term "honey fugle" as invented by Taft to describe Roosevelt's campaign methods, seems to hit the nail so squarely on the head that the term is likely to become an American classic.

A number of leading cities in the Southern States now have Sunday morning sessions of their police courts. It gives the drunks and petty offenders a chance to go to church.

It is said that the city of Saskatoon, Sask., is crowded with men who cannot find employment. If these idlers were in Ontario, some of our farmers would gladly put them to work.

It will be one man one vote in the Quebec provincial elections after the present contest. The Liberals of that province passed such a law, but it did not become operative until the party reaped the benefit of one man voting two or three times.

Canadians of all classes and irrespective of politics will be glad to hear that the directors of the Grand Trunk Railway have selected Mr George P. Graham for the presidency of the road. They have not been obliged to go out of Canada on this occasion for an executive head.

It is now rumored at Ottawa, that Provincial Secretary W. J. Hanna, is to be appointed successor to the late Judge Mabee. Mr. Hanna's administration of the liquor law alone, has made him a tower of strength in the Provincial cabinet and he could ill be spared from his present post.

The Christian conservation congress to be held in New York April 19 to 24 is described by William T. Jane Addams, who will speak on the subject of the social evil, will be the only woman to address the congress.

ENLIVENED THE PLAY.

Juliet Wanted Limelight and Got More Than She Expected.

At a small seaport town in England a lady star actress of the third magnitude appeared as Juliet. "I cannot do justice to myself," she said to the manager, who combined theatrical enterprise with the conduct of a row of bathing machines, "if I do not have a lime (limelight) thrown on me when I appear on the balcony."

"We ain't got no limelight, miss, but I think we could get you a ship's blue light," replied the obliging manager, and to this the lady agreed. The lad who went to the ship to buy the blue light brought back a signal rocket which was given him by mistake. The prompter was his own man, and in his ignorance took the rocket in good faith.

Romeo—He jests at scars who never felt a wound.
(Juliet appears. Prompter lights the match.)
But soft! What light through yonder window breaks?
(This was the match lighting the fuse.)
Arise, fair sun!

The sun, or rather the rocket, did rise with a hiss that sounded far louder in a theater than it does in the open air. Juliet was knocked off the balcony, the fly borders were set on fire and the theater was filled with sulphurous smoke; while the audience, which was fortunately a small one, made a stampede to the doors.—Exchange.

Hibernation of Mosquitoes.

That cosmopolitan pest, the mosquito, does not necessarily perish with the coming of winter. On the contrary, mosquitoes have been observed to hibernate, adult specimens living from November until the succeeding April or May with all their powers of torment unimpaired, although their activity is suspended in winter. The mosquito needs but little food, and it is the female that thirsts for blood, the males contenting themselves with water and vegetable fluids. The fact that mosquitoes are often found upon dry prairies many miles from water is ascribed to the longevity of the adults of certain species which enables them to survive seasons of drought. Railroads have been responsible for the transmission of mosquitoes into regions where they were previously rare.—Harper's.

THE MARKET

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 16.—Minutes counted for days this afternoon on the board of trade. In a single quarter of an hour values that had required a fortnight to pile up were swept away in a whirl of stop-loss selling. Surprising improvement of the crop outlook was said to be an underlying cause. The end of the session left traders in a daze with wheat prices 2c to 4 3-4c lower than the night before, and with the break extending to all other grains and to provisions as well—corn off 3-4c to 4 1-8c, oats 7-8c to 2 3-8c, and packing house products 12 1-2c to 32 1-2c to 35c.

Liverpool wheat closed ½d lower to ⅛d higher than yesterday, and corn ⅛d to ¼d lower. Other European grain exchanges were closed.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, May 16.—A feature of the local grain trade was the increased demand from country points for Manitoba feed wheat and barley, owing to the very high prices ruling for American corn. The foreign demand for Manitoba spring wheat is still very limited.

The butter market is fairly active and firm under a good demand from western buyers for supplies, consequently stocks on spot are kept well cleaned up. The cheese situation is strong, there being a good demand from exporters to fill their short sales made some time ago at much lower prices than are ruling now.

Corn—American No. 2 yellow, 86c.

Oats—Canadian western No. 2, 5[illegible]c to [illegible]c; do., No. 3, 51½c to 52c; extra No. 1 feed, 52½c to 53c.

Accident Insurance

Following the Titanic Disaster no one will think of travelling without first taking out an Accident Policy.

It is interesting to know that practically all the Canadians who lost their lives through the Titanic wreck carried Accident Insurance. The average amount to be paid by Accident Companies alone, is over $30,000 for each Canadian lost.

The Double Indemnity and Bonus feature of The Dominion of Canada and General Accident Assurance Company policies are worthy of investigation before placing your Insurance.

Cynthia's Chauffeur

By LOUIS TRACY

Copyright by McLeod & Allen, Toronto

The latter reached Carson Street during the afternoon, and exercised a remarkably restorative effect on the new convalescent lover of forced strawberries. Lady St. Maur ordered her carriage, and was driven in a jiffy to the Fairholme mansion in Cavendish Square, where she and her brother indulged in the most lugubrious opinions as to the future of "poor George." They assumed that he would fall an easy prey to the wiles of a "designing American." Neither of them had met many citizens of the United States, and each shared to the fullest extent the common British dislike for every person and every thing that is new and strange, so they had visions of a Countess of Fairholme who would speak in the weird tongue of Chicago, whose name would be "Mamie," who would call the earl "poppa number two," and prefix every utterance with "Say," or "My land!"

Both brother and sister had laughed many a time at the stage version of a Briton as presented in Paris, but they forgot that the average Englishman's conception of the average American is equally ludicrous in its absurdity. In devising means "to save George" they flew into a panic. Lady St. Maur telegraphed a frantic appeal to Lady Porthcawl for information, but "dear Millicent" took thought, saw that she was already sufficiently committed, and caused her maid to reply that she had left Bournemouth for the week-end.

A telegram to the hotel manager produced more definite news. Cynthia, providing against the receipt of any urgent message from her father, had given the College Green Hotel as her address for the night; but this intelligence arrived too late to permit of the Earl's departure till next morning. Lady Porthcawl's hint that the "devoted George was traveling incognito" prevented the use of wire or post. If the infatuated viscount were to be brought to reason there was nothing for it but that the Earl should hurry to Bristol by an early train next morning. He did hurry, and arrived five minutes too late.

Marigny, of course, saw that lightning had darted from a summer sky. If the despised chauffeur had proved such a tough opponent, what would happen now that he turned out to be a sprig of the aristocracy? He guessed at once that the Earl of Fairholme appraised Cynthia Vanrenen by the Devar standard. He knew that five minutes in Cynthia's company would alter this doughty old gentleman's views so greatly that his present fury would give place to idolatry. No matter what the cost, they two must not meet, and it was very evident that if Hereford were mentioned as the night's rendezvous, the Earl would proceed there by the next train.

What was to be done? He decided promptly. Lifting his hat, and offering Lord Fairholme his card, he made up his mind to lie, and lie speciously, with circumstantial detail and convincing knowledge.

"I happened to meet the Vanrenens in Paris," he said. "Business brought me here, and I was surprised to see Miss Vanrenen without her father. You will pardon my reference to your son, I am sure. His attitude is explicable now. He resented my offer of friendly assistance to the young lady. Perhaps he thought she might avail herself of it."

SIMMONDS

"Assistance? What is the matter?"

"She had arranged for a car to meet her here. As it was not forthcoming, she altered her plans for a tour of Oxford, Kenilworth, and Warwick, and has gone in Viscount—Viscount—"

"Medenham's."

"Ah, yes—I did not catch the name precisely—in your son's car to London."

By this time Lord Fairholme had ascertained the Frenchman's description, and he was sufficiently well acquainted with the Valley of the Loire to recollect the Chateau Marigny as a house of some importance.

"I beg your pardon, Monsieur le Comte, if I seemed to speak brusquely at first," he said, "but we all appeared to be mixed up in a comedy of errors. I remember now that my son telegraphed from Brighton to say that he would return to-day. Perhaps my journey from town was unnecessary, and he may be only engaged in some harmless escapade that is now nearing its end. I am very much obliged to you, and—er—I hope you will call when next you are in London. You know my name—my place is in Cavendish Square. Good-day."

So Marigny was left a second time on the steps of the hotel, while the cab which brought the Earl of Fairholme from the railway station took him back to it.

The Du Vallon came panting from the garage, but the Frenchman sent it away again. Hereford was so great distance by the direct road, and he had already determined not to follow the tortuous route devised by Cynthia for the day's run. Moreover, he must now reconsider his schemes. The long telegrams which he had just dispatched to Devar in London and to Peter Vanrenen in Paris might demand supplements.

And to think of that accursed chauffeur being a viscount! His gorge rose at that. The thought almost choked him. It was well that the hall-porter did not understand French, or the words that were muttered by Marigny as he turned on his heel and re-entered the hotel might have shocked him. And, indeed, they were most unsuited for the ears of a hall-porter who dwelt next door to a cathedral.

CHAPTER VIII.

Breakers Ahead.

The Earl's title-borrowing from Shakespeare was certainly justified by current events, for Dromio of Ephesus and Dromio of Syracuse, to say nothing of their masters, were no bad prototypes of the chief actors in this Bristol comedy.

Simmonds, not knowing who might have it in mind to investigate the latest defect in his car, decided it would be wise to disappear until Viscount Medenham was well quit of Bristol. By arrangement with Dale, therefore, he picked up the latter soon after the Mercury was turned over to Medenham's hands; in effect, the one chauffeur took the other on a 'bus-driver's holiday. Dale was free until two o'clock. At that hour he would depart for Hereford and meet his master, with arrangements made for the night as usual; meanwhile, the day's programme included a pleasant little run to Bath and back.

It was a morning that tempted to the road, but both men had risen early, and a pin of beer seemed to be an almost indispensable preliminary. From Bristol to Bath is no distance to speak of, so a slight dallying over the beer led to an exchange of recent news.

Dale, it will be remembered, was of sporting bent, and he told Simmonds gleefully of his successful bet at Epsom.

"Five golden quidlets his lordship shoved into me fist at Brighton," he chortled. "Have you met Smith, who is lookin' after the Frenchman's Du Vallon? No? Well, he was there, an' his goggles nearly cracked when he saw the money paid—two points over the market price, an' all."

"Sometimes one spots a winner by chance," observed Simmonds judicially. "An' that reminds me. Last night a feller tole me there was a good thing at Kempton to-day........Now, what was it?"

Dale instantly became a lexicon of weird-sounding words, for the British turf is exceedingly democratic in its pronunciation of the classical and foreign names frequently given to race horses. His stock of racing lore was eked out by reference to a local paper, still Simmonds scratched an uncertain pate.

"Pity, too!" he said at last. "This chap had it from his nevvy, who married the sister of a housemaid at Beckampton."

Dale whistled. Here was news, indeed. Beckhampton! the home of 'good things."

"Yes. Something real hot over a mile."

"Can't you think? Let's look again at the entries."

"Wait a bit," cried Simmonds. "I've got it now. Second horse from the top of the column in to-morrow's entries in yesterday's Sportsman."

Dale understood exactly what the other man meant, and, so long as he understood, the fact may suffice for the rest of the world.

"Tell you wot," he suggested eagerly, "when you're ready we'll run to the station an' arsk the bookstall people for yesterday's paper."

The inquiry, the search, the triumphant discovery, the telegraphing of the "information" and a sovereign to Tomkinson in Cavendish Square—"five bob each way" for each of the two—all these things took time, and time was very precious to Dale just then. Unhappily, time is often mute as to its value, and Bath is really quite close to Bristol.

The choice secret of the Beckhampton stable was safely launched—its speculative element, at any rate—and Dale was about to seat himself beside Simmonds, when an astonished and somewhat irate old gentleman hooked the handle of an umbrella into his collar and shouted:

"Confound you, Dale! What are you doing here, and where is your master?"

Dale's tanned face grew pale, his ears and eyes assumed the semblance of a scarred rabbit's, and the power of speech positively failed him.

"Do you hear me, Dale?" cried the Earl, that instant alighted from a cab. "I am asking you where Viscount Medenham is. If he has gone to town, why have you remained at Bristol?"

"But his lordship hasn't gone to London, my lord," stuttered Dale, finding his voice at last, and far too flustered to collect his wits, though he realised in a dazed way that it was his duty to act exactly as Viscount Medenham would wish him to act in such trying circumstances.

ENGLISH FIRE EATERS.

They Are Aiming to Bring About a Revival of the Duel.

A movement is on foot in London to rescue from innocuous desuetude a custom which we only keep in remembrance by the aid of the drama. A society has been proposed which will have as its mission the bringing back of the wearing of the ready rapier, not only for use in sudden quarrel or for the rescue of distressed damsel, but to re-establish the duel, to bring back, as its advocates say, "the good old days when every lady had a cavalier and every cavalier a sword at his side, ready at any time to uphold her and his own honor."

It is claimed by the promoters that the revival of dueling in England will be associated with the following results: Better manners and more civility, the purity of the home, the practical abolition of divorce, a higher moral standard, less rivalry between the sexes, a finer physical standard for all who practice fencing.

"If dueling were recognized and practiced in England," says one of the advocates of a return of the old barbarism, "a lady could walk out alone without fearing the insolent advances and attentions of the cads who infest out streets today."

Cads, forsooth! Why, London without cads and caddery would be as sad as home without a mother.—New York Tribune.

Boast of Their Murders.

In Cyprus there has been an increase of cases of murder and manslaughter and the chief justice has pointed out the traits in the character of the villager which to some extent explain the prevalence of this class of crime. Any insult rankles and their minds seem to brood over any slight, real or imaginary, however small, until it has assumed proportions which for their self esteem they consider they must revenge by murder. There are men in some of these villages who for a small reward, say $50, will murder a man against whom they have no grievance or whom they have never seen before. "I have tried many murderers in this island," writes the chief justice, "and I cannot recall one who was sorry for his victim or showed remorse for his crime. As a rule a murderer boasts of his crime."—Colonial Office Journal.

Keeping Out the Wind.

Willie was a smart boy and ambitious. His first job was a post in a local bank.

"Well, Willie," asked his uncle one day, "how are you getting on in business? I suppose you will soon be manager?"

"Yes, uncle," Willie replied. "I'm already a draft clerk."

"A draft clerk! Good boy! And what are your duties?"

"I open and shut the windows accordin' to orders," said Willie, "and close the doors after people that leave 'em open."—London Ideas.

Three Manifestations.

"You may give three important illustrations of the power of the press," says the teacher to the class.

The pupil who had not hitherto particularly distinguished himself was the first to reply:

"Cider, courtship and politics."—Judge's Library.

Wasted Effort.

"I don't like the way they reported my speech," complained the new congressman.

"Why, they sprinkled in plenty of laughter and applause."

"Yes, but how about all them gestures?"—Pittsburgh Post.

The Trouble in That Family.

"You told me when you said goodby yesterday that I should never see you again," she complained as she straightened up beside the tub.

"I know I did," he replied, leaning wearily against his breath, "but you know wha' th' philosoph'r says, donshu? 'A bad promise is (hic!) better broken.' Why donshu try to be (hic!) more philosophic'l? Thash whatsh always been the trouble in thish fam (hic!) fam'ly. You ain't got 'ny phil (hic!) osophy in your system."—Chicago Record-Herald.

JOGGED HIS MEMORY.

A Bit of Humor That Brought Phil May to His Senses.

The most refractory among dumb beasts may sometimes be won by persistent kindness. It is also evident that the obstinate of the human species may be influenced by an assault of humor.

Phil May, the English artist "of most dear memory," had promised to do a colored design for the Christmas number of an illustrated weekly publication. The date fixed on for its delivery passed by, and no design had been forthcoming.

Letters and telegrams were unanswered, and when a messenger was sent to May's house it appeared that he had gone to Paris without leaving any address. This, according to London M. A. P., is what happened next:

The publishers were at their wits' end, but one of them, paying a day's visit to Margate, was overjoyed to see May basking in the sunshine by the water. The publisher did not make himself known, but cannily ascertained where May was staying. Then he hired six sandwich men to parade up and down before the artist's window with boards bearing different legends. This was their tenor:

"What about our Christmas cover?"

"We are waiting for that cover."

It was a delightful reminder, and in a few days the publishers received one of the most brilliant designs May had ever executed.

The Canadian members of the British House of Commons have sent the G.T.R. Co. a letter in which they testify to the loss the system and Canada have sustained in the death of Mr. Charles M. Hays.

Southern Express Co. officials at New Orleans declined to tell the amount of money secured by robbers, who early yesterday held up a Queen & Crescent flyer south of Hattiesburg and dynamited the express car.

The Government has decided that two new departmental building at Ottawa will be constructed from designs adopted after competition by the architects. The cost of the structures will total up to over $5,000,000.

This Saturday is a Day of Unusual Opportunities at Cressmans'

The Saturday Bargain List

A COLUMN OF UNUSUAL INTEREST TO THE ECONOMICAL SHOPPER

Saturday will be a day of unusually brisk selling in the Housefurnishing dept. Every home is now being turned inside out—undergoing a thorough cleaning, which brings to light many articles of furnishing which will have to be replaced to make the home bright, clean and attractive. Here are just a few specials to aid you in beautifying your home.

Seamless Velvet Rugs, suitable for any room, sizes 9x12 ft. and 9x10 ft. 6 in., obtainable in a variety of desirable patterns and pleasing colorings. We have only 8 of these Rugs, so you will have to come early or else be disappointed. Regular $25, Saturday Price $17.95.

Bungalow Nets at 19½c will surely sell with a rush; the quality is unusually good and the patterns particularly pleasing. You usually pay 25c for this quality.

Children's Dresses—Not many women will bother making children's dresses when they see the attractive garments which we are showing at very moderate prices. Ask particularly our lines at 99c, $1.19 and $1.98.

Women's $15 and $18 Suits $12.75—Saturday you will have an opportunity of obtaining a smart, attractive Suit at a very low price. It is against our policy to carry over Suits from one season to another—hence the remarkably low prices for Saturday.

A special purchase of 50 dozen White Blouses affords another remarkable buying opportunity. There are about 25 different kinds in the lot and all are marked at one price for a grand Saturday clean-up at only 78c.

BUY "MILL SECONDS" IN WOMEN'S UNDERWEAR SATURDAY

Over 100 Vests in this "Factory" lot—some are slightly soiled, others have an occasional drop stitch. Every style in the lot—with long sleeves, short sleeves and sleeveless. Four lots for Saturday's selling and more than unusual value at each price.

2,000 PIECES OF WOOD IN MODEL OF SHAKESPEARE'S HOUSE AT MUSEUM

A Review representative called at the Public Library yesterday afternoon, and Mr. Dela Fosse stated that quite a number of people, local and from outside places, had visited the museum in its new quarters at the Public Library, and that several interesting additions had been made to the display of curios.

A model of Shakespeare's house, Stratford-on-Avon, built by Mr. Edward Courtney, is now on exhibition. It is a very interesting construction, being made up of over 2,000 pieces of wood, and it took Mr. Courtney two or three years to complete it.

Miss Ray, of Lakefield, has generously donated a collection of [illegible] to the museum.

The old standard Government weights and measures, which were lost track of several years ago when the articles were moved from the Court House to Inverlea Park, are, as a result of the efforts of Messrs. Hay and Dela Fosse, being gradually collected again. Nearly all of them have been secured, but a few are still missing and it will be conferring a favor on the gentlemen in charge if the persons who now hold ... would see that they are returned to the museum. The collection, when completed, will be interesting.

The maps so kindly donated by Messrs. J. H. Burnham and J. R. Stratton, past and present Members of Parliament, for West Peterborough, are now being put in shape for the general public. Both are excellent maps and when ready to be shown will certainly merit considerable attention.

There are about 200 maps that had to be handled by the librarian, and for all of these he has found suitable places. The largest are hung neatly about the walls of the basement, and the remainder, accurately catalogued and classified, are hung over a sort of easel, a device of Mr. Dela Fosse's own creation, and preserved with a heavy covering, which shields the maps.

Included in this collection are some old, valuable and interesting maps. There are forty of the gold district of Nova Scotia, maps recording the census, others showing the flour mills and elevators of Canada, some showing the explorations in northern Canada, some of peat bogs, of the White Horse Copper Belt, B.C., and any amount of relief maps.

One large map of Canada came in eight pieces, and with infinite difficulty it was pieced together and mounted, the operation involving a considerable amount of delicate and exacting work.

The collection of maps is certainly an excellent one, and anyone who happens for any reason to be conducting a research in any of the above lines will be welcome to go through the maps, which are open to everybody's inspection.

Everything in connection with the museum is in the best of order, and the way in which all arrangements have been made and carried out reflects much credit upon Mr. Hay and Mr. Dela Fosse.

Where Are You Going Victoria Day?

A great many people are anxiously looking forward to Victoria Day, for their first summer outing. Fortunately, this year, the holiday falls on Friday, which offers pleasure seekers a three days vacation, with practically no loss of time. The Canadian Pacific Railway will issue return tickets at Single Fare between stations in Canada, East of Port Arthur also to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, N. Y. and Detroit, Mich. Tickets good going May 23rd. and 24th. Return limit May 27th. See that your tickets read via Canadian Pacific Railway.

W. D. McLellan, is now president of Harriston Board of Trade.

OBITUARY

The Late Mrs. Perry

The late Mrs. Charles Perry, who passed away on Thursday morning at her home, 571 Water street, by her death severed a link which connected the present generation with local pioneer days.

Mrs. Perry was a daughter of the late Dr. John Gilchrist, a U. E. Loyalist, who settled in the south part of the county nearly a century ago. He was a noted physician of his time, and the first medical practitioner to register in the Toronto medical register. Perry street in the southern part of Peterborough was named after Mr. Perry, husband of the late Mrs. Perry, who predeceased her some thirty-six years ago.

Dr. Gilchrist resided near Keene and was the representative of Peterborough County to the first Parliament. He named the village of Keene after Keene, New Hampshire.

The late Mr. Perry served several terms as mayor of the city, and was the first member for this riding after confederation; later being appointed collector of Customs, the customs building then being located on Brock street, where the residence of Dr. Gowan now stands.

Mrs. Perry was one of the oldest members of St. John's Anglican church, being in the parish for over seventy years. She and her family always were earnest members of the congregation, of St. John's, of which Mr. Perry was one of the earliest wardens.

Gilchrist street was named after Mrs. Perry's father, Dr. Gilchrist.

The surviving family are Mrs. Alfred C. Bliss, of Toronto; Mrs. W. G. Sabine, of Youngstown, O.; Mrs. W. E. Devine, of Buffalo; Misses E. and Maud Perry, and Mr. Frank Perry, of this city, John of Montreal; George, of New York, and Charles, of Saskatchewan.

The funeral has been arranged to take place Saturday at 2.30 p. m., from the late residence, 571 Water street, to St. John's church for service at three o'clock. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

Two French aviators, Capt. Rehemer and M.L. Beauvais, were killed and another one M. L'Houmeau badly injured in two accidents yesterday. Nine French airmen have been killed in two weeks.

CONCERNING YOUR EYES

Good eyesight is essential to health comfort and appearance. Have you ever noticed a strained look on your face, or your friend's? Usually this comes from eyestrain. More wrinkles are caused by eyestrain than by age. Thousands unconsciously squint in an effort to adapt the eyes to the surroundings. Success in relieving eyestrain depends entirely upon the OPTICAL SKILL of the Specialist who prescribes the glasses. Neglect of the eyes many times leads to surgical operations, which glasses worn in time may prevent. We correct errors of vision by means of properly fitted lenses.

We have every modern appliance for accurate eyesight testing, and we grind all our own lenses. Thus assuring you accuracy and promptness. All work guaranteed.

PETERBORO MAN RETURNS FROM MEXICO AND TALKS TO THE REVIEW ABOUT REVOLUTIONS

Has Finished Contract for Two Enormous Lumber Mills—Had to Work Between Two Fires as Federals and Rebels Were Suspicious—Witnessed Some of the Fighting—He Had to Pay His Mexican Help at the Close of Each Day.

A Review representative was favored with an interview last evening with Mr. C. Moffat, of this city, who has been in Mexico for the past two years, and received some very interesting information about Mr. Moffat's work in that country and concerning the cause of, and events in the recent revolutions in Mexico.

Mr. Moffat went to Mexico on the 1st of April, 1910, as superintendent of construction for the W. A. Wilkinson Company of Minneapolis, and remained there for over two years, leaving the country of revolutions only two weeks ago. Mr. Moffat's work was to build two large electric-driven saw mills for the Pearson interests there. Dr. A. F. Pearson, the promoter of that interest has just completed a railway in Mexico from Elpaso to Chihuahua, nearly five hundred miles in length.

BUILDING SAWMILLS.

The lumber plants, being built for them, are enormous constructions, a great deal larger than any such mills in this vicinity. It took a squad of 200 Mexicans and 180 American overseers and mechanics two years to build and some men are still working on the construction finishing it up. The entire work was under Mr. Moffat's supervision. The Mexican laborers insisted on their wages every night.

In the two mills there are two double cutting benders and four horizontal re-saws, and a box board outfit and lath mills in each. In the buildings there are twenty-four boilers 72ft. by 18ft, and four 1000 K. W. horizontal turbines, manufactured by the Allis-Chalmers Co., U. S. The mills are equipped with two hundred and eighty motors, ranging in motive power from 200 horse power down to 3 h.p.

The mills are complete electric works, no mills in Mexico being driven by water power. In connection with the mills there were twenty-four dry kilns, each kiln 24 x 200 ft. The dry shed is 200 x 800 ft.

MONORAILS USED.

A complete monorail system is used in the mill in taking the lumber from one department to the others, a length of two miles.

The sorting works is 1300 feet long, and here the timber is sorted for the two mills. A building 172 x 56 ft, includes the machine shop and store room.

All their "logging" is done by train from the mountains, and 30 steam skidders, and eight McGifford loaders are used in this. The plant is equipped with complete waterworks system.

WATER NOT PLENTIFUL.

The chief difficulty in the work was in procuring a good water supply, and for this purpose they had to drill 800 feet for water, and they had to excavate a pond of 22 acres area, and fill it by means of a flume from the river.

The men engaged in the construction work lived in two towns, one American and the other Mexican. The American town is made up of 100 houses, and a large commisary or general store. The Mexican town contains 150 houses and a store similar to that in the other towns.

TWO THOUSAND HANDS.

The mills are about 300 ft. long and 142 ft. wide. They are equipped with intercommunicating telephone system, watchmen and electric fire alarm system. When they are in operation they will employ 2,000 hands.

One of the chief difficulties Mr. Moffatt experienced in erecting and equipping the two large mills in Mexico was the revolution in which Madero overthrew President Diaz.

THE FIRST REVOLUTION.

The revolution was hatched and partly carried out in practically the same town of Chihuahua, that Mr. Moffat's mills were being built. The first instance in which the revolution hampered his actions and his work occurred when on the 22nd of December, 1910, he was travelling by train to the United States for Christmas.

The train was stopped at a point where under normal conditions there would be no reason for the interruption of travel, and when the passengers looked out of the window to discover the cause, each was confronted by the muzzle of a modern high-calibre rifle. The rebels took the engine and all the coaches but one, and proceeding back towards Pearson to Cassas Grandes, they burned all the tracks and bridges behind them.

They left the American passengers one end of a telephone wire, however, to tell their plight and at last an engine arrived and brought them safely to their destination. Mr. Moffat of course, could not return to his work for some time, owing to the distance of the railroad.

The Pearson interest sent men to re-build the bridges and tracks, and the railway resumed its operations for three months, until it was again destroyed by the waring forces.

REBELS ARRESTED HIM.

Another time the rebels took possession of the entire works, and, taking the heavy shaft of one of the machines they made a large gun, which they called "Long Tom." Mr. Moffat was arrested by the rebels because he would not give them the place, and they stationed their forces all through the mills, with loaded guns to see that the gun was made correctly. Explosive bullets or shells were made in the factory, too, with, as Mr Moffat explained, the 'Rebels in full charge of the works."

The battle of Cassas Grandes took place only a few miles from Pearson, and four of Mr. Maffat's foremen rode over on horseback to watch the battle. The federal forces repulsed Madero's men, and the quartette of foremen coming into the town, were taken by the government forces as spies, put in the toils and sentenced to be shot in the morning. As there were a number of Americans with the revolutionists it was a very difficult matter to show that these men were not spies, but Mr. Moffat, getting word of their plight, succeeded in proving them disinterested Americans before the hour of execution.

As the federal forces would follow the revolutionary army in occupying Pearson, Mr. Moffat had the work of a diplomat in keeping in friendly, or at least refraining from antagonistic relations with the two armies. He could not give the slightest concession to one party or the other or the other would accuse him of enmity. For this reason he was repeatedly arrested and released.

Mr. Maffat and the company physician, Dr. O. C. West, in driving over to witness the battle of Cassas Grandes fell in with the rebels under Madero, retreating to Santiago. The doctor was pressed into service and dressed the wound of Madero, who is now president of Mexico. It was not serious being a bullet in the fleshy part of the arm.

The cause of the rebellion was briefly stated as seen by Mr. Moffat, who thought that it (the rebellion) was justified. It appears that in each Mexican state four or five men owned all the land, having secured it by lending a few pounds to the owners, then taking the land as part payment. In this way each of the men owned several million acres of land, and according to the existing laws of the country, the peasants, or "peons," could not leave his estate, or if he did he could be forced to return on account of his small debt. The heavy taxation would not allow the people to pay off the debts, and thus they were held virtually as slaves.

Against this they rebelled, and were successful putting Madero, the first man ever elected to that position, in the Presidential chair of Mexico.

The battle of Juarez was witnessed by Mr. Moffat from a little distance. Several of the Americans near him were killed by stray shots, and one bullet—yet in the possession of Mr. Moffat—buried itself in the ground a few inches from him.

SECOND REBELLION.

The cause of the second rebellion was pretended dissatisfaction of men who constituted, as Mr. Moffat, expressed it, a party of bandits.

Madero, when he was chosen President, promised to restore the parts of the great estates to their original owners. As this would involve the receiving of claims and the investigation of rights, this restoration of property would take considerable time. Yet before he had been president more than a few months, the leaders of the present insurrection organized a rebellion because it had not been completed.

Mr. Moffat was very glad that the present unjust rising was not succeeding. Some of the leaders are supporting it for personal reasons, and some because Dr. Gomez was excluded from Madero's cabinet. Most of the rebels fought with Madero against Diaz, but influenced by Orozco, the present leader, whose occupation was a very menial one up to a short time ago, have taken arms against their former leader. Orozco, in the first revolution, was arrested by Madero for being a socialist and trying to influence one branch of the army in that direction. Hence his personal animosity to the President.

From Mr. Moffat a very good idea of the habits and dwellings of the Mexican peons, or lower classes was gleaned.

They live in one-storey houses, made of bricks which are composed of baked clay and straw. Usually one family occupies a room 12x12 ft, and the families are usually good sized ones, of several children besides the parents.

The houses that he constructed for his Mexican employes were 24x12 ft., divided into two rooms, each twelve feet square. In each of the two rooms a family exists.

The Mexican peon class have an unvaried diet consisting of three staple articles of nourishment. They make a poor variety of corn cakes, made by grinding the corn between two stones, then pressing it between the hands into small cakes. These are baked without leaven, yeast or soda. Beans are another article of diet.

In Mexico nearly everything will grow abundantly, and grain of all kinds, vegetables and fruit are produced in large quantities.

The lower class Mexicans are as a rule very treacherous, which is the cause of so many revolutions in that country.

The Mexican cities and residences are very fine, and the houses of the city do not compare in size or architecture, though the same in material, with the peon dwellings.

Mr. Moffat has no intention of returning to Mexico, his work there being completed. He will be in the city for a few weeks. Another reason given by him for the six months' delay, is the fact that during the turmoil it was necessary to pay duty to both sides, on articles coming in to the country for building or food purposes.

At present he is staying with his family at his home, River Road, near the golf links.

BREEZES FROM THE DIAMOND

Hamilton Herald—In the first inning, after a two-bagger and a single had given the Petes a run, Mr. Bartlett, who swings with his right and who has been heralded as the hottest thing that ever left Rochester in the way of saliva pill dispenser undertook to puzzle the local hickory wielders, but his efforts were in vain. Germany Schaeffer singled and Keenan sacrificed. Cornelius Murphy beat out an infield hit and then some fumbling started which, along with Bud Fisher's two-bagger allowed the mighty men of Lee to amass four runs. After that inning, Mr. Bartlett viewed the game from the bench He was succeeded by Baber, who did a little better work for his team. . . While the Peterboro players were disputing with the umpire over a close decision at first base in the seventh Killilea scored.

Hamilton Spectator— The Petes played a good aggressive game, and had Bartlett got away to any kind of a start it is hard to say what would have happened. The visitors size up like a strong hitting team, as their nineteen bingles in two games testify, while both Derr and Baver of the three pitchers who have worked in the two games here shape up like real good twirlers. On the play of the two days, the Petes were entitled to at least an even break, and the Kolts can count themselvs fortunate in getting away with both games, especially as they were outhit in each encounter. There is no doubt but that Templin's bunch will afford a lot of trouble to Brantford in the three-day series which starts today. . . Those who have witnessed the two games played at Britannia park are satisfied that both the Hamilton and Peterboro teams measure away above the standard of last year's Canadian League teams, while from London comes the same report in reference to London and Guelph. There is no doubt but that the league is going to prove 50 per cent. faster this year than last.

Manager Deneau of the Berlin champions says—"The club that heads us cops the rag this season. We were conceded to be 25 per cent. stronger than any club in the league last season, and I am not boasting when I say we are 25 per cent. stronger right now than in 1911. The report got out that my catchers were not up to the mark. Just let anyone try to run loose on them, and see how bad they are. I look for Ottawas. St. Thomas. London and Peterboro to be the clubs to beat."

SPORTING PROGRAM FOR PETERBORO' THIS SEASON

The sports and sportesses of Peterborough, the fans and fannettes who frequent the baseball diamond, the tennis court, the football grounds or the bowling greens of this city will be given an unprecedented opportunity to enjoy themselves this summer. The prospects in every department of sport for this season are unusually bright and in more than one line new development, features that the city have never had before have been introduced.

BASEBALL

The promise for a splendid baseball season is brighter than it has ever been before. Peterborough is represented in professional baseball by a team that has all others that ever performed with the backing of the local fans beaten to a standstill Their games away from home, as well as their contests on the local park, will be watched with the greatest interest by all. Then there are the fast teams of local players, who competed last year in the city and Midland leagues, who will likely be on the job to some extent before the close of the season. The youngsters' school leagues too are to be taken into consideration as a large number of fine players will in all probability be developed in these.

FOOTBALL

The football enthusiasts anticipate that this year will even eclipse last in the matter of good football and gruelling contests. Peterborough will have teams in the Senior and the Junior Midland Football Leagues; and the Church League, which has already opened is certainly a live wire. The contests already seen in the local league, is assurance enough for the speed of its games and the reputation that come to us from foreign localities can not let the Peterborough fans doubt the strength of the outside teams in the Midland league.

TENNIS

The game of tennis is becoming more and more popular. The Nicholls Oval Tennis Club, and the Y.M.C.A. tournaments which have been the solace of the court prowlers for some years past are both living propositions this season. But an added interest is manifested in the game by the sports of the Park street church who have secured an ideal lawn for a number of courts down at the end of the street car line, across the stream. This will mean that even a larger number will engage in the game of tennis this summer and the sport, already extensively enjoyed, will become almost universal. The City Tennis Association will be in evidence again.

CYCLING.

In cycling, said by some to be the most interesting and healthy of all sports there will be a great boom because of the C.W.A. meet that will be held here, presumably in August. The meet will consist of bicycle and motor-cycle races, and the prizes that will be offered are sure to be an incentive to the riders of this city to become expert in the handling of their machines. A large number of motor-cycles are to be seen swishing about the city and there will be an interesting assemblage of these machines at the meet. Lady motorcyclists too must train for the meet as the program will include several events for the fair sex.

MOTORING.

There are at the present time upwards of one hundred autos in the city. Last year motoring was very popular in Peterborough but an added impetus will be given to this form of sport this season by the existence of the Auto Association. This organization is in competent hands and is sure to prove a boon to the auto users, more particularly those that are actively engaged in the working of the association. This newly organized body which puts the local auto owners in touch with those of other cities, as well as the increased number of machines in the city will give motoring a stronger foothold in Peterborough than ever.

BOATING.

Anyone who has paid a visit to the banks of the river Otonabee near Rye's boathouse will not need any further proof that the coming boating season will be a popular one. Launches have been returned to the water after their winter in storage and the freshness of the paint and varnish, and in some cases the newness of the vessels themselves make a bright picture. The Otonabee will again be the scene of many happy excursions and quiet family picnics. The war canoes of the Y.M.C.A. boys will be sailing this year to add to the picturesqueness and beauty of the afternoon down the river, which were so thoroughly enjoyed by large numbers last summer. The pleasure traffic between here and the upper lakes will be as heavy as ever, and the cottagers will see that the waters of the lakes at the other end of the canal will be well dotted with speeding crafts. In Peterborough a quiet boating season is, for the present at least, an impossibility.

GOLF.

The Golf Club have reorganized for this year, and the new officers are determined to continue their successful policy of liveliness, which afforded the members of much pleasure last year. The usual tournaments and games will take place this season.

BOWLING.

The Peterborough Bowling and Tennis Club have an increased membership this year, and are starting out at the very beginning of the season to arrange for excitement for the bowling green. the grounds have been relevelled by rollers this spring and will be in perfect shape in a few days. The usual tournament, including rinks from surrounding towns. will take place again this year. Port Hope rinks will play here on May 24.

ATHLETICS.

The Y.M.C.A. and the P.C.I. are the chief contributors to the athletic program this season. Both will hold their annual meet and the senior and junior events in each meet will give the athletes of the city a chance to compete in some interesting contests.

OBITUARY.

As usual the anniversary of the death of lacrosse; the Canadian national game, and cricket, will likely be commemorated. Cricket may be revived by the English players in the city.

No Official Opening

Owing to the death of Mr. Hays it has been officially announced that there will be no formal opening of the Grand Trunk's new hotel, the Chateau Laurier, at Ottawa. Plans were being made for a public dinner but now the front door will simply be unlocked and the building opened to the public. "I shall put the key in the lock and open the door. and there will be nothing further than that," Mr. F. W. Bergman. Manager-in-Chief of Grnd Trunk System Hotels, states. "The exact date of the opening has not been set, but it will be May 24th, or the following day. Friday is my lucky day so I would like to have the hotel open on the 24th. The Chateau will have accommodation for many guests in its 350 bed-rooms, and there will be more than 300 employees on the staff. It is expected that the new Central station will be opened to the public on the same day, but with equal absence of ceremony, while Confederation Square in front of the Chateau Laurier should also be finished in about another three weeks.

TESTED THE ANTS.

Experiments That Seem to Prove the Insects Have Memory.

Experiments are continually being made to test the memory of animals, such as the elephant, the dog, the bull, but it would seem a thankless undertaking to ascertain whether the ant has a memory. Nevertheless a scientist in South America thinks he has succeeded.

Isolating two of the largest specimens of tropical ants he could find, he so arranged their receptacle that they could get no food without climbing over a circular slant into another compartment. Over this slant when the food was not there he placed a crimson cord, and the ants very soon learned to interpret the signal and never attempted to climb over it.

Thinking after a time that there might be something in the color that repelled them automatically, as the bull is affected unpleasantly by red, he replaced the red cord by cords of varying colors, always with the same result after the ants had made a few excursions over the slant and come back hungry. Then he tried plain cloth and even paper, but the result was invariably the same. After a number of trials the ants refused to climb the slant when there was any sort of "signal."

Finally the scientist reversed the signal, having food beyond the slant only when it was visible, and after an infinite number of trials the ants accommodated themselves to the change.—Harper's Weekly.

Seventeen Conservatives Elected.

Montreal, May 17.—Yesterday the victory of the Gouin Government in the elections which took place Wednesday has been made more complete. The latest figures of the results are as follows:

Liberals, 62.
Conservatives, 17.
Elections to be held, 2.
Liberal majority, 45.

In the last House the standing of the parties was:

Liberals, 58; Conservatives, 16. Eight new seats have been added since the last election.

A small vote was cast practically all over the province, in some places not fifty per cent. of those on the voters' lists troubling to cast their ballots.

Planted Dynamite.

Salem, Mass., May 17.—John J. Breen, a prominent citizen of Lawrence, was found guilty of one of the three counts of an indictment in which he was charged with planting dynamite during the big textile strike in that city, by a jury in the Superior Court here yesterday. Sentence has not been imposed. Breen is a member of the school committee of Lawrence.

The count on which Breen was found guilty charged that he intended to injure the strikers in the conduct of their strike.

The Senior Scool League game for to-day was postponed.

THE CELEBRATION OF DOMINION DAY

Negotiations are taking place between Canadian Club representatives, the City Council and the officers of the 57th Regiment, with a view to arranging a program to celebrate Dominion Day this year. A committee will interview the City Council in the near future, asking their assistance in the proposal, to co-operate with the Canadian Club and the 57th Regiment. Lieut. Colonel E. B. Clegg officer commanding the Regiment has extended invitations to the 15th Regiment, Belleville, and the 41st of Brockville to visit Peterborough for that day. If the invitations are accepted, the regiments would arrive here Saturday night, and would attend church on parade Sunday morning, and remain over Monday to assist the local Regiment in a military demonstration of some character. Nothing definite however has been arranged yet.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

The members of St. John's Auxiliary are requested to send contributions of canned fruit, jam or marmalade to the school house, on Tuesday afternoon, May 21st. The Dorcas secretary will be there to receive them and pack a barrel for Moose Fort Indian boarding school.

The Brotherhood of St. James' church will please meet on the steps of the church at 5.30 p.m. Saturday All members of the Brotherhood are expected to be present, as a group photo will be taken.

TENDERS FOR DREDGING

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Dredging, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.," will be received until 4.00 P.M., on Monday, May 20, 1912, for dredging required at Sault Ste. Marie, in the Province of Ontario.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied, and signed with the actual signatures of tenderers.

Combined specification and form of tender can be obtained on application to the Secretary, Department of Public Works, Ottawa. Tenders must include the towing of plant to and from the work. Dredges and tugs not owned and registered in Canada shall not be employed in the performance of the work contracted for. Contractors must be ready to begin work within thirty days after the date they have been notified of the acceptance of their tender.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, for five per cent (5 per cent) of the contract price which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
R. C. DESROCHERS,
Secretary.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULTING POLICE OFFICER

Pat Lavery, jr., when charged in police court this morning with assaulting P.C. Kane, with intent to prevent the arrest of William Lavery did not plead or elect, and the evidence in the opinion of Magistrate Dumble was sufficient to warrant the accused being committed for trial

The trouble occurred at the corner of George and Charlotte streets on Tuesday night.

Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the accused.

One cyclist who rode on the sidewalk was fined $4.60 and another was discharged with a warning not to repeat.

AFTER MORE GOOD RECORDS

The prize list of the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, August 24th to September 9th, has been issued. It shows the usual liberal prizes in all departments of live stock, agriculture and home work, amounting to a total of $55,000. It is also evident that the list has been carefully revised to have it in keeping with up-to-date conditions.

A few of the innovations that might be noticed are provision for competition in breeding horses for strings of five horses; a number of sections added to provide for the newer breeds of poultry; $100 in prizes for onions, tomatoes and celery in baskets. The last named is a government suggestion meant to encourage export of these commodities.

On the whole, the list shows a distinct advance on its predecessors, and, as the attractions will include a review of cadets from all the overseas dominions of the Empire, the Scots Guards Band and a brilliant historical spectacle, the Seige of Delhi, it is safe to predict another record year for the Canadian National.

PEOPLE BIT AT PRANK PLAYED BY YOUTHS

Several would be heroes, would like to have disappeared into knotholes this morning, when two youngsters in charge of a butcher's delivery, put a practical joke over them at which they bit, owing to its very simplicity

The rain was falling steadily and the cart covered by a canopy, drawn by a jaded looking steed came jogging along Nobody in charge of the outfit could be seen, and of course, passers-by, instantly thought the horse was preparing for a runaway jaunt. Here was a chance to show some nerve; the gallant stopping of a runaway horse. First one young man splashed out into the muddy street and laid hands upon the slowly moving steed. No trouble was encountered in halting it. But imagine his embarrassment, when a burst of youthful laughter greeted him, as a reward for his intended heroism, coming from the interior of the closed cart. The next thing he saw was two boyish faces, convulsed with amusement, peeping up at him, and looking as mad as a wet hen, the would-be brave youth turned disgustedly away.

But the funnier part of it was that fully five other people bit, at the same thing. The lads of course, had control of the horse with the reins inside of the covering on the cart. Some who stopped the horse, when they discovered the joke, looked very mad, others laughed, and some looked foolish. But the two boys thoroughly enjoyed it as a huge joke.

KNOX BROTHERHOOD SUMMER OUTINGS

At a meeting of a Committee of the Brotherhood of Knox Church and the Central Committee of the Young People on Tuesday evening last, an interesting proposition was brought up, viz., rambles and picnics under their joint auspices.

It has been mooted that such a venture would tend to draw the youth of the church into harmony and make them acquainted with each other.

The idea was very favorably received, and on Mr. Williamson being approached to undertake the duties of chairman, he gladly consented. He with a committee, will arrange for "tramps" and picnics into the country, during the summer, with which will be incorporated the camera. Thus is set in motion still another sphere of church work, and showing the progressive spirit of this body.

In connection with this movement, it was also agreed to hold a young people's reunion on June 3rd, next. Rev J. A. Stewart, of Kew Beach, Toronto, is to be invited to give an address, and each class to provide an item for the program. Seasonable refreshments are also to appear in a "menu," and a gay time is anticipated.

FROM SUNNY ITALY TO PETERBOROUGH

Four natives of Italy have come to Peterborough during the past week. One man came to join his sisters at Lakefield, while another hopes to bring his family here in the near future.

The other two are a prospective bride and groom. Mr. Tom Minicolo, who looks after the Italians coming to Peterborough, is preparing the necessary papers to enable a young Italian to bring his mother here to live with him.

There are in the neighborhood of two hundred Italians in Peterborough.

An earthquake was felt in the Danish West Indies.

DIXON MAY BE PROSECUTED UNDER MANN WHITE SLAVE ACT

Regarding the Wm. Dixon case, the Hamilton Spectator says:

According to a story that Hermann Urbschadt, proprietor of a confectionery store at the corner of Barton and Wellington streets, told to a Spectator reporter last evening, William Dixon, the young man held in Detroit on a charge of abducting Florence Gee, formerly boarded at his place. About four years ago, Dixon engaged a room at Mr. Urbschadt's boarding house. A few months later he told Mr. Urbschadt he was married to a seventeen year old girl, who resided in Peterborough and he asked permission to have his wife stay at the house. This was refused and he left the boarding house and he and his wife started housekeeping. A short time later, Dixon returned to Mr. Urbschadt's home and told him his wife had gone back to her people in Peterborough. He stopped at the boarding house for a few days, until Mr. Urbschadt ordered him to leave.

Inspector Frick, who has charge of the case against Dixon in Detroit, intends prosecuting him under the Mann White Slave Act, and if found guilty, he is liable to a fine of $5,000 or a term of five years in the state prison, or both.

The police know nothing of the girl, Florence Gee, whom Dixon is alleged to have abducted.

THE MARRIAGE LAW AND THE SCHOOL LAW

the marriage law and the school law. There are two interesting matters now before the people of Canada, namely, the Manitoba School question and the Marriage Law case.

Some people do not understand how it is that the Roman Catholic authorities can be satisfied in Manitoba unless the Manitoba Government has given them separate schools. The Manitoba Government has declared, as will be seen by the Act, by all the amendments to the Act and by the positive declarations of the members of the Government on the floor of the House, that separate schools, separate school trustees, separate school inspection and separate school management, in a word, the right to separate schools, have vanished in Manitoba. The management of all schools is in the hands of the people as a whole. It is true that Catholics and non-Catholics are both given the privilege of having teachers of their respective faiths when there are scholars enough to warrant it but these are privileges that can be taken away at any time. They are not in any sense constitutional rights. The point of the whole matter is this, that the control of all schools is in the hands of the people, not as in Ontario where separate schools are under the management of separate trustees separate superintendence, etc. The Roman Catholic authorities are not satisfied as a matter of fact but they are satisfied to this extent that they are being treated with consideration and while they have lost separate rights they have been given at any rate, for a time being, privileges which are entirely at the disposal of the people who gave them and may be recalled at any time.

The Marriage Law case is now before the Supreme Court, that is to say, the Lancaster Bill and the special general stated case set out by the Government. It will be laid before the Court. If the Court says that the Federal Parliament has power to pass these bills they will be passed. The Government pledges itself to that action by the very act of bringing these matters before the Court, as well as by its declaration to that effect. What has just been decided is that the Supreme Court has the power to hear the contention of the Federal Government, that it has power to pass these bills. The Supreme Court said that it did not think that it had any power to listen to the request of the Government in this particular but the Judicial Committee in England has decided otherwise and in all probability the whole question will be settled more speedily than even the most sanguine imagined. The rights and duties of the Provinces will also be defined and it will be up to the people of the different provinces to see that their Governments carry out their wishes in that particular.

If the Supreme Court says that the Federal Parliament has not power to pass these bills, then power will be obtained to do so from Great Britain. But it is most probable that the Supreme Court will find as the Privy Council's decision indicates, that Parliament has the power which it will exercise at the next session by passing the two bills now before it, viz., The Lancaster and the General Bills.

DISTRICT MEETING FOR PETERBORO METHODISTS; CHURCH UNION RETURNS

The district meeting of the Peterborough district of the Methodist church was held yesterday in the Mark street Methodist church. The following Methodist ministers were present: The Revs. I. Couch, M.A., B.D., W. E. Smith, M.D., of China, G. W Henderson, C. E. Cragg, B.D., J. G. Brown, M.A., J. M. Clarry, B. A., Geo. Brown, F. W. White, B.A., C. H. Coon, A. C. Huffman, Daniel Williams, H .M. Manning and M. E. Wilson.

The ministerial session, presided over by the Rev. G. W. Henderson, the district chairman, was held in the morning. The usual disciplinary business was transacted and the following probationers were continued in their relation: H. J. Latimer, Gladstone McKee, H, H, Mutton, A. E. C. Allin, R. M. Patterson, W. C. Parsons, G. C. Mickel.

The afternoon session of laymen commenced at 1.30 o'clock. The report on the vote on church union for this district was presented, showing that 3,500 votes were polled in favor of the union and only 161 against it. The missionary reports on the district mission work showed an increase in contributions of $121, and the giving to the educational fund had increased by the sum of $50. The membership returns for the district showed an increase off 97.

The Sunday school report was presented by the secretary, Rev. C. E. Cragg, and among the proposed features for the next year is the uniting of the Sunday schools to support their own missionary in the foreign field.

The chairman of the district, Mr. Henderson, being transferred to the Hamilton Conference, it was necessary to elect a new chairman, and the Rev. I. Couch was chosen. A resolution of appreciation to Rev. Mr. Henderson, who has been chairman for the past three years, was passed.

Rev. J. G. Brown was elected journal secretary.

The committees were appointed as follows:

Educational—Rev. I. Couch and D. W. Dumble.

Sunday School—Rev. C. E. Cragg and Dr. J. E. Middleton.

Epworth League—Rev. J. M. Clarry and T. McIndoo.

Contingent Fund—Rev. J. G. Brown and H. E. Hawley.

ST. PAUL'S CHOIR HAD GOOD TIME

Those who were present at the farewell banquet, to Mr John Crane, at St. Paul's church last evening emphatically agree that the gathering was of the most enjoyable and well planned means that could have been employed to honor their retiring organist, and choir leader. They also unanimously agree that it was one of the jolliest and friendliest gatherings they ever attended.

Invitations were issued for the banquet to all the ex-members of the choir, whose whereabouts could be ascertained. Some were present who had been members of the choir in years gone by. Telegrams and letters were received from previous members, now distributed over America, one coming from San Francisco and others from distant centres, each containing expressions of congratulation.

About sixty in all sat down to a delightful spread, the catering for which was performed by T. H. Hooper After physical wants were satisfied a choice toast list was run off, in which the retiring choir-master, the Church, the absent members, and the ladies were appropriately eulogized.

Mr. D. H. Moore was in his proper element in calling off the toasts, in a neat and suitable manner.

Mr. John Crane has been the popular and valued leader of the choir for the past nineteen years, during which, his services have been responsible for the development of St. Paul's choir to its present high degree of efficiency. The recognition of such services, which have been expended without thought of financial remuneration was most suitably carried out last evening, and Mr. Crane severs his connection with the choir, bearing the sincere gratitude and hearty appreciation of all connected with St. Paul's.

The appointment to a successor to Mr. Crane is being considered.

FINANCE MINISTER WHITE MAKES A STRAIGHT TALK ON THE NAVY QUESTION

Canada Is Ready to Take Part in Imperial Defence.

Hon. W. T. White, In Speech at Dinner In Toronto, Says Five British Nations Are Getting Together Not For Aggression But to Defend Themselves—Central Court of Appeal Brings Unity, Says Rowell.

Toronto, May 18.—A successful house dinner to the Hon. W. T. White, Minister of Finance, and Mr. N. W. Rowell, K.C., leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, was given by the National Club last night, the president, W. E. P. Grundy, presiding.

Hon. Mr. White dealt with the position of Ontario in the Empire. and especially the position that Canada would bear in the future, not merely as the half-way house of the Empire, but as a binding force holding together the portions of the Empire to the eastward and in Asia. In his closing remarks Hon. Mr. White said: "At present the world is at peace. Let us hope it will remain so. In order to maintain peace it is necessary to be strong, and that is the reason the five nations are getting together, not for aggression, but for defence. That the Parliament and people of Canada will be prepared to do its full share in the matter of Imperial defence, I entertain no manner of doubt."

What will be the farther future, under what federal system shall the Empire be federated, said Mr. White, I shall not attempt to forecast, but it seems to me to present no insuperable difficulty. It will be a matter of growth, of development, as is always the case with the British race. Distance is fast becoming annihilated. Halifax is nearer to London than to Vancouver. What more ultimate difficulty in federating the Empire than in federating Canada or the United States? The statesmanship of the Empire will, I believe, be always equal to the Empire's needs. What place in that later and greater Empire will Canada hold? We are the oldest son to-day. We have the territory, the resources, the situation. Look at the globe. Canada is the centre of the Empire. Will she not in numbers, wealth, power and influence, be the very heart of the Empire in days that are to come?

Mr. Rowell, taking his theme from the Canada First party, to provide a local habitation for which the National Club was formed, raised a laugh by pointing out that one of the planks was the representation of minorities. He called upon the members of the club to rally for that plank, which would be a source of strength to the Opposition leader. A plank that his friend, Mr. White, would appreciate, whatever may have been his attitude toward it before last October, was that which proposed a reconstruction of the Senate.

Mr. Rowell then turned to his subject which was the development during the past two decades of the organisation of the Empire.

Mr. Rowell showed how the Imperial Conference and Imperial Council of Defence and the improvement of Imperial means of communication and the creation of Imperial citizenship, and an Imperial court of appeal were gradually making for the unity of the Empire. One flag and one king were the centre of that organization. Autonomy of the dominions and cooperation in the concerns of the Empire was the way of progress. Mr. Rowell, in closing, expressed very great satisfaction over Mr. White's announcement regarding Imperial defence.

FEAR FATE OF UNKNOWN SCHOONER

Halifax, May 18.—It is feared that the crew of some unknown schooner perished as a result of the collision with the Boston-bound steamship A. W. Perry. A wireless message received in Halifax yesterday stated that the second boat sent out by the Perry to search for wreckage, had found the boom of a vessel. The collision occurred off Little Hope, not more than twelve miles from Liverpool harbor. In answer to an enquiry addressed to the harbor master at Liverpool harbor, he stated that nothing has been heard there of any damaged vessel.

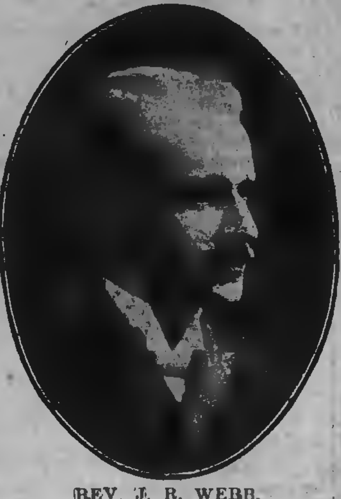
M. H. Nickerson of Clark's Harbor, inspector of life-saving stations, thinks it is a fishing schooner, which would carry fifteen men.

Ambassadors Are Deadlocked.

New York, May 18.—A St. Petersburg cable says: Despatches sent out from Paris declaring that French and Russian diplomatic relations had been severed were officially denied here last night. It was admitted, however, that a deadlock had developed between the two ambassadors, and that Russia would back up her envoy in the trouble.

Wreck Delays "Ad." Club Train.

St. Louis, May 18.—The Toronto Ad. Club special train en route to Dallas, Texas, where the big convention will be held, was delayed here for five hours on account of a wreck at Fort Wayne, Ind. The delegates from New York, Minneapolis and Boston joined the Toronto crowd here. The rest of the trip will be taken up in concert rehearsals preparatory to the convention, and also with five o'clock teas.



REV. J. R. WEBB.

Pastor of Murray street Baptist church, who with his congregation will enter their new church next Sunday, May 26th.

FEARS THE END

Special to the Review.

Boston, Mass., May 18—Clarence V. T. Richeson, the condemned muderer of Avis Linnel, collapsed last night twelve hours after being told there was no hope of saving him from the electric chair. He raved in such paroxism of grief and hysteria, that opiates had to be administered. Those produced a deep sleep at two this morning.

PRESIDENT TAFT GROWS ANGRY

Toledo, May 18.—"I've got tired being lied about and held up to the country as having violated every rule of conduct when I am not conscious that I have violated any," shouted President Taft here last night in the course of a speech to a crowd that blocked the aisles of the Toledo Auditorium.

Mr. Taft's speech was one of the most bitter and one of the most plainspoken that he has made since he began to answer the charges of Col. Roosevelt and to use hot shot of his own.

"It little lies in Mr. Roosevelt's mouth to say that I am tied up with the interests when the evidence that has been brought out in the Harvester and Steel trust cases and also right in Ohio shows where he stands," he declared.

GREEN CHOICE IN KOOTENAY

Nelson, B.C., May 18.—Carrying the convention on the first ballot, T. P. Green of Victoria was yesterday chosen the standard-bearer at the bye-election for the Conservatives of Kootenay. Green, according to high local political authority, is likely to take the seat by acclamation. Nomination day is May 30 and election June 20.

Stone Kills Car Passenger.

New York, May 18.—A heavy block of stone, while being hoisted to the top of a skyscraper hotel at Broadway and Thirty-fourth street yesterday slipped from the derrick tackling plunged down several storeys, crashed through the roof of a northbound Broadway trolley car and killed a woman and injured several other passengers.

Turkish Garrison Surrenders.

Rome, May 18.—Premier Giovanni Giolitti, amid the cheers of the members, announced in the Chamber yesterday, that Gen. Ameglio had surrounded and defeated the garrison of the Turkish island of Rhodes, which had been surrendered yesterday morning and had been accorded military honors.

As Socialists See It.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 18.—"Capitalist Concentration," and "Soulless Industrial Despotism" are held responsible in the National Socialist platform for the higher cost of living, increased burdens of armament, poverty, slums, child labor, and most of the insanity and crime.

It is charged of the anti-trust laws, that the prosecutions, indictments and investigations based upon such, have proved utterly futile and ridiculous.

New Canning Plants.

Leamington, May 18.—In practically all parts of Western Ontario, the Dominion Canners will either improve the plants now in operation or erect new ones in preparation for the opening of their busy season shortly. Additions will be built to the factories at Tilbury, Belle River, Sandwich, Kingsville, Leamington and West Lorne, and new packing establishments will be erected at Ridgetown, Forest, Jordan and Font Hill.

SIR COMOS MAKES A STRONG DENIAL

He Says Going Back to Ship Was Never Mentioned.

London, May 18.—At the Titanic inquiry yesterday afternoon Sir Cosmo Duff-Gordon gave absolute denial to the stories that either he or his wife protested against the lifeboat, in which they left the Titanic, returning to rescue other passengers, or that the question of going back to pick up any of the persons in the water was ever mentioned.

Sir Rufus Isaacs: "You heard the cries of drowning people. There was room in the boat and if you had returned you could have saved some?"

Sir Cosmo Duff-Gordon: "It is hard to know what I was thinking about at the time. I was looking after my wife."

He continued: "I never heard it suggested that we should return nor that any of the passengers objected to doing so. I did not think it would have been possible to go back nor did the idea of returning enter my mind."

Sir Rufus Isaacs: "You know now that you could have saved many?"

Sir Cosmo Duff-Gordon: "I don't know."

Sir Rufus Isaacs: "You had lots of room in the boat?"

Sir Cosmo Duff-Gordon: "Yes."

The deep interest taken was shown by the presence of many fashionably dressed women. Sir Cosmo and Lady Duff-Gordon were represented by Henry E. Duke, M.P., an eminent counsel.

Charles Hendrickson, at the morning sitting stuck closely to his story that the objections raised by the Duff-Gordons were responsible for the boat not going back to the rescue of the drowning.

Sailor Symonds, who was in the boat, said he had not heard the Duff-Gordons protest but admitted that someone representing the Duff-Gordons interviewed him shortly after his return to England.

James Taylor, a fireman of the Titanic, and one of the crew of the Duff-Gordon's boat, confirmed Hendrickson's statement that passengers had objected to returning to the rescue. He could not say, however, who they were. The suggestion was made that the boat should return but a lady said it would be swamped. He had since identified that lady as Lady Duff-Gordon. Two of the men passengers agreed wth her. Sir Cosmo Duff-Gordon took no part in the conversation. It came out that the other woman in the boat was Lady Duff-Gordon's secretary.

Witness admitted that he had been seen by somebody on behalf of Sir Cosmo Duff-Gordon to whom he had made a statement and had received seven shillings for expenses.

The enquiry was adjourned until Monday.

DESCENDED NTO MOUNT VESUVIUS

Special to the Review.

Milan, May 18— Professor Mallada of the Royal observatory at Mount Vesuvius, accomplished yesterday the extraordinary feat of descending one thousand feet into the crater of the volcano. The professor and one assistant were lowered with ropes the first 380 feet and from there they lowered themselves further by ropes. They took flashlight photographs of avalanches and showers of red hot ashes which were taking place. The temperature was as high as 98.

Devlin Elected.

Ottawa, May 18.—E. B. Devlin, M.P., who returned yesterday from Temiscamingue, where he directed the campaign for his brother, Hon. C. R. Devlin, states that the report that Dr. Aubin, Conservative, was elected is incorrect. The complete figures, he states, show Mr. Devlin elected by 211, he having received a majority in all but two polls, which gave Aubin majorities of 16 and 4.

Played With Powder; Three Hurt.

Montreal, May 18.—Honore Leonard, aged 11, traded a collection of cigarette pictures to a small friend for a box of powder, which the latter had found in a field near the Grand Trunk tracks. Leonard now lies in the hospital dangerously burned about the face, neck and arms, while two young companions, Hormisdas and Henry Belac, aged 5 and 9, are almost as badly injured.

London May Get Dr. Hill.

London, Ont., May 18.—Dr. H. W. Hill, of the University of Minnesota, is expected to be the choice for head of the hygienic institute here. He is to address a public meeting here tonight, held under the auspices of the Canadian Clubs. Dr. Hill is graduate of the University of Toronto. He was once mentioned for the office of M.H.O. of Toronto.

Reproves Gretna Green Marriages.

Brockville, May 18.—Judge McDonald yesterday discharged on suspended sentence George Cardiffe, who pleaded guilty to a charge of perjury in swearing falsely to the age of a girl in procuring a marriage license. They went alone to a minister and were married, the groom being nearly 19 and the bride 16.—The judge called attention to the importance of more care being taken by ministers in marrying young people who come to them unattended.

HE MAKES ATTACK ON PREMIER ASQUITH.

BONAR LAW.

Bonar Law, the leader of the Opposition in the British House of Commons, addressing the annual love feast of the Primrose League in the Albert Hall, directly charged Premier Asquith's government with assisting the United States in its alleged designs on Canada. He intimated that the quarrel between President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt showed that the object of the reciprocity negotiations was to make Canada an adjunct of the United States.

GETTING READY FOR FUNERAL OF THE LATE DANISH MONARCH

Remains of Late King Frederick Taken to Church.

Hundreds of Thousands of Loyal Danes Line the Streets as Cortege Goes to the Altar of the Old Castle Church — Princes Walked Behind Hearse—Many Thousand Visitors Watch Solemn Pageant.

Copenhagen, May 18.—The body of the late King Frederick VIII. of Denmark reached the Danish capital yesterday, and is now lying before the altar of the old Castle Church at Christianborg. There it will remain until May 24, when it will be taken on its final journey to Roskilde, 19 miles from this city, and interred in the tomb containing the bodies of most of the former Danish kings in the spired church of that picturesque little town.

From Tolboden wharf, in the inner harbor of Copenhagen, where the royal yacht Dannebrog landed the body of the dead sovereign at noon yesterday, on its arrival from Travemender, the coffin was borne by 12 officers to a hearse which was in waiting. It was then conveyed through the streets, lined with troops and filled with silent crowds, to the Church of Christenborg Castle. King Christian X. of Denmark and King Haakon of Norway, with other male members of the royal family, walked behind. The queen mother, the new queen, and other women of the family, followed in state carriages.

Despite the military escort and the salutes of the guns the ceremonial was marked with extreme simplicity. The spectators appeared to be witnessing the grief of a private family rather than the obsequies of a monarch.

Preceeded by an escort of cavalry, artillery, bluejackets and the King's Body Guard of Grenadiers in their scarlet coats and with their rifles bound with crepe, the procession went first through the grounds of the royal palace of Amalienborg, passed the United States legation, with the stars and stripes overhanging the streets, and then through the great Newmarket square and business thoroughfares to Christianborg.

In additon to the townspeople probably 100,000 visitors from outside the city lined the route, eight to ten deep, swarmed on the roofs, at the windows of buildings, on the tops of omnibuses, delivery wagons, lamp posts and other vantage points.

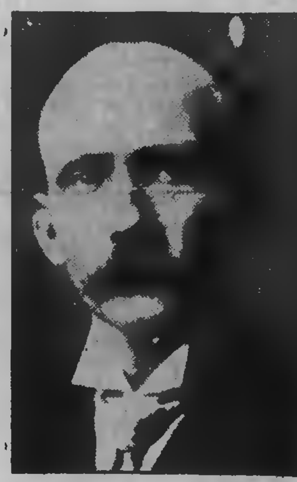
After a march of about an hour the procession reached the Castle Church, which is a Grecian structure that escaped when the parent building was destroyed.

On arrival at the church, the casket was borne in by officers and placed on a catafalque. Here the funeral lost all public character, and only the royal family and their relatives entered and listened to the private memorial services, remaining for some minutes in silent prayer.

The church is to be reserved to-day and to-morrow for private devotions, but will on Monday and following days be thrown open to the public, who will be permitted to march past and view the body of the dead sovereign lying in state.

Canadians on Ocean.

London, May 18.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Among passengers on the Empress of Britain which sailed for Canada yesterday were Premier McBride, his wife and daughter, Sir Frederick Borden, and Sir Charles Tupper and his son.



EX-REEVE MOHER.

Was honored by the County Council and his Douro friends this week. He will make his home in Edmonton in the future.

FRIENDS OF KAISER TOOK A WALK

Berlin, May 18.—The Imperial Chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, yesterday in the Reichstag resorted to an unusual means of protesting against a sharp attack by the socialist, Philip Schiedemann, upon the emperor.

Referring to the recent threat made by Emperor William at a banquet in Strassberg that he would incorporate Alsace-Lorraine into Prussia, Schiedemann said: "We regard it as a momentous confession when, from a competent source, incorporation into Prussia is threatened as the most severe punishment that can be inflicted upon a people, a punishment like imprisonment and the forfeiture of civil rights."

Schiedemann's words called forth storms of protest and cries of "shame" from the Conservative benches.

The Imperial Chancellor rose excitedly from his seat and gave a sign to other members of the Government, upon which they all walked out of the House. A large number of the Conservative members followed their example.

Found Guilty of Wounding.

Toronto, May 18.—Before Judge Denton in the sessions yesterday afternoon, James Cordwell was placed on trial on a charge of wounding with intent to maim his wife, Annie Cordwell, and was found guilty by the jury. The assault was committed on March 17 last, in their grocery store on Sumach street. Cordwell, striking the woman on the head with a stout hardwood stick, with a claw hammer, and with a steel box opener. He was remanded for sentence.

Richeson Execution.

Boston, May 18.—Although Richeson expressed disappointment that he would not be permitted to live as he had requested, he displayed no other emotion.

Warden Briggs is not permitted by the law to announce the time of an execution, but it is generally believed that Richeson will not be electrocuted before midnight of Monday.

GEORGE P. GRAHAM HAS NOT BEEN APPOINTED SUCCESSOR TO C. M. HAYS

Rumors of New G.T.R. President Are Unauthorized.

Chairman A. W. Smithers of the Board of Directors of the Grand Trunk, Arrives In New York and Says That the Name of the New President of the Line Has Not Been Given Out.

New York, May 18.—Alfred W. Smithers, chairman of the board of directors of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada, arrived yesterday on the Mauretania and will spend a couple of days in New York before leaving for Montreal. He was met here by William Wainwright, acting president; D. E. Galloway, assistant to the president, and E. H. Fitzhugh, president of the Central Vermont Railway.

When asked whether he had any announcement to make, Mr. Smithers replied:

"All I can say is that my mission to Canada this time is a sad one indeed. With regard to the apointment of a president for the Grand Trunk Railway Co., and the other changes that may be made, I can only say once more that absolutely nothing has been settled upon. Matters with the company are in good shape, and the officers are absolutely loyal, so that the interests of the system are not suffering.

"At the same time we wish to act expeditiously in this matter, and just as soon as I have consulted with a number of gentlemen whom I am to meet here, I will proceed to Montreal and take up the matter of the selection of a president and other matters that call for attention at the moment.

"The use of certain names in connection with the presidency of the Grand Trunk was absolutely unauthorized. By unauthorized, I mean not only that no officer of the Grand Trunk Co. has given out any statement tending to show that any person was likely to get the appointment, but I mean that even the facts did not authoribe any announcement. I may tell you now that I have not discussed with anybody the question of the availability of any one man for the position."

Mr. Smithers will leave here on Sunday morning by the Delaware & Hudson train, reaching Montreal the same evening.

Other passengers on the Mauretania were Sir Donald Mann of the Great Northern, and Charles R. Hosmer of the Canadian Pacific, who accompanied Mrs. F. W. Thompson and her daughter.

BIG FIRE IN YUKON VALLEY

Special to the Review.

Seattle, May 18—A special despatch from Dawson says: Yukon valley is a roaring furnace for two hundred miles between Big Salmon and Stuart City. Everywhere forest fires are raging, but they are not near any city. Millions of feet of timber have been ruined.

May Be General Strike.

Chicago, May 18.—A general strike of freight handlers throughout the country will be declared to-day at a conference of international officials, according to a statement made by President P. F. Flannery last night.

The Chicago railroad managers declare that in their opinion a strike no longer exists.

Again on Trail of Armour & Co.

Chicago, May 18.—Armour & Co. was indicted by the federal grand jury yesterday for criminal violation of the United States meat inspection laws for alleged interstate shipment of meats without inspection by Government agents. The indictments were returned before U. S. District Judge Landis.

CANADA WILL NEVER BE "ADJUNCT"

London, May 18.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—At the Royal Colonial Institute dinner last night Earl Grey, recalling Empire Day in Toronto, when 6,000 youths shouldered their rifles proud of their ability to do their part in the defence of the Empire, said the sight made one feel that if there should be a question of "adjunct," Canada wouldn't be an adjunct.

Alluding to the fact that Great Britain bore the burden of Empire defence the speaker declared thousands of Canadians were galled by the thought, envied her privilege, and were counting the day until they could stand and claim a share.

Precautions Favored by the Kaiser.

Berlin, May 18.—Following a conference between Emperor William and Herr Delbrueck, Minister of the Interior, the president of the National Mariners' Association, and other experts in navigation on the question of safety appliance for German ships, it was stated that the emperor favored added precautions in the construction of ships to keep them afloat after accidents, the extension of the wireless service and the carrying by vessels of lifeboats sufficient for everybody on board.

MR. JOHN CRANE.

He has resigned as organist and choir leader of St. Paul's church after nineteen years' service.

THOROGOOD CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER

Toronto, May 18.—Walter Thorogood was found guilty of manslaughter by the jury of the criminal assize court yesterday afternoon. He was then remanded by Mr. Justice Latchford for sentence. Commenting upon the verdict returned by the jury, after an hour's deliberation, the judge said that an honest jury could not have found any other verdict.

Thorogood was given two trials. He was arrested on a charge of murdering Joseph Salino in a Yonge street billiard parlor a few weeks ago. Thorogood struck Salino on the head with a cue and Salino died in St. Michael's Hospital two days later. Thorogood's plea was self-defence. In the first trial the jury disagreed.

In his address to the jury before its retirement, Mr. Justice Latchford said: "All the witnesses admit that the prisoner chased Salino into the pool room. Does this, to your mind, show that he was an aggressor rather than, as he says, on the defence?" His lordship also impressed upon the jury the fact that Thorogood did not leave the establishment after the Italian was struck down.

St. Kitt's Man Convicted.

St. Catharines, May 18.—Guy R. Parnell, who yesterday pleaded guilty to theft of $40 worth of toys from McKinnon Dash & Metal Works Co., was remanded by Judge Carman until to-day for sentence. The prisoner was also accused of making counterfeit coins, a crucible and moulds for that purpose having been found in his room by the police.

Parnell admitted possession, but swore he found the things in a room, previously occupied by a young man, Menno Culp. The judge reserved judgment.

Last night Col. J. Campbell, Parnell's counsel, supplied the police with additional evidence on the matter, as a result of which Culp was arrested, charged with the same offence for which Parnell was tried yesterday.

Tell of Smashed Windows.

London, May 18.—Voluminous testimony by policemen regarding the smashing of shop windows by Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and others in their equal suffrage demonstrations occupied most of the third days' session in Old Bailey of the trial of Mrs. Pankhurst, the acknowledged leader of the militant suffragettes, and Mrs. Pethick Lawrence and her husband, editors of "Votes for Women," charged with conspiracy.

WAGING WAR ON STEEL COMPANIES

New York, May 18.—Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the U. S. Steel Corporation, said yesterday at the second general meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute that "several labor leaders had for years been waging war on the steel industry, but had not succeeded yet."

He added that at no time were employes of the corporation better treated.

Cubans Strenuous Strikers.

Santiago, Cuba, May 18.—The strike of longshoremen here is becoming more serious. The Spanish steamer Conde Wilfredo was unloading here yesterday with the aid of Spanish strikebreakers when the men were attacked by the striking longshoremen and a Cuban gunboat had to be ordered alongside to protect them.

LIVER LAZINESS

Those Who Lack Energy and are Unsuccessful Should Read This Closely.

"I am only thirty years old, yet for almost two years I have felt more like seventy-five. I have found it difficult to sleep at night and in the morning feel so depressed and heavy that effort was difficult. My hands were always clammy and perspiration on slight effort would break out all over me. It was not unnatural that I should begin to brood over the chance that I should ever be able to do my work, and this dread made my sleepless nights perfect misery. After repeated trials of medicine and mixtures Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me the first gleam of hope. From the very first I could see they were different in action from other pills. They didn't gripe and acted as naturally as if nature had hot the pills were cleansing my clogged up system. My spirits rose, I felt much better, the sluggish action of the system gave way to normal activity. Dizziness and headaches ceased, appetite, good color, and ambition to work returned and have remained. I am like a new man and I thank Dr. Hamilton's Pills for it all."

This was the experience of J. E. Parkhurst, a well-known grocery dealer in Jefferson. Follow his advice, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills for your stomach, kidneys and liver, and you'll enjoy new life and robust good health. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills in yellow boxes 25c. per box, from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

HOPE FOR THE AGED

Two Toronto young men, of ample means to do so, were charged in Toronto with refusing to support their aged and indigent mother, and the case was to come before a court in that city in a few days. In this matter a most interesting legal question was involved. Canada has on its statute books no law to compel children to support their parents. In the reign of Queen Elizabeth such a law was passed, and in 1791 it became of effect in Canada by adoption and has never been repealed. It is under this law that the case in question was brought. But the matter is not, it seems, to be ventilated now, much to the disappointment of all interested, for the defendants have agreed to contribute to the support of their mother, and the case has been dropped. It is noted, however, that the charity workers of Toronto propose to make an attempt to secure some legislation so that many an unfortunate father and mother may yet be saved or rescued from the poor house.

WILL FAKE NO MORE

The "fake" case brought by the street railway company, of Toronto, which resulted in the citation of all the principals involved for contempt of court, was finally disposed of when Justice Latchford dropped the contempt proceedings. Mr. J. W. Curry submitted a written apology, in which he intimated that he did not know that the case was loaded, so to speak, and that he would not do it again. It will be a long time before any wealthy corporation puts up such a job on one of our courts in an effort to win public sympathy or pose as financial martyrs. So much good, at least, comes from the case just settled.

The only man involved who is deserving of any commiseration is the doctor who made an examination of the fake plaintiff and testified in court on his own behalf. It is not beyond the range of possibility to deceive a lawyer regarding some legal matter pending, if the person so disposed is properly posted. The fake patient who went to the doctor in question, we may safely assume, was well drilled in his case and able to describe the symptoms upon which the doctor founded his opinion. When a doctor is told that a patient has a pain in his back or side, or any other portion of his anatomy, the proper inference for him to make is that the patient is speaking the truth and that he is really suffering.

The Toronto street railway people in the course of business will no doubt continue to maim and kill the public and to defend damage suits as formerly, but they will hardly ever bring a fake case into one of our courts.

KNOX OR TAFT

Dr. J. A. Macdonald, the Toronto journalist, the other day indulged himself in his favorite weakness when he went to Erie, Pa., and delivered himself of another address to the American people, this time to the Board of Trade in that city. He gives the public to understand that he is on the most friendly and intimate terms with the Statesmen of Washington, that there is nothing like a state secret between them as well as throwing out gentle hints that he carries the political destiny of Canada around with him in his suit case.

Dr. Macdonald asserted vigorously that this country never even dreams of political union and that no public men here thinks that such a thing is within the range of political possibilities. The good doctor was evidently intent upon setting himself right; squaring himself with his patriotic compatriots after the active part he took in the reciprocity agitation. Now that that question is disposed of for good and all, the doctor hastens to climb over the fence and assure the majority that he and his friends never had any but the best of motives in the part they took.

Dr. Macdonald has had a friendly little chat with Mr. Knox, the American Secretary of State. Let him tell the story and Mr. Knox has no designs upon the political future of Canada. Perhaps, however, talking as he did he was simply observing the social amenities, because statesmen are not always above clothing their real intentions in the garb of friendly language. He says he hopes Canada will remain a part of the British Empire for the power of America to-day is the power of the United States and the power of Canada, plus Britain. Were Canada to withdraw from the Empire there would be no plus. In other words by cultivating friendship with the offspring Canada, the United States stands a better chance to maintain friendly relations with the Mother Country.

These are kind words. But President Taft is a bigger official figure in the United States to-day than Secretary Knox and some of his public utterances have been at variance with those of his secretary. We have his "parting of the ways" and his "adjunct" allusions. As the bigger man in the nation, are not his views likely to have more weight with the people of this country?

MR. MOFFAT IN MEXICO

It is not often that a newspaper has the privilege of publishing so exhaustive and instructing an interview as that furnished the Review yesterday by Mr. C. Moffat, of this city. It was an intelligent and able summing up of the industrial, social and political conditions of the people of Mexico, who never seem happy unless mixed up in a revolution.

Whenever there are gigantic industrial plants to be developed or operated, we almost invariably find a Canadian of brains and experience holding a prominent position in the field and Peterboro has every reason to be proud that one of her sons helped to build up one of the greatest lumber concerns in the world.

NOTE AND COMMENT

"Reciprocity is dead" said President Taft, in a speech at Dexter, O. And he might have added that it is buried out of sight forever.

Germany refused an offer from England that both nations build no more warships, so that the Kaiser's country is responsible for the prolonged activity in that business.

Seven candidates in the Quebec election were so badly defeated that they lost their deposits. Another time they will hesitate before breaking into the political game.

Prof. R. A. Fessenden seems to be as proficient in electricity as his uncle, our own Cortes Fessenden is in mathematics, and no higher praise could be accorded him.

If the mediums could induce the spirit of W. J. Stead to give an opinion of Senator Smith's enquiry into the tragedy, it would be something worth hearing.

"I believe in free trade with Canada for economic and political reasons," wrote Roosevelt to President Taft. And now the Colonel is trying to make people believe he had no thought of annexation, when he wrote the words.

Oh, please spare us. A Denver man is thrusting upon a long suffering public the theory that the Titanic is still afloat a mile or so down in the ocean and that she will continue to float until the end of time.

The Boston Transcript praises British sea captains and officers, as shown by the Titanic investigation, and wonders how so fine a type of men can come from the lower walks of English life, "where caste breeds servility." The Transcript knows as much about English life of any kind as Dr. Cook does of the immediate vicinity of the North pole.

Legal authorities are of the opinion that it will take two years at least for the marriage question to find its way through the Supreme Court to final disposition by the Privy Council. Are some of us to wait that long time to find out whether we are really married or not?

A New York woman to test her husband's love, shammed suicide, by leaving a note saying she had drowned herself in the surf. When she returned after an absence of two weeks, she found her husband married to a widow with three children. Now, the practical joker thinks mankind is unworthy of female confidence. Perhaps the joke is on him after all.

Failed to Cure Rheumatism

Miss Flora Chapman Vividly Describes Her Sufferings and Ultimate Cure With "Nerviline."

"After being an enthusiastic user of Nerviline for years, I feel it my duty to tell you personally what your wonderful preparation has done for me.

"I suffered torture from rheumatism and heart trouble, tried scores of so-called remedies, consulted for weeks and months with Toronto's most eminent physicians, but derived only slight benefit.

"A friend insisted on my using Nerviline, and to my surprise a vigorous rubbing of this powerful liniment eased the pains and reduced the stiffness in my joints. I continued to use Nerviline and was permanently cured. I am now perfectly well, and for three years have had no rheumatism at all. I know many families where no other medicine but Nerviline is kept—it is so useful in minor ailments like earache, toothache, neuralgia, coughs, colds, lumbago, and sciatica. I call Nerviline my "Life Guard," and urge all to try its merit."

Wanted His Money Back.

A young man had taken his wife to a show, and as there was no one to look after the baby they had brought it along. It cried lustily all through the first act. At the close of the act an usher came down the aisle and informed them that if they could not keep the baby quiet they would have to go to the box office, get their money back and go out.

They succeeded in squelching the baby, and all went well for a time.

Then, five minutes after the last act had commenced, the young father leaned over and said, "How do you like the show?"

"Rotten!" was the reply.

He was silent for a moment, and then, leaning over again, he whispered: "Stick a pin in the baby."—Everybody's.

SPEAKS OUT HIS FIRM BELIEF

That There is no Better Medicine Than Dodd's Kidney Pills

New Liskeard Man Tells the Public What He Thinks of the Remedy That Never Fails to Cure Diseased Kidneys.

New Liskeard, Ont., May 17.—Special.—Mr. Isaac Grant, well-known and highly respected here, is a firm believer in the old and still growing belief that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the one sure cure for all forms of Kidney Disease.

Mr. Grant is outspoken in his belief. "Any person suffering with kidney disease," he says, "should use Dodd's Kidney Pills, as there is no better medicine on earth to-day."

When a man makes a statement like that he believes what he says. Hundreds of others in Canada are making the same statement every day and for the same reason. They have used Dodd's Pills and found them good. For Dodd's Kidney Pills not only cure the backache or rheumatism or dropsy, or other ailment at which they are aimed, but they build up the system and make you feel stronger and healthier all over the body.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the kidneys, and cured kidneys mean pure blood. Pure blood cures the ailment by making the body strong enough to shake off any and all disease.

THE MARKET

Latest Quotations in Grain Dairy Products, Live Stock Etc.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 17.—Strain in the wheat trade, altho unmistakably evident to-day, diminished when the fact became clear that no person or firm would be obliged to suspend. Signs of a revival of flour business and of demand for cash wheat cut a figure in partly restoring confidence, but not until the market had fallen more than 2 cents below last night's level. The close was irregular, ranging from ⅝c to ⅞c net decline to ⅛c advance. Corn finished ⅛c to ¼c off to 1⅛c up, oats unchanged to ⅜c down, and provisions varying from 10c loss to 17½c gain.

Liverpool wheat closed ¼d to ⅜d lower than yesterday and corn unchanged. Paris wheat closed 1½c to 1⅞c lower, Berlin 1c lower, Buda-Pest 1½c lower.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, May 17.—Business in Manitoba wheat over the cable continued dull, owing to the very low prices being bid for shipment in all positions. The foreign demand for oats was fair, but cables were again weaker and the prices bid showed a further decline of 3d per quarter. The undertone to the cheese market continues strong and prices have scored a further advance of ¼c to ½c per lb., owing to the good demand from exporters for supplies and the higher prices ruling in the country. The butter market is firm with a good demand from the West and a fairly active trade was done on spot. Demand for eggs is good and the trade is fairly active at steady prices. Provisions are firm under a good demand.

Cynthia's Chauffeur

By LOUIS TRACY

Copyright by McLeod & Allen, Toronto

And, indeed, many very, very clever people might have found themselves sinking in some unexpected quicksand and be not one whit less bemused than the miserable chauffeur. Morally, he had given the only possible answer that left open a way of escape, and he had formed a sufficiently shrewd estimate of the relations between his master and the remarkably good-looking young lady whom the said master was serving with exemplary diligence to fear dire consequences to himself if he became the direct cause of a broken idyl. The position was even worse if he fell back on an artistic lie. The Earl was a dour person where servants were concerned, and Salome did not demand John the Baptist's head on a salver with greater gusto than the autocrat of Fairholme would insist on Dale's dismissal when he discovered the facts. Talk of the horned dilemma—here was an unfortunate asked to choose which bristle of a porcupine he would sit upon.

The mere presence of his lordship in Bristol betokened a social atmosphere charged with electricity—a phase of the problem that constituted the only clear item in Dale's seething brain. It was too much for him; in sudden desperation he determined to stick to the plain truth.

He had to elect very quickly, for the peppery-tempered Earl would not brook delay.

"Not gone to London, you say? Then where the devil has he gone to? A gentleman at the hotel, a French gentleman, who said he had met these—these persons with whom my son is gadding about the country, told me that they had left Bristol this morning for London, because a car that was expected to meet them here had broken down."

Suddenly his lordship, a county magistrate noted for his sharpness, glanced at Simmonds. He marched round to the front of the car and saw that it was registered in London. He waved an accusing umbrella in air.

"What car is this? Is this the motor that won't go? It seems to have reached Bristol all right? Now, my men, I must have a candid tale from each of you, or the consequences may be most disagreeable. You, I presume," and he lunged en tierce at Simmonds, "have an employer of some sort, and I shall make it my business—"

"This is my own car, my lord," said Simmonds tiffly. He could be stubborn as any member of the Upper House when occasion served. "Your lordship needn't use any threats. Just ask me what you like an' I'll answer, if I can."

Fairholme, by no means a hasty man in the ordinary affairs of life, and only upset now by the unforseen annoyances of an unusually disquieting mission, realized that he was losing caste. It was a novel experience to be rebuked by a chauffeur, but he had the sense to swallow the wrath.

"Perhaps I ought to explain that I am particularly anxious to see Lord Medenham," he said more calmly. "I left London at eight o'clock this morning, and it is most irritating to have missed him by a few minutes. I only wish to be assured as to his whereabouts, and, of course, I have no reason to believe that any sort of responsibility for my son's movements rests with you."

"That's all right, my lord," said Simmonds. "Viscount Medenham was very kind to me last Wednesday. I had a first-rate job, and was on my way to the Savoy Hotel to take it up, when a van ran into me an' smashed the transmission shaft. His lordship met me in Down Street an' offered to run my two ladies to Epsom an' along the south coast for a day or two while I repaired damages. I was to turn up here—an' here I am—but it suited his arrangements better to go on with the tour, an' that is all there is to it. A bit of a joke, I call it."

"Yes, my lord, that's hit hexactly," put in Dale, with a nervous eagerness that demanded the help of not less than two aspirates.

The Earl managed to restrain another outburst.

"Nothing to cavil at so far," he said with forced composure. "The only point that remains is—where is Lord Medenham now?"

"Somewhere between here an' Gloucester, my lord," said Simmonds.

"Gloucester—that is not on the way to London!"

No reply; neither man was willing to bell the cat. Finding Simmonds a tough customer, Fairholme tackled Dale.

"Come, come, this is rather absurd," he cried. "Fancy my son's chauffeur jibbing at my questions! Once and for all, Dale, where shall I find Lord Medenham to-night?"

There was no escape now. Dale had to blurt out the fatal word:

"Hereford!"

"Are you sure?"

"Yes, my lord. I'm goin' there with his lordship's portmanteaux."

The head of the Fitzroy clan turned to Simmonds again.

"Will you drive me to Gloucester?" he asked.

"No, my lord. I'm under contract to remain in Bristol five days."

"Very well. Stop in Bristol, and be d—d to you. Is there any reason why you should not take me to pick up my son's belongings? Then Dale I can go to Hereford by train. Viscount Medenham is devilish particular about his linen. If I stick to his shirts I shall meet him sometime to-day, I suppose."

Simmonds sought Dale's counsel by an underlook, but that hapless sportsman could offer no suggestion, so the other made the best of a bad business.

"I'll do that, of course, my lord," he said with alacrity. "Just grab his lordship's dressing-case from that porter and shove it inside," he went on, eyeing Dale fiercely, well knowing that the whole collapse arose from a cause but too easily traced.

"No, no," broke in the Earl, whose magisterial experiences had taught him the wisdom of keeping witnesses apart, "Dale comes with me. I want to sift this business thoroughly. Put the case in front. We can pile the other luggage on top of it. Now, Dale, jump inside. Your friend knows where to go, I expect."

Thus did two bizarre elements intrude themselves into the natural of things on that fine morning in the West of England. The very shortness of the road between Bristol and Bath apparently offered an insuperable obstacle to the passage of Simmond's car along it, and some unknown "chap," whose "nevvy" had married the sister of a Beckhampton housemaid, became the predominating factor in a situation that effected the fortunes of several notable people.

For his part, Lord Fairholme gave no further thought to Marigny. It did not even occur to him it might be advisable to call again at the College Green Hotel, since Medenham had slept elsewhere, and Hereford was now the goal. Certainly, the Frenchman's good fairy might have pushed her good offices to excess by permitting him to see, careering about Bristol with a pair of chauffeurs, the man whom he believed to be then on the way to London. But fairies are unreliable creatures, apt to be off with a hop, skip, and a jump, and, in any case, Marigny was writing explicit instructions to Devar, though he would have been far more profitably empdoyed in lounging outside the hotel.

GOOD AS A DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE

Baby's Own Tabets are as good as a doctor in the house. They never fail to relieve the little one from stomach and bowel troubles, to expel worms, making teething easy and promote healthful sleep. Concerning them Mrs. J. H. Turner, Glenora, Ont., says: "I always recommend Baby's Own Tablets to my friends. I have used them for a long time and find them without an equal. They relieved baby of the feverishness and restlessness while cutting teeth and have made her one of the most healthy babies there is. I always keep them in the house and consider them as good as a doctor." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Saved by Monkey.

The family arms of the Duke of Leinster show two hideous-looking monkeys as supporters, and thereby hangs a tale. This is to the effect that a fire broke out in the Castle of Woodstock, near Athy, where the first Earl of Kildare was being nursed in his infancy. The servants rushed to save themselves, forgetting the child, but a large monkey which was kept in the castle broke its chain, snatched the child from its cradle, and, ascending the battlements, found a way to safety. This story is also narrated of the ancestor of the Desmond family, but there is nothing in their armonial bearings to confirm the claim.

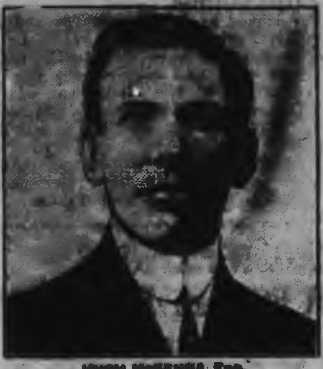
FEARED HE HAD CONSUMPTION

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Him



HUGH McKENNA, Esq.

ST. STEPHEN, N.B. Jan. 17th. 1911.

"I wish to tell you of the great good "Fruit-a-tives" have done for me. For years, I was a martyr to Chronic Constipation and Stomach Trouble. I was greatly run down and my friends feared I had Consumption. I tried numerous doctors and all kinds of medicines, but received no relief until advised to try "Fruit-a-tives" by Mr. McCready of St. Stephen, and am pleased to say that I now enjoy excellent health. "Fruit-a-tives" are the best medicine made, and I strongly advise my friends to use them".

HUGH McKENNA.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine that will positively and completely cure Constipation. This wonderful compound of fruit juices acts directly on the liver, causing this organ to extract more bile from the blood, and to give up more bile to move the bowels regularly and naturally.

GLASS BOTTLES.

Labor and Care It Takes to Make Even the Cheapest Kind.

While the oldest bottles known were of skin, glass bottles containing wine are represented on Egyptian monuments dating back 4,000 years. Bottles of porcelain, alabaster, gold, silver and bronze were made as early as the time of the Pharaoh of the Exodus. Their elegant design and superior workmanship furnish evidence that even at that period the art of bottle-making was by no means in its infancy.

The early history of the bottle is, as a matter of fact, somewhat shrouded in mystery, for the reason doubtless that the true bottle has never been a thing of great beauty except in rare instances, but rather a humble vessel of no particular intrinsic value.

In these days glass bottles are turned out in enormous quantities. They are of all sorts, sizes and descriptions. In the manufacture of the ordinary glass bottle of commerce sand, soap boilers' waste, brick clay or other material, according to locality, is used.

When run down into a molten mass the product is skimmed and the first operator, known as the "gatherer," takes a little of the glass on the end of a heated pipe. When this has cooled somewhat he again dips his pipe into the glass, having "gathered" in the two dips sufficient material whereof to make a bottle. This he hands to the "blower," who, as he blows through the tube, rolls the product on a stone, thereby fashioning the bottle neck. The roughly shaped mass is then placed in a mold and the operator continues to blow until he has brought it to the required form.

The bottle is now passed to the finisher, who, by touching the neck with a small bit of iron dipped in water, completely severs it from the pipe. He attaches the pontee, an iron instrument tipped with molten glass, to the bottom of the bottle, thus giving it the usual rounded shape. The next step is to warm the bottle at the furnace. The finisher takes a small quantity of the product on what is known as a ring iron and, turning it around the mouth, forms the ring seen at the top of the neck. He trims the neck with shears. In the centre of one blade of the shears is a piece of brass tapered like a cork which forms the inner mouth, while the other blade has a piece of brass fastened to it for the purpose of shaping the ring. An assistant lifts the completed bottle on a fork and it is then taken to the annealing arch, which contains about ten or twelve gross of bottles placed in bins one above the other.

The above processes are those employed in the making of even the cheapest and most ordinary bottles. It may be imagined with what care and labor the workers operate to produce the bottles of the finest grade.

A Surprised Ventriloquist.

"The biggest surprise I ever got in my business," said a ventriloquist, "was in England when playing at a little theater in the outskirts of London.

"When I came on the stage I threw my voice up in the rafters and inquired 'What are you doing up there?' To my surprise a small voice answered, 'I came here to see the people and hear the music.' 'Very well,' said I; 'stay there and don't let any one see you.'"

Then I bowed to the audience amid thunderous applause.—Columbus Dispatch.

He Would Indeed.

"What's this word, pa?" asked Willie, pointing it out in his book.

"Phenomenon," replied pa.

"Well, what is that?"

"That, my son, is exactly what you would be if you never disturbed your father with questions."—Catholic Standard and Times.

ANIMAL SUPERSTITIONS.

Chief Among Them In Japan Is the Fear of the Fox.

Chief among Japanese animal superstitions is the fear of the fox, which is believed to have supernatural power. Shrines called "Inari Jinsha," in which the fox is enshrined as a deity, are numberless. The name of the deity written in Chinese characters signifies fox, and from this it came to be generally accepted that the god was really a fox. Its natural cunning is greatly enlarged upon, and it is believed to be capable of misleading and deceiving human beings, which causes many to pray to placate the fox god.

The badger is the next most dreaded animal in the superstitious mind. It is believed to have power to annoy people, its particular habit being a transformation into a Buddhist priest, in which disguise it is guilty of various deceptions and impositions. The crying of weasels and the baying of dogs are considered evil omens, and such insignificant happenings send a shudder over the believers.

On the other hand, a light colored mouse in the house is a sign of happiness, good omens are presaged by what are considered the pleasant cries of crows in the morning, while the so called unpleasant notes forecast death and other dire disasters. If a spider falls from the ceiling in the morning he brings pleasure, but if at night it is thought reverses will follow. To see a centipede at night means happiness.—Pearson's Weekly.

Pieces of Eight and Doubloons.

The pieces of eight and the doubloon are indissolubly united with the traditions of the Spanish main and the old buccaneers. Pieces of eight were more properly called piasters—from the Greek and Latin, emplastron, "a plaster;" in the Romance languages, "anything spread out or flat, as a plate, a coin." The piece was silver and worth about $1. Being divided into eight silver reals, it was termed a piece of eight.

Doubloons were gold pieces, originally double the value of a pistole, and formerly coined in Spain and Spanish America. The name is derived from the Spanish doblon, "double." Prior to 1848 the doubloon was worth $15.75. The doblon de Isabel, coined in that year, was until 1868 equivalent only to $4.96.

Grocers Who Dressed In Colors.

In the early part of the fifteenth century it is recorded that the "grocers' guild appeared in livery of scarlet and green." A few years later scarlet and black were adopted. Funeral services of deceased members "were attended with much show of pageantry." At the burial of Sir Philip Sidney, who was a member of the grocers' guild, his worship the mayor, aldermen and other civic officials were present, "ryding in purple."—London Telegraph.

HAVE YOU A SKIN RASH?

Zam-Buk Will End It.

For skin rashes, eruptions, eczema, etc., either in adults or children, there is nothing known to science which equals Zam-Buk in the quickness and certainty of its curative power. Mr. Raymond Webber, of Allanburg, Ont., writes: "I have tried Zam-Buk for many ailments, and every time have found it successful. Some time ago I had a bad rash all over my body. I tried home-made salves, herb salves, and various home-made preparations, and these proved of no use, but when I tried Zam-Buk I was cured in a quarter of the time that I had been experimenting in vain with other preparations.

"On another occasion I had one of my fingers crushed, and in that case also Zam-Buk was the only remedy I used. It healed the wound splendidly.

"My boy had boils, and once again Zam-Buk brought about a complete cure. We have also used it as a household balm, for the injuries and skin diseases which are common to every person, and can say that in our experience there is nothing to equal Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk owes its unique healing power to certain herbal extracts it contains. Unlike most ointments it contains no poisonous coloring matter, no animal fat, but is purely herbal. For eczema, piles, blood poison, abscesses, ulcers, cuts, burns, and all skin injuries and diseases it is without equal and should be in every home. 50c. box, all druggists and stores. Use also Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

CONCERNING YOUR EYES

Good eyesight is essential to health comfort and appearance. Have you ever noticed a strained look on your face, or your friend's? Usually this comes from eyestrain. More wrinkles are caused by eyestrain than by age. Thousands unconsciously squint in an effort to adapt the eyes to the surroundings. Success in relieving eyestrain depends entirely upon the OPTICAL SKILL of the Specialist who prescribes the glasses. Neglect of the eyes many times leads to surgical operations, which glasses worn in time may prevent. We correct errors of vision by means of properly fitted lenses.

We have every modern appliance for accurate eyesight testing, and we grind all our own lenses. Thus assuring you accuracy and promptness. All work guaranteed.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR NEW BRIDGES IN THE COUNTY

At a meeting of the County Council Committee to open Tenders for the steel structure of several bridges, there were present, yesterday, Messrs. Porter, Howden Wilde, Breault, Shaw and Garoutt, with Mr. Garbutt in the chair.

The totals of tenders per statement as attached, were:

Sarnia Bridge Co.	$6550 00
Ontario Bridge Co.	6345 00
Hamilton Bridge Co.	6200 00
Tully, F.	5976 00
Dickson Bridge Co.	5850 00

Moved by Mr. Porter, seconded by Mr. Shaw, that the Dickson Bridge Co., be awarded the contracts for the steelwork of the following bridges:

Keene Station	$2400 00
Warde's	600 00
Massasauga	650 00

And that the Solicitor be authorized to have contracts executed for the same, consistent with the specifications.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Howden, seconded by Mr. Porter, that Mr. Wilde be authorized to have Burnt Mill Bridge recovered and repaired to the satisfaction of the chairman of the Roads and Bridges and Warden.

Moved by Mr. Breault, seconded by Mr. Howden, that the Warden and chairman of the Roads and Bridges be authorized to have the Nassau Bridge made safe for traffic.

PASSENGER OF AFTERNOON EXPRESS WILL NOT SOON FORGET HIS MISHAP

Those who awaited the C. P. R. afternoon express from the west yesterday witnessed the miraculous escape from serious if not fatal injury of a passenger who endeavored to jump from the train as it rushed into the station. He was evidently a traveller and wished to transact some business at the ticket office. He retained his hold on the support on the outside of the coach and it is well he did as his feet slipped on the wet platform and then fell to the narrow space which separates the rail and the platform. He managed to raise his feet again to the platform and in this way he was bumped along till the train came to a stop.

Had he lost his hold on the support, the man would undoubtedly been ground to death by the wheels of the train.

CHILDREN'S CARNIVAL A SPECIAL SUCCESS

Friday night was a gala night for the little ones at the Conservatory Music Hall, not only for the children, but for the parents as well, who were present as interested spectators, in addition to the audience in general, attracted by the novel character of the entertainment.

The children's festival implied that the program was sustained by the little ones, wholly. For months they have been in training by Mrs. Gliddon and the Conservatory staff, and the results spoke praise for the care and preparation. While children learn rapidly and are all quick to act a part, it is no easy task to control the restlessness and tendency to have attention distracted from the matter in hand.

The program was an ample one of twenty numbers. Both in the concerted numbers and in the individual selections there was ample opportunity to bring out the aptitude and best of the several children. One may excel on one instrument while another displays almost precocious facility with another. From the performance of the little ones some idea may be gained of the bent and purpose of the household in which the child is being reared, and if encouragement is being given to the pupil to develop such musical talent as shown to possess.

Entertainments in which children are the leading performers always please. Nearly every juvenile effort is appreciated and encouraged. This is quite right. The little ones came and gave of their best to please the audience, and the audience said it was pleased, and showed it.

The entertainment opened with all of the one hundred and fifty little tots on the stage. The picture was a very charming one, with the little girls in their white dresses arranged in tiers in front of the boys in their darker clothes. Children from six to fourteen years of age remained on the stage the whole evening, and their conduct throughout the whole of the program was delightful. The picturesqueness and beauty of the scene with all the tiny ones on the platform was as entertaining as the most pleasing items on the program.

In all of their numbers, including the choruses and orchestra selections, the result of long and attentive periods of training was displayed. The numbers were unannounced, but without the slightest confusion they carried out the whole performance, and in their drills and gestures in the funnier numbers they received the heartiest applause.

The opening chorus was "Hail Canada," and in this, the very first selection, the sweetness and accurateness of the reproduction was surprisingly delightful. The tiny tots sang with a precision that would do credit to choristers far older, and more practiced than they. The humorous choruses, "Maid from Algoma," "Dizzy Daddy," were greatly appreciated, and the novelty of the finale, "Strike the Gong," was pleasing.

The orchestra of young people in its selections was heartily received. There were a dozen or more instruments comprising it, and each time the musicians came forward to play they elicited the heartiest applause from the listeners.

Carlos Greene's rendering of his violin solo was very clever, and Misses Ted Cheverill, Geraldine Delaire and Master Arthur Johnston appeared in nicely given vocal solos. Masters Paul and Otto Gliddon rendered a cornet and clarionette solo in a pleasing manner.

A patriotic recitation, "Our Own Land," by Miss Hazel Davidson, and the "Butterfly Song and Chorus," in which Prudence Long was daintily costumed as a butterfly, were charming numbers.

Two of the most attractive items on the program were "Mother Goose and Her Children," and the "Teddy Bear Frolic." In the former there appeared Jack and Jill, Jack Horner, Marjorie Daw, Jack Spratt and wife, Peter, the Pumpkin Eater, and Humpty-Dumpty, all appropriately costumed. When all of the "Mother Goose" children arrived, they went through an interesting drill.

Miss Coventry's Teddy Bears were dressed to represent their characters, and in their frolics, dances and choruses they were encored by the audience.

The piano solo by Isabel Baird, and the cello solo by Elexis Spellman were well rendered.

Miss Dean and Miss Choate, the accompanists for the evening, and who with Mr. Gliddon trained the children for last night's event, are certainly to be complimented on the result of their efforts.

The performance is being repeated this afternoon.

Those in charge desire to thank Mr. R. Neill, who loaned the big shoe, and R. Hall and Sons, and others who supplied decorations.

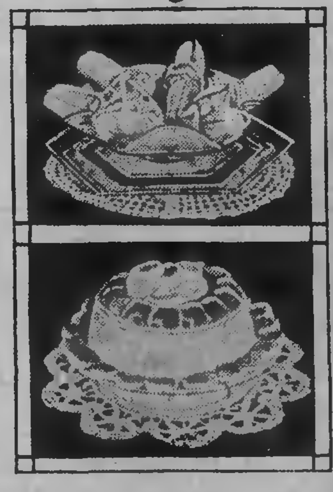
DUKE'S MILITARY SECRETARY HEIR TO BIG FORTUNE

Ottawa, May 17 — Lieut-Col. Lowther, Military secretary to His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, has inherited $300,000 through the death of his father, the Hon. William Lowther. An estate valued at nearly $2,600,000 was left, and of this $425,000 was left to his son, the Speaker of the British House of Commons, and $370,000 to Lieut-Col. Lowther, now at Rideau Hall, Ottawa.

FRUIT DESSERTS.

Some Delicious Ways of Serving Ripe Bananas.

Bananas en Surprise.—A quart of cream or custard, half a pound of sugar, three-quarters of a pint of banana pulp, the yellow rind of a lemon, strained juice of half a lemon and salpicon of candied cherries and pineapple. Scald the cream with the lemon rind and sugar, strain, let it cool and partially freeze, then add the banana pulp mixed with the sirup and lemon juice and finish freezing. Have ready chilled, fresh looking banana skins, injured as little as possible in removing the pulp; fill these with the frozen mixture, putting a tablespoonful of the salpicon in the center of each. Press the strip of skin back in place and put in freezer buried in equal parts of ice and salt for an hour and a quarter. For the salpicon cut the fruit in very small dice, mix with a little thick sirup flavored to taste. When serving tie each banana with a bow of narrow ribbon.



BANANAS EN SURPRISE AND BANANA CREAM

Banana Cream.—Four bananas, three-quarters of an ounce of powdered gelatin, three ounces of sugar, three-quarters of a pint of milk, half a pint of whipped cream, strained juice of a lemon, a tablespoonful of brandy and sliced bananas and whipped cream for garnishing. Skin the four bananas and rub them through a fine sieve. Dissolve the gelatin in the milk, add the sugar, banana pulp and lemon juice. Allow it to cool a little and stir in the whipped cream and the brandy. As soon as it begins to set pour the mixture into a ring mold previously rinsed in cold water. Unmold, fill the center with the whipped cream, and decorate with the sliced bananas.

Banana Charlotte Russe. — Press through a sieve enough banana pulp to make a cupful, add a quarter of a cupful of powdered sugar and two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice. Beat until very light, then fold in a half pint of whipped cream. Have ready some sherbet cups lined with sponge or delicate cake, fill with the prepared cream and chill before serving.

The Popular Pot Roast.

Many persons object to the mixture of vegetables that go into the ordinary pot roast, but these are in no way necessary. Select for a pot roast a thick piece of round and brown it thoroughly in its own fat until the entire surface is seared and rich in color. Then cover it with a cupful of hot water and cook it very slowly on the back of the stove below the boiling point until it is done tender, turning in a little water now and then when it is needed to keep the meat from actually sticking to the kettle and burning. The kettle should be kept covered tight to keep in the steam. The meat should not be cooked until it falls into pieces, but it should be just tender enough to hold its own when it is cut. The last of the roast will make a delicious ragout. And a tasty hot supper dish may be made by cutting the meat into slices of medium thickness and frying them in butter. Such a roast is fit to set before a king, provided that particular king has not made up his mind never under any circumstances to eat beef of any kind that does not run red juices. When the pot roast is done take out the meat, turn in a little hot water and thicken with a tablespoonful each of butter and flour, seasoning with salt and pepper and a little kitchen bouquet if it is wanted.

THREE YEARS OF MISERY

Mrs. Burnside Escaped an Operation by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mahoningtown, Pa.—"For three years I suffered untold misery every month, and had to stay in bed the first two or three days. I also had a displacement and other ailments peculiar to women. I became so weak and run down I could scarcely walk across the floor.

"The doctor told me I would never be well unless I would undergo an operation, but I was advised by my mother to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after I had taken four bottles I am strong and well. I have got others to take your medicine with the same good results and they cannot say enough for it."—Mrs. J. A. BURNSIDE, Mahoningtown, Pa.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

PLENTY OF POTATOES

The market this morning was a large one, there seeming to be a larger supply of produce than there was demand, both on the square and inside the market buildings. There were bag upon bags of potatoes for sale going at $2.00 and $2.25 a bag. Except for rhubarb potatoes were practically the only article offered on the square. Butter, eggs and chickens were plentiful and the demand was good but not very large.

To-day's prices were—
Eggs, per doz.—21, 22, 23 cents.
Butter, per pound—28 and 29 cents.
Potatoes, per bag—$2.00 and $2.25.
Rhubarb, per bunch—5c.
Chickens, per pair—$1.20 to $1.50

JEANNE TOWLER 'THE WHITE SISTER'

Plays dramatized from popular novels seldom achieve any great or lasting success, chiefly from the reason that there is usually so much incident of interest in the book that cannot possibly be compressed in a play. A notable exception to this fact is Viola Allen's greatest success "The White Sister" which the fascinating actress Jeanne Towler supported by a capable company will present at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday, May 22nd. This dramatization was taken from F. Marion Crawford's novel of the same name and nothing has been lost in its transfer to the stage. The dramatists have adhered closely to the story, grasped the atmosphere of the Italian locality and retained all the essential points of the romance with wonderful verity. "The White Sister" has a strong appeal to all Catholics and at the same time can be thoroughly enjoyed by all creeds. It is a romance pure and simple, revealing powerful conflicting emotions of the soul and body and thereby offering remarkable opportunity for acting of the highest and most interesting quality. The same attention to detail in the point of scenery, music and effects will be shown in the forthcoming production as was given in the original by Liebler & Co.

MOCK TRIAL BY BIBLE CLASS

Young Men of St. Andrew's as Legal Lights

The Utopia Bible class of young men of St. Andrew's church provided a very enjoyable evening of fun to a large crowd in the Sunday school room last evening, the chief source of merriment being a mock trial, in which the various characters were most ably essayed. The origin of the trial was an action brought by Widow Smith (James Robinson) against her husband, Widower Smith (George Reid.)

Grant Mowat, while young for a judge, filled down the authoritative chair to perfection. Mr. Norman Laing was court officer, while the opposing lawyers for counsel and defence were Messrs. E. Langford and Norman Brand. The jurymen and the witnesses were members of the class, and performed their parts in quite professional manner.

Interspersed in the trial, by way of variation, several coon songs were introduced, and Mr. H. C. Treneer supplied a piano selection. Indeed, the trial was devoid of any painful reflections on the part of the principles, and everything glided along quite smoothly.

A clever manipulation of the lantern at the rear of the school room gave the effect of a foot light for the platform on which the trial was staged. The Utopia Bible class deserve great credit for the able manner in which they carried out the entire affair.

DRIVING OPERATIONS IN THE BACK LAKES

The progress made this season by the lumbering men in bringing the drives down from the back lakes, is if anything more advanced than at this period last year. Inquiry was made at the offices of the lumbering companies to-day and the proprietors were highly pleased with this seasons operations so far. Mr. George Lenton of the Peterborough Lumber Company stated that the progress this year up to the present was three weeks ahead of what it was last year The high water in the back lakes this year favored their men in bringing down the drives as far as they are at present. They have four drives at present in Eels Creek, which will shortly be out into Stony Lake.

There is plenty of water and the current is good.

The McDonald Estate Company report very fair progress with their drives. With them, operations are about the same stage this year as last. They have logs in Silver, Compass, Cox, and Long Lakes, coming out into Deer Bay. Their out this year is about the same as last.

LOCAL PLUMBING CONTRACTOR FINDING SOME OF THE PLUMS

Something large in the way of contracts for installing plumbing fixtures, has been practically completed by Mr. R. G. Sturgeon, the Charlotte street plumber. The Bowmanville Realty Company wanted forty houses fitted out with up-to-date plumbing apparatus and the contract was awarded to Mr. Sturgeon, which he has about finished to the complete satisfaction of the owners.

Another large contract has been secured by Mr. Sturgeon in Bowmanville, that town having decided to build a sedimentation tank in the western part of the place. The contract is a big one and means a feather in the cap of Mr. Sturgeon if carried out satisfactorily. Operations have been commenced on the work but they had to be abandoned temporarily owing to an over-flow of surface water. Mr. Sturgeon leaves for Bowmanville again on Monday to resume work there if conditions are favorable.

THE COMING OF THE HEROES

A few more days to come around, a few more days to plant the ground, and then we'll hear the welcome sound that calls us to the baseball mound; to see the Caps in glory crowned; all other outfits must be browned. We surely will the teams astound as they in sad defeat are downed; the fair young fans in beauty gowned, will be on hand each nine to hound. The ball lot that we feared was drowned, once more has come to light. t'is found, and henceforth they who raved and frowned, can get their tickets punched east bound. The Berlin champs with fame renowned, with pitchers that we'll bat and pound no matter how they may be wound, will come and go toot-toot, farewell.

BREEZES FROM THE DIAMOND

The new pitching mound at Riverside Park will be raised seven inches.

Baseball is beginning to boom in the West End. Two teams have been organized, the White sox and the Cubs. Clare Callahan does the twirling for the White Sox and Billy King for the Cubs. Bill is developing into some ball player, and will be heard from later. Callahan is well known having played in the City League, two years ago, for the West Ends.

Louie Cook, the manager of the Ottawa Club, made the only error of the game, when the Capitals beat St. Thomas. Berlin was to open at Ottawa yesterday, but rain prevented.

Ty Cobb, the advertising medium for the Tigers has been suspended for his fistic encounter with a fan.

Frank Dolan has yet to enter the hitting column, but he has accepted 21 chances without a slip.

Schwarts in left garden, has hit safely three times, two of his efforts being two baggers. He has scored twice.

Baver with three times at bat, wafted twice and scored a run which is pretty good doings for a heaver.

The new stand at Riverside Park is nearly completed. Over half the roof is finished and what remains to be done to the remainder, can be finished in about half a day. There will be seven rows of seats and those directly behind home plate for the space of three pillars will be used as the reserves. The players box for the home team will be built along the left of the grandstand. The situation for the visiting team's box has not yet been decided upon. The grounds are in fair condition.

To increase the attendance at the ball games played in the Guthrie Park of the Oklahoma State League, a unique scheme has been devised, and hereafter instructors in baseball will be present. They will explain to anyone not understanding the game all of its fine points. The plan, it is believed, will materially increase the attendance of women at the games. The instructors to be employed will include both men and women.

Mike Donlin changes his clothes three times a day, and gives as his excuse that it serves as a charm to deliver that number of base hits. Hans Wagner wears the same togs all day, but he makes base hits just the same.

BRANTFORD CLUB RELEASES THREE

St. Thomas Strengthening For Trip on the Road.

Brantford, May 18.—Manager Kane, of the Brantford team, has released Outfielder Conley, Second Baseman Russani, and Pitcher Bickford, as their work did not reach the required standard. Until Infielder Alder arrives June 1st, Pitcher Coox will be used at second base, and Hart will get Conley's place in the outfield.

St. Thomas, Ont., May 17.—Eddie Wright, last year's third sacker, came to terms with the local management to-day and will cover third base in the game at London to-morrow. Manager Stewart has signed up a pitcher named Clements, from Quincy, Illinois. He is a big, right-handed twirler, and has pitched in the South Michigan and the Three-I-State League. He will report Sunday, and accompany the team on their trip to Peterborough and Ottawa.

How and Why It Rains.

Rain is an accumulation of the tiny particles of the vapor of the atmosphere into drops. These drops, first small of size, attract others of their kind and become drops of such magnitude that they fall to the earth because of their weight. There is a limit to the quantity of water which the air is capable of absorbing and retaining as invisible vapor. Warm air is able to hold more than cold air; hence when the air which is saturated with moisture becomes cold for any reason whatever it can no longer retain its moisture. A portion must under such condition accumulate into drops. These fall to the earth in the shape of rain.

BACK TO A FLAT.

President Fallieres Becomes an Ordinary Citizen Soon.

M. Fallieres will retire from the Presidency of the republic in less than a twelvemonth, that is to say, at the expiration of his seven years of office, and he has already made his plans with regard to the future.

Life at the Elysee has not had the effect of attracting him more to the right bank of the river than it did M. Loubet, who, like him, had a long innings as President of the Senate before he attained the highest rank that the nation could confer.

M. Loubet, on his departure from the palace in the Faubourg Saint Honore, settled in a flat at No. 5 Rue Dante, a new house, with all modern comforts, not far from Notre Dame, and M. Fallieres has decided on installing himself in an apartment of a house that he owns on the Boulevard Saint Germain, also situated on the "rive gauche."

"It is quite a central position," as he has explained to intimate friends. "I shall have the Metropolitan Railway and every means of communication at my very door, and I shall be within easy access of the Chamber and the Senate." Republican simplicity will, in fact, be the rule with him as with his predecessor.

"The flat which M. Fallieres is reserving for himself consists of a salon, a dining-room, a study and three bed chambers—just the ordinary suite—and he will content himself with a housemaid, as he seems to be as adverse to having a man to wait on him as was Victor Hugo, who could never tolerate a butler or a valet. M. Fallieres, as may be added, has taken a very wise precaution.

Since noisy neighbors are the chief drawback to a Paris flat, he has made the tenants who occupy the apartments immediately above and below the one which he has selected for himself promise in their leases that they will not keep any animals or play the piano from morning till night, or for that matter, from night to morning.

It is wonderful how men like M. Fallieres and M. Loubet can adapt themselves to such a change in their positions. To exchange a palace for a quiet flat and to be as happy in the new life as one has been in the old denotes a strength and a simplicity of character which are really admirable.

Since he left the Elysee M. Loubet has found a field of useful activity without obtruding himself in the slightest degree, and so, no doubt, will it be with M. Fallieres. When he was President of the Senate M. Loubet was fond of taking a morning ride in an omnibus, and since his removal to the Rue Dante one often meets him enjoying a constitutional on the quays.

When he was President of the republic he went almost daily to the Bois, driving a pair of fine black horses, and now he is satisfied with more homely means of locomotion. M. Fallieres already talks of patronizing the "Nord-Sud" Railway, and hints at the modest auto-bus. Yet they both must have derived some well deserved material profit from their sojourns at the Luxembourg and the Elysee, and, moreover, they are both landowners, each in his native district.

In these days of luxury and show such simplicity sets an example which might well be followed, when all is said and done, the average Frenchman is not given to ostentation, and a man is still more considered for what he is than for what he possesses. As with Presidents, so it is with Ministers, many of whom return to their practices at the Bar or to literary pursuits as if they had never held the fate of the country in their hands, their own desire being to be allowed to pursue their former avocations in peace and to be spared all intrusion from interviewers.

Cautious.

"Did the burglars overlook anything of value?" inquired the reporter.

"I'd rather not say anything about that," answered the man whose house had been robbed.

"Why so?"

"Because they'll be watching the papers for a day or two, I think, to find out."

Further Inquiry.

"What makes that red spot on your nose?" one man in Le Roy asked another last week.

"Glasses," was the reply.

Then came the important question, "Glasses of what?"

OBITUARY

Mrs. Martin Neary

The death occurred this morning early, of Margaret McDonough, wife of Mr. Martin Neary, at her late residence, 27 Aylmer street.

The deceased lady was born in Ireland and when only a young girl she came to this city and has lived here practically all her life.

She is survived by her husband and seven children, James, Frank, Mary, Maggie, Martin, Dolly and Patrick, all residing at home.

The funeral will take place on Monday morning at nine o'clock from the family residence, 27 Aylmer street to Sacred Heart church, and thence to St. Peter's Cemetery.

A LONG CENTURY OF PEACE

The Review has received an invitation to attend a meeting of representative Canadians to be held at Ottawa on Tuesday, June 4th, the object of which gathering is to form an association to celebrate the years of peace that have so long existed between the United States and Canada. The treaty of Ghent, which ended the war of 1812-14, was signed on Christmas Eve, of the latter year, and the proposition is to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of that event. The United States has appointed a National Committee and in England a similar association has been formed with the former Governor General Lord Grey, as chairman.

All patriotic Canadians are requested to take an interest in the celebration of an event of such historic importance. The Committee haivng the matter in charge at Ottawa include the following well known citizens:—Messrs. Geo. A. CCox, R. Dandurand, L. A. Jette, A. Lacoste, Wm. Mackenzie, W. R. Meredith, Wm. Mulock, T. G. Shaughnessy, B. E. Walker.

JUDGE HARDING BACK IN LINDSAY

Lindsay Warder:—Judge Harding returned Thursday from his trip to Europe, Italy being the chief country visited. He was absent in all two months and twelve days, and to a reporter this morning he stated that he never experienced a more delightful or beneficial trip. The weather conditions were ideal and the trip was enjoyed from the time he embarked until he disembarked. During his sojourn in Sunny Italy Judge Harding visited a large number of the larger cities, including Rome and Genoa, and while entering one of the spacious dining rooms of one of the large hotels in Genoa, he was greatly, as well as very agreeably surprised to meet two Lindsay ladies, who are also touring Italy at the present time, namely, Mrs. (Judge) MacMillan and Mrs. G. H. Hopkins.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CORONER'S JURY HEARD RICHARD THORNBECK'S STORY OF DROWNING AFFAIR

Peters Was in Stern of Boat and Witness Thought He May Have Been Seized With Weak Spell, Thus Causing Canoe to Upset—Inquest Adjourned to June 6.

The inquest ordered by the Crown into the circumstances connected with the drowning of James Peters, assistant fishery inspector elicited a big budget of evidence last evening. The Council Chamber was fairly well filled with a curious throng, while a large number of witnesses were on hand.

Crown Attorney Wood conducted the examination of the witnesses.

Richard Thornbeck, the party who was with Peters in the canoe at the time of the accident, was the first witness called.

Mr. Wood endeavored to have witness tell his story of the affair as plainly as possible.

He stated that he was a trapper on the river and on the day of the accident he went down to the camp where Peters was staying. They got into a canoe and paddled down to Baxter's Creek, about a mile below the camp. They then paddled up the creek, looking for some traps and to see if anybody was up there fishing. Peters was in the stern and witness in the bow.

Crown—What happened to you?

Witness—We upset.

Crown—Can you tell what upset you?

Witness—No.

Crown—How far were you from shore?

Witness—About twenty feet.

Crown—What did you do?

Witness—I got upon the canoe, which was upside down.

Crown—Where was Peters?

Witness—About three feet away.

Crown—What did he do?

Witness—He struck off from me down stream.

Crown—Where was your paddle?

Witness—I dropped it out of my hand.

Crown—Did Peters speak to you?

Witness—Yes, Sir.

Crown—What did he say?

Witness—He told me to hang on.

Crown—Did you show any person the place where you upset?

Witness—Yes; I showed John Benar, a neighbor, who went back to the place with me next morning.

Crown—What did you go for?

Witness—To get Mr. Peters' boat.

Witness contradicted himself several times and appeared to be unable to recall accurately just what happened at the time of the upset.

When the canoe capsized he said that he pulled himself to shore and climbed up a small tree, and called lustily for assistance. He was up the tree for about two to three hours, and after being there for that time, as it seemed to him, he gave up all hope of being rescued.

The Crown inquired again if witness could advance any reason for the upset.

Witness—He might have taken a spell.

Crown—Was he subject to them?

Witness—He took one last fall.

Crown—Were you and Peters on good terms?

Witness—Yes, Sir.

Crown—Have you always been good friends?

Witness—Yes, Sir.

Crown—There was a dog in the boat I believe?

Witness—Yes, Sir.

Crown—What did the dog do after the upset?

Witness—It swam around and yelped and finally sank.

The witness was asked if there was any liquor in the boat, or if Peters and he had been drinking that day. He replied decidedly that he had not seen any, and that he had not been drinking.

Witness was asked how he got his shoes off. He could not recall clearly whether his rubber shoes had been laced or unlaced at the time, or how he had got rid of them.

To several questions put by jurymen, as to why he did not get into the canoe and paddle out, witness said he was too cold.

The replies of the witness at various times were rather vague.

The next witness called was Mr. Ormond Stewart of Otonabee. The latter told of hearing cries about five o'clock that afternoon, coming from the vicinity of Baxter's Creek. He and his brother, Fred, got into a canoe and paddled up the creek. The cries ceased, but when they got into the creek, witness called out; and was answered by Thornbeck. He was standing in the water up to his waist. They paddled up to him and by steadying their canoe, assisted him into the boat. Witness asked him who he was, and what had happened. Thornbeck replied that he had been upset, and also that Jim Peters had been drowned, indicating a point where deep water lay, a few feet beyond the edge of the bushes. They paddled him down to Bonar's place.

Witness didn't think the tree which Thornbeck claimed that he climbed was scalable except by an active school boy.

He smelled liquor on Thornbeck's breath at the time, and his brother had also smelled it. He was quite satisfied about it. Nothing was said about it at the time, however.

Replying to a question from Jury Foreman Soden as to the condition of Thornbeck when found, witness said that he did not seem at all dazed. Witness did not think it was possible for the current to bring the body in to where it was found. Mr. Latimer came along, as witness and his brother were paddling Thornbeck away. They pointed out to him the place where Thornbeck had told them, Peters had been drowned. He saw the dog next morning. No mention of the dog was made in the first place. The dog was floating just at the edge of the bush. When witness arrived to rescue Thornbeck, the canoe was righted but Thornbeck had no paddle in his hand. He saw a paddle floating farther down. Thornbeck had told witness that he thought they had run into a bush or a snag.

Mr. Fred Stewart was called. He said that Thornbeck had told him and his brother that their canoe must have run onto a snag, and that they had gone over quickly, indicating the manner with his hands. Witness had seen no sign of liquor, but he had detected liquor on Thornbeck's breath. Thornbeck had got into the canoe without help. Witness said that the tree Thornbeck claimed to have clombed up was bare of branches up to a considerable distance.

The next witness was Mr. Latimer, who resides on the river bank near Baxter's creek. About five o'clock witness was told by his wife that she heard calls coming from up the creek. Accompanied by a neighbor named Seabrook, he told of the circumstances leading up to him finding the body.

The body was floating face downward. It had no coat on, and the arms were hanging downwards. The body was not attached to any log, neither was there anything there to support it. He tried to get the body into his canoe, but he could not do it alone. When help came he let them put the body in the canoe. When found Peters' head was pointing out toward the deep water.

George Seabrook was called next. He said he was attracted by calls for help at Baxter's Creek on the afternoon in question. He called out, asking what was the trouble, and a voice replied that there had been an accident, and that a man was under water, and that he was hanging onto a tree. Witness asked if the man in the water had a boat, but had to repeat the question several times before getting a reply. The voice then replied that he had a boat, but that he could not get near it.

John Bonar, who was there when the body was found, said that it lay face downward in the water, the feet on the bottom and the head pointing out to deep water. Witness said the body could not float into the place where it lay.

Witness swore to smelling liquor on Thornbeck's breath when he was taken to his place. Witness said he placed Thornbeck up against a stove, took off his other clothes, and offered him a cup of tea, which Thornbeck refused. Witness said that he told Thornbeck that he should quit drinking. He knew both Peters and Thornbeck to be drinking men.

Mrs. Peters, widow of deceased, was the next witness. She said that Thornbeck came to her place and sat on the back verandah after her husband's appointment to the position of fishery overseer. Thornbeck had said to her: "I hear Jim has got the position of overseer." Witness had said, "Yes, I believe he has."

Thornbeck said:—"Somebody will be giving him a dump in the river yet."

Thornbeck was recalled to the witness box and positively denied ever having made the remark attributed to him by Mrs. Peters.

Thornbeck's attitude when recalled was rather more defiant, and he answered questions much more readily. He again asserted that he never had any liquor on him that day, but had taken some the night before.

Crown—Did you not tell Detective Boyd that you were over at Mrs. Peters' house?

Witness—No, I didn't.

Crown—Did you not state before the Chief of Police and Detectives Boyd and Newhall that you were over at Mrs. Peters' house shortly befor the accident?

Witness—No, I was not there; my wife, however, was over.

Frank Peters was called, son of the deceased. He told of making an examination of the dog's body which had been drowned.

Dr. Eastwood, one of the physicians who performed a post-mortem of James Peters, presented his report. No marks of external violence were discovered. The lungs were distended and in bad condition, exuding bloody matter. The majority of the other organs were normal. The body otherwise was that of a fairly healthy man.

Dr. Eastwood concluded that the cause of death was drowning, basing his conclusion on the condition of the lungs.

Harry Peters, son of deceased, remembered Thornbeck being over at their place about a week after Peters' appointment as fishery inspector. He saw him talking to his mother on that occasion.

John Watt was called. He told of paddling down to Bensfort bridge one day, and found Peters, Thornbeck and Peters' son in the tent. He told him he had news for him. He then told him that he was appointed assistant fishery overseer at $175. Witness then left the tent, and Thornbeck followed him out and reminded him that he wanted an appointment.

This concluded the evidence for the night, but Crown Attorney Wood addressed the jury to the effect that he did not feel satisfied with the evidence. He suggested adjourning the inquest for three weeks until an examination of the stomach was made.

The date of the next inquiry will be June 7th. Adjournment was made about eleven o'clock.

THE ACUTE PAIN FROM NEURALGIA

Permanently Cured Through the Use of Dr. William's Pink Pills

Neuralgia is not a disease— It is only a symptom, but a very painful one. It is the surest sign that your blood is weak, watery and impure, and that your nerves are literally starving. Bad blood is the one cause—good, rich red blood, the only cure. There you have the real reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure neuralgia. They are the only medicine that contains in correct proportions the elements needed to make rich, red blood. This new blood reaches the root of the trouble soothes the jangled nerves, drives away the nagging, stabbing pain and braces up your health in other ways Among the sufferers from neuralgia cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mrs. Chas. Brown, Durham, Ont., who says: "For months I suffered intensely from neuralgia. The pain in my head and face at times was so great as to be almost unbearable. I tried two doctors, and many remedies, without finding a cure as there seemed to be no let-up to the pain. Finally I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I began their use. Soon I found the pains becoming less and after taking the pills for some weeks, the trouble entirely disappeared, and has not since bothered me."

If you are suffering from any blood or nerve trouble, begin to cure yourself to-day with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co, Brockville, Ont.

In the Far North

The Alberta Government is making a great effort for the completion of the road from Edson on the Grand Trunk Pacific to Grande Prairie and Peace River, which has been under construction for the past two years and a very large gang was set to work in the middle of April, north of Edson, in completing the last 40 miles of road for use at all seasons so as to enable heavily loaded transport wagons to make the trip expeditiously and with economy. It is expected that in about two months, wagon loads of two tons will make the trip between these places in six days, the best previous summer record from Edmonton via Lesser Slave Lake, having been about six weeks. All winter from 10 to 15 transport sleighs have been leaving Edson daily for the Peace River country, the road being good for winter travel and these loads have frequently run to 2 1-2 tons.

"I should think some of these speechmakers would get tired of hearing themselves," said the proprietor of the village store.

"Human nature's the same in politics as 'tis anywheres else," replied old Joe Struthers. "A man don't mind listenin' to the worst noise a cornet kin make, provided he's the feller that's doin' the practicin'."

A Sacrifice.

"An' that ungrateful boy of mine," whimpered the man in the prisoner's dock. "After all the sacrifices I've made for him he refuses to pay my fine."

"What sacrifices did you make for him?" asked the attorney.

"What sacrifices? Didn't I let him earn his way through college?"

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the two are lost is the eye brows are thin and scanty, and the lashes are thin and scanty. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will bring beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes on receipt of price, fifty cents B. V. FISHING FOR CROCODILES.

Pointed Bars of Baited Wood Used For Hooking the Reptiles.

Under ordinary circumstances the Dyaks of Borneo ask nothing more of the crocodiles that infest their rivers than to be left alone. Nobody thinks of catching or disturbing any of the creatures until one of them has begun to display a taste for human flesh. Then the professional crocodile catcher is called in, and crocodiles are caught and killed until the discovery of some of the brass arm ornaments, which every Dyak wears, in the stomach of one of the victims shows that the man-eater has at last been caught. E. H. Gomes in The National Geographic Magazine describes the curious way of hooking the great reptiles.

A piece of hard wood ten inches long and an inch or so in diameter is sharpened to a point at both ends. A length of plaited baru bark some eight feet long is tied to a shallow notch in the middle of this piece of wood, and a single rattan forty or fifty feet long is tied to the end of the bark rope, forming a long line.

The most irresistible bait is the carcass of a monkey, although the body of a dog or snake is often used. The more overpowering the stench the better—the crocodile will eat only putrefying flesh. The bait is securely lashed to the pointed bar and one of the ends of the bar is tied with a few turns of cotton thread to the bark rope, bringing bar and rope into the same straight line.

Next the bait is suspended from the bough of a tree overhanging the river. The rattan line is left lying on the ground, one end of it firmly fixed in the soil.

Attracted either by smell or sight, a crocodile raises himself from the water and snaps at the bundle, the slack line making no resistance till the bait is swallowed and the animal begins to swim off. Then the planted end of the lines holds till the thread binding the pointed stick to the bark rope snaps. The stick at once returns to its natural position at right angles to the rope and becomes jammed across the crocodiles' stomach, the two points fixing themselves in the flesh.

A firm pull will soon bring the crocodile to the surface and so on shore, for the pain which every pull at the rope causes constrains him to follow docilely after the drag of the rope.

As soon as he is landed the animal is addressed by the catcher in most eulogistic language, that he may be beguiled into offering no resistance. He is called "a rajah among animals" and told that he has come on a friendly visit and must conduct himself accordingly.

First the creature's jaws are tied up, not a very difficult thing to do. Then the crocodile catcher, still pouring forth compliments upon his prey, tells him he will give him rings for his fingers—and binds the creature's hind legs fast behind his back, so as to deprive him of his grip on the ground and his ability to use his powerful tail. This takes no little courage and skill. Finally the fore legs are tied in the same way, a stout pole is passed under the legs, and Master Crocodile is carried off to the nearest government station, where the bounty is paid.

The moment the crocodile is safely bound the language of flattery and compliment ceases, and the Dyaks begin to howl and jeer at him, deriding him for his stupidity and helplessness.

The Understudy of the Sun

McClary's Sunshine Furnace

WHEN Old Sol swings low and far away he appoints an understudy for the purpose of keeping Jack Frost where he belongs—Outside.

Years ago McClary's "Sunshine" Furnace, by reason of its marvelous heating capacity and the balmy June air it suffused the house with, was specially appointed Understudy to the Sun. That appointment has been confirmed year after year, and—your "Sunshine" Furnace—Jack Frost's Master awaits your orders for the coming winter.

Remember the past winter—the Frost King was very active — He battered us with a three months' siege of snow and ice — Almost conquered the thermometer by chasing the mercury out of sight. But he failed to penetrate thousands of homes, because the Understudy of the Sun — McClary's "Sunshine" Furnace —was on the job in the cellars of these homes.

It's easy to keep Jack Frost at a safe distance with the "Sunshine" Furnace. He may storm and rave outside, but there is no place for him within—because, the Understudy of the Sun has demonstrated its mastery in the home.

The average furnace is a glutton for coal—it literally burns up money. The "Sunshine" Furnace saves money—earns its cost in a very few years because it burns coal sparingly. Call on the McClary agent of your locality and ask him to prove that statement true. If he cannot convince you—show you that the "Sunshine" Furnace will cut your coal bills by a very pleasing margin we don't want your order. That's the fairest way we know of doing business—does it appeal to you?

There are a multitude of reasons why the "Sunshine" Furnace does save fuel—reduce coal bills—reasons that will be printed in the following advertisements. Here is one that should make you call on the McClary agent at once—the "Sunshine" Furnace has four radiating surfaces—surfaces that gather up the heat greedily and diffuse it liberally all over the house.

But—you just call on the McClary agent and ask to be shown. If you do not know him write us at our nearest address and we'll tell you.

You certainly owe it to yourself to find out why McClary's "Sunshine" Furnace is called the "Understudy of the Sun."

The Astonished Husband.

De Wolf Hopper tells a good story about the domestic unhappiness of another actor. The hero of the joke was a man who had married because the woman had much money, although no beauty. Naturally after the wedding ceremony and the acquisition of the bride's financial resources the husband was never very attentive to her.

Another member of the company in which the couple were appearing was, however, far more appreciative of the lady's charms and proceeded to make love to her in an ardent but stealthy manner. The grand finale came one evening when the actor discovered the other man kissing his wife. The fond lover stood petrified with fear and expected to be shot down the next moment.

No such thing happened. The outraged husband only lifted his hands toward the ceiling with a gesture of intense surprise and exclaimed:

"Merciful heavens! And he didn't even have to!"—Popular Magazine.

Coughs, Colds
Bronchitis

If there is an ailment in the throat or chest, it is surely essential that the remedy be conveyed direct to the affected part. It's because the healing vapor of Catarrhozone is breathed into the sore, irritated throat and bronchial tubes, because its balsamic fumes kill the germs and destroy the cause of the trouble. These are the reasons why Catarrhozone never yet failed to cure a genuine case of Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, or Throat Trouble.

The wonderfully soothing vapor of Catarrhozone instantly reaches the furthest recesses of the lungs, produces a healing, curative effect that is impossible with a tablet or liquid, which goes merely to the stomach, and fails entirely to help the throat or lungs.

To permanently cure your winter ills, your coughs, sneezing, and Catarrh, by all means use a tried and proven remedy like Catarrhozone. But beware of the substitutor and imitator. Look for Catarrhozone only. 50c and $1, at all dealers. 10

PRESENCE OF MIND.

Ruse of a Woman Who Was Scared, but Who Kept Her Wits.

The following is a true story of an incident that happened in an English village:

A husband had gone out for the evening and left his wife and child at home. The woman was about to retire for the night when, to her amazement, she perceived the foot of a man beneath the bed. Instead of calling for assistance, as some would have done, she coolly went to the child's cot and sat and sang till the child went to sleep. Two hours then remained before her husband came in. He was surprised to find her waiting up, but when his wife handed him an envelope, saying, "You might run and post this," the cause of her waiting was revealed. Instead of a letter the following was written on the envelope: "A burglar is under our bed. Run; fetch police." The husband returned in a minute with a policeman, and the man was arrested. The burglar when brought up before the magistrate remarked that he had come across a few brave women in his time, but this one must have had a nerve like iron, for she sat there for three solid hours. He had the impression that she didn't know he was there till the policeman pulled him out.—Exchange.

TALK TO YOUR HORSE.

It Will Make the Animal More Intelligent and More Friendly.

Talk to your horse and teach him to obey your voice as well as the reins. This may prove valuable if, as sometimes happens, the lines break or become unbuckled. Besides, the horse likes the sociability of it. He easily learns a dozen or more words, but be careful to use them only for exactly what you mean. For instance, "whoa" means to stop at once and stand perfectly still, "get up" to go straight ahead and at once, "back" to step backward, "easy" or "steady" to slow up.

These words the horse readily learns and takes kindly to. "Walk" means to change at once to a walk, and "all right," spoken in a calm, reassuring tone, means "don't be afraid—that won't hurt you," and it is wonderful to see what a calming effect it has. Speak firmly, but not sharply, to the horses, for they are nervous creatures. Talking to your horse will make him more intelligent and more friendly.—Spirit of the West.

Curious Power of Charcoal.

It has been found that the power of charcoal to absorb gases is vastly increased at very low temperatures, so that it can be employed for exhausting incandescent lamp bulbs and Crookes tubes and also for separating mixed gases. Experiment has shown that at the freezing point of water and at normal atmospheric pressure one gram of charcoal absorbs four cubic centimeters of hydrogen and eighteen cubic centimeters of oxygen, but that at 182 degrees centigrade, the temperature of boiling air, one gram of charcoal absorbs 135 cubic centimeters of hydrogen and 250 cubic centimeters of oxygen. When several gases are mixed the charcoal absorbs some of them much more freely than others, so that by multiplying the operation gases can be separated from mixtures in sufficient quantity for industrial uses.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Clocks With Twenty-four Hour Dials.

Visitors to Belgium will have noticed the twenty-four hour clocks which are to be seen in public places and railways. The same system is in vogue in Italy, and both in Germany and Switzerland there is to be found a considerable number of persons in favor of this new notation. French military authorities also prefer the system, as do two-thirds of the conseils generaux and four-fifths of the chambers of commerce. In view of this opinion M. Augagneur, the minister of posts and telegraphs, has addressed a letter to the prefects announcing that during the summer the 0 to 24 system will be introduced on the main lines of railways and inviting the prefects to take measures to equip the local lines in the same way.

States That Parisian Sage is Best Hair Tonic

"I had a bad case of dandruff. My scalp was full of dandruff and it came out thick and scaly. My hair came out badly; often I nearly cried on account of losing my pretty head of hair.

I heard of PARISIAN SAGE and only had to use two bottles, before the hair stopped coming out, the scalp became clean, and all the dandruff disappeared. The hair became silky and one big reason that I liked PARISIAN SAGE was that it kept the hair smooth, silky, and clean with no traces of stickiness.

I believe this tonic to be the best on the market as there has been no return of dandruff, or hair falling out whatever. I am glad to publicly endorse the use of PARISIAN SAGE. I have often endorsed its use and am glad to do it." 33 E. Bond Street, Corry, Pa.

LABOUCHERE'S COPY.

After It Was Finished He Lost All Interest In Its Fate.

It was a matter of absolute indifference to Labouchere what became of anything he wrote after he had written it. When he had corrected the proof or if he was away from England when he sent his copy to the post he took no further interest in it whatever.

Before I had discovered this trait in his character I used to write and apologize for cutting, perhaps six columns down to two, or sometimes offer an excuse for not using any of it at all. At last he wrote to me: "You need not sentimentalize about my stuff. I send it to you to do what you like with."

But one felt a lingering compunction long afterward about consigning the fruits of so much labor to the waste paper basket, and, after all, Labouchere was the proprietor of the paper. Once or twice, therefore, I have excused myself for "not sentimentalizing" about some article that he had sent.

One such occasion he writes: "Dear ——: I am the only person, I believe, on the press who does not care in the least whether his lucubrations do or do not appear in print. It has always appeared to me that the making of an art (article) requires two persons, one to write it, the other to cut it down, and generally to cut out what the first man most admires."—London Truth.

Carnegie's First Library.

When Andrew Carnegie was a mere lad in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad he with the other boys of the old First ward, Allegheny, Pa., now the north side, Pittsburgh, had for many years the use of the private library of a Major Anderson. Mr. Carnegie, while speaking at the installation of his libraries, often said that much of his success was due to the influence of the books obtained in this library and that when he became wealthy the building of the Allegheny free library was one of his first acts.—New York Sun.

Two Losses Plus—

The Way One Love Match Had Its Start.

By CHARLES W. S. READ.

Miss Nettie Blank and her Aunt Mary had come down to New York city from Connecticut to meet Miss Nettie's brother, who was to arrive on a steamer from Liverpool, but who failed to make an appearance.

A cablegram had reached the house not ten minutes after they left it, but that only deferred the explanation. Aunt Mary had resided in Wisconsin up to a year before, and, never having been in the big city, she was anxious to look around a bit. The niece had some shopping to do, and they had put in a couple of days when what Aunt Mary called the tragedy happened.

They were visiting a waxworks show in the evening, and the old lady was mightily taken with all she saw. Her exclamations of surprise gave a young man a chance to make a few remarks and attach himself to the pair, and the result was that when they were ready to leave the place Aunt Mary suddenly exclaimed:

"Nettie, have you got the bag with the money in it?"

"No. You were afraid I'd lose it, and you took it from me just as we came in."

"Well, it's gone!"

"You don't mean it!"

"But I do. Somebody has got it within the last ten minutes. You may call me an idiot all the rest of my life."

The young man bad also departed, and no doubt in company with the bag. Miss Nettie went into a fit of laughter at first, but she soon realized that the loss of the money might prove a very serious matter. To avoid the queries of the other spectators they went outside in the lobby to talk things over. Aunt Mary had noticed the lay figures there on entering and could hardly be convinced that the policeman, bootblack, Uncle Reuben and others were not living, breathing human beings. She had no eyes and no interest now, however. She had lost $30 in cold cash, and there was a hotel bill to pay and the railroad fare home.

"It puts us in a bad predicament," said the girl, "because we are stopping at a hotel where they don't know me, and two or three C. O. D. parcels will be delivered early tomorrow morning. It is just possible that we may find some one from out of town stopping at the hotel and can borrow a few dollars."

"I'll never forgive myself—never!" exclaimed Aunt Mary as the tears filled her eyes. "Think of a woman of my age having her pocket picked! I shall be ashamed to face them at home. They'll make fun of me to the end of time. Have we got anything we can pawn?"

"Nothing. I was careful not to bring any of my jewelry, and that wedding ring and breastpin of yours wouldn't fetch $2. We can't even telegraph to pa unless they will trust us, and they say the telegraph company is very particular about that. What's the matter, aunty?"

The old lady had uttered a half shriek and started back from one of the lay figures and was looking at it with bulging eyes.

"I—I thought you said they were wax!" she gasped.

"So they are."

"But I'll take my dying oath that one moved a little!"

"Nonsense! You are all worked up about the loss of the money. We shall have to walk back to our hotel, and we might as well be moving on."

A week previous to this incident a Yale student named Walter Thompson had added to his demerit marks by taking the train for New York to have a real good time. He had it and awoke one morning to find himself almost penniless and very much ashamed of himself. He had made matters so much worse than they were before that he hated to go back and face the music.

During the day he managed to brace up, but the bracing took the rest of his cash, and he had only a quarter in his pocket when he came to a halt at the corner of Broadway and Fifth avenue, and the women, bound for the waxworks show, passed him.

A young man must be worse than embarrassed financially not to take a second look at a handsome girl passing him on the street. After the student's second look he followed the women, and as it happened to be a half rate evening his quarter bought him a ticket.

He may or may not have been noticed by Miss Nettie as he loitered about with other spectators, but if he was she did not charge him with being the pickpocket who despoiled them. He looked too honest and respectable for that. When he overheard them speaking of their loss he edged toward the door, and once outside he lifted a dummy aside and took its place. At another time—at a time when he was himself—he would have offered his services frankly, but he hadn't the cheek just then. If they had lost their money, he also was without resources.

"But I've got to help them out of their trouble some way," he mused after they had departed from the museum and he had started to follow them at a respectful distance. "Don't go much on old ladies outside of the mater, but that girl is a stunner. It would break my heart if she cried over this trouble. Magnificent hair and glorious eyes! Just the sort of face I've dreamed about. Lots of style and go about her. Broke, and yet I've got to help her."

The ladies were followed to the hotel. As they passed around to the ladies' entrance young Thompson entered by the front and walked up to the desk and inspected the register. He soon found their names; also the name of a citizen from their town who was reputed to be wealthy.

In all probability they would apply to this gentleman for a loan. If not a loan they would at least ask that he telegraph for them. The thought provoked the student. It was for him and no one else to help them out of their trouble.

Noting the number of the man's room, he turned from the desk to the elevator and was landed on the fourth floor. Four doors down the hall was the right door. The student did not ask himself why he was going there, but went. When there was no answer he turned the knob and the door opened. There was no one in the room, but there was evidence that some one had just stepped out in a hurry and might be expected back at any moment.

A still smoking cigar lay on an ash receiver, and a partly open grip was on the table. One look into the grip and Thompson had possession of a roll of bills. He did not stop to count them, but backed out and hurried down the hall to another elevator. Ten minutes later he was tapping at the door of Miss Nettie's room and ready to say to her as soon as it was opened:

"A thousand pardons, Miss Blank, but I was at the waxworks when you met with your loss and learned that it was likely to inconvenience you considerably. I know your family by name, as perhaps you do mine—the Thompsons—and if I might make so bold as to"—

He had the roll of bills in his hand, and the girl instantly divined his good intentions.

"It is kind of you, indeed," she replied, "but we came back to the hotel to find ourselves in great good luck. My Uncle Billy is on the floor above. I had him down here a minute ago to tell him of our loss, and he has gone for money for us. There he comes now, the dear old soul!"

"What in thunder and blazes and Texas and several other things do you think has happened?" shouted the old gentleman while yet a hundred feet away.

"Why, uncle, what is it? This is Mr. Thompson. His people live only a few miles from us."

"I don't care a snap about the Thompsons or where they live!" shouted the irascible uncle. "I've been robbed in this hotel! Yes, sir, I've been robbed of $500!"

"Why, Uncle Billy, is it possible?"

"Some one entered my room and took it out of my satchel while I was down here. Thought I had locked the door, but I guess I didn't. I'm going down to tell the hotel folks that I'll sue 'em for double the amount."

But he didn't. It was an embarrassing situation for the student, but fortunately he saw that he must tell a straight story to be believed. When he had told it he grabbed for his hat and asked for five minutes' start of the police, but they gave him a great deal longer one than that. In fact, the humor of the situation got on the nerves of all four after awhile, and when they had got over laughing and talking about curious coincidences and truth being stranger than fiction there was something like good fellowship all round. Nobody had to leave an unpaid hotel bill, and nobody had to walk to Connecticut.

"What! Are Walter Thompson and Miss Nettie Blank in love?" asked the village gossip.

"In love! Why, they're engaged, and Miss Blank's uncle gave them $500 for an engagement present."

FELL FROM A HAY LOFT

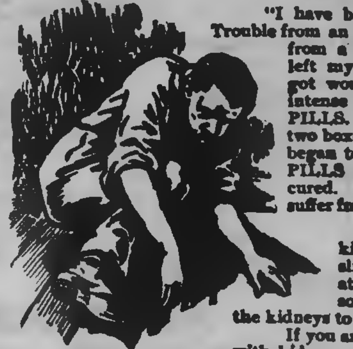
Suffered Tortures With His Kidneys Until He Tried Gin Pills

You might think that Mr. Baker needed a surgeon more than GIN PILLS. But there were no bones broken. His back was strained, which was harder to cure because nothing seemed to do any good. It is the same with a sprained ankle and broken leg. You can set the fracture and it will be well in six weeks—but the sprain may take months to get well.

However, Mr. Baker found the quick way to get relief from the pain—here are his own words.

AULTSVILLE, ONT.

"I have been a great sufferer from Kidney Trouble from an injury to my back caused by falling from a hay loft about six years ago. This left my kidneys weak, so that every cold I got would settle in my kidneys and cause intense suffering. I was advised to try GIN PILLS. I found, to my surprise, after taking two boxes, that the pains were relieved and I began to feel better. I am still taking GIN PILLS and feel sure I will be completely cured. I recommend GIN PILLS to all who suffer from any Kidney Trouble". C. BAKER.



A BAD FALL

You see, the fall had strained the kidneys and they were affected by the slightest chill. GIN PILLS immediately strengthened the kidneys—soothed any irritation and thus enabled the kidneys to overcome the effects of the fall.

If you are having pain in the back—or trouble with kidneys or bladder through accident or overwork—do just as Mr. Baker did—take GIN PILLS. They will help you—cure you—or we will promptly refund your money. Buy six boxes at your dealer's. If, after taking them, you feel that Gin Pills have not helped you, return the empty boxes and get your money. We will take your word for it. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. Sample box sent free if you write National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Dept. B Toronto.

NATIONAL LAZY LIVER PILLS regulate the bowels and cure Constipation, Biliousness and Indigestion. 25c. a box. [illegible]

OLD BERLIN.

It Is a Terrible Contrast to Much Lauded New City.

With 600,000 of the 2,500,000 population of the Kaiser's capital crowded into one-room dwellings at the rate of from five to ten persons to a room, the authorities of Berlin are seriously concerned with the problem that confronts them. Rapid as has been the building in Berlin, it has not kept pace with the growth of the city, and erection of new houses has been almost entirely confined to the better residence section of West Berlin.

Berlin is known the world over as the one large city without tenements. It is indisputably the most modern and up-to-date city of Europe. Visitors readily concede that the artistic exteriors of the blocks and blocks of flats, with their large inner courts, and the cleanliness of the streets, have not been exaggerated. Sociologists hold up Berlin as a model, particularly in America.

And so it is. Probably in no other city are the streets literally "scrubbed" daily. Electrically propelled water wagons with rotary thin wire brushes pass over the streets. The streets are flooded with the water; immediately behind come the stiff brushes.

Following the combined water and scrub wagons come men with long hand scrapers lined with rubber, similar to those used by window cleaners. These they push along before them, removing whatever water and dirt may have been left by the big rotary brushes.

When they get through the streets are as clean as a fine parlor floor. Small armies of men are employed in tending the trees and flowers, and in the parks.

But this is so-called "New Berlin." It is the Berlin of the very progressive municipal administration under the present Emperor. It is the Berlin that the visitors, tourists and sociologists see and praise. There is another Berlin which comparatively few tourists visit, and of which many sociologists do not know.

Across the river on the east and the north is "Old Berlin"—the Berlin of Frederick the Great. There the Berlin authorities have the same sociological problems that confront the authorities of other cities.

There are some 8,000 to 10,000 flats, ranging from two to nine rooms, in "New Berlin." In old Berlin as high as thirteen persons have been found living in one room. The construction of modern flat buildings has been confined to the new town, and they have been put up for dividends.

Fairly moderate as the rentals, ranging from $20 to $60 for three to six-room steam-heated flats, might be considered by Americans no German workman, street car or railroad employe, earning but $30 to $35 a month, can pay such rents.

Accompanied by a physician, the writer made a short tour of investigation on the north side. It was noon, but no one would suspect it in the dim light of the basement room into which we stepped. On a very soiled bed of rags was a woman and her young baby.

The rooms were kitchen, dining room, sleeping room and living room all in one. The family consisted of the husband, wife, four children, the oldest girl being sixteen. At night they divided the one room with two young workingmen, to whom they rented sleeping space on the floor.

On another street we came to a place in the second court back of one room and a tiny kitchen. They were occupied by a man and wife and eight children. There were three beds for the ten. There was no heat.

The two windows and the door were kept closed against the cold. Moisture ran down the walls. These two places were typical of a dozen that were visited. The death rate, is very high from these sections of the city. Privacy and morality is impossible under such conditions.

A proposition will be laid before the Diet to appropriate at least $1,000,000 for "small dwellings," to be rented at a rate within reach of the workingman.

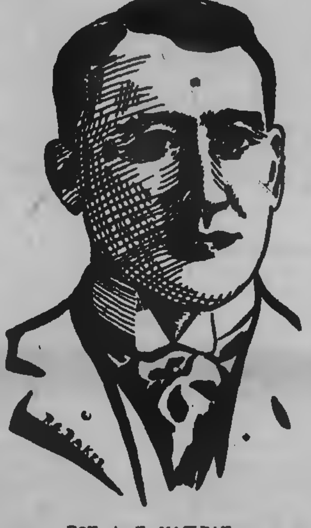
BRAKING IS HIS ROLE

HON. A. K. MACLEAN KEEPS THE FIRE-EATERS IN CHECK.

Member of the Opposition at Ottawa Is an Orator Who Makes His Appeal Chiefly to the Head and Has the Canniness of a Long Line of Scots — He Absolutely Refuses To Be Stampeded.

In every well-built, soundly-constructed and workable bit of locomotive mechanism there must be driving force and brake. Both are essential. It is true that the function of the latter is not so spectacular as that of the former, but it is none the less important. It is protection against the runaway. It regulates and defines progress on safe lines.

Among the rank and file of the Liberal membership of the House of Commons Hon. A. K. Maclean is the brake. The freedom of Opposition and its lack of direct responsibility has a tendency to develop either of two things, mere negation, or daring trail-blazing. With the present Opposition any danger which might arise would be wholly from the latter. A brake doesn't come amiss, and Mr. Maclean supplies the brake.



HON. A. K. MACLEAN.

He is built for the job; quiet, observant, forceful. There is nothing theatrical about him. He does not pose. He is devoid of affectation. He is no demagogue, and he doesn't practice the arts of popularity.

Maclean is a canny Scot, and will not be stampeded. His keen, grey-blue eyes do not miss much. He studies a situation before he deals with it, and even the enthusiasm of "the boys" will not carry him along until he is satisfied to go. He is invaluable going down hill—as most brakes are. When things are coming easiest Maclean is most cautious.

He has had a good deal of experience, too. He was elected to the Nova Scotia Legislature in 1901, and resigned his seat three years later to become a candidate for the Commons. Lunenburg elected him, and repeated the trick in 1908. In October of the year following, however, Premier Murray came to Ottawa looking for a wise and safe Attorney-General, and he secured the services of Mr. Maclean. When the Federal election of last September came round Ottawa Liberals again appealed to him as the man who could win one of the Halifax seats, both of which were at that time represented by Conservatives. Again he served his party. He resigned his provincial portfolio, threw himself into the campaign, and redeemed the seat, despite the general swing of the pendulum in the other direction.

Mr. Maclean entered upon what was to him a new Parliamentary experience with the present session. He had never before served in Opposition. And he has proved one of its most effective members. When he speaks he receives respectful attention from the Government benches. He is not a spell-binder. Others may appeal to the heart; Mr. Maclean goes after the head. He speaks, too, less as an advocate and more as a business man expounding a business proposition, which he understands, with cosiderable lucidity and logic. He is no carping critic with a microscope tucked under his arm on the search for minute faults. He gets the larger viewpoint — the general affect for weal or ill, and deals with his subject from a national standpoint.—Canadian Courier.

Canada Grows Westward.

"Transportation is the greatest problem we have to solve in the west, but, if the railways and the Government handle matters well, fifteen years, or at the most twenty, will see more people west of Lake Superior than you have in the east."

Such was the remark of Sir William Whyte at the Windsor Hotel in Montreal recently, when interviewed. Although Sir William has retired from active operation of the Canadian Pacific Railway, he still is a member of the directorate and takes great interest in the development of the western provinces.

He declared that with the Canadian Northern Railway and Grand Trunk Pacific completed he had no doubt as to the capacity of the railways to handle the crops for many years to come and there would be no large quantity of grain damaged owing to the lack of time in which to handle it, as there has been this year.

Unclaimed Articles.

Among the unclaimed articles left in the cloakrooms and depots of the Southeastern Railway, recently sold by auction at Blackfriars Station, London, Eng., were twenty bags of flour, a rowing-boat, a fireproof safe, and a weighing machine.

The Stingy Man's Gift.

Patrick worked for a notoriously stingy boss and lost no chance to let the fact be known. Once a waggish friend, wishing to twit him, remarked:

"Pat, I hear your boss just gave you a brand new suit of clothes."

"No," said Pat, "only a par-rt of a suit."

"What part?"

"The sleeves in the vest."

His Destination.

"Is Mike Clancy here?" asked the visitor at the quarry just after the premature explosion.

"No, sor," replied Costigan; "he's gone."

"For good?"

"Well, sor, he wint in that direction."—Tit-Bits.

HECLA FURNACE Saves one ton in seven.

No Gas
No Dust

FUSED JOINTS CANNOT LEAK

Comfortable heating is possible only with a Furnace that cannot leak gas and dust. At every joint where a leak might otherwise occur, the Hecla is sealed tight. We do not trust to bolts and cement. The wear due to constant expansion and contraction would grind out the cement and leave a series of leaks for the escape of gas or dust. To make a joint that will be as tight after years of service as it is when new, we fuse the steel sides and cast-iron frames of our radiators by a patent process. This welds the iron and steel into one piece.

Homes heated by Hecla Furnaces 20 years old are getting as pure air from the registers as when the Furnace was new.

And this Furnace saves one ton of coal in seven. Isn't it worth looking into?

Merry Funerals.

There are signs of the beginning of a craze in Italy for merry funerals. A gentleman of Turin left instructions that his obsequies were to be conducted with the greatest hilarity—a brass band, drinks and two cigars apiece for male mourners. The funeral was largely attended. The widow, following the instructions in the will, wore red. Another inhabitant of Turin who recently passed away left a large sum of money for a banquet to all the shareholders of the companies he had promoted, the banquet to follow the funeral.

Making Progress.

Drill Sergeant (after worrying Brown for two hours)—Right about face!

Brown—Thank goodness, I'm right about something at last!

An Important Guest.

"That banquet to-night can't get along without me."

"You have a very good opinion of yourself. Billed for a speech?"

"No; I was invited to listen."

Just How He Felt.

Mr. Meekins was habitually all that the first syllable of his name might imply, but a day came when the worm turned at last and spoke his mind freely to that other member of the domestic firm who had assumed leadership. Mrs. M. stood aghast and then remarked ominously:

"Timothy, you'd regret those words if you should suddenly lose your wife."

"Oh, I don't want to lose her," came the cheerful retort, "but there are times when I'd like very much to mislay her for a few hours."

The Turkish Bride.

The Turkish bride spends about a week in dancing and wild, happy life before her marriage. Then when she leaves her father's house she kisses his hands and feet. She goes to the groom's home and on his arrival kisses his hand. Then the paint with which her face has been daubed in the week of dancing and frivolity is wiped off and she drinks coffee with her husband—and they are happy ever after.

The Understudy of the Sun

McClary's Sunshine Furnace

WHEN Old Sol swings low and far away he appoints an understudy for the purpose of keeping Jack Frost where he belongs—Outside.

Years ago McClary's "Sunshine" Furnace, by reason of its marvelous heating capacity and the balmy June air it suffused the house with, was specially appointed Understudy to the Sun. That appointment has been confirmed year after year, and—your "Sunshine" Furnace—Jack Frost's Master awaits your orders for the coming winter.

Remember the past winter—the Frost King was very active — He battered us with a three months' siege of snow and ice — Almost conquered the thermometer by chasing the mercury out of sight. But he failed to penetrate thousands of homes, because the Understudy of the Sun — McClary's "Sunshine" Furnace —was on the job in the cellars of these homes.

It's easy to keep Jack Frost at a safe distance with the "Sunshine" Furnace. He may storm and rave outside, but there is no place for him within—because, the Understudy of the Sun has demonstrated its mastery in the home.

The average furnace is a glutton for coal—it literally burns up money. The "Sunshine" Furnace saves money—earns its cost in a very few years because it burns coal sparingly. Call on the McClary agent of your locality and ask him to prove that statement true. If he cannot convince you—show you that the "Sunshine" Furnace will cut your coal bills by a very pleasing margin we don't want your order. That's the fairest way we know of doing business—does it appeal to you?

There are a multitude of reasons why the "Sunshine" Furnace does save fuel—reduce coal bills—reasons that will be printed in the following advertisements. Here is one that should make you call on the McClary agent at once—the "Sunshine" Furnace has four radiating surfaces—surfaces that gather up the heat greedily and diffuse it liberally all over the house.

But—you just call on the McClary agent and ask to be shown. If you do not know him write us at our nearest address and we'll tell you.

You certainly owe it to yourself to find out why McClary's "Sunshine" Furnace is called the "Understudy of the Sun."

The Astonished Husband.

De Wolf Hopper tells a good story about the domestic unhappiness of another actor. The hero of the joke was a man who had married because the woman had much money, although no beauty. Naturally after the wedding ceremony and the acquisition of the bride's financial resources the husband was never very attentive to her.

Another member of the company in which the couple were appearing was, however, far more appreciative of the lady's charms and proceeded to make love to her in an ardent but stealthy manner. The grand finale came one evening when the actor discovered the other man kissing his wife. The fond lover stood petrified with fear and expected to be shot down the next moment.

No such thing happened. The outraged husband only lifted his hands toward the ceiling with a gesture of intense surprise and exclaimed:

"Merciful heavens! And he didn't even have to!"—Popular Magazine.

Coughs, Colds Bronchitis

If there is an ailment in the throat or chest, it is surely essential that the remedy be conveyed direct to the affected part. It's because the healing vapor of Catarrhozone is breathed into the sore, irritated throat and bronchial tubes, because its balsamic fumes kill the germs and destroy the cause of the trouble. These are the reasons why Catarrhozone never yet failed to cure a genuine case of Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, or Throat Trouble.

The wonderfully soothing vapor of Catarrhozone instantly reaches the furthest recesses of the lungs, produces a healing, curative effect that is impossible with a tablet or liquid, which goes merely to the stomach, and fails entirely to help the throat or lungs.

To permanently cure your winter ills, your coughs, sneezing and Catarrh, by all means use a tried and proven remedy like Catarrhozone. But beware of the substitutor and imitator. Look for Catarrhozone only. 50c and $1, at all dealers. 10

Just Breathe It, Cure is Sure

PRESENCE OF MIND.

Ruse of a Woman Who Was Scared, but Who Kept Her Wits.

The following is a true story of an incident that happened in an English village:

A husband had gone out for the evening and left his wife and child at home. The woman was about to retire for the night when, to her amazement, she perceived the foot of a man beneath the bed. Instead of calling for assistance, as some would have done, she coolly went to the child's cot and sat and sang till the child went to sleep. Two hours then remained before her husband came in. He was surprised to find her waiting up, but when his wife handed him an envelope, saying, "You might run and post this," the cause of her waiting was revealed. Instead of a letter the following was written on the envelope: "A burglar is under our bed. Run; fetch police." The husband returned in a minute with a policeman, and the man was arrested. The burglar when brought up before the magistrate remarked that he had come across a few brave women in his time, but this one must have had a nerve like iron, for she sat there for three solid hours. He had the impression that she didn't know he was there till the policeman pulled him out.—Exchange.

TALK TO YOUR HORSE.

It Will Make the Animal More Intelligent and More Friendly.

Talk to your horse and teach him to obey your voice as well as the reins. This may prove valuable if, as sometimes happens, the lines break or become unbuckled. Besides, the horse likes the sociability of it. He easily learns a dozen or more words, but be careful to use them only for exactly what you mean. For instance, "whoa" means to stop at once and stand perfectly still, "get up" to go straight ahead and at once, "back" to step backward, "easy" or "steady" to slow up.

These words the horse readily learns and takes kindly to. "Walk" means to change at once to a walk, and "all right," spoken in a calm, reassuring tone, means "don't be afraid—that won't hurt you," and it is wonderful to see what a calming effect it has. Speak firmly, but not sharply, to the horses, for they are nervous creatures. Talking to your horse will make him more intelligent and more friendly.—Spirit of the West.

Curious Power of Charcoal.

It has been found that the power of charcoal to absorb gases is vastly increased at very low temperatures, so that it can be employed for exhausting incandescent lamp bulbs and Crookes tubes and also for separating mixed gases. Experiment has shown that at the freezing point of water and at normal atmospheric pressure one gram of charcoal absorbs four cubic centimeters of hydrogen and eighteen cubic centimeters of oxygen, but that at 182 degrees centigrade, the temperature of boiling air, one gram of charcoal absorbs 135 cubic centimeters of hydrogen and 250 cubic centimeters of oxygen. When several gases are mixed the charcoal absorbs some of them much more freely than others, so that by multiplying the operation gases can be separated from mixtures in sufficient quantity for industrial uses.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Clocks With Twenty-four Hour Dials.

Visitors to Belgium will have noticed the twenty-four hour clocks which are to be seen in public places and railways. The same system is in vogue in Italy, and both in Germany and Switzerland there is to be found a considerable number of persons in favor of this new notation. French military authorities also prefer the system, as do two-thirds of the conseils generaux and four-fifths of the chambers of commerce. In view of this opinion M. Augagneur, the minister of posts and telegraphs, has addressed a letter to the prefects announcing that during the summer the 0 to 24 system will be introduced on the main lines of railways and inviting the prefects to take measures to equip the local lines in the same way.

States That Parisian Sage is Best Hair Tonic

"I had a bad case of dandruff. My scalp was full of dandruff and it came out thick and scaly. My hair came out badly; often I nearly cried on account of losing my pretty head of of hair.

I heard of PARISIAN SAGE and only had to use two bottles, before the hair stopped coming out, the scalp became clean, and all the dandruff disappeared. The hair became silky and one big reason that I liked PARISIAN SAGE was that it kept the hair smooth, silky, and clean with no traces of stickiness.

I believe this tonic to be the best on the market as there has been no return of dandruff, or hair falling out whatever. I am glad to publicly endorse the use of PARISIAN SAGE. I have often endorsed its use and am glad to do it." 33 E. Bond Street, Corry, Pa.

LABOUCHERE'S COPY.

After It Was Finished He Lost All Interest in Its Fate.

It was a matter of absolute indifference to Labouchere what became of anything he wrote after he had written it. When he had corrected the proof or if he was away from England when he sent his copy to the post he took no further interest in it whatever.

Before I had discovered this trait in his character I used to write and apologize for cutting, perhaps six columns down to two, or sometimes offer an excuse for not using any of it at all. At last he wrote to me: "You need not sentimentalize about my stuff. I send it to you to do what you like with."

But one felt a lingering compunction long afterward about consigning the fruits of so much labor to the waste paper basket, and, after all, Labouchere was the proprietor of the paper. Once or twice, therefore, I have excused myself for "not sentimentalizing" about some article that he had sent.

One such occasion he writes: "Dear ——: I am the only person, I believe, on the press who does not care in the least whether his lucubrations do or do not appear in print. It has always appeared to me that the making of an art (article) requires two persons, one to write it, the other to cut it down, and generally to cut out what the first man most admires."—London Truth.

Carnegie's First Library.

When Andrew Carnegie was a mere lad in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad he with the other boys of the old First ward, Allegheny, Pa., now the north side, Pittsburgh, had for many years the use of the private library of a Major Anderson. Mr. Carnegie, while speaking at the installation of his libraries, often said that much of his success was due to the influence of the books obtained in this library and that when he became wealthy the building of the Allegheny free library was one of his first acts.—New York Sun.

Two Losses Plus—

The Way One Love Match Had Its Start.

By CHARLES W. S. READ.

Miss Nettie Blank and her Aunt Mary had come down to New York city from Connecticut to meet Miss Nettie's brother, who was to arrive on a steamer from Liverpool, but who failed to make an appearance.

A cablegram had reached the house not ten minutes after they left it, but that only deferred the explanation. Aunt Mary had resided in Wisconsin up to a year before, and, never having been in the big city, she was anxious to look around a bit. The niece had some shopping to do, and they had put in a couple of days when what Aunt Mary called the tragedy happened.

They were visiting a waxworks show in the evening, and the old lady was mightily taken with all she saw. Her exclamations of surprise gave a young man a chance to make a few remarks and attach himself to the pair, and the result was that when they were ready to leave the place Aunt Mary suddenly exclaimed:

"Nettie, have you got the bag with the money in it?"

"No. You were afraid I'd lose it, and you took it from me just as we came in."

"Well, it's gone!"

"You don't mean it!"

"But I do. Somebody has got it within the last ten minutes. You may call me an idiot all the rest of my life."

The young man had also departed, and no doubt in company with the bag. Miss Nettie went into a fit of laughter at first, but she soon realized that the loss of the money might prove a very serious matter. To avoid the queries of the other spectators they went outside in the lobby to talk things over. Aunt Mary had noticed the lay figures there on entering and could hardly be convinced that the policeman, bootblack, Uncle Reuben and others were not living, breathing human beings. She had no eyes and no interest now, however. She had lost $30 in cold cash, and there was a hotel bill to pay and the railroad fare home.

"It puts us in a bad predicament," said the girl, "because we are stopping at a hotel where they don't know me, and two or three C. O. D. parcels will be delivered early tomorrow morning. It is just possible that we may find some one from out of town stopping at the hotel and can borrow a few dollars."

"I'll never forgive myself—never!" exclaimed Aunt Mary as the tears filled her eyes. "Think of a woman of my age having her pocket picked! I shall be ashamed to face them at home. They'll make fun of me to the end of time. Have we got anything we can pawn?"

"Nothing. I was careful not to bring any of my jewelry, and that wedding ring and breastpin of yours wouldn't fetch $2. We can't even telegraph to pa unless they will trust us, and they say the telegraph company is very particular about that. What's the matter, aunty?"

The old lady had uttered a half shriek and started back from one of the lay figures and was looking at it with bulging eyes.

"I—I thought you said they were wax!" she gasped.

"So they are."

"But I'll take my dying oath that one moved a little!"

"Nonsense! You are all worked up about the loss of the money. We shall have to walk back to our hotel, and we might as well be moving on."

A week previous to this incident a Yale student named Walter Thompson had added to his demerit marks by taking the train for New York to have a real good time. He had it and awoke one morning to find himself almost penniless and very much ashamed of himself. He had made matters so much worse than they were before that he hated to go back and face the music.

During the day he managed to brace up, but the bracing took the rest of his cash, and he had only a quarter in his pocket when he came to a halt at the corner of Broadway and Fifth avenue, and the women, bound for the waxworks show, passed him.

A young man must be worse than embarrassed financially not to take a second look at a handsome girl passing him on the street. After the student's second look he followed the women, and as it happened to be a half rate evening his quarter bought him a ticket.

He may or may not have been noticed by Miss Nettie as he loitered about with other spectators, but if he was she did not charge him with being the pickpocket who despoiled them. He looked too honest and respectable for that. When he overheard them speaking of their loss he edged toward the door, and once outside he lifted a dummy aside and took its place. At another time—at a time when he was himself—he would have offered his services frankly, but he hadn't the cheek just then. If they had lost their money, he also was without resources.

"But I've got to help them out of their trouble some way," he mused after they had departed from the museum and he had started to follow them at a respectful distance. "Don't go much on old ladies outside of the mater, but that girl is a stunner. It would break my heart if she cried over this trouble. Magnificent hair and glorious eyes! Just the sort of face I've dreamed about. Lots of style and go about her. Broke, and yet I've got to help her."

The ladies were followed to the hotel. As they passed around to the ladies' entrance young Thompson entered by the front and walked up to the desk and inspected the register. He soon found their names; also the name of a citizen from their town who was reputed to be wealthy.

In all probability they would apply to this gentleman for a loan. If not a loan they would at least ask that he telegraph for them. The thought provoked the student. It was for him and no one else to help them out of their trouble.

Noting the number of the man's room, he turned from the desk to the elevator and was landed on the fourth floor. Four doors down the hall was the right door. The student did not ask himself why he was going there, but went. When there was no answer he turned the knob and the door opened. There was no one in the room, but there was evidence that some one had just stepped out in a hurry and might be expected back at any moment.

A still smoking cigar lay on an ash receiver, and a partly open grip was on the table. One look into the grip and Thompson had possession of a roll of bills. He did not stop to count them, but backed out and hurried down the hall to another elevator. Ten minutes later he was tapping at the door of Miss Nettie's room and ready to say to her as soon as it was opened:

"A thousand pardons, Miss Blank, but I was at the waxworks when you met with your loss and learned that it was likely to inconvenience you considerably. I know your family by name, as perhaps you do mine—the Thompsons—and if I might make so bold as to"—

He had the roll of bills in his hand, and the girl instantly divined his good intentions.

"It is kind of you, indeed," she replied, "but we came back to the hotel to find ourselves in great good luck. My Uncle Billy is on the floor above. I had him down here a minute ago to tell him of our loss, and he has gone for money for us. There he comes now, the dear old soul!"

"What in thunder and blazes and Texas and several other things do you think has happened?" shouted the old gentleman while yet a hundred feet away.

"Why, uncle, what is it? This is Mr. Thompson. His people live only a few miles from us."

"I don't care a snap about the Thompsons or where they live!" shouted the irascible uncle. "I've been robbed in this hotel! Yes, sir, I've been robbed of $500!"

"Why, Uncle Billy, is it possible?"

"Some one entered my room and took it out of my satchel while I was down here. Thought I had locked the door, but I guess I didn't. I'm going down to tell the hotel folks that I'll sue 'em for double the amount."

But he didn't. It was an embarrassing situation for the student, but fortunately he saw that he must tell a straight story to be believed. When he had told it he grabbed for his hat and asked for five minutes' start of the police, but they gave him a great deal longer one than that. In fact, the humor of the situation got on the nerves of all four after awhile, and when they had got over laughing and talking about curious coincidences and truth being stranger than fiction there was something like good fellowship all round. Nobody had to leave an unpaid hotel bill, and nobody had to walk to Connecticut.

"What! Are Walter Thompson and Miss Nettie Blank in love?" asked the village gossip.

"In love! Why, they're engaged, and Miss Blank's uncle gave them $500 for an engagement present."

FELL FROM A HAY LOFT

Suffered Tortures With His Kidneys Until He Tried Gin Pills

You might think that Mr. Baker needed a surgeon more than GIN PILLS. But there were no bones broken. His back was strained, which was harder to cure because nothing seemed to do any good. It is the same with a sprained ankle and broken leg. You can set the fracture and it will be well in six weeks—but the sprain may take months to get well.

However, Mr. Baker found the quick way to get relief from the pain—here are his own words.

AULTSVILLE, ONT.

"I have been a great sufferer from Kidney Trouble from an injury to my back caused by falling from a hay loft about six years ago. This left my kidneys weak, so that every cold I got would settle in my kidneys and cause intense suffering. I was advised to try GIN PILLS. I found, to my surprise, after taking two boxes, that the pains were relieved and I began to feel better. I am still taking GIN PILLS and feel sure I will be completely cured. I recommend GIN PILLS to all who suffer from any Kidney Trouble". C. BAKER.

A BAD FALL

You see, the fall had strained the kidneys and they were affected by the slightest chill. GIN PILLS immediately strengthened the kidneys—soothed any irritation and thus enabled the kidneys to overcome the effects of the fall.

If you are having pain in the back—or trouble with kidneys or bladder through accident or overwork—do just as Mr. Baker did—take GIN PILLS. They will help you—cure you—or we will promptly refund your money. Buy six boxes at your dealer's. If, after taking them, you feel that Gin Pills have not helped you, return the empty boxes and get your money. We will take your word for it. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. Sample box sent free if you write National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Dept. B Toronto.

OLD BERLIN.

It Is a Terrible Contrast to Much Lauded New City.

With 600,000 of the 2,500,000 population of the Kaiser's capital crowded into one-room dwellings at the rate of from five to ten persons to a room, the authorities of Berlin are seriously concerned with the problem that confronts them. Rapid as has been the building in Berlin, it has not kept pace with the growth of the city, and erection of new houses has been almost entirely confined to the better residence section of West Berlin.

Berlin is known the world over as the one large city without tenements. It is indisputably the most modern and up-to-date city of Europe. Visitors readily concede that the artistic exteriors of the blocks and blocks of flats, with their large inner courts, and the cleanliness of the streets, have not been exaggerated. Sociologists hold up Berlin as a model, particularly in America.

And so it is. Probably in no other city are the streets literally "scrubbed" daily. Electrically propelled water wagons with rotary thin wire brushes pass over the streets. The streets are flooded with the water; immediately behind come the stiff brushes.

Following the combined water and scrub wagons come men with long hand scrapers lined with rubber, similar to those used by window cleaners. These they push along before them, removing whatever water and dirt may have been left by the big rotary brushes.

When they get through the streets are as clean as a fine parlor floor. Small armies of men are employed in tending the trees and flowers, and in the parks.

But this is so-called "New Berlin." It is the Berlin of the very progressive municipal administration under the present Emperor. It is the Berlin that the visitors, tourists and sociologists see and praise. There is another Berlin which comparatively few tourists visit, and of which many sociologists do not know.

Across the river on the east and the north is "Old Berlin"—the Berlin of Frederick the Great. There the Berlin authorities have the same socioligical problems that confront the authorities of other cities.

There are some 8,000 to 10,000 flats, ranging from two to nine rooms, in "New Berlin." In old Berlin as high as thirteen persons have been found living in one room. The construction of modern flat buildings has been confined to the new town, and they have been put up for dividends.

Fairly moderate as the rentals, ranging from $20 to $60 for three to six-room steam-heated flats, might be considered by Americans no German workman, street car or railroad employe, earning but $30 to $35 a month, can pay such rents.

Accompanied by a physician, the writer made a short tour of investigation on the north side. It was noon, but no one would suspect it in the dim light of the basement room into which we stepped. On a very soiled bed of rags was a woman and her young baby.

The rooms were kitchen, dining room, sleeping room and living room all in one. The family consisted of the husband, wife, four children, the oldest girl being sixteen. At night they divided the one room with two young workingmen, to whom they rented sleeping space on the floor.

On another street we came to a place in the second court back of one room and a tiny kitchen. They were occupied by a man and wife and eight children. There were three beds for the ten. There was no heat.

The two windows and the door were kept closed against the cold. Moisture ran down the walls. These two places were typical of a dozen that were visited. The death rate, is very high from these sections of the city. Privacy and morality is impossible under such conditions.

A proposition will be laid before the Diet to appropriate at least $1,000,000 for "small dwellings," to be rented at a rate within reach of the workingman.

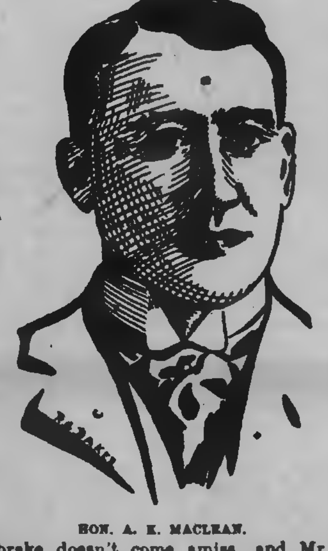
BRAKING IS HIS ROLE

HON. A. K. MACLEAN KEEPS THE FIRE-EATERS IN CHECK.

Member of the Opposition at Ottawa Is an Orator Who Makes His Appeal Chiefly to the Head and Has the Canniness of a Long Line of Scots — He Absolutely Refuses To Be Stampeded.

In every well-built, soundly-constructed and workable bit of locomotive mechanism there must be driving force and brake. Both are essential. It is true that the function of the latter is not so spectacular as that of the former, but it is none the less important. It is protection against the runaway. It regulates and defines progress on safe lines.

Among the rank and file of the Liberal membership of the House of Commons Hon. A. K. Maclean is the brake. The freedom of Opposition and its lack of direct responsibility has a tendency to develop either of two things, mere negation, or daring trail-blazing. With the present Opposition any danger which might arise would be wholly from the latter. A brake doesn't come amiss, and Mr. Maclean supplies the brake.



HON. A. K. MACLEAN.

He is built for the job; quiet, observant, forceful. There is nothing theatrical about him. He does not pose. He is devoid of affectation. He is no demagogue, and he doesn't practice the arts of popularity.

Maclean is a canny Scot, and will not be stampeded. His keen, grey-blue eyes do not miss much. He studies a situation before he deals with it, and even the enthusiasm of "the boys" will not carry him along until he is satisfied to go. He is invaluable going down hill—as most brakes are. When things are coming easiest Maclean is most cautious.

He has had a good deal of experience, too. He was elected to the Nova Scotia Legislature in 1901, and resigned his seat three years later to become a candidate for the Commons. Lunenburg elected him, and repeated the trick in 1908. In October of the year following, however, Premier Murray came to Ottawa looking for a wise and safe Attorney-General, and he secured the services of Mr. Maclean. When the Federal election of last September came round Ottawa Liberals again appealed to him as the man who could win one of the Halifax seats, both of which were at that time represented by Conservatives. Again he served his party. He resigned his provincial portfolio, threw himself into the campaign, and redeemed the seat, despite the general swing of the pendulum in the other direction.

Mr. Maclean entered upon what was to him a new Parliamentary experience with the present session. He had never before served in Opposition. And he has proved one of its most effective members. When he speaks he receives respectful attention from the Government benches. He is not a spell-binder. Others may appeal to the heart; Mr. Maclean goes after the head. He speaks, too, less as an advocate and more as a business man expounding a business proposition, which he understands, with cosiderable lucidity and logic. He is no carping critic with a microscope tucked under his arm on the search for minute faults. He gets the larger viewpoint — the general affect fo weal or ill, and deals with his subject from a national standpoint.—Canadian Courier.

Canada Grows Westward.

"Transportation is the greatest problem we have to solve in the west, but, if the railways and the Government handle matters well, fifteen years, or at the most twenty, will see more people west of Lake Superior than you have in the east."

Such was the remark of Sir William Whyte at the Windsor Hotel in Montreal recently, when interviewed. Although Sir William has retired from active operation of the Canadian Pacific Railway, he still is a member of the directorate and takes great interest in the development of the western provinces.

He declared that with the Canadian Northern Railway and Grand Trunk Pacific completed he had no doubt as to the capacity of the railways to handle the crops for many years to come and there would be no large quantity of grain damaged owing to the lack of time in which to handle it, as there has been this year.

Unclaimed Articles.

Among the unclaimed articles left in the cloakrooms and depots of the Southeastern Railway, recently sold by auction at Blackfriars Station, London, Eng., were twenty bags of flour, a rowing-boat, a fireproof safe, and a weighing machine.

The Stingy Man's Gift.

Patrick worked for a notoriously stingy boss and lost no chance to let the fact be known. Once a waggish friend, wishing to twit him, remarked:

"Pat, I hear your boss just gave you a brand new suit of clothes."

"No," said Pat, "only a par-rt of a suit."

"What part?"

"The sleeves in the vest."

His Destination.

"Is Mike Clancy here?" asked the visitor at the quarry just after the premature explosion.

"No, sor," replied Costigan; "he's gone."

"For good?"

"Well, sor, he wint in that direction."—Tit-Bits.

FUSED JOINTS CANNOT LEAK

Comfortable heating is possible only with a Furnace that cannot leak gas and dust. At every joint where a leak might otherwise occur, the Hecla is sealed tight. We do not trust to bolts and cement. The wear due to constant expansion and contraction would grind out the cement and leave a series of leaks for the escape of gas or dust. To make a joint that will be as tight after years of service as it is when new, we fuse the steel sides and cast-iron frames of our radiators by a patent process. This welds the iron and steel into one piece.

Homes heated by Hecla Furnaces 20 years old are getting as pure air from the registers as when the Furnace was new.

And this Furnace saves one ton of coal in seven. Isn't it worth looking into?

Merry Funerals.

There are signs of the beginning of a craze in Italy for merry funerals. A gentleman of Turin left instructions that his obsequies were to be conducted with the greatest hilarity—a brass band, drinks and two cigars apiece for male mourners. The funeral was largely attended. The widow, following the instructions in the will, wore red. Another inhabitant of Turin who recently passed away left a large sum of money for a banquet to all the shareholders of the companies he had promoted, the banquet to follow the funeral.

Making Progress.

Drill Sergeant (after worrying Brown for two hours)—Right about face!

Brown—Thank goodness, I'm right about something at last!

An Important Guest.

"That banquet to-night can't get along without me."

"You have a very good opinion of yourself. Billed for a speech?"

"No; I was invited to listen."

Just How He Felt.

Mr. Meekins was habitually all that the first syllable of his name might imply, but a day came when the worm turned at last and spoke his mind freely to that other member of the domestic firm who had assumed leadership. Mrs. M. stood aghast and then remarked ominously:

"Timothy, you'd regret those words if you should suddenly lose your wife."

"Oh, I don't want to lose her," came the cheerful retort, "but there are times when I'd like very much to mislay her for a few hours."

The Turkish Bride.

The Turkish bride spends about a week in dancing and wild, happy life before her marriage. Then when she leaves her father's house she kisses his hands and feet. She goes to the groom's home and on his arrival kisses his hand. Then the paint with which her face has been daubed in the week of dancing and frivolity is wiped off and she drinks coffee with her husband—and they are happy ever after.

DESPERATE AND JEALOUS; HE KILLED HIS WIFE ON STREET

Hamilton Man Murders Woman Then Shoots Himself.

Frank Truckle Charges His Wife With Loose Conduct, Slays Her and Endeavors to Get Away, But Crowd Gathers and Pursues Him Until Flight Is No Longer Possible—Dies of Wounds Shortly After.

Hamilton, May 20.—G. Frank Truckle put an end to his matrimonial career Saturday morning, when he shot his wife, and later, when pursued, shot himself. The scene of the murder and suicide was the corner of Park and Market streets, at about 10.55 Saturday morning, when the streets were thronged with hundreds of people passing to and from the market.

Truckle called at the King George Hotel, where his wife was employed as a waitress, and asked to see her. As it was the busy time of the morning the girl had difficulty in getting out, but on being persuaded by her husband, she accompanied him along Market street. To all appearances the two were on the best of terms, as they walked along, arm-in-arm. As they neared the corner of Park street, however, several people noticed that the couple were talking excitedly, and just as they had reached the corner the man shoved the girl from him, and drawing a revolver from his hip pocket, he shot her twice in the left side.

Without a sound the girl sank to the sidewalk, where she died within a minute. Truckle stod looking at the girl for a moment and then, with a curse, he jumped into County Constable Dan Morrison's buggy, which was standing at the sidewalk, and putting the pistol to the driver's head, the fugitive compelled him to get out of the rig. Truckle then picked up the reins, and giving the horse a vicious cut, started south on Park street.

The hundreds of spectators who had stood mute from fear and horror awoke as the fugitive dashed away and at once a mob was in full pursuit.

As several motors were rapidly overtaking him Truckle, forced out of the rig, started to run, bolting through gardens and doing everything possible to elude his pursuers. The mob, however, was not to be cheated and followed the man relentlessly. After following a circuitous route Truckle reached McNab street and followed the street, evidently hoping to get into the grounds at the end of this street that it might have been possible for him to escape those in pursuit of him.

As soon as the chose took to the street again, however, the motors were again called into service and these rapidly overtook the man. Rev. Canon S. Daw was in the act of assisting three ladies into a car in front of his residence at 234 South McNab street when the fugitive came his way. Truckle was on the point of dropping with exhaustion and, evidently understanding that there was no chance whatever for him to escape, ran up on the sidewalk at Rev. Mr. Daw's side, and, pulling a revolver, shot himself in the left lung.

The men who had been following Truckle came up immediately and taking the wounded man in a motor, rushed him to an hospital, where he was operated on by Dr. Hopkins, but his injuries later proved fatal.

The police were notified as soon as the shooting took place and rushed to the scene to find Lena Truckle lying dead on the sidewalk. She was at once placed in an ambulance and rushed to the morgue, where a jury viewed the remains at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Truckle is a young man who came to this city from Brantford a short time ago and got work at a local lumber yard. He is 24 years of age and has been married more than a year. Lena Truckle, the wife, is 22 years old, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bowsfield, live in Brantford.

Apparently the young couple have not found married life wholly to their liking. On May 2 Mrs. Truckle charged her husband in the police court with aggravated assault, claiming that he had abused her in different ways. On this occasion the magistrate dismissed the case, as the husband swore that his wife as living an immoral life. The motive for the crime was evidently jealousy. Mrs. Truckle, it appears, was rather free with other men, and this action was greatly resented by Truckle, who is naturally of a very jealous disposition.

Truckle had appealed to the police some time ago for help to keep his wife from associating with other men, and it is stated that only Friday evening a policeman interrupted her talking to two other men. Mrs. Truckle evidently did not care whether or not her husband was displeased at her actions, for when he called Saturday morning he found her talking to two men, whom he could hardly persuade her to leave. Truckle told the police before the shooting took place that his wife would not live with him, preferring to work in a hotel, where she had more opportunity to see more men.

CONAN DOYLE REPLIES TO BERNARD SHAW

Special to the Review.

London, May 20.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle this morning administered a rebuke in the Daily News to Bernard Shaw for writing with "Looseness and Levity" in regard to "the loss of the Titanic. He also lashes the play-wright for his reflection on Captain Smith.

C.P.R. Trains In Collision.

Woodstock, N.B., May 20.—A head-on collision occurred Friday night on the C.P.R. branch line a mile from here. One train was slowing up for the semaphore at the time and the impact therefore was not so serious. The train crews jumped and no one was seriously hurt. Several cars were thrown off the rails but the track was cleared Saturday morning. The blame has not been fixed.

Japanese Elections.

Tokio, May 20.—Returns Saturday from the election of members of the House of Representatives showed that the Seiyukai Government party scored again with an absolute majority of 203 members. The House, established by the constitution of 1899, is composed of 355 members.

SMITHERS IS IN MONTREAL

But G.T.R. Chairman Has Made no Announcement Yet.

Montreal, May 20.—A. W. Smithers, chairman of the board of directors of the Grand Trunk Railway, arrived here last evening from New York. He will confer with the officers here in reference to several important matters, and in particular will take up the matter of a selection of a successor to the late president, Mr. Charles M. Hays, a victim of the Titanic disaster.

Mr. Smithers was met in New York by such well known railway men as Wm. Wainwright, acting president of the Grand Trunk; D. F. Galloway, assistant to the president, and E. H. Fitzhugh, president of the Central Vermont Railway, but if any discussion was made as to the selection of the new president, nothing of the proposals has been made public.

Mr. Smithers was asked whether he cared to comment on a rumor that the coming of Mr. Smithers meant the removal from the Grand Trunk staff of the so-called Hays-Harriman officials.

"I do not care to say anything on that subject," he replied. "The announcement of any changes that are to be made will be given out at the earliest possible moment. I will say this, however, that I believe that Mr. Hays was absolutely loyal to the interests of the Grand Trunk Railway System, and, further, that he was absolutely loyal to Canada and Canadian interests."

C. C. James Begins Active Work.

Ottawa, May 20.—C. C. James, who was appointed some time ago as special agricultural commissioner for the Dominion Government, arrived here from Toronto yesterday and will take up his new duties to-day.

With Hon. Martin Burrell, he will work out a comprehensive scheme for federal aid to agriculture. He will then leave for a tour of the Maritime Provinces.

Burned to Death by Oil Stove.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 20—Warming milk for his two-months-old daughter on an oil stove, which set the house afire, cost the life of Carl Stockton, aged 21, caused serious injury to his wife and child early yesterday. Stockton was so severely burned that he died a few moments later. The woman may die, but the child will recover.

LOST SCHOONER HEARD FROM

Halifax, N.S., May 20.—The schooner ran down by the A. W. Perry off Little Hope on Thursday night turns out to be the Albert J. Lutz, commanded by John E. App.

The Lutz put into Liverpool Saturday reporting the collision with the Perry in a thick fog and the loss of her main boom and mainsail. No lives were lost.

Buried Unidentified Body.

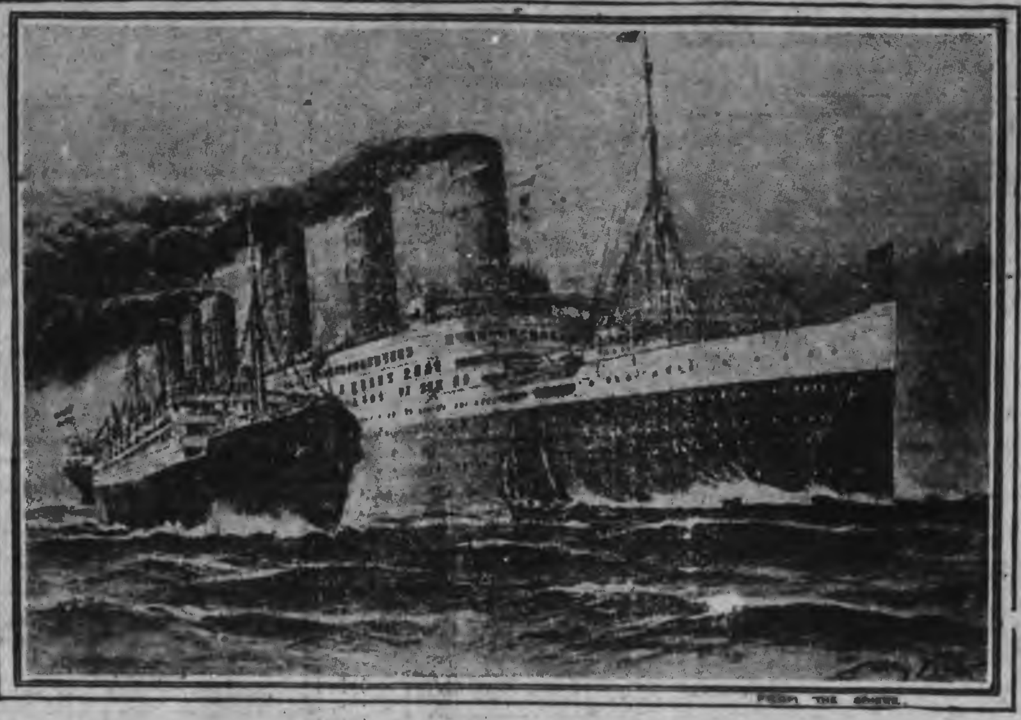
Cornwall, May 20.—The body of a man found in the river off Cornwall Island, on Friday evening, was interred in Woodlawn Cemetery on Saturday. The man was about 60 years of age, bald headed, had a grey moustache, weighed about 200 pounds, and was six feet tall. The identity of the man may never be discovered.

ADAMSON BILL TAKES IN THE CANADIAN LINES

Special to the Review.

New York, May 20.—The Adamson Bill now before Congress seeks to prevent all steamships operated by railways from using United States waterways including the Panama Canals. According to the despatch Representative Knowland of California announced this morning that it referred to all railway owned steamships and will apply to Canadian Lines. It was believed that the Canadian Lines were exempt from the provisions of the bill.

NEW STEAMSHIP WILL BE QUEEN OF TRANSATLANTIC FLEET.



The newest transatlantic passenger vessel, soon to be launched at the yards of the Vulcan Company, at Stettin, has been built to outrival the monster steamships of the Cunard and White Star line companies.

The exact dimensions of the vessel have not been made public, but the picture above, made by a German artist, shows how far she exceeds in length and height the Deutschland, one of the greatest of the German transatlantic steamships.

To provide stanchness she has been built with double bottoms, and, in view of the recent accident to the Titanic, her builders are considering further means of increasing her strength and seaworthiness in proportion to her great bulk. The builders say she is being constructed not so much for high speed as for steadiness and comfort.

LIBERALS ARE ELATED OVER RESULT OF QUEBEC CONTEST

They See a Gleam of Hope in Quebec Elections.

French Press Is Issuing a Call For Other Provinces to Follow the Lead of the Lower Province—Rally Is to Be Held In Honor of Sir Wilfrid In Montreal Soon—Graham Seems More Joyful.

Montreal, May 20.—The Reform Club's coming banquet to Sir Wilfrid Laurier promises to be a big affair as the recent sweep here has given new life to the party. Le Canada says:

"We hope that our friends in the English provinces will not fail on the first opportunity to show the vitality of our party outside of Quebec. Our province has given an example which New Brunswick and Saskatchewan should not fail to follow. The Conservatives' wave is now broken, and having lost its force can no longer frighten our friends. As in 1775, as in 1812, it was Quebec which saved the situation. The Conservative wave last fall was the voice of Ontario. This triumph is the voice of Quebec."

La Presse says that on Sept. 21 Quebec, while remaining faithful to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, gave signs of a Conservative reaction, furnishing Mr Borden 27 partisans instead of 12 in the preceding Parliament. Is it not, therefore, extremely significant that out of the 27 counties, 12 have returned to the Liberal fold, such as Bellechasse, Brome, Berthier, Chambly, Compton, Dorchester, Hochelaga, Labelle, Maskinonge, Montmorency, Quebec County, Rimouski and Yamaska.

As Lavergne Sees It.

Montreal, May 20.—Armand Lavergne, who is Mr. J. M. Tellier's lieutenant in the Quebec district, gives his following reason for the recent defeat of the party:

"The defeat was neither due to Mr. Tellier nor his program. We were beaten by the navy question and by the school question. After what took place at Ottawa, I am not disposed to blame the electors who did not believe in our sincerity. At the last Dominion elections the present French-Canadian Ministerialists, as well as the Ministers themselves, came forward as Nationalists, or at least supported the Nationalist program."

Graham Is Jubilant.

Toronto, May 20.—"The result of the Quebec elections shows that if Premier Borden were to go to the country now he would meet sure defeat," said Hon. G. P. Graham, M.P., former Minister of Railways, in an interview at the Prince George.

Mr. Graham went on to say that the Quebec election was a great triumph for the Liberals, and went to show that the people were losing confidence in the Borden Government. It showed strongly that the Nationalists were no longer in favor of Borden and foreshadowed hs defeat at the next general election.

Referring to the statement that he would probably be the next president of the Grand Trunk Railway, Mr. Graham said there was absolutely no truth in the report, that, in fact, he had never been approached on the subject.

Will Live With Son.

New York, May 20.—Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, first wife of Col. John J. Astor, before departing for Europe with her daughter, Muriel, Saturday on the steamship Oceanic, made it known that she intended to return later to New York to make her home here with her son, Vincent Astor, who will become the head of the Astor family next fall. Mrs. Astor expects to be abroad about three months.

HON. W. J. HANNA.

He has the refusal of the Railway Board Chairmanship and will accept if his present work permits.

DYMENT'S HORSE WINNER OF THE KING'S PLATE

Toronto, May 20.—The King's Plate, Canada's most celebrated horse race, was won easily on Saturday by A. E. Dyment's Heresy, the favorite for the guineas. C. A. Crew's Amberite was an easy second and Seagram's Rustling had a close call for their place. Far surpassing the interest in the classic race, however, was the fact that the Duke and Duchess of Connaught were present and Canadian society turned out its best attire to participate in the gaiety of the occasion.

The results were:

First race—Six furlongs, purse $300, for three-year-olds and up—1, Plate Glass; 2, Yellow Eyes; 3, Warbler. Time, 1.13 1-5.

Second race—Juvenile purse, 4 1-2 furlongs, purse $600, for two-year-olds —1, Brawney; 2, First Sight; 3, Lohengrin. Time, .55.

Third race—Minto Stakes, 1 1-16 miles, purse $1,000, three-year-olds and up—1, Edda; 2, Altamaha; 3, Reybourn. Time, 1.48 4-5.

Fourth race—Woodstock Plate, 1 1-8 miles, purse $2,000, for three-year-olds —1, Light o' My Life; 2, Jenny Geddes; 3, Froglegs. Time, 1.55 2-5.

Fifth race—One and one-quarter miles, King's Plate, purse $5,000, for three-year-olds and up—1, Heresy; 2, Amberite; 3, Rustling. Time, 2.11.

Sixth race—About two miles, Aintree Steeplechase, purse $1,000, for four-year-olds and up, handicap—1, The Prophet; 2, Broadsword; 3, Be Thankful. Time, 4.32.

Seventh race—One and one-sixteenth miles, purse $500, for three-year-olds and upwards, selling—1, West Point; 2, Servicence; 3, Captain Swanson. Time, 1.49.

Thorogood Gets Seven Years.

Toronto, May 20.—Walter Thorogood, who was found guilty of manslaughter, was Saturday morning sentenced by Mr. Justice Latchford to seven years in the penitentiary.

The crime was committed in a poolroom brawl on West Queen street, when Thorogood struck Jos. Sabino with a billiard cue. Sabino afterwards died in the hospital.

At his first trial the jury disagreed, and it came, therefore, rather as a surprise when the second jury found him guilty of manslaughter.

BREEN LOSES

A telegram was received in the city this afternoon at the office of a local lawyer, which was to the effect that the marriage of John J. Breen and Ethel Croker had been annulled.

Goes to Albert College.

Belleville, May 20.—Rev. J. Bruce Hunter, B.A., a former student of Albert College, who is at present assistant pastor at the Central Methodist Church at Calgary, has been selected as assistant principal of Albert College here. He will commence his duties in September next, when the college reopens.

Sir William Treloar In America.

New York, May 20.—Sir William Treloar, former Lord Mayor of London, reached New York Saturday on a business trip on the steamer Celtic. Sir William will visit various hospitals here, in which he takes an interest.

Laborer Assaulted Girl.

Owen Sound, May 20.—Gideon Cripps, an unmarried laborer, aged 56 years, was sentenced to fourteen months in Central Prison on a charge of indecent assault upon a girl named Akles.

Crew of Barge Escape.

Kingston, May 20.—The steam barge Iona, bound from Sodus Point to Montreal, laden with soft coal, caught fire during Saturday night when on Lake Ontario, in the vicinity of Kingston, and was totally destroyed and sunk. The crew took to the boats and landed safely in Henderson's Harbor, N.Y., yesterday morning, without any mishap.

The vessel was owned by the F. E. Hall Co., Montreal, and was insured, but not the cargo. The cause of the fire could not be ascertained. The Iona was one of the oldest steam barges running on the lakes.

The Peterborough Light & Power Company's showroom will be open on Tuesday, Thursday & Saturday evenings during May and June from 8 to 10 p.m., for the convenience of those wishing to secure gas appliances, or to arrange for gas connections. 5d

DROWNINGS ON SUNDAY

Special to the Review.

Winnipeg, May 20.—Five drownings occurred in the prairie provinces yesterday. Geo. Claxton, Minnie Claxton and Edith Leaming were drowned in Harts Lake when their pleasure boat capsized. At Moosejaw, L. Jones, fell from his canoe and was drowned. At Kenora, M. O. Hodburg was drowned while fishing.

Chicago, May 20.—Five unknown persons, two men and three women, were drowned by auto in which they were riding plunging in the Calumet River through an open draw this morning. No bodies have been recovered.

A despatch from Edmonton states that there are to-day no fewer than 66,000 men at work on the construction of the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from mile 28, west of the summit, to mile 58.

TWO CANADIAN PLANTS WERE WIPED OUT BY FIRE

Ban Still on Amusements.

Minneapolis, May 20.—With the decision of the amusement question and the taking of the sixth ballot for bishops, delegates of the Methodist Episcopal general conference made rapid strides in the completion in the business of the session.

By a vote of 446 to 369, the conference voted to leave unchanged the church discipline, paragraph 260, which prohibits dancing, card playing and kindred amusements.

On the fifth ballot for bishop; the result of which was announced Saturday afternoon, W. O. Shepherd of Chicago was high man, with 500 votes, lacking 30 of election.

At the close of the sixth ballot in the afternoon the votes were sealed to be counted to-day.

COFFEE TRUST TO BE NEXT

Combine to Keep up Prices Will Now Be Heard.

New York, May 20.—Attorney-General Wickersham has moved against the so-called coffee trust or Brazilian valorization scheme. In a petition in equity filed here in the United States court, the valorization plan is declared to be a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The court is asked to decree the scheme unlawful, to enjoin the valorization committee from withholding the coffee from the market, and to appoint a receiver to sell the 950,000 bags, valued at $10,000,000, now alleged to be stored in the various warehouses of the New York Dock Co.

The Government also applied for a temporary injunction restraining the valorization from removing or disposing of the coffee held in America pending the termination of the issue.

The members of the valorization committee have agreed and conspired among themselves, the Government charges, to withhold from the market large quantities of coffee under their control for the purpose of raising the price of the commodity, to an unnatural and unreasonable extent. They have thus attempted, it is declared, to restrain the coffee trade throughout the world, including the interstate and foreign commerce of the United States and to "injure and defraud the public for their own enrichment."

The defendants are Herman Selicken of New York, Bruno Schoeder of J. H. Schroeder & Co of London, Edouard Bunge of Antwerp, Le Vicomte des Touches of Havre, Dr. Pauo de Silva Prado of Sao Paulo, Theodor Wille of Hamburg, the Societe Generale of Paris, and the New York Dock Co. All the defendants are members of the valorization committee.

HIS WIFE DEAD; MISSIONARY WILL RETURN TO BRAZIL

Special to the Review.

New York, May 20.—Rev. J. D. McEwen, a native of Maxwell, Glengarry County, and a congregational missionary in Brazil, who came to New York en route to Canada for a six months' furlough, has been obliged to return to Brazil, owing to the death of his wife. He fears she was killed by natives. Mrs. McEwen was a native of Brooklyn, N.S.

Not Puzzle-Witted.

Neapolitan, Ohio, May 20.—President Taft addressed a large crowd, consisting mostly of farmers, here on Saturday, defending his reciprocity platform pledges.

"Roosevelt says that I lack imagination and sympathy and am puzzle-witted," said the President. "I am not so puzzle-witted but that I can conceive the different between the fifty million dollar treasury deficit at the end of Theodore Roosevelt's two terms and the $40,000,000 surplus at the end of my first year as President."

Mr. Taft declared Roosevelt should not be nominated because of the character of his campaign and because to do so would mean a violation of the third term tradition. He spoke against the judicial recall.

Drowned While Canoeing.

London, May 20.—The first local drowning accident of the season occurred here yesterday morning when Harold Legg, aged 22 years, of this city, lost his life in the Thames while boating with a boy friend. He sank to his death only twenty feet from the shore.

There were two canoes and in splashing water on to each other the canoe in which Legg was paddling, upset. In trying to save themselves they overturned the other craft also, but three were able to get ashore. Legg could not swim. The body was recovered.

Decision on Drainage Scheme.

Ottawa, May 20.—Advices have been received that United States Secretary of War Stinson will, within a few days, give his decision respecting the Chicago drainage scheme, which was argued before him by representatives of the Canadian Government and Canadian interests some time ago. It is believed that the entire question will finally be referred to the joint International Waterways Commission.

Owen Sound and Hamilton Suffer From Conflagrations.

Big Sawmill Plant of the Carney Lumber Co. Is Wiped Out at Former Place With a Loss of $150,000—Diamond Flint Glass Factory In Hamilton Was Completely Gutted on Saturday Night.

Owen Sound, May 20.—For the second time in six months a disastrous fire visited owen Sound, when at an early hour yesterday morning, the big saw mill plant of the Carney Lumber Co. was wiped out, meaning a total loss of about $150,000. The whole milling plant was a seething mass of flames when the firemen reached it, and it was impossible to save any part of it. The plant was probably the most modern and thoroughly equipped on the Georgian Bay, and special attention had been paid to fire protection.

In the absence of the owners, both of whom are in the United States, and are not expected until to-day, it is impossible to say whether or not the plant will be rebuilt. The blow to the town industrially speaking will be felt. The company employed over 125 men, and their wage roll ran up to about $75,000 annually.

The origin of the fire is a complete mystery.

Fire In Hamilton.

Hamilton, May 20.—The factory of the Diamond Flint Glass Co., situated at the corner of Hughson and James streets, was completely gutted by fire, which started late Saturday night. The fire was well nigh out of control when the firemen were notified, and by the time the men had the water turned on the whole north end of the city was brightly illuminated by the blaze. The flames gained headway very quickly and in a few minutes from the time the first blaze was noticed the whole building was one mass of flames.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is stated by the company that the flames started from the molten glass, of which there was 100 tons in the furnace. The factory in which the fire occurred is utilised for the furnace and the bottle machines. The main building was a one-storey stone structure, but at the part where the furnace is situated was three storeys high.

The damage cannot be accurately estimated, the company officials refusing to make any statement as to loss that they have sustained. Chief Ten Eyck, however, placed the damage at $6,000. The company claim that the bottle machines are a complete loss and if this proves to be the case, the loss will probably be much heavier than the chief's estimate.

Cigar Factory for Windsor.

London, May 20.—John McNee & Sons, cigar manufacturers, will establish a branch factory, to employ 100 people, on Sandwich street, Windsor, where they have purchased a five-storey building and may eventually move their whole plant out of this city. There are more than 400 people employed in the factory in this city.

Picked Up Wrecked Survivors.

Cherbourg, May 20.—A wireless message has been received from the steamer Kranprinzessin Cecille, announcing that she will arrive at this port late. The steamer has been considerably delayed by stopping to pick up survivors of a wrecked ship, the name of which is not yet known.

Seized Contraband Arms.

New Orleans, La., May 20.—The Montes Line steamship Santona was seized in the harbor here last night by the United States revenue cutter Davey, charged with violating the terms of President Taft's proclamation of March 14, prohibiting the shipment of arms and ammunition to Mexico. The Santona flies the British flag.

HANNA FOR THE BIG JOB

His Name is Persistently Mentioned for Railway Board

Toronto, May 20.—Unless Sir James Whitney and his Cabinet colleagues can persuade him to remain, and unless he decides himself that the work he now has in hand is of two great importance to leave, the Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary for Ontario, will accept the position of chairman of the Dominion Railway Commission, in succession to the late Judge J. P. Mabee, which has been offered to him by the Dominion Government. If Mr. Hanna accepts the position he will be succeeded by the Hon. I. B. Lucas. This is the unofficial but highly creditable statement that is going the rounds here.

While no definite statement as to the offer or the decision of Mr. Hanna has been made public, it is understood that Mr. Hanna is very likely to accept the position. A despatch was sent out from Ottawa a few days ago stating that Mr. Hanna's name had been mentioned, along with half a dozen others. When Mr. Hanna was asked about it, he replied that it would be bad grace to accept a position before it was offered. Since that time, however, a definite offer has been made, and Mr. Hanna is now considering it.

Chest Inflammation

Suffered From a Heavy Cold, Pleuritic Pains in Side — Constant Coughing.

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of E. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a hard racking cough and severe pains darted through my sides and settled in my shoulders. I used different liniments, but none broke up my cold till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chest and shoulders, morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Ferrozone at meals, and was completely built up and strengthened. Since using Nerviline I have no more colds or pleurisy, and enjoy perfect health."

Nerviline Cures Chest Colds

It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essences and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernel of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia, sciatica, and rheumatism. Refuse any substitute your dealer may suggest—insist on Nerviline only. Large bottles, 50c, trial size 25c. Sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co, Kingston, Ont.

HELPING THE NORTH

The Canadian Soo is planning one of the largest and most ambitious demonstrations on record. The plan is to invade Toronto in a body and for one day practically take possession of the city. There will be parades, speeches and receptions, and horn tootings of every description. In short, it is proposed to eclipse anything in the history of civic jaunts or blowouts.

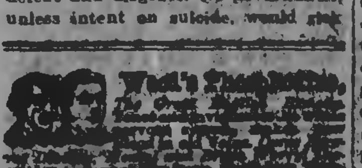
Primarily the object of the Soo is to advertise to the world its present greatness and future possibilities. There is at the disposal of the Whitney Government, voted to it at the recent session of the legislature, the sum of five million dollars to be expended in the development of Northern Ontario, as the Lieutenant Governor in Council may direct. It is but natural to suppose that the ambitious Soo has in its business eye the capture of a portion of this sum for the advancement of its own interests.

Other municipalities in the far north are likely to fall into line and the result will be such an advertising of that portion of the Dominion as no one has ever dreamed of. They are a great people up there when they set their minds on a single purpose, as anyone knows who has been through New Ontario. They are thrifty and energetic and what is more, are one in their pride in their resources and their faith in the future. Their treatment of strangers is hospitality itself. Every new comer to their domain is made welcome as a prospective asset.

But the north is a new country and as such requires aid from the Government. They need branch railways and above all their most pressing present need is good roads and it is to help them out that the large sum referred to was appropriated.

Mr. Rowell protested against the step when the matter was disposed of in the legislature, and his newspaper mouthpiece in Toronto is still playing a tune upon the old string. But no one outside of the numerically insignificant Provincial Opposition appears to be seriously alarmed.

The country has faith in the integrity and the good judgment of Sir James Whitney and his supporters. It has twice expressed its confidence in the administration since Sir James was first given a majority by entrenching him more strongly than ever in his place of power. The electors are satisfied that the expenditure of the five million dollars will be made in the best interests of the north, every dollar judiciously applied to the object intended and not one cent misappropriated. The Whitney administration has proved itself an honest government to the satisfaction of the electors. To misapply the fund with it has been entrusted would mean defeat and disgrace. No government, unless intent on suicide, would risk a vote of want of confidence, a weapon always ready to the hand of Mr. Rowell and his cohorts.



Wood's Phosphodine. The Great English Remedy. [illegible] Toronto, Ont.

In the meantime as the money is wisely expended the north will continue to grow and become a worthy and wealthy part of the greatest Dominion in the Empire.

Fortunately the case in question was not one in which a partisan and [illegible] senate could interfere and block the expressed will of the people for no other apparent motive than one incited by party pique.

ATHLETIC ROWDYISM

If there is one thing more than another which has made baseball popular as a sport, it is that the game has been kept from trickery and rowdyism. Lacrosse players have been known to use their sticks as instruments of offence and defence, and football men have pummeled each other into insensibility, but with them all such things are on the cards. Who ever heard of baseball players in a scrimmage on the diamond? The renowned Tyrus C. Cobb, of the Detroits, is nothing if not original. The other day at New York where a "fan" from his place in the bleachers "guyed" the great centre fielder, Cobb rushed into the crowd and pummeled his detractor with true athletic vigor, for which display of temper he draws an indefinite suspension. Cobb is, doubtless, the greatest ball player in the business, but the public will never stand for such rowdyism, and the sooner all such men are shut out of the game the better will it be for the future of the sport.

TAFT WILL WIN

President Taft is not as a general thing given to vain boasting, or to the making of statements that are not without some foundation in fact. When he says, as he did yesterday, that he has Roosevelt beaten in the primaries, so that Taft's nomination for the presidency is assured, we who are watching the contest from a distance may place more confidence in the claim than if it was put forward by any of the party papers, blinded as they are by party zeal, and given to hyperbole. Taft is as certain of his success as any one human can be, and with his success assured, the conflict is practically over. The primaries heard from there, the subsequent state election of delegates, and the final national conventions are cut and dried affairs—mere matters of form.

Whoever runs on the Democratic ticket against the president, whether it be Clark, Wilson, Hearst or Bryan the election of Taft is pretty much a foregone conclusion. The Republican party may be counted upon to stand as a unit for high tariff. Any party in the United States making tariff for revenue, the chief plank in its platform would go down to defeat, just as surely as the Laurier government was wrecked on the reciprocity shoal. There may be sectional and personal differences, but when it comes to a national conflict the rank and file of the party will be found standing shoulder to shoulder. The result of an off year election, such as that of two years ago, when the Democrats captured the lower house of Congress, cannot be taken as an indication of the real temper of the nation. The American people have often before in off years permitted themselves the relaxation of breaking away from party bonds and doing as they please in things political.

The coming presidential battle will be fought on the same issue as that of similar struggles for the past thirty years or more — protection against free trade, or tariff for revenue, and protection will win the day. The manufacturing interests of the country, the farmers and working people as a class will stand for nothing else.

The lack of unanimity in the selection of a Democratic candidate, shows the want of a trusted general to lead that party in the coming struggle. Bryan is a back number. Every important policy espoused by him in the past, has collapsed long ago like a punctured balloon. Hearst of yellow newspaper fame is spoken of, but no one takes seriously the mention of his name. Clarke is a geographical impossibility. Wilson is best and most charitably described by his opponents as the academic candidate. Bryan has three times knocked his head against the stone wall of the Republican fortresses and may not care even if offered the opportunity, to repeat the experience.

Tariff for revenue has been the slogan of the Democrats for lo, these many years but the country has every reason to doubt the sincerity of their profession. They have had chances in the past to put their theories into practice and those chances have been consistently neglected. During the latter part of Cleveland's first term they formulated the Mills bill, which as a solution of the fiscal situation was regarded as a joke. Then came the Wilson tariff during Cleveland's second term. It was so palpably a compromise, so glaring a violation of party pledges that President Cleveland refused to affix his signature to it and it became law without his endorsation. This then, is the party when, with such a record behind them, ask the support of the nation with the same professions upon their lips.

It has been said that the excitement of a presidential election cripples the business of the country, but this is not a serious probability, unless the contest threatens to be close. In the last three elections, the result was never gravely in doubt and scarcely a ripple was felt in the business world. The panic of 1897 was practically over before Bryan went down to his third defeat. As Canada cannot but suffer, in a measure, at least, from any financial depression in the United States, the prospect of another one sided contest over the line, is a matter of congratulation.

SOUR RISINGS FROM STOMACH

These Who Experience Fullness and Pain After Meals, Stomach Disorders, and Indigestion, Should Read Below.

"When I was working around the farm last winter I had an attack of inflammation," writes Mr. E. P. Dawkins, of Port Richmond. "I was weak for a long time, but well enough to work until spring. But something went wrong with my bowels, for I had to use salts or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour, and always after eating there was pain and fulness, and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Instead of hurting, like other pills, they acted very mildly, and seemed to heal the bowels. I did not require large doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. To-day I am well—no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter, I am sure, proves it."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Cynthia's Chauffeur

By LOUIS TRACY

Copyright by McLeod & Allen, Toronto

So everybody was dissatisfied, more or less, the quaking Dale more, perhaps, than any, and the person who had absolutely no shadow of care on his soul was Medenham himself, at that moment guiding the Mercury along the splendid highway that connects Bristol with Gloucester—taking the run leisurely, too, lest Cynthia should miss one fleeting glimpse of the ever-changing beauties of the Severn estuary.

During one of these adagio movements by the engine, Cynthia, who had been consulting a guidebook, leaned forward with a smile on her face.

"What is a lamprey?" she asked.

"A special variety of eel which has a habit of sticking to stones by its mouth," said Medenham. Then he added, after a pause: "Henry the First was sixty-seven years of age when he died, so the dish of lampreys was perhaps blamed unjustly."

"You have a good memory," she retorted.

"Oh, is that in your book, Miss Vanrenen? Well, here is another fact about Gloucester. Alfred the Great held a Witenagemot there in 896. Do you know what a Witenagemot is?"

"Yes," she said, "a smoking concert."

Mrs. Devar invariably resented these bits of byplay, since she could no more extract their meaning than if they were uttered in Choctaw.

"Some very good people live in Gloucestershire," she put in. "There are the—" She began to give extracts from Burke's "Landed Gentry," whereupon the speedometer index sprang to forty-five, and a noble fifteenth century tower soon lifted its stone lacework above the trees and spires of the ancient city.

Cynthia wished to obtain some photographs of old inns, so, when they had admired the cathedral, and shuddered at the memory of Richard the Third— who wrote at Gloucester the order to Brackenbury for the murder of the princes in the Tower of London—and smiled at Cromwell's mordant wit in saying that the place had more churches than godliness; then told of the local proverb, "As sure as God's in Gloucester," Medenham brought them to Northgate Street where the New Inn—which is nearly always the most antiquated hostelry in an English country-town—supplied a fine example of massive timberwork with courtyard and external galleries.

The light was so perfect that he persuaded Cynthia to stand in a doorway and let him take a picture. During the focusing interval, he suggested that the day's route should be varied by leaving the coast road at Westbury and running through the Forest of Dean, where a secluded hotel in the midst of a real woodland would be an ideal place for luncheon.

She agreed. Something in his tone told her that Mrs. Devar's consent to the arrangement had better be taken for granted. So they sped through the blossom-laden lanes of Gloucestershire to the leafy depths of the Forest, and saw the High Beeches, and the Old Beech, and the King's Walk, and many of the gorgeous vistas that those twin artists Spring and Summer etched on the wooden undulations of one of Britain's most delightful landscapes; as a fitting sequel to a run through fairyland they lunched at the Speech House Hotel, where once the skins of daring trespassers on the King's preserves were wont to be nailed on the Court House door by the Verderers.

It was Cynthia who pointed the moral.

"There is always an ogre's cave near the Enchanted Garden," she said, "and those were surely ogerish days when men were flayed alive for hunting the King's deer."

It is not to be wondered at if they dawdled somewhat by the way, when that way led past Off's Dyke, through Chepstow, and Tintern, and Monmouth, and Symon's Yat. Indeed, Cynthia's moods alternated between wide-eyed enjoyment and sheer regret, for each romantic ruin and charming country-side not only aroused her enthusiasm but evoked a longing to remain riveted to the spot. Yet she would not be a woman if there were not exceptions to this rule, as shall be seen in due course.

Mrs. Devar, perchance tempted by the word "Castle," quitted the car at Chepstow, and climbed to the nail-studded oak door of one of the most perfect examples of a Norman stronghold now extant. Once committed to the role of sightseer, she was compelled to adhere to it, and before the fourth court was reached, had she known the story, she would have sympathized with the pilgrim who did not boil the peas in his shoes of penance. Chepstow Castle is a splendid ruin, but its steep gradients and rough pavements are not fitted for stout ladies who wear tight boots.

To make matters worse, the feelings of Cynthia's chaperon soon became as sore as her toes. The only feature of Marten's Tower that appealed to her was its diabolical ingenuity in providing opportunities for that interfering chauffeur to assist, almost to lift, Cynthia from one mass of fallen masonry to another. Though she knew nothing of Henry Marten she reviled his memory. She heard "Fitzroy" telling her wayward charge that the reformer really hated Charles I. because the King called him "an ugly rascal" in public, and directed that he should be turned out of Hyde Park; the words supplied a cue.

"Pity kings are not as powerful nowadays," she snapped. "The presumption of the lower orders is becoming intolerable."

"Unfortunately, Marten retaliated by signing the King's death warrant," said Medenham.

"Of course. What else could one expect from a person of his class?"

"But Sir Henry Marten was a celebrated judge, and the son of a baronet, and he married a rich widow—these are not the prevalent democratic vices," persisted Medenham.

"You must have sat up half the night reading the guidebook," she cried in vexation at her blunder.

Cynthia laughed so cheerfully that Mrs. Devar thought she had scored. Medenham left it at that, and was content. Both he and Cynthia knew that lack of space forbade indulgence in such minor details of history of the part of the book's compiler.

Another little incident heated Mrs. Devar to boiling-point. Cynthia more than once hinted that, if tired, she might wait for them in the lowermost court, where a fine tree spread its shade over some benches, but the older woman persisted in visiting every dungeon and scrambling up every broken stair. The girl took several photographs, and had reached the last film in a roll, when the whim seized her to pose Medenham in front of a

He glanced quickly over his shoulder, and instantly made up his mind to broach a project that he had thought out carefully since his quarrel with the Frenchman.

"You mean to stay in Hereford during the whole of to-morrow, Miss Vanrenen?" he asked.

"Yes. Somehow, I don't see myself scampering across the map on the British Sabbath. Besides, I am all behindhand with my letters, and my father will be telegraphing something emphatic if I don't go beyond 'Much love' on a picture postcard."

"Symon's Yat is exceptionally beautiful, and there is a capital little hotel there. The Wye runs past the front door, the boating superb, and there will be a brilliant moon after dinner."

"And the answer is?"

"That we could run into Hereford before breakfast, leaving you plenty of time to attend the morning service at the cathedral."

Cynthia did not look at him or she would have seen that he was rather baronical in aspect just then. Sad to relate, they were speeding down the Wyndcliff gorge without giving it the undisturbed notice it merited.

"I have a kind of notion that Mrs. Devar wouldn't catch on to the boating proposition," she said thoughtfully.

"Perhaps not, but the river takes a wide bend there, and she could see us from the hotel veranda all the time."

"Guess it can't be fixed up, anyhow," she sighed.

Twice had she lapsed into the idioms of her native land. What, then, was the matter with Cynthia that she had forgotten her self-imposed resolution to speak only in that purer English which is quite as highly appreciated in New York as in London?

It was Saturday afternoon, and they overtook and passed a break-load of beanfeasters going to Tintern. There is no mob so cruelly sarcastic as the British, and it may be that the revelers in the break envied the dusty chauffeur his pretty companion. At any rate, they greeted the passing car with jeers and cat-calls, and awoke Mrs. Devar. It is a weakness of human to endeavor to conceal the fact that you have been asleep when you are supposed to be awake, so she leaned forward now, and asked nonchalantly:

"Are we near Hereford?"

"No," said Cynthia. "We have a long way to go yet." She paused. "Are you really very tired?" she added, as an afterthought.

"Yes, dear. The air is positively overpowering."

There was another pause.

"Ah, well," sighed the girl, "we shall have a nice long rest when we stop for tea at—at—what is the name of the place?"

"Symon's Yat."

Medenham's voice was husky. Truth to tell, he was rather beside himself. He had played for a high stake and had nearly won. Even now the issue hung on a word, a mere whiff of volition: and if he knew exactly how LEGEND OF ALUMINUM.

Story Told by Pliny of Tiberius and a Metal Worker.

If a certain incident in Roman history, as related by Pliny, be given full credence, then it would seem that aluminium was derived by means of a secret process long before our time.

The story is this: During the reign of Tiberius there one day appeared at the emperor's palace a worker in metals who displayed a magnificent cup made of a brilliant white metal that shone like silver. In presenting it to Tiberius the artificer purposely dropped it. The piece was so bruised by the fall that it seemed hopelessly ruined, but the metal worker took his hammer, and in the presence of the court quickly repaired the damage. It was thus evident to all that the metal was not silver, though it presented an appearance as brilliant as that metal. Besides, it was more durable and much lighter.

The emperor, so Pliny relates, interrogated the metal worker, from whom it was learned that the mysterious metal had been extracted from an argillaceous earth, in all probability the clay known to modern chemists as alumina. Tiberius then asked whether any one but the metal worker knew of the process and received the reply that the secret was known only to the worker and Jupiter.

The answer was unfortunate, for, reasoned the emperor, if it were possible to obtain such a metal from so common a substance as clay, would not the value of gold and silver be reduced? Tiberius, it would seem, was determined to avert such a catastrophe, for he commanded the workshops of the discoverer of the new metal to be destroyed and the luckless man himself to be decapitated, so that the secret might die with him.

Did the cruelty of Tiberius deprive the world for centuries of the use of the metal aluminium?

Sequel to an Amusing Mistake.

An amusing story is told of Mr. McKinnon Wood, who succeeded in holding his own in the St. Rollox bye-election. The wife of "Mr. Speaker" introduced Mr. Wood, at a reception, to a lady, having previously mentioned that she was about to make him acquainted with the wife of a member of the Russian Duma.

Mr. McKinnon Wood, being unable to speak the language of the Slavs, felt somewhat embarrassed, and endeavored to explain, by signs and smiles, his lingual deficiency. The lady, somewhat to his surprise, though, perhaps, to his relief, said, "I would much prefer to converse in English," and added that she was Mrs. Austen Chamberlain. Mrs. Lowther, quite inadvertently, had introduced Mr. McKinnon Wood to the wrong lady.

It is not, perhaps, generally known that the member for the St. Rollox Division was originally intended for the Bar, but instead took up business as a merchant. He made his mark on the London County Council, and is rather "learned," having contributed several articles to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Middy's Trip.

The Earl of Bessborough, who has completed his sixty-first year, is a man of affairs, with a varied career. For some years he was in the royal navy, serving as a midshipman under the late Duke of Cambridge, and sailing round the world. Later he read for the Bar, to which he was called in 1879, and then took up Parliamentary secretarial work, serving in that capacity to Lord Stalbridge and Mr. Speaker Peel.

For many years past Lord Bessborough has been engaged in numerous business enterprises, and four years ago followed Lord Cottesloe as chairman of the London, Brighton, and South Coast Railway.

Modest Abbe Delille.

It is said that the French Abbe Delile once had in his household a very quick tempered relative, with whom he sometimes had animated disputes and who sometimes went so far as to throw books at the abbe. The abbe must have been a person of great amiability and self control. Once, when a particularly large and heavy volume was thrown at him, he caught it gracefully and said:

"My dear friend, I must beg of you to remember that I prefer smaller gifts."

Sock and Buskin.

The expression "sock and buskin," which literally means comedy and tragedy, found its origin in the "soccus," the Latin name of the low shoe worn by the ancient comic actors, and the buskin, a contraction of the French word "brossequin," remotely derived from the Greek "bursa," a hide or high soled shoe worn by the ancient tragedians to increase their height. The soccus reached to the ankle only, whereas the buskin extended to the knee.

Cookery and Government.

Rossini, the Italian composer, said a droll thing on the unification of Italy when some one asked his opinion on this matter. He replied that he thought it very difficult if not impossible to affect the unity for the simple reason that the Neapolitans eat nothing but macaroni, the Florentines nothing but fagiuoli and the Lombards only polenta, while the Piedmontese swallow all they can get. "It is clear," he said, "that uniformity of cookery must precede unity of government."

A POOR TYPE OF CITIZEN.

The Good Man Who Lives by and Exclusively For Himself.

I know a certain type of man who poses as a good citizen, says Bert Walker. He breaks no laws, lives morally, pays his honest debts and is never tangled up in lawsuits. But he lives of himself, by himself and for himself only.

When a call is issued for volunteers to take hold of the car of progress and give a lift he never answers. When calamity has befallen people in a certain locality and charitable humanity flies to their rescue he is never one of their number. When money is needed to gild the spire of public enterprise his name is never on the list. When he sees some neighbor stuck in the mud he goes around to avoid him. In fact, were he standing on the shore and should observe the ship of state fast sinking in the surf, never a life line would he throw. He didn't bore the hole in the side of the vessel that lets in the water, so it is none of his concern what happens.

But were all mankind made of this kind of clay have you ever thought what would happen? There would be no churches, no hospitals for the sick, no institutions for the unfortunate nor rest rooms for the weary. Civilization would roam in jungles and the strongest would rule. He is not a good citizen, but gets mad if you say so.—Kansas City Journal.

Wagers In an Old Betting Book.

Many events of human life figure in the old betting book of Brooks'. The frequency of bets on births is illustrated by Lord Mountford's answer when he was asked whether his daughter was going to present him with a grandchild: "Upon my word, I do not know. I have no bet upon it." Eight bets running in Sheridan's name range from the question whether the French had occupied Amsterdam to the question whether the shortest way from one house to another was by Sackville street or Bond street. There are fifty guineas on the double event that Lord Ilchester gives his first vote in opposition and hits eight out of his first ten pheasants, and "Lord Clermont has given Mr. Crawford ten guineas upon the condition of receiving £500 from him whenever Mr. Charles Fox shall be worth £100,000 clear of debts."—London Chronicle.

Cupid's Target—A Game.

In the game Cupid's darts are shot from a small bow by each child in turn at a heart shaped target of white with a smaller red heart for a bullseye. The one whose dart comes nearest the middle of the bullseye may receive a gayly beribboned bow and arrow for a prize.

The Two Echoes.

Two echoes, each with mouth and ears,
Lived peacefully for many years
Till one, not meaning to offend,
Said: "Let me hear your voice, my friend.
I know my voice is very fine,
But which is finer, yours or mine?"
"Mine," said the other, loud and clear.
"Mine," said the first in tones severe.
"Mine," said the other echo next.
"Mine," said the first one, rather vexed.
And "mine" was all that they would say,
And neither of them would give way.
For, though most echoes can be mute,
If spoken to they will dispute,
And I am sure these always will,
For there they are disputing still.

Cooking is a pleasure when you have a "McClary" Gas Range in your kitchen

You wouldn't think of lighting the furnace during the intense heat of summer. Why persist in cooking on a coal range during the hot weather? GAS is a much cheaper fuel than coal—far more convenient and easier on the cook in the summer time. Any McClary gas range pays for itself very quickly in the actual money it saves.

The Model shown in the cut is "McClary's" latest production and therefore the greatest range value there is.

The first glance convinces you that your comfort and convenience have been studied by the designers and builders of this range. It is quite apparent that you can cook a big dinner on this range without being crowded. The big roomy Oven is placed high. The Broiler is also elevated. There is no "stooping or bending" over this range.

Like other "McClary" ranges, this model has the white enamelled broiler and drip pans. Also Anti-Rust linings which add to the life of the range. The body is finished in bright, black enamel, and is easy to clean.

Just see the many styles of "McClary" gas ranges at your dealer's. All "McClary" gas ranges can be changed from artificial to natural gas in a few moments if necessary—see them and pick out the gas range that suits you best. 503

Good eyesight is essential to health comfort and appearance. Have you ever noticed a strained look on your face, or your friend's? Usually this comes from eyestrain. More wrinkles are caused by eyestrain than by age. Thousands unconsciously squint in an effort to adapt the eyes to the surroundings. Success in releaving eyestrain depends entirely upon the OPTICAL SKILL of the Specialist who prescribes the glasses. Neglect of the eyes many times leads to surgical operations, which glasses worn in time may prevent. We correct errors of vision by means of properly fitted lenses.

We have every modern appliance for accurate eyesight testing, and we grind all our own lenses. Thus assuring you accuracy and promptness. All work guaranteed.

BERNHARDT AND REJANE

The association of two world-famous artists such as Sarah Bernhardt and Rejane, is an event that compels the attention of all theatre-lovers. The announcement, therefore, that these two actresses will be seen here shortly in their most successful individual roles is one that will be generally welcomed. The occasion will be the reproduction of "Camille" Dumas' masterpiece, and "Mme Sans-Gene," one of Sardou's most intensely vivid dramas.

In these two plays Bernhardt and Rejane, with their respective companies ,recently played in Paris, and a special cinematograph recorded the incomparable art of both in films that are likely, in the opinion of the greatest of French critics, to prove historic.

It took months of argument and finally a cash payment of $30,000 to induce Bernhardt to act for the moving picture records. But when the films were reeled off for the first time, and she saw herself portraying the role she has made more famous, perhaps, than any other in her long and brilliant career, she exclaimed—"At last I am immortal I am a film!"

The moving pictures thus produced, created a sensation when first shown in Paris, and other European centres speedily endorsed the verdict of the French critics that nothing like them had been shown before. Particular emphasis is laid by all the commentors on the significant fact that, for the first time, moving pictures have been made which are absolutely devoid of any suggestion of that flickering which has been the seemingly ineradicable feature of all cinematograph films hitherto.

So delighted is Bernhardt herself with the success of the experiment that she intends to act "L'Aiglon," and later, other plays from her repertoire, for the cinematograph. "I rely for my immortality on these films," she has stated, and Edmond Rostand, the great dramatist who wrote "L'Aiglon" for her, told her after witnessing the reproduction of "Camille," after the first series of pictures had been taken— "Madame you have ennobled the film."

These pictures will be exhibited at the Grand Opera House on Friday and Saturday evenings, the 24th and 25th May, with matinee both days at 2.30.

WEDDING BELLS

BYERS—FORD.

The following is from the Winnipeg Telegram:

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Matthew's church on Tuesday afternoon, March 12th, when Rev. R. B. McElheran united in marriage Jared Kimble Ford, of Peterborough, Ont., and Miss Katie Florence Byers, 711 Portage ave., Winnipeg. The bride was given away bay her brother-in-law, W. E. Mitchell. She was becomingly gowned in cream satin trimmed with applique and pearls, wearing a large black picture hat with willow plumes, and carried a beautiful bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Cunningham, who wore a shot silk dress with Persian trimmings and cream lingerie hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridegroom was supported by H. S. Byers brother of the bride. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was one hundred dollars in gold, to the bridesmaid a pearl and opal ring, nad to the best man a pearl tiepin. After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. H. Byers, where a dainty dinner was served and the newly married couple received the congratulations of their friends. A telegram of congratulation was also received from the bride's brothers, of Los Angeles Cal. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents. The bride's travelling costume was of navy blue tailored broadcloth. Mr. and Mrs. Ford left on the C.P.R. for points west.

The Peterborough Light & Power Company's showroom will be open on Tuesday, Thursday & Saturday evenings during May and June from 8 to 10 p.m., for the convenience of those wishing to secure gas appliances, or to arrange for gas connections. 5d

JEANNE TOWLER IN "THE WHITE SISTER"

No play that has been presented in late years has been universally praised and endorsed by the press and public of this country, as Viola Allen's latest success "The White Sister" in which the gifted actress Jeanne Towler and a strong supporting company will appear at the Grand Opera House, on Wednesday, May 22nd. The Chicago Tribune says: "The White Sister is a play every Catholic should be sure to see, but is a play so cleverly written that the people of every creed will enjoy it to the fullest extent." This same sentiment was echoed by the critics of New York and Boston and in fact of the whole country.

The White Sister' notwithstanding its title is essentially for amusement seekers. It is a human story of the romantic love of an Italian maid and her soldier hero, and throbs with all the conflicting emotion the human soul is capable of. The scenes are laid in and around an Italian convent and in the apartments of the soldier. The interest is aroused from the rise of the first curtain and keeps increasing until the final fall of the last. It is a real play. Seats now on sale at Box Office, Grand Opera House.

When you visit the Summer Fair in the Armories be sure and go to the Summer Booth, there you will find the choicest Refreshments, Ice Cream, etc. Be sure to come to the Summer Booth. 2d

PRESENTATION TO REV. BRACE; IS IN CALEDONIA

The Caledonia Banner has the following reference to Rev. A. H. Brace, now of Caledonia and formerly pastor at Park Street Baptist church.

The Rev. A. H. Brace, the new Baptist minister, faced a congregation on Sunday morning which was both large and representative.

Mr. Brace is well-known in the Baptist church and for a number of years officiated with much acceptance at Dunnville, where he placed the finances of the church on a sound basis. He was latterly in Almonte, Ont., and left there amid the many expressions of regret at his departure from all sects and denominations. A special meeting of the Orange Order was called to bid Mr. Brace farewell of which association, he was the retiring Chaplain. Bro. Shipman, one of the leading merchants on behalf of the Order, presented him with a gold-mounted umbrella of very chaste design, while Mr. McDonald, principal of the Public School, read the following address—

To the Rev. A. H. Brace,
Honorary Chaplain, L.O.L. 378,
Almonte, Ontario.

Dear Brother Brace -Having learned of your intention of leaving Almonte in a few days for another field of labor in our great country; we, the officers and members of L.O.L., 378, on this occasion of our last meeting together with you as our Honorary Chaplain, beg leave to express to you our appreciation of your work in the interests of the Orange Association

During the time you have been in Almonte, your influence and example have been a great benefit and encouragement to us. We regret very much that more of our Protestant ministers do not take a similar interest and stand in the much needed work of our Association.

We trust that you and Mrs. Brace may long be spared to continue your good work and influence wherever you may be.

Deeply regretting your departure from among us; we desire in parting to tender you this memorial of our affection and respect, and beg of you to accept this gold-tipped umbrella; not for its intrinsic value, but as a rememberance or souvenir of our appreciation of your services and influence among us.

Signed on behalf of the Officers and Members of L.O.L., 378, Almonte, this 29th day of April, 1912.

WILLIAM ALLEN, W. Master
FRANCIS COULTER, Secretary
L.O.L. 378

The Banner congratulates the Caledonia Baptist church on its selection of Rev. Mr. Brace as their pastor.

DR. SHEARER ASKS CITY TO PAY FOR KEEP OF GIRL

An illustration of the truth of the statements of Rev. J. G. Shearer in Knox church yesterday, has come under the notice of the city authorities through a letter addressed to the municipality from the above mentioned minister regarding a young Peterborough girl at present in the Redemptive home for girls in Toronto.

The letter states that the young girl referred to lived in Peterborough for some time until she was betrayed by a young man of this city. The girl was sent to Toronto and lodged in the Redemptive Home for Girls through the kindness of the Temperance and Moral Reform Society. She is a fine bright girl, so the letter states, and the circumstances of her undoing are particularly unfortunate.

The municipality of Toronto will not undertake to bear the expense of the young girl's keep in the Redemptive Home, which amounts to about $4.90 per week, and Rev. Mr. Shearer requests that the city provide for her maintenance there during an illness caused by her moral downfall.

Mr. Pappas of the Royal Theatre, has engaged Jack Leonard, of the Red Mill, as head operator. Mr. Leonard has not been operating at the Red Mill for a few weeks on account of sickness.

Mr. and Mrs John Reycraft of Ridgetown announce the engagement of their daughter, Maude, to Ernest H. Mitton of Edmonton. The wedding will take place the first week in June. Miss Reycraft is a sister of Mrs. (Dr.) F. C. Neal, and has been a frequent visitor in the city.

Nicholl's Oval

On account of the wet weather the Nicholls Oval is not in condition for use and will be closed until further notice. The Nicholls Park Commissioners are anxious to have the Oval fit for continuous use by the public but until more favorable weather conditions this is impossible.

The J. D. McArthur Company, of Winnipeg, are practically pushing on the work of constructing the new Grand Trunk Pacific entrance to that city and expect to have all the filling completed before the end of June. Five crews are working at the present time a daily average of 300 cars of gravel.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE

Peterborough May May 24 and 25, Matinee Both Days at 2,30.

The coming to this city within a few days of the first permenent record of the art of Sarah Bernhardt, in the shape of a complete cinematograph film, which shows the great tragedienne and her brilliant company playing "Camille," is likely to attract no little interest, for it is an event of exceptional significance. The films, which will be shown at the Grand Opera House commencing May 23rd, will show all the thrilling and poignant scenes; none have been omitted; the spoken word alone is missing, and the genius of Bernhardt, as exemplified and made plain in these pictures, supplies that.

It took the cinematograph people a long, long time to persuade Mme. Bernhardt that she ought to play for moving pictures. She had a prejudice against it. She could not be brought to realise precisely what it meant. After years of ineffectual persuasion, however, she at last consented.

Not before she had visited many moving picture shows in Paris, had taken cinematograph to all her friends, had considered the question from every conceivable standpoint. But once she decided, she was all enthusiasm. She assembled her splendid company,—the same company that toured this country with her last year,—and after various rehearsals for time purposes, they played "Camille"—played it, the London Daily Telegraph affirms, as it had never been played before.

The result astounded nobody more than Bernhardt herself. "Why, if I had seen myself in rehearsals in moving pictures, the same as I see myself now," she exclaimed to Edmond Rostand, who sat with her watching the films reeled off. "I would have been a much better actress."

And Rostand made the graceful response: "Madame, you have ennobled the film."

Immediately following Bernhardt's example came a famous compatriot of hers—Mme. Rejane. She played in "Mme. Sans-Gene," and she, too, found the result something exceeding all her expectations. Both films will be shown at the Grand Opera House, commencing May 23rd, for two nights and matinees, and as there is no elimination of great scenes, the audience will see two famous figures of the stage in their two most popular roles.

A notable feature of these pictures is that, owing to the care taken in preparing for their production here, there is not the slightest suggestion of that flickering which is the usual accompaniment of the ordinary moving pictures. These are absolutely steady, immobile in fact, save for the movement of the figures in them.

A prepared screen with an aluminum-faced surface enhances the clearness of each picture, and the most prominent dramatic critics of France and England have borne testimony to the fact that the reproduction of "Camille" is atmospheric to a degree nobody could believe who had not seen the film run off.

LEAVING THE CHURCH OF MANY HAPPY MEMORIES

Rev. J. R. Webb Urges That His Congregation Strive for Greater Things in Their New Edifice.

The old Murray street Baptist church, which for nearly three decades has been the beloved worshipping place of the large congregation witnessed last evening what was in all probability the final Sabbath day service of praise, ever to be held within its walls. Next Sunday, circumstances being favorable, the congregation will assemble in their handsome new edifice, which is designated as one of the most striking and attractive buildings in the city. In architectural arrangement and design and in rich comfortable furnishings, the new church will excel, or at the very least, compare most favorably with any place of worship in Peterborough.

Nevertheless it was with mingled feelings; with satisfaction tinged with regret, that one of the largest congregations for some time gathered in the old church last night. The members appeared to realize and feel the solemnity of the occasion.

Rev J. R. Webb, the pastor delivered a sermon very appropiate. His selections of a text from Psalm 137 5-6 was "If I forget thee O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning. If I do not remember thee let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy."

The pastor referred to the words of the text as the plaintive cry of an exiled people; the dirge sounded by the people of Israel when captives in Babylon. They were the people of whom Charles Spurgeon said, nothing could subdue; the oppression of men could not down them. Continuing, the pastor briefly analysed the real meaning of the text. He pointed out the immensity of the promise contained in the words, and of the captive people's sworn determination never to forsake the temples of their God. They were willing to sacrifice everything, even life itself for the joy of clinging fast to their God.

The pastor then likened the feelings of the congregation, as somewhat similar in a sense, to the feelings experience by the people referred to in the text.

"The words in the text are strong expressions," he said, "but yet we often find their echo in our hearts."

"The people of Israel were looking back and scores of people in this congregation are doing the same thing to-night."

One dear old lady in the congregation, to whom the pastor had been speaking last week, said to him — "Mr Webb, I love that old church, as I do my own home," and verily no one loved her home more dearly than did that old lady. "There is a pang in the hearts of many to-night," continued the pastor, "as they think of this service, the last to be held in the old edifice." We think of this church, to-night as home, and it is no disparagement of the new church to say, that there are some things that neither art nor money can replace. A thousand sweet memories are binding us to this place. Many are sitting in the pews where their fathers and mothers sat. The spirits of those who have departed to the better land, seem to hover around you in your pew, and who knows but what the spirits of hundreds who have worshipped here, are brooding around you

The pastor feelingly recalled memories of the seven pastors of Murray street church during the twenty eight years of its life. There were Rev. Mr Munro, the man of culture, Rev. Clifton Carter, called the whirlwind, Rev. John Trotter, of peculiarly sensitive nature, Rev. Mr. Bastow, the buoyant, young in heart, though old in years, and Freeman Scott, who went to foreign lands in response to the Master's call, and lastly, the present pastor, Rev. Mr. Webb.

In conclusion the pastor urged all to emulate the resolutions of the captive Israelites, and occupy their new place of worship with the determination to strive more than ever to live the life of the Master, and make the future different, to press on to the things before, and forget the things of the past.

BISHOP DOWLING CELEBRATES HIS SILVER ANNIVERSARY

LET THE SAD PAST BE FORGOTTEN

WITH NO APOLOGY TO THE CITY LEAGUE TEAMS

Just two short days fall in between the game that's billed throughout, the opening card; then fans and fems with peanut bags, can beat it to the old ball yard. We've been there many times before, and slept or watched those punk teams score; sometimes we didn't care at all, if some one lost the last dime ball. 'Twas all the same, each day we went, it seemed as though each team was bent, to rub it in; we raved and moaned and shed great tears, and sad but true, sometimes we found relief alone in beers. The ball was biffed all o'er the lot, and oftimes thrown and never sought; 'twould take a week to find the pill; it often hit the porridge mill, and other times by devious peg, it struck the drink, and wild with joy passed on—to sink. But now, we've something new; 'tis said we'll get the best that's in the biz, and henceforth none will find their way to stand and watch their favorite fiz. Let the rest keep; 'tis all too sad, the West Ends lost their bats, the Straths their pad; the Park street bunch repose; please let them sleep and thus forget those deeds that made us weep.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A BASE HIT AND AN ERROR

Baseball Expert Expounds Intricate Scoring Rule That Causes so Much Discussion.

So far as known the nearest thing to a definition distinguishing an error from a base hit that will cover almost every case is one which tradition credits to the late Harry Wright, inventor of a form for scoring baseball which still is in use in spite of many efforts to improve on it. The definition was something like this:

When a chance offered a fielder is so difficult that the play would be applauded if completed, the fielder should not be charged with an error for missing the play.

In other words, it is not just to penalize a player who gets after everything within reach if he does not get everything. Because a man will get nine out of ten hard chances it is no sign he should be punished for missing the tenth. It is equally an injustice to rob a batsman of a hit out of reach that only uncommon skill enables an opponent to reach it. The opponent will rob him of enough such hits by brilliant plays without having the scorers take away any of them.

The official code of rules is not as explicit regarding errors as in the matter of hits, most of the remarks about errors being devoted to explaining when an error is not an error. Here are the more impotant clauses:

An error shall be given for each misplay which prolongs the time at bat for the batsman or allows a base runner to make one or more bases when perfect play would have insured his being put out. But a base on balls, base awarded to a batsman by being struck by a pitched ball, a balk, a passed ball, or wild pitch shall not be included, etc.

An error shall not be charged against the catcher for a wild throw in an attempt to complete a double play unless the throw be so wild that an additional base is gained.

In the event of a fielder dropping a fly but recovering the ball in time to force a runner at another base, he shall be exempted from an error.

In the first of these rules the "misplay which prolongs a time at bat, "is of course the muff of a foul fly. Many fans believe the old rule still is in force that a muffed fly does not count as an error unless the batsman afterwards reaches first base. It makes no difference what happens to the batsman afterwards.

The second clause needs no explanation, but the third is misread by some experienced scorers. It means that the player who in a hurried attempt to complete a double play fails to do so on account of a bad throw shall not be penalized unless the throw gives a runner an additional base. Some have interpreted it to exempt from error the man who muffs a throw that would have completed a double play if the ball had been held. The clause applies to throws, not to muffs.

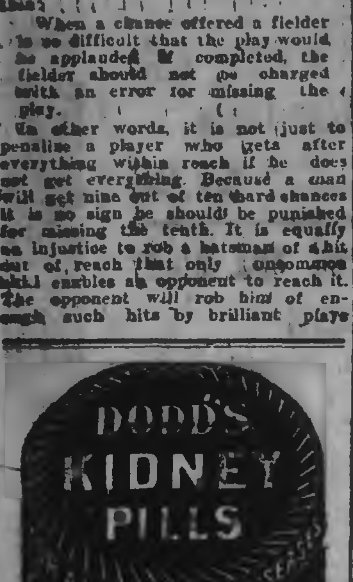
The last clause quoted settles a point often fiercely argued in the stands When a fielder muffs a fly ball but throws to second or third in time to force out another runner the side at bat has gained no advantage. So there is no error any more than when an infielder throws to second instead of to first to retire a man.

Many patrons wonder why pitchers are not given more errors. It is because the great majority of hits that come to the pitcher, even on a straight first bound, come so quickly that he has no time accurately to judge the bound, hence it requires more than ordinary skill to cope with them. The pitcher is only a little over sixty feet from the bat.

The infielder in his natural position is two or three times as far away. On bunts the pitcher usually must turn around after fielding the ball, while the infielder has the play more nearly in front of him, consequently does not have to hurry as fast as a rule. And the necessity for haste enters into the question of errors. Few scorers charge errors on plays which absolutely must be made with one hand and which are missed.

Many times it is difficult to decide whether a misplay is a wild throw or a muff by the receiver. Some low throws to first base are easier to catch if the ball hits the ground than if it just fails to do so. But the usual practice is to charge the thrower with the error when the baseman fails to hold a ball that hits the ground. Wide or high throws are charged to the thrower if the baseman's foot is pulled off the bag, or if, in the scorer's judgement, the baseman muffed the ball because he could not squarely reach it.

The opposite applies to throws made by outfielders, for the outfielder is supposed to throw so that the ball will come to the receiver on the first bound. It is not his fault if the receiver fails to stop it. But an overthrow or a ball that strikes so near the receiver that it comes to him on a short or "three-quarters" bound, is the fault of the outfielder.



BREEZES FROM THE DIAMOND

The Petes lost another hard luck game Saturday, Brantford winning 7—6.

The Red Sox got after Durr in the the first two innings for four runs Schaefer replaced him and made a good showing in his first box work.

The hits were 6 and 12, the homesters getting the dozen.

Earl Hartman with the bags all busy in the fourth smashed out a home run.

The Caps were leading at the eigth, but Brantford took the game with two runs in the ninth.

Dolgn was prominent in the batting, lacing out two hits.

Besides his circuit crack, Hartman had a double.

The Petes play at St. Thomas today and to-morrow.

London dropped the first game to St. Thomas, and Guelph stopped Hamilton by 7 to 1.

Seven thousand fans watched the Ottawas trim the Berlin champs.

The Mackmen can thank Ty Cobb for the opportunity to boost their batting averages.

The Tigers refused to play Saturday and a scratch team was battered by the Athletics to the tune of 24—2. When the champions had finished 28 hits had been gathered.

Sunday baseball has commenced at the ball grounds in Hull, Que.

While it is not generally known, Connie Mack once gave up hope for Jack Coombs, now one of the best in the business. Mack had decided to make a scout of Coombs when the transformation took place.

On Saturday afternoon the bankers ball team had a good workout, on the central school grounds.

Saturday afternoon at the Exhibitions grounds, W. Barrie's and O. Kenneally's teams met. Kenneally's team won out by the score of 16 to 12. MacSwantson did the heaving for the losers. He pitched a good game but was given poor support. Ernie Rahmel, who pitched for Peterboro last year, twirled for the winners.

Batteries—Rahmel and Kenneally. Swantson and Taylor.

Advertiser.—Umpire Bill Pearson made a good impression. He gave a couple of decisions that did not appear to be just the right thing, but his work was marked with a fairness and earnestness all the way through, and he should become a great favorite with the fans.

Experience In a Desert.

On one occasion Dr. Sven Hedin, the explorer, and a companion narrowly escaped death in the waterless wastes of the great desert of Takla-Makan. The tracks of the party were being covered by drifting sand, and sand clouds made day as black as night.

After three weeks of misery, the camels and some of the men died, and at last only Dr. Hedin and one man were able to continue the journey. Arriving at the wooded banks of a river, Dr. Hedin left his companion stretched out, unable to speak, under the shade of the trees, only to find it dried up.

Struggling on to the opposite bank, he heard a splash; a wild duck flew past him, and stood on the edge of a little pool of fresh, clear water. After satisfying his thirst, he filled his boots with water for his comrade.

BETTER FOOTBALL IN CHURCH LEAGUE GAME

KNOX SCORED SHUTOUT

KNOX 2 PARK ST. 0

At the Park street grounds, on Saturday afternoon, Knox's defeated the Park street eleven by taking the big end of a 2 to 0 score. The play was of better calibre than that put up in the previous matches, but, however, the wind was responsible for a considerable amount of misplay, which in the second half, cost the Baptists a couple of goals. Both defences were sound, and the work of the half-backs on both teams, is accountable for the low score. The Scotchmen played well together, and their forwards undoubtedly combined better than did the Park St. five, but the day's play would have been well represented by a draw.

Both teams were at full strength and the class of ball put up by both aggregations, is just a sample of what is to follow in the race for the trophy.

The teams lined up as follows—

Knox
Calledine
Gribb Knight
Leiard Hull Pearson
Hardie Lawrence
Denton French Irwin

Hotston Milburn Hotston
Gregson Sparrow
Smith Pagett Hoscar
Mason Brawn

Eton's Threepenny Day.

A quaint custom still survives at Eton on what is known as Threepenny Day. Every year the Provost (or his deputy) presents each of the collegers, beginning with the lowest, with a threepenny piece. Threepenny Day was kept a few days ago at the famous school. Provost Bost (1477-1504) originated the custom by leaving a sum which gives each colleger twopence, and Provost Lupton (1504-35) left them the extra penny.

The late Mr. Montagu Williams, in his "Leaves of a Life," refers to the custom as follows: "On one day in the year every colleger was entitled to receive threepence, or half a sheep, threepence being the value of half a sheep at the time the statute was passed. On the appointed day, while the 'Tugs' were at dinner, Bursar Bethell would come into the hall and give each boy a threepenny piece, but never offering him the alternative of half a sheep. On one occasion a small and impertinent young Tug, named Branwell, when offered the coin, turned round to the Bursar and said, 'No, thank you, sir, I want my half sheep.' Bethell flew into an awful rage and exclaimed, 'I'll mention this matter to Dr. Hawtrey, and have you flogged.' After three o'clock school the wretched Branwell was accordingly sent for, handed over to the two holders-down, and duly punished."

Kitchener Stranded.

Ex-Police Sergeant Rayment, the man who was the innocent cause of Lord Kitchener being stranded on the river bank at Ambukol, in one of the Egyptian campaigns for two days without food, has been presented with a marble clock on his retirement, after serving 25 years in the London police force, 18 of which have been spent at South Norwood. Rayment served as a telegraphist in the Royal Engineers, and was deputed to take a boatload of supplies to Kitchener, who was then acting as intelligence officer. Desertion on the part of his Bashi-Bazouk helpers was one of the reasons which delayed him on his journey, and on his arrival the first words he heard from Kitchener were: "Good heavens, man, where have you been? We thought you had got killed. Hurry out with something. I have had nothing to eat for two days."

Accident Insurance

Following the Titanic Disaster no one will think of travelling without first taking out an Accident Policy.

It is interesting to know that practically all the Canadians who lost their lives through the Titanic wreck carried Accident Insurance. The average amount to be paid by Accident Companies alone, is over $30,000 for each Canadian lost.

The Double Indemnity and Bonus feature of The Dominion of Canada and General Accident Assurance Company policies are worthy of investigation before placing your Insurance.

A PUPIL OF FARADAY

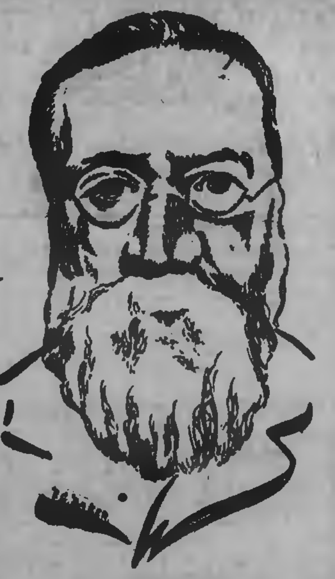
SIR WILLIAM PREECE IS GREAT INVENTOR'S SUCCESSOR.

Illustrious British Electrician Is the Survivor of a Famous Line of Helpers of Mankind and Is Responsible For the Modern Telegraph System In Its Present Perfection—Received Many Distinctions.

It is just forty-five-and-a-half years since Michael Faraday died. Would you believe that one of his closest associates is still living? During the last years of the great magician's life, William Henry Preece, now a knight and holder of innumerable titular distinctions, was his assistant. Great as have been Sir William's achievements in the world of electricity, this fact of his association with that master mind is to all of us who know the fact, a prime romance.

"Give me," Faraday could say, "give me health and a day and I will make the pomp of emperors ridiculous." One of his creations was young William Henry Preece. Sir Humphry Davy, you will remember, when they praised him for his discoveries, quickly answered, "My best discovery was Michael Faraday," and your beloved Faraday would have said very much the same thing, applying the words to Preece. For Preece has complemented the work of these two giants, as he has put a crown of practical effectiveness upon the work of Alexander Graham Bell.

He has made the dreams of the seers realities in our everyday life, and to the works of others he has added achievements of his own which their lives were not long enough to compass. We owe this illustrious Briton to Faraday, for, had there been no Faraday, fame would never have known Preece. Faraday was his hero, idol, and guiding star, and to become the pupil and assistant of that splendid genius was as great an event in the life of Sir William Preece as was the day in Faraday's life when he became the pupil and assistant of Sir Humphry Davy.



SIR WILLIAM PREECE.

The British Government did not believe in the electric telegraph. Had they not publicly and officially declared that they had no use for the new invention; that the old semaphore, worked by hand, such as we still see in ships, was good enough for the British Empire! But the people with whom young Preece threw in his lot thought that there was a use for the electric telegraph.

Many companies started in business, the railway companies among the first. The thing went quietly on its way until Tawell, the Quaker, committed a murder and escaped from the Midlands to London. He was seen to depart by train, and the news—the first real news message ever sent by wire—was flashed to London. It was almost a failure, because the telegraph alphabet did not then include a sign for "Q," and the word "Quaker" had to be spelt over the wire "Kwaker," which puzzled the receiving clerk so long that Tawell almost escaped. But the message was deciphered in time; Tawell was tracked, arrested, and executed, and people, as they rode along the railways, used to point to the telegraph wires, and say, "Them's the cords wot hung Tawell, the Quaker."

That gave the electric telegraph its first hold upon the public imagination, and when things had got a real start, the British Government awoke to find that there really was something in the invention, that they had pitched away incredibly valuable monopolies, and, if you please, they had to pay ten millions sterling for the right to take over the telegraphs of the country. Sir William entered the postoffice very soon after the transfer, and he was one of the finest assets that the nation as telegraph-owner has ever possessed. He has made the British telegraph system what it is.

An Answer For Kipling.

On one occasion Mr. Rudyard Kipling was visiting a bookseller's shop and began casually to turn over some of the books, entering into conversation with the shopman as he did so. "Is this good?" he asked suddenly, taking up a volume. "I don't know; I've not read it," replied the bookseller. Kipling frowned. "A bookseller," he said, with mock solemnity, "and you don't read your own books?" "If I were a druggist,' answered the bookseller, "would you expect me to take my own drugs?"

DR. SHEARER STRIKES NOTE OF WARNING ON BEHALF OF YOUNG GIRLS OF THIS CITY

He Says There is a Gang of Young Fellows Planning Their Downfall — Tells of the Work Being Done by Social and Moral Reform Service — Responsibility for Each One of Us.

That there was a gang of young fellows around Peterborough deliberately and systematically and for a purpose, laying and prosecuting the plans for the downfall of young girls, was the rather startling statement placed before the congregation of Knox Presbyterian church by Rev. Dr. Shearer, secretary of the Social and Moral Reform Service, as he occupied the pulpit at the morning service yesterday and told of the work being done by that department, of the Presbyterian church. He further stated that in the Home at Toronto were two girls who had come from Peterborough, they having fallen and been rescued.

"I happen to know," said the speaker in referring to his statement regarding Peterborough. "You don't have to live in a city to know. We learn a great many things in our work of rescue and its easy to verify what we hear. There's need here for work in the interests of social living, otherwise more of our sisters will go down into the depths."

Rev. Dr. Shearer took his text from Proverbs 24; 11, 12: "If thou forbear to deliver them that are drawn unto death and those that are ready to be slain; if thou sayest, behold we knew it not; doth not He that pondereth the heart consider it? and He that keepeth thy soul, doth not He know? and shall not He render unto every man according to his works?"

In his introductory remarks, the preacher sought to show an affirmative answer for the question of Cain, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

He explained that the ministry of Jesus Christ while on earth was primarily to the body. Now the ministry was to the spiritual side of man and it was for each one of us to do everything up to our limit.

Some people said of the church to-day that it tried to get people into heaven when they died and not get heaven for them while they lived. Again, some men thought that a full dinner pail and an adequate wage was heaven. The first was partly true but the second not correct. Nothing but the coming of Jesus Christ would bring heaven.

Rev. Dr. Shearer referred to the fact of the Presbyterian church and other churches having recognised their obligations to minister to the victimized in society of every class and kind. The Master called us to show our Christianity by getting down with the lowest classes, to minister to them and lift them up.

Our religion needed strengthening up, we could not brush up against the man in the gutter. We were not His followers if we were afraid of getting our religion soiled by getting down with the lowest.

HELPING THE VICTIMS.

The Social Service and Evangelism was a ministry of mercy to those victimized, through agencies such as the desecration of the Lord's Day; the curse of intemperance; immoral literature and obscene pictures; workshop conditions and lastly victims of social vice.

NO SABBATH FOR 150,000.

Speaking of the desecration of the Lord's Day, which was caused by greedy corporations or the selfishness of the great crowd, the preacher said that before the Lord's Day Alliance was formed 150,000 Canadians had no Sabbath at all. Those who had never been robbed of the Sabbath failed to recognise it's blessing. The water was never missed till the well ran dry. It was an unspeakable blessing. The Alliance had since restored rest to 100,000.

"We'll be guilty before Jesus Christ if we rest until every man is guaranteed one day in the week and as much as possible that day falling on the Lord's Day," said Dr. Shearer. He explained the awful consequences as a result of the sacrifice to the curse of drink. This was 6,000 lives every year in the Dominion of Canada.

"Think of it all and tell me if you dare," said he, "that you can fold your hands in selfish indifference and say I have no responsibility."

BOUND TO FIGHT.

"We're bound to fight the battle of liberty for the slaves of drink—for him and his—at any cost to ourselves. Will He not render unto every man according to his work?

Speaking of the great evil of the immoral literature and obscene pictures the reverend gentleman said, "the man or woman who will engage or cause the distribution of these is one hundred fold worse than the man who will shoot me down in my tracks as I leave this church."

Is there anything more beautiful than a pure minded boy? Then why should such as these be hung up in his mental gallery?

One million prints of one kind—enough to damn the whole nation—had been put out of circulation by the department and the speaker said he humbly thanked God for his share in this work. The part the department was taking in assisting the victims amidst industrial struggles to secure better conditions for body, mind and spirit was referred to by the speaker, and he next proceeded to speak of the victims of what men called social vice. Knowing what he did, he did not dare to pass it by. "I happen to know," he said, "thousands upon thousands of fair young girls are finding their way every year through the gate over which can be read, they who enter here leave hope behind.

THE UNDERWORLD

"In the great country to the south of us most intelligent students tell us that the number of girls who go down—few ever come back—varies from 25,000 to 60,000 every year. First virtue is lost, then courage of heart.

"God have mercy upon the chief offenders; they need it. But they are not the only ones. You parents are guilty."

They have a right to expect that you will take them into your confidence and give them the information and advice you know, so that they will be forewarned and forearmed and be able by His grace to stand and glorify His name by their victory of this sin. You can't shake off that responsibility."

Dr. Shearer conducted the evening service at St. Andrews Presbyterian church and preached a powerful sermon from the text,—"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." As a prelude to his remarks he paid a high compliment to the congregation for the progress they are making in religious life under the able leadership of their pastor, Rev. James Rollins. Toward the close he called for a volunteer in the rescue work in which his society is taking so active a part. If there is in Peterborough a lady with no taste for domestic duties, but who feels that she has a special call for the saving of fallen sisters, the society will be glad to receive her into the work.

EMPIRE DAY IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Study of the Empire and an Appropriate Program

In keeping with the regulations of the Department of Education, Empire Day, May 23, will be observed by the Public schools of the city.

The morning session will be devoted to the study of the Empire, and in the afternoon, members of the Board of Education will visit each of the schools, where addresses will be given and a patriotic program carried out.

RAILWAY BOARD TO MEET HERE

A meeting of the City Council is called for this evening, primarily to discuss the laying of sewers and sidewalks in the city, and the matter of railway crossings protection.

The city engineer will submit a list of streets on which it is proposed to lay sewers this season.

The Board of Railway Commissioners of Canada will hold a sitting at the Court House, Peterborough, Ont., on Friday, May 31st, at 9.30 a.m. to hear the following application in which the city is interested, namely, consideration of the matter of protection of the G.T.R. crossing at King street. The sitting originated from a complaint lodged by Mr. A. E. Birchard, 207 Reid street, regarding the dangerous condition of the above crossing, and also one on Sherbrooke street.

The Grand Trunk Railway has started to put cement fillings in overhead on the new subway at the Queen street crossing in Sunnyside, a suburb of Toronto. Construction of this kind of sub-way marks the advent of a new era of bridge work. Instead of the former method, the soft cement is now poured between the iron girders and held in places by means of boards. When dry it forms a binding support to the girders as well as preventing any refuse or dirt from falling on those below, thus doing away with the old tin guards which are in use at the King and Queen street sub-ways.

NEW SECRETARY FOR THE LIBERAL CONSERVATIVE ASS'N

A meeting of the executive of the West Riding Liberal-Conservative Association was held on Saturday evening; called to take action to fill two vacancies in the list of offices caused by the appointment to office of Mr. H. Phelan and Mr. Jas. Edgar, 1st Vice President and Secretary, respectively.

In the absence of Mr. Jas. Kendry, President, Mr. Wm. Buller, 2nd Vice President, filled the chair.

Following precedent Mr. Buller was elected 1st Vice President, Mr. T. T. Milburn, who had been 3rd vice, was made 2nd Vice President, and Mr. L. M. Hayes was elected 3rd Vice President, and Mr. Geo. Southwell, Secretary.

No other business coming up the meeting adjourned.

VISITING ORGANIST AT ST. PAUL'S RECITAL TO-NIGHT

At the services in St. Paul's church yesterday, Mr. John Allan, of Montreal, presided at the organ, and the congregation as a whole seemed to be very favorably impressed with his music. Mr. Allan, is at present organist at Cresent street Presbyterian church, Montreal, and is an applicant for the position of organist of St. Paul's church, made vacant by the resignation of Mr. John Crane.

A recital will be given to-night in St. Paul's church by Mr. Allan assisted by Miss Pearl Brock, soloist, of Charlotte street. After the recital the music committee will decide whether or not they will retain Mr. Allan's services.

Mr. Allan's experiences as organist have been very interesting. On several occasions he has played before Royalty. He played before the late King Edward VII. at Balmoral Castle, and for the present King and Queen Mary at Abergeldie Castle. At Mar Lodge he played before H. R. H. the Duchess and H.R.H. the Duke of Fife; at Glenmuck House, Haddo House, Mar Castle he played before the Queen of Spain, Princess Victoria of Schleswig, Holstein, and the Earl and Countess of Aberdeen. For several years Mr. Allan was in the United Free Church, Aberdeen and came to this country five years ago and was organist in Knox church, St. Thomas, but a little over a year ago he was called to the Crescent street church, Montreal.

Mrs. Allan, is also well known in Scotland, having become popular as a political and temperance speaker. She has travelled considerably in these interests and is a fine contralto soloist.

Mrs. Allan was one of the eight ladies of Scotland who were chosen to speak before the members of Parliament on the subject of Woman Suffrage.

STUDYING THE BOOK OF ESTHER AT ALL SAINT'S

At evensong at All Saints church yesterday, the rector, Rev. R. B. Grobb, continued his series of sermons from the book of Esther dealing particularly with the three arguments used by Mordecai upon Queen Esther, to induce her to enter the palace of King Ahasuerus and appeal to the King to withdraw the decree, called for the death of all the Jews. The study of the Book of Esther is a source of great interest to the parishioners of All Saints as is evidenced by the large congregations.

It was announced that the Bible class for young ladies and young men was now held in the morning at ten o'clock.

The installation of oil burning equipment in the "Prince Rupert," the Grand Trunk Pacific steamship has now been completed and trial trips are being made which, as in the case of her sister ship, the "Prince George," are expected to show a material increase in speed. Capt. Nicholson announces that the G.P. semi-weekly service to Prince Rupert from Vancouver will start on Thursday, May 9th. The Prince George will leave Vancouver on Mondays.

NEW ICE CREAM PARLOR OPENED

Dawson Bros. grocers at the corner of Park and McDonnell streets, are opening a nicely fitted out and inviting ice cream parlor on May 24th, in connection with their grocery business. The innovation should meet with highly acceptable results as Jackson Park strollers will now be afforded an opportunity of dropping in and patronizing this refreshment parlor. The firm will handle the best city dairy ice cream, by the pint or quart and also ice cream bricks. The parlors will be cool and comfortable and should prove successful from the outset.

DEATH OF GEORGE ALEXANDER KEEFER

The death of George Alexander Keefer, at Victoria, B.C., is announced. At one time he was chief engineer of the Belleville and North Hastings Junction railway from Belleville to Peterborough and he made the first exploration for a direct line from Ottawa to Toronto.

MARLBOROUGHS SAID FAREWELL TO MR. B. HUNTER

About twenty-five members of the Marlborough Club assembled at the Boston Cafe last night to say farewell to Mr. Bruce Hunter, who left this afternoon on the 4.28 for the Head Office of the Bank of Toronto. Mr. Hunter has been ledger keeper of the local branch and his promotion will subject him to the hearty congratulations of his numerous friends.

While in Peterborough Mr. Hunter has been an active and popular member of the Marlborough Club. Speeches of congratulation and of regret at the forced severance of his connection with the Club were made last night at an informal spread by Messrs. Will Pratt, Harry Dinsdale, Howard Kirn, R. Langford, and Percy Neil. Mr. Hunter very ably replied thanking the members for their many kind expressions of friendship, and for his success in his new field.

Harold Hazen, of Woodstock, had his hip and both wrists broken when a companion shook him out of a tree.

SOME DO NOT LIKE TO TAKE THE CHANCE

The immigration officers stated this morning that the wreck of the Titanic has affected the influx of immigrants to a large extent. Some have been known to have been at Liverpool and to have had their tickets bought, but when they heard of the Titanic disaster decided to remain at home. One man had his ticket sent to him, but he decided the risk was too great, and returned it.

THE BROCKVILLE REGIMENT WILL VISIT PETERBORO

The Brockville Times says that the invitation from the Peterborough Rangers to visit Peterborough on Dominion Day is accepted. The regiment will leave Brockville on Sunday June 29th and spend Sunday and Monday here.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Perry's Death

At the morning and evening service at St. John's yesterday, Rev. Canon Davidson referred to the passing of Mrs. Perry, who had been a member of the church for three quarters of a century. The rector also spoke of her devotion towards her family. An appropriate hymn was sung and a prayer offered.

George Celie, formerly of Glen Allen, Ont., is dead in Winnipeg.

The Brandon Oil Syndicate is still drilling around Milton. The first well struck has been exhausted.

PERSONAL

The condition of Mr. Walter Metheral, who underwent an operation for appendicitis, will be pleased to learn that he is doing very nicely.

The many friends of Mr. Chas. H. Campbell, who has been ill for some time in Nicholl's Hospital, is gradually improving. This will be welcome news for his many friends.

Mr. W. C. McCann, one of Brockville's most prominent citizens, was in the city over Sunday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Travers. Mr McCann is proprietor of the Hall Co., one of the largest glove manufacturing concerns in Canada, and accompanied by Mr. Travers he is visiting the principal points of interest in the city. Mr. McCann expressed himself as being very much pleased with Peterborough.

Mr. John Hogan, formerly of Peterborough, has joined the Acton staff at Toronto as advertising solicitor, and will cover Ontario in the interests of the Acton Trade publications.

Prof. Phelps, organist of the Port Hope Methodist church, has accepted a similar position in St. Thomas' Anglican Church at St. Catharines, where a new organ has been installed and there is a trained choir of forty voices.

Mr. William Roberts and daughter, Thelma, of Peterborough, are visiting his mother, Mrs. S. Roberts, Walton Street.—Port Hope Guide.

More than a thousand articles were disposed of at the sale of unclaimed freight, which has just been concluded in the Toronto sheds of the Grand Trunk Railway Company. These included chairs, tables, beds, desks, steam-fitting and plumbing appliances, in addition to numerous odds and ends. Some of the furniture was of ordinary quality, but quite a few pieces were of oak or mahogany, and of good design.

DONE OUT OF FIGHT.

Sir Frederick Lugard Arrived at Massowah and Found War Was Over.

Sir Frederick Lugard, the new Governor of both Southern and North Nigeria, has had a varied and exciting career.

The story of his adventures in Africa alone reads like a page from fiction, his first method of entering the country being, to say the least of it, quite unorthodox. With fifty pounds in his belt, and practically no outfit except an old rifle, paid for in India by shooting a man-eating tiger with a price on its head, Sir Frederick boarded a tramp steamer at Gibraltar, where he happened to be stationed at the time, and sailed away to Suez hoping thence to find his way to Massowah, and to join the Italians, who were then fighting the Abyssinians.

Funds giving out at Suez, he found himself forced to ship as a deck passenger on a timber boat, and to hobnob with the rough-and-ready Italian sailors who manned it. To crown all, when he did arrive at Massowah he discovered, to his disgust, that the fighting was over, and he was obliged to return home.

It was during one of his brief visits home that Sir Frederick married the clever lady who is perhaps best remembered by her maiden name of "Flora Shaw." Few who see Lady Lugard mentioned in the papers remember that she is the lady who, as colonial expert of The London Times, played such a prominent part in the famous Jameson raid. Her ladyship has wandered far in search of adventure, and is as used to roughing it as is her husband.

To mention but one of her many achievements, she has turned out three columns of copy on the back of a portmanteau in the desert.

A Welshman's Gift.

Mr. David Davies, Liberal M.P. for Montgomeryshire since 1906, has presented to the inhabitants of Machynlleth the old Senate House in that town, wherein Owen Glyndwr, in the year 1402, was crowned Prince of Wales.

For years this historic building was used for very humble purposes, but Mr. Davies has had it thoroughly restored, and formally presented it to Machynlleth.

In this Parliament House, Glyndwr, when acknowledged by his nobles and commoners of Wales as their Prince, had a narrow escape from assassination by a treacherous chieftain from Brecon. The design was detected, and the would-be assassin imprisoned, but he managed to escape to the English Court, where he was well received, afterwards attending Henry V. in his wars, and fighting gallantly at Agincourt.

The King and Queen, on their visit last July to Lord Herbert Vane-Tempest at Plas Machynlleth, were much interested in the old Parliament House and its history.

Mr. Davies, born at Llandinam on May 11, 1880, has visited Canada, Alaska, the Rockies, Korea, Japan, China, and British East Africa.

Bank Note for a Penny.

Once a Bank of England note for one penny was issued by mistake. It got into circulation, and was a source of great annoyance to many persons when making up accounts. Search was made by the bank, and at length they discovered the holder of the note, who returned it to them for a fancy price.

This is the smallest amount for which an English note has ever been issued, for, of course, notes under five pounds are never drawn up unles by mistake.

On no account are notes issued twice from the bank, and they are always cancelled even if exchanged for cash immediately on their issue. About fifty thousand notes are presented for payment every day, and in one department a large staff of clerks are employed entirely to count and sort the notes that have been paid in on the previous day.

The cancelled notes are burned five years after the day of presentation. Over ninety millions of old notes are stored away in the bank, and about every fortnight a large quantity of old notes is destroyed.

A general Albanian revolt is being stirred up, in resentment of Turkish terrorism in recent elections.

THE MEANEST SWINDLER.

The Professional Begging Letter Writer Very Ingenious

"In the whole world of criminals I know none who so richly deserve punishment as the professional writer of begging letters," the late Chief Justice Coleridge once said in the writer's hearing; and no one who is familiar with this criminal's dastardly methods would hesitate to endorse his lordship's scathing words.

If you inquire of the London Mendicity Society or the Charity Organization Society you will be told that of every ten begging letters, among the tens of thousands with which the benevolent rich are deluged every year, nine are the work of rank imposters, who fatten on this most shameless and heartless of frauds. They will tell you of men, well-known to them, who regularly make $2,500 a year and more, and who lead the luxurious lives of men about town, who draw every penny of their revenue from the well-to-do philanthropist by means of whining and mendacious appeals to his charity.

The begging-letter imposter is a veritable chameleon among criminals. He assumes a hundred characters, from the destitute widow with nine children to support, to the broken and dying gentleman of family, and he is an expert in each. He is, too, the champion of specialists. One takes the peerage for his field; another the army; a third the church, and so on; reaping a rich harvest year by year from his dupes.

In the Begging-Letter Department of the London Mendicity Society, which has brought so many of these miscreants to their deserts, you may see thousands of letters, heart-breaking in their piteous appeal, every one written by these swindlers of the pen, most of whom have served many a term in gaol, only to return at once to the same profitable game. These letters are all grouped under their different writers, although each may have a score or more of aliases; so that in a few moments you may see each imposter's record and his various methods of robbing the charitable.

The writer is probably a man of education "gone to seed," but his letters cover the widest range, from the round ill-spelled schoolhand of a child and the illiterate scrawl of a "poor widow" to the scholarly and feeble penmanship of an officer or a clergyman reduced, through no fault of his own, to the last stage of pathetic destitution.

Here is a sample from a poor workman (probably written after feasting luxuriously at a West End Hotel): "Madam I earnestly and humbly plead to you to answer this letter and help me by lending me the 20s. I asked you for some time ago. My wife is dangerously ill; and having no bedclothes makes her much worse. Madam, do, I pray of you, lend me the £1 so that I can get my clothes and overalls out of pawn, and at once start work, etc."

This letter was accompanied by a pawn-ticket, on which the amount had been cleverly altered from a shilling (for some article of small value) to the required pound.

Another letter tells a pitiful story of poverty. It is addressed to one of our dukes, and concluded: "I am now in deep distress as my health is very bad suffering from bronchitis and having lost former savings in a lodging house, and I beg of your grace to kindly send me a little help which is painfully wanted for myself and family."

Others letters, equally pitiful, are accompanied by death certificates—forged, every one of them—or by "notices to quit," all filled in by the writer on forms bought at a penny a piece from a stationer. In nearly all cases the address given is that of a small tobacconist or newsagent, from whose shop the answers are fetched by a small child or other agent of the writer, who thus reduces the risk of detection to a minimum.

Kicked by a Cow.

The new Lord Chamberlain of England, Lord Sandhurst, has a memory so famous that a political colleague once remarked of him "that he is a man whose mind files all the facts that other minds forget."

Lord Sandhurst was Governor of Bombay for four years, and soon after reaching his new home at Malabar he made it his duty to go slumming in what was then the unsavory and fever-haunted native quarter of Bombay.

In one terrible tenement, he found no less than fifty servants, and drew pointed attention to the lack of ventilation and the lowness of the ceilings. Of this he was presently to receive an unpleasant proof. For when he entered one of the rooms he was confronted by an ill-conditioned cow, by which he was kicked unmercifully, his chief concern being to refrain from doing anything that might seem to give offence to the native mind, which regarded the cow as a sacred beast.

A Romantic Marriage.

The second marriage of the present Marquis of Ailsa came about in quite a romantic manner. He was once returning home from India, and on board the vessel was a lady, Miss Isabella MacMaster, who had just lost her father and was going home to England. The story goes that the Governor of Bombay, who had interested himself in the lady's sad position, asked his lordship to do what he could for her during the voyage. The acquaintance thus begun ripened presently into love on both sides, and the lady eventually became a marchioness.

The marquis, like most of his forebears, is a great lover of golf, and has played much abroad. He has a private course at Culzean.

Coal Stealing.

Coal-stealing is the fashionable crime of the moment in England and thoroughness was the note of a robbery in a village near Newcastle-on-Tyne. The village constable got in two loads one day, and the next morning found his coal place empty, swept, and whitewashed.

Rev. Mr. Bannatyne, a recent Knox College graduate, is now minister at Duart, Ont.

RICHESON PAYS THE PENALTY IN THE ELECTRIC CHAIR

Was Outwardly Calm as He Was Strapped in the Death Chair--- Story of His Crime.

Boston, May 21.—Clarence V. T. Richeson was electrocuted at 12.17.08 o'clock this morning.

The current was turned on at 12.10.02 and the prisoner was declared totally dead at 12.17.08.

The former Baptist clergyman, confessed poisoner of Avis Linnell of Hyannis, his one time sweetheart, was outwardly calm when he entered the death chamber, and he maintained his composure while the straps and electrodes were being adjusted as he sat in the electric chair.

Boston, May 21. — The crime for which Clarence Virgil Thompson Richeson at the time of his arrest pastor of the Immanuel Church of Cambridge, was sentenced to die in the electric chair was the confessed murder of his former sweetheart, 19 years old, Avis Linnell of Hyannis, a pupil in the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston.

The girl stood in the way of the minister's marriage to Miss Violet Edmands a society girl and heiress of Brooklyn, both through an engagement which still existed between the two and because of a condition in which Miss Linnell found herself. The girl was deceived into taking poison given her by Richeson which she believed would remedy that condition and died in her room at the Young Women's Christian Association on the evening of October 14, 1911. On that day invitations had been issued for the wedding ceremony which was to unite Rev. Mr. Richeson and Miss Edmands.

As pastor of a small church in the Cape Cod town of Hyannis two years before the handsome and eloquent minister then 33 years old, had been attracted to Avis Linnell, who was an exceptionally pretty girl of 17 years. She lived with her parents, her father, Edgar Linnell, being a contractor and builder. It was her ambition to become a teacher and she was attending the State Normal School at Hyannis.

Miss Linnell joined Richeson's church, was baptized by him and became a member of the church choir. In a short time, early in 1909 Miss Linnell was displaying a diamond ring and confided in her girl friends that she was to be married to the minister the following October. Abandoning her plan of becoming a school teacher Miss Linnell began preparation for her wedding. Some of her trosseau was completed and the two paid a visit to Rev. Edward S. Cotton of Brewster who was asked to officiate at the ceremony.

FRICTION IN CHURCH.

Friction developed between Richeson and his deacons in June 1910 over the young minister's impetuous manner and his violent language. There was also a question as to the loss of $50 in money which had been left by a parishioner in the pastor's study. The minister declared he had been robbed of the money. Shortly after it was learned he had sent a similar sum by money order from a nearby town to a woman in Salt Lake City, Utah. His resignation followed and he accepted a call to the Immanual Baptist Church of Cambridge.

When Richeson went to Cambridge, Miss Linnell went to the Conservatory of Music at Boston. She was induced to attend the conservatory by the minister with the idea that by the cultivation of her voice which had given signs of much promise in the Hyannis choir she would better fit herself for a minister's wife. On the minister's recommendation the girl took a room at the Young Women's Christian Association quarters on Warrenton street, Boston. She proved a diligent student and continued her studies. Shortly afterwards she was found dead in the bathroom of the Association.

A belief that the girl had committed suicide was at first general, but her family were disposed to discredit the report and a thorough investigation was made.

Soon after the girl died, it was learned that someone had telephoned to Richeson as the girl's nearest friend and informed him of the circumstances. He coldly denied at first that he knew the girl at all. Then finally admitting that she had been a member of his former parish in Hyannis, he suggested that her brother in Bridgewater be notified. Before hanging up the receiver he asked: "Did she say anything before she died?"

Richeson's arrest and confession followed.

REMBRANDT'S "MERCHANT AT THE WINDOW"

Connoisseurs and amateurs are much interested in the discussion which is going on in England concerning the recent sale of Rembrandt's "Merchant at the Window" by the Earl of Feversham to Mr. Henry C. Frick, of New York. The price paid was $250,000. There are already stringent laws against the exportation of art works from other European countries, yet for all that Italy and other lands give up annually, many important paintings and sculptures to American buyers.

ROYALTY WILL INSPECT THE CANADIAN MILITIA CAMPS

H.R.H. Will Be Feature at the Niagara Manoeuvres.

Brig.-Gen. Cotton Issues Standing Orders For Two Annual Militia Assemblies From June 3 to 14 and 17 to 28—No Liquor Will Be Allowed In Canteen or Mess—Marching and Bivouacking Planned.

Toronto, May 21.—Brig.-Gen. Cotton yesterday issued the standing orders for the Niagara camp in June. One new feature this year is that the three Toronto regiments—Queen's Own Rifles, 48th Highlanders, 10th Royal Grenadiers—have been ordered to turn out for preliminary camp, which opens on May 30 and last for five days. When the Toronto infantry has closed its manoeuvres the rural regiments from eastern and western Ontario will cross the lake. On account of the ever-increasing number of men who join the ranks, there will be two camps this summer, as was the case last year, the first opening on June 3, and closing June 14, and the second opening June 17 and closing on the 28th.

The Duke of Connaught, before returning to Ottawa, will review the troops on the historic common at Niagara-on-the-Lake. The date for his visit has not yet been definitely decided, but it will likely be the first week in June. He also will present a new set of colors to the 12th York Rangers.

The hours for which canteens will be permitted to be open are restricted to 7 to 7.30 a.m., 12 to 1.30 noon, and 5 to 9.30 p.m. No beer or spirituous liquors of any kind will be permitted, even in the officers' mess canteens or other regimental institutions.

This year's manoeuvres will be slightly different over all previous ones, as the soldiers will be put under a more thorough drilling, which will incude night marches and bivouacing.

As usual, Brig.-Gen. Cotton will be camp commandant. The general staff officer will be Lt.-Col. L. F. Phillips, G.S.O.; Col. Sir Henry Pellatt will be commander of the Toronto brigade, while Col. W. A. Logie will be head of the Hamilton brigade. The musketry instructors will be Capt. Butcher of the permanent staff; Major J. L. McLaren, 91st Regiment, and Capt. C. H. Vandersluys, 44th Regiment.

Injuries Proved Fatal.

Smith's Falls, May 21.—Richard Hicks, an employe of the Smith's Falls Electric Power Co., was engaged in fastening a pulley into the end of a shaft at the power station, when his clothing caught in the shaft. He was hurled around, and was badly injured before the machinery could be stopped. His right hand was cut off, he sustained a bad wound on his head, and is thought to have been injured internally.

Hicks succumbed to his injuries yesterday afternoon. The deceased had been an employe there for several years. He was thirty years old and had been married but a short time.

Italians Seize Isle of Symi.

Rome, May 21.—A wireless despatch has been received from Admiral Amero, announcing that the Island of Symi, off the west coast of Asia Minor and fifteen miles northwest of Rhodes, has been occupied by the Italians. The Turkish authorities and gendarmes have been made prisoners, and will be sent to Italy.

GRAHAM GETS 23 MONTHS

Toronto, May 21.—John Graham, 207 Bleecker street, was sentenced to 23 months in Central Prison yesterday morning by Magistrate Denison for a particularly cruel and vicious attack upon his wife, while under the influence of intoxication a week ago. It appears from the evidence adduced that Graham entered the house, and with a clawhammer, inflicted several ugly wounds upon the person of his better half. Had it not been for the interference of one of the boarders at the house, Ernest Brockband, Mrs. Graham would in all likelihood have lost her life for she was lying defenceless on the floor, her husband standing over her with the hammer raised for another blow, when Brockband interferred. Graham pleaded for a lighter sentence, but the court refused acquiescence.

Car Ran Away.

Toronto, May 21.—Sir William Mackenzie's private car, Antikokan, made a four-mile runaway trip into Toronto, from West Toronto, Sunday night, and had it not been for the quick work of two switchmen, Robert Booth and William Doyle, at cabin C and D, serious consequence might have resulted from the car's errantry. These two men threw open the switches and in that way allowed the runaway progress over a switch line rather than the main line, which terminated at the Union Station. The car crashed into a dead engine on the switch, and though demolished, no lives were lost.

The car had been taken to the yards to get the brakes repaired, and after being uncoupled began to roll citywards. The brakeman on it attempted to put on the brakes, but they refused to work.

Lieut.-Gen. Laurie Dead.

London, May 21.—The death of Lieut.-Gen. John Wimburn Laurie, C.B., colonel Royal Munster Fusiliers and 63rd Halifax Rifles, Canada, occurred yesterday after a long illness in his 77th year.

Lieut.-Gen. Laurie was well known in Ontario. He served in the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, being mentioned in despatches, in the Fenian raids of 1866 and 1870, and later in 1885 during the Northwest Rebellion as second in command and commandant of the base and lines of communication. He attained the rank of lieutenant-general in December, 1887, and at the time of his death was on the retired list.

CUBAN NEGROES ARE IN ARMS

Officials Are Sure of a Disturbance Among Blacks.

Havana, May 21.—There is no room for doubt of the existence of a negro conspiracy, extending to all the provinces of the island, with the apparent intention of taking up arms against the Government to-day, which is the tenth anniversary of Cuban independence. The negroes appear to have been roused to rebellion by the denial of what seems to them their just political rewards for services rendered in the war of independence, in which they constituted a great majority of the Cuban forces.

The feeling against the Government has been intensified by a law denying the negroes the right to organize a political party.

The principal trouble now is in the vicinity of Sagua La Grande, in Santa Clara Province, and Cruces, where two armed parties are operating and in Oriente Province, where several bands are converging on Guantanamo City.

The situation is considered sufficiently grave for the Government to despatch last evening a column of 1,200 men from Camp Columbia, composed of cavalry and infantry, with field and machine guns, bound for Santa Clara and Oriente Provinces.

MANUFACTURERS MAKE WAR ON CLOSED SHOP

New York, May 21.—Continued warfare on the "closed shop" in the printing trade was urged in a report submitted to the seventeenth annual meeting of the National Manufacturers' Association. Politicians and municipal officials were criticized for enforcing the rule of placing the union label on city printing.

The report of the committee against the union label in part was as follows: "As the presence of a union label on printed matter is an indication that this emanates from a shop closed to non-union printers, it represents a discrimination against a great class of American workmen that should be the concern of every man who believes in an equal opportunity to labor. The committee advises those who believe in the principles of the 'open shop' to return union label printing marked with appropriate comment and to give patronage to printing concerns ignoring the union label."

Five hundred manufacturers from every section of the country are in attendance at the meeting.

BALFOUR FORESEES IMPERIAL HOUSE

London, May 21.—Arthur J. Balfour, the former Premier, speaking yesterday at the annual meeting of the Victoria League of the Empire, said he believed that at no distant date a scheme for an Imperial Parliament would be matured, by which Great Britain and her self-governing colonies would be united into one.

The whole trend of events, he said, was to bring closer the widely-scattered parts of the Empire. He was a profound believer in the truth that local patriotism properly understood was no obstacle to a larger patriotism

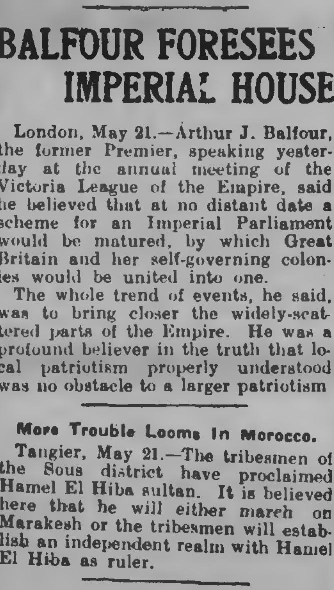
PREPARE WELCOME FOR GERMAN PRINCES



REAR ADMIRAL VON REBEUR-PASCHWITZ

Prince Christian von Hessen-Philippsthal-Barchfeld and Prince Heinrich XXXVII. von Reuss, both young, unmarried and desirous of seeing American society, of which they have heard so much, are coming to the United States with the German cruiser squadron, which will arrive at Hampton Roads on June 3.

With Rear Admiral von Rebeur-Paschwitz, in command of the squadron, and the other German officers they will be received by President Taft and entertained in Washington.

BOLT OF LIGHTNING LEAVES RUIN AND INJURY IN ITS WAKE

Big Brantford Factory Loses Main Section.

Loss at the Farmers' Binder Twine Co.'s Plant Is Estimated at $100,000 Two Firemen Are Severely Injured and Watchman Is Nearly Suffocated—Two Victims Crashed Through the Roof.

Brantford, May 21.—Lightning caused a disastrous fire here last night which, within half an hour, wiped out the main factory of the Farmers' Binder Twine Co. and caused a loss of $100,000. Two firemen, H. F. Howarth and E. Wilde, of the central department, were severely, if not fatally, injured in the conflagration, while Watchman Richard Johnson was almost suffocated by smoke and oil fumes and severely lacerated by falling glass, a minute after the lightning struck, in his endeavors to turn in the alarm.

The building contained 96 spinning machines, around which was strewn, from end to end, fibre already oiled and ready for the process of manufacture. When lightning caused the first ignition, the blaze spread almost instantly throughout the entire building, the interior and contents of which were of a most inflammable nature. When the firemen arrived the building was a seething furnace and efforts were directed towards preventing the conflagration from spreading to the storage building across the lane, where almost the entire winter's output was stored.

This saved the building, but it was at this spot that Firemen Howarth and Wilde went tumbling through the roof, a distance of 25 feet, into fire and smoke, apparently to their death. It brought forth great heroism on the part of Chief Lewis, who plunged into the building with others in an endeavor to rescue his men. Howarth, who weighs about 230 pounds, fell on the needles of a finishing machine, his face and chest being badly slashed and one ear was almost severed. He was finally extricated from his terrible position, a mass of cuts and wounds.

Wilde, it is thought, was injured internally. He fell to the floor.

During the progress of the fire the lightning, continued to flash vividly and the firemen worked under a deluge of rain. Few people in the city knew of the blaze. Telephone connection was completely shut off.

The fire was of such volume that it left a charred mass of twisted iron and other debris inside of half an hour after it started. The loss is partially covered by insurance, but it is stated to be unlikely that the factory will be rebuilt, owing to the fact that operations in recent years have been conducted at a loss.

About 100 hands are thrown out of employment.

HALIFAX TORIES ARE NOT PLEASED

Halifax, May 21.—The Conservatives of the constituency of Halifax are not satisfied with the administration of federal patronage. The feeling assumed concrete form last night when a gathering of over 400 accredited representatives of the party met and passed a resolution.

This resolution is addressed to Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden and expresses strong dissatisfaction with the patronage committee of Halifax, which consists of five members. The resolution further asks that the patronage committee be dissolved and that the old system be returned to—that is, that the patronage be left in the hands of the Government for the county and his defeated colleague.

The resolution passed unanimously and was signed by all present, and will be forwarded to the Premier.

New Extradition Treaty.

Berlin, May 21.—Endeavors are to be made by the German Government to negotiate a new and up-to-date extradition treaty with the United States Government, according to a promise made by a representative of the Government in the Reichstag. In answering several complaints of members of the House as to the present method of extradition between the two countries, he declared that the German Government recognized the existing defects.

Report Unfounded.

Plymouth, Eng., May 21.—The report circulated in Cherbourg that the Kronprinzessin Cecille had picked up some survivors of a wrecked vessel in the Atlantic is unfounded.

The agent of the North German Lloyds at Plymouth, who boarded the liner on its arrival, conversed with Capt. Hogemann, who reported that the voyage had been splendid and uneventful. No signs of ice were seen and only two vessels were spoken on the voyage.

Anthracite Agreement Signed.

Philadelphia, May 21.—Representatives of the anthracite coal mine workers and the coal companies met at the headquarters of the Reading Company here yesterday afternoon and signed the agreement entered into between the operators and the representatives of the workers.

Ontario Represented.

Toronto, May 21.—Sir James Whitney announced yesterday that the Ontario Government will be represented by counsel at the hearing of the marriage case in the Supreme Court in Ottawa next Monday. The name of the lawyer has not been learned.

Cut Down Mann's Sentence.

London, May 21.—As a result of the agitation of the Labor party, Reginald McKenna, Home Secretary, yesterday reduced the sentence of six months' imprisonment passed by the assize court of Manchester on May 1 on Tom Mann, the labor leader, to two months. He was found guilty of endeavoring to influence British soldiers from their duty.

Veteran S. S. Superintendent Resigns.

Belleville, May 21.—Owing to ill-health Wm. Johnson, who for eight years has been superintendent of Bridge street Methodist Sunday school, one of the largest of the province, has been compelled to resign. Mr. Johnson's fame as a Sunday school worker is widely known.

WOODBINE TRACK IS VERY MUDDY

Toronto, May 21.—The races on Monday at Woodbine Park were run in a sea of mud. The morning rain was flowing in pools over the track, and after the second race the drizzle increased until the last event was run in a downpour. Three favorites won in a row at the outset, and then four first choices were toppled over, three of them—Moisant, Bob R. and Capt. Elliott—finishing second, and High Hat, in the steeplechase, outside the money.

First race—Bend Or Purse, seven furlongs, purse $500, for four-year-olds and up, selling—1st, Question Mark; 2nd, Planutess; 3rd, Mud Sill. Time, 1.31.

Second race—Coronation Stakes, 4½ furlongs, purse $2,000, for two-year-olds, Canadian-bred—1st, Hearts of Oak; 2nd Lindesta; 3rd, Vale of Avoca. Time, .56 3-5.

Third race—Ottawa Purse, 1 1-16 miles, purse $500, for three-year-olds and up, selling—1st, Capt. Swanson; 2nd, Scrimmage; 3rd, The Gardner. Time, 1.52 3-5.

Fourth race—Fashion Plate, six furlongs, purse $600, for mares, three-year-olds and up—1st, Mission; 2nd, Moisant; 3rd, Bettie Sue. Time, 1.16.

Seventh race—Five furlongs, purse $500, for two-year-olds, selling—1st, Ringling; 2nd, Captain Elliot; 3rd, Marie T. Time, 1.03 1-5.

PRINCE LOSES LIFE IN AUTO WRECK

Friesack, Prussia, May 21.—Prince George William, the eldest son of the Duke of Cumberland and his chamberlain, Von Greve, were instantly killed in an automobile accident on the highway near here last evening. They left Berlin early in the afternoon, intending to proceed to Copenhagen by way of Hamburg to attend the funeral of the prince's uncle, the late King Frederick VIII.

The prince, who was at the steering wheel, probably failed to observe the signs of warning that the highway was being repaired, and drove the machine at full speed into a part of the roadway which was being macadamized. He lost control, the machine being ditched and turned on its end. The prince's head was crushed. Chamberlain von Greve's neck was broken. The chauffeur, who was inside the automobile, suffered from a broken arm.

Prince George William was born in 1880. His father, Duke Ernest August, Duke of Cumberland and Duke of Lunenbourg, is head of the house of Guelph.

GREETINGS FROM CADETS TO KING

London, May 21.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The following exchange of telegrams has taken place between Cadet Lieutenant Heakes and the King:

"Guildhall, May 20.

"On behalf of our comrades in Canada and our own behalf as partaking in the Empire Day celebrations at London, I desire to express to your Majesty our loyal devotion to our King and Empire.

"Harold H. Heakes."

"Aldershot, May 20.

"I am commanded by the King to thank the Imperial Cadet Contingent from Canada for their expression of loyalty.

"Stamfordham."

Montreal, May 21.—Capt. L. A. Demers, Dominion wreck commissioner at Ottawa, was yesterday appointed harbormaster, of Montreal by the Harbor Commission in succession to James McShane, who retires on a pension.

Conservative Elected in Pontiac.

Ottawa, May 21.—The official figures in Pontiac County election are: Campbell, Conservative, 1,635; Gaboury, Liberal, 1,590. The Liberal candidate had said he was elected.

Sunday Mail in Belleville.

Belleville, May 21.—Through the efforts of E. G. Porter, M.P. for West Hastings, a Sunday collection of mail from mail boxes throughout the city will be made.

RULER WILL BRING ACTION FOR SLANDER AGAINST HIS SUBJECTS

Young Belgian King Will Prosecute His Traducers.

Stories Have Been Passed Around In Belgium to the Effect That the Queen Surprised Her Husband With a Lady-in-Waiting and His Majesty Is Indignant—Three Persons Suspected.

Brussels, May 21.—A semi-official communication dealing with false reports as to the private life of the royal family was issued yesterday in the following terms:

"Since a recent garden party held at Laeken, calumninous reports have been put in circulation concerning the private life of the royal family. It was even declared that on the day of the garden party the Queen of the Belgians surprise King Albert in the company of a chambermaid, and that the Queen shot the woman dead with a revolver.

"King Albert had no knowledge of these reports, although for several days military officers attached to the court had learned of them by telephone calls, both from Belgium and abroad. After consultation, it was decided to inform the king of the report. His majesty was astonished and very indignant. He decided to prosecute the authors of the reports and all persons repeating them.

"The newspaper Le Peuple understands that three persons, whose names are not given, are being proceeded against for circulating the slanders, which takes three forms. According to the first, the queen surprised the king in the company of a chambermaid, and killed the latter. According to the second, the queen fired upon the king, while the third report makes it appear as if the queen merely threatened the lady of the chamber."

The incident has produced a profound sensation here, and public opinion is greatly wrought up over the slanders and their authors.

Aged Farmer Shot Tormentor.

Brantford, May 21.—A shooting case just outside of Burford was investigated yesterday by County Constable Kerr. Private Catton, a member of the 25th Dragoons, was shot on Saturday by an old man named Splatt.

Catton, it is explained, teased the old man to the point of anger, and the latter rushed into the house for his rifle. The bullet lodged in Catton's shoulder. Doctors yesterday were unable to extract the bullet. Splatt went to Burford Village and gave himself up, but he is not under arrest.

NO FRICTION SAYS DESPATCH

Paris, May 21—An inspired despatch from St. Petersburg to The Temps, denies in the most categorical form the insinuation that there is a divergence of views between France and Russia. Russia, according to the despatch, is anxious to bring the Turco-Italian war to an end, as it is causing immense losses to Russian shipping. Nevertheless the Russian Government does not harbor the slightest design against Turkey, nor is it exercising pressure on Turkey.

Russia is likewise anxious to preserve the existing condition of things in the Balkans, for which purpose it has reached, understandings with Austria and Italy. These understandings are not inimical to France, which Russia hopes will not be influenced by the attempts of schemers to destroy the solid Franco-Russian alliance.

RICHESON PAYS THE PENALTY IN THE ELECTRIC CHAIR

Was Outwardly Calm as He Was Strapped in the Death Chair--Story of His Crime.

Boston, May 21.—Clarence V. T. Richeson was electrocuted at 12.17.08 o'clock this morning.

The current was turned on at 12.10.02 and the prisoner was declared totally dead at 12.17.08.

The former Baptist clergyman, confessed poisoner of Avis Linnell of Hyannis, his one time sweetheart, was outwardly calm when he entered the death chamber, and he maintained his composure while the straps and electrodes were being adjusted as he sat in the electric chair.

Hicks succumbed to his injuries yesterday afternoon. The deceased had been an employe there for several years. He was thirty years old and had been married but a short time.

Italians Seize Isle of Symi.

Rome, May 21.—A wireless despatch has been received from Admiral Amero, announcing that the Island of Symi, off the west coast of Asia Minor and fifteen miles northwest of Rhodes, has been occupied by the Italians. The Turkish authorities and gendarmes have been made prisoners, and will be sent to Italy.

GRAHAM GETS 23 MONTHS

Toronto, May 21.—John Graham, 207 Bleecker street, was sentenced to 23 months in Central Prison yesterday morning by Magistrate Denison for a particularly cruel and vicious attack upon his wife, while under the influence of intoxication a week ago. It appears from the evidence adduced that Graham entered the house, and with a clawhammer, inflicted several ugly wounds upon the person of his better half. Had it not been for the interference of one of the boarders at the house, Ernest Brockband, Mrs. Graham would in all likelihood have lost her life for she was lying defenceless on the floor, her husband standing over her with the hammer raised for another blow, when Brockband interferred. Graham pleaded for a lighter sentence, but the court refused acquiescence.

Car Ran Away.

Toronto, May 21.—Sir William Mackenzie's private car, Antikokan, made a four-mile runaway trip into Toronto, from West Toronto, Sunday night, and had it not been for the quick work of two switchmen, Robert Booth and William Doyle, at cabin C and D, serious consequence might have resulted from the car's errantry. These two men threw open the switches and in that way allowed the runaway progress over a switch line rather than the main line, which terminated at the Union Station. The car crashed into a dead engine on the switch, and though demolished, no lives were lost.

The car had been taken to the yards to get the brakes repaired, and after being uncoupled began to roll citywards. The brakeman on it attempted to put on the brakes, but they refused to work.

Lieut.-Gen. Laurie Dead.

London, May 21.—The death of Lieut.-Gen. John Wimburn Laurie, C.B., colonel Royal Munster Fusiliers and 63rd Halifax Rifles, Canada, occurred yesterday after a long illness in his 77th year.

Lieut.-Gen. Laurie was well known in Ontario. He served in the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, being mentioned in despatches, in the Fenian raids of 1866 and 1870, and later in 1885 during the Northwest Rebellion as second in command and commandant of the base and lines of communication. He attained the rank of lieutenant-general in December, 1887, and at the time of his death was on the retired list.

CUBAN NEGROES ARE IN ARMS

Officials Are Sure of a Disturbance Among Blacks.

Havana, May 21.—There is no room for doubt of the existence of a negro conspiracy, extending to all the provinces of the island, with the apparent intention of taking up arms against the Government to-day, which is the tenth anniversary of Cuban independence. The negroes appear to have been roused to rebellion by the denial of what seems to them their just political rewards for services rendered in the war of independence, in which they constituted a great majority of the Cuban forces.

The feeling against the Government has been intensified by a law denying the negroes the right to organize a political party.

The principal trouble now is in the vicinity of Sagua La Grande, in Santa Clara Province, and Cruces, where two armed parties are operating and in Oriente Province, where several bands are converging on Guantanamo City.

The situation is considered sufficiently grave for the Government to despatch last evening a column of 1,200 men from Camp Columbia, composed of cavalry and infantry, with field and machine guns, bound for Santa Clara and Oriente Provinces.

MANUFACTURERS MAKE WAR ON CLOSED SHOP

New York, May 21.—Continued warfare on the "closed shop" in the printing trade was urged in a report submitted to the seventeenth annual meeting of the National Manufacturers' Association. Politicians and municipal officials were criticized for enforcing the rule of placing the union label on city printing.

The report of the committee against the union label in part was as follows: "As the presence of a union label on printed matter is an indication that this emanates from a shop closed to non-union printers, it represents a discrimination against a great class of American workmen that should be the concern of every man who believes in an equal opportunity to labor. The committee advises those who believe in the principles of the 'open shop' to return union label printing marked with appropriate comment and to give patronage to printing concerns ignoring the union label."

Five hundered manufacturers from every section of the country are in attendance at the meeting.

BALFOUR FORESEES IMPERIAL HOUSE

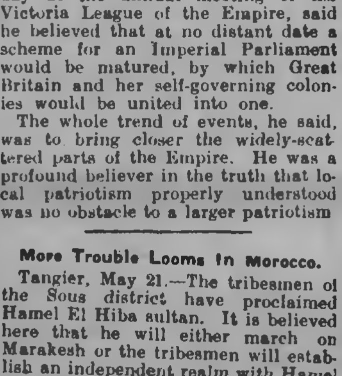
London, May 21.—Arthur J. Balfour, the former Premier, speaking yesterday at the annual meeting of the Victoria League of the Empire, said he believed that at no distant date a scheme for an Imperial Parliament would be matured, by which Great Britain and her self-governing colonies would be united into one.

The whole trend of events, he said, was to bring closer the widely-scattered parts of the Empire. He was a profound believer in the truth that local patriotism properly understood was no obstacle to a larger patriotism

More Trouble Looms In Morocco.

Tangier, May 21.—The tribesmen of the Sous district have proclaimed Hamel El Hiba sultan. It is believed here that he will either march on Marakesh or the tribesmen will establish an independent realm with Hamel El Hiba as ruler.

PREPARE WELCOME FOR GERMAN PRINCES



REAR ADMIRAL VON REBEUR-PASCHWITZ

Prince Christian von Hessen-Philippsthal-Barchfeld and Prince Heinrich XXXVII. von Reuse, both young, unmarried and desirous of seeing American society, of which they have heard so much, are coming to the United States with the German cruiser squadron, which will arrive at Hampton Roads on June 3.

With Rear Admiral von Rebeur-Paschwitz, in command of the squadron, and the other German officers they will be received by President Taft and entertained in Washington.

BOLT OF LIGHTNING LEAVES RUIN AND INJURY IN ITS WAKE

Big Brantford Factory Loses Main Section.

Loss at the Farmers' Binder Twine Co.'s Plant Is Estimated at $100,000 Two Firemen Are Severely Injured and Watchman Is Nearly Suffocated—Two Victims Crashed Through the Roof.

Brantford, May 21.—Lightning caused a disastrous fire here last night which, within half an hour, wiped out the main factory of the Farmers' Binder Twine Co. and caused a loss of $100,000. Two firemen, H. F. Howarth and E. Wilde, of the central department, were severely, if not fatally, injured in the conflagration, while Watchman Richard Johnson was almost suffocated by smoke and oil fumes and severely lacerated by falling glass, a minute after the lightning struck, in his endeavors to turn in the alarm.

The building contained 96 spinning machines, around which was strewn, from end to end, fibre already oiled and ready for the process of manufacture. When lightning caused the first ignition, the blaze spread almost instantly throughout the entire building, the interior and contents of which were of a most inflammable nature. When the firemen arrived the building was a seething furnace and efforts were directed towards preventing the conflagration from spreading to the storage building across the lane, where almost the entire winter's output was stored.

This saved the building, but it was at this spot that Firemen Howarth and Wilde went tumbling through the roof, a distance of 25 feet, into fire and smoke, apparently to their death. It brought forth great heroism on the part of Chief Lewis, who plunged into the building with others in an endeavor to rescue his men. Howarth, who weighs about 230 pounds, fell on the needles of a finishing machine, his face and chest being badly slashed and one ear was almost severed. He was finally extricated from his terrible position, a mass of cuts and wounds.

Wilde, it is thought, was injured internally. He fell to the floor.

During the progress of the fire the lightning, continued to flash vividly and the firemen worked under a deluge of rain. Few people in the city knew of the blaze. Telephone connection was completely shut off.

The fire was of such volume that it left a charred mass of twisted iron and other debris inside of half an hour after it started. The loss is partially covered by insurance, but it is stated to be unlikely that the factory will be rebuilt, owing to the fact that operations in recent years have been conducted at a loss.

About 100 hands are thrown out of employment.

HALIFAX TORIES ARE NOT PLEASED

Halifax, May 21.—The Conservatives of the constituency of Halifax are not satisfied with the administration of federal patronage. The feeling assumed concrete form last night when a gathering of over 400 accredited representatives of the party met and passed a resolution.

This resolution is addressed to Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden and expresses strong dissatisfaction with the patronage committee of Halifax, which consists of five members. The resolution further asks that the patronage committee be dissolved and that the old system be returned to—that is, that the patronage be left in the hands of the Government for the county and his defeated colleague.

The resolution passed unanimously and was signed by all present, and will be forwarded to the Premier.

New Extradition Treaty.

Berlin, May 21.—Endeavors are to be made by the German Government to negotiate a new and up-to-date extradition treaty with the United States Government, according to a promise made by a representative of the Government in the Reichstag. In answering several complaints of members of the House as to the present method of extradition between the two countries, he declared that the German Government recognised the existing defects.

Report Unfounded.

Plymouth, Eng., May 21.—The report circulated in Cherbourg that the Kronprinzessin Cecille had picked up some survivors of a wrecked vessel in the Atlantic is unfounded.

The agent of the North German Lloyds at Plymouth, who boarded the liner on its arrival, conversed with Capt. Hogemann, who reported that the voyage had been splendid and uneventful. No signs of ice were seen and only two vessels were spoken on the voyage.

Anthracite Agreement Signed.

Philadelphia, May 21.—Representatives of the anthracite coal mine workers and the coal companies met at the headquarters of the Reading Company here yesterday afternoon and signed the agreement entered into between the operators and the representatives of the workers.

Ontario Represented.

Toronto, May 21.—Sir James Whitney announced yesterday that the Ontario Government will be represented by counsel at the hearing of the marriage case in the Supreme Court in Ottawa next Monday. The name of the lawyer has not been learned.

Cut Down Mann's Sentence.

London, May 21.—As a result of the agitation of the Labor party, Reginald McKenna, Home Secretary, yesterday reduced the sentence of six months' imprisonment passed by the assize court of Manchester on May 1 on Tom Mann, the labor leader, to two months. He was found guilty of endeavoring to influence British soldiers from their duty.

Veteran S. S. Superintendent Resigns.

Belleville, May 21.—Owing to ill-health Wm. Johnson, who for eight years has been superintendent of Bridge street Methodist Sunday school, one of the largest of the province, has been compelled to resign. Mr. Johnson's fame as a Sunday school worker is widely known.

WOODBINE TRACK IS VERY MUDDY

Toronto, May 21.—The races on Monday at Woodbine Park were run in a sea of mud. The morning rain was flowing in pools over the track, and after the second race the drizzle increased until the last event was run in a downpour. Three favorites won in a row at the outset, and then four first choices were toppled over, three of them—Moisant, Bob R. and Capt. Elliott—finishing second, and High Hat, in the steeplechase, outside the money.

First race—Bend Or Purse, seven furlongs, purse $500, for four-year-olds and up, selling—1st, Question Mark; 2nd, Planutess; 3rd, Mud Sill. Time, 1.31.

Second race—Coronation Stakes, 4½ furlongs, purse $2,000, for two-year-olds, Canadian-bred—1st, Hearts of Oak; 2nd Lindesta; 3rd, Vale of Avoca. Time, .56 3-5.

Third race—Ottawa Purse, 1 1-16 miles, purse $500, for three-year-olds and up, selling—1st, Capt. Swanson; 2nd, Scrimmage; 3rd, The Gardner. Time, 1.52 3-5.

Fourth race—Fashion Plate, six furlongs, purse $600, for mares, three-year-olds and up—1st, Mission; 2nd, Moisant; 3rd, Bettie Sue. Time, 1.16.

Fifth race—One mile and 70 yards, purse $800, Queen's Hotel Cup, handicap, for three-year-olds and up—1st, Cliff Edge; 2nd, Bob R; 3rd, Star Charter. Time, 1.47 3-5.

Sixth race—About two miles, Athol Steeplechase, purse $800, for four-year-olds and up, selling—1st, New Comer; 2nd, Idle Michael; 3rd, Parade. Time, 4.47 2-5.

Seventh race—Five furlongs, purse $500, for two-year-olds, selling—1st, Ringling; 2nd, Captain Elliot; 3rd, Marie T. Time, 1.03 1-5.

PRINCE LOSES LIFE IN AUTO WRECK

Friesack, Prussia, May 21.—Prince George William, the eldest son of the Duke of Cumberland and his chamberlain, Von Greve, were instantly killed in an automobile accident on the highway near here last evening. They left Berlin early in the afternoon, intending to proceed to Copenhagen by way of Hamburg to attend the funeral of the prince's uncle, the late King Frederick VIII.

The prince, who was at the steering wheel, probably failed to observe the signs of warning that the highway was being repaired, and drove the machine at full speed into a part of the roadway which was being macadamized. He lost control, the machine being ditched and turned on its end. The prince's head was crushed. Chamberlain von Greve's neck was broken. The chauffeur, who was inside the automobile, suffered from a broken arm.

Prince George William was born in 1880. His father, Duke Ernest August, Duke of Cumberland and Duke of Lunenbourg, is head of the house of Guelph.

GREETINGS FROM CADETS TO KING

London, May 21.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The following exchange of telegrams has taken place between Cadet Lieutenant Heakes and the King:

"Guildhall, May 20.

"On behalf of our comrades in Canada and our own behalf as partaking in the Empire Day celebrations at London, I desire to express to your Majesty our loyal devotion to our King and Empire.

"Harold H. Heakes."

"Aldershot, May 20.

"I am commanded by the King to thank the Imperial Cadet Contingent from Canada for their expression of loyalty.

"Stamfordham."

New Harber Commissioner.

Montreal, May 21.—Capt. L. A. Demers, Dominion wreck commissioner at Ottawa, was yesterday appointed harbormaster, of Montreal by the Harbor Commission in succession to James McShane, who retires on a pension.

Conservative Elected In Pontiac.

Ottawa, May 21.—The official figures in Pontiac County election are: Campbell, Conservative, 1,635; Gaboury, Liberal, 1,590. The Liberal candidate had said he was elected.

Sunday Mail In Belleville.

Belleville, May 21.—Through the efforts of E. G. Porter, M.P. for West Hastings, a Sunday collection of mail from mail boxes throughout the city will be made.

RULER WILL BRING ACTION FOR SLANDER AGAINST HIS SUBJECTS

ETHEL CROKER-BREEN
The divorced wife of John J. Breen.

NO FRICTION SAYS DESPATCH

Paris, May 21—An inspired despatch from St. Petersburg to The Temps, denies in the most categorical form the insinuation that there is a divergence of views between France and Russia. Russia, according to the despatch, is anxious to bring the Turco-Italian war to an end, as it is causing immense losses to Russian shipping. Nevertheless the Russian Government does not harbor the slightest design against Turkey, nor is it exercising pressure on Turkey.

Russia is likewise anxious to preserve the existing condition of things in the Balkans, for which purpose it has reached, understandings with Austria and Italy. These understandings are not inimical to France, which Russia hopes will not be influenced by the attempts of schemers to destroy the solid Franco-Russian alliance.

Young Belgian King Will Prosecute His Traducers.

Stories Have Been Passed Around In Belgium to the Effect That the Queen Surprised Her Husband With a Lady-in-Waiting and His Majesty Is Indignant—Three Persons Suspected.

Brussels, May 21.—A semi-official communication dealing with false reports as to the private life of the royal family was issued yesterday in the following terms:

"Since a recent garden party held at Laeken, calumninous reports have been put in circulation concerning the private life of the royal family. It was even declared that on the day of the garden party the Queen of the Belgians surprise King Albert in the company of a chambermaid, and that the Queen shot the woman dead with a revolver.

"King Albert had no knowledge of these reports, although for several days military officers attached to the court had learned of them by telephone calls, both from Belgium and abroad. After consultation, it was decided to inform the king of the report. His majesty was astonished and very indignant. He decided to prosecute the authors of the reports and all persons repeating them.

"The newspaper Le Peuple understands that three persons, whose names are not given, are being proceeded against for circulating the slanders, which takes three forms. According to the first, the queen surprised the king in the company of a chambermaid, and killed the latter. According to the second, the queen fired upon the king, while the third report makes it appear as if the queen merely threatened the lady of the chamber."

The incident has produced a profound sensation here, and public opinion is greatly wrought up over the slanders and their authors.

Aged Farmer Shot Tormentor.

Brantford, May 21.—A shooting case just outside of Burford was investigated yesterday by County Constable Kerr. Private Catton, a member of the 25th Dragoons, was shot on Saturday by an old man named Splett.

Catton, it is explained, teased the old man to the point of anger, and the latter rushed into the house for his rifle. The bullet lodged in Catton's shoulder. Doctors yesterday were unable to extract the bullet. Splatt went to Burford Village and gave himself up, but he is not under arrest.

CURE THAT COLD

This is Quickly and Pleasantly Accomplished If You Use

Catarrhozone

Catarrhozone will relieve colds almost instantly and in a few hours will cure completely. If it is old-standing asthma or bronchitis its quick and curative results will astonish you.

Catarrhozone is little drops of healing medicine carried by air to the sore and diseased parts. You breathe them through the Catarrhozone Inhaler and they spread throughout all the air passages.

It is sense as well as healing, because Catarrhozone is a germ killer, a healer and restorer of weak tissues. Because it is so prompt and certain in its results, better than any other remedy for diseases of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes, and it is neither alcohol, morphia or cocaine—all dangerous.

Tens of thousands have used Catarrhozone without reporting a single case of failure to cure diseases of the throat and lungs and nasal passages.

Remember, CATARRHOZONE is taken in air, and is little drops of healing for the throat, nasal passages, or lungs. It always does cure—is guaranteed.

Price 25c., 50c., and $1.00 at all druggists or by mail, post paid, from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

WHO IS TO PAY ?

It was a businesslike view of the matter the City Council took when they decided to object to any improvements being ordered in local railway crossings unless the expense is borne by the railways entirely. It does appear that the city has no right to help the companies in the construction or maintenance of their roads. The aldermen are alive to the fact that many improvements are needed in the interests of public safety, but the question is who is to bear the expense?

A FEDERAL EMPIRE

The ringing and statesman like speech which the Hon. W. T. White delivered in Toronto, his first public utterance of importance since his appointment to office, must be taken as something of vastly more significance than the address of a public man at a friendly social function. When Mr. White spoke, he voiced not alone his own sentiments, but those of the government of which he is a member and outlined the policy which the Borden administration is to pursue in the matter of the naval defence of the Empire. Coming so soon after the address of the Hon. Winston Churchill in the British house of parliament, Mr. White's words cast additional light upon the situation.

No one who knows Mr. White ever doubted his high minded patriotism and his lofty ideals of the final destiny of Canada. He is something more than a high authority on great financial questions. Above all he is a man of peace but in order to maintain the peace which now prevails, he knows that it is necessary to be strong, to be ready for a conflict at the first sign of antagonism.

Canada, the oldest and most powerful dominion in the British group of family affiliation relations, is in the very centre of the Empire and is destined to be the heart of it in days to come. Mr. White believes in the future federation of all the realms of England, a federation which, we are given to understand, will be of the same nature, and no more difficult of accomplishment than the federal unition of the provinces of Canada or the States of America.

Some, there are, who may call this forecast by the Minister of Finance, an iridescent dream, the mere vision of an enthusiast, but if Mr. White is dreaming, let us refrain from waking him while his fancy paints such pleasant pictures. The idea of a great Imperial Federation with a central legislation in Westminster and self government existent in every dominion is no more preposterous or impossible of attainment than the work of similar nature that has been brought to the highest point of perfection in our own country. It will take time. As Mr. White says it is to be a matter of growth and development as is always the case with the British race.

Almost at the same time, Mr. White was speaking in Toronto, former Governor General, Lord Grey, was making an address in London and as his custom invariably is, he did not lose the opportunity to pay a high compliment to the patriotic enthusiasm of this country. He added that the fact that Great Britain bore the burden of Imperial defense was galling to thousands of Canadians and their highest hope was that this order of things might be changed.

At the National Club, before which Mr. White delivered his address, Mr N. P. Rowell, leader of the Ontario opposition, was also a guest and a speaker. It is worthy of more than passing notice that he declared himself as heartily in accord with the idea of Imperial defence as outlined by the Finance Minister.

DR. SHEARER'S WAY

Dr. J. G. Shearer, in his two addresses in Peterborough Sunday, with good taste and judgment, refrained from criticism of the laws of the country, provincial or federal, and from abuse of Canadian public men. In following such a course he separates himself from the pathway pursued by other social and moral reformers now before the public.

But even if he were so disposed could the doctor find any just cause of complaint? We are the best governed people in the world, and our public men as a rule are beyond suspicion. Nowhere on earth is there a liquor license law so nearly approaching human perfection as the one in force in Ontario, and the law, too, is as rigidly enforced as any enactment possibly could be! The age of consent is higher in Canada than in any country in the world and Canadian womanhood is guarded by the most effective legislative protection which the mind of man can devise.

We are required by act of parliament to refrain from labor on the first day of the week. There is not a yellow newspaper in Canada. Attempts have been made to establish the Sunday journal in this country, but the law won't have it. Our picture shows and other forms of public amusement are under strict censorship. No objectionable literature is allowed to be produced in or imported into the country. Canadian magazines rank high in the literary world

In bringing affairs to so desirable a condition the organisation of which Dr. Shearer is the executive head has taken an aggressive and helpful part. There is not a reform ever proposed, but Dr. Shearer and his friends are found behind it. And it is a pleasure to find that the doctor is not a ranter or a common scold. He talks of the present evils in our social system, but he does not lay the blame upon our public men.

In the altruistic work in which he is engaged Dr. Shearer would not rely entirely upon legislation to make men moral or to bring society into the ideal atmosphere for which all true reformers hope. He looks to the churches for active service and support. The churches, he says, have helped along in the past, and may be counted upon to do even more in the future.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Secretary Knox and other American public men speak of us with friendly word, but while the voice is the voice of Jacob the skin is the skin of Esau.

Richard Thornbeck was only following the instincts of primal man when in the hour of danger he consulted his personal safety by climbing a convenient tree.

The Liberal papers are devoting a lot of space to the Quebec elections. Don't censure them too severely, for it is a long time since they have had a chance to crow over a political victory.

An Indian named Snoke got drunk in a local option town, in which place a new amendment to the liquor law makes excessive drinking a special misdemeanor. The unfortunate Indian was arrested and for his insane offence was fined $20.

Some of the witnesses who have been handled without gloves by the Titanic investigating committee may be forgiven if they sometimes wish they had gone down with the vessel.

It is a noble work of charity to give the children of the poor a day's outing every summer, as they do in Toronto, but do we ever stop to think how the unfortunate little dwellers in the slums live through all the other three hundred and sixty-four long days of the year?

President Taft professes the most friendly feelings for Canada. Very natural. The small boy who wishes to appropriate the fruit cake in the cupboard certainly does not regard that article of refreshment in terms of animosity.

A Titanic fireman who gave before the inquiry committee testimony favorable to Sir Cosmo Duff-Gordon is suspected of doing so because that badly grueled gentleman bribed him with a present of seven shillings, or about $1.75 in our money. Surely any fireman alive would have insisted upon an even $2.

Attorney-General Foy has advised the United States immigration officials at Detroit that the extradition of W. A. D. Richards is impossible.

Premier Borden has returned to the capital and is busy clearing up accumulated correspondence. A successor to the late Hon. J. P. Mabee has not yet been selected.

Like the late Samuel Clements, Arthur Stringer, Canadian novelist and poet, can state that the report of his death, sent out from Niagara Falls, yesterday, is very much exaggerated.

A Turkish Cabinet Council yesterday decided upon the expulsion within a fortnight of all Italians throughout the empire, except workmen, widows and those in a necessitous condition.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. CHENNEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, May 20.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 186 carloads, consisting of 3476 cattle, 1359 hogs, 615 sheep and lambs, 119 calves and 18 horses.

Exporters

Mr. Howard bought for Swift & Co., 283 cattle for export, as follows: For Liverpool, 90 steers, 1218 lbs., at $7.85; for London, 167 steers, 1250 lbs., at $7.60.

Butchers

Steers of export quality, 1100 to 1200 lbs., sold at $7.10 to $7.35; loads of good, $6.80 to $7.10; medium, $6.40 to $6.75; common, $6 to $6.35; inferior, $5.50 to $5.90; cows, $4.50 to $6.35; bulls, $4.75 to $6.25; canners, $2.50 to $3.

Milkers and Springers

Fred Rowntree bought all on sale, 12 in number, at $40 to $80 each.

Veal Calves.

Calves sold from $4 to $8.50 per cwt., and in one instance $9 was paid. The quality was generally not good.

Sheep and Lambs

Sheep, ewes, sold at $6 to $7.25 per cwt.; yearlings, at $7.75 to $8.50; spring lambs, $6 to $7.50 each.

Hogs.

Selects, fed and watered, sold at $8.85 to $8.90, but $8.85 was the ruling price, and $8.50 to $8.65, f.o.b., cars, was paid.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL May 20.—At the Montreal Stock Yards west end market receipts of live stock for the week ending May 18 were 800 cattle, 275 sheep and lambs, 1650 hogs and 1200 calves. The offerings on the market this morning for sale were 450 cattle, 50 sheep and lambs, 1200 hogs and 150 calves.

There was no further change in the condition of the market for cattle since last Wednesday, the feeling being strong. Prices were fully maintained at the late advance, owing to the very limited supplies coming forward, which is attributed to the scarcity of finished stock in the country, on account of the fact that American buyers have been operating actively of late thruout Ontario for supplies for export account, on account of the high prices ruling in the Chicago market. Indications are now that supplies for the local market will run slow until grass-fed cattle are in fit condition to be marketed, and the prospects are that there will be somewhat of a scarcity of beef for the time being, as all the surplus stock has been well cleaned up. The gathering of buyers was fairly large, and, as they were all short of beef, the demand was good, and an active trade was done, with sales of choice steers at $8 to $8.25 per 100 pounds, while bulls of good quality brought as high as $7.

A much stronger feeling developed in the market for hogs, and prices advanced 25c to 40c per 100 pounds, owing to the small run and the keen competition between buyers for supplies, and the prospects are that they will go still higher in the near future, unless receipts increase. An active trade was done, with sales of selected lots at $9.65 to $9.75 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

The tone of the market for sheep and lambs is very strong, owing to the fact that supplies of frozen stock that were put away in cold storage last fall are now pretty well exhausted, and the receipts of live stock at present are far from being sufficient to supply the local requirements. A few small lots of yearling lambs sold at $7.50, and ewes at $6.50 per 100 pounds. The demand for calves was made at firm prices.

Butchers' cattle, choice, $8.75 to $7.25; do., medium, $6 to $7.25; do., common, $4.50 to $5.50; do., choice cows, $6.50 to $6.75; do., medium, $5.75 to $6.25; do., bulls, $5.50 to $7; milkers, choice, each, $80 to $90; do., common and medium, each, $65 to $75; springers, $50 to $60.

Sheep, ewes, $6.25 to $6.50; bucks and culls, $5.25 to $5.50. Lambs, $7.25 to $7.50.

Hogs, f.o.b., $9.65 to $9.75.

Calves, $1.50 to $8.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, May 20.—Cattle—Receipts, 4000 head; market active, 15c to 25c stronger; prime steers, $8.75 to $9.10; shipping steers, $7.50 to $8.35; butcher grades, $7 to $8.25; heifers, $6.75 to $8; cows, $4 to $7; bulk, $4.25 to $7.35; milch cows and springers, $25 to $75.

Calves—Receipts, 2250 head; market slow, 50 lower; cull to choice, $6 to $9.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 11,000; market fairly active, 25c to 50c higher; choice lambs, $9.30 to $9.50; cull to fair, $7 to $9.25; yearlings, $7 to $7.50; sheep, $4 to $6.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 17,000; market, trade light, 10c to 15c lower; yorkers, $7.90 to $8; pigs, $6.90 to $7; mixed, $8; heavy, $8 to $8.10; roughs, $6.50 to $7; stags, $6 to $6.25.

Cynthia's Chauffeur

By LOUIS TRACY

Copyright by McLeod & Allen, Toronto

much depended on that swing of the balance he might have been startled into a more earnest plea, and spoiled everything.

"But that will throw us late in arriving at Hereford," said Mrs. Devar.

"Does it really matter? We shall be there all day to-morrow."

"No, it is of no consequence, though Count Edouard said he would meet us there."

"And I refused to pledge myself to any arrangement. In fact, I would much prefer that his Countship should scorch on to Liverpool or Manchester, or wherever he happens to be going."

"Oh, Cynthia! And he going out of his way to be so friendly and agreeable!"

"Well, perhaps that was an unkind thing to say. What I mean is that we must feel ourselves at liberty to depart from a cut-and-dried schedule. Half the charm of wandering through England in an automobile is in one's freedom timetables."

Back dropped Mrs. Devar, and Medenham recovered sufficient self-control to point out to Cynthia her first glimpse of the gray walls that vie with Fountains Abbey and Rievaulx for pride of place as the most beautiful ruin in England.

Certainly these old Cistercians knew how and where to build their monasteries. They had the true sense of beauty, whether in site or design, and at Tintern they chose the loveliest nook of a lovely valley. Cynthia silently feasted her vision on each new panorama revealed by the winding road, and ever the gray Abbey grew more distinct, more ornate, more landscape.

But dillusion was at hand.

Rounding the last bend of the descent, the Mercury purred into the midst of a collection of horsed vehicles and frayed motors. By some unhappy chance the whole countryside seemed to have chosen Tintern as a rendezvous that Saturday. The patrons of a neighboring hotel overflowed into the roadway; the brooding peace of the dead-and-gone monks had fled before this invasion; instead of memories of mitered abbots and cowled friars there were the realities of loud-voiced grooms and porkpie-eating excursionists.

"Please drive on," whispered Cynthia. "I must see Tintern another time."

Although Medenham hoped to consume a precious hour or more in showing her the noble church, the cloisters, the chapter-house, the monks' parlor, and the rest of the stone records of a quiet monastic life, he realized to the full how utterly incongruous were the enthusiastic trippers with their ranks gingerly, and was soon running free along the tree-shaded road to Monmouth.

Happily, that delightful old town was sufficiently familiar to him in earlier days that he was now able to supplement the general knowledge of its past gleaned already by the girl's reading. He halted in front of the Welsh Gate on Monnow Bridge, and told her that although the venerable curiosity dates back to 1270 it is nevertheless the last defensive work in Britain in which serious preparations were made for civil war, as it was expected that the Chartists would march from Newport to attack Monmouth Jail in 1839.

"Six hundred year," mused Cynthia aloud. "If there are sermons in stones what a history is pent in these!"

"And how greatly it would differ from the accepted versions," laughed Medenham.

"Do we never know the truth,

"Oh, yes, if we are actually mixed up in some affair of worldwide importance, but that is precisely the reason why the actors remain dumb."

Oddly enough, this was the first of Medenham's utterances that Mrs. Devar approved of.

"Evidently you have moved in high society, Fitzroy,' she chimed in.

"Yes, madam," he said. "More than once, when in a hurry, I have run madly through Mayfair."

"Oh, nonsense!" she cried, resenting the studied civility of the "madam" and ruffled by the quip, "you speak of Mayfair, yet I don't suppose you really know where it is."

"I shall never forget where Down Street is, I assure you," he said cheerfully.

"Because that is where I met Simmonds, last Wednesday, and arranged to take on his job."

"In your mind, then, it figures as broken-down-street," co-ed Cynthia.

After that the Mercury crossed the Monnow, and Mrs. Devar muttered something about the mistake one made when one encouraged servants to be too familiar. But Cynthia was not to be repressed. She was bubbling over with high spirits, and amused herself by telling Medenham that Henry V. was born at Monmouth and afterwards won the battle of Agincourt—"scraps of history not generally known," she confided to him.

From the back of the car Mrs. Devar watched them with a hawklike intentness that showed how thoroughly those "forty winks" snatched while in the Wyndcliff had restored her flagging energies. Though it was absurd to suppose that Cynthia Vanrenen, daughter of a millionaire, a girl dowered with all that happy fortune had to give, would so far forget her her social position as to flirt with the chauffeur of a hired car, this experienced marriage-broker did not fail to realise what a stumbling block the dreadful person was in the path of Count Edouard Marigny.

For once in her life, "Wiggy" Devar forced herself to think clearly. She saw that "Fitzroy" was a man who might prove exceedingly dangerous where a girl's heart was concerned. He had the address and semblance of a gentleman; he seemed to be able to talk some jargon of history and literature and art that appealed mightily to Cynthia; worst of all, he had undoubtedly ascertained, by some means wholly beyond her ken, that she and the Frenchman were in league. She was quite in the dark as to the cause of her son's extraordinary behaviour the previous evening, but she was beginning to suspect that this meddlesome Fitzroy had contrived somehow or other, to banish Captain Devar as he had outwitted Marigny on the Mendips. Talented schemer that she was, she did not believe for a moment that Simmonds had told the truth at Bristol. She argued, with cold logic, that the man would not risk the loss of an excellent commission by bringing from London a car so hopelessly out of repair that it could not be made available under four or five days. But her increasing alarm centered chiefly in Cynthia's attitude. If, by her allusion to a "cut-and-dried schedule," the girl implied a design to depart from the tour planned in London, then the Count's wooing became a most uncertain thing, since it was manifestly out of the question that he should continue to waylay them at stopping places chosen haphazard during each day's run.

So Mrs. Devar noted with a malignant eye each friendly glance exchanged by the couple in front, and listened to the snatches of their talk with a malevolence that was fanned to fury by their obvious heedlessness of her presence. She felt that the crisis called for decisive action. There was only one person alive to whose judgement Cynthia Vanrenen would bow, and Mrs. Devar began seriously to consider the advisability of writing to Peter Vanrenen.

If any lingering doubt remained in her mind as to the soundness of this view, it was dispelled soon after they reached Symon's Yat. She was sitting in the enclosed veranda of a cosy hotel perched on the right bank of the Wye when Cynthia suddenly leaped up, teacup in hand, and looked down at the river.

"There are the ducklest little yachts I have ever seen skimming about on that stretch of water," she cried over her shoulder. "The mere sight of them makes me taste all the dust I have swallowed between here and London. Don't you think it would be real cute to remain here to-night and run into Hereford to-morrow after an early cup of tea?"

Cynthia need not have taken the trouble to avert her scarlet face from Mrs. Devar's inquisitive eyes; indeed, Mrs. Devar herself was glad that her quickwitted and perhaps quick-tempered young friend had not surprised the wry smile that twisted her own lips.

"Just as you please, Cynthia," said she amiably.

Then the girl resolutely crushed the absurd emotion that led her to shirk her companion's scrutiny: she was so taken aback by this unexpected complaisance in a quarter where she was prepared for opposition that she turned and laid a grateful hand on the other woman's arm.

"Now that is perfectly sweet of you," she said softly. "I would just love to see that river by moonlight, and—and—I fancied you were a bit weary of the road. It wouldn't matter if the country were not so wonderful, but when one has to screw one's head round quickly or one misses a castle or a prize landscape, a hundred miles of that sort of thing becomes a strain."

"This seems to be quite a restful place," agreed Mrs. Devar. "Have you—er—told Fitzroy of the proposed alteration in our arrangements?"

Cynthia grew interested in the yachts again.

BABY BADLY SCALDED

Zam-buk Brought Quick Relief.

Mr. Alex. A. Cameron of Fairmount Antigonish Co., N.S., writes: "My little brother (three years old(had his face badly scalded by boiling tallow, and we thought if he ever got better he would be frightfully scarred. I never saw any person in such a shocking state as he was after the accident. The doctor who attended him gave us some lotion with which to bathe the scalds, and we followed this treatment for some time, but the little one did not get any ease. In fact, sometimes the preparations given seemed to make his pain all the worse.

"We at last stopped the medical treatment, and tried Zam-Buk, and after the first few applications the child seemed much easier. Zam-Buk seemed to draw the fire out of the scalds. In a few days the wounds ceased to cause him pain, and healing then commenced. In a few weeks he was quite well again.

"Not only so, but Zam-Buk healed the scalds in such a way that no scar or trace of the terrible injury has remained. A person, looking upon the child to-day, would never know that he had had such a terrible experience."

Zam-Buk is just as good for cuts, bruises, ulcers, piles, blood poison, festering sores, abscesses, pimples, eruptions, and all skin injuries and diseases.

FREE ADVICE TO SICK WOMEN

Thousands Have Been Helped By Common Sense Suggestions.

Women suffering from any form of female ills are invited to communicate promptly with the woman's private correspondence department of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established a confidential correspondence which has extended over many years and which has never been broken. Never have they published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which they have to draw from, it is more than possible that they possess the very knowledge needed in your case. Nothing is asked in return except your good will, and their advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. SERVANTS OF THE KING.

They Are Exceptionally Well-Treated and Have a Permanent Position.

There are no servants so fortunately placed as those in the royal household. They are practically always sure of being able to retain their positions until to old for work and then are certain of receiving a good pension.

It is, however, extremely difficult to obtain a position as a servant in the royal household. They are recruited entirely from the sons and daughters of people who are, or have been, in the employ of royalty and there are always a number of candidates for a vacancy.

When a man servant enters the King's employ he is put on what is known as the "personal" staff of the Master of the Horse, under whom he serves as a probationer for six months.

The general staff consists of six of the royal men servants who are specially detailed to attend on the Master of the Horse, and are relieved practically of all other duty.

The Master of the Horse is the only member of the household who has such a staff. At the end of six months the probationer, on the recommendation of the Master of the Horse, is placed on the indoor staff of yeomen and comes under the control of Mr. Darren, the Palace Steward.

The royal men servants are divided into three different classes: yeomen, grooms, and pages. A man serves, as a rule, for five years as a yeoman, and is then put on the staff of grooms. He may remain in the groom class for ten or twelve years and is then promoted to the page class.

A certain number of the royal servants are put daily, when the Court is in residence, on what is known as "close wait." That is personal attendance on the King and Queen.

The close wait attendants are selected from the grooms and pages only; the list of close wait attendants in the state apartments is made out daily by the Palace Steward, and in the personal apartments of the King and Queen, by the Chief Page.

Servants on close wait dress in black, and wear an ordinary morning coat; all the others who are on ordinary duty about the palace wear the royal livery. In this respect it may be noticed that the custom of the English Court differs from that of other European Courts where all the servants on duty wear livery, the close wait attendants being usually distinguished by a badge worn on the left arm.

There are altogether close on three hundred men servants in the royal household, but the attendance of the full staff is only required on the occasion of great state entertainments, or when a foreign monarch is visiting the English Court.

Normally there are from 150 to 200 men servants in residence at Buckingham Palace or Windsor Castle.

A large number of the servants are non-resident, that is to say they live at their own private residence, usually in London, near the palace; but some live in the country, and come up to London when their attendance at the palace is required.

There are some very well paid positions, which every man entering the royal service may aspire to. The Steward, the Chief Page, the Chief Yeomen, and the Chief Page of the Presence receive salaries varying from $1,500 to $2,500 per annum, but the rank and file of the servants are not better paid than the servants in any ordinary wealthy gentleman's service.

The majority of the royal servants are fairly good linguists. Most of them speak French and German and several speak three or four languages as well as their native tongue.

In the English, as in all royal households there are some foreign servants employed, but there are as a matter of fact, fewer foreigners in the English royal service than at any other Court in Europe, except that of the Czar, where custom forbids any but Russians being employed.

Where Hearing Ceases.

In England experiments have been made showing, it is said, that a vibration of sound having an amplitude of less than one twelve-millionth of a centimeter could still affect the sense of hearing. Such a vibration would be so short that it would have to be enlarged 100 times before the most powerful microscope would render it visible, supposing that it were susceptible of being seen at all. Aged persons, it is said, do not hear high notes which are audible to young people, and there is reason to believe that babies hear notes that are inaudible to their elders.

$16.66 Per Cottage.

What must be nearly a record low price for houses has been realized at an auction sale at Stalybridge. Six cottages have been sold for $100, which works out at the remarkably low figure of $16.66 per cottage.—English exchange.

The Coyote and Vegetarianism.

A book by Mr. Seton is naturally expected to contain some results of a careful observation of animal life, and they abound in these fascinating pages. Among much else of the kind, we are told that the coyote will become a vegetarian upon due provocation and the diet agrees with him. But the lynx, less adaptable, must have meat or he will die of hunger while the coyote will keep himself in good condition upon berries.

Caribou were found in great numbers and also buffalo, but the indiscriminate killing by Indians is likely to exterminate them. Those who are interested in the geography and natural history of the far north will find much to interest them in this fine volume.

Still Speaking.

Mr. Balfour was in a jovial mood when he returned to the House of Commons after his long holiday, and had a little joke at the expense of his colleague in the representation of the City. It so happened that, when Mr. Balfour made his reappearance in the Chamber, Sir Frederick Banbury was addressing the House, and a few minutes later, when the ex-Leader of the Opposition was receiving the congratulations of the members generally in the Lobby, he humorously remarked:

"When I left the House last October Banbury was speaking, and when I came in to-day I found him speaking. Has he never left off?"

The Bulldog's Nose.

Froude told Dr. Boyd an interesting little anecdote of an Oxford undergraduate who was asked in his examination in Paley's "Evidence" if he could mention a solitary instance of the divine goodness which he had discovered for himself. "Yes," he replied, "the conformation of the nose of the bulldog. Its nose is so retracted that it can hang on to the bull and yet breathe freely. But for this it would soon have to let go."

To Help Caddies.

Fifty members of golf clubs were present at the first meeting in London of the Caddies' Aid Association, an organization formed for the purpose of improving the condition of caddies. Plans for employing caddies at fixed weekly wages and teaching them useful trades were discussed at the meeting.

YOU CAN BE ABSOLUTELY SURE OF VALUES

If you carefully read the store advertisements and follow them in your buying.

Merchants advertise certain lines because they know these lines will advertise their stores. Because there is something about certain goods, they are put in conspicuous places and the people are told about them. It may be the exclusiveness or newness of design, it may be an unusual quality, it may be an attractive price.

But there is at least one definite, sure reason why a merchant advertises an article and is willing to stake the reputation of his store upon it.

Therefore, when you see an article advertised in THE REVIEW, depend upon it, that article is good value, as good value as can be obtained in that particular store.

CONCERNING YOUR EYES

Good eyesight is essential to health comfort and appearance. Have you ever noticed a strained look on your face, or your friend's? Usually this comes from eyestrain. More wrinkles are caused by eyestrain than by age. Thousands unconsciously squint in an effort to adapt the eyes to the surroundings. Success in relieving eye-strain depends entirely upon the OPTICAL SKILL of the Specialist who prescribes the glasses. Neglect of the eyes many times leads to surgical operations, which glasses worn in time may prevent. We correct errors of vision by means of properly fitted lenses.

We have every modern appliance for accurate eyesight testing, and we grind all our own lenses. Thus assuring you accuracy and promptness. All work guaranteed.

MOULDERS ARE BACK TO WORK

G. Walter Green's Men Granted 9 Hour Day.

The moulders employed by G. Walter Green, returned to work this morning, the firm having granted their demands for a 9-hour day with the same wages as was formerly paid for 10 hours work.

Of the five shops in the city, where moulders are employed, three, are now working on the nine hour schedule. The Adam Hall Company granted the demands of their men a few days after the strike was declared. The Peterboro Lock Manufacturing Company was not affected by the trouble as the 9-hour day was in force there already.

The moulders of the Peter Hamilton and the William Hamilton Company are still out, but the prospects for an early and satisfactory settlement are bright.

The trouble in the G. Walter Green works would have been settled sooner, but for the absence of Mr. Greene from the city.

AN EVENING WITH WHITTIER

Rev. F. J. Sawers Addressed Geo. Street League

The young people of the George street Methodist Epworth League, spent a most enjoyable social evening last night in the Sunday school room of the church.

There was a large number of members present, and the meeting was favored by an "Evening with Whittier," Rev. Mr. Sawers gave a very interesting address on the works of that poet, and emphasized the most outstanding features of his poems.

A duet by Miss Josie Callandar and Mr. Chas. Thornton was enjoyed by the gathering, and Miss Isabel Baird gave a charming piano solo.

After the program, dainty and appetizing refreshments were served.

When you visit the Summer Fair in the Armouries do not miss the Winter Booth. The special attraction here will be the Dinner served from 5 to 8 p.m. Everyone is cordially invited to patronize our dining room. 2d

NEW ARTIST AT LENDRUM'S

Mr. W. H. Orme Has Taken Over the Business.

Mr. W. H. Orme, late of Eyonde, king of photographers, Toronto, has bought out the photographic business of Mr. W. G. Lendrum, on Charlotte street. Mr. Orme is a born artist and specializes in every branch of the business. He is also an expert at platinum work.

Mr. Orme was in business in Ingersoll, where he was unfortunately burned out. While there, he photographed some of the leading men of the country, such as the Hon. R. L. Borden and Sir William Mulock. He has also photographed most of the athletes of note, including Thomas Longboat and Alfred Shrubb.

Mr. Orme has only been in Peterborough about a week, but is pleasing his customers greatly. This is shown by the fact that he has received an increase order from every other customer who has called on him for work.

JUDGE HAGGART WAS CLERK WITH MR. GEO. EDMISON

Many of the older residents of Peterborough will remember Alexander Haggart, when as a young man, he served his apprenticeship as law clerk in the office of George Edmison, K.C., about forty years ago. To-day the same boy, now grown to man's estate, occupies the position of Judge of the Court of Appeals of Manitoba, and is recognised as one of the most learned judges of the day.

Justice Haggart entered the study of law when a mere youth. He started in as office boy with Mr. Edmison and exhibited an aptitude and intelligence which commended him most favorably to his employer. He was sent to law school, and three years later graduated with high honors, Leaving Peterborough he went to Winnipeg, and later associated himself with Hugh John McDonald, son of Sir John A. McDonald, in the practice of law.

He was elected to the Dominion Parliament, and afterwards resigned his seat in favor of Honorable Robt. Rogers, now Minister of the Interior.

Justice Haggart was in the city only a short time ago, and when here he never fails to call on his first benefactor. Mr. Edmison.

He is now about sixty years of age.

WAS SEIZED WITH WEAK SPELL

Considerable excitement was aroused yesterday afternoon, when a Mr. McCandlish, of 195 Gladstone Avenue, Ottawa, was seized with an epileptic fit at the corner of Aylmer and Sherbrooke street. A number of spectators collected, but the unfortunate man was hurriedly removed to Dr. Mann's surgery, where he was given medical attention.

Comstock's ambulance was called, and he was taken to Nicholls Hospital. His condition was much improved this morning and he will soon leave the hospital.

The man is a distributer of tracts and poems, and is subject to such spells.

NEWS FROM OMEMEE

Special Correspondence.

Omemee, May 20.—Everybody is welcome to the evening meeting of the Bachelors' Congress on Victoria Day. The variety of delegates, their quaint dress and their interesting parts before the foot-lights should produce abundant entertainment for a space of about 3 hours. The Suffragettes (militant) of Omemee have resolved to attend in a body and occupy the front seats of the lower floor, where they will so annoy and disturb the convention that they believe the Bachelors will be forced to allow them a part in the proceedings. A lively scene is anticipated and the Bachelors promise not to decamp. Doors open at 7 o'clock, the convention begins at 8 p.m., after which, no one will be permitted to enter the hall except by passport from Constable Zeb West, who will be on special duty in the building. New curtain and several sets of scenery are to be used for the first time before an Omemee audience.

Remember the garden party the first week of June, at Mount Hareb, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Omemee Presbyterian church.

There is a noticeable stir and increase of street population this last week, due no doubt, to the movements of a bunch of telephone men who are building a new line to the north and to the power line men, who are working north-east of the town.

Mr. E. Hayes, who has been in the cartage business for a number of years, has sold his business, outfit and mail contract to Mr. Dave Magee, who is now on the job and guarantees satisfaction in every department of his work.

On Wednesday a number of our prominent citizens went down the river, in launches, as is their usual custom, on their annual tour. The weather was on its good behaviour, the sun was not unpleasantly hot and the party spent the whole day delightfully, lunching at Grenadier and Carroll's.

Mr. Ellis Lloyd has accepted a position in the employ of Mrs. Joan McCrea.

Messrs. Bert Morden and Joe Rosberg were in town on busness Wedday.

On Saturday the Rifle Association had a practice at the Mount Nebo ranges.

We are pleased to see Mr. Eli Williamson out again after a second attack of rheumatism, which confined him to his room.

On Tuesday Master Harry Smyth left for Saskatchewan.

Mr. Gallagher, of Peterborough, was home over the week-end.

Mr. Wm. Earle is improving the appearance of his recently purchased property on Sturgeon street.

Mr. Joseph Lowe, of Mount Pleasant, made a business call on Saturday.

Mr. Wm. Magee has improved his residential property by the construction of an addition.

On Tuesday and Wednesday there were no classes in the senior room of the public school because of the teacher's illness.

Mr. F. A. McPherson, who has been ailing for a few days, is convalescing satisfactorily.

The full dress rehearsal on Monday evening shows the comedy drama that is to be presented on the evening of May 24th, to be in the hands of a high class of amateur performers.

ANOTHER CHINESE RESTAURANT

Another Chinese restaurant is to be opened in Peterborough, either on June 3rd, or the 10th, by a Chinaman from Kingston, named Yee Yeu. The restaurant will be carried on in the premises now occupied by Mr. Frank Jacobi who has disposed of the place and who intends leaving for Edmonton in the near future.

It is understood that some alterations will be made by the new comers, such as changing around the lunch counter and making an entrance from the rear, facing the market in addition to the one in front.

MARLBOROUGHS HELD LAST DANCE

The final and probably the most charming and enjoyable dance of the season given by the Marlborough Club last evening, was attended by about thirty couples, all of whom speak most enthusiastically of the pleasant time spent.

The music for the dance was again furnished in a highly pleasingly and liberal manner by Miss Gladman, her selections being time and again encored. Miss Gladman's dance numbers are rendered with an appreciation of accuracy and time which contribute largely to her popularity as a pianiste for similar social events.

The introduction of several moon dances during the evening added a touch of novelty always welcome and acceptable.

Refreshments were served about twelve o'clock, when dancing was resumed until about two, before dispersing.

END OF THE BREEN CASE; DIVORCE IS GRANTED

New York, May 21.—A jury in the supreme court here yesterday gave a verdict in favor of Mrs. Ethel Croker Breen, a daughter of Richard Croker in her suit for divorce against John J. Breen, horse trainer, Counsel for Breen asked for a week's delay to get Miss Maude Diehl, a Toronto telephone operator, to come and testify. She refused to come as she had been recently married. The court held that the defence had had ample time to bring its witnesses to court. In addition to the charges of misconduct at a Toronto hotel, the plaintiff charged Breen with misbehavior at Peterborough, Ont., with Mrs. Reese, an English-woman.

Mrs. Elizabeth King, a dressmaker of Peterborough, testified that Mrs. Reese had a room at her house at the time that Breen was training horses for Jas. R. Stratton, ex-M.P., in that town. After telling of visits by Breen to her lodger, she told of a conversation in which Breen told Mrs. Reese that he did not care for his wife anyhow. He had, according to this evidence, refused an offer of $50,000 to allow a divorce, but added: "When he (Richard Croker) gives me $100,000, I will sign with both hands."

Breen met Miss Croker at a local riding academy.

ALD. MORGAN TELLS OF A NEAR ACCIDENT AT RAILWAY CROSSING

While discussing the matter of crossings protection at the City Council meeting last night, Ald. Morgan thrillingly related the story of a street car's narrow escape from being demolished by a train at the Water street north railway crossing last week.

According to the East City alderman's story, a street car was approaching the above crossing, going north. As is customary before crossing a railroad track, the conductor alighted to see if any trains were approaching. Seeing the line clear, he gave the signal for the motorman to proceed. At that moment the Lakefield train turned the sharp bend and speeding by, just missed the car by about three feet. The trolley car had a narrow escape from being smashed, so Ald. Morgan contended, and furthermore, the engineer of the train did not sound his locomotive whistle.

"I would like to know" said Ald. Morgan, how the by-law advocated by Ald. Gordon, would apply in case that car had been struck, and had he been here to-night I intended to ask him"

Ald. Gordon happened to be in New York.

DRYDOCK IS PROPOSED FOR LOCAL WATERWAY

There can be no question of a pressing necessity for a dry dock for the Trent waters, and it is equally clear that it should be at Peterborough. In accordance with this Mr. Burnham has made application to the Minister of Railways and Canals for the establishment of a dry dock at this point. It is believed by those most competent to judge, such as Mr. Wade, and some of the Government boat captains, that the dry dock should be easily and cheaply constructed near Lock No.6, just below, the Lift Lock. This could be filled and emptied by gravitation, having an elevation of eight feet above Little Lake. It could be attended to by the Lockmaster at No. 6, and would probably pay for itself in a few seasons. The number of small craft requiring repairs on the river is surprising, and it is a source of great expense repairing them without the facility of a dry dock.

The matter has been pressed upon the attention of the Minister, and it is expected something will come of it. It is understood that the Superintendent of the Trent Canal approves of the proposition.

NEWSY NOTES ON SUMMER FAIR

The girls of the Collegiate Institute Domestic Science class, are being allowed to donate fruit which they have been taught to can in their classes, under the direction of Miss Steinhoff.

Mr. McDermid has donated 200 samples of cocoa to be distributed on one of the evenings during the week, to those who order cocoa in the autumn booth.

Quaker oats are making all bread for use in the Autumn booth.

Candied Puffed Wheat and Candied Puffed Rice, are being made by the Quaker Oats Company, and will be on sale at the Autumn booth.

Don't neglect to try a Club Sandwick. Just hear what is in them and you will surely want one. First, there is nice crisp bown toast, then cold chicken, lettuce and thin slices of hot fried bacon with a dash of mustard and some salad dressing. Doesn't that sound appetising.

The Matthews Laing Company are making a special brand of Frankfort sausage to be used in serving the "Coney Island Red Hots" at the Autumn booth. These promise to be an attraction for the children especially.

Some most artistic posters are being shown in the windows of the different stores to-day, advertising the Peterboro Summer Fair. They are the work of Miss McCrea, of the Normal School teaching staff, and also of J. J. Turner & Sons. They are most creditable and are being much admired.

WILL GIVE ANSWER WITHIN TEN DAYS

The music committee of St. Paul's church met with Mr. Allan, after the recital last night and making him an offer, urged him to come to Peterborough as organist of St. Paul's church. He has the reputation of being equal to any organist or choir leader in Toronto. Mr. Allan has a very fine position in Montreal and the health of Mrs. Allan is the consideration that led him to apply here

Mr. Allan will give his answer accepting or refusing the offer of the St. Paul's congregation within ten days.

Mr. Allan conducts a musical academy at Montreal.

MANUFACTORY OF BALL TEAMS

The team that wins right off the reel don't always keep the pace, it may meet rocks and hit the bumps, or fall from out the race; the team that makes a decent show—it may not win at first—can gather points and make them talk, when others swell and burst. The team that's hitting every day, and fielding fairly clean, is always sure to win respect, no matter on what green. The hoodoo doesn't always stick, there's bound to come a day, when "get your goat" is out of date—the "near wins" take the fray. They've hit their gait, the weak spots fixed, they take their share each week, and perhaps this team's the one that sends the old rag to the peak. The baseball game's a funny stunt—a team don't grow o'er night—the big chief has to plan and drill his man to force the fight. The mighty Mackmen, Tigers, Cubs, took years to find the ranks, and then by inside stuff they learned, were perched on top as champs.

TEMPLIN'S WHITE CAPS IN THEIR BATTING TOGS

Below are the batting averages of the White Caps for the games at Hamilton and one at St. Thomas. Batting, it has been shown, is a strong point in favor of the Petes. A dive into the winning column is sure to come and continue.

WHITE CAPS AND ST. THOMAS TO OPEN LOCAL BALL SEASON AT RIVERSIDE

Old Sol peeped out for an interval this afternoon, and may be induced to do somewhat better to-morrow. At any rate the big attraction for Peterboro fans—the opening of the Canadian Ball League here—will arrive and pass into history.

Manager Templin's White Caps, with Manager Stewart and his St. Thomas team will arrive to-night, and wander over to Riverside to-morrow afternoon, to answer the call of his umps at 3.45 o'clock. The two teams will certainly receive the glad hand. The fans have been following the fortunes of the White Caps, with great interest, and although the local leader has not entered the win column, the comment of the work of the team is most favorable.

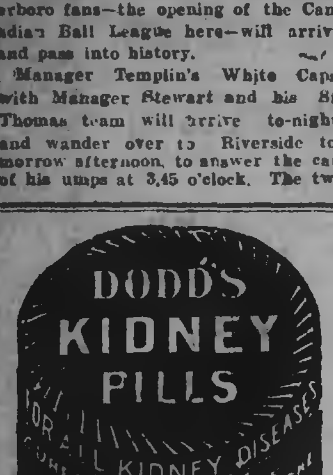
Indeed, the Caps have done exceedingly well. On short acquaintances and with comparatively little practice they took the road, outhitting the Hamilton Kolts and being only one run behind in the first game. The second contest was a fair win for the Kolts. At Brantford, bad weather prevented play for two days, and the benefits of the two games were lost, when play was resumed on Saturday. Yesterday the Caps again outhit the homesters, but failed to land the game, though brilliant fielding of Stewart's men.

Every fan who can get away to the ball lot to-morrow, should not fail to be on hand. The team needs support, and it has been shown that that support is deserving.

A procession and the usual opening ceremonies are included in the bill, and a big afternoon may be expected. HERE'S LUCK TO THE WHITE CAPS.

At present there is no doctor in the Chilcotin district.

A modern hotel costing $15,000 has been opened at Marcus.



KOPP'S CLEVER COP IN THE NINTH PREVENTED WHITE CAPS WINNING GAME

St. Thomas, May 21.—St. Thomas won a free-hitting contest against Peterborough yesterday by six to five. Stewart's men were outhit, but but brilliant fielding, especially in the last innings, when Peterborough made a great finish, saved them. Each team used two pitchers, Turner, who started for the Saints, could not locate the plate, and Clement, who just arrived at noon from Quincy, Ill., held the visitors safe till the ough, was derricked in the second in favor of Durr, who did well. Forgue gave a great exhibition of base-running and Kopp's catch in left field in the ninth was a corker. Umpire Johnson was roasted by the crowd on many of his decisions. The score:—

BREEZES FROM THE DIAMOND

Brantford Expositor:—Peterborough has a well-balanced team, and they will be right in the race to the finish. They play a snappy game all the time.

A couple of Peterborough's hits were of the scratch variety.

Peterborough has a good team and if Templin handles them properly he will get results.

Schaeffer did not allow a Brantford man to get to first in four innings.

Take two Omemee

Col. Jinx has pursued Templin's squad since they started on the road. But wait until they get on their own park when they'll shake their hard luck Jinx for keeps.

The team will arrive to-night in company with the St. Thomas aggregation.

Bill Schaeffer and Harry Scull, who returned from St. Thomas yesterday, had a good work-out at the "Y" gymnasium this afternoon. Schaeffer worked against Brantford and pitched a good game. Scull did not work against any team yet, but he says he is in the pink of condition. The boys say Hackbush, the recruit from Guelph, is a good man.

Turned Things About.

Pat was in the army and he was very awkward. One day he was out drilling, when the sergeant turned to him and said:

"Pat, what did you do before you came here?"

"Begorrah, yer honor, I used to drive pigs, but since I have come here I have nothing but pigs driving me."—London Answers.

CHOPPING HIM DOWN.

A Practical Joke That Was a Boomerang to the Woodsmen.

There is nothing that so cheers the heart of the lumberman as to play a practical joke on one whom he calls a "greenhorn," or, in other words, any one unused to the ways of a lumber camp. One of the harshest and most dangerous, although it is the most admired, writes Charles G. D. Roberts, the Canadian author, in "Around the Campfire," is that known as "chopping him down."

This means, in a word, that the stranger in camp is invited to climb a tall tree to take observations or enjoy a remarkable view. No sooner has he reached the top than two or three vigorous axemen attack the tree at its base. Long before he can reach the ground the tree begins to topple. As a general rule the heavy branches so break the fall of the tree that the victim finds himself uninjured. There are cases, however, where men have been crippled for life.

Mr. Roberts gives an experience of his own which did not come out exactly as the lumbermen expected. He had climbed into a magnificent pine tree one day. No sooner was he two-thirds up the tree than the lumbermen set to work to "chop him down."

"I thanked them for their attention," he writes, "and climbed a few feet farther up to secure a position which I saw would be a safe one for me when the tree should fall. As I did so I perceived, with a gasp and a tremor, that I was not alone in the tree.

"There, not ten feet above me, stretched at full length along a branch, was a huge panther. From the men below his form was quite concealed.

"I laughed to myself as I thought how my tormentors would be taken aback when that panther should come down among them. I decided that there would be no more danger to them than that to which they were exposing me in their reckless fooling.

"The great mass of foliage made the fall a compartively slow one. Then came the final thunderous crash, and in an instant I found myself standing in my place, jarred, but unhurt.

"The next instant there was another roar, overwhelming the laughter of the woodsmen, and out of the pine boughs shot the panther in a whirlwind of fury. He turned half round and greeted his enemies with one terrific snarl and then bounded off into the forest at a pace which made it idle to pursue him.

"The men seemed almost to think that I had conjured up the panther for the occasion. I thanked them most fervently for coming to my rescue with such whole-hearted good will and promised them that if ever again I got into a tree with a panther I would send for them at once."

Waterloo Centenary.

It has been decided by a committee formed in Belgium to celebrate the centenary of the battle of Waterloo. The committee have under consideration a proposal for a monument to be erected on the field. According to Mr. Emile Antoine Coulon, the secretary, the design will take the form of a hypogeum, beneath which will lie the remains of the fallen soldiers. It is proposed to place statues to Wellington, Napoleon, Blucher, and the Prince of Orange. Upon the base of the monument will be allegorical figures representing Grief, Heroism, and Hope in future peace. The circumstances leading to the erection of the monument will be set forth in French, English, German, and Dutch.

A complete and yet startingly concise report, that would apply with almost equal force to any other town on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific, has been prepared and published by the Mayor and Publicity Commissioner of Edson, Alta. It reads—

"Edson—Record of Accomplishment—Steel arrived August 1910; population 15. Incorporated as a village January 1911, population 400. Incorporated as a town, December 1911; population 800. Present population March 12, 1,253. Present places of business, 67. Value of buildings, 1911. $486,000. G. T. P. pay-roll monthly $40,000. The site of the completed car shops and machine shops of the mountain division of the G. T. P. Edson to-day is the actual distributing point to Grande Prairie and Peace River districts: Brazeau coal mines over G. T. P. branch line; and for a distance of 200 miles west over G. T. P.

Nice Little Hint.

"I wonder," remarked a youthful astronomer who was very slow in doing what was expected of him, "if—if you will let me associate you with a star — Venus, perhaps, the star of love?"

"Well, no," replied the young lady addressed thoughtfully. "I would rather that you thought of me as Saturn."

"Indeed! Why?"

"Oh, well, you know, didn't you tell me that Saturn has a ring?"

He brought one on the following day.

Cat Worship.

In ancient Egypt the cat was an object of worship. Herodotus narrates that when an Egyptian house was on fire the first thing to be saved was the cat. When the Romans conquered Egypt the cat received no more consideration than the religion of which it formed a part. Before that time in Egypt to kill a cat, even by accident, was punishable with

His Number.

He gazed tenderly into her eyes as she spoke.

"Life," she murmured dreamily, "is, after all, nothing but a romance in which we are the characters, moving hither and yon as the supreme author of our being directs."

"And in the novel of your life," said he tenderly, "where do I come in?"

"You?" she answered with a smile. "Oh, you are—let me see—one, two, three—you are Chap Seventeen."

Too Good.

First Society Dame—How are the acoustics of the new opera house?

Second Society Dame—Too good! Some people in the family circle said they could hear every word spoken in our box.

Accident Insurance

Following the Titanic Disaster no one will think of travelling without first taking out an Accident Policy.

It is interesting to know that practically all the Canadians who lost their lives through the Titanic wreck carried Accident Insurance. The average amount to be paid by Accident Companies alone, is over $30,000 for each Canadian lost.

The Double Indemnity and Bonus feature of The Dominion of Canada and General Accident Assurance Company policies are worthy of investigation before placing your Insurance.

CITY COUNCIL DISCUSS MATTER OF RAILWAY CROSSINGS PROTECTION ON KING AND SHERBROOKE STS.

Railway Board to Meet Here May 31st. to take up the Question—Sewers and Sidewalks Laid Over — Some Communications.

The City Council were to have discussed last evening, the laying of sewers and sidewalks in the city in accordance with a list of streets on which the proposed work was to be carried out submitted by the City Engineer. Owing, however, to the absence of four of the members the discussion was laid over until another meeting when all the city fathers would be on hand.

Those present were Mayor Bradburn, and Aldermen Brown, Gillespie, Johnston, Graham, Anderson and Morgan.

Several communications were read and referred to the respective committees.

A letter was read from Rev. J. G. Shearer, regarding a young Peterborough girl at present in the Redemptive home for girls in Toronto. The letter contained a request that the City of Peterborough provide for her maintenance in this home during her period of illness, as the municipality of Toronto will not undertake to meet the expense of such cases coming from outside corporations. The letter was referred to the Finance Committee.

A communication was received from the Matthews-Laing Company, asking for the installation of an eight inch pipe into their factory as they intend putting a sprinkling system into it and which requires a pipe such as described. On motion the request was granted.

The Board of Railway Commissioners have given notice to the city that they intend holding a sitting in the Court House in Peterborough on Friday, May 31st, to hear an application in which the city is interested, namely, the consideration of the matter of protection of the G.T.R. crossing at King street. The calling of the proposed sitting originated from a complaint sent to the Railway Board by Mr. A. E. Birchard, 207 Reid street, regarding the dangerous condition of the above crossing and also the one on Sherbrooke street.

A rather extended discussion arose over the above matter. Mayor Bradburn stated that he understood the Railway Board engineer had visited the city and inspected the crossings referred to.

Ald. Johnston thought that the complainant might have interviewed the Council before addressing a communication to the Railway Board.

The chief question in connection with the crossing protection arose over who would bear the expense connected with the same. The Mayor called for an expression of opinion to discover whether the Council felt that the city should shoulder the expense or whether the expense of its maintenance should be borne by the Railway Board.

Ald. Brown—I think the Railway Board should be responsible.

Mayor Bradburn—Well, we have thought that before in other cases, but the Railway Board do not think so. I think it would be well to have this matter taken up by the Manufacturers' Committee.

Ald. Anderson—Don't you think that all that is necessary is to have the city solicitor appear before the Board in the City's interests?

Ald. Anderson moved that the matter be referred to the City solicitor and the Manufacturers' Committee.

Mayor Bradburn felt that the Railway Board should shoulder the expense connected with the maintenance of the proposed crossing protection.

Ald. Gillespie—There isn't a crossing in the city that needs more protection more than the one on Aylmer street.

Ald. Anderson—I think I would oppose the idea of the city bearing any part of the expense.

Ald. Morgan—I think it would be better to oppose the whole scheme.

Mayor Bradburn—But I don't want to oppose protection of these crossings.

Ald. Anderson—That is the way I feel about it.

Finally a motion by Ald. Anderson and Johnston carried, to the effect that the City Council is not opposed to the protection proposed, but they are opposed to the City being called upon to bear any expense in connection with it.

No other business of importance being to hand, the Council then adjourned.

ORGAN RECITAL AT ST. PAUL'S

The organ recital given in St. Paul's church last night by Mr. J. Allan of Montreal, assisted by Miss Pearl Brock, contralto soloist. Miss Chalmers, soprano soloist and Miss Laura Logan, violiniste, was well attended.

Mr. Allan's interpretation of the varied selections made a most pleasing impression upon the audience, who received each of his renditions heartily.

Throughout the whole of the recital, Mr. Allan's handling of the organ surprised and delighted the audience. In the selections where volumes of power were called for the organ seemed to answer to the need exactly, and in the softer creations when only the faintest of sounds were issuing from the instrument, the full and perfect control that was noticeable in the other selections was wonderfully in evidence. His playing was a decided musical treat, and the organ, at all times the most expressive of musical instruments, lost nothing of its supremacy at the recital last night. The congregation of St. Paul's church is fortunate indeed to have the opportunity of securing the services of such an experienced and distinguished an organist.

An attractive and varied program was presented and skillfully rendered. All the numbers were good, but those that seemed to find most favor with the audience were—"A Romance from Samson and Delilah," Saint Saens; "O Star of Love," (Tannhauser) Wagner; "Overture to Occasional Oratorio," Handel; "Capriccio Lemaigre," and his own arrangement of Scotch airs, in all of which good judgment was displayed in shading and registration.

Vocal solos were given by Miss Pearl Brock, contralto and Miss Chalmers, soprano. Miss Brock sang with dramatic fervor Randeggor's "Save Me O God" and Miss Chalmers, the pleasing young soprano soloist of the church, sang effectively "The Cross" by Harriet Ware.

A pleasant addition to the program was a violin solo by Miss Logan, who gave a charming rendition of Raffi Cavatina.

PETERBORO MEN SEARCHING INVESTMENTS IN THE WEST

A despatch from Port Arthur says: On their way to Winnipeg and other western cities, as far as Vermillion, Alta., in search of opportunities for investment, a large party of eastern financial men arrived this morning and are spending the day in Port Arthur. They leave to-night by the C.N.R. for Winnipeg. The party will travel in special Pullman cars during the whole trip, taking side trips for pleasure to Calgary, Edmonton, Regina and Saskatoon, where invitations to receptions of various kinds have been accepted.

Among the prominent men who compose the party are: Sen. Talbot Lacombe, Alta.; Sen. Ratz, New Hamburg; J. A. Sexsmith, M.P., Peterborough; W. Smyth, M.M.P., Algoma; M. B. Tudhope, Orillia, Ont.; Col. W. J. B. White, Kingston; Capt. Tom Wallace, M.P., Woodbridge; D. McLean, ex-M.P., Woodbridge; James Cameron, reeve of Vaughan; F. W. Grant, K.C., Midland; Alex. McMurby, reeve of King; Dr. W. B. Neely, M.P., Humboldt; Dr. Charles Biehn, Chesley; John Nighe, reeve of Markham; Dr. W. A. Kerr, Elora; Sidney Richardson, M.P.P., Elora; J. B. Hall, manager of the Dominion Life Insurance Company, Toronto; Walter Ferguson, M.P.P, East Kent; P. McD. Liddie, Bank of Montreal; Jas. J. Thompson, M.P.P., Peterborough; W. E. Broley, Manufacturers Life Insurance Company; Dr. McGregor, Elora; V. A. Sinclair, K.C., Tillsonburg; W. Underwood, of the Harris Abattoir Company, Toronto.

Mr. Sexsmith and Mr. Thompson left here last Tuesday, sailing from Sarnia on the Hamonic. They are expected home next week.

BABY SHOW AT SUMMER FAIR AT ARMORIES

Not the least interesting feature of the Summer Fair will be the "Baby Show," to be held under the direction of Mesdames J. C. Davidson and Harry Rush. Three of our most esteemed citizens, Messrs. W. G. Morrow, F. D. Kerr and G. C. Wainwright, will act as judges.

The place will be the armories, but particulars as to the time, age of babies, prizes, etc., will appear in tomorrow's issue. Look out for this interesting announcement.

Convalescent

Walter Lowe is now through the critical siege of pain and prostration. Appendicitis and blood poisoning he did not trifle with, and Nicholls Hospital at Peterborough was his haven. While his life was for a time held in the balance, he has kind and appreciative words of praise for Dr. Frederick, the nursing staff and Nicholls Hospital. All are pleased to see Mr. Lowe almost himself again. —Campbellford Despatch.

LETTER SENT TO PATHMASTERS BY AUTO ASS'N

The following is the letter sent out to the pathmasters of the townships by the Peterborough Auto. Association:

Dear Sir,—I am pleased to advise you that the Peterborough Automobile Club have arranged to donate three prizes of $20, for the first; $15 for the second, and $10 for the third to the Pathmasters making the best roads this year, viz., filling up hollows, holes, ruts and removing large loose stones and grading an even crown to road.

As good roads is one of the most important matters to the country, and as everyone is interested, I trust you will enter the competition, especially as such entry incurs no obligation. Entries received by the secretary of the Committee up to June 15th, 1912. If you will kindly sign and send in the enclosed form so that your name will be entered in the list of competitors.

If you would like any information on road building as carried out by the Government we will be pleased to furnish same. Prizes will be awarded about August, after three competent judges have had an opportunity to travel over same.

Yours truly,
F. W. DOAN,
Sec'y Committee.

Before long the committee intend to launch other schemes for the bettering of the roads in the vicinity of Peterborough.

NONOGENARIAN PASSES AWAY

The Late Thos. Rountree, Resided in Peterboro Eighty-four Years

Many citizens of Peterborough will be sorry to learn of the death of Mr. Thomas Rountree, which occurred this morning at his home, 418 Water street. The late Mr Rountree was 94 years of age and had lived in this city for 84 years.

He was born in Ireland but when ten years of age he came to Canada with his parents who settled in Peterborough. During his life he was a faithful member of the English church and a staunch Conservative in politics.

When Mr. Rountree came to Peterborough the population was nearing 100 and most of the dwellings were on the east side of the river. The only way, except by driving, to reach the city, was by boat, then the principal means of tranportation, and he came to this municipaltiy by means of boats and the river. During his 84 years of residence here the deceased lived in East City, and on the site of the present Bank of Commerce. For many years before his death he resided at his home ,418 Water street.

He is survived by one son, Mr. Arthur Rountree, city.

The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock, the Rev. Canon Davidson officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

NORTH MONAGHAN COUNCIL MEETING

North Monaghan, May 15th, 2 p.m. All the members being present.

A plan of the Stinson lot on the gravel road, consisting of Park lot 19 and part of Park lot 20, being part of township lot 12, concession 12, and shown on registered plan No. 11, for the township of North Monaghan, was presented by Mr. Morrison for acceptance by the Council.

The Municipality of North Monaghan, by the Council thereof, accepts Second and Third avenue, each being 60ft in width, but does not accept Fourth avenue, it not being the required width. The Reeve and Clerk are authorized to attach their names and the corporate seal.

Mr. John Armstrong appeared before the Council and asked them to take action regarding the water being dammed back on his farm on the 9th concession. Other parties owning land in the course of the natural fall for the water would not clear out the course to let the water away, Mr. Armstrong claims.

Moved by Messrs. Foster and May, that the matter be referred to the township solicitor.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Foster and Morrow, that Mr. May be appointed with power to act in regard to Mr. T. Hurley's application to have Business street graded and also to look into his request regarding Ford avenue.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Robson and Morrow, that the following bills be approved for payment:

D J Kennedy, 65 loads of dirt, at 20c., $13 00; Foster Moncrief, repairing culverts, $11.90; Andrew Hagg, repairing washouts, $19.20; George Moncrief, repairing culverts, $3; A. E. Saunders, charity re S. Carnahan, $6; W. G. Howden, sessional allowance, $15; H. J. Foster, William Robson, James C. Morrow and Geo. H. May, sessional allowance, each $15; Bruce Johnson, half year's salary as Clerk, $50; W. H. Bradburn, half year's salary, as treasurer, $25.

Moved by Messrs. Forster and Robson, that Mr. W. G. Howden's plan of Park lot No. 9, township lot 13, con 11, North Monaghan, be accepted, and approved for registration, and the Clerk and Reeve be authorized to attach their names and the corporate seal of the township. The Council also accepts Howden St. as shown on this plan, and being 66 ft. in width.

The CCouncil then adjourned to meet again at the Clerk's on Saturday, May 25th at 2 p.m.

Bruce Johnson, Clerk.

Court of Revision.

Town Hall. May 15, 1912, 2 p.m.

Moved by Mr. Robson. seconded by Mr. Hay, that Mr. Howson be chairman of the Court of Revision each member being duly sworn as a member of the said Court.

Francis Kerr made application to have the lots 4 and 5 on Plan 30 assessed to the proper owners. Mr. S. J. Ridyard and James Cochrane. The error in this assessment was corrected accordingly and the appeal granted.

Mr. LeVasseur's appeal was considered not necessary, he not being assessed as stated in his appeal.

On motion the following appeals were granted:

Thos. Lush's assessment reduced from $700 to $600.

Alex. A. Preston, adjusted by the assessor previous to the Court of Revision, and Mr. Preston did not appear before the Court.

Toronto Loan and Savings Co. made application to have lots 61 and 62 and part of 63 on plan 41 assessed to Mr. I. Parks.

They also appealed to have the number of acres as given in the assessment roll reduced from 20 acres to 11 acres. Granted, and that the number of acres as shown on the assessment roll reduced from 20 acres to 11 acres.

The assessment on portion of land on the Sugar Beet property, now owned by the Toronto Savings and Loan Company reduced from $5.000 to $2,750. The assessment on this portion of this property, which is subdivided as shown on plan 41. reduced from $4.300 to $2,950, or from $70 per lot to $50 per lot.

Assessment on Mr. J. T. O'Connell's property as shown on plans Nos. 47 and 50, reduced from $12,750 to $5,150, or from $65 per lot, to $25 per lot. Plan No. 48.

F. T. Hurley's assessment reduced from $4,150 to $2,074, or from $50 to $25 per lot. Plan No. 48

T. Hurley's assessment on plan No. 37 reduced from $3.700 to $1,640, or from $45 per lot to $20 per lot as shown on plan No. 37.

George Moncrief's appeal allowed and the house and lot on the Campbell property be assessed to Miss Bella Campbell.—Carried.

Bruce Johnson. Clerk.

IN SEARCH OF CARIBOO

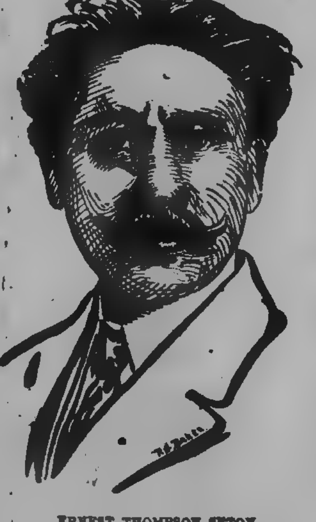
ERNEST THOMPSON SETON TELLS OF LAST EXPEDITION.

The Chipewyans Are Dirty and Lazy But Absolutely Honest, He Says—His Camera Is His Favorite Weapon and He Recounts His Adventures In Getting a Good Snapshot of a Lynx.

Mr. Ernest Thompson Seton, the famous Canadian naturalist and Chief Scout, is a most fascinating writer of animal stories. Last year he went on a journey of two hundred miles into the far and frozen north in search of the caribou, and he has written an account of his travels which will enhance an already high reputation for picturesque description, and uncanny insight into the ways of men and beasts.

Mr. Seton set off down the Athabasca River with one companion, and while his chief object was to see the caribou he was prepared also to gather natural history material and to complete the shore line of Aylmer Lake and to explore Clinton-Golden Lake. The travelers took with them a full supply of provisions from Winnipeg, being unwilling to rely upon the game, but as it happened the game walked into their camp every day. Incidentally the author tells us that he shot a lynx at Pelican Portage, the first time he had used a gun in many years and the only time upon this trip, but the meat was a godsend to two old Indians, who were sickening upon a long diet of salt pork.

The Chipewyans, we are told, are dirty, shiftless, improvident, and absolutely honest. Their vices they owe to the white man, their older men telling the author that "our fathers were hunters and our mothers made good mocassins, but the young men are lazy loafers around the trading posts, and the women get money in bad ways to buy what they should make with their hands.'



ERNEST THOMPSON SETON.

Fifty years ago they commonly went half naked. How they stood the insects I do not know, and when asked they merely grinned significantly; probably they doped themselves with grease.

The religious training has had one bad effect. Inspired with horror of 'naked" savages, they do not run any sinful risks, even to take a bath. In all the six months I was among them I never saw an Indian's bare arms, much less his legs. One day after the fly season was over I took advantage of the lovely weather and water to strip off and jump into a lake by our camp; my Indians modestly turned their backs until I had finished.

If this mock modesty worked for morality one might well accept it, but the old folks say that it operates quite the other way. It has, at all events, put an end to any possibility of them taking a bath.

Mr. Seton tells us a good story of his success with his favorite weapon, the camera. Upon one occasion he sighted a lynx, and with the aid of Mr. Preble the animal was driven into a corner for the purpose of getting a satisfactory pose. Here he faced about at bay, growling furiously, thumping his little bobtail from side to side, and pretending he was going to spring:

"Now, Preble, I'm going to walk up to that lynx and get a close photo. If he jumps for me, and he may, there is nothing can save my beauty, but you and that gun."

Preble, with characteristic loquacity, says "Go ahead.'

Then I stopped and began slowly approaching the desperate creature we held at bay. His eyes were glaring green, his ears were back, his small bobtail kept twitching from side to side, and his growls grew harder and hissier, as I neared him. At fifteen feet he gathered his legs under him as for a spring, and I pressed the button, getting No. 3.

Then did the demon of ambition enter into my heart and lead me into peril. That lynx at bay was starving and desperate. He might spring at me, but I believed that if he did he never would reach me alive. I knew my man—this nerved me—and I said to him: "I'm not satisfied; I want him to fill the finder. Are you ready?"

"Yep."

So I crouched lower and came still nearer, and at twelve feet made No. 4. For some strange reason, now the lynx seemed less angry than he had been.

"He didn't fill the finder; I'll try again," was my next.

We stood aside; he saw his chance and dashed for the tall timber. As he went I fired the last film, getting No 6; and so far as I know, that lynx is alive and well and going yet.

Couldn't Bear Sight of Him.
"He's the light of my life, pa."
"I don't like the light in my eyes."

AN ENQUIRY.

To the Editor of the Review.

The following paragraph is taken from the Bobcaygeon Independent, of May 10th:

"Mr. McLachlan, C.E., and Mr. J. B. McWilliams passed through Bobcaygeon this week, on their way to explore the Trent waters. The energetic policy pursued by Mr. Burnham M. P., has resulted in the Canals Department taking up the water supply of the Trent in a thorough manner; it will be looked into even as far up as the little streams, and everything will be done to assist the conservation necessary for navigation, while the Conservation Commission under Dean Fernow will carry out the plans for securing more water, and therefore more power. The eye of the Dominion Government is upon the sources of the Trent water supply, and may it keep there."

Will Mr. Burnham, M.P., or the Review please inform the public:

1st. Is Mr. J. B. McWilliams in the pay of the Dominion Government?

2nd. If so, on whose recommendation was he appointed?

Mr. Burnham has a reputation for candor, and no doubt is anxious that the public should at all times get the facts direct from himself before either condemning or commending his acts.

Yours truly,
ENQUIRER.

FLEETWOOD NEWS

Special Correspondence.

Fleetwood, May 21—It is our painful duty to have to record the sad death of Mr. Andrew McKinley, which sad event took place on Saturday afternoon, May 11, aged 68 years.

Deceased had the contract of peeling a number of posts for Mr. Guy Fripp, and was working on Saturday the 11th, and was last seen about 1 p.m. On the following day when Messrs. Robert and Joseph Whiteside happened to be walking on the new railroad track, they noticed his coat hanging on a pile of posts, which drew their attention, and upon further examination, they found deceased lying dead. It is supposed by Dr. Hamilton, of Bethany, who was called by phone at once, that heart failure was the cause. Deceased was single, and was born in the township of Clarke, and moved to Manvers with his brother, John, 23 years ago. Deceased was a man of fine statue and had no enemies, as he never was known to give offence. He was very kind to children and a general favorite with all.

Several men who arrived on the scene, helped to put deceased in a spring waggon and brought the remains to his brother John. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m., and was followed to St. Mary's church burying grounds, by a very large concourse of acquaintances. Rev. R. M. Patterson of Lifford, officiated at the dwelling house and Rev. J. C. Poston of Bethany, assisted by Rev. R. M. Patterson, of Lifford, officiated at the grave. The pall-bearers were Messrs. John Crawford, T. K. Brown, J. L. Hart, Albert Sutton, William H. Lee and Arthur Traham. Deceasedd leaves two brothers, Robert in Manitoba, and John of Manvers, and one sister, Mrs. McMullen of Clarke.

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved relatives and acquaintances.

WOMAN FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

Waterford, May 22.—Mrs. Carrington, an aged widow, was found unconscious with several bruises on her head in the doorway of her home, about two miles south of here, Monday.

Some threats made by an Italian pedler on account of some money alleged to be owing him, and the fact that the money she was known to have in her possession cannot be found, have led to an investigation, which is being conducted by Coroner (Dr.) Teeter.

Fought To the Death.

Nauen, Germany, May 22.—Two burglars were detected Monday night and dashed to their bicycles, which had been left outside the house. Confronted by a policeman, they shot him dead. People pursued them, firing as they fled. One burglar was wounded by a shot, and his comrade deliberately killed him to prevent his capture and possible betrayal. He then continued the battle against some hundreds of armed police and countrymen until he was shot dead.

GERMANY WILL INCREASE NAVY

Radical Parties Pass Measures on Condition That the Government Will Re-introduce Inheritance Tax and General Property Tax In Order to Pay the Extra Cost—Buelow "Bloc" Beaten.

Berlin, May 22.—The Reichstag yesterday passed the third reading of the bills increasing the German army and navy.

The navy bill provides for an extra squadron, for which three additional battleships and two cruisers are to be constructed before 1920.

The estimated additional annual cost is $24,250,000 this year, $31,750,000 next year and $28,500,000 yearly afterwards.

The army bill provides for an increase of 29,000 men, excluding officers, non-commissioned officers and other details of the peace footing in the army.

The contention that part at least of the cost of the increases in the army and navy should be borne by new taxation imposed on the wealthier class has prevailed.

The Reichstag adopted the two laws first on the condition that it would grant the necessary funds upon the introduction by the Government of legislation providing for some form of general property tax and its enactment before Oct. 1, 1916. Its second condition was that the Government should reintroduce the inheritance tax bill, the rejection of which overthrew Chancellor von Buelow and which was one of the principal issues at the last general elections.

The Secretary of the Treasury announced that the Government accepted the first condition, which was interpreted as demanding some form of taxation of wealth or inheritance, and would introduce a measure to that effect, but it was unwilling to bind itself to the inheritance tax contemplated in the second condition.

The Reichstag nevertheless adopted the second condition by a vote of 184 against 160. The majority comprised social democrats, radicals, national liberals, and anti-semites. The result of the vote was a clear victory over the old anti-Buelow "bloc," and a vindication of Adolf Wermuth, former Imperial Secretary of the Treasury, who resigned office because the Government's proposals for financing the army and navy measures were inadequate.

The Reichstag cut in two the expected revenue from the abolition of the distillery rebates, and found the additional revenues required by postponing the promised reduction of the sugar tax until after the enactment of the property tax demanded by the majority.

ROOSEVELT WINS SWEEPING VICTORY IN BUCKEYE STATE

President Taft Suffers Crushing Defeat in Ohio.

After a Hard Struggle In One of the Most Important Strongholds In the United States, Col. Roosevelt Beats the Machine and the Sentiment In Favor of Ohio's Native Son —Figures Not All In.

Columbus, Ohio, May 22.—On the face of the early returns in Ohio's first Presidential preference primary yesterday, Col. Roosevelt led the Republican ticket by three to two over President Taft.

Apparently Governor Harmon has carried 12 out of the 21 districts, giving him 24 of the 42 delegates to the national convention. If this proves true, it also will give him the six delegates-at-large from the state. In the call of the Democratic convention it was stipulated that the winner of the primary should name the delegates-at-large.

Only on the Democratic ticket does the count represent a direct Presidential preference vote. On the Republican, the vote completed is the total number of ballots cast in precincts counted for delegates to the national convention pledged to Col. Roosevelt or President Taft. It was impossible from the early returns to gather an indication of the number of delegates either President Taft or Col. Roosevelt has gained.

Out of 21 Congressional districts in the state, totals computed at a time when fewer than half the precincts were counted, indicated that Roosevelt will have 20 of the 42 district delegates, and that Taft will have 14, while the returns are so incomplete that eight delegates at present cannot be counted by either side.

President Taft appears to have carried Cincinnati by a large margin, and also Toledo and Dayton, among the larger cities. This was more than offset by the vote given Col. Roosevelt in Cleveland, Columbus and other cities. The Roosevelt lead in the north end of the state, it seemed, would give the former President an advantage which Mr. Taft could not overcome by his vote in the south end of the state, including Cincinnati, his home and the rural districts.

Governor Wilson, like Col. Roosevelt, was given his biggest vote in the city of Cleveland and the surrounding counties. Governor Harmon polled a heavy vote in Columbus, the capital, and also in his home city. Cincinnati.

Harmon's campaign managers, despite the early figures, declared that their candidate had carried the state through the heavy vote they expected had been given him in the country districts. Governor Wilson's chief strength, they say, had been in Cleveland, where Mayor Newton D. Baker had waged a strong fight against Harmon. Mayor Baker, however, in a statement issued by him at Cleveland, insisted that Governor Wilson had carried Ohio by a vote of 2 to 1.

BRAMPTON BOY DROWNED IN RIVER

Brampton, May 22.—Archie McKecknie, aged 11 years, was drowned in the Etobicoke River late yesterday afternoon. With three other little boys, he was endeavoring to secure by a pole drift wood washed down by recent rains, when he fell into the water.

He was the only son of the late Archibald McKecknie, who was a well known barrister of this town.

Every effort was made to secure the body, but without avail. The creek is greatly swollen by the rains, and the current is very strong.

SAYS THE LETTER FOUND IN HIS DESK WAS AN ATTEMPT AT BLACKMAIL

Travers Thus Explains a Note From George Wishart.

Ex-Manager at Inquiry Into Farmers' Bank Failure Says He and Nesbitt and Wishart Were Keeley Mine Co., But That Latter Refused to Pay His $25,000—Insisted on His Share, However.

Toronto, May 22.—As the investigation into the affairs of the Farmers' Bank proceeds before Commissioner Sir William Meredith at Osgoode Hall, more mystery is thrown about the conditions that existed before the collapse of the bank by the rather vague testimony of W. R. Travers, who is exceedingly reluctant to implicate any other person.

Under the examination of Frank Hodgins, K.C., ex-Manager Travers finally blurted out a statement to the effect that a note left in his private desk at the office when the failure occurred, bearing the signature of George Wishart, was there for blackmail purposes, but more than this he absolutely refused to say until he thought the matter over.

When Travers arose to testify Sir William instructed Mr. Hodgins to question him in regard to the check for $10,000. This check is No. 28, and passed from Travers to Lindsay. The sum of $10,000 was payable on its presentation. At previous sittings it was shown that Travers gave Nesbitt a check for $5,000 in exchange for the equivalent in cash.

"What became of the $5,000 cash?" asked Mr. Hodgins.

"The $5,000 went to Lindsay. I got the money and it was charged to my commission."

"Were there any notes or checks in your private desk when the failure occurred?"

"I think there were."

"What did you do with them?"

"I sent them over in a box with other books and papers to Mr. Owens' office."

These were grocery and livery accounts.

"Were there any checks in your private box, any checks or notes signed by somebody?"

"I think there were."

"Whose signature was on them?"

"I think Dr. Nesbitt's was there."

"How much was it for?"

"I think it was for $10,000."

"Was it in connection with the bank?"

"I think it was in connection with the Keeley mine; I can't say just how, though."

"Was George Wishart's there?"

"Yes."

"What was it there for?"

Travers hesitated for several moments, but finally exclaimed:

"Well, blackmail, if you want to know about the truth."

"Yes, we do: tell us about it," continued the examiner.

"Well, I was not expecting it and I am not prepared to answer, I want to think about it."

"Well, I was not expecting it either," remarked Mr. Hodgins. "I'll take that up later. Who was Wishart?"

"He was a New York promoter."

The manager then told how he had met the New Yorker while crossing the Atlantic Ocean on a steamer. Wishart represented himself as being a rich man who wanted to "be in" on any money investments that Travers knew about in Canada. He took Travers to his beautiful home on the outside of New York, which the Canadian banking man decided would be worth $150,000.

"What were the arrangements made between you and Dr. Nesbitt at the time?"

Travers stated that he would not answer unless ordered to do so by the commissioner, saying that as the doctor was on trial it was not fair to ask him these questions, which might prove harmful. The examiner reminded him that Dr. Nesbitt was not being held on any of these charges, so his case could not be damaged, but Travers proved unwilling.

"Dr. Nesbitt brought the proposition that we buy the mine for $300,000."

"He had an option on it?"

"Yes."

The intention was to organize a company to work the mine, said the witness, and the proposition was that Nesbitt and the bank were to float the mine, so that Nesbitt and the bank would reap the profits.

"How did Wishart come in?"

"Wishart told me on board ship that he was a rich man and said that if there were any propositions in Canada he would like to go in on them."

When Nesbitt got the option on the Keeley property, Travers went to New York to see Wishart, who agreed to make the first payment. Nesbitt and Wishart were to put up $25,000 each to help meet one of the payments, but when Wishart appeared in New York he did not have any money, so Travers was forced to accept his note for the amount. Nesbitt gave the manager a check for $25,000; which was turned over to the company as a loan. Wishart, Nesbitt and Travers were to compose the company, but the latter was to have equal shares with the others. Although he did not lay out any money he was doing most of the work.

Witness testified that he supplied $25,000 to both Nesbitt and Wishart, with which to make the payment. Out of the four shares allotted, the manager held one in trust for the bank, one for himself and Wishart and Nesbitt each got Wishart's note when he defaulted.

"What did you do with Wishart's note?"

"I had to give it to him back."

"Why?"

"Well, it was necessary to reorganize the company and he refused to consent to the reorganization unless the note was surrendered."

"Why was it necessary to reorganize?"

"Well, if you must know, it was to unload the stock on the suffering public."

Travers then told how Wishart had got something for nothing, and how the New York promoter slipped out of all responsibility, but still retained his connection with the profit end of the scheme. The promoter demanded the note back and insisted that the bank become responsible for it, or he would not allow the reorganization. He finally got what he wanted and also held his quarter share in the company, although he never used any money to secure it.

Questioned closely, Travers said that he would have to see the minutes of the Keeley Mine Company before he could answer.

BUSY DAY FOR RAILWAY BOARD

Ottawa, May 22.—The next session of the Dominion Railway Board, to be held on June 18, will be a big day for the west. On that day the general enquiry into freight rates west of Port Arthur will be proceeded with, as will the rehearsing of the Regina rates case. In both instances prima facia cases have been established against the railways and it will be up to them to indicate what line they are going to take by way of defence.

Both rates involve the serious charge of discrimination. In the general freight tariff enquiry the allegation is that there is discrimination against Western Canada and in favor of the east. In the Regina case the allegation is that the railways discriminate against Regina jobbers in favor of Winnipeg jobbers in the matter of rates on ten classes of goods carried.

The postponement of the general enquiry by the Railway Board yesterday was due to the illness of E. Beatty, chief counsel of the C.P.R., who is in a hospital and may have to go south, and to the fact that other counsel for the railways stated that they had not yet had an opportunity to fully acquaint themselves with the intricate question of rates involved

Burglars Wrecked Ton Safe.

Merrick, N.Y., May 22.—Burglars for the fourth time in a few months blew up the safe of Postmaster Birch early yesterday and got away with $800 in cash and stamps.

The safe, a new one, weighed a ton. They wheeled it out into the street, piled bags of feed over it, and blew it to pieces.

MRS. PANKHURST SUFFRAGETTE, GOES TO PRISON FOR 9 MONTHS

Special to the Review.

London, May 22— Mrs. Pankhurst, the suffragette leader, and Mr. and Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, editors of "Votes for Women" were found guilty at the Old Bailey to-day, and sentenced to nine months imprisonment, on a charge of conspiracy and inciting to the malicious damage of property.

KILTIES KNEES WERE BURNED

Dallas, Texas, May 22.—The necessity for absolute truthfulness in advertising was the keynote of yesterday's discussions in the eighth annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America.

Baltimore's delegation Monday night put on a moving picture show in one of the down town streets, exhibiting that city's attractions.

The Toronto kilties, unaccustomed to the power of a southern sun, carelessly left their bare knees cocked up during the long automobile rides on Monday. To-day they are wishing for longer kilts.

March of G. T. P. to Tidewater.

Woonsocket, R.I., May 22.—Ascending a platform surrounded by ponderous railroad building machinery and about 500 people, Governor A. J. Pothier, himself a native of Canada, pulled the lever of a giant steam shovel on a farm near here yesterday and the actual work of constructing the Southern New England Railway, which will bring the Grand Trunk System from Palmer, Mass., to tidewater in Providence, was begun.

It is the expectation of the company to have trains running over the new railroad next December.

ROUND TRIP OVER CHANNEL

Dover, Eng., May 22.—H. Cromberz, a well-known Belgian airman, crossed the English Channel from Nieuport, whence he started early yesterday morning.

When he appeared over the little fishing port of St. Margaret's, near here, he dropped a visiting card on which was written: "I regret to be obliged to return to Nieuport, Belgium, without breaking my journey.

Then he made a wide, graceful sweep and started back across the channel towards Calais, France.

BRITISH MINERS ARE SPOILING FOR FIGHT WITH EMPLOYERS

Special to the Review.

London, May 22—The National Conference of Miners' Federation, which has been in session this week, discussing the operation of the recently enacted minimum wages act, adjourned to-day, after passing a resolution which indicates that the men are spoiling for another fight. By unanimous resolution, they protest against award being given by district wages boards, which fix minimum wage below reasonable living wage. The executive committee was instructed to interview the government and later to summon another conference to hear the government's reply.

PORT HOPE BOY SHOT BY CHUM

Port Hope, May 22.—Oliver Stevens, 12 years old, was shot and instantly killed by his companion, Everett Yates, the same age, while the lads were shooting groundhogs on Dr. Carbott's farm, about twelve miles north of here, yesterday afternoon. The boys went fishing in the afternoon, but their luck was poor, and they got a rifle for the purpose of shooting groundhogs. Yates pointed the rifle at Stevens in fun and accidentally pulled the trigger. The boy fell and died almost instantly. Yates at once ran to his employer, E. Corbett, and Dr. Beattie of Garden Hill was called.

The boy's body was taken to his father's home nearby, and Coroner Aldrich will hold an inquest.

Stevens was a home boy and was popular with the farmers' and other boys.

Motor Boats Wrecked.

London, Ont., May 22.—The sudden rise of the water in the Thames river, due to the heavy rains Monday and yesterday, played havoc with motors which were docked at the forks of the Thames. Eight valuable boats were swept away down the river three miles and then went over the dam at Springbank Park. Six were practically smashed to pieces.

Log Men Demanded Raise.

Ottawa, May 22.—A strike of forty log distributors employed on the Eddy and Booth booms at the Chaudiere yesterday forced the closing of the saw mills of both companies. The logmen have been working 13 hours per day for $10 per week and demand $11.50.

Montreal Insurance Men Must Pay.

Montreal, May 22.—The city yesterday sent out bills totalling $32,175.86 to fire insurance companies operating in the city as their taxes for the current year and their share of the cost of the fire investigation committee.

$250,000 Fire.

Byng Inlet, Ont., May 22.—The sawmill and box factory owned by the Graves, Bigwood Company, were completely destroyed by fire Monday night. The loss is estimated at $250,000.

SHOOTING PAINS IN SIDE, ARMS, BACK

Prove the Presence of Rheumatic Virus, Which Is Cured Quickest by Nerviline—Rub It In.

Pains in the muscles, in the sides, the back, the neck, or the chest—they always carry with them great discomfort. If the inflammation is severe the pain will be intense. If allowed to continue they are dangerous. Nothing so quickly cures local inflammation and drives away pain as Nerviline. Nerviline does this because it penetrates so deeply. Nerviline is not only powerful, but soothing. By relieving congestion it cures pain. It does this always. It cannot fail because it is a true antidote for pain. You can scarcely find anybody that will not tell you wonderful things about the pain-curing power of Nerviline. Remember, that there is not an ache or pain that Nerviline will not cure immediately. Nerviline is an anchor of health in every household.

Refuse anything that may be offered you instead of Nerviline, which is guaranteed for rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, and all muscular aches and pains.

WESTERN RAILWAY RATES

The Railway Commission has scored another point against the telegraph corporation, the complainants in this case being the Canadian Press Association and the matter at issue, the question of tolls on press dispatches. Prior to Sept. 1, 1910, the toll on press messages was 25 cents for 100 words, but at that date the three telegraph companies doubled the charges on all newspaper telegrams from the maritime Provinces, although the old rate was retained in Ontario and Quebec. The Board held this to be a clear case of discrimination, and the demand for a restoration of the old terms was granted.

The Association also requested that the G. N. W., and Western Union Telegraph Companies be required to provide press tolls similar to those of the C.P.R., but this was denied. It was held by the Board that the companies had showed clearly enough that the companies could not grant the rate asked for and do business at a profit and the Board is not in the business of working an injustice to either an individual or a corporation.

Given a reasonable amount of time the Railway Commission can be counted upon to decide with justice to all parties the many questions of grave issue that may come before it. The cases referred to above may be taken as a fair indication of the mode of procedure and is along the lines so often and so clearly laid down by the late Judge Mabee and which will no doubt be followed by his successor in office.

No corporation is to be squeezed into a close corner or forced into involuntary bankruptcy by the Board imposing upon it conditions which mean the transaction of business at a loss. The great transportation question in the West, which is giving rise to so much complaint among the farmers, will be disposed of in the same way and there really seems no reason why some of the Toronto papers should lose any sleep over the problem. Those journalists have their own views to air and their opinions to offer, but the Railway Commission may be depended upon to decide with equal justice to the public and the corporations. If the wealthy and comparatively long established C.P.R. is found able to reduce its rates and still pay handsome dividends upon the capital invested then the C.P.R. will be obliged to cut down the price of its service.

But if on the other hand the G.T.P. and the C.N. are found to be struggling for corporate existence nothing will be done by the Board to render the lot of these companies any more precarious. If Judge Mabee had lived that would have been the course which he would have adopted for we have his own assertion to that effect. Since his death the dispute between the newspaper association and the telegraph companies has been disposed of just as we imagine it would have been had the late lamented chairman still been at the head of the Board.

As there is an almost appalling mass of business before the Commission now it is only reasonable to conclude that the final adjudication of many important questions is still some distance in the future.

RICHESON'S REPENTANCE

Richeson, the slayer of a young and confiding girl, who reposed in him her every trust, went to the fatal chair with maudlin buoyancy and died with a prayer upon his lips, those lips that, not so long before, had been soiled by every form of falsehood that a craven heart and a degenerate nature could invent. Yet all his prayers could not call back his victim to a life, once so full of hope and promise, or heal one pang of the disgraced and heartbroken friends he leaves behind him.

The murderer's repentanse came too late. Nothing could repair the evil he had worked in life and better would it have been for the cause of religion, if those last utterances of his had been witheld from the world. They sound discordant to rational ears, savoring as they do, more of sacrilege than piety.

ON WITH THE GAME

Some of Peterboro's most enterprising and substantial business men are financial backers of the professional baseball team which opens the season on the home grounds to-day if the elements permit. They are solid citizens everyone of them with their money invested not so much, perhaps, in hopes of a golden reward as for sheer love of the game. They are true sports in a new venture, and let us all hope that financial loss and disappointment may be spared their devoted heads.

A good ball team travelling through the country is the best kind of advertising card that Peterboro can have. The name of the city is in the mouth of everyone and wins daily mention in every paper of note. If only the boys are winners you say. They are going to be winners for they've the grit, and they've got the skill, and they've got the manager too. No such bunch of stockholders will ever be satisfied with anything but the best and the liberality they have displayed, entitles them to the pennant and any other honor that may be lying around loose in the business.

They may not win fortune or the flag, but they are going to enjoy themselves, and while they unbend from business cares the general public will revel with them in relaxation. Nor will the public see the stockholders stuck in their venture for lack of patronage. The men behind the club have their money in the scheme, their enthusiasm in the game, and as their enterprise is bringing fame and publicity to the city from Ottawa to St. Thomas, they are worthy of support.

THE MARRIAGE QUESTION

The marriage question will come up in Supreme Court next Monday. Then the Lancaster bill, referred to that body by Parliament, will be argued. "Has the federal parliament the right to pass a uniform marriage law for the Dominion?" is the question to be settled.

The revival of this matter has called up the old arguments from the Liberal press of the country, and the resolution which was introduced into the Provincial Legislature by Mr. Rowell. In that resolution the leader of the Opposition advanced the view that the counsel employed to represent Ontario in the hearing of the case before the Supreme Court should be instructed to maintain in his argument that the Dominion Parliament has the power to enact a bill declaring the validity of all marriages celebrated throughout the Dominion of Canada. This resolution was voted down, the house dividing on party lines.

Mr. Rowell here applies a principle which he would hesitate to employ in the private practice of his profession. He is much too good a lawyer not to know that it would be unjust to any attorney to tie him down with such conditions or handicap him by instructions so one sided. The object of the hearing is to ascertain if the federal parliament has any such power and not to secure a snap judgment in the interests of any religious faction or of any society. The Rowell resolution is useful chiefly as an illustration of the lengths to which the leader of a minority party will go in an attempt to embarrass his opponent.

Would the Government send out an attorney, say to the county of Peel, to look after the interests of the crown in the case of a man charged with murder and instruct him to see that the prisoner was hanged irrespective of his guilt or innocence? Would Mr. Rowell himself accept such a commission in his capacity as a lawyer? The custom in such cases is for the legal representative of the crown to give the unfortunate defendent every chance for his life, and if his innocence seems beyond question or the proof of his guilt inadequate to cousent to his discharge just as earnestly as he would ask for his conviction if he was found guilty as charged. A pettifogging lawyer might think his glory tarnished except he won his case, but the Canadian bar is singularly free from that misrepresentative of a worthy profession and men chosen to appear for the Crown in cases involving human life are invariably men of sufficiently broad calibre to believe in and rejoice in the triumph of the principles of justice.

If it is shown that each province has absolute control over its own marriage laws as it has, let us say for instance, over the control of the liquor business; if the passage of a uniform marriage act would be an infringement of provincial rights then the Supreme Court may be depended upon to so decide. If they fail to interpret the constitutional question aright, there is the court of last resort, the Privy Council to set that decision aside.

Every province will have a legal representative at the hearing, and it is doubtful if one of them will go before the court weighted down by particular instruction to fight for a decision along particular lines. They are there as umpires to see that justice is done, and as legal luminaries to shed light upon a complicated problem. It is upon such terms as these that Mr. Rowell himelf would go, if his own party were in power, and he was fortunate enough to be settled upon for the duty.

"FEEBLE STOMACH"

Causes Digestive Weakness and Poisons the Entire System.

"No one can have suffered more than I did with stomach trouble," writes Phil. E. Pascalar, well known at St. Andrews Corners. "My doctor told me my indigestion and sleeplessness were due to poisons in the blood. Certainly my condition was desperate, and it seemed from the despondent feelings that swept over me that I would lose my reason. I happened to read about Dr. Hamilton's Pills and bought five boxes from the druggist. Such body-cleansing pills I never used; they were mild and yet quite strong enough to drive all the humors out of the blood. My stomach gained strength rapidly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I improved so much that in eight weeks I could eat and digest all ordinary food. Depression and weariness passed away and I am, thanks to Dr. Hamilton's Pills, enjoying robust good health."

No remedy for biliousness, indigestion, headache, sick stomach, or constipation that compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse substitutes. Sold in 25c. boxes. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills Cure Stomach Troubles

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, May 21.—There was an increased enquiry from European sources for Manitoba spring wheat, but, as the prices bid showed no improvement, it was impossible for exporters to do any business at a profit. The local and outside demand for oats was fair, but, owing to the limited supplies available on spot, business was quiet. A bid of 49½c c.i.f. Fort William was made for a round lot of extra No. 1 feed for June shipment, and refused. Sales of car lots of tough feed wheat were made at 60½c track. Flour is very quiet for both local and export account. Some sales of bran have been made for June-July shipment to the United States. The butter and cheese market is quiet, but steady. Eggs fairly active. Provisions unchanged.

Cynthia's Chauffeur

By LOUIS TRACY

Copyright by McLeod & Allen, Toronto

"No," she said, "I've not mentioned it to him—yet."

A maid-servant entered, and Cynthia inquired if the hotel could provide three rooms for her party.

The girl, a pretty Celt of the fair-haired type, said she was sure there was accommodation.

"Then," said Cyntia, with what she felt to be a thoroughly self-possessed air, "please ask my chauffeur if he would like another cup of tea, and tell him to house the car and have our boxes sent in, as we shall stay here till half-past eight to-morrow morning."

Mrs. Devar's letter to Peter Vanrenen forthwith entered the category of things that must be done at the earliest opportunity. She wrote it before dinner, taking a full hour in the privacy of her room to compose its few carefully considered sentences. She posted it, too, and was confirmed in her estimate of its real importance when she saw a muslined Cynthia saunter out and join "Fitzroy," who happened to be standing on a tiny landing-stage near a boathouse.

Yet, so strangely constituted is human nature of the Devar variety, she would have given half the money she possessed if she could have recalled that letter an hour later. But His Majesty's mails are inexorable as fate. A twopence-ha'penny stamp had linked Symon's Yat and Paris, and not all Mrs. Devar's world-worn ingenuity could sunder that link.

CHAPTER IX.

On the Wye

For this is what happened. To Mrs. Devar, gazing darkly at Cynthia's too innocent discovery of Medenham standing on the tiny quay, came the Welsh maid, saying:

"Beg pardon, mam, but iss your chauf-feur's name Fitz-roy?"

"Yes."

"Then he iss wan'ted on the tel-e-phone from Hereford, mam."

"There he is, below there, near the river."

Mrs. Devar smiled sourly at the thought that the interruption was well-timed, since Medenham was just raising his cap with a fine assumption of surprise at finding Miss Vanrenen strolling by the water's edge. The civil-spoken maid was about to trip off in pursuit of him, when Mrs. Devar changed her mind. The notion suddenly occurred to her that it would be well if she intervened in this telephonic conversation, and Fitzroy could still be summoned a minute later if desirable.

"Don't trouble," she cried, "I think that Miss Vanrenen wishes to go boating, so I will attend to the call myself. Perhaps Fitzroy's presence may be dispensed with."

The felt-lined telephone box was well screened off; as first impressions might be valuable, she adjusted the receivers carefully over both ears before she shouted "Hallo!"

"That you, my lord?" said a voice.

"Hallo!—who wants Fitzroy?" she asked in the gruffest tone she could adopt.

"It's Dale, my—— But who is talking? Is that you, sir?"

"Go on. Can't you hear?"

"Not very well, my lord, but your lordship's father dropped on to me at Bristol, an' he's here now. What am I to do?"

"My lordship's father! What are you talking about? Who are you?"

"Isn't that Lord—— Oh, dash it, aren't you Miss Vanrenen's chauffeur, Fitzroy?"

"No. This is the Symon's Yat Hotel. The party is out now, and Fitzroy as well, but I can tell him anything you wish to say."

Mrs. Devar fancied that the speaker whose words thus far had excited her liveliest curiosity, would imagine that he was in communication with the proprietors of the hotel. She was not mistaken. Dale fell into the trap instantly, though, indeed, he was not to be blamed, since he had asked most earnestly that "Mr. Fitzroy, Miss Vanrenen's chauffeur" should be brought to the telephone.

"Well, mam," he said, "if I can't get hold of—of Fitzroy—I must leave a message, as I don't suppose I'll have another chance. I'm his man, I'm Dale; have you got it."

"Yes—Dale."

"Tell him the Earl of Fairholme turned up in Bristol an' forced me to explain everything. I couldn't help it. The old gentleman fell from the blooming sky, he did. Will you remember that name?"

"Oh, yes: the Earl of Fairholme."

"Well, his lordship will understand. I mean you must tell Fitzroy what I said. Please tell him privately. I expect I'll get the sack anyhow over this business, but I'm doin' me best in tryin' the telephone, so you'll confer a favor, mam, if you call Fitzroy on one side before tellin' him."

Though the telephone-box was stuffy when the door was closed, Mrs. Devar felt a cold chill running down her spine.

"I don't quite understand," she said thickly. "You're Dale, somebody's man; whose man?"

"His lordship's. Oh, d—n. Beg pardon, mam, but I'm Fitzroy's chauffeur."

It was a glorious night of early summer, yet lightning struck in that little shut-off section of the hotel.

"Do you mean that you are Viscount Medenham's chauffeur?" she gasped, and her hands trembled so much that she could scarce hold the receivers to her ears.

"Yes'm. Now you've got it. But, look here, I daren't stop another minnit. Tell his lordship—tell Mr. Fitzroy—that I'll dodge the Earl in some way an' remain here. He says he has been tricked, wot between me an' the Frenchman, but he means to go back to London to-morrow. Good-by, mam. You won't forget—strictly private?"

"Oh, no, I won't forget," said Mrs. Devar grimly; nevertheless, she felt weak and sick, and in her anxiety to rush out into the fresh air she did forget to hang up the receivers, and the Symon Yat Hotel was cut off from the world of telephones until some-one entered the box early next morning.

She was of a not uncommon type—a physical coward endowed with nerves of steel, but, for once in her life, she came perilously near fainting. It was bad enough that a money-making project of some value should show signs of tumbling in ruins, but far worse that she, an experienced tuft-hunter, should have lived in close companionship with a viscount for four long days and snubbed him rancorously and without cease. There was no escaping the net she had contrived for her own entaglement. She had actually written to Peter Vanrenen that she deemed it her duty as Cynthia's chaperon to acquaint him with Simmond's defection and the filling of his place by Fitzroy, "a most insuitable person to act as Miss Vanrenen's chauffeur"—indeed, a young man who, she was sure, "would never have been chosen for such a responsible postion" by Mr. Vanrenen himself.

And Fitzroy was Viscount Medenham, heir to the Fairholme estates, one of the most eligible young bachelors in the kingdom! Oh, blind and crass that she had not guessed the truth! The car, the luncheon-basket, the rare wine, the crest on the silver, the very candor of the wretch in giving his real name, his instant recognition of "Jimmy" Devar's mother, the hints of a childhood passed in Sussex—why, even the aunt he spoke of on Derby Day must be Susan St. Maur, while Millicent Porthcawl had actually met him in the Bournemouth hotel!—these and many another vivid index pointed the path of knowledge to one so well versed as she in the intricacies of Derbett. The very attributes which she had taken for an impertinent aping of the manners of society had shouted his identity into her deaf ears time and again. Even an intelligent West-end housemaid would have felt some suspicion of the facts when confronted by these piled-up tokens. She remembered noticing his hands, the quality of linen, his astonishingly "good" appearance on the only occasion that she had seen him in evening dress; she almost groaned aloud when she recalled the manner of her son's departure from Bristol, and some imp in her heart raked the burnt ashes of the fire that had devoured her when she heard why Captain Devar was requested to resign his commission. Of course, this proud young aristocrat recognized him at once, and had brushed him out of his sight as one might brush a fly off a windowpane.

But how was she to act in face of the threatened disaster? Why had not her son warned her? Did Marigny know, and was that the explanation of his sheepish demeanor when she and Cynthia were about to enter the car that morning? Indeed Marigny's quiet acceptance of the position was quite as difficult to understand as her own failure to grasp the significance of all that happened since noon on Wednesday. This very day, before breakfast, he had come to her room with the cheering news that information to hand from London would certainly procure the dismissal of "Fitzroy" forthwith. The Mercury was registered in the name of the Earl of Fairholme, the obvious deduction being that his lordship's chauffeur was careering through England in a valuable car without a shred of permission; the merest whisper to Cynthia of this discovery, said the Frenchman, would send "Fitzroy" packing.

And again, what had Cynthia meant when she referred at Chepstow to the "Norman baron scowl" with which "Fitzroy" had favored Marigny? Was she, too, in the secret? Unhappy Mrs. Devar! She glowered at the darkening Wye, and wriggled on her chair in torture.

"Wass it all right a-bout the tel-e-phone, mam?" said a soft voice at her ear.

She started violently, and the maid was contrite.

"I'm ver-ry sor-ry, mam," she said, "but I see Mr. Fitzroy down there on riv-er——"

"Where, where?" cried the other, rather to gain time to collect her wits than to ascertain Medenham's whereabouts.

The girl pointed.

"In that lit-tle boat, all by its-self, mam," she said

Father, Mother, Sister, Brother, All Should Use Parisian Sage

Prevents Baldness--Banishes Dandruff—Stops Falling Hair and Itching Scalp

PARISIAN SAGE is a family hair tonic and dressing that will do much good in every home.

The man who uses PARISIAN SAGE if only occasionally will never grow bald. Baldness is caused by dandruff germs which dig down into the the roots of the hair, devour its nourishment and cause the root to die and the hair to fall and thin out.

MONEY BACK DANDRUFF REMOVER

PARISIAN SAGE is a scientific hair remedy that not only kills the dandruff germs, but gives the hair roots just the same nourishment that nature gives it.

PARISIAN SAGE first kills the germs; then nourishes the weakened hair roots and causes a growth of healthy hair.

This same nourishment (PARISIAN SAGE) causes the hair to grow vigorous, which means that the hair becomes full of life and lustre, and grows radiant and beautiful.

Thousands are wasting time, losing hair and growing bald because they are using superficial tonics. While they may clean the scalp and make it feel refreshed, they do not get to the root of the hair where the real destroyer of hair, the pernicious dandruff germs, thrives and multiplies.

Try PARISIAN SAGE for all hair trouble; it means death to the germs; life to the hair. It is pleasant to use and so harmless that it can be used by every member of the family from the oldest to the little tot.

Bank Note for a Penny.

Once a Bank of England note for one penny was issued by mistake. It got into circulation, and was a source of great annoyance to many persons when making up accounts. Search was made by the bank, and at length they discovered the holder of the note, who returned it to them for a fancy price.

This is the smallest amount for which an English note has ever been issued, for, of course, notes under five pounds are never drawn up unles by mistake.

On no account are notes issued twice from the bank, and they are always cancelled even if exchanged for cash immediately on their issue. About fifty thousand notes are presented for payment every day, and in one department a large staff of clerks are employed entirely to count and sort the notes that have been paid in on the previous day.

The cancelled notes are burned five years after the day of presentation. Over ninety millions of old notes are stored away in the bank, and about every fortnight a large quantity of old notes is destroyed.

ARROWS OF THE ABORS.

Usually Tipped With One of the Most Deadly Poisons Known.

The fact that the Abor tribesmen, against whom the government of India has sent a punitive expedition to punish them for the recent massacre of Noel Williamson, are chiefly armed with bows and arrows, has led people to imagine that the natives will inflict but little damage on the soldiers.

As a matter of fact, however, the arrows used by the Abors are often more dreaded than bullets, for they are usually dipped in a poison which is probably the most deadly in the world. This poison is known as curare and is so virulent that savages have been known to smear it on their nails and to kill an enemy merely by scratching him.

Three years ago a young doctor was convicted at Vienna for supplying curare to a married woman, who touched a little raw place on her husband's body with it and he died. In effect he had been struck by a poisoned arrow. Curare is an artificial compound, the secret of which is most jealously guarded by the priests and medicine men of savage tribes, and travelers have told fascinating tales of how old women of the tribes assist the priests to make the stuff and regard it as an honor to test its strength upon themselves.

Curiously enough, the domestic fowl and the Argos pheasant are the only creatures said to be immune from the effects of this deadly poison.—London Field.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Wharf or Retaining Wall at Owen Sound, Ont.," will be received at this office until 4.00 P.M., on Tuesday, June 4, 1912, for the construction of a Wharf or Retaining Wall at Owen Sound, Grey County, Ont.

Plans, specifications and form of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department and at the offices of J. G. Sing, Esq., District Engineer, Confederation Life Building, Toronto, Ont.; H. J. Lamb, Esq., District Engineer, Windsor, Ont., and on application to the Postmaster at Owen Sound, Ont.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupations and places of residence. In the case of firms, the actual signature, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

YOU CAN BE ABSOLUTELY SURE OF VALUES

If you carefully read the store advertisements and follow them in your buying.

Merchants advertise certain lines because they know these lines will advertise their stores. Because there is something about certain goods, they are put in conspicuous places and the people are told about them. It may be the exclusiveness or newness of design, it may be an unusual quality, it may be an attractive price.

But there is at least one definite, sure reason why a merchant advertises an article and is willing to stake the reputation of his store upon it.

Therefore, when you see an article advertised in THE REVIEW, depend upon it, that article is good value, as good value as can be obtained in that particular store.

CONCERNING YOUR EYES

Good eyesight is essential to health comfort and appearance. Have you ever noticed a strained look on your face, or your friend's? Usually this comes from eyestrain. More wrinkles are caused by eyestrain than by age. Thousands unconsciously squint in an effort to adapt the eyes to the surroundings. Success in relieving eyestrain depends entirely upon the OPTICAL SKILL of the Specialist who prescribes the glasses. Neglect of the eyes many times leads to surgical operations, which glasses worn in time may prevent. We correct errors of vision by means of properly fitted lenses.

We have every modern appliance for accurate eyesight testing, and we grind all our own lenses. Thus assuring you accuracy and promptness. All work guaranteed.

HYDRO-POWER SEEMS TO PAY

A Peterborough citizen, who is in favor of the hydro-electric power, expressed the fear yesterday that the people had gone to sleep over the important question, and was ready with figures to support his contention that there is nothing like the hydro power for an industrial community. He takes the town of Galt as an example of recent success in that line.

Galt did not get the power installed without a struggle and faction fight. After a majority of the voters has declared for it, the mayor vetoed a move on the part of the council to close a deal with the power people. When this opposition was finally overcome and the contract signed there was still dissatisfaction and forecasts of disaster.

How does the case stand now after about a year's trial of the power? At the last meeting of the Galt Council the chairman of the hydro committee announced that that body sees its way clear to make an additional discount of 15 per cent. to light and power users, thus making the total discount 25 per cent. for the first year's operation. The net profit so far reaches a total of $8,000 and the rates will now be as low in Galt as in any place in the country.

The citizen referred to added that Peterborough people, still halting as they seem to be over this matter, would do well to ponder the above figures.

VICTORIA DAY AT GRAND OPERA HOUSE

With the entry of such artists as Bernhardt, Beerbohm Tree and Rejane into the arena of the motion picture, fresh fields are opened up both for entertainment and for education. Bernhardt's "Camille" pictures, which are to be shown here at the Grand Opera House on May 24th and 25th, are being presented in duplicate to various public libraries in American and French cities, for the purpose of free exhibition. The actress has further announced her intention of playing other roles for record on moving picture films, so that posterity may have a memorial of her art in a form as enduring as any yet devised.

Both she and Rejane are agreed upon one thing, that but for the moving picture, they would stand a much smaller chance of being remembered or appreciated by the generations to come. What people can see, they will believe and benefit by; but it is as hard as ever to convince younger generations that what is past was better than what is to-day.

CONTRACTS AWARDED FOR THE NEW PUBLIC SCHOOLS

W. J. Johnston to Build School in East Ward and Langford and Sheehy in West Ward.

The Board of Education met last night in special session and awarded the contracts for the erection of the new East and West Ward schools. Mr. W. J. Johnston received the contract for the King George school in the East, and Messrs. Langford and Sheehy for the Queen Mary school in the West. Each was the lowest tender receives. The contract for the wiring of both schools went to Messrs Alexander and Miller.

The following report was presented by the building committee for east and west ward and on the motion of Dr. Morrison and Mr. Hayes, the report was adopted—

Gentlemen— Your Building Committee beg leave to report that, as authorised, we advertised for tenders for the erection of two new schools and in response thereto, received several tenders for the buildings, only four of which were in accordance with the regulations and provisions specified, but all of which however, were greatly in excess of the appropriation. Your committee deemed it necessary to modify the plans and specifications, and the following are some of the changes; natural stone was substituted for Roman stone, the length of the buildings was considerably reduced, but this did not make any material difference in the class rooms, Hamilton pressed brick by sand, lime brick was substituted for Curtis Bros. brick. Some of the windows were eliminated and several other changes were made.

After the modifications were adopted, the four regular tenderers were invited to retender and your committee recommend that Mr. W. J. Johnston's tender of $34,090.00, for the erection of the King George school in the East Ward, and the tender of Messrs. Langford and Sheehy of $34,425.00 for the erection of the Queen Mary school in the West Ward be accepted.

That the tender of Messrs. Alexander and Miller of $172.00 for the wiring of the two buildings be accepted.

These are the lowest tenders.

Tenders for the heating and plumbing of these buildings have not yet been received, but will be considered in the near future.

Your committee recommend that the solicitors be instructed to draw up the necessary contracts and that cheques be returned to the contractors as soon as the bondsmen are approved by the committee and have signed the necessary bonds, and that the cheques of the other tenderers be returned to them forthwith.,

All of which is respectfully submitted,

W. A. MORRISON,
Chairman.

Board Room, May 21, 1912.

Mr. Fair asked Dr. Morrison the particulars about the contracts, in both of the proposed schools and was informed that the expenditure would be in the neighborhood of $94,000. The extra outlay will, however, be overbalanced by the receipts from the sale of the old sites. Mr. Hayes expressed the evident opinion of the Board, when he said that though they had secured an additional grant from the Council for the Collegiate Institute without any difficulty, they were determined to erect the two schools under discussion, without asking for another appropriation.

There were present at the meeting Mr. John Crane, chairman, Messrs. L. M. Hayes, V. Eastwood, R. Fair, T. Adams, and Dr. Morrison.

ART EXHIBITION OF WORK BY PUBLIC SCHOOL PUPILS

The kindergarten of the Central school, through the agency of the children of the public schools, and under Miss McCrea's supervision, has been transformed into a regular art gallery. The children are annually encouraged to draw pictures and patterns, landscapes scenes in pencil, and colors, etc., and then the most meritorious of these are arranged around the walls of the kindergarten on exhibition. Some real gems of childish artistic ability are produced each year, many of them showing a true and plainly marked striving after artistic skill.

The variety of work shown is very wide. The exhibits range from the efforts of the primary and junior classes up to the highest classes in the public school, thereby affording an excellent opportunity for one to distinguish the increasing facility of the rising artists as they advance in years and in school.

The range of the exhibits includes attempts at drawings from human life, amateur certainly to some extent, but yet very praiseworthy, considering the youth and inexperience of the artists. Gradually increasing in ability, there follows drawings in crayons of almost every variety of object from human life or the inanimate world.

Some drawings intended to represent patterns used in ancient decorative work, and also many used to-day were displayed to advantage, reflecting considerable credit on the rising artists.

The intention aimed at in holding the annual display of the work of the scholars is to create in them a desire to draw and develop increased facility and readiness in the sketching of objects. This desire, judging from the exhibition, is bearing fruit, and Miss McCrae, their instructor, is to be congratulated on the active part she is taking in bringing about this condition.

SILK FLAG PRESENTED TO DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE BY THE SERGEANT'S MESS

Guard of Honor to Meet Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes Who Will Open Peterboro Summer Fair.

Last night in the armories the Sergeants' Mess presented the Daughters of the Empire with a handsome silk flag. Sergeant Dodds, president of the Mess, presented the flag to Mrs. (Col.) Clegg, regent of the Daughters of the Empire, who passed it to Mrs. J. C. Davidson, standard bearer of the local chapter.

The regiment was drawn up facing the gallery which was occupied by a number of ladies. Members of the Chapter were invited to come to the floor and Color Sergeant Dodds, together with the Sergeant Major, came forward holding a beautiful silk flag on an ornamental staff. Chaplain Davidson made a few explanatory remarks on behalf of the Non-Commissioned officers of the Regiment, whom he said highly appreciated the interest taken by the Daughters of the Empire, in the Regiment as a whole and as individual members. They felt drawn closer to their lady supporters, since the formation of the Chapter, as an expression of good will, they offered the flag under which they were united together, as members of the Daughters of the Empire and as the Regiment, to protect and respect it.

The president then handed the flag to Col. Clegg, who presented it to Mrs. Clegg, as regent of the Chapter. The flag was gracefully accepted on behalf of the Order and it was then passed to Mrs. J. C. Davidson, the standard bearer of the Chapter. The band played the National Anthem after which the ladies retired. The members of the Chapter were afterwards entertained in the Officers' Mess Rooms.

The 57th Regiment held their regular weekly drill last night in the armories. On account of the weather there was no parade, but company and battalion formations were practiced

As will be seen in the orders appended, a large guard of honor will greet Colonel, the Honorable Sam Hughes in the armories on Monday next when he comes to open the Summer Fair.

The following were the orders:

WEDDING BELLS

POLLARD—LIGO.

A quiet wedding took place this morning at the parsonage of the Park street Baptist church, when the pastor, Rev. W. O. Riddiford, united in marriage Mr. George Pollard of Peterborough, to Miss Clara Ligo of Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Pollard will reside at 471 Mark street, East City.

RUNAWAY OF EXPRESS TEAM WAS SHORT LIVED

The scene at the Grand Trunk station was enlivened this morning by the team of horses attached to White's express rig becoming frightened while standing at the station and making a spectacular dash for liberty. The cause of their fright was not known but for some reason they ran from the station platform, broke the strap that held the iron weight and galloped to Charlotte street. In attempting to turn the corner at high speed one of the horses slipped on the wet road and fell. The other horse dragged its fallen comrade for several feet before it was stopped by a passerby.

No damage was done to the rig or the horse that retained its equilibrium, but the animal that fell had its legs severely scraped and cut.

REV. MANNING GAVE LECTURE AT ST. JAMES

A very fair sized crowd turned out last evening to hear Rev. H. M. Manning at St. James' church tell of his impressions of the Isle of Bermuda, where he spent two months for the benefit of his health. Mr. Manning described his trip, the habits of the people, their religion, and politics and many other interesting features in connection with the island in a most graphic manner.

Four-fifths of the population of the island are colored, the other portion being of white origin or mixed blood. The latter control the government and have the largest say in everything connected with the country. The tourist population is over 20,000 every year, and exceeds the whole population of the island. The native population regard the other inhabitants such as the Indians and other residents with a considerable degree of contempt.

Bermuda is not the best place for anyone to visit afflicted with consumption but it is ideal as a rest retreat.

Mr. J. J. Goodwin occupied the chair and introduced the speaker of the evening.

Vocal selections were given by Mrs. Wells and Mr. Barton. Refreshments were served and a very enjoyable and profitable evening passed.

CALUMET LIKELY A TOTAL LOSS

The steamer "Calumet" which has been towing cement from Hastings to Healey Falls, for the Engineer's Department, Trent Canal, last night on her way back from Healey Falls to Hastings, just below Trent Bridge was carried by the current out of the channel, and the scow which was towing behind the boat got out into the current, and tipped the steamer which now lies across the channel in about nine feet of water, and as there is a very swift current at this point, the boat is likely to be a total loss. The tug, "J. B. McColl" leaves here to-night to render what assistance they can to save the "Calumet"

ONE MORE ADDED TO THE GREAT ARMY

Who Are Shouting the Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Chiswick Man's Kidney Trouble Developed into Rheumatism, and finally into Diabetes—Story of his Complete Cure

Chiswick, Ont., May 21— Special— Rheumatism, which developed into Diabetes, had made life a burden to Octave Labracque of this place. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him and he is added to that great army of Canadians, who glory in telling their neighbors that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the one sure remedy for all kidney ills.

"My limbs would swell and I had a dragging sensation across the joins." Mr. Labracque says, in giving his experience, "I could not attend to my work properly as I had to keep resting and I was troubled with rheumatism, and my troubles finally developed into Diabetes.

"I tried different medicines and doctors but got little relief till I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Ten boxes made a new man of me."

All Mr. Labracque's troubles came from diseased kidneys. They speedily ceased when he commenced to use the one sure cure for diseased kidneys—Dodd's Kidney Pills.

TO RAISE $5,000

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y.M.C.A. was held last evening, when, after the transaction of routine business, a special report of the Finance Committee was submitted. After some discussion it was decided to endeavor to raise the sum of $5000.00 in the city, and to that end the Board have set aside June 4th, 5th and 6th as the days when the Board of Directors themselves, assisted by the staff of the institution will raise the money. The Board will put forth every effort to raise the above necessary sum and anticipate the hearty financial co-operation of the people of Peterborough. The outlook for the Y.M.C.A. this year, is very promising, and prospects point to a good year. The directors, in their efforts feel that they will have the sympathy and help of the public generally.

THE CITY BEAUTIFUL

There seems to be a noticeable effort being made this season by householders towards the improvement and beautifying of their premises for the summer. It has even reached the stage when a certain degree of friendly rivalry has developed amongst certain neighbors as to which shall own the most attractive looking grounds. This spirit of competition is certainly to be encouraged and it is pleasing to note that the consequences are a great improvement in the appearance of houses and grounds in the majority of the residential sections of the city.

People are beginning to realize what an important part that flower beds have in assisting the making of attractive premises. The spade and the garden rake are much in requisition, and the man in overalls is a common sight in the early morning hours. One man rises every morning in the west end of the city, and puts in over two hours at tending his beloved flower beds and other things pertaining to his garden. As a result of this careful attention he has cultivated one of the most beautiful and well kept gardens in the neighborhood.

In certain residential portions of the city with grounds surrounding the houses, there is a movement on foot to do away with the fences and hedges wherever such have been standing.

The idea certainly adds to the attractiveness of the grounds wherever it has been adopted. At this season of the year many residences are looking their best and it is evident that the city well deserves its reputation as one of the prettiest places in Ontario.

CITY TENNIS ASSOCIATION BUSY AGAIN

The City Tennis Association is doing business again this season, new officers having been elected. Mr. Langley of the C. G. E. office staff is secretary, and Mr. Hall, who was secretary last year, is vice-president. Some changes are advocated for this season's program, and these are in the hands of the executive.

LIQUOR LICENSE RETURNS FOR HALF YEAR

License Inspector Stewart has deposited with the City Treasurer a cheque for $1650.00 being the amount of license collections for the first six months of the year. This is the first distribution for 1912. The amount is a little larger than last year, when it amounted to $1500.00.

Police Court

Wesley Howden, a blacklister was fined $10 and costs, $12.05 in all, at Police Court this morning.

GLENALDA

Special Correspondence.

The farmers are very busy at seeding. The Spring being late and scarcity of feed makes work slow.

The Skinnerville Lumber Company is just bringing out their drive from Loon Lake, under the management of R. Winter and S. Carroll. Stot is an old head at the business, but he dont like the three legged horse. The cook dishes up chuck just like they did forty years ago, and goes out to the farmers to board himself. The big saw mill will start soon.

Mr. Derland Doxsee met with a loss by lightning on the eve of the 8th inst. His large frame barn, all of his grain, hay, new seed, drill plows, harrows, roller, everything in machinery was lost. No insurance.

One of the old fashioned logging bees was held at Mr. Amos Forbes yesterday, and a big dance at night.

The new bridges that were built last season on the boundary line and anchored to tagalders, which pulled out by the roots, and floated down stream. This ought to be a warning against having good money thrown away in the future.

I see an article in your last issue where several were fined for illegal fishing. The same punishment ought to be applied to different ones around Loon Lake. The government supplied this lake with bass, salmontrout and white fish three years ago, but gives them no protection. We hope this Spring to see a good inspector appointed.

Permission is being sought by the Grand Trunk Pacific to run a regular train all the way from Prince Rupert eastward to the Skeena River Crossing over 50 miles beyond Vanarsdol, which is the present terminus. The force of men which has been engaged at the Skeena bridge all winter is now being rapidly reduced and there are not more than 100 men at present working on it. The second caisson is completed and the concrete work on the pier is not far behind.

OATSTOWN BOYS LAND A GAME

It was Opening Day in Oatstown, crazy fans were gathered there; many hundreds paid their shilling, bound to root their team for fair. Maids there were bedecked in ribbons, baldheads too beyond all hope; each was telling hard luck stories, shooting all the latest dope. Took some time to get things started, but at last the game was called; never yet was sweeter music, than those words His Umps first bawled. Oatstown boys were in the cellar, luck had failed to come their way, and each knew what was expected, by the fans on Opening Day. They had hit the pill like demons, but not once the score board read—Oatstown White Caps win this contest—Mostly other things were said. Now 'twas win or bit the tall ties; long the weary route back home, win they must and beat the leaders, if they hoped league burgs to roam. Every eye was turned on Schaeffer, as he tossed the pill to Trout, one, two, three, the first three ambled; no hits, no runs, each one out. Oatstown next each grabbed the willow, took their turn and faced the plate. All three biffed but coudn't tally, Stewarts 'men had locked the gate. Rats and other kinds of hair goods, came to grief amidst the din, fans and fems were loudly calling, Oatstown boys to land a win. Clouting flies and hitting grounders, fielding bunts and wafting air, both teams fought but coudn't tally, Oatstown fans were in despair. When at last the ninth was started, Stewart's men began to clout seemed as though they sure would score, some three sacks filled and no one out. But the Oatstown heaver shot them, high and wide and cross the tin, struck the next three out in order. Then the Oatstown youths went in. First man flied to left field garden, next man popped one up to short, next the Oatstown heaver sauntered, all alone he held the fort. One strike, one ball, two strikes, over, then an awful dull report. One base, two bags, third base, home plate. Oatstown boys had won the fray.

DOLAN HAS PERFECT FIELDING AVERAGE AND BATS 460

There is some class to the White Caps' first baseman. Besides hitting at a .462 clip, Dolan had taken care of forty chances at the initial sack without a slip. The showing of the team during the trip on the road, with two games at Hamilton, one at Brantford and one at St. Thomas, is highly creditable, and it is safe to predict that their work on the home lot will show a big improvement. Here are the figures for the four games:

	AB	R	H	PO	A	E	Bat. Pct.
Mooney, c.	7	1	4	9	1	3	.571
Baver, p.	4	1	2	0	4	0	.500
Dolan, 1b.	13	2	6	40	0	0	.462

PARK ST. BOYS ORGANIZE BASE BALL LEAGUE

An enthusiastic meeting was held Monday night in the parlors of the Park street Baptist church under the auspices of the boys of the Sunday school.

Mr. W Moore the esteemed superintendent of the school, occupied the chair, and before the boys left they organized a grand new baseball league, to be known as the Park St. Sunday School Baseball League, which will be confined strictly to members of the Bible School. The games will be played off in the evening on the Park St. grounds, opposite the church.

The following officers were elected:

Hon. Pres.—Rev. W. C. Ridditord.
Pres.—Mr. W. Moore.
Vice-Pres.—Tommy Marks.
Sec.-Treas.—Percy Hill.
Captains of teams—Mat. Sloam, Victor Bullied, Wilton Tranter, Percy Hill.

A special meeting is called for Friday evening for the boys, in order to pick the teams and give them a name.

ULMER AND DAVIS AT NEWMARKET

Ulmer and Davis who were released by Manager Templin, because he had to cut down the number of players in his squad, have secured positions in Newmarket, in the Manufacturers League.

FOOTBALL

There will be a practise for All Saints on the Carpet Factory field to-night. All players are expected to turn out, as the team will be picked from those playing to go to Stirling on the 24th.

ANOTHER BAD DAY.

Woodbine Meet Suffers From Heavy Rain.

Toronto, May 22.—The track was a sea of mud for the third day of the Ontario Jockey Club spring races at Woodbine Park. It was rain, rain, rain; but, notwithstanding the downpour and the damp underpinning, the regulars turned out commendably and they included quite a percentage of the fair lovers of the horses and the pari-mutuels.

The results were:

First race—Six furlongs, purse $500 for three-year-olds and up, selling—1st, Sherwood; 2nd Lady Irma; 3rd Senator Sparks. Time, 1.18.

Second race—Bendigo Purse, 4 1-2 furlongs, purse $600, for two-year-olds and upward—1st, Tartar; 2nd, Sand Vale; 3rd, Lohengrin. Time, 57.25.

Third race—Breeders' Stake, 1 1-16 miles, purse $1,000, for three-year-olds, Canadian foals—1st, Amberite; 2nd Heresy; 3rd, Gold Bud. Time, 2.04.

Fourth race—Lansdowne Purse, one mile, purse $500, for three-year-olds—1st, Froglegs; 2nd, Bwana Tumbo; 3rd, Tactics. Time, 1.44 3-5.

Fifth race—Purse $500, 5 1-2 furlongs, for 3-year-olds and up, selling—1st, Blue Thistle; 2nd, Chepontuc; 3rd, Arany. Time 1.09.

Sixth race—Waterloo Handicap, 6 furlongs, purse $700, for 3-year-olds and up, handicap—1st, Ben Loyal; 2nd, Futurity; 3rd, Warbler. Time, 1.15 4-5.

Seventh race—Rideau Purse, 1 1-16 miles, purse $500, for 3-year-olds and up, selling—1st, Apiaster; 2nd, Supervisor; 3rd, Ta Nun Da. Time, 1.54.

Where Hearing Ceases.

In England experiments have been made showing, it is said, that a vibration of sound having an amplitude of less than one twelve-millionth of a centimeter could still affect the sense of hearing. Such a vibration would be so short that it would have to be enlarged 100 times before the most powerful microscope would render it visible, supposing that it were susceptible of being seen at all. Aged persons, it is said, do not hear high notes which are audible to young people, and there is reason to believe that babies hear notes that are inaudible to their elders.

$16.66 Per Cottage.

What must be nearly a record low price for houses has been realized at an auction sale at Stalybridge. Six cottages have been sold for $100, which works out at the remarkably low figure of $16.66 per cottage.—English exchange.

"Who Is Pilate?"

During a recent sitting of a town council on the banks of the Clyde, an official report, for literary embellishment or for some other cause, contained a reference to Pilate. One of the speakers, emulating the assumed ignorance sometimes displayed on the judicial bench, observed, "Who is this Pilate?" That a Scotsman should not be acquainted with the notorious Roman official seems incredible, for the procurator of Augustus is said to have been a native of Scotland. There is a legend that he was born at Fortingall, when his father was governor of the Roman camp there.

324 GEORGE STREET

SCHAEFFER FOR WHITE CAPS TURNER FOR ST. THOMAS

Lineups for Canadian League Opener — New Outfielder Joins Peterboro Squad.

The St. Thomas team arrived in the city this morning in company with the White Caps to open the local baseball season. Manager Stewart announced his line-up in batting order, as:

Forgue, s.s.
Gurney, 1b.
Stewart, rf.
Wright, 3b.
Wilde, 2b.
Gopp, lf.
Powers, c.
Kieftl, cf.
Turner, p.

Howick, Clement and Jacobson, pitchers, in uniform.

The line-up announced by Manager Templin was:

Schwartz, lf.
Gainey, rf.
Beard, cf.
Templin, 2b.
Dolan, 1b.
Tully, ss.
Hartman, 3b.
Trout, c.
Schaeffer, p.

Brode, catcher; Durr, Davis and Bartlett, pitchers, in uniform.

Manager Templin has signed Jim Graney, who was with St. Thomas last year, when he gathered 70 runs for his club. Graney is an outfielder and is recommended by Manager Stewart. He is a brother of Outfielder Graney of the Cleveland, American League team.

The White Cap leader is not in the least downcast as he presents his team before Peterborough fans. He has a strong batting team, he says. The results of the four games gave evidence. The team too, is strong in fielding, and while Templin is not inclined to offer excuses, he is justified in blaming the absence of any kind of luck, to the present position of the White Caps.

He is in a position to land Speers, a catcher from the Toronto International League team, if circumstances warrants this deal, and he can also call on Jersey City for reinforcements.

Mooney reports that he may not return to duty for probably two weeks. His father is seriously ill. Mooney's batting is a big loss to the team.

COSY HOMES AND GOOD GARDENS

At Low Prices and on Rent terms, are what we are now offering to good honest Wage-earners. Walk down to Western Avenue and see the nice homes and gardens just far enough from work to compel you to take ten minutes' walk, which is good for you but very bad for the doctors.

You can own a Home just like those if you want to, and we can give you any sized garden you want. We have a Large House, Orchard and Garden to rent, suit one large or two small families only $6.00 per month each. We commence at once to build two Houses like Mr. Wallworth's, see it, then tell us you want one. Our Price and Terms will please you as they have pleased others.

TO BUY A CHURCH.

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—Will you permit me through the columns of your valuable paper to draw the public's attention to a matter which, in my humble judgment, is worthy of notice. I would rather another should have stepped into the lime-light with this proposition, as it may appear to some to be too much in the family, but since every Baptist church is absolutely independent of the other, I venture to make the following suggestion:

Peterborough at present has no reasonable priced public hall, where public lectures can be held to any advantage, that is of any size, or comfort. Now, why not the people buy the old Murray street Baptist church for that purpose? I have consulted nobody about this matter, and have no inside information. We have "The People's Chimes," why not "The People's Assembly Hall" open to everybody, when not engaged?

The money could be raised in a little while, and the rentals would more than pay for the purchase in a few short years.

I am prepared for one to canvass the city for the same, and I am sure the public-spirited trustees of Murray street would sell the building at a reasonable figure.

Pardon this disgression from my ministerial duties, I simply write as one of the common people, interested in the common people's interests.

Yours for a better and bigger Peterborough,

W. C. RIDDIFORD.

KILL THE PESTS

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir—Anyone taking a walk in the suburbs at present, must be aware of the danger that is threatening us this summer. Every shrub and tree has one or more webs on it, which in a short time, will develop into swarming hosts of caterpillars.

When you see one of these webs, please take the trouble to remove it. Do not attempt to crush it on the tree, but cut off the forked twig bearing the nest, and see that every atom of it is destroyed. Examine your own trees, every day for a week and remove all traces of the plague, and you will deserve the hearty thanks of the public. Here is a grand chance for the Boy Scouts to be of public service.

Yours truly,
PETERBOROUGH HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

NEWSY NOTES ON SUMMER FAIR

After the very recent hard winter spring is exceptionally welcome this year, and the booth at the Peterborough Summer Fair, representing this delightful season, is one of especial freshness and beauty. With delicate spring flowers and foliage hints and every possible hint of spring, it is resplendent, and its walls and counters are covered with all kinds of lovely and useful things, from babies' bonnets and bootees and men's overalls and neckties.

There are aprons for tea, work, sewing. travelling clothes pins, big and little aprons, fancy and foolish aprons, aprons for mistress and maid, dressing jackets and boudoir caps, dresser scarfs, guest towels, centrepieces, doyleys of all kinds and sizes, jabots, ties, towels, laundry bags, blueing bags, broom bags, crocheted and embroidered hand bags.

Puncushions of all sizes, colors and shapes, blouses, plain and fancy for ladies and children, babies' dresses, jackets and bonnets of muslin, face and straw, little boys' wash suits, felts, crocheted and embroidered tea cosies, tray cloths and table mats, all kinds of crocheted and knitted wool jackets, bedroom shoes, gentlemen's ties, ladies' handkerchiefs and handkerchief cases, needle cases, in fact everything conceivable to the feminine mind and inconceivable to the masculine.

For the picture lovers there are sepias, water colors and oils, some mounted and framed, and for the lonely bachelors delicious pots of home-made marmalade, the earliest sign of spring. All these things and more are to be obtained at reasonable prices in the Spring booth, where smiling ladies, attired in dainty flowing costumes symbolic of spring, will graciously wait on the eager public.

One of the special attractions of this delightful booth will be a bean guessing contest, the prize for which is a magnificent Oriental centrepiece now on exhibition in Turnbull's windows.

One of the most interesting features at the Spring booth is the display of Irish crochet, showing doylies, jabots, ties, bows, dress and underwear yokes. To many ladies this will be of great interest, as many new patterns are shown.

You would think from reading the above list of articles that are already on hand, that there would be plenty, but the ladies in charge of the Spring booth would like to have all the articles that have been promised sent in at once. Parcels may be left at Mrs. Leary's, McDonnel street, or Dr Neal's, Rubidge street.

You will be surprised to find how many different uses there are for bags in the house. If you visit the Spring booth you will see what an endless variety of bags there are made—some pretty and luxurious, others plain and serviceable, all unique and attractive. Surely one can find the bag one needs in the collection

OBITUARY

The Late Mrs. Brown

The death occurred on Sunday of Mrs. Robert Brown, a highly esteemed resident of Dummer township.

The deceased, who was born in the Old Country, was predeceased by her husband, just ten months ago this coming July. Both were in their 80th year. The late Mrs. Brown, had lived on the old homestead, a few miles from Peterboro in Dummer Township, for upwards of fifty years and was known throughout the entire neighborhood. She is survived by a large family of boys and girls, all of whom are grown-up and doing well in the world. Their mother was never known to have had any serious illness, and up to the time of her death was apparently in the very best of health, but a partial stroke of paralysis had a very weakening effects, from which the kind old lady never recovered.

The following sons and daughters survive to mourn the loss of a devoted mother: William of Peterboro Township; James of Norwood, George of Warsaw, John and David at home, Robert in the West, Jos. (A. of Lindsay, Mrs. Thos. Adger, of Peterboro, Mrs. Jos. Tighe, of Dummer Township.

The funeral was held on Tuesday.

The Late Henri Hudson

After but one week's illness, the death occurred at Nicholls Hospital this morning, of Henri Hudson, son of Lieut. Col. Hudson, C.M.G., (retired(of Kingston. Previous to his illness, he was operator at the Royal Theatre.

One week ago yesterday the young man reluctantly, left the position, to undergo an operation for an internal trouble. He made a brave fight, but so severe was the shock that he passed away early this morning.

His father and mother were with him when the end came. The late Mr. Hudson had been in the city over a year, and was a great favorite with the numerous friends he won, by his many estimable qualities.

The remains were taken to Kingston to-day for interment.

S. A. TEMPLE BAND FOR HAMILTON

The Hamilton Spectator says—The Peterboro silver band of the Salvation Army will visit the city as the guest of the Hamilton Salvation Army band on Empire Day, and the following Saturday and Sunday. The bandsmen will give a series of musical salvation meetings. The band consists of 30 efficient musicians, under the leadership of Bandmaster Peryer Each section of the band is headed by soloists of more than usual merit and expectations are high for an unusual musical treat. Ensign and Mrs. Merritt, formerly stationed at Hamilton, will accompany the band and be in charge of the services Saturday and Sunday, while Brigadier Adby will conduct the welcome meeting and musical festival on Friday at 8 o'clock.

FARMERS SHOULD GET BUSY WITH THAT ENTRY IN ALFALFA COMPETITION

This is almost the last call in the Peterborough County Alfalfa Competition. Alfalfa has been making a splendid growth lately. There are dozens of farmers just near the city who have alfalfa fields that they might well be proud of. Why not enter these fields in the Alfalfa Competition being conducted by our local farm paper, Farm and Dairy? The rules of the competition call for the entry of three acres—the best three you have, of course—seeded a year ago this spring.

It will be necessary to judge these fields not later than the first week of June. The alfalfa will then be in the very best of condition and just right for judging. The time is getting short. The editors of Farm and Dairy who are conducting this competition would like to have a better idea of how many entries there will be and where they will be than they now have. They already have a nice bunch of entries but there is no reason why they should not have ten times as many in a county so well adapted to alfalfa growing as Peterborough. Readers of this paper who have not yet entered their fields in the Alfalfa Competition should do so at once. Send entries to the Editor of Farm and Dairy, Peterborough, Ont.

The Craze For the Antique.

Whether the present crazes for antiques represents in reality any artistic progress on the part of people in general would be a nice speculation, says The London Globe. We fear, in the majority of cases, the acquisition or attempted acquisition of "genuine" old furniture, prints, china and so forth is merely dictated by a desire to be in the fashion. It may be argued that even this is so much to the good, since it is better that persons of small or no taste should live in artistic surroundings, even if they are unable to appreciate them. So much may be admitted, but our concern for the moment is rather with the class of people who have some instinct for art, but who in their pursuit of the beautiful and their dislike of the blatantly ugly have rushed into the extreme of acquiring articles merely because they are "genuine old." Now, age alone does not necessarily imply beauty. An artistic copy of a beautiful object is far more to be cherished than an inartistic, even if genuinely old, original. But, unfortunately, most of us are such impulsive creatures that in our haste to buy the old we are in danger of forgetting to note whether it be really beautiful as well. The result will probably be that in a few years' time the present craze will die out and we shall be filling our rooms with priceless specimens of mid-Victorian art!

Why Parliament Gathers Tuesday.

The British Parliament's custom of assembling for a new session on Tuesday instead of on the first working day of the week originated in the religious scruples of legislators of a century ago. In 1809 it was proposed that Monday should be made the day of meeting, but one of the members protested that this would involve Sunday traveling—a thing to be abhorred. A number of other members sustained him in his protest and the day for assembling was made Tuesday.

A Bootless Attempt.

"Ma," said Tommy Twaddles, looking up from his reading of "Terry the Tenspot, "what is a bootless attempt?" "It's the sort your father makes to get in without my hearing him when he comes home late from the club," answered Ma Twaddles incisively. Pa doesn't stop to remove 'em at the foot of the stairs now. He knows it's no use.

Y.M.C.A. Board

The Board of Directors of the Y.M.C.A. met last night for regular business.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has completed plans for a warehouse 242 feet in length at Biggar, Sask., and has also made a considerable appropriation for the improvement of the station yards by putting in trees, flower beds, and sod.

Work has been started by the Grand Trunk Pacific on the construction of a round house at Amundsen, the first divisional point on the line east of Prince Rupert, that will accommodate 12 engines.

The immigration office was well stocked with farmers this morning looking for farm hands. They were in on account of the rainy weather making outside operations impossible.

MINISTER WAS LOCKED UP IN A POLICE STATION CELL

Toronto Moral Reformer Published Report of a Show.

Rev. R. B. St. Clair, Secretary of the Vigilance Association, Attended a Burlesque Performance and Took Notes—Pamphlet Containing Them Is Classed as Immoral Literature —To Help Campaign.

Toronto, May 23.—Whether or not it is a criminal offence to publish in a printed pamphlet a report of a theatrical performance, will be decided in the Toronto police court, when the Rev. R. B. St. Clair of 160 Lisgar street, is arraigned on a charge of publishing immoral literature.

Mr. St. Clair is secretary of the Toronto Vigilance Association. A few weeks ago he attended the first performance of a show put on at a burlesque theatre and took extensive notes on the dialogue and the actions of the play. These were printed and as they were denied the use of the mails, they were distributed privately to ministers and others interested in the suppression of vice and immorality. One was sent to the mayor, one to Judge Winchester, and several to other officials. Mr. St. Clair contends that as the pamphlet was not distributed indiscriminately and was issued solely for the purpose of assisting in the campaign which the vigilance committee is waging, no harm has come of it.

Mr. St. Clair heard yesterday that a warrant had been issued and he went to the City Hall and gave himself up. He was taken in custody by Detective Miller and was taken to the detective office. A police photograph was taken and Mr. St. Clair was then removed in the patrol wagon to Court street police station, where he was put in a cell. After remaining there three hours, he was allowed out on $1,000 bail furnished by James Patchett of 45 Lynd avenue.

CHAMP. CLARK.

He is making a hard race for the Presidential nomination on the Democratic ticket.

COULD NOT STAND KAISER

Berlin, May 23.—The final session of the Reichstag yesterday was a most stormy one. The Social Democratic leader, George Ledebour, in referring to the Emperor's recent threat at a banquet at Strasburg that he would incorporate Alsace-Lorraine into Prussia, declared:

"A people like the English would in a parallel case either have smashed the throne to a fragment or have confined a monarch making such remarks in some quiet castle in the same way as had been done to the mad king of Bavaria and ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid."

Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the Imperial Chancellor, rose excitedly from his seat and answered, declaring that the nation, which was devoted to the Emperor, would know how properly to resent such attacks. The Social Democrats, Albert Suedekum and Philipp Scheidemann, and the Conservative, George Schultz, increased the uproar by hurling charges and counter-charges at each other, the Socialists saying that it was a fine state of things when they, instead of the Imperial Chancellor, had to appear in defence of the constitution and citing the Conservative attacks on the emperor.

Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg then made another attack on the Socialists.

The session was adjourned to Nov. 29. Before reading the Imperial rescript proroguing the House, the Chancellor briefly thanked the members for passing the public defence bills, which, he said, "give evidence at home and abroad of the resolute spirit in which the nation asserts its power by strengthening the guarantees of peace."

UP GOES THE PRICE OF COAL

Special to the Review.

New York, May 23.—That consumers will have to pay an advance of ten per cent in wages of mine workers became apparent this morning when it was announced that hard coal will be advanced twenty-five cents per ton June 1. The companies estimate that it will take twenty cents per ton to cover the wage increase, and the other five cents will go to make up further increase in cost of production.

Seized Beer In "Dry" District.

Brockville, May 23.—Four cases of beer shipped into Athens, which is a local option village, were seized by Constable Compo. One was addressed to a fictitous name, and the others to prominent men of the locality, who disclaim any knowledge of the shipment. An investigation is being made and prosecutions will likely follow.

SIR RICHARD DIDN'T SAY SO

Ottawa, May 23.—Sir Richard Cartwright sent the following letter to the press yesterday afternoon regarding the evidence of W. R. Travers in the Farmers' Bank enquiry Tuesday in Toronto:

"Sir,—I observe a very extraordinary statement in reference to an alleged conversation between myself and the late manager of the Farmers' Bank. I did not know Mr. Travers, and I very much doubt if I ever had any conversation with him at all. In any case, the statement is absurd on its very face—the circulation which a bank is authorized to issue has nothing whatever to do with the amount or character of the notes it holds. The circulation is based on the amount of its paid up capital.

(Signed) "R. I. Cartwright."

In his evidence Travers stated that he had asked Sir Richard if it were irregular for a bank to issue circulation against good farmers' notes.

He alleged that Sir Richard had said: "If you cannot issue circulation against good farmers' notes, what can you issue it against?"

BURNING LAKE OF WHISKEY

Special to the Review.

Freeport, Pa., May 23.—Whiskey, released from its containing vessels by fire, formed a burning lake around two of the warehouses of the Schentey Distilling Co., near here late last night, and prevented the firemen from getting close enough to the burning building to be of any use in checking the conflagration. The damage amounted to $200,000.

A later depatch says that the loss will be fully $800,000.

150,000 LONDON DOCK LABORERS ORDERED ON STRIKE TO-NIGHT

Special to the Review.

London, May 23.—The National executive committee of the Transport Workers' Federation has decided upon a general strike commencing to-night, in support of the Thames lightermen, and also in resentment at the deliberate breaking of agreements by employers. One hundred and fifty thousand workmen connected with London docks will be immediately involved in the strike and the entire transport work of the Port of London brought to a standstill. Work at some docks is already paralyzed. If any attempt is made to divert traffic to other ports the strike will spread to those points.

May Tie Up Port of London.

London, May 23.—No progress has been made towards a settlement of the London port strike. Twenty thousand men are now out. The Rt. Hon. Edward Clarke, former Solicitor-General, has been appointed to conduct the Government enquiry, which will open Friday.

The Transport Workers' Federation will meet to-day to discuss the situation, and it is expected will call a general strike.

NEW KING AND QUEEN OF DENMARK AND THEIR CHILDREN

CHRISTIAN X. NEW KING OF DENMARK
THE NEW QUEEN OF DENMARK
PRINCE CHRISTIAN FREDERICK AND PRINCE KNUD, SONS OF THE NEW KING

Herewith is shown Christian X., new King of Denmark, and the new Queen Alexandrine, together with their children, Prince Christian and Prince Knud. King Christian is grief stricken over the sudden death of his father, King Frederick VIII. of Denmark.

The new ruler of Denmark was born at Charlottenlund on September 26, 1870, and married Princess Alexandrine in 1898. They have sons Prince Christian and Prince Knud, thirteen and twelve years old, respectively.

It is interesting to note that the flag under which Christian X. will reign is the oldest national ensign in Europe. Its origin is much mixed up with legend, but it is certain that it dates back to the thirteenth century.

The present King is colonel of the Fourteenth regiment of Prussian Hussars and a knight of many orders, among them the Golden Fleece, the Black Eagle, the Elephant, the Annunciad, St. Andrew and the Seraphim.

HON. J. R. STRATTON PRESENT AT FARMER'S BANK INQUIRY

Special to the Review.

Toronto, May 23.—Hon. J. R. Stratton, Peterborough, and A. E. Donovan, M.P.P., Brockville, were present at the Farmers' Bank enquiry this morning. After further questioning of Ed. Stickdale, of the Trusts and Guarantee Co., with reference to Farmers Bank circulation, W. S. Morden, of Belleville, now assistant general Manager of the Trust Company, told of a conference which he and Mr. Stratton had with Travers on October 21, 1910, with reference to the Farmers' account, which had impressed him as being in an unsatisfactory condition. Travers had urged that the privileges he had been enjoying be continued as he was being unfairly treated by the other bank. Morden, who practiced law previous to joining the trust company in September, 1910, denied that he had any knowledge of the real condition of the Farmers' Bank at the time of the conference with Travers.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO THE CANADIAN PACIFIC EXPRESS

Special to the Review.

Winnipeg, May 23—It is reported that the first section of the C. P. R. Imperial Limited express was ditched, ten miles east of White River last night. The report to-day is that the ditched train carried down telegraph poles, and so destroyed communication. A wrecking train has been sent from White River, and Port William, and trains with nurses and doctors have been sent from Fremner and Chapleau. Several passengers are reported to be killed.

DEADLY LEVEL CROSSING REAPS HARVEST OF DEATH

Special to the Review.

Woodstock, May 23.—Moses Roth was killed and Daniel Zehr probably fatally injured at Tavistock this morning by a car on the G.T.R. level crossing. The men, young farmers, were driving in from the country and did not notice the car, which was making a flying shunt. Roth, who was instantly killed, was dragged some distance. Zehr, with one leg and chest smashed, has been removed to the hospital at Stratford.

HIS EYESIGHT HAS BEEN SAVED

Special to the Review.

London, May 23.—General Booth of the Salvation Army, was operated upon for cataract at Guy's Hospital this morning. After the operation Dr. Higgens, who performed it, issued the following bulletin: "The operation was completely successful and the ultimate restoration of his eyesight depends only on the recuperative powers of General Booth himself."

Medical Association Officers.

Toronto, May 23.—Dr. Charles McGillivray of Whitby was elected president of the Ontario Medical Association at their meeting yesterday. Dr. Shillington of Ottawa, was elected first vice-president; Dr. Taylor of Goderich, 2nd vice-president; Dr. Park of Woodstock, third vice-president; Dr. Hair of Cobalt, fourth vice-president; Dr. F. A. Clarkson, Toronto, secretary, and Dr. J. H. Elliott of Toronto, treasurer.

European Powers In Accord.

Paris, May 22.—M. Isvolsky, the Russian ambassador to France, presiding at the annual meeting of the Russian Chamber of Commerce of Paris, last night, said that the efforts of France and Russia, acting in close collaboration with England, to put an end to the Turco-Italian war, or in any case to prevent the hostilities from disturbing the peace at other points, were being continued in complete accord with the other powers.

He expressed the firm hope that these efforts would shortly be crowned with success.

Bisley Wrangles Over.

London, May 23.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—At the National Rifle Association annual meeting yesterday, Lord Cheylesmore said that as a result of the visit of Colonels Barlow and Crosse to Canada as emissaries of peace he believed the dispute was permanently settled. Col. Burland of Montreal had sent fifty pounds donation to celebrate the happy issue. The additional regulation is that unless permitted by the special condition of competition, no part of the wrist or hand may touch the ground.

WANTS HANNA TO TAKE JOB

Ottawa, May 23.—Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Railways left, last night for Toronto, and will to-day confer with Sir James Whitney. It is emphatically stated here on excellent authority that Mr. Cochrane will press Mr. Hanna to accept the position of chairman of the Railway Commission.

Premier Borden and Mr. Cochrane, it is said, believe that Mr. Hanna is the best man available to succeed Judge Mabee, and if Mr. Cochrane's mission to Toronto is successful the appointment will probably be announced next week.

TORONTO CHILD WAS KILLED

Toronto, May 23.—Charles Segar, a four-year-old youngster, whose parents live at 177 Palmerston avenue, was instantly killed about four o'clock yesterday afternoon by being struck by one of Eaton's delivery wagons opposite 50 Arthur street.

The little fellow was playing tag on the sidewalk with several other boys. He suddenly touched one of his companions and started to run across the road, and not noticing the wagon which was passing him at the time he ran into it, and his head was struck by the heavy iron step. W. F. Sheppard, the driver of the wagon immediately pulled up and carried the boy's body into a nearby house. The boy died a few minutes later.

This is the sixth death that has occurred in Toronto in the past four weeks of youngsters under ten years of age who have been killed by street cars or wagons while playing on the streets. Witnesses say Sheppard was in no way to blame.

Germany Britain's Arch Enemy.

London, May 23.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—A Berlin newspaper, The Taegliche Rundaschau, argues that the placing by New Zealand of a dreadnought cruiser at the disposal of the British Admiralty is proof that Britain still regards Germany as the arch enemy. At Britain's request New Zealand will permit the warship to be used in home waters instead of in the Antipodes.

Two Burned to Death.

Sherbrooke, Que., May 23.—John Squires and his wife were burned to death in a fire in a tenement house on Queen street early yesterday morning. Forty other occupants had narrow escapes.

Against Militarism.

Vancouver, May 23.—The British Columbia Methodist conference at Victoria Tuesday night passed a resolution against the encouragement of the spirit of militarism throughout Canada.

LATE RETURNS SHOW THAT TAFT WAS BADLY BEATEN

Taft Gets Only 10 Out of 42 Ohio District Delegates.

The Remainder of the Ohio Votes In the National Republican Convention Are Delegates-at-Large and These Will Not Be Known Until June 3, But Taft's Forces Seem to Be Dwindling In Home State.

Columbus, O., May 23.—According to returns in hand to-day from approximately 4,500 of the 5,192 precincts in the state, Col. Theodore Roosevelt's delegates to the national Republican convention, carried Tuesday's Ohio primaries by a plurality of about 25,000 votes. It now seems scarcely possible that final results from the primary poll will change the number of district delegates for either side by more than one or two. The best figures available now show that Roosevelt has 32 of the 42 district delegates selected Tuesday, and that President Taft has 10.

Governor Harmon practically is assured a complete delegation of 48 delegates to the Baltimore Democratic convention. His lead now gives him control of the state Democratic convention, which will select six delegates at large.

The delegate at large situation in the Republican party will not be known or settled until June 3, when the state Republican convention is convened here. The Taft leaders claim that they will control the state convention, and designate the delegates at large for the President, but Roosevelt managers declared that late returns show the number of Taft delegates to the state convention to be dwindling, instead of increasing, as was announced early yesterday.

In only 23 of the 88 counties in the state were delegates to the state convention chosen. In the remaining counties the delegates will be named by county conventions.

An analysis made last night of the recapitulated Roosevelt vote shows that the Roosevelt strength was not confined to any particular section of the state or to any particular class of citizens. He carried mining and industrial sections, such as the Hocking Valley as well as some of the oldest and most conservative urban communities in the state. Added to these there was much strength among the farmers.

SCHORR WINS THE GOLD CUP

Toronto, May 23.—The weather was cool and fine overhead for the fourth day at Woodbine Park, the track heavy and a splendid attendance for mid-week. The steeplechase having been declared off, left only six races, with the gold cup as the feature, and scratches reduced it to three. J. W. Schoors' Edda proved an easy winner over R. T. Wilson's Olampala, the public going wofully wrong in their support. In fact it was a bad day for the favorites.

The results were:

First race—Six furlongs, Howick Plate, purse $500, for three-year-olds and up, maidens—1st, Inspector Lestrade; 2nd, Flying Yankee; 3rd, Master Edwin. Time, 1.17 4-5.

Second race—Five furlongs, purse $500, Mayflower Purse, for two-year-olds, selling—1st, Ringling; 2nd, Captain Elliott; 2nd, Mary Scribe. Time, 1.04 3-5.

Third race—Five and one-half furlongs, Flash Purse, purse $500, for three-year-olds and up—1st, Priscillian; 2nd, Knights Differ; 3rd, Cherry Seed. Time, 1.09 1-5.

Four race—King Edward Hotel Gold Cup, 1 1-4 miles, purse $1,500, for three-year-olds and up—1st, Edda; 2nd, Olambala; 3rd, Brosseau. Time, 2.10 3-5.

Fifth race—Mount Royal Purse, 1 1-16 miles, purse $500, for three-year-olds and up, selling—1st, Fred. Mulholland; 2nd, Servicence; 3rd, Apiaster. Time, 1.51 3-5.

Sixth race—One mile, purse $500, for three-year-olds and up, selling, Canadian breds—1st, Caper Sauce; 2nd, Commola; 3rd, Philis. Time, 1.48 2-5.

RESTS BESIDE HIS MOTHER

Special to the Review.

Boston, May 23.—The body of Clarence Richeson, the former clergyman, electrocuted for the murder of Avis Linnell early Tuesday morning, was shipped back to Virginia, his native state, last night, to be buried at his childhood home.

LARGEST LINER IN THE WORLD

Special to the Review.

Hamburg, Germany, May 23.—Emperor William acted as sponsor at the launching of the Hamburg American liner, the new mammoth transatlantic steamer Imperator, shortly before ten o'clock this morning. The Imperator will be the biggest vessel in the world, having launch weight of 29,755 tons, and when completed will displace fifty-two thousand tons.

TO PROTECT DAIRYMEN

Hon. Martin Burrell Will Appoint Special Inspectors.

Scheme Is Under Way to Provide Ontario With a Staff of Men to Keep Commission Merchants In Line and Protect Farmers Against Their Failure—Cheese Weighing at Montreal to Be Watched.

Ottawa, May 23.—Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, is just at present considering a scheme for the appointment of a number of special dairy inspectors for the Province of Ontario.

He is also working on a plan whereby he expects to prevent the losses sustained in the past by farmers and dairymen through the failure of dairy commission merchants. Heretofore, these commission men have been permitted to do business indiscriminately with the result that many of them who were without sufficient capital, became bankrupt. Thousands of dollars were lost every season in this way by the farmers of Ontario. In future the Minister will see to it that the farmer and dairyman is protected from loss of any kind.

Closer inspection of the cheese weighing system at the port of Montreal, which, it is charged, resulted in the loss of many thousands of dollars to the farmers of Ontario and Quebec, will also be inaugurated. For years past Ontario dairymen have complained that, owing to the weighing system at Montreal, they were losing heavily. Last session the matter was brought up in the House by Dr. Edwards of Frontenac. Mr. Burrell had the whole question investigated, and as a result he is taking immediate measures to grapple with the situation.

BRANTFORD GAMES CALLED OFF

Special to the Review.

Brantford, May 23.—High water in the Grand river has soaked into Agricultural Park, completely inundating the baseball field. Games for to-day and to-morrow with Hamilton are consequently postponed. The water in this vicinity was never so high at this time of year.

Stern War on French Criminals.

Paris, May 23.—As the result of a conference between the Premier and the chief of police authorities, a number of radical reforms will be introduced in French police methods.

Police Prefect Lepine advocates the installation of telephones, accessible only to the police, who, by means of pocket transmitters, could communicate with headquarters.

In view of the valuable services rendered at the siege of the motor car bandits by bullet-proof shields, the prefect favors their further use, supplemented by coats of mail.

He has also suggested that the use of sulphuric acid and capsules, which would render the air so poisonous that criminals would be obliged to come out of hiding places and surrender.

Gordon Hodgins Committed Suicide.

Portage due Fort, Que., May 23.—The body of Gordon Hodges, the young bank clerk who shot Teresa Dolan here last Friday, was taken from the river last night. It was close to the wharf, where bloodstains were left the night of the tragedy. A bullet wound was in the lad's temple.

At the Ottawa General Hospital Miss Dolan, the victim of the shooting, is reported as progressing favorably. She will return to her home to-morrow or Saturday.

Eduardo de Martino was marine painter-in-ordinary to the late Queen Victoria. He was born at Meta, near Naples, Italy.

Catarrh and Bronchitis

The Bane of Thousands, and has Hitherto Baffled the Skill of Medical Science.

Catarrhozone

Dry air treatment is the one treatment that will cure these diseases.

What stomach medicine has ever been known to cure Catarrh or Bronchitis?

Catarrhozone is not a stomach medicine, but an air medicine, that carries to the remotest parts of the throat, lungs, and air cells little drops of healing so curative that whenever it touches germ life it kills and eradicates them from the system.

Thousands of doctors and patients have been disappointed by using stomach medicines for coughs and colds. Have you not found it a rather roundabout way to reach the diseased portion of the throat and lungs?

Why not use Catarrhozone, which is breathed to the very root of the disease and heals so quickly and perfectly that every spot is rebuilt with new healthy tissue?

Catarrhozone is the only medicine that will cure. Thousands have testified.

Think for a moment. Is it not sense? Little drops of healing—the air carries them just where disease exists. That is why

BUYING A CHURCH

Rev W. C. Riddiford shows a commendable civic spirit and interest in the social requirements of the city when in his communication to the Review yesterday he suggests that the old Murray street Baptist church be purchased by private funds and converted into a public hall. The reverend gentleman possesses sufficient business instinct to see that the investment would be a good one from a financial standpoint as well as a great boon to the social and intellectual life of the city. The old church is one of the landmarks of Peterborough and is worthy of preservation.

What do the people of Peterborough think of the timely suggestion?

KILL THE CATERPILLAR

The caterpillar which is now threatening with destruction our trees and shrubs, should be vigorously assailed by every citizen anxious to preserve the health and beauty of Peterborough. Not only is it voracious in its ravages but it is loathsome to the sight as well, more so than the elusive fly against which a war of extermination has been waged so long. The caterpillar must receive no quarter. Full directions for its extinction have been given by the Horticultural Society and the Boy Scouts, the future hope of our nation, will no doubt accept the hint given them and to their slogan, "Swat the fly," add another, and at once proceed to "Kill the Caterpillar."

THE WAR EMPEROR

Emperor William, of Germany is not only adding to the strength of his army and navy but is talking war with the invariable chip still on his shoulder. If he did not inspire he at least must have approved the sanguinary book written by one of his generals in which the cry is all for war and the German's mailed fist is practically shaken in England's face. The chip may yet be knocked off the Teutonic person and the Kaiser get what he is looking for and what is coming to him.

His Majesty has always been a fly in the ointment designed to heal international wounds and has wandered around nights, so to speak, to scatter tares in the fields in which his brother monarchs of Europe have planted the lilies of peace.

IT'S A SQUABBLE

The presidential scrimmage in the United States is still as bitter as ever, and the end is not yet in sight. After his success in Ohio Roosevelt claims the nomination, but President Taft says he has not given up. It looks like the irony of fate that Taft should beat Roosevelt in the latter's own state, New York, and then lose to him in his own home, Ohio. A political prophet is not without honor save in his own country. In all the turbid history of politics the contest now, carried on so furiously is probably the most undignified and unseemly squabble that has ever been witnessed.

A MURDER SOLVED

Hamilton has more unsolved murder mysteries on its hands than any city in the Dominion, and that an addition was not made to the list by the tragedy of last Saturday is probably much due to circumstances that were fortunate for the police. Truckle shot his wife on the public street under the very eyes of Chief Smith's men. When he tried to escape he was pursued, not by officers, but by citizens, who ran him to earth, after a hard chase and so forced him into the taking of his own life. This is one murder case in the Ambitious City the solution of which was prompt and thorough, even though it solved itself and saved the police trouble and deprived them of a chance to win glory.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Come to think of it now that the divine Sarah is to appear in moving pictures shows another farewell tour is out of the question.

The Ottawa Evening Journal essays a stroke of facetiousness in speaking of the Quebec election; "Gonin, what did we Tellier." A gun, quick, somebody.

A passenger on the Grand Trunk left the train at Woodstock, thinking he was at his destination, Chicago. Which is another argument against the sale of strong drink in dining cars.

Yes, the pistol should go, especially the deadly automatic. It has no place in civilized society, even though the philosophic Mr. Dooley says that men have a great respect for each other in a community where everybody carries a revolver.

During his visit to Toronto these wet days His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, is setting the public an example in good manners. He does not endanger the eyesight of his fellowman by carrying his closed umbrella under his arm.

A Sarnia man offered to hang an Indian in that town for $4. When he found that his offer was likely to result in his social ostracism, he took the first train out of town and has not been seen since.

The Automobile Association have laid hold of the right horn of the dilemma by offering a prize to the pathmaster who keeps his division of highway in best shape. Railway companies secured the highest results when they adopted the reward system with their section men.

One thing we are spared in the British investigation of the Titanic tragedy—no attempt is made to cast a shadow upon the memory of Capt. Smith and his gallant officers, who went down to honorable death.

William Jennings Bryan is laying pipe to secure the temporary chairmanship of the coming Democratic National Convention. If he gets there, look out for another display of oratorical fireworks on the "cross of gold and crown of thorns" order, the phrase which years ago brought him into world-wide prominence.

"I am sold out of that article and have really nothing just as good, but you can get what you want in the store across the street," said a Peterborough druggist to a prospective customer. Had old Diogenes been there he might have crushed his lantern and ended his search, for here was the truly honest man he had looked for so long.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Curious Pavement Mark.

In the ancient town of Southampton Eng.), and situated in the busiest part of the picturesque old High Street, stands the Church of Holy Rood. Immediately before this church, and let into the public pavement, is a small brass cross some 6 inches or 8 inches in length and breadth. This cross marks the exact spot where a heavy stone pinnacle fell from the top of the church during the busiest part of the day, and it also commemorates the fact that, though numbers of people were at the time passing and repassing, not a single person sustained the slightest injury.

Latest Quotations in Grain Dairy Products, Live Stock Etc.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Higher—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Alarm regarding suggestions of crop damage southwest and west ran up the price of wheat today in a hurry. Sudden hot weather here made dealers ready to credit rumors of disaster from high winds and dust storms. The result was a net advance of 2c to 2 1-4c to 2 3-8c a bushel. All the other leading staples, too, swept upward—corn 5-8c to 2 1-4c, oats 1c to 1 5-8c and provisions 5c to 47 1-2c.

The Liverpool market closed to-day ¼d to 1d higher than yesterday on wheat, and ¼d to ½d lower on corn.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, May 22.—There was a decided improvement in the demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat at an advance in prices of 1½d to 3d per quarter, but owing to the advance of 1¼c per bushel in Winnipeg no business could be worked, but a lot of wheat was bought by exporters to fill freight. There was some enquiry for oats from European sources, but bids were out of line. The local business was quiet. Flour is firm, but business continues quiet. A stronger feeling has developed in the butter market, and prices have advanced ¼c to ½c per pound, owing to the continued good demand from the west. Cheese is more active and firm. Eggs active and steady.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, May 22.—At the Canadian Pacific live stock market the receipts of live stock for the week ending May 18 were 650 cattle, 330 sheep and lambs, 1040 hogs and 1950 calves. The offerings on the market this morning consisted of 600 cattle, 300 sheep and lambs, 1600 hogs and 1600 calves.

An active trade was done in cattle, there being a good demand from both butchers and packers, as they were all short of supplies, and the market in consequence was cleaned up early at firm prices. Top quality steers sold at $8; good at $7.50 to $7.75, and the lower grades from that down to $6 to $6.50 per 100 lbs. There was a brisk demand for butchers' cows and sales were made freely at from $4 to $6.75, and the bulls offered brought from $4.50 to $6.25 per 100 pounds.

The demand for sheep and lambs was brisk, and prices ruled firm, with sales of sheep at from $3 to $6 each, and spring lambs at from $4 to $6 each, while calves sold freely at from $3 to $8 each. The tone of the market for hogs was strong, and prices were firmly maintained, with an active trade in selected lots, at $9.75 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, May 22.—Cattle—Receipts, 100 head; market dull to steady; prime steers, $8.25 to $9; butcher grades, $5 to $8.

Calves—Receipts, 400 head; market active, 25c lower; cull to choice, $6 to $9.25.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 6000; market, lambs slow, 15c lower; sheep active; choice lambs, $8.50 to $8.85; cull to fair, $6 to $8.25; yearlings, $7 to $7.25; sheep, $3 to $6.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 3400; market slow, 10c lower; yorkers, $7.80 to $7.90; pigs, $7.25; mixed, $7.95 to $8; heavy, $8 to $8.05; roughs, $6.50 to $7; stags, $6 to $6.25.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Cattle—Receipts, 16,000; market steady to 10c lower; beeves, $6.10 to $9.40; Texas steers, $6 to $7.80; western steers, $6.20 to $7.90; stockers and feeders, $4.40 to $7; cows and heifers, $3.10 to $7.90; calves, $5.50 to $8.85.

Hogs—Receipts, 27,000; market generally steady; light, $7.25 to $7.75; mixed, $7.35 to $7.85; heavy, $7.35 to $7.85; rough, $7.35 to $7.55; pigs, $5 to $6.90; bulk of sales, $7.60 to $7.80.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 22,000; market steady for sheep; lambs weak; native, $3.75 to $6.25; western, $4 to $6.25; yearlings, $5.50 to $7.60. Lambs, native, $5 to $8.60; western, $5.50 to $8.85.

Cynthia's Chauffeur

By LOUIS TRACY

Copyright by McLeod & Allen, Toronto

"Oh, it was of no importance. . . the way," and Mrs. Devar produced her purse, "you might tell the people in the office not to pay any attention to the statements of a man named Dale, if he rings up from Hereford. He is only a chauffeur, and we shall see him in the morning; perhaps it will be best, if he asks for Fitzroy again to-night, to tell him to await our arrivel."

"Yess, mam," and the maid went off, the richer by half-a-crown. Mrs. Devar's usual "tip" was a sixpence for a week's attentions, so it would demand an abstruse arithmetical calculation to arrive at an exact estimate of the degree of mental disturbance that led to the present lack of proportion.

Left alone once more, her gaze followed a small skiff speeding upstream over the placid surface of the silvery Wye; Medenham was rowing, and Cynthia held the tiller ripes; but Mrs. Devar's thoughts turned her mind's eyes inward, and they surveyed a gray prospect. Dale, the unseen monster who had struck this paralyzing blow, spoke of "the Frenchman." Lord Fairholme had charged both Dale and "the Frenchman" with tricking him. Therefore, the Earl and Marigny had met at Bristol. If so, and there could be little doubt of it, Marigny would hardly appear in Hereford, and if she attempted to telephone to the Green Dragon Hotel, where Cynthia had engaged rooms, she would not only fail to reach Marigny but probably reveal to a wrathful Earl the very fact which Dale seemed to have withheld from him, namely, his son's address at the moment.

She assumed that Dale knew how to communicate with his master because Medenham had telegraphed the name of the hotel at Symon's Yat. Therein she was right. Medenham wanted his baggage, and, having ascertained that there was a suitable train, sent instructions that Dale was to travel by it. This, of course, the man could not do. Lord Fairholme had carried off his son's portmanteaux, and had actually hired a room in the Green Dragon next to that reserved for Cynthia.

Suddenly grown wise, Mrs. Devar decided against the telephone. But there remained the secrecy of the post-office. What harm if she sent a brief message to both the Green Dragon and the Mitre Hotels—Marigny would be sure to put up at one or the other if he were in Hereford—and demand his advice? She hurried to the drawing-room and wrote:

> Remaining Symon's Yat Hotel to-night. Suppose you are aware of to-day's developments. F. is son of gentleman you met in Bristol. Wire reply.
>
> DEVAR.

She went to the hotel bureau, but a sympathetic landlady shook her head.

"The Post-office is closed. No telegrams can be dispatched until eight o'clock on Monday," she said. "But there is the telephone——"

"It is matterless," said Mrs. Devar, crushing the written forms in her fingers as though she had reason to believe they might sting her.

She resolved to let events drift now. They had passed beyond her control. Perhaps a policy of masterly inactivity might rescue her from the tornado which had swept her off her feet. In any case, she must fight her own battles, irrespective of the cabal entered into in Paris. Captain James Devar was an impossible ally; the French Count was a negligible quantity when compared with an English viscount whose ancestry threw back to the Conquest and whose estates covered half of a midland shire; but there remained, active as ever, the self-interest of a poor widow from whose despairing grasp was slipping a golden opportunity.

"Is it too late?" she asked herself. "Can anything be done? Maud, my dear, you are up against it, as they say in America. Pull yourself together, and see if you can't twist your mistakes to your own advantage."

Cynthia, meanwhile, was enjoying herself hugely. The placid reaches of the Wye offered a delightful contrast to the sun-baked roads of Monmouthshire; and, it may be added, there was enough of Mother Eve in her composition to render the proceeding none the less attractive because it was unconventional. Perhaps, deep hidden in her consciousness, lurked a doubt—but that was successfully stifled for the hour.

Indeed, her wits were trying to solve a minor puzzle. Her woman's eye had seen and her quick brain was marveling at certain details in Medenham's costume. There are conditions even in England, in which a flannel suit is hard to obtain, and the manner of their coming to Symon's Yat seemed to preclude the buying of ready-made garments, a solution which would occur to an American instantly. Yet here was that incomprehensible chauffeur clad in the correct regalia of the Thames Rowing Club, though Cynthia, of course, did not recognize the colors.

"How did you manage it?" she asked, wide-eyed and smiling.

"I hunted through the hotels and met a man about my own size who was just off to town," he said.

"But—there are gaps."

"I thought they fitted rather well. In fact, he was the stouter of the two."

"Don't be stupid. The gaps are in your story. Did you borrow or buy?"

"I borrowed. Luckily, he was a decent fellow, and there was no trouble."

"Did you know him?"

"By name only."

"Do Englishmen lend their clothes to promiscuous strangers."

"More, much more; they give them at times."

She was silent for a few seconds. He had persuaded her that oars were preferable to sails on such a still still night, especially as he was not acquainted with the shallows, but he had not explained that if he rowed and she steered he would be able to gaze his fill at her.

"What colors are those?" she demanded suddenly.

"I ought to have told you that I happened to find a member of the club to which I belong," he countered. Then, before she could pin him down to a definite statement, he tried to carry the war into the enemy's county.

"By the way, I hope I am not presuming on the fact that you have consented to take this little excusion, Miss Vanenen, but may I ask how you contrive to appear each evening in a muslin frock? Those hold-alls on the motor are strictly utilitarian, and a mere man would imagine that muslin could not escape being crushed."

"It doesn't. I have a maid iron it for me before dinner. At Hereford I shall receive a fresh one from London, and send this back by post. But fancy you noticing such a thing! Have you any sisters?"

"Yes, one."

"How old is she?"

"Twenty-three."

"Dear me! A year older than me. Oh, ought I to have said 'than I'? That always puzzles me."

"You have Milton on your side. He wrote:

> Satan—than whom no higher sat.

Still, it is generally allowed that Milton wrote bad grammar there."

Cynthia was awed momentarily—a quotation from "Paradise Lost" always commands respect—so she harked back to an easier topic:

"Is your sister married?"

"Yes."

"What is her husband."

"She married rather well, as the saying is. Her husband is a man named Scarland, and he is chiefly interested in pedigree cattle."

"Let me see," she mused. "I seem to remember that name; it had something to do with fat cattle, too. . . Scarland? Does he exhibit?"

Medenham wished then that he had not been so glib with the Marquis of Scarland's pet occupation.

"I have been in England so little during the past few years—" he began.

"I hope you haven't quarreled with your sister?" she put in promptly.

"What, quarrel with Betty? I?" And he laughed at the conceit, though he wondered what Cynthia would say if, on Monday, he deviated a few miles from the Hereford and Shrewsbury main road and showed her Scarland Towers and the park in which the marquis's prize stock were fatening.

"Oh, is she so nice? And pretty, too, I suppose?"

"People generally speak of her as good-looking. It is a recognized fact, I believe, that pretty girls usually have brothers not so favored—"

"What, fishing now as well as rowing? Didn't I say you had a Norman aspect?"

"Consisting largely of a scowl, I understand."

"But a man is obund to look fierce sometimes. At least, my father does, though he is celebrated for his unchanging aspect, no matter what happens. Perhaps he may look like a Sphinx when he is carrying through what he calls 'a deal,' but I remember very well seeing lightning in his eye when an Italian prince was rude to me one day. We were at Pompeii, and this Prince Monte-something induced me to look at a horrid fresco under the pretense that it was very artistic. Without thinking what I was doing, I ran to father and complained about it. My goodness! I wonder the lava didn't melt again before he got through with his highness, who, after all, was a bit of a virtuoso, and may have really admired nasty subjects so long as they conformed certain standards of arts."

"Some ideals call for correction by the toe of a strong boot—I share Mr. Vanrenen's views on that point most emphatically."

Medenham's character was one that transmuted words to deeds. He drove the skiff onward with a powerful sweep that discovered an unexpected shoal. There might have been some danger of an upset if the oars were in less skillful hands. As it was, they were back in deep water within a few seconds.

Cynthia laughed without the least tremor.

"You were kicking my Italian acquaintance in imagination then; I hope you see now that you might have been mistaken," she cried.

"Even in this instance I only touched mud."

"Well, well, let us forget the Signor Principe. Tell me about yourself. How did you come to enlist? In my country, men of your stamp do not join the army unless some national crisis arises. But, perhaps, that applies to your case. The Boers nearly beat you, didn't they?"

Were Clever Smugglers.

English smuggling has stories as amusing as the recent Italian incident. There is, for instance, that of the gloves on which duty was never paid. An agent bought the consignment abroad and shipped over only the left-hand ones to England. These were duly seized by the customs and eventually put up for sale. No one wanted odd gloves, and it was easy for those in the plot to acquire them at a nominal price. Then, after a suitable interval, the right hand gloves came over, similarly sold and —found their long-lost partners.

Saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
Swarthmore, Penn.—"For fifteen years I suffered untold agony, and for one period of nearly two years I had hemorrhages and the doctors told me I would have to undergo an operation, but I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am in good health now. I am all over the Change of Life and cannot praise your Vegetable Compound too highly. Every woman should take it at that time. I recommend it to both old and young for female troubles."—Mrs. EMILY SUMMERSGILL, Swarthmore, Pa.

A friend recommended your Compound and I soon gained health and strength and could not wish to sleep better. I know other women who have taken it for the same purpose and they join me in praising it."—Mrs. WM. A. BUFFY, 631 South Vickar Street, Fort Williams, Ontario.

"VOTES FOR WOMEN."

A Nutshell History of the Great Fight For Suffrage.

Much water has run under Westminster Bridge since John Stuart Mill entered the lists as the first champion of women's suffrage in the House of Commons. This was as long ago as 1867, when the Mrs. Pankhurst of to-day had scarcely learned the art of dressing a doll; and still the will-o'-the-wisp, "Votes for Women," eludes capture.

Nine years later, in 1876, the bantling was crushed under the weight of an adverse majority of eighty-seven; and a good many years were to pass before our legislators would listen to such a proposal. In 1897 the tide had turned; a bill conferring the suffrage came triumphantly through the second reading in the House of Commons with a majority of seventy-one; two years later, the majority had grown to 114; and last year, when the Conciliation Bill was put to the test of a second reading, 225 M.P.'s marched into the "Aye" lobby, while only a paltry eighty-eight said "No" to it.

Thus the "flowing tide" is with the ladies; and it seems not unlikely that before long the struggle which Mary Wollstonecraft began more than a century ago, with her "Vindication of the Rights of Women," will be crowned with victory.

While our English women have been waging their long battle their sisters in other lands have already captured the prize. Nineteen years have gone since the first woman registered her vote in New Zealand; the following year, 1894, South Australia took up the running; and West Australia followed in 1890.

Ten years ago the women of New South Wales won the trophy; and in the same year the supreme prize of the Antipodes, the vote for the Federal Parliament, was awarded to women. Tasmania still withheld the boon; but she, too, succumbed to the inevitable in the autumn of 1903, and Queensland has since followed suit.

In South Australia the rights of their sex to equal treatment have been splendidly vindicated. Laws have been passed to protect women against brutal husbands; to remove the ban of illegitimacy from children when the parents marry; to make betting under the age of twenty-one illegal; to prohibit smoking under the age of sixteen; and to make it criminal to sell opium. These, and many others equally designed to strengthen the position of women and children in the eyes of the law.

In West Australia woman has been put on the same footing as man in the matter of divorce; and in New Zealand ladies now sit by the side of men in the Reporters' Gallery of the House of Representatives.

In the little Isle of Man, woman has enjoyed the political franchise for more than thirty years; and in the other islands as far apart as Jersey and Iceland she is man's political equal.

NINE MONTHS IN PRISON.

London Suffragette Leaders Get Stiff Sentences.

London, May 23.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, and Mr. and Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, joint editors of Votes for Women, were all found guilty at the Old Bailey session yesterday, and each sentenced to nine months' imprisonment on the charge of conspiracy and inciting their followers to malicious damage to property.

The jury, handing down its verdict of guilty, accompanied it with a recommendation that leniency should be shown the prisoners, and Justice Coleridge in delivering judgment took this into consideration.

The two women in the dock were pathetic figures when the verdict of guilty was brought in by the jury. Mrs. Pankhurst clung to the edge of the prisoners' enclosure, trembling visibly, and pleaded to be treated as a first-class misdemeanant.

Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, raising both hands in the attitude of prayer, swayed as she uttered the phrase: "May God defend us as our cause is just."

The prisoners were all sentenced to be confined in the second division, which does not involve hard labor.

After consideration of the recommendation of the jury for leniency towards the prisoners on account of the undoubtedly pure motives underlying the agitation, Judge Coleridge said:

"If the prisoners had shown contrition I should have acted on the jury's recommendation, but as they have openly declared that they mean to continue to break the law, I cannot make them first-class misdemeanants. They are guilty of an offence of which they are liable to two years' penal servitude."

The judge ordered the prisoners to pay the heavy costs of the trial.

As the defendants were removed the women crowding the court hissed and cheered.

CONCERNING YOUR EYES

Good eyesight is essential to health comfort and appearance. Have you ever noticed a strained look on your face, or your friend's? Usually this comes from eyestrain. More wrinkles are caused by eyestrain than by age. Thousands unconsciously squint in an effort to adapt the eyes to the surroundings. Success in relieving eyestrain depends entirely upon the OPTICAL SKILL of the Specialist who prescribes the glasses. Neglect of the eyes many times leads to surgical operations, which glasses worn in time may prevent. We correct errors of vision by means of properly fitted lenses.

We have every modern appliance for accurate eyesight testing, and we grind all our own lenses. Thus assuring you accuracy and promptness. All work guaranteed.

REMEMBERING SILENT HEROS

Graves of Military Men in Both Cemeteries Decorated To-day

Two delegations of the 57th Chapter, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, visited the Little Lake cemetery and St. Peter's cemetery, this afternoon, and decorated with flags the graves of all military men, which could be located.

As a flag was placed at each grave the following words were said; "In the name of our country and Empire we place this flag over the grave of ——in rememberance of duty done. May God watch over, and protect our country, our homes and our people.

ROUND TRIP CARS

The Peterboro' Radial Railway Cars will commence their summer runs to-morrow, May 24th.

"WE WILL SELL SOME OF THE EARTH"

On Saturday afternoon at 2.30 there will sold by public auction, on the premises, choice lots situated on Lock street, on the George street car line. These are all choice building lots, with 40 foot frontage, a good depth to a 12 foot lane. The lots are all high and dry, and are in the centre of a well built district. There are five fine brick houses on this property, all occupied.

Two special free street cars will leave the office of C. J. Carroll & Co., 412 1-2 George street, at 2 o'clock and at 2.30, and will land you right at the property. No walking after you leave the street car.

There will be an opportunity for people to buy lots at their own price and with the steady growth in the South end of Peterboro, these lots should increase in value. They are situated close enough to all the factories and are just bearing county taxes. Any working man or woman can own a lot by making a small payment down at the sale, and the balance of terms will be arranged to suit the purchaser.

The sale will commence sharp on time, so be on hand when the first lots are sold. It will cost you nothing to see those lots, and you are perfectly welcome on the grounds whether you buy or not.

Don't forget the free car to the grounds.

THE LATE GEORGE WEBBER

Shortly before four o'clock this morning, the death summons came to one of North Monaghan's most beloved and honored residents in the person of Mr. George Webber, who passed away from heart trouble in the seventieth year of his earthly voyage. While the late Mr. Webber was known to have been afflicted with heart trouble, all during the past winter, yet his departure, nevertheless, came as a great shock to his hundreds of friends throughout the country. Indeed it is almost unnecessary to say that the passing of such a kindly, widely known, and upright resident as Mr. Webber, leaves a feeling of the deepest regret and sorrow, in the entire community.

Born in Chawley, Devon, Eng., he came to this country with his father when only eight years of age. His father was the late Giles Webber. Until he was twenty-four years of age, he lived in the city afterwards taking up residence at "Stonehedge" North Monaghan, where he abode up to the time of his death. He engaged in the cattle business for a considerable number of years, being very successful in all of his business transactions. His dealings in the business world, were marked by the same honorable and sterling qualities, as have always been exhibited in his private life. After amassing considerable wealth, he retired, and has since lived a quiet and undisturbed life at his residence, North Monaghan He was distinguished by charitable qualities, almost to a fault, and to everyone with whom he came in contact, he extended a loving hospitality.

It was his exhibition of the latter characteristics, that won for him much of the esteem and regard with which he was held.

Left to mourn his death are two sons, Harry G. Webber and Frank both residing at home, one daughter Mrs. Horace C. Wright, of Martinsburg, West Virginia, and one sister, Mrs. H. McClennan, 326 Charlotte st.

The funeral will leave the late residence on Saturday afternoon, at two thirty, to Little Lake cemetery. Service at the house at two o'clock.

BERLIN WILL HOLD FRANCHISE

Special to the Review.

Berlin, May 23.—Owner H. Williams, of the Berlin Canadian League team, has received offers from St. Catharines and Kingston for the transfer of the Berlin franchise. He will take no action till the council meets to-night. It is believed the council will take steps to render the transfer unnecessary.

Italian Shot Compatriot.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 23.—Because Ralph Marabello refused to pay $1.50 alleged to be due him, Vincenzo Salurio shot and seriously injured him while on his way to work yesterday. Scores of men on their way to work witnessed the shooting. The bullet lodged in the victim's head.

The assailant was arrested immediately.

Titanic Knew of Danger.

London, May 23.—That the iceberg with which the Titanic collided was one of those of which she had warnings from other ships is the conclusion reached by the Board of Trade enquiry after a careful examination of the wireless telegrams passed to and from the steamer on the day of the disaster, and hearing the evidence of the third, fourth and fifth officers.

During Officer Boxhall's examination the Solicitor-General, Sir John Simon, went at some length into the wireless despatches in regard to ice received by the Titanic, information which it was his duty to mark on the chart.

Boxhall could not remember all the wireless despatches received, but the Solicitor-General said from those of which they already had evidence, and others to be produced, it was plain the warnings received from the Baltic, the Ameriga, the Californian and the Caronia, all related to icebergs in the oblong space where the Titanic met her fate.

Hot Politics In Hungary.

Budapest, May 23.—The Socialist Union, at a prolonged meeting last night, resolved to proclaim a strike of all unionist workers in Budapest, with the exception of municipal employes, as a protest against the election of Count Tisza yesterday as president of the Lower House, in succession to L. Navay, who resigned his chair in consequence of party troubles.

Count Tisza is an opponent of universal suffrage and was elected only after a stormy scene. All the inkpots and other articles that could be removed from the chamber before the voting began. Free fighting occurred around the voting urn and finally the whole party left the chamber, and Tisza was elected by the Government party.

Extensive police and military precautions have been taken against disorders.

Russian Ambassador Dead.

Monte Carlo, May 23.—Count Nicolai Dmitrijevitch Von Der Osten-Sacken, Russian ambassador to Germany, and dean of the diplomatic corps in Berlin, died here yesterday in his 82nd year.

FEDERALS ATTACK.

Big Battle With the Mexican Rebels Is Now In Progress.

Rellano, May 23.—The main columns of the rebels fortified here were attacked by the federals under Gen. Rabago. The fighting is still in progress.

Gen. Orozco came down from Jiminez to take personal charge just before the federals attacked at four o'clock. Gen. Salazar was in command of the first rebel line. The federal commands of Gens. Trucy, Aubert, Rebago and Tellez, and Cols. Villa and Urbania are engaged. The federal force is estimated at 3,000, and the rebels at 4,000, with the advantage in fortified positions being in favor of the insurrectos.

While the federal artillery poured shell after shell into the rebel's positions, rebel cavalry moved to one side in a flank movement, at the same time pouring a heavy fire into the federal columns.

Casualties up to eight o'clock last night were few. There is every prospect that the battle, which has been so long awaited, will be decided tonight. There was no change in positions at night fall. The infantry fire after dark was desultory, but that of the federal artillery was almost continuous.

"YOU'LL SUFFER ALL YOUR LIFE"

That's what the Doctor told him

"Fruit-a-tives Cured Him

CHESTERVILLE, ONT., Jan. 25th 1911

"For over twenty years, I have been troubled with Kidney Disease, and the doctors told me they could do me no good, and that I would be a sufferer for the rest of my life.

I doctored with different medical men and tried many advertised remedies, but none of them suited my case.

Nearly a year ago, I tried "Fruit-a-tives". I have been using this fruit medicine nearly all the time since, and am glad to say that I am cured.

I give "Fruit-a-tives" the credit of doing what the doctors said was impossible.

I am now seventy-six years old, and in first class health"

GEO. W. BARKLEY.

In all the world, there is no other remedy that has cured so many cases of so-called "incurable" kidney disease, as "Fruit-a-tives".

This famous fruit medicine acts directly on the kidneys—healing and strengthening them—and ridding the system of the waste matter that poisons the blood.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

CONROY-CARVETH NUPTIALS

St. Peter's Cathedral was the scene of an exceptionally pretty wedding this morning, when Miss Marion Carveth, daughter of Mr. Henry Carveth 320 Charlotte street, and Mr. Francis Conroy, son of Mr. David Conroy East City, were united in marriage. The ceremony took place at nine o'clock, the Rev. Father McColl officiating.

The bride looked charming in a beautiful white satin dress and entrain, trimmed with pearls and Irish pointe, wearing a white embroidered bridal veil. She carried a large bouquet of white roses and lilies-of the-valley, and was given away by her father.

Miss Veronica Carveth, carrying a bouquet of pink bridal roses, and maiden hair fern, acted as bridesmaid She was charmingly attired in a becoming white voile dress.

Mr. Herb Conroy, brother of the groom was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Conroy left this afternoon on the 4.28 train for Toronto and American cities, including New York. The bride travelled in an attractive suit of tan serge, wearing a large black picture hat, trimmed with generous tan willow plumes.

NEWSY NOTES ON SUMMER FAIR

Judging by the following announcement being made below by the ladies in charge of the theatre at the Summer Fair, there will be something interesting put on in that department every evening. Mrs. W. J. Hopwood has been very successful in securing some excellent talent for the different performances.

On Monday evening, Mr. Gliddon has arranged for a repetition of the most enjoyable entertainment that was given at the Conservatory last week under the direction of Miss Choate, Miss Dean and himself. This will be a popular announcement, as many would like to see Mother Goose and her children, and The Teddy Bears perform.

On Wednesday evening, the members of the St. George's Choral Society will contribute several numbers in the Cafe Chantant. There will be solos, duets, quartettes and choruses, and the whole program promises to be one of especial interest.

Wednesday evening, eight young ladies, who have been carefully trained by Mrs. Travers will give a short one act comedy. Miss Helen Davidson and Mr. Gerald Rackham are appearing in a farce entitled "A Pair of Lunatics." These are both very laughable sketches and they should not be missed.

Thursday evening, the George St. choir, under the leadership of Mr. J. H. Renwick, will furnish the musical part of the program. Some very interesting numbers have been prepared and a musical treat is assured.

Friday evening, there will be a repetition of the Minstrel Show, put on recently under the direction of Mr. R. M. Beach. Those who enjoyed this evening's entertainment, when it was given at the Opera House a little while ago, will be pleased to know that it is to be repeated. The minstrels may be sure of a record house on Friday evening.

Saturday night, the young ladies under the direction of Mrs. Travers, and also the skit by Miss Davidson and Mr. Rackham will be repeated There will be also, vocal and instrumental numbers by the best talent available in Peterborough. This should prove a drawing card for Saturday night.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

Some Improvements to King Edward Park and Waterworks

Mr. Frank Wise, superintendent of the Little Lake Cemetery has been a rather busy official this spring, his services being in much demand in the matter of making improvements to various spots in the city. One of these places is the new Peterborough Water Works locality where considerable planting has been done in preparation for the future, the Water Commissioners feeling that in the years to come this place may be used as a park and beauty spot. Mr Wise was therefore engaged to plant one hundred elms in all, some being installed in clumps, and the remainder in a row around the outskirts of the grounds surrounding the building.

The effect of the trees will not, however, be very prominent this summer, but in ten or fifteen years the vicinity is expected to present a very effective and park-like appearance, besides setting off the water works building to advantage.

Three elm trees are being removed from the pathway in Central Park out of the way of the route of the new concrete sidewalk which is to be built across the park. The trees will be removed farther over in the park and replanted.

At the King Edward Park in the southern part of the city, all the tree planting has been completed. The grounds are being ploughed in preparation for grading except one section which has already been graded. The trees in this park will have assumed sufficient growth by the summer to present a very pretty sight, and provide a place that will be undoubtedly much appreciated in that portion of the city in the coming summer, and for the future.

ROUND TRIP CARS

The Peterboro' Radial Railway Cars will commence their summer runs to-morrow, May 24th.

SAID GOOD-BYE

Before Mr. A. A. Hainsworth, the new general secretary of the local Y.M.C.A. left Batavia, New York, for Peterborough, he was the guest at a farewell reception tendered him by several Batavia pastors and their wives.

A pleasant social evening was whiled away in which expressions of regret were made in regard to Mr. Hainsworth's departure. Some time was also spent in conversation and in music.

When you are expecting an opportunity it is sure to miss the boat.

An important feature of the Summer Fair will be the High Tea to be served from 5 to 8 p.m. Monday, May 27, and preceding the opening ceremonies. Tickets 25 cts. 2d

IMPROVING THE HOME

MISS LAIRD IS HEAD OF DOMESTIC SCIENCE COLLEGE.

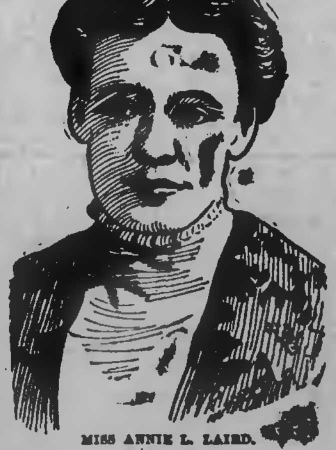
She Started With a Few Classes In Cooking at the Victor Mission In Toronto and Her Work Has Grown Into the Full-Fledged Lillian Massey School of Domestic Science—Works Long Hours.

"Miss Laird, the head of it, is the only person who knows more about the work being done there than any-one else, and has had most to do with its becoming what it is." The speaker was Mrs. Massey-Treble, the woman to whom the University of Toronto is indebted for its new building for the study of domestic science, and her words were in reply to a question as to the plans for the new college.

Miss Laird has for long been a force in the educational world of Toronto. It is more than ten years ago since she came as assistant teacher to the Lillian Massey School of Household Science. The next year she was principal, and has held the position ever since, although after the school's absorption into the university, the title was changed slightly, so that she is now "associate professor." But "what is in a name?" The lady is a Canadian, but her specialized education was received at the Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, since at that time there were no training schools for domestic science in Canada.

This is not the place to dwell on the phenomenal growth of the school which started to teach home cooking to a few classes in the Victor Mission, and ended by having on its roll hundreds of students, some going deep into household science as part of a university course, and others taking only short courses.

The advance has been slow, but steady, and in each step of the upward progress, Miss Laird has been chief counsellor to the founder of the school, and has had a part in all the planning for the beautiful building in Queen's Park. Her time, outside her usual duties, has been given to endless conferences as to the detail of furnishings and equipment. The better to know what were the most up-to-date ideas on the subject, Miss Laird has visited within the last year or two many of the recently-established colleges in the United States, where domestic science is taught, among them being Simmon's College, Boston, and the new Teachers' College, of Columbian University, New York. No slightest detail escaped her notice that could help to realise the ideal held by the generous founder and the faculty.



MISS ANNIE L. LAIRD.

Miss Laird's days are full ones, full as few people's are.

What do you think of a person who, between beginning work at the usual time in the morning and ten o'clock at night, has not a moment to spare for any interest outside? And this is what frequently happens.

Such unusual hours are owing to the peculiar fact that the class taught by a student in household science for practice may be one of boys at the Broadview Y.M.C.A., or for girls or married women at a settlement house in The Ward, or of young ladies at the Y.W.C.A.

It is more than likely to meet in the evening, so the teacher of the student-teacher must needs be present to "observe."

It seems a long day, but when some asked Miss Laird if she did not get "sick and tired" of it, there was no acquiescence.

"It is such fascinating work, I never tire of it. It is always so full of interest."

Of course, if that is a worker's attitude to what engrosses all her time and attention, that work is sure to be a success.

No one could be more calm and unflurried than this busy woman, more modest about what she has accomplished or diffident about speaking of her successes.—Mignon in Toronto Star Weekly.

Scottish Copper Discovery.

What is confidently believed to be a payable copper deposit has been discovered at Killfinan, in Argyllshire, near the shores of Loch Fyne. For some weeks past a company has been energetically prosecuting prospecting operations, and as a result a lode at least six feet thick has been proved for a considerable distance north and south of the point at which it was found. The copper is found in the form of carbonate and sulphide in a limestone formation. Mining operations are to be initiated on a considerable scale without delay.

Chance to Get Even.

"Going to Wombat's wedding over on the north side?"

"Not I. I was engaged to that girl. Wombat cut me out."

"Well, come to the wedding. You may get a chance to biff him in the jaw with an old shoe."

Pleasures of youth are a misfit in old age.

WHITE CAPS OPEN SEASON WITH STRONG BATTING WORK

HOME RUNS BY TROUT AND BEARD

Infield Was Weak in Fielding But Gave Promise of Improvement---St. Thomas Scored in the First But Caps Lead 3-1 in the Third, and Were Beaten Out Despite Heavy Batting Rally---Guelph Here To-morrow for Morning and Afternoon Game.

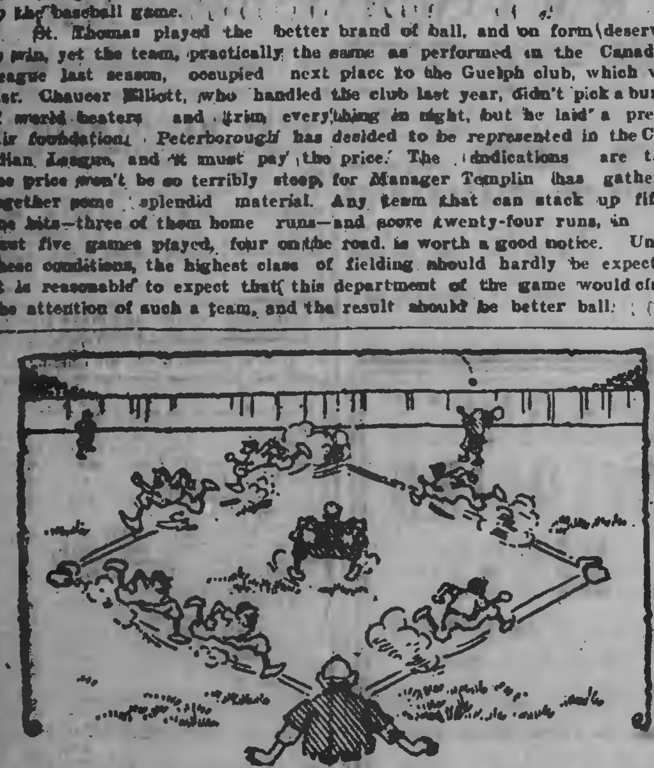
Introducing Mr. Chick Johnson, also his famous Str...!...!...!...!...ke

While a lambasting on your own back yard, it is not a bill-o-fare altogether to be relished, anything is better than an empty stomach.

The score was 9—6, and but for several incidents, which, by the way, go to make up the baseball game, the figures might have read the other way. In fact, the difference might have been noticeable to a greater extent.

The Peterborough White Caps made their debut, likewise St. Thomas, and strange though it may seem, when the fatal seventh had been passed, the White Caps had hit safely on ten occasions, one of the clouts being for a passage home. In that same space of time, the Canadian League leaders waited but five times, yet the figures which talk were three and three, or an even break in runs. Again, in the remaining two innings, the White Caps took three runs and four hits, including another home run, while the visitors gathered seven hits and six runs. Errors were disagreeably interspersed, but again incidents such as these make up the baseball game.

St. Thomas played the better brand of ball, and on form deserved to win, yet the team, practically the same as performed in the Canadian League last season, occupied next place to the Guelph club, which was last. Chaucer Elliott, who handled the club last year, didn't pick a bunch of world beaters and trim everything in sight, but he laid a pretty fair foundation. Peterborough has decided to be represented in the Canadian League, and it must pay the price. The indications are that the price won't be so terribly steep, for Manager Templin has gathered together some splendid material. Any team that can stack up fifty-one hits—three of them home runs—and score twenty-four runs, in the first five games played, four on the road, is worth a good notice. Under these conditions, the highest class of fielding should hardly be expected. It is reasonable to expect that this department of the game would claim the attention of such a team, and the result should be better ball.



Introducing Mr. James Beard in an entirely new sketch, entitled "Over the Fence to the Brewery."

Str!!!!!! like (for about five minutes).

We had with us Mr. Chickering Johnson as official spokesman, and while we didn't have time to converse with His Umps, it was taken for granted that Mr. Johnson began when quite tender in years, the study of baseball elocution. He had a clever teacher, and that teacher a progeny.

As Mr. Johnson escaped with but a few vocal bouquets from young fandom, he must have given satisfaction, or at least as much as an umpire is supposed to give.

There were also several other centres of interest, chief among them being such well known personages as Mr. Burnham, M.P.; Ald. Anderson, Mr. R. G. Patterson, Mr. W. H. Denham and Mr. W. McIlroy, who came over with the parade, led by Bandmaster Glidden and the 57th Regiment band. It was very nice of Col. Clegg to give permission for the band to be present.

The preliminaries, consisted of a grand march past, of the band and the two ball teams, a short speech by Mr. Burnham, and then the burlesque.

Ald. Anderson walked to the pitching box, Mr. Denham secured a hammerlock on the hoodoo willow; Mr. McIlroy, needlessly, as it was afterwards demonstrated, took up the armour of a backstop, while Mr. Patterson officiated as umpire. The impromptu pitcher hurled but twice. The first ball pitched went back to the grandstand and he had one on the batter! The next one, thrown after the manner of a boomerang, hit the outstretched willow of the batsman and ascended, only to fall into the mit of the White Cap third baseman and to the mud below. It was all over and Mr. Johnson proceeded to get busy with his victims.

St. Thomas went into the run column in the getaway. Forgue walked, Gurney sacrificing him and Manager Stewart followed with a double. Wright hit a long fly to centre and Wilde was out, third to first.

Schwartz singled to left, and was sacrificed by Graney. The White Cap left gardener was held to the bag.

Beard grounding out and Templin sent a high fly to centre.

Kopp grounded, Powers struck-out, Kiefel walked, and Turner sent a hard fly to Schwartz.

White Caps went in the lead. Dolan grounded, Tully singled through the pitcher, and was sacrificed by Hartman. Trout brought joy to the hearts of the home brigade by hitting the ball over the left field fence for a home run, chasing in Hartman, Schaeffer grounded.

Without a hit St. Thomas placed a man on third and first, but perfect throws, Trout to Templin and Hart. to Trout, stopped the assault. This was baseball.

White Caps took another run. After Schwartz was retired at first, Graney doubled, Beard flew out to centre, Templin singled and Graney was driven in by Dolan's single to right, Templin taking third, Tully grounded out.

St. Thomas was finding trouble with Schaeffer. The next three were retired in order.

Schaeffer's single to centre was the total of the White Cap's doings.

Ald. Anderson pitched the first ball. Note the motion.

Kiefel was hit, Turner fanned, Forgue walked. Beard took Gurney's fly, Schaeffer covered the bag for the third put out.

White Caps took two singles, but fast infield work by the visitors stopped the runs.

St. Thomas held up the game here Wright singled. Wilde was safe on Tully's fumble and while Templin apparently caught the next drive, and did not throw to first, the runner was declared safe. Powers' sacrifice fly, an error at short and a wide heave to the plate from Dolan did the rest.

Petes looked good to go one better, but Schaeffer hit into a double play and there was nothing doing.

Gurney singled, Stewart was out on third bunt strike. Wright singled over second and Wilde and Kopp fanned.

With two gone, Beard was safe when the St. Thomas third baseman delayed the throw, causing Gurney to drop a hard chance. Templin hit him to second but Dolan sent a long fly to left.

Hartman went back and copped a difficult fly. Kiefel, Turner and Forgue singled in succession and, these with a base on balls and two errors and a double gave the visitors three runs.

St. Thomas added three more, on three hits, two of which were doubles by Stewart and Kopp, and two errors.

Derr batting for Schaeffer, beat out a small chance, Schwartz singled, Graney missed three and Jimmy Beard hit the first pitched ball over the left field fence, clearing the bases. Templin grounded out, Dolan singled and Tully stopped the game on a grounder.

I'M WISE TO THE SIGNALS

Mr. Trout certainly behaved that way

Cheer up! In the season of 1907, Detroit lost the first nineteen games and then won the American League pennant.

St. Thomas had most of the luck on batted balls.

Trout took the first home run and annexed the frame picture of Manager Templin, offered by Gerald McFadden.

Come on Guelph; also some more fine weather.

There were 650 paid admission. The familiar face of Len Dobson greeted the fans at the money exchange.

Turner didn't last an innings against the Petes in St. Thomas.

Jim Schwarts had plenty to do in left garden and his outs took well with the crowd.

Hartman was the only White Cap who failed to get a hit. He tried hard in the eigth but Stewart was on the job, and by the way, that peg o' the St. Thomas manager to third base looked pretty.

A little more infield pratice and then look out.

Two games with Guelph to-morrow morning and afternoon, and one on Saturday. Ottawa comes next.

Forgue, Wright, Gurney and Wilde were the infield for St. Thomas last year.

Beard's homer in the ninth was certainly timely. It meant three runs.

The paths were in wretched condition for fast fielding and it is only fair to excuse some of the slips.

Both pitchers gave an exhibition of in and out twirling.

Everything looked lovely at the end of the third.

LAWN BOWLING

The local lawn bowling season will open at Brookside to-morrow, when Port Hope rinks will be here for morning, afternoon and, in all probability, evening games. The morning games will be called at 9.30 o'clock. Teams such as this will be welcomed by the members of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Association, who spend many happy hours on one of the best greens in Ontario. There will no doubt be a full turnout to-morrow to entertain the Port Hopers.

Steel on the Grand Trunk Pacific Tofield-Calgary branch line has now passed the town of Trochu, situated about midway between these two points. The arrival of the track-laying machine at the town was greeted with public festivities, so much did it signify to the ambitious little town.

Sir Julius Wernher, head of the great De Beers Diamond Syndicate, is dead in London.

Where Are You Going Victoria Day?

A great many people are anxiously looking forward to Victoria Day, for their first summer outing. Fortunately, this year, the holiday falls on Friday, which offers pleasure seekers a three days vacation, with practically no loss of time. The Canadian Pacific Railway will issue return tickets at Single Fare between stations in Canada, East of Port Arthur also to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, N. Y. and Detroit, Mich. Tickets good going May 23rd., and 24th. Return limit May 27th. See that your tickets read via Canadian Pacific Railway.

HE SHOULD MAKE A COMPLAINT

At the meeting of the City Council Monday evening Ald. Morgan told a thrilling story of a street car's narrow escape from destruction at the Water street, north, crossing when a railway train almost ran into the car, missing it only by a few feet. The engineer did not sound his whistle and Ald. Morgan said he would like to know how the by-law advocated by Ald. Gordon would work in case the car had been struck. He intended to ask Ald. Gordon the question, but the latter was in New York.

Ald. Gordon when interviewed last night about Ald. Morgan's enquiry concerning the whistling by-law, said that if Ald. Morgan was correctly reported the railway train was running at an unlawful speed within the city and that in the interests of public safety Ald. Morgan should have laid a charge in the police court against the G.T.R.

Ald. Gordon stated that any city that had an ambition to get beyond the village stage refused to allow locomotives to make night hideous with whistling in the city limits. Of course it it appears that there is any danger, the engineer has a right to blow his whistle. According to Ald. Gordon, who fathered this by-law, about 800 families in this city are affected by the whistling of locomotives, and the nuisance became so serious on Bethune street and in the South Ward that it was almost unbearable to the citizens living in that district.

HYDRO ELECTRIC SITUATION
SURVEY HAS BEEN MADE
AS REGARDS PETERBORO

The Hydro-Electric situation in Peterborough at the present time has reached the stage when definite steps leading towards its introduction here may be looked for almost any day.

The Hydro-Electric engineers from the Government have visited the city, and looked over the situation thoroughly, making a careful survey and study of conditions, but divulging nothing. Since then no word has been received by the city. The Ontario House promised that definite action would be taken by June 1st at the very latest. In conversation with, Mayor Bradburn this morning the Review was informed that all that the council is waiting for now is the receipt of the Hydro Commission's quotation of the amount of money they will require in return for supplying power for the city to generate, and also the amount of power which the Commission will guarantee to supply. When these two necessary pieces of information are to hand the city can immediately proceed with the submitting of a by-law to raise the money. Asked whether he considered any opposition would be encountered to the by-law the Mayor was of the opinion that the people would promptly recognize that it was to their direct interests and that it would unquestionably be to the benefit of the ratepayers.

He felt that the by-law would pass by a large majority.

Before hydro-electric can be properly transmitted in Peterborough the Mayor was of the opinion that the present wiring on George street at least would have to be either renewed completely or repaired and improved. The present wiring is almost a disgrace to the thoroughfare.

Mayor Bradburn could see no reason why a discount similar to what has been declared in Galt and other cities could not be secured in Peterborough after the hydro power has been in operation.

It simply means that the more users of the power can be secured, the more readily will it be possible to reduce the cost of the power.

WET WEATHER HELD BACK THE BYERSVILLE LINE

In an interview this morning with Mr. W. H. Munro, the Review learned that the recent heavy rainfall has interfered greatly with the operations of the company in laying the new track to Byersville.

The work has, in fact, been at a standstill since the rain commenced to fall, and to-day is the first opportunity the men have had to resume operations.

Asked how the new P.A.Y.E. street cars were working Mr. Munro stated that everything seemed to be satisfactory and no complaints were being received. The people are rapidly conforming to the necessities of the innovation.

As far as the Central Ontario Water Conservation Association is concerned nothing of particular import has so far developed. It is understood that a Government engineer is looking over the waterways in the back country and along the Trent Valley route with the intention of making a report to the Government on the possibilities of effecting a conservation of the waters in the above system.

A LETTER OF APPRECIATION TO SERGEANT'S MESS

The following letter has been sent by Mrs. E. B. Clegg, Regent of the local Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, on behalf of the Chapter, to the secretary of the Sergeants' Mess, 57th Regiment:

Peterborough, May 22nd, 1912.
The President, Sergeants' Mess, 57th Regiment:

Dear Sir,—I wish more fully than was possible Tuesday night, on behalf of the 57th Regt. Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, to extend to you our sincere thanks and the expression of our keen appreciation of the great kindness you have shown us in presenting our Chapter with so beautiful a flag.

The Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire have adopted the Union Jack as their standard, and it is one of the main objects of the order to try to instill into the hearts and minds of the people of Canada and the Empire as a whole (for our work is Empire wide), a greater love and respect for our national flag, a greater pride in the grand traditions that are associated with it, and a fuller appreciation of the liberties and freedom that are ours, who are privileged to live under its protecting folds.

I am sure that it is the wish of every member of the 57th Regiment Chapter that our work may be of assistance to the Regiment, and an encouragement to all ranks, and that so long as this flag lasts you may be proud and pleased in the remembrance of this presentation, as we shall be always grateful. Allow me again on behalf of the Chapter to thank you.

Faithfully yours,
H. L. CLEGG.

SPRINGVILLE NEWS

Special Correspondence.

Springville, May 22.—Mr. and Mrs. T. McConnell, Omemee, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clarke over Sunday.

Mr. John Marsh spent the week-end with his parents.

Mr. Frank Ballentine spent the week-end in Peterborough with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnston are home from Toronto spending holidays with their parents.

Mr. Rolie Atchison spent Sunday with his father, Mr. Geo. Atchison.

Miss Lillie Reynolds spent the week-end at her home here.

Quite a number of our young people attended church at Frazerville and listened to an excellent sermon delivered by Rev. Mr. White. We are sure that all who heard the sermon appreciated the way in which some very difficult passages were made clear to all.

Miss Mercy Bapty has returned home after a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Milburn, Smith.

We wonder:—

For whom Marie has planted the roses

If Lloyd will enter his driver at the Cobourg races after Sunday night.

Why Harry walked to church Sunday night.

If the gate was wired when Harold was coming home.

FRASERVILLE NEWS

Special Correspondence.

Fraserville, May 22.—We were pleased to see such a large crowd at Fraserville church on Sunday evening last.

It is too bad that the farmers are kept back from finishing their spring work by the large quantity of rain which has fallen during the last few days.

The duet which was given in church last Sunday evening was much enjoyed by the congregation.

The adult Bible class, which was recently organized in the Fraserville Sunday school, is meeting with great success.

On Sunday morning last the president, Miss Janet Waterman, took charge of the class and every one enjoyed the service.

On Sunday next, May 26th, will be Missionary Sunday, when Miss Louise Finlay will give a paper on missionary work in the Sunday school at 1.30 o'clock. Everyone invited.

VICE-PRESIDENT E. J. CHAMBERLAIN CHOSEN FOR VACANT PLACE

He Will Succeed Hays as President of the G.T.R.

Chairman Smithers of the Board of Directors Announces the Appointment of First Vice-President to the Position of Head of the System—Wainwright Moves Up a Step to Take Mr. Chamberlain's Place.

Montreal, May 25.—Announcement was yesterday made by Chairman Alfred W. Smithers of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways, that the vacancies caused by the death of the late Charles M. Hays had been filled. The announcement was couched in the following official statement:

"Mr. E. J. Chamberlain, vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co., has been appointed president of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Companies, to succeed the late Mr. Charles M. Hays. Mr. Chamberlain has also been elected a member of Grand Trunk board in place of Mr. Hays.

"Mr. Wm. Wainwright, second vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway, has been elected first vice-president of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. Mr. M. M. Reynolds has been elected a director of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and second vice-president."

This decision was reached at a meeting of the Grand Trunk directors yesterday morning.

Mr. Smithers was asked if any action would be taken shortly to appoint a general manager for the Grand Trunk Pacific, the newly-elected president having held the dual position of vice-president and general manager, but Mr. Smithers, while replying that the matter would, of course be taken up later on, did not commit himself to any further statement.

He will leave Montreal about June 8, returning the beginning of August. He also stated that no statement concerning the companies' plans in the matter of steamships on the Atlantic or Pacific could be expected for some time.

RUNAWAY AUTO KILLED YOUNG GIRL

Toronto, May 25.—One young woman dead, another severely injured and four men and a boy in a more or less serious physical condition, is the toll caused from a motor car driven by Philip Kaufmann crashing over Queen street at the southwest corner of John street at 2.15 yesterday afternoon. Leaping into an eight-foot deep building excavation at this corner the machine carried with it two women who were walking past on the sidewalk at the time and the occupants of the car. It buried two beneath it after turning over on its side. The dead woman, Miss Lilian Stein, 323 West Queen street, and 25 years old, was on her way to the theatre with a friend, Miss Jennie Weinstein of 36 Sullivan street, when the car swept them from the pavement. The occupants of the car were Sol and Josiah Kaplan, sons of Rabbi Kaplan, 166 John street, and the driver, Philip Kaufmann. None of these were seriously injured although all were bruised and suffered from hysteria. The driver escaped almost unhurt but was in a serious nervous state. He was arrested on a charge of manslaughter so soon as word of Miss Stein's death was received at police headquarters. The machine has been confiscated. This was done to eliminate the possibility of a recurrence of conditions as in the Brintnell case of some time ago when, after an auto accident, the machine was fixed before it had been examined as evidence.

FAR NORTH LAND WANTS WIRELESS

Ottawa, May 25.—That the distant northern and western wilderness may be placed in almost immediate communication with Ottawa is something more than a probability, it is said. The author of the scheme is C. A. Magrath of the Canadian section of the International Waterways Commission. The proposal, if carried out, as seems likely, will mean the thorough exploration of the great unorganized territories of Canada with every step reported to and recorded at a central office by means of wireless telegraphy.

The plan as outlined would involve the establishment of wireless stations at various points in the far north and east. To these stations exploring parties would report and all information of importance would be communicated at once by wireless to the central bureau. A map has been prepared showing proposed stations at Cape Chudleigh and Charles Island on the north edge of Ungava, 1,100 and 1,700 miles from Ottawa respectively; at Lake Garry, 1,700 miles; Norman, on the Mackenzie, 2,300 miles, and Fort Resolution on Great Slave Lake, 1,830 miles. The scheme has been encouraged by the Royal Society and other bodies and individuals.

Held International Cockfight.

Brockville, May 25.—Sports gathered in large numbers at Old Man's Island yesterday to witness a cockfight between Brockville, Kingston, Gananoque and Ogdensburg birds. Several battles were fought without the slightest molestation. The island is situated in American waters on the St. Lawrence, directly opposite Brockville, which precluded the local police from interfering.

Expert to Select Drydock Site.

Ottawa, May 25.—Morris F. G. Wilson, an eminent English authority on drydock construction, arrived in Ottawa Thursday and will act for the Government in the selection of a suitable site for the proposed Quebec drydock. Mr. Wilson has a wide experience in regard to the building of drydocks in England and in other parts of the world.

HE IS DEAD IN LONDON

Special to the Review.

London, May 25.—Sir Edward Sassoon, bart, an intimate friend of the late King Edward, died at his London residence yesterday afternoon after along illness, aged 55 years. He was a descendant of the great Jewish family famous for its many benefactions to Bombay.

NEW STORE OPENS MONDAY

The store lately vacated by Huff, special tailors, situated No. 325 George street, near corner Charlotte, will be opened on Monday next as an exclusive men's wear store.

The formal opening will take place a week from to-day, on June first.

The store has undergone a complete change in its interior within the last two weeks. The most of the furniture and fixings are being supplied and installed by the Peterborough Show case Company, and it is intended when completed to be the most modern and up-to-date men's wear store in the city.

Mr. Neil C. Cameron is the new proprietor, and is not a complete stranger by any means, as he has spent four years here, making Peterborough his headquarters while travelling in Eastern Ontario.

Mr. Cameron has had considerable experience in high class merchandising within the last few years. He has also associated with himself the services of Mr. E. J. Bensted, who has had twelve years' London, England, experience, as well as two years on the American side. This is sufficient proof that these men are thoroughly acquainted with English, American and Canadian goods, and should make a success of their undertaking.

The new store will be open all next week.

OTTAWA YOUTH LOSES HIS HAND

Special to the Review.

Ottawa, May 25.—Hector Fausher, a lad residing in Eastview, a suburb of Ottawa, had his hand blown off last night by a cannon cracker while assisting in the Empire Day celebration.

KENTUCKY TOWN'S HEAVY LOSS

Special to the Review.

Lebanon Junction, Ky., May 25.—The business section of Lebanon Junction was wiped out by fire last night entailing a loss of $250,000. A special train brought apparatus from Louisville thirty miles away, but the fire had burned itself out before the arrival of help.

TITANIC WAIFS HAPPY IN MOTHER'S FOND EMBRACE.

MOTHER AND WAIFS FROM THE TITANIC REUNITED

Eager and expectant, Mme. Navratil, mother of Louis and Lolo, the "waifs of the Titanic," arrived in New York from France to claim the curly haired, laughing and happy youngsters whom she has not seen in months.

The reunion of the mother and her two sons is, perhaps, the only happy outcome of the greatest marine disaster in the history of ocean travel.

CANADIAN WOMEN TAKE THE GOLDEN RULE FOR THEIR SLOGAN

National Council Opens Its Convention in London.

First Day Is Taken Up With Committee Meetings Preparatory to Main Business of the Session—Many and Varied Are the Subjects That Will Come Up for Discussion — Gifts From Lady Aberdeen.

London, May 25.—The Normal School yesterday morning was alive with the officers and delegates of the National Council of Women of Canada, who are holding committee meetings prior to taking up the work of larger scope.

Above the platform on a white ground rises a shield with the motto of the council: "Do unto others as you would they should do unto you," outlined in immortelles of light blue and purple. The whole is wreathed in evergreens, the finishing touch being given by a handsome knot and streamers of satin ribbon, also in blue and purple, the colors of the council.

The day was given over for the most part to meetings of standing committees. It is through these committees that the work of the council is largely accomplished. The woman most interested in the special work of a certain committee is appointed convenor and it is the mission of herself and those associated with her to gather and spread information regarding the subject in which they are interested. Committees meet and discuss in separate rooms, but the results arrived at will be given to the public when the regular open meetings scheduled in the agenda take place.

The Duchess of Connaught, honorary president of the council, is expected on Wednesday. A message was also read from Lady Aberdeen, first president of the council in Canada. "His excellency and myself," said the message, "wish we could fly across the ocean to be with you."

Lady Aberdeen requested that a little bouquet be given each delegate as a souvenir of her continued interest.

The welcome of Mrs. Boomer was replied to by Mrs. Bullock of St. John, N.B.

At the conclusion of the addresses, the mayor invited all present to refreshments served in another part of the building. A fine orchestra was in attendance and the reception was a most auspicious and cordial beginning for the work the council has in hand.

The committees in session yesterday were those on vacation schools and supervised playgrounds, peace and arbitration, agriculture for women, laws for the better protection of women and children, public health, the custodial care of feeble-minded women, education, the suppression of objectionable printed matter, citizenship, employments for women, immigration, suppression of the white slave traffic, care of the dependent poor, and the press and advertising committees. This covers a wide field but it practically epitomizes the greater part of the work of the council.

Twenty-five thousand of the women of Canada, members of affiliated societies, are represented by the delegates present, and it goes without saying that those selected as representatives are the cream of the intellect of our country.

The council is an outcome of a meeting held in Washington, U.S., five years before the World's Fair at Chicago. At the great exposition a second gathering at which twenty nations were represented took place. The outcome of this was the establishment of the council in many countries of the world. A provisional vice-president, the late Mrs. McDonald of Toronto, and a provisional secretary, Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, were appointed for Canada, and Lady Aberdeen gave the necessary impetus to the movement by consenting to become its first president.

The National Council of Canada is now composed of the following councils: Toronto, London, Hamilton, Montreal, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Kingston, St. John, Halifax, West Algoma, Victoria and Vancouver Island, Vancouver City, Regina, Vernon, Brandon, Nelson, New Westminster, East Pictou, Lindsay, Ingersoll, Renfrew, Walkerton, Chapleau, Sudbury, and Copper Cliff.

Mrs. Torrington of Toronto, president of the National Council, will preside at the general meeting, and Mrs. Cummings, who has been associated with the movement as secretary for eighteen years, is recognized as the best informed woman present on all that concerns the technicalities of council work.

LONDON STRIKE IS GROWING

Special to the Review.

London, May 25.—A large number of carmen augumented the ranks of the striking transport workers today and it is calculated that one hundred and twenty thousand men have now ceased work. Friction threatens, owing to the attempts of employers to have clerks do work hitherto done by strikers but no disorder has occurred yet.

MEXICAN REBELS DRIVEN BACK

Mexico, May 25.—Again Gen. Orozco's army retreated before the artillery fire of Gen. Huerta commanding the Government troops. As at Conejas, a week ago, the rebels were unable to withstand the hail of shells that poured into their ranks, and retired north from Rellano, this town, which several weeks ago was the scene of a rebel victory.

For nearly twenty-four hours the two main forces of the Government and rebel troops were engaged.

The losses could not be estimated, but casualties will be numerous on both sides. Even in the darkness the federals persisted in their artillery fire. Gen. Orozco was himself weakened by bursting shells. The night attack was a surprise.

Aviator Wright May Recover.

Dayton, Ohio, May 25.—The condition of Wilbur Wright is slightly improved and attending physicians are hopeful that the improvement will continue. The inventor has regained consciousness and is able to recognize and speak to members of his family, all of whom are at his bedside.

PARENTS STEAL THEIR DAUGHTER

Special to the Review.

Kingston, May 25.—It is alleged that by giving a fake story to one of the nurses while the doctor in charge of the ward was absent, Louis Mountnay and his wife, of Belleville, succeeded in getting their daughter, Mrs. Jane Brewer, also of Belleville, out of Rockwood Asylum this morning but were rounded up at the station while awaiting the train for Belleville. The father threatened one of the asylum attendants if he laid hands on the daughter at the station, but when the police arrived the latter was returned to the asylum and the parents proceeded to Belleville. It is claimed the couple told the nurse that the doctor had given them permission to take their daughter home on a month's trial and the nurse, believing the story, permitted them to take her away.

HAMILTON BOYS WERE DROWNED

Special to the Review.

Hamilton, May 25.—Erie and Arey Simons, aged 10 and 12 years, were drowned in Lake Ontario, off Dynes' Hotel, at the beach shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon by the capsizing of a canoe. They went down in the cold water before help could reach them.

SUNDAY GAMES ARE BARRED

Special to the Review.

Quebec, May 25.—Entrance fees cannot be collected for games in Quebec on Sunday. This was made plain by the Civic By-law Committee which refused the request of local sportsmen who sought to charge a fee.

HEAVY LOSS BY MORNING FIRE

Special to the Review.

Perth Amboy, N. J., May 25.—The plant of Didner & Marchamp, manufacturers of gas retorts and chemical vessels at Weber, near here, was wiped out by fire about midnight. The loss is half a million, and seven hundred men are thrown out of work.

NEGRO BURNED FOR ASSAULT

Special to the Review.

Tyler, Tex., May 25.—Dan Davis, a negro, was burned to death here this morning after confessing to an assault on Miss Carrie Johnson, a white woman, one week ago. Two thousand people participated in the lynching.

To Feed the Hungry

The Park street Baptist church Ladies' Aid, and the Men's Helping Hand Bible class have secured the lot next to the Customs House, and having rented a large tent from J. J. Turner and Sons, will help feed the hungry Orangemen who will be in the city for the coming 12th of July. Arrangements are now under way.

Sikh Women May Remain.

Ottawa, May 25.—The wives of the two Sikhs who were detained at Vancouver for deportation because they had violated the immigration act and whose case has been under consideration by the Government and before the courts for several months, will be allowed to remain in Canada.

This has been decided upon by Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of the Interior, as an act of grace and as the husbands of these women are now in Canada, but without establishing a precedent. In view of this decision all proceedings will be dropped.

CANADA TRAIN IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, May 25.—The most striking welcome those in charge of the "Made in Canada" train have received so far was given last night when four hundred representative Winnipeg citizens gave a banquet in the Industrial Bureau, the elaborate menu card containing only "Made In Canada" products. W. J. Bullman presided.

Ald. Wallace extended a civic welcome, seconded by W. Sanford Evans, T. A. Russell, chairman of the Canadian Home Market Association, H. D. Scully, manager of the train, and T. H. Race, lecturer, replied to the various toasts.

British Liberal Elected.

London, May 25.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The South Mackey bye-election caused by the retirement of Horation Bottomly, resulted in the return of a Liberal, H. Morrison, who secured 5,339 votes against 4,836 for W. C. Gibson, Unionist.

Horatio Bottomly, who sat in the House of Commons as an independent, gave up his seat as the result of heavy damages being found against him in a suit brought by the estate of a retired Government official. Bottomley is the editor of "John Bull."

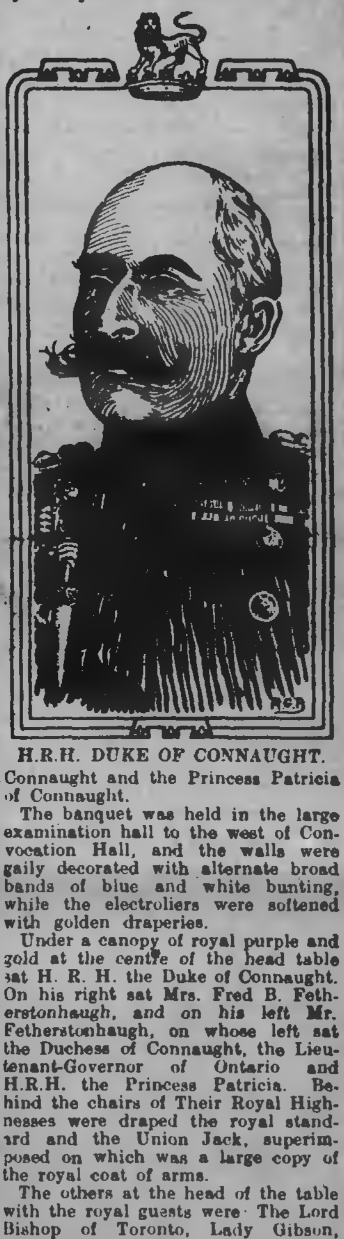
HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS AND FAMILY ATTEND EMPIRE DAY BANQUET

Duke and Duchess and Princess Are Guests of Honor.

Gorgeous Function at Toronto Marks First Dinner of Empire Club of That City — His Royal Highness Expresses Great Hope For Canada as Part of a United Empire—Many Notables Present.

Toronto, May 25.—Rarely, if ever, in Toronto has such a distinguished assemblage gathered around the festive board to celebrate a day of national thanksgiving, of national remembrance and of imperial aspirations, as that which graced Convocation Hall last evening at the first annual Empire Day dinner of the Empire Club of Canada.

On the day forever sacred to the memory of "Victoria the Good" her illustrious son, Arthur, Duke of Connaught and Strathearn, Canada's royal Governor-General, joined with those foremost in the political and social life of Canada in a speech brimming with optimism for the future greatness of this Dominion and of confidence in her playing a worthy part in the upbuilding and defence of the Empire of which she is proud to form a part. Not only was the duke present as guest of honor, but added eclat was given to the occasion by the presence of the Duchess of Connaught and the Princess Patricia of Connaught.



H.R.H. DUKE OF CONNAUGHT.

The banquet was held in the large examination hall to the west of Convocation Hall, and the walls were gaily decorated with alternate broad bands of blue and white bunting, while the electroliers were softened with golden draperies.

Under a canopy of royal purple and gold at the centre of the head table sat H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught. On his right sat Mrs. Fred B. Fetherstonhaugh, and on his left Mr. Fetherstonhaugh, on whose left sat the Duchess of Connaught, the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario and H.R.H. the Princess Patricia. Behind the chairs of Their Royal Highnesses were draped the royal standard and the Union Jack, superimposed on which was a large copy of the royal coat of arms.

The others at the head of the table with the royal guests were The Lord Bishop of Toronto, Lady Gibson, Hon. W. T. White, Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes, Mrs. J. F. Sweeny, Hon. Robert Jaffray, Mrs. Sam Hughes, Col. Sir Henry Pellatt, A.D.C., Lady Pellatt, Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., Mrs. Riddell, Mayor Geary, Lady Walker, Col. G. T. Denison, President Falconer, Mrs. Falconer, Mrs. Wallace Nesbitt, Hon. Mr. Justice Riddell, Mrs. Geary, Mrs. Meredith, D. J. Goggin, M.A., D.C.L., Sir Edmund Walker, Mrs. Denison, Gen. Cotton, Mrs. N. W. Rowell, Hon. F. H. Phippen, K.C., Mrs. Clark, J. J. Small, K.C., Mrs. Cotton, Sir Wm. Mackenzie, Mrs. W. T. White, N. W. Rowell, M.P.P., Mrs. Phippen, Lieut.-Col. Hendrie.

The toast to His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, was proposed by F. B. Featherstonhaugh, K.C., president of the Empire Club.

His royal highness in rising to reply was greeted with prolonged cheering, all present rising and waving their serviettes enthusiastically.

"I thank you most warmly," said his royal highness, "for the manner in which you have received my health and especially for the kind allusions you have made to the duchess and to my daughter.

"Having now for eight months had the honor of being His Majesty's representative in this great Dominion, I would like to take this opportunity of telling you how deeply interested I am in all important questions affecting Canada, and how I rejoice at the great prosperity at present existing throughout all portions of this vast country.

"My one wish is to be able to aid in every way in my power the best interests and the soundest projects in the many spheres of activity throughout the provinces of the Dominion.

"It is my earnest hope and belief that during the time of my Governor-Generalship this progress will steadily continue, and every advantage will be taken of the great advance in science, which makes many matters possible which would have been despaired of in earlier days.

"I congratulate Canada on the number of good class emigrants who are coming into this country, whose presence will greatly aid in developing the great resources with which nature has provided you.

"On this great anniversary dedicated to the memory of that gracious and glorious sovereign, under whose reign the British Empire made such vast strides, one's thoughts naturally turn to the significance and meaning which the word 'empire' has for ourselves. Probably never in our time have the thoughts of those who are building it up been so deeply centred on the problems which we have to face.

"For Canada those problems have the deepest significance from the prominent position she so rightly holds amongst the great self-governing dominions of the Empire.

"May the various races who have built up the Dominion be strong and loyal to themselves, and above all may the unity of Canada be the foremost wish of all its people, and of those who are called on to direct its destinies.

"I feel convinced that if Canada is true to herself she will be true to the empire, of which all Canadians, of whatever station in life, are equal members, and in whose integrity all are equally interested.

"Never let us forget that the British Empire has always been foremost in promoting the liberties of its populations, while at the same time maintaining those traditions which have made its past so glorious.

"I am sure that in no portion of the Empire is there more loyalty and devotion to our gracious sovereign than in Canada, and nowhere in the Empire will there ever be a stronger sense of the duty we owe to the flag under which it is our privilege to live."

HOLIDAY CROWD AT WOODBINE

Toronto, May 25.—A tremendous holiday crowd witnessed yesterday's racing at Woodbine. Flying Yankee and Brawny were the victims of incompetent handling by Jockeys Hopkins and Sweeney in the first and second races. Priscillian won his race all the way, though McTaggart nearly tossed it away by fouling Ben Loyal on the turn out of the back stretch. Lady Irma took the measure of Rye Straw and Union Jack. Idle Michael won the jumping race through the soggy field, the Seagram's Loamedon being the only horse to fall.

First race—Strathcona Purse, one mile, purse $500, for maiden three- and four-year-olds—1st, Elwah; 2nd, Stalmore; 3rd, Flying Yankee. Time, 1.43 3-5.

Second race—Victoria Stakes, five furlongs, purse $1,000, for two-year-olds—1st, Monocacy; 2nd, Little Hugh; 3rd, Spring Maid. Time, 1.02.

Third race—Prince of Wales Handicap, six furlongs, purse $1,000, for three-year-olds and up, handicap—1st, Priscillian; 2nd, Knights Differ; 3rd, Caugh Hill. Time, 1.14 3-5.

Fourth race—Purse $500, 5 1-2 furlongs, for three-year-olds and up, selling—1st, Lady Irma; 2nd, Rye Straw; 3rd, Union Jack. Time, 1.09.

Fifth race—About two miles, purse $800, Tally-Ho Steeplechase, 15 jumps for four-year-olds and up, selling—1st, Idle Michael; 2nd, New Comer; 3rd, Joe Lett. Time, 4.49.

Sixth race—Cobourg Purse, 1 1-16 miles, purse $500, for three-year-old and up, selling—1st, Supervisor; 2nd, Scrimmage; 3rd, Servicence. Time, 1.49.

Seventh race—Six furlongs, Gateside Purse, purse $500, for three-year-old and up, maidens, Canadian foals—1st, Tropaeolum; 2nd, Le d'Or; 3rd, Philis. Time, 1.16 3-5.

MORE OFFICIALS TO BE DROPPED

Ottawa, May 25.—The report of the commission headed by Hon. Dr. Sproule, which has been investigating certain charges against the conduct of officials of the House of Commons' staff, was placed in the hands of Premier Borden Thursday.

While the substance of the report has not been made public, it is understood that it recommends the dismissal of at least one prominent official, and that other drastic reforms are advised.

During the investigation, which was conducted under oath, some rather startling revelations were made, say the investigators. Acute differences along religious lines between the officials of one of the most important departments, according to the evidence, reached such a pitch at one period that two of the men had applied for permission to carry firearms, with which "to protect themselves."

John W. Taudvin Dead.

Kingston, May 25.—After a lengthy illness, the death occurred of John W. Taudvin, aged 43. He was for many years provincial fishery inspector and had lived here twenty years, coming from Prescott in his younger days. He was formerly a celebrated athlete and lacrosse player and was a prominent Forester and Oddfellow. He is survived by a wife, but no family.

HORSE'S LEG SWELLED

Animal Was Too Sore and Lame to Work—Quickly Cured by "Nerviline."

"I have had a long experience in treating horses, and I can safely say that I know of no liniment for strains, sprains, and swelling that is so useful around the stable as Nerviline." Thus writes Mr. Joshua R. Murchison, from his home, Crofts Hill P. O. I had a fine young mare that wrenched her right fore leg, and from the shoulder down she was stiff, sore, and swollen. I applied Nerviline, and it worked like a charm; in fact, that mare was in shape to work a day after I used Nerviline.

Nerviline is a Trusty Liniment

"We have used Nerviline on our farm for twenty-five years and never found it wanting. For man or beast it is a wonderful liniment."

We have received nearly five thousand letters, recommending Nerviline as a general household liniment, as an all-round cure for aches and pains. One million bottles used each year. Try it yourself. Large bottles of Nerviline 50c; trial size, 25c. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

NERVILINE FOR MAN OR BEAST

The Daily Review

SATURDAY, MAY 25, 1912.

VICTORIA

All through the English speaking world, and in every Canadian city where stands a monument of the late Queen Victoria, her people who still sorrow for that adored sovereign, wreathed her monument with flowers. Her natal day, once full of unalloyed rejoicing, for the birth of so great a woman, has since she passed from earthly sight, been tinged with the mourning of a people who admired and loved her.

When Tennyson, while Victoria's reign was still measured by a few short years, laid his sublime tribute at her feet, his pen must have been touched with the spirit of prophecy, for every high hope which he expressed for her future was realized to the full. Of a very truth she wrought her people lasting good, watching over them, caring for them to the very end of a long life in which the fierce light which beat about her throne failed to reveal one blot or weakness. Wise statesmen met at her councils and the bounds of her free enlightened domain were made broader and better. And standing as mourners beside her grave, British people, one still in a community of grief, although the day of her passing is long since gone, can feel that in her long reign and blameless life she had a thousand claims to our reverence in the three-fold role of mother, wife and Queen.

THE PANAMA CANAL

Under the terms of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty the Panama Canal, when completed is to be open for passage to all British boats on equal terms as regards toll. The Adamson bill, now before Congress, shuts the Canal to American vessels that are owned by the railways of that country, or, in effect, prohibits the railways from owning boats. The object of this measure is to foster the competition in the carrying of freight which is sure to exist between railways and vessels owned by different corporations. This will mean lower rates on freight; the great object in view when the construction of the canal was decided upon.

As all the three great railway companies in Canada own vessels, it looks at first sight as if the terms of the Hay treaty are to be violated and the boats of this country become the subjects of discrimination. Congressman Adamson, the father of the bill in question, wisely says that the American Congress cannot legislate outside of the country, and that the question of vessels owned by Canadian roads is beyond its control.

Some papers are already scenting danger in the shape of a violated treaty and counsel an immediate appeal to the Hague tribunal, but it is a little early to feel alarm. It may turn out that the Canadian boats may yet get the long end of the deal.

RECALL OF JUDGES

Colonel Roosevelt is called by some of his admirers, the most progressive statesman in the world. If to be progressive implies an attack upon every custom of tradition, every usage of social or political life, or every bulwark which has for ages supported and defended the lives and liberties of the people, then the valiant colonel is progressive with a vengeance. If to be progressive is to be dangerous, then he is both.

One article alone of the Colonel's political creed, stamps him as a man who is to be regarded with a feeling of distrust and that is his advocacy of the recall of judges, as well as other public officers. President Taft, himself at one time a judge of acknowledged probity, is opposed to such a weapon being placed in the hands of the people and refused to sanction the constitution of the new state of Arizona, because it embraced such a provision.

But Roosevelt would entrust the people with the power of recall, which is most dangerous when considered in connection with the judicial. Even under present conditions the status of judges in the United States is not distinguished for the independence and fearlessness in the performance of duty which belongs to a judiciary appointed for life.

With the exception of the federal judges, members of the judiciary in that country have to face an election holding office if successful, for a term not generally exceeding six years. County judges and judges of the different state supreme courts have alike to get out with the crowd, and pull wires for nomination and election, trailing the ermine of the bench in the slime of American politics. Then there is always attached to them the suspicion that their public acts and decisions are biased by a desire to assure themselves a continuance in office.

If Roosevelt has his way, no judge will be safe, even for his elective term. If he renders a decision unpopular with the masses, a majority of his constituents can demand an election and vote him out of office.

This is one specimen of the progressiveness of Col. Roosevelt. It places the judiciary of the country in the hands and at the mercy of any mob. At least it makes the judges dependent upon the caprice of a people, the great majority of whom are not qualified to pass upon the legal problems that are decided from time to time.

MR. BURNHAM'S GIFT

With the flag flying from public buildings and private residences, in honor of Victoria Day, it seemed incongruous that the Armories, the home of the militant defenders of Canada, should display no banner. The omission did not long escape the eye of Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., and on ascertaining that the companies had no flag, he at once bought one and soon had it flying bravely in the breeze. If the Department of Militia, had not authorized the purchase, Mr. Burnham is sufficiently public spirited and patriotic to have stood the expense himself. Altogether the incident was a fine display of loyalty on the part of a public man.

BETTING AT WOODBINE

The Christian Guardian deplores the fact that good members of the Methodist Church attend the Woodbine races at Toronto and while it does not insinuate that they frequented the betting ring, makes the assertion that race meets are kept up by the gambling which is carried on in connection with them. The Governor-General, the Guardian asserts and other members of high society, might have been much better employed than lending their countenance to the meeting by their attendance.

The editor of the Guardian, we take it, has never attended a professional horse race or he would not make the claim that the "sport of kings," is entirely kept up by gambling. He would find that of those who do go at least two-thirds never bet. They would not know how to place a wager if they were so inclined and the question of odds, long shots or short shots, is a mathematical problem which they have never solved.

The great argument in favor of the race track is a business one, the impetus it gives to the breeding of high class horses, in which industry Canada has for years borne a foremost part. Her horses have carried her name with honor into all parts of the world. Sometimes a Canadian farmer sells a bunch of thoroughbred horses to an English dealer and all the world wonders and talks. It may look like sending a train load of coal to Newcastle, but so long as the article of barter is superior, such deals will be made.

It is the attendance of notable public functionaries and others high up in social life that has given this manly sport its high standing and keeps open the avenue by which a financially successful line of industry is carried through. His Royal Highness, the Governor-General, comes of a family who all their lives have patronized the race track, not only countenancing it by their attendance but appearing in the more practical role of owners, whose horses have won cups and other golden prizes. And so long as a good church member keeps out of the betting ring, and he will do so if he is true to his profession, leaving that form of excitement to the somewhat unorthodox rabble who most delight to pursue it, he will find himself in a social atmosphere from which no possible harm can come to him.

"Marvelous Recovery"

Montreal Man So Ill With Dyspepsia Thought He Would Die.

No more convincing evidence was ever put on paper than the following letter from one of Montreal's well-known citizens, Mr. D. R. Larose, of 338 Joliette street.

"Permit me to write you a few words concerning Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I suffered from dyspepsia and indigestion for five years. I suffered so much that I could hardly attend to my work. I was weak and lost all courage. I enjoyed no rest until I decided to follow your treatment, after having read your advertisement in the paper. To my great surprise I immediately began to feel better. I am now using the second box and I feel so well that I want to tell you that I owe this great change to your famous pills. I recommend them to every person who is suffering from dyspepsia. Your grateful servant, D. R. Larose, 338 Joliette st., Montreal, P.Q.

Let all who have weak stomachs, and those who suffer with indigestion, headaches, biliousness, know they can be perfectly cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Successfully used for many years, mild and safe, 25c per box, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills Cure Dyspepsia

NOTE AND COMMENT

An Essex county farmer has gone violently insane and the alienists say his condition is due to overwork. Perhaps he is one of the agriculturists who, on account of the scarcity of farm labor, are trying to work twenty-four hours a day.

Up in Toronto the civic authorities are considering a by-law to prohibit any citizen from keeping a rooster. Toronto evidently thinks it can do its own crowing without help from the animal kingdom.

The investigation of the Coffee Trust may make political capital but it will hardly result in lower prices to the consumer.

The Provincial authorities at one swoop raked in $3,000 in fines from the keepers of blind pigs in the Porcupine District. Evidently such places are at least as rich a source of revenue to the authorities as licensed houses.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Kansas made prices to-day for the wheat pit. The trade watched almost exclusively the varying news from that state regarding weather and crops. In the end the market was decidedly nervous, and 1-8c to 1-4c to 1c under last night. Corn closed unchanged to 1-8c to 1-4c up, and oats at an advance of 1-8c to 1-4c. Provisions finished irregularly, strung out from 5c decline to 12 1-2c increase in cost.

The Liverpool market closed to-day on wheat ¼d lower than yesterday, and on corn ⅛d to ¾d lower.

Advice For Business Girl.

Eat the very best food your means will allow. Remember that you are working for your bread, and after you have earned it buy it. Good food comes back in firm flesh, pink cheeks and good spirits, which make you far more attractive and successful than any garment you could possibly buy.

Drink lots of water. If you are afraid of taking on too much weight do not drink with your meals, for that is the time when weight is added.

When working do not eat a heavy lunch. Have a good breakfast, because by the time you get to your work that is partly digested, but if you have a heavy lunch you are apt to feel sleepy. The big meal of the day should come at night.

In these cold days dress warmly. It is true that woolens are not beautiful, but they keep your skin a pretty color, with a smooth, even flow of blood, and they keep you from using up your energy and power in trying to keep warm.

Don't get jaded or overtired. There is no salary big enough to recompense you for that. Sacrifice a little salary for a position less trying if necessary. Ordinary work should not overtire a woman. If it does it is a sign she is not in good condition—she is not getting enough sleep nor food nor fresh air.

Gave Good Weight.

The very latest trick of the trade was taught to the young butcher by the marketman who gave him his first employment. The old dealer pointed to trays of beef, lamb and pork trimmings beneath the counter.

"When customers ask to have all the waste that has been cut from their own meat wrapped up with their order, be sure to put in a few of these trimmings besides," he said. "Most always they want the scraps sent home so they can weigh the whole business and find out whether they are getting full weight or not. Enough extra pieces to tip the scales half an ounce beyond the supposed weight won't hurt anybody, and will give us a good name."

Shortly after that the new clerk heard one frugal housewife say to another, "Oh, why don't you trade at Blank's? He gives such good measure; often almost an ounce more than you pay for."

The clerk smiled.—Boston Herald.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Cynthia's Chauffeur

By LOUIS TRACY

Copyright by McLeod & Allen, Toronto

He took advantage of the opening thus presented, and was able to interest her in stories of the campaign without committing himself to details. Nevertheless, a man who had served on the headquarters staff during the protracted second phase of the South African war could hardly fail to exhibit an intimate knowledge of that history which is never written. Though Cynthia had met many leaders of thought and action, she had never before encountered one who had taken part in a struggle of such peculiar significance as the Boer revolt. She was not an English girl, eager only to hear tales of derring-do in which her fellow-countrymen figure heroically, but a citizen of that wider world that refuses to look at events exclusively through British spectacles; therein lay the germ of real peril to Medenham. He had not only to narrate but to convince. He was called on to answer questions of policy and method that few if any of the women in his own circle would think of putting. Obviously, this appeal to his intellect weakened the self-imposed guard on his lips. There is excellent authority for the belief that Desdemona loved Othello for the dangers he had passed, and did with greedy ear devour his discourse, yet it may well be conceded that an explanatory piquancy would have been added to the Moor's account

> Of most disastrous chances, > of mising accidents by flood and field,

if the lady were not a maid of Venice but hailed from some kindred city that refused to range all the virtues on the side of the Mistress of the Adriatic.

More than once it chanced that Medenham had to exercise his wits very quickly to trip his tongue when on the verge of some indiscretion that would betray him. Perhaps he was unduly cautious. Perhaps his listener's heart had mastered her brain for the time. Perhaps she would not have woke up in a maze from a dream that was not less a dream because she was not sleeping even if some unwary utterance caused her to ask what manner of man this could be.

But that can never be known, since Cynthia herself never knew. The one sharp and clear fact that remained in her mind as a memory of a summer's evening passed in a boat on a river flowing through fairyland, was provided by a set of circumstances far removed from tales of stormy night-riding after De Wet or the warp and weft of European politics as they fashioned the cere-cloths of the two Dutch republics.

Neither the one nor the other should be blamed if they found a boat on the Wye a most pleasant exchange for an eager automobile on roads that tempted to high speed. At any rate, they gave no heed to the time until Cynthia happened to glance at the horizon and saw that the sun was represented by a thin seam of silver hemming the westerly fringe of a deep blue sky. If there was a moon, it was hidden by the hills.

"Whatever o'clock is it?" she cried in a voice that held almost a sound of scare.

Medenham looked at his watch, and had to hold it close to his eyes before he could make out the hour.

"Time you were back at the hotel," he said, swinging the boat round quickly. "I am afraid I have kept you out too long, Miss Vanrenen. It is a perfect night, but you must not risk catching a chill—"

"I'm not worrying about that sort of chill—there are others: what will Mrs. Devar think?"

"The worst," he could not help saying.

"What time is it, really?"

"Won't you be happier not to know? We have the stream with us now—"

"Mr. Fitzroy—what time is it?"

"Nearly half-past ten o'clock. You did not leave the hotel till after half-past eight."

"Oh, blame me, of course. 'The woman tempted me and I did eat.'"

"No, no. Apples are not the only forbidden fruit. May I vary an unworthy defense? The woman came with me and I didn't care."

"But I do care. Please hurry. Mrs. Devar will be real mad, and I shan't have a word to say for myself."

Medenham beat to it, and the outrigger traveled downstream at a rare pace. Cynthia steered with fair accuracy by the track they had followed against the current, but the oarsman glanced over his shoulder occasionally, and advised her as to the probable trend of the channel.

"Keep a bit wide here," he said when they were approaching a sharp bend. "I believe we almost touched ground in midstream as we came up."

She obeyed, and a wide expanse of low-lying land opened before her eyes.

"I don't see the lights of the hotel yet," she said, with a note of anxiety.

"You are not making enough allowance for the way in which this river turns and twists. There are sections in which you box the compass during the course of a short—"

A sharp tearing noise in the bottom of the boat amidships was followed by an inrush of water. Medenham sprang upright, leaped overboard, and caught the port outrigger with his left hand. He was then immersed to the waist, but he flung his right arm around Cynthia and lifted her clear of the sinking craft.

"Sit on my shoulder. Steady yourself with your hands on my head," he said, and his voice was so unemotional that the girl could almost have laughed. Beyond one startled "Oh!" when the plank was ripped out she had uttered no sound, and she followed his instructions now implicitly. She was perched comfortably well above the river when she felt that he was moving, not to either bank, but down the center of the stream. Suddenly he let go the boat, which had swung broadside on.

"It is sinking, and the weight was pulling me over," he explained, still in the same quiet way, as though he were stating the merest commonplace. Some thrill that she could not account for vibrated through her body. She was not frightened in the least.

She had the most complete confidence in this man, whose head was braced against her left thigh, and whose arm was clasping her skirts closely round her ankles.

"Which side do you mean to make for?" she asked.

"I hardly know. You are higher up than me. Perhaps you can decide best as to the set of the current. The boat seems to have been carried to the right."

"Yes. I think the river shoals to the left."

"Suppose we try the other way first. The hotel is on that side."

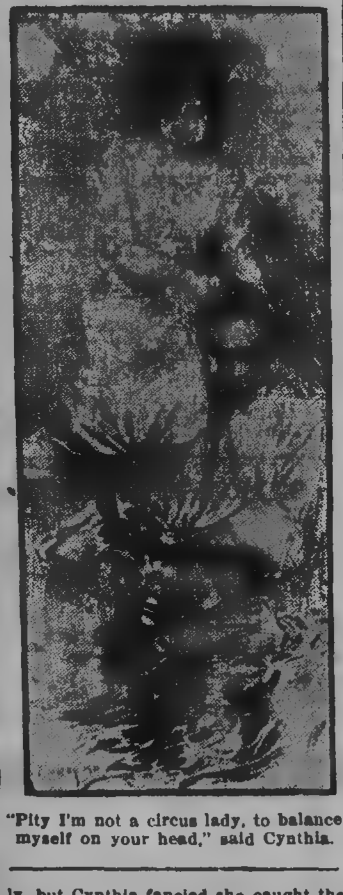
"Anything you like."

He took a cautious step, then another. The water was rising. Luckily the current was not very strong or he could not have stood against it.

"No good," he said. "We must go back."

"Pity I'm not a circus lady. Then I might have balanced myself gracefully on the top of your head."

He murmured something indistinctly, but Cynthia fancied she caught the words:



"Pity I'm not a circus lady, to balance myself on your head," said Cynthia.

"You're a dear, anyhow."

"What did you say?" she asked.

WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets she would not be without them. They are the only medicine for the little ones guaranteed by a Government analyst to be free from those opiates and other harmful drugs found in so-called 'soothing' mixtures. Concerning them Mrs. J. C. Wood, Underwood, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the last four years and would not be without them, as I have found them beneficial every time I have given them to my little ones." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

YOUNG WIFE SAVED FROM HOSPITAL

Tells How Sick She Was And What Saved Her From An Operation.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio.—"Three years ago I was married and went to housekeeping. I was not feeling well and could hardly drag myself along. I had such tired feelings, my back ached, my sides ached, I had bladder trouble awfully bad, and I could not eat or sleep. I had headaches, too, and became almost a nervous wreck. My doctor told me to go to a hospital. I did not like that idea very well, so, when I saw your advertisement in a paper, I wrote to you for advice, and have done as you told me. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, and now I have my health.

"If sick and ailing women would only know enough to take your medicine, they would get relief."—Mrs. BENJ. H. STANSBERY, Route 6, Box 18, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

If you have mysterious pains, irregularity, backache, extreme nervousness, inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait too long, but try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound now.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and such unquestionable testimony as the above proves the value of this famous remedy and should give every one confidence.

Milady's Mirror

The Beauty Sufferer.

A Parisian lady's maid has been revealing the secrets of her mistress' boudoir and the arts, or, rather, tortures, by which beauty is attained. There is a French saying that you must suffer to be beautiful, and in this instance it seems to have been accepted literally.

For months the poor lady lay flat on her back on the floor motionless, with her arms close to her sides, during several hours a day. This was, it appears, to improve her figure. During the rest of the day for the same period of time she sat on a high stool rocking the upper part of her body backward and forward and from side to side unceasingly. By this process she is said to have acquired a statuesque throat and a sylph's waist.

The lady's nose, having a soaring nature, was corrected and made Grecian by constant application day and night for months of a spring bandage. One nostril being larger than the other, she wore a small sponge in it for a year.

Her cheeks have been filled out and rounded by injections of paraffin. Her ears for months were compressed against the sides of her head by springs, while heavy weights were attached to the lobes to produce the required elongated shape, which has been successfully achieved.

Having suffered this complicated martyrdom for a year, the poor lady has become satisfied that she is sufficiently beautiful.

She has not set much value by the theory that beauty is only skin deep, although she has proved that the theory is correct. What she values is beauty, even if it is only skin deep. Undoubtedly beauty is an asset for woman, but it is not her most desirable gift.

For an Oily Scalp.

An excessively oily scalp cannot be cured at once. Slow treatment is best. Shake a cake of pine tar soap into three quarts of water and set it on the stove, where it will slowly melt. When it is all dissolved allow it to cool and bottle for use. It takes about half a pint for a good shampoo. Into this amount put about six drops of ammonia. Wet the entire head and hair first, then shampoo well with the soap jelly, then rinse well in several waters, making sure all soap has been removed.

When the hair is thoroughly dry rub in the following lotion, which is also a tonic: One ounce of tincture of capsicum, one ounce of tincture of cantharides, two ounces of good bay rum and two ounces of witch hazel. It is only necessary to massage the tonic into the hair roots immediately after the shampoo. Ordinarily the shampoo is given once a month, but in cases of extreme oiliness every three weeks is advisable until the hair shows an improvement.

It is just the reverse with an overdry scalp. The hair falls because it is not nourished and fed enough. From extreme dryness the skin contracts and the hair becomes harsh and brittle and falls out. Applications that will penetrate the pores and feed the roots must be used to improve these conditions.

To Beautify the Eye.

The eyes are used more than any other member of the body. Often as we sit down to rest the body we pick up a book or paper to read. The eyes receive no rest. All through the day they are busy from opening until closing time, and often then their owners are reminded by drowsiness that it is long past the time to rest.

The body, the hands and the limbs get a rest, even if it is only by a change of position, but the eyes scarcely ever. And this is wrong, for dozens of times during the day the eyes could easily be rested by being shut, if only for a few seconds at a time. A great deal of good would result. This practice, small though it may seem, will repay any one, for, while the benefit may not be noticed from day to day, the freshness of the eyes after one reaches middle age will be worth more and reimburse well for the trouble necessary to protect them.

Cool, weak tea is excellent to bathe the eyes with. If they have been used a great deal during the day and burn bind on them moist tea leaves and retire. By morning they will be much freshened and relieved.

To Tour Europe In Van.

Lady Arthur Grosvenor of England is planning a tour of Southern Europe, but she will use neither the automobile nor the train. Accompanied by her husband and her children, she plans to make the tour in two light caravans, which her horses can haul without difficulty at least 20 miles a day. She has tried the gypsy idea of traveling and likes it. Last year she made a caravan tour of North Wales, under the name of Sarah Lee. Lady Grosvenor will go from Cheshire through England and then cross to France. From Bordeaux she will travel through the south of France, and will stop for a time in the Duke of Westminster's French hunting chateau. She will continue through the south, and may go as far as Greece.

CONCERNING YOUR EYES

Good eyesight is essential to health comfort and appearance. Have you ever noticed a strained look on your face, or your friend's? Usually this comes from eyestrain. More wrinkles are caused by eyestrain than by age. Thousands unconsciously squint in an effort to adapt the eyes to the surroundings. Success in releaving eye-strain depends entirely upon the OPTICAL SKILL of the Specialist who prescribes the glasses. Neglect of the eyes many times leads to surgical operations, which glasses worn in time may prevent. We correct errors of vision by means of properly fitted lenses.

We have every modern appliance for accurate eyesight testing, and we grind all our own lenses. Thus assuring you accuracy and promptness. All work guaranteed.

MURRAY STREET BAPTIST CHURCH OPENS TO-MORROW

To-morrow the new Murray street Baptist church will be opened and dedicated to the worship of God. Doubtless the people of this city of all denominations will wish to express their interest by visiting the noble edifice which has been under construction for the past fourteen months.

We are assured that arrangements are completed to care for congregations of nine hundred morning and evening, and the church will in all probability be taxed to its capacity. The most sanguine of its friends are more than pleased with their efforts. This people who have had a most interesting and worthy history have for some years needed both a new location and a new building but have tarried until they felt justified in doing well what is intended to serve the denomination in this city for many years to come. It is peculiarly fitting that Dr. J. L. Gilmour the grandson of the first pastor, should be the preacher of the first sermons. The doctor arrived in the city this afternoon and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Matthews, Water street.

On Sunday afternoon the public will be welcomed to an open session of the Sunday School which will be held in the school hall one of the most modern buildings for the purpose in Ontario.

There will be no special week evening meetings on account of the Peterborough Summer Fair, but the week following Sunday, June 2nd, an opportunity will be given to the people to visit every part of the structure. Full announcement of these gatherings will be made in these columns.

The building is not only a credit to this people, but a real contribution to the centre of our city and on Monday we will give a full description of the edifice in this paper.

The handsome edifice of the Murray Street Baptist Congregation.

YOUNG BRITONS MEET.

Orangemen Assemble In Large Numbers at Brockville.

Brockville, May 25.—The 31st annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Orange Young Britons of British North America opened here yesterday with one of the largest representations of delegates in its history. Points as far west as Sault Ste. Marie and east to Quebec City were present. After a civic welcome by Acting Mayor Mackenzie and a deputation of the town council and a complimentary address from the local Orange lodges, the reports of the grand officers were received.

Grand Master Gordon Black of Toronto made an appropriate reference to Brookville as the birthplace of Orangeism on this continent and expressed his satisfaction at the continued growth of the Young Britons.

Touching the question of home rule for Ireland he said: "As your grand master I feel I voice the sentiment of this grand lodge when I say that our brethren in the old land have our undying sympathy in their efforts to prevent the passage of the home rule bill for Ireland, and that our hopes and prayers are being exercised on their behalf, and, if need be, our personal and financial assistance, in their noble fight to uphold the British crown in Ireland, and to prevent the country from getting into the hands of the Roman church."

Grand Secretary Hashaw reported the membership at 10,000, which is almost double the figures one year ago. Ten new lodges were instituted at Regina, Sask.; Bracebridge, Ont.; Portage la Prairie, Man.; Victoria, B.C.; Rivers Man.; Nippers Harbor, Nfld.; Moosejaw, Sask., and Toronto.

The grand secretary touched upon the change in the Dominion Government of September last, and attributed the defeat of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to the Protestant people of Canada arising in their might to wipe out a ministry which, he asserted, was fast being closed upon by the Church of Rome.

"As on previous occasions," he said, "the people decided that a halt should be called upon a Government which had abused the trust reposed in them. This should be a lesson to the Asquith Government in their attempt to force upon the Protestant people of Ireland a form of government that will be controlled entirely by the Church of Rome."

Grand Treasurer T. R. Carscadden of Russell presented a satisfactory financial statement. The receipts from all sources reached $2,500, and, after meeting all obligations, there remains a balance of $1,472. At the afternoon session the reports of several of the standing committees were considered and a special committee was appointed to draft a resolution setting forth the opposition of the grand lodge to home rule. Following adjournment the delegates were tendered a complimentary river trip and last night the local committee banqueted the grand lodge.

CARPENTERS' OPEN MEETING

Tuesday evening, May 28th, at 8 p.m., in Trades and Labor Hall, 485 George St. Please Come. 3d

AND THERE WAS NO FLAG FOR THE ARMORIES

Amidst the almost general display of flags and bunting throughout the city yesterday, in honor of the memory of the late beloved Queen Victoria, one flag was conspicuous by its absence. The flagpole on the Peterborough Armory, the representative of the military strength of the country, stood up gaunt and bare, minus the good old Union Jack.

The very place above all others, where a flag should have been gaily streaming, was unenthusiastic enough by all appearances to manifest its patriotism.

The local Dominion member was enjoying a stroll in the morning, and while passing the Armories immediately noticed the absence of a flag and entered the building and made inquiries into the reason for its non-display. The funny part of it then ensued. The M.P. was informed that the Armories flag could not be found or if there ever had been one, its whereabouts could not be discovered.

A search was made over the entire building, but no flag was forthcoming.

Rather than such a disgraceful state of affairs should continue throughout the day, he wired to the Militia Department at Ottawa without delay, the following message — "Armory here has no flag flying today. Please authorize me to secure one. Reply."

The message dispatched, Mr. Burnham recognized that it might be some time before an answer was received and ordered Messrs. J. J. Turner and Sons to hoist a new flag on the Armories flagpole without delay. This was promptly done.

Inquiry elicited the information that the Armories never had possessed a flag of its own, but that when ever occasion required one was rented for the time.

Later in the day, Mr. Burnham received a wire from Ottawa from General McDonald saying that a flag would be provided at once for the Armories, so that henceforth no repetition of such an occurrence can take place.

BOY SCOUTS TO TAKE PART AT THE FAIR

It is now definitely arranged for the Peterborough Boy Scouts to participate in the procession at the Summer Fair at the armories on Monday evening. and to that end the boys are requested to assemble promptly at 7.30 in full uniform and with their staffs.

POLICE COURT

An old man from out of town appeared in police court this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was let go and promised to get out of town.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Tobias Fredenburg

The death occurred this morning, shortly after ten o'clock of Annie Sweeney, wife of Mr. Tobias Freedenburg, after an illness of five weeks.

The late Mrs. Freedenburg was born in Peterboro, forty-one years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sweeney and had lived all her life here.

Besides her parents, she is survived by her husband, and two daughters, who are Mrs. Bert Hamilton, city, and Mrs. Bert Wright of Nebraska.

Four sisters are Mrs. Aaron McCall Peterboro, Mrs. James Kelly, Duluth Minn.; Mrs. . Kempt, Douro, and Mrs. J. J. Herron, Toronto. One brother is John Sweeney, of this city.

The Late Frank Flood

Yesterday morning the funeral took place of Mr. Frank Flood, of 138 Perry street city, from the family residence to Sacred Heart Church and thence to the St. Peter's cemetery.

The deceased gentleman was employed by the Peterborough Lumber Company, and only recently went to a lumber camp north of Apsley. His health was apparently good, but he passed away after a very short illness.

He is survived by a sorrowing wife, five sons and five daughters. The daughters are, Mrs. Gilman, Teresa, and Amelia of Peterborough; Mrs. Coleman and Mary, residing in the United States, and the sons are, William, Joseph, Hugh, Francis and Michael, all of this city.

The funeral will take place from 251 Hunter street, on Monday morning at nine o'clock, to St. Peters cemetery.

Mr. Charles Turner

The many local friends of Mr. Charles Turner, of Kenora, will be grieved to learn that the sad intelligence of his death has been received in the city.

The late Mr. Turner was born in Baltimore but moved to Peterborough and for thirty-five years was a resident of this city. During that time he not only made the acquaintance of a large number of fellow citizens, but won the esteem and respect of all who knew him. He was a faithful member of the George street Methodist church and his death will be greatly regretted in this city. He was 63 years of age.

For the past six or seven years, Mr. Turner's home has been in Kenora, in which city he passed away yesterday.

He is survived by two sons, Frank and Bert, of Winnipeg, as well as five sisters, Mrs. G. W. Mulligan, and Mrs. A. A. Turner of Peterboro, and Mrs. J. Junkins, Mrs. McWilliams and Mrs. John Braden of Toronto. Two brothers John of Montreal, and Albert of Winnipeg, also survive him.

The funeral will be held to-morrow in Winnipeg.

Good Meals at Camp Comfort
The boys at Camp Comfort are using the same stove that they had last year. It was the best they could get. It was a
New Perfection
Oil Cook-stove
This year they got a New Perfection Oven
Also a New Perfection Toaster
Also a New Perfection Broiler
"Gee, what a difference in the meals a good stove makes," said one of the boys. So they called their shack "Camp Comfort." And they will tell their mothers and wives about the stove, too. For the New Perfection Oil Cook-stove is as convenient for the home as for the camp. It will bake, broil, roast and toast as well as a regular coal range.
The New Perfection Stove
is handsomely finished in nickel, with cabinet top, drop shelves, towel racks, etc. Long chimneys, enameled turquoise-blue. Made with 1, 2 or 3 burners. All dealers. Free Cook-Book with every stove. Cook-Book also given to anyone sending 5 cents to cover mailing cost.

ROSEDALE LOTS

Most citizens of Peterboro, are aware that Rosedale, of Toronto, is the High Class Residential District of that city. Where naught but blue blood is to be found, and where residence therein is a passport to high society. It was sub-divided and put on the market by a Scotch syndicate about 35 years ago, at 20.00 per front foot, and it is now selling from $75.00 to $250.00 per foot. About the same time the high class citizens of Peterboro' determimed to keep step with Toronto, quickly selected and sub-subdivided that beautiful block of land north of Smith Street, east of Jackson Park, west from Normal School, and Chemong Road. Having gone so far, they wearried of well-doing, leaving the task of putting on the market to your humble servant, in the late afternoon of life, and because of that lateness, and of the superior High Class Property, I am offering at a fraction of it's value five years hence. I most respectfully solicit your early investigation, believing that when you see the property, hear my price and terms, you will be pleased to accept at once. And as I want the assistance of every good man and woman in this meritorious work of furnishing home-foundations and the safest and most profitable way to invest and save, small or large sums of money. And in return for this assistance I agree to pay 5 per cent. of the net price, at which each lot is sold, to the treasurer of the church to which the buyer belongs. I will do this as a precedent for others to follow my example. Payable out of half money received from buyer. Bear in mind I only own 38 lots in what I have properly named "The Heart of Rosedale", and you or your descendants will buy that property soon, or later at 5 or 10 times my price. Is it not in your interest to buy now, and use or sell later at big profits as many others have done? It is always safe to buy wheat or gold dollars, when they are offered at half value, and that is what you are doing when you buy lot in "The Heart of Rosedale."

Unavoidable delay compels me to name June 5th, as the opening day for sale of those lots. In the mean time, I suggest that every auto owner in the city, in his own interests, not only to go himself, but to take all his big friends with him, to carefully inspect and fully verify my statements.

How to find it—Second block north of Smith St. and west of Dixon, marked by small flags, and five minutes' walk from car line at Jackson's Park.

Plans, and further information will be available in a few days.

Sale of Remedies for Headache!

There are more ZUTOO tablets for headache sold in this country than all other remedies combined. Think how good these tablets must be to have such an immense sale.

Dealers could not sell them nor would people buy ZUTOO tablets in such large quantities, were they not what all users say they are, that is, a perfectly harmless and reliable cure for headache.

Do YOU use these tablets which so many people have chosen as best? If you do not, it is your next move. 25c at dealers

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

The grand opening of the Peterborough Summer Fair will take place on Monday evening, May 27th, at 8 o'clock.

At the Men's Brotherhood Bible class to-morrow afternoon in Charlotte street church the subject of the fifteen minute discussion previous to the class will be, "Is the Judicial Oath Respected."

The W.C.T.U. meeting has been postponed until Thursday evening, June 6th, on account of the Summer Fair.

Mr. Daniel O'Connell was in Hamilton yesterday, officiating in some initiation ceremonies in connection with the Knights of Columbus.

Don't fail to see Sarah Bernhardt the eminent actress in the role of "Camille" in moving pictures to-night at the Grand Opera House. This will be the last opportunity. A big crowd attended yesterday afternoon ad nevening at the Grand. The pictures are remarkably clear and brilliant.

Make Your Own Rouge.

If you are dissatisfied with the rouge you are using try making your own. A very simple way of preparing a harmless rouge is by tinting a portion of a tried and true cold cream with carmine. Be sure that only the fruit or vegetable tint is procured for tinting purposes. If a poisonous tint is used where a minute break in the skin of the face or lips is present it is liable to result disastrously, causing blood poisoning or chronic skin disease. A vegetable or fruit carmine powder worked into cold cream (not the disappearing kind) until evenly distributed and placed in a rouge box is a safe and delightful toilet adjunct and a benefit to the skin rather than an injury. By mixing equal portions of faintly pink face powder and pure rice powder a wonderfully transparent blush tint is obtained. White, as a rule, shows plainly against the skin, especially if the complexion inclines toward ivory. Pink has the equally undesirable quality of causing a natural flush to appear almost florid, besides giving a note of artificiality to the face. By blending the two and applying the result with a piece of soft white velvet a clear, flesh tone becoming to almost every complexion is acquired.

GUN CLUB TEAM SHOOT

The Gun Club held a team shoot yesterday morning between teams captained by H. Routly and C. Wood, with a victory for the latter teams by 9 birds. Score at 25 birds:

H. C. Hill	21

R. Fivey	15
J. Loucks	7
Total	64

C. Mills	17
E. C. Boswell	13
C. James	13
H. Routly	12
Total	55

Then followed a sweepstake shoot at 10 birds each.

H. C. Hill	8
C. Mills	7
J. Loucks	5
G. Burnham	4
H. Routly	4
C. Wood	4
A. Adair	3
E. C. Boswell	2

The Keene Gun Club are visiting here to-day, and a match is being held this afternoon. Results will be published on Monday.

BREEZES FROM THE DIAMOND

At the King Edward school grounds Thursday afternoon, the King Edwards defeated the Queen Alexandras by a score of 9 to 6.

The P.C.I. baseball team left this morning on the 8.20 for Lindsay, where they will play the Collegiate nine of that town. The battery for the P.C.I. is Huycke and Hill. Huycke has been pitching good ball all season, and he is one of Peterborough's most promising young twirlers.

Pitchers Baver and Scull, and outfielder Graney, were released last night by Manager Templin and have gone to their respective homes.

A pill lance by the name of Soxster a pitcher landed in town yesterday and will be given a trial.

Umpire Johnston was placed hors de combat in Thursday's game, when he was struck on the neck by a foul tip.

Dolan fielded some hard foul flies in fast time.

Trout and Hartman have that throw to second and return rocking effectively.

That was a heady play when Manager Templin caught the Guelph Manager between third and home.

Quinlan struck out two, hit two, and walked five during his appearance. He gave nine hits.

The Guelph team play an exhibition game in Buffalo to-morrow.

Manager Needham has a fielder coming from Springfield, Mass.

By the way, Guelph lost sixteen straight games last season.

Jimmy Beard took his turn in the box at morning practice and showed some of his old time form.

The paid attendance at the morning game was 700, while the figures for the afternoon were 2100.

Schuman, reported to be Guelph's best, was billed to twirl this afternoon.

Ottawa will be here for three games next week.

Percy Johnson is playing right field for the Petes this afternoon.

To Prevent Sea-Sickness.

What is claimed to be an anti-seasick chair has been invented by an Englishman. Instead of legs, it is supported on pivots, so that no matter how violently the vessel may roll or pitch, the user remains absolutely undisturbed. Many trials have been made with this chair, and it is claimed that it is even more efficacious than the anti-seasick beds with which the Medina was fitted for the recent royal tour to India.

A Real Marriage Yoke.

In Basutoland the ladies, on reaching the happy married state, don, instead of the homely, insignificant wedding-ring, a great brass collar. All married women in Basutoland wear these collars as a sort of mark or insignia of their rank. The collars are slit at the back to allow of their being taken off.

A Lazy Liver

Upsets the Whole System.
Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills
Put Things Right Again.

His liver is to sluggish— his stomach bad.

A bitter taste in the mouth—coated tongue—dizziness on rising suddenly—bowels alternately loose and constipated—these mean that the liver is out of order.

Instead of flowing into the bowels, to regulate them and aid digestion, the bile has been going all through the system, upsetting digestion, leaving the bowels constipated, and making the sufferer perfectly miserable. This is biliousness.

The quick, safe and certain cure is Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. They clear out the clogged-up system, stir up the lazy liver, cleanse the stomach and bowels and purify the blood. The bile returns to its normal course, the food is again digested properly and all the disagreeable symptoms vanish.

Doctors prescribe Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills and they are known throughout the world as a proven cure for all digestive troubles. They are equally effective in strengthening weak kidneys and curing rheumatism.

She Never Looks Tired.

Kitty Gordon, the actress, has been called "the woman who never looks tired."

To explain her secret, "Just take a vacation every two or three weeks," she advises with a prankish little smile playing about her mouth, as though she was well aware of the reply she would receive. But before one has an opportunity to answer she adds quickly: "Yet it's not nearly so difficult as it sounds. By a vacation I mean a whole day's rest—luxurious rest. Just go away alone where you don't see a soul you know and take a sunny, warm room where you can bask. If you can afford it, take along heaps of gorgeous, sweet odored flowers. If you cannot, then a bit of your favorite perfume and one or two flowers. But flowers you must have. There is nothing in all the world so restful or so wonderfully soothing. Then read your favorite poems, browse in them, play, sing. Forget you ever had a worry. If your clothes hamper you cast them off and dress in a single little robe de nuit. Simply relax every strained little muscle in your face and body.

"If you are fortunate enough, call in several little folks; be young again with them. When they want you to hide under a couch, hide under it even if you have to tip it over. It will take years from your age.

"I never fail to take this 'rest' cure ('sun' cure) every other Sunday. My stage work won't allow me to take them oftener. And, oddly, I never go into the country for my rest. I go to the city. There is too much temptation to go out of doors and romp in the country, and the result is that you don't allow yourself the delightful opportunity to relax that you desire. Then, too, in the city, away up in your apartment, you are isolated if you desire to be. You have but to leave word with the bellboy that you are 'out,' and not a soul knows otherwise. In the country every one knows whether you are in or out."

Taft will have eleven delegates from Ohio to Roosevelt's thirty-one.

NEW PLAYERS FOR PETERBORO' CLUB

The White Caps Will be Strengthened at Once, The Fans Have Stood the Test.

Fire the whole team. That's the appeal coming from fans. But we said before, and maintain, that as Peterborough anted Canadian League baseball it, pay the price, just as other have done. We would also repeat, that not so many years ago y Jennings' Detroit Tigers lost straight games—then won, and Detroit had been re- in organized baseball for a ge number of years at that. This the first season for Peterborough. never yet did their lives a man- with his board of directors who his first attempt—and under con- such as beset a newly or- ised club—win right off the reel. course the fans in Peterborough, have witnessed the four games Riverside, will give derisive comment to these few lines, but, nevertheless they are facts.

But here's a straight tip; The Board of Directors of the local club know now that they have not got a winning team. They acknowledge that the hard luck story is exploded. What they propose to do is to strengthen the team, and they have already taken steps along this line.

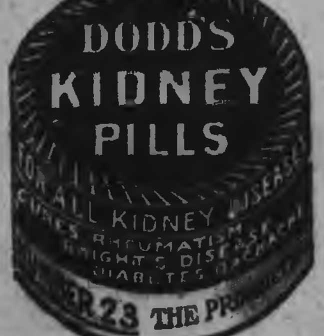
They appreciate the hearty patronage the fans have already accorded the team, despite the losing streak, and are alive to the fact that several holes must be filled up. The sporting editors of the evening papers were on hand last night, when telegrams were sent out.

Now, what more can the fans ask? This is straight goods and Peterborough is going to have a better team. As to the games with Guelph, the story is already well known. The visitors were fortified with good pitchers—had an advantage that could not be overcome—and cleaned up the opener Thursday, and the double header yesterday. Johnny Derr twirled a nice game on Thursday, but errors lost the game for him.

Bartlett took the mound yesterday morning. Two bases on balls in the second were turned into runs, and in the ninth with two on, Manager Needham hit for the circuit. While Bartlett went the route alone, Guelph used three pitchers, the Maple Leaf leader showing good headwork.

Quinlan went into the box in the afternoon, and everything was lovely in the eighth, when hits by Dolan and Hartman with battery errors gave the Caps three runs. But it was not to be.

Quinlan couldn't locate the plate in the ninth, and after he had filled the bags Baver was sent in without success; Guelph hammered him, and Creswell took a turn, pitching to four men. Ten runs were scored in this innings, and the White Caps couldn't do anything in their half, the score ending 11—4.



Accident Insurance

Following the Titanic Disaster no one will think of travelling without first taking out an Accident Policy.

It is interesting to know that practically all the Canadians who lost their lives through the Titanic wreck carried Accident Insurance. The average amount to be paid by Accident Companies alone, is over $30,000 for each Canadian lost.

The Double Indemnity and Bonus feature of The Dominion of Canada and General Accident Assurance Company policies are worthy of investigation before placing your Insurance.

C.G.E. WON THE FIRST

The C.G.E. football team went to Bethany yesterday and met the Bethany aggregation in a senior Midland League game. They defeated the homesters by the score 1—0. The half time count was 0—0.

The All Saints football team played in Stirling yesterday and succeeded in drubbing the village boys to the tune of 4—0. It was an exhibition game.

LAWN BOWLING

The expected games between the Port Hope and Peterborough Lawn Bowlers did not materialize yesterday, owing to the fact that rain was falling during the morning at Port Hope, and the bowlers did not come this way. The local players, however, spent the day at Brookside, and enjoyed the program immensely. Arrangements are being made for the annual local tournament, and from so won the members will be in their element.

Tonic For White Hair.

Pour a half pint of boiling water over a tablespoonful of powdered castile soap. Add a pinch of borax, the beaten whites of two eggs and a teaspoonful of listerine.

Only lukewarm water should be used on white hair and no heat used in the drying process. Curling irons should never touch such hair, as the extreme heat will cause it to break and fall off, leaving it in a ragged, uneven condition. In rinsing white hair always use the coolest water possible, and to the last water add a little dissolved ultramarine blue.

DONE OUT OF FIGHT.

Sir Frederick Lugard Arrived at Massowah and Found War Was Over.

Sir Frederick Lugard, the new Governor of both Southern and Northern Nigeria, has had a varied and exciting career.

The story of his adventures in Africa alone reads like a page from fiction, his first method of entering the country being, to say the least of it, quite unorthodox. With fifty pounds in his belt, and practically no outfit except an old rifle, paid for in India by shooting a man-eating tiger with a price on its head, Sir Frederick boarded a tramp steamer at Gibraltar, where he happened to be stationed at the time, and sailed away to Suez hoping thence to find his way to Massowah, and to join the Italians, who were then fighting the Abyssinians.

Funds giving out at Suez, he found himself forced to ship as a deck passenger on a timber boat, and to hobnob with the rough-and-ready Italian sailors who manned it. To crown all, when he did arrive at Massowah he discovered, to his disgust, that the fighting was over, and he was obliged to return home.

It was during one of his brief visits home that Sir Frederick married the clever lady who is perhaps best remembered by her maiden name of "Flora Shaw." Few who see Lady Lugard mentioned in the papers remember that she is the lady who, as colonial expert of The London Times, played such a prominent part in the famous Jameson raid. Her ladyship has wandered far in search of adventure, and is as used to roughing it as is her husband.

To mention but one of her many achievements, she has turned out three columns of copy on the back of a portmanteau in the desert.

THIS LADY GIVES A SPLENDID REASON

Why She Would Not be Without Dodd's Kidney Pills in the House

They Helped her husband and cured her own Rheumatism, Dropsy and Gravel of Thirteen years' standing

Cando, Sask., May 24.—(Special).—"I would not be without Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house," exclaims Mrs. John C. MacKenzie, of this place. And those who have heard Mrs. Kenzie's story do not wonder that she is so emphatic.

"I was a victim for about twelve or thirteen years of Bladder and Kidney trouble," Mrs. MacKenzie says. "It grew into Rheumatism, Dropsy and Gravel. Doctors attended me, but they did not do me any good.

"My husband had used Dodd's Kidney Pills with good results, so I decided to give them a trial. Before I had finished the first box I was greatly benefitted."

Dodd's Kidney Pills benefit and cure permanently all who suffer from any form of Kidney Disease. They cure the Kidneys, and cured Kidneys strain the poison that causes disease out of the blood. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to cure Rheumatism, Dropsy and Gravel.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR THOSE GOING WEST

SEVENTY-FIVE DELEGATES ATTENDED BIG CONVENTION OF THE LABOR ASSOCIATION

Rousing Rally in the Labor Hall — Debate on the Industrial Banner — Report of the Executive — New Officers Elected.

The annual Convention of the Labor Association of Ontario, was held yesterday afternoon, and evening in the Labor Hall, and was attended by about seventy-five delegates from towns and cities all over Ontario, besides a large quota of interested Labor men from the city.

Mr. H. G. Halford of Hamilton, president of the Association, occupied the chair and formally welcomed the delegates. Delegate Ballantyne, of Toronto, was appointed secretary pro tem in the absence of the regular secretary. Mr. David Moore, of Peterborough extended a cordial welcome on behalf of the local association to the visiting delegates.

The next proceeding was the appointment of a credential and resolution committee, after which Mr. P. M. Draper, secretary of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, addressed the Convention.

He pointed out that never in the history of trade union activities, throughout the whole of Canada, had such virile activities been manifest as at the present time. Great changes for the further welfare of workers was bound to come.

Delegate Lancroft of the Toronto Trades and Labor Council, submitted the labor brief as pertaining to a prospective workmen's labor compensation in the province of Ontario. During his remarks he said, that strenuous efforts were being made by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association to influence the adopting by the Ontario Government of the principle, which would make compulsory for the workers to contribute to such compensation.

He emphasized the unjustness of their claims and pointed out that America, Great Britain, and Germany had refused to place such a pernicious principle on their statute books. Strong efforts would require to be made by organized labor to defeat the efforts of the Canadian manufacturers in this field of political activity. He declared that every worker in the Province must be brought within the scope of any compensation act. The number of accidents in agricultural occupations were equally as numerous as in any other industry. He wound up a strong speech by appealing to the delegates to voice their sentiments in no uncertain manner on such an important subject.

Special mention was made in reference to the lack of knowledge which organized labor had in reference to methods adopted by the commission for the taking of evidence. A sufficient intimation for the taking of evidence, had not been given throughout the province. The Convention unanimously endorsed the case as presented for a new Workmen's Compensation in Ontario, by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, and register an emphatic protest against the idea of workmen contributing to such a compensation fund for accident compensation. The resolution was ordered to be sent to Sir William Meredith, the commissioner, to be placed upon the records of the Commission.

Mr. Hubert Beaumont, lecturer for the British Fabian society was at the Convention as a visitor, and an invitation extended to him to deliver a few remarks was accepted. He dwelt on the mission of growing solidarity of labor and hoped that the deliberation of the Convention would further and make more fruitful the just and humane claims of the working classes.

THE OFFICIAL PAPER.

The executive report was then dealt with. It contained several recommendations of an important character. Delegate Joseph Marks was called upon to outline the policy adopted for the establishment of a weekly labor newspaper. He spoke of the great difficulties confronting the early pioneers of this project and the splendid self-sacrifice exhibited in advancing it. The most important industrial centres in the province pronounced in its favor. The Toronto District Labor Council had appointed a committee to act in conjunction with the Labor Educational Association, and steps had now been taken to float a labor weekly newspaper company and to issue a prospectus. He declared that all that remained to make it a success was unity of action and continuous support. The Company had been incorporated with the Labor Educational Publishing Company, Limited, with headquarters at Toronto. The Convention endorsed the recommendation of the Executive but the Labor Educational Association officially endorsed the Industrial Banner as published by the Labor Educational Publishing Company and established it the official organ of the Association. Also that the question of adjusting matters with Delegate Marks be left with the Provisional Board of Directors. The Convention adopted a further recommendation of the Executive namely that a referendum vote of all the local unions in Ontario be taken as to the advisability of organizing a Provincial Federation of Labor and that the executive committee be empowered to carry out the wishes of the said unions as they indicated by such a vote.

A number of other resolutions were submitted and unanimously endorsed.

The convention expressed its deepest sympathy with the relatives of the victims of the recent Titanic disaster and called the attention of the Dominion Government to the necessity of a rigid inspection of vessels at Canadian ports for greater protection of seamen's lives as well as passengers.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

The Convention also placed itself on record as favoring equal franchise for men and women.

OLD AGE PENSIONS.

Also that as far as old age pension plan concerned the Convention they were in favor of it and that a copy of the resolution be forwarded to the chairman of the Old Age Pension Committee. The Convention also endorsed the action of the striking garment workers in the T. Eaton store, Toronto, and also the strike of the structural workers in Toronto. A resolution dealing with the insistance by Trade Unions of goods with the union label being purchased by them, was almost unanimously endorsed and concurred in.

It was agreed to hold the next convention in Ottawa.

NEW OFFICERS.

The election of officers then took place resulting as follows:

President—W. G. Driscoll, of Kingston.

1st Vice-Pres.—J. D. Jacobs, London, Ont.

2nd Vice-Pres.—Hugh Robertson, Peterborough.

3rd Vice-Pres.—T. Hall, of Guelph.

4th Vive-Pres.—W. Stokes, of St. Thomas.

5th Vice-Pres.—S. M. Gumble, Toronto.

Secretary — Jas. H. Ballantyne, elected by acclamation.

A vote of thanks to the retiring president concluded a most successful Convention.

FIGHT THE CATERPILLAR

At a recent meeting of the Directors of the Peterborough Horticultural Society it was decided to appeal to the members and public generally to assist in the destruction of the caterpillar. The City Council, the Township and County Councils are to be asked to assist in this object, and the matter is to be brought before the Boy Scouts and school children in an effort to enlist their aid in exterminating this destructive insect. On every hand one sees warnings of the coming plague, and drastic measures must be taken without delay to stamp out the danger of destruction to our trees. The City Council should appoint one or two men to make a thorough inspection of the trees and destroy the nests before it is too late.

EMPIRE DAY AT THE SCHOOLS

In all the public schools of the city on Thursday, Empire Day was fittingly celebrated. Most of the schools were liberally decorated with flags, and the morning in all the classes was devoted to the teaching of the history and geography of the British Empire.

Shortly before noon the scholars, of each of the schools assembled in one room, for the singing of patriotic songs.

In the afternoon deputations made up of members of the School Board, prominent citizens and clergymen visited the different schools and delivered patriotic addresses, on subjects relative to the occasion.

The day was also observed at the Normal school.

MASONIC LODGE ROOM DEDICATED AT LAKEFIELD

The lodge room of Clementi Lodge, No. 813, A.F. & A.M. was dedicated on Wednesday evening last, the impressive ceremony being conducted by R. Wor. Bro. John Crane, D.D.G.M. for Otonabee District. He was assisted in the ceremony by the following Peterboro brethren— V. Wor. Bro. W. H. Walkey, V. Wor. Bro. H. C. Winch, V. Wor. Bro. R. J. Munro, Wor. Bro. A. Davidson, Bro. K. G. Leech, Rt. Wor. Bro. F. D. Kerrand, Wor. Bro. G. M. Wilson. A number of the members of the local lodge also assisted. Lakefield News.

Cure For Cold Sores.

Now that colds are the rule sufferers are feeling the annoyance of fever blisters, or cold sores, as they are more generally called. The time to stop the spread of these sores is at the beginning, when the first tiny blister appears. Be careful to apply only such remedies as do not cause the blister to spread. A simple but effective remedy, if applied at the outset, is to touch the spot every hour with spirits of camphor. This dries the sore without injury to the skin. In case the sore develops overnight so that you have not been able to treat it in the beginning more heroic measures are needed. Permanganate of potash, two grains, moistened with rosewater, applied to the blister, allowed to dry and then dusted with pulverized starch, will quickly reduce the inflammation. When this has disappeared massage the affected spot with cold cream to eliminate all danger of a temporary scar or red mark.

English Amazons Now.

For the first time in England men and women are soldiering together on equal terms. The second London division of the Territorial army's Supply Corps camped for Easter training at Radlett, in Herts. Attached to it is a company, 30 strong, of the Women's Sick and Wounded Convoy Corps. The women erected their own tents and dug out their own camp oven. At night they post sentries, who march their beats carrying torches. Reveille is sounded at six o'clock and the women must all turn out for parade. They are put through several drills during the day at double-quick time.

Fruitarian Tobacco.

A fruitarian variety of tobacco has made its appearance in a few London shops. Though it would be idle to suggest that there is a tobacco flavor about the "weed," it is at least pleasant to the taste, and if a correspondent who has tried it and diagnosed hops as one of the ingredients proves correct in his suspicion, this fact ought to commend it, prima facie, to a big section of the public. It comes from the continent, is extremely light and rather bulky, probably costs no more than 50 cents a pound, judging by the size of the packet offered for four cents.

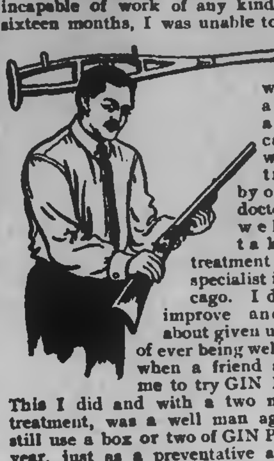
COULD NOT MOVE WITHOUT A CRUTCH

Cured in two months by Gin Pills

PERTH, ONT.

"For two years, I was an invalid, incapable of work of any kind. For sixteen months, I was unable to move without a crutch and cane. I was treated by our best doctors as well as taking treatment from a specialist in Chicago. I did not improve and had about given up hope of ever being well again when a friend advised me to try GIN PILLS. This I did and with a two months' treatment, was a well man again. I still use a box or two of GIN PILLS a year, just as a preventative and am enabled to go fishing and shooting in the spring and fall, and lie out on the ground at night, without any inconvenience." ALEX. W. STEVENSON.



50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. Sample free if you write National Drug & Chem. Co. of Canada, Limited, Dept. B Toronto.

MANGA-TONE BLOOD AND NERVE TABLETS work wonders with pale, thin, nervous people. Build up the whole system. 50c. a box. 104

TWO YEARS SUFFERING

Brought on by a Severe Strain—How a Cure Was Found.

Mr. Joseph Stephens, Rosemount, Ont., is one of the great host who continually sound the praises of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and he has much reason to do so as they brought him from suffering to health, after he had spent much money and two years of time experimenting with other treatments. Mr. Stephens tells his experience as follows— "In the month of January, 1908, while working in a logging camp, at Creston, B.C., I got my back badly injured. I suffered a great deal of pain and was almost helpless. I tried plasters thinking they would help me, but they were of no use. I took several medicines, equally without benefit. Then I was advised to try electrical treatment and did so, for a time, but without getting any permanent relief, and it began to look as though I was going to be permanently crippled. Then I was advised to undergo treatment with a specialist in Spokane, Wash. After examining me he said I was in a very bad shape and that the trouble was likely to result in Bright's Disease. However, he told me that he felt sure he could cure me. At a heavy expense I was under his treatment for three months but did not get the least benefit. I was almost in despair; work was plentiful and wages good, but I could not work, as I was quite unable to bend. I was in this condition for about two years, when my brother, who was with me all the time, came across one of Dr. Williams' pamphlets and read of the great work Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were doing. He urged me to try them, but I though it would be useless to spend more money after all the other treatments had failed. He insisted, however, and got a dozen boxes of the Pills, and I began to take them. Before I had used a half dozen boxes, I felt relief and I continued taking the Pills, until every vestige of the pain was gone, and I could raise my hands above my head and then bend until I could touch my toes with my fingers, something I had not been able to do for over two years. My cure was a great surprise to my comrades, and you may be sure I told them what brought it about I am now as well and strong as any man in the country and I owe it all to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills"

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

DESTROY THE CATERPILLAR.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—It must be apparent to everybody that we are to have this year a veritable plague of caterpillars, unless immediate steps are taken to destroy the nests. In a few days it will be too late, and the opportunity to fight them will be passed. To those who remember the havoc wrought by these loathsome creatures a few years ago, no warning should be necessary. Let us do our part to exterminate the caterpillar, while the opportunity presents itself. Every householder, every boy scout, every school child should aid in this work. Cut down and burn in the evening when the caterpillars gather all the nests you see in the neighborhood. If all wage war against them now we may be able to avoid what may otherwise prove the destruction of our foliage this summer. Let every one do his or her part.

ARTIST OF THE TRAIL

ARTHUR HEMING WAS IN HAILEYBURY 22 YEARS AGO.

Canadian Painter of the Northland Has Made Himself a Career Since the Days When He Started Out From Paris, Ont., to Knock About the World — He Just Wanted to Become a Texas Cowboy.

A few days ago a mine-owner from Porcupine was talking about the Cobalt country in the presence of two or three writers and art workers—among whom was a little, wiry, alert man, with ruddy face and big, beaming spectacles; and this one said quickly:

"Oh, yes, twenty-two years ago I snowshoed up from Mattawa to the place where Haileybury now stands ——"

"You don't say so!"

"When there were only two white men on the west side of Lake Temiskaming—C. C. Farr and another."

"But what in the world did you do it for?"

The artist was Arthur Heming, who was born in Paris, Ont., and since he got the first desire to run away from home to go cowpunching down in Texas has seen more and found out more about the wild life and the outpost edges of the Canadian north than any other artist or writer alive. Heming has gone on seventeen separate trips in as many parts of the country where railroads never ran, and by means of about as many modes of travel. Why?

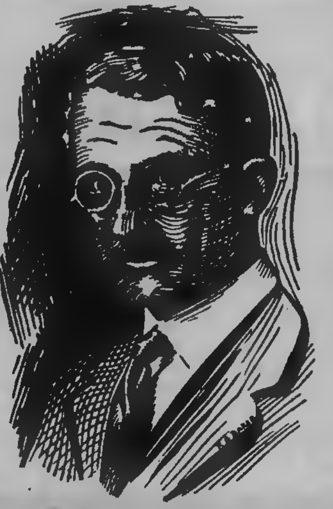
Gentle reader—not to get away from Paris; oh, no. For Heming still likes the old town where his nine brothers and sisters lived, where he himself first went to the old Art School—save the mark!—the town that has sent out four of the leading present-day American illustrators; from where he got his first drawing into Texas Siftings, illustrating a joke, for five dollars—and thought he had fame and fortune right within his mit.

But the miles Arthur Heming has traveled in the uncustomary places since he left Hamilton would stretch half as far as all the railroads of Canada. The animals he has drawn and sketched and written about would fill a very respectable zoo. The Indians and the lumber-jacks and the river-drivers and the fur-posters and the miners and the Mounted Police and the whalers he has bunked and grub-staked with would make a Midway of strange peoples most of [illegible]ness it is either to keep or to conquer the wild places of the earth.

Heming took to this wild way when he was a lad. He did not go cow-punching in Texas, as he felt inclined; but before he was twenty he had a passion for athletics, for rowing and running and wrestling and lifting—mainly because he expected some day to develop into an artist.

And he's as hard as a nail; chunky and small and lithe, like an Indian, long of wind and chuckling over a portage; just the sort of man that can travel the limit without fatigue, eat hardtack and fat pork, sleep like a top and be as fresh as a daisy in the dawn, ready for the trail or the river again.

His first trip on the outward trails was that snowshoe tramp to Temiskaming. He was gone thirty days, took $32 and came back with two in his jeans. His first work as a result of this was a series of illustrations of Iroquois Indians done for Harper's Weekly. In 1894 he was sent by Harper's Weekly on a jaunt around Lake Manitoba and Lake Winnipegosis; a year later up with Caspar Whitney to the Barren Grounds—though an accident and a lame back kept him from getting there.



ARTHUR HEMING.

Four years later Heming hit the trail with J. W. Tyrrell to the Rockies. Tyrrell had the job of running the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia south to Crow's Nest; and it was a result of this trip that Heming got a fine series of mountain-life sketches, before he had ever heard much of Thompson Seton. Remington was at first the sort of artist that he took for his model; and when he got into his gait sketching the wild life of the hintermost trails he had an ambition to do for Canada something what Remington did for the United States. It was in 1899 that he illustrated "Mooswa," the animal story by W. A. Fraser, running in The Saturday Evening Post. And "Mooswa" was his first serial work in the animal line. It got him the entree to New York publishing houses; took him down to the big town that has swallowed up so many talented Canadians, and, with a view to getting more art education than practical work could give him, he went into the Art Students' League—half of each day, however, spent in the class of Walter Appleton Clark, from whom he learned much.—Augustus Bridle in The Globe.

Catarrhal Deafness

Successfully Treated By

Catarrhozone

Deafness is not so common as blindness, yet thousands are more or less afflicted by it, and their comfort seriously interfered with.

Catarrhal deafness manifests itself but slowly, yet it must be acknowledged that the great majority of those who become totally deaf might have averted this unfortunate condition if they had treated the catarrhal inflammation at its beginning.

The only remedy that can be safely employed for all forms of catarrhal deafness is Catarrhozone. You simply charge the air you breathe with this healing, soothing agent, and by forcing it gently through the ears destroy the germ life which keeps up the inflammation, and at the same time by the soothing, healing action it heals the inflamed surfaces of the middle ear.

CATARRHOZONE, to those who are just a little deaf, and are growing increasingly deaf, is an agent capable of affording the utmost satisfaction, and its use is attended without danger, and as the treatment can be carried on at home no person threatened with the affliction of deafness should postpone one moment in beginning its use.

From every part of the Dominion glowing accounts of the beneficial action it exerts upon catarrhal conditions of the middle ear have been sent in, and you will be resorting to the only method of cure, and the simplest method too, if you try Catarrhozone. Dealers everywhere sell it, 25c, 50c, and $1.00. By mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

She Didn't Get It.

"There is a certain book in the library that I want," said Mrs. Sillyone to the librarian of 40,000 volumes. "I can't remember the title or the name of the author, but it is a book of probably 300 or 400 pages, and it is bound in dark green and the title is in gold letters on it.

"It is a story of a nobleman who discovers, after he has married a lady of wealth and title, that he is a changeling and that a certain blacksmith in the town is the real nobleman. A friend of mine has read it, and she is very anxious to have me read it.

"As I say, I can't remember the title of the book or the name of the author, but it is a book of about average size, and I wish that you would get it for me as quick as you can, for my husband is waiting for me in our car out in front of the library, and it always irritates him to be kept waiting. I'd like the book right away, please."—Judge.

A DILEMMA

A Story of the Paris Commune

By LOUISE REVERE

At the fall of the second empire of France, when Napoleon III was dethroned, the communists of Paris took possession of the city. They comprised that element which brought about the reign of terror during the French uprising against the Bourbons in the previous century, only the former revolutionists were led by a mingling of patriots and demagogues, while the latter were led by impractical idealists.

Among these commune leaders was a young artist, Gaston Boyer, who was as much of a poet as an artist. There is something fascinating in the enthusiasm of these dreamers who would bring about a Eutopia. At any rate, Boyer was much beloved by all who knew him. Mlle. Adele Boivissant, a person of very different ideas from him, met and fell in love with him and, her love being returned, after their engagement did all she could to eradicate his wild notions.

However, at the first movement of the commune in 1870 Boyer threw himself into it and became the captain of one of the bands or companies in that force which obtained the control of Paris. For several days they held the power to inaugurate any governmental system they chose and had they begun to lay the foundations for such a system would undoubtedly have held it longer. But, having reached a point where their dreams must either become a realization or fall to pieces, like the wave that trembles before it breaks, the communists, not knowing what to do with their power, remained inactive, let it fall and went down with it to their ruin.

During the last struggle with those who were striving to place France again under a governing power Gaston Boyer was dangerously wounded. Being nearer the residence of his fiancee than his own home, he told those who were dragging him from the clutch of the victors to carry him there. They did so. Mlle. Boivissant received him and, finding that he was bleeding profusely, hurried out to secure the services of a surgeon.

This was just preceding that slaughter of communists which was the most pitiful accompaniment of any modern revolution. The prisons were filled with them, and in groups they were taken out into the yards, placed with their faces against a wall and shot down without mercy. In the general massacre even children were made to suffer with the rest. This method of destroying anarchy is a bloody page in the history of government.

Gaston Boyer, fighting desperately and holding his men together at the barricade he defended, was a marked man to his enemies. The officer who led a battalion of infantry against him when he took the barricade sent Lieutenant Bertrand with a file of men to get possession of the communist who had given them so much trouble. Bertrand had to fight his way after those who were carrying Boyer, but managed to keep them in sight and saw them bear him into the home of his fiancee. Entering the house, the lieutenant found a surgeon there with instruments pertaining to his profession in his hands, but no one else.

"How now, M. le Docteur?" exclaimed the lieutenant. "What are you doing here without a single patient when so many wounded men are needing your attention elsewhere?"

"I was just going out to serve the poor fellows when you entered."

"That story will not go down with me. A wounded communist has been carried here, one of the most stubborn of the lot. It is evident that you have been treating him. Where is he?"

"If you think there is any one here you want all you have to do is to search the house."

"And so I will."

Bertrand sent his men up and down stairs, instructing them to ransack every corner, while he reserved for himself a bedroom out of which he had seen the doctor coming when he entered the house. He opened a closet door, looked behind a lounge and lifted the valence of a bed. From the latter place he dragged forth Mlle. Boivissant, trembling like a leaf and pale as death.

Now the searcher by this discovery was thrown off the scent at the moment when he was within a few feet of the man he sought. Boyer had been carried into the room and, at the moment the surgeon, who had just arrived, was attempting to stop the flow of blood from the communist's wound, there came up the sound of armed men below.

"Heavens!" exclaimed Adele. "What shall we do?"

"There is but one hope," said the surgeon. "Let me lift him under the bed. Possibly they may not think of looking there for a brave man."

With help Boyer got under the bed. Then the surgeon suggested that Adele go under it with him and hold a towel up against the wound to stanch the flow of blood with the hope of preserving her lover from death. She succeeded in doing so, and at the same moment the surgeon passed out of the room.

"There is a game here," said the lieutenant. "Doubtless, mademoiselle, you are concealing a lover, but I am at a loss to understand why you should conceal yourself."

Adele stood shivering, but made no reply. She expected every moment that Bertrand would look under the bed. But small things will often turn the course of events. The finding of a girl instead of a man directed the course of the searcher's thoughts in a different channel. He had had no thought of finding a badly wounded man under the bed. He had looked there as a timid woman would do the same thing, not expecting to find a burglar, but to satisfy herself that no burglar is there. A puzzle occupied the lieutenant's mind. Why had the girl hid from him?

"Do you know where the communist who was carried in here is to be found?" he asked Adele.

A still more important problem than the one that occupied Bertrand's mind confronted Adele. If she denied knowing what he asked he would continue his search. She might say that her lover had been spirited away. In that case Bertrand would force her into showing him where he had been taken. This might save Boyer from being shot, but he would likely bleed to death. What should she do? She must take a risk. The surgeon knew his patient's condition, and there was a possibility that he would see her leave the premises with the soldiers and go to Boyer's rescue. All this flashed through Adele's brain instantaneously. She resolved to cling to the one chance. She admitted that she knew of the communist's whereabouts. Cocking his pistol, the officer pointed it at her and told her to show him the way. "He can't have gone far," he added, "in his condition."

"No," gasped Adele mechanically—"not far!"

She led him downstairs and out through a back door into a yard that opened on an alley way. While doing so she looked about her to see if there was any one in the house who would care for her wounded lover. Not a soul appeared. The fighting in the neighborhood had scared all away. She hoped she might catch a glimpse of the surgeon, but he was nowhere to be seen. Doubtless he had gone out and was ministering to other wants than those of the man upstairs alone under the bed. The poor girl was taking the only chance to save her lover's life, but she was oppressed with the thought that she was leaving him to die alone.

In the yard she stood still, not knowing just what to do. She looked up at the rear of the dwellings on either side of the house she had left, hoping she might see some one to whom she might communicate by sign a request to go in and succor her lover. But the attention of all was upon the street, where the firing had not yet ceased, and had she seen any one how could she make him understand?

"Lead on!" thundered the lieutenant, aiming to terrify her.

Adele went through the opening leading out to the alley and, turning, passed to the street. There she was about to lead the officer farther when he stopped her.

"It is absurd for you to try to make me believe that a wounded man would be carried so far. This fellow is doubtless very near, and you know it. Take me to him or I will blow out your brains."

He looked at her so fiercely that she was half inclined to believe he would. But just then there was a rattle of musketry very near them, and a crowd of communists came running past them wild with terror. Adele was knocked off her feet and, getting up, yielded to a desperate resolve. Without looking for Bertrand she joined the communists in their mad flight.

Having escaped from the officer, she went around the block and into a house near her own, from whence she sent a messenger to learn if it would be safe for her to go home. The messenger came back and reported that the house was deserted. Taking the risk of Bertrand's having returned to seek her, she went home and looked under the bed where she had left her lover. He was not there.

She was encouraged. It was likely that help had come to him, and yet he might have been discovered and carried away to prison. Going downstairs she was about to leave the house when the surgeon entered. She stood looking at him in an agony of suspense.

"He is saved," he said, "and by your presence of mind."

"How?"

"I lurked near till I saw you go out with the officer. Then, summoning assistance, we carried the wounded man through the yard after you had left it to a house, where I succeeded in taking up the artery through which blood was escaping and stopped the bleeding. Come, I will lead you to him."

When the massacre of communists was over and Paris had settled down under the republic, one morning a wedding party entered the Church of the Madeleine. The groom was Gaston Boyer and the bride Adele Boivissant. There was now no danger for either. After the ceremony the couple departed for Brittany, where the artist resumed his legitimate work.

One feature of Paris since the temporary triumph of communism has changed. The east front of the historic palace of the Tuilleries is not there. But the fountains play and the children sport in the garden where it stood. Yet the reign of kings and the reign of emperors have ended. A republic that has taken their place has lasted forty years. But where is that Eutopia, the commune? It lived in the minds of its votaries for many years to be lifted at last on to its pedestal. But it had no sooner been placed there than it fell of its own weight. Alas, for the brave men and women and children who paid for their vision with their lives.

DIABETES

Sanol's Antidiabetes, the great discovery of a German Specialist, is the only practical and thoroughly tested Remedy for Diabetes-mellitus. It has a specific action against the poisons of the disease, and by its use the secretion of sugar almost immediately abates and disappears altogether after a short time. So long as the disease has not reached its last stages, a cure can be effected with "Sanol's Antidiabetes."

Open wounds heal after a little time, the disagreeable thirst disappears, after a few days the general health of the patient becomes speedily improved.

Sanol's Antidiabetes is used with an alternate diet regimen based on long experience in the study of this disease.

All sufferers from this terrible and hitherto considered incurable disease, should not hesitate to give "Sanol's Antidiabetes" a trial, as we feel absolutely certain that it will justify all the claims we make for it.

This remedy is perfectly harmless to the organic system, being composed only of herbs and extracts, and containing no poisonous or injurious matter whatever.

Jack Frost's Master
McCLARY'S
"Sunshine" Furnace

Jack Frost had the time of his life last winter. He warred against all elements and froze them stiff. Lakes and rivers he turned into solids; he also put a razor-like edge on the wind. He even bit into steel rails making them as brittle as burned glass. Outside, Jack reigned supreme, but his chilly majesty was licked to a frazzle inside by "The Understudy of the Sun"—McClary's "Sunshine" Furnace.

Think of the past winter when the mercury swung timidly below the freezing point—not for a day or a week, but for months at a time. How you shovelled coal, and how you talked about the appetite of that poor old furnace in the cellar. It simply ate up coal and then fell down when it came to heating the house evenly and comfortably.

McClary's "Sunshine" Furnace makes the most of very little fuel, and distributes a much greater percentage of heat throughout house than the ordinary furnace.

Ashes cannot bank up between the active fire and the walls of the Fire-pot in the "Sunshine" Furnace. It is an absolute guarantee of balmy June weather in the home, when Jack Frost's icy garments are jingling in the Arctic cold without. That's why the "Sunshine" is called "The Ice King's Master." The "Sunshine" Furnace is an excellent investment—It will last a life-time with ordinary care—and return you a handsome interest on the investment every year by the actual saving it effects.

Now, we want you to do us a favor—we want you to call on the McClary agent and ask him to prove every claim we make for the "Sunshine" Furnace—ask him to prove every claim true.

Ask him to show you—The fuel-saving features of the "Sunshine" — The mechanical reasons which make balmy healthy June weather possible in the home when Jack Frost is in his element without—Why the "Sunshine" saves money which other furnaces burn up, and—Why the largest makers of furnaces in the British Empire so amply and so fearlessly guarantee the "Sunshine"—The Understudy of the Sun.

Your decision will please us and pay you. If you don't know the McClary agent, write us at our nearest address.

Non-Pickable Pocket.

A non-pickable pocket is the latest English invention. Jewelry and valuables, it is claimed by the inventor, can be carried in this pocket without the slightest fear of robbery by pickpockets. The pocket can be applied alike to coat, vest or trousers, but more particularly to the latter.

The device consists of a separate pocket beneath the ordinary trousers pocket. The under pocket has its opening normally closed by press buttons or other fastenings, which are concealed by a flap stitched to the pocket opening.

This is arranged to be tucked away inside the first or ordinary pocket, to the lower side of which it is secured by other fastenings. The outer portion of the flap is made of similar material to the garment, which presents the appearance of having, in the case of trousers, an ordinary side seam pocket.

Bring Windsor Castle Up-to-Date.

A new suite of apartments for the Prince of Wales has been prepared recently at Windsor Castle. The provision of these rooms is part of an extensive scheme of alterations and improvements which is now approaching realization. Notable among the improvements are developments in keeping with the spirit of the times. So comprehensive are the changes that it is now considered that little structural alteration will be necessary for some years to come.

WHY SHOULD NOT OLD PEOPLE RETAIN THEIR YOUTHFUL VIGOR

No Reason Why Men And Women Of Sixty, Seventy And Eighty Should Not Be Well—The Secret Of Happy Old Age

"Fruit-a-tives", The Famous Medicine Made Of Fresh Fruit Juices, Again Proves Its Great Value In Curing Kidney Trouble.

Old age pays the cost of living. Few men and women of fifty, sixty and seventy are free of Kidney Trouble. Hard work, mental strain and general debility, tell in the long run. And many men and women show they have Kidney Trouble by suffering with pain in the back, headaches, rheumatism, sciatica, bladder disease.

To such people "Fruit-a-tives" has proved one of the wonders of the age—and the most remarkable discovery of the century in modern medical science. This fruit medicine has performed hundreds of cures where the sufferer had been told that the case was incurable.

Take, for instance, Mr. Geo. W. Barkley, a prosperous farmer and one of the leading citizens of Dundas County, Ontario.

At seventy-six, he is the picture of health—with the vigorous actions and the sprightly step of a man of fifty.

Yet for twenty years, he suffered with Kidney Trouble. He took "Fruit-a-tives" and it cured him.

CHESTERVILLE, ONT., JAN. 25th, 1911

"For over twenty years I have been troubled with Kidney Disease, and the doctors told me they could do me no good, and said I would be a sufferer all the rest of my life. Nearly a year ago, I tried "Fruit-a-tives". I have been using them all the time since and am glad to say that I am cured. I give "Fruit-a-tives" the credit of doing what the doctors said was impossible."

GEO. W. BARKLEY.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit, and is the only one that acts directly on the kidneys. It cures. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50 or trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

ASKING FOR DEATH.

Requests From Prisoners Which Stagger the Judge.

At the Norwich (Eng.) Assizes in the last week in January a prisoner, accused of the murder of his child, bluntly asked Mr. Justice Channell to pass the sentence of death upon him without a trial. The man pleaded guilty, and refused the judge's offer for counsel to defend him. Naturally, both the judge and jury, and not less the crowd in court, were astounded at such a request from the dock; yet the man was firm in his desire to be at once sentenced to the direst penalty known to the law.

In these rare cases a certain course is taken, and this course Mr. Justice Channell took. Medical witnesses were summoned to testify as to the condition of the prisoner's mind. Though there was a conflict in that evidence, it was found that the accused was in a fit state of mind to plead, and on that finding the only course open to the judge was to pass the sentence which the man himself had asked for.

Though extremely unusual, it is not unprecedented for a man to comport himself in the dock as this man. At Liverpool Assizes in the summer of last year a man accused of a sordid crime faced the judge with a very determined request, often repeated, to be at once sentenced to death without the long ordeal of a trial. He refused to be considered otherwise than as guilty, or to set up any defence or extenuation of his deed. Yet the doctor specially summoned to assist the judge with his expert testimony assured his lordship that the rationality of the man was beyond question. Ultimately the judge had to do as the prisoner had requested.

Almost as surprising, if not in exactly the same category, was the staggering request made to the late Mr. Justice Grantham at the Central Criminal Court, London, last year. A man named Charles Arthur actually asked the judge to order him what even the most hardened criminals dread—the "cat." Notwithstanding this request was made to escape some of the sentence of imprisonment for life passed upon him for shooting at a police constable—he asked the judge to give him a short term of imprisonment and liberal punishment with the "cat," in preference to the life sentence—it was a most surprising request, and has probably not been paralleled in an English court of law. It was not granted.

Oddities of Welsh.

The quite erroneous idea that Welsh is a language of consonants probably arises from the number of w's it contains, according to a Welshman in The London News. "W" in Welsh is generally—and always between two consonants—a pure vowel, sounded like "oo" in English. Thus "cwm" is pronounced "koom," rhyming with "boom." What is really one of the most remarkable features about the Welsh language is the number of vowels which can come together. In English three vowels in succession are not often met with. In Welsh it is not uncommon to find four or five—e.g., in "ilywiadwr" (governor). Here each of the five vowels "ywlaw" is pronounced separately in rapid succession. Here are four lines, consisting entirely of vowels, made by Goronwy Owen in the eighteenth century:

O'i wiw wy a weuse,
Ineau o ia, ai e ly?
Ienau o ia, ai e ly?
A'i au i wau ei we wyw?

CURIOSITIES OF BREEDING.

English Biological Expert Makes Important Discoveries.

It is quite a common belief that if the pure bred mate with the pure bred the progeny is bound to be pure. Such a result, however, does not naturally follow,, and many breeders particularly of fowls, have been puzzled to account for the various species which arise from parents of pure breed. Take, for instance, the case of the blue Andalusian fowl. If two birds of this strain are mated, it will be found that besides the blue birds which hatch out there will be a certain number of blacks and of whites with occasional black points.

Again, if the blues thus produced are mated together, blacks and whites will again appear among their offspring, and no amount of breeding from the blues alone will rid them of the black and white blood, which will crop out at every generation, although blue birds only are mated every time.

As a matter of fact, when blue Andalusians are mated together, according to Mr. A. D. Darbishire, the English expert, in his book, "Breeding and the Mendelian Discovery," birds of three types of color are produced in the three following proportions one black, two blue Andalusians, and one white in every four birds, on the average. And while the whites are found to breed true, the Andalusians, when mated together again, produce these three types in the same proportion.

On the other hand, the result of crossing a black and a white bird is a blue Andalusian, and the blue birds obtained in this way, when mated together, produce a generation of fowls again consisting of about one black, two blues, and one white in four.

This phenomenon of breeding forms one of the most striking illustrations of what is known as the Mendelian theory—i.e., the doctrine that in the second and later generations of a hybrid the combinations of the parent character occur in a definite proportion.

Here is another remarkable instance of recurrence in breeding which Mr. Darbishire cites. As every fowl-keeper knows, one of the characteristics which distinguish the various breeds of poultry is the form of the comb. The commonest type of comb is known as the single comb, with flat sides and the edge marked with deep indentations. Another type, which characterizes the Wyandottes, is known as the "rose" comb; a third type as the "pea" comb; while a fourth is known as the "walnut" comb, which only occurs in the Malays. If a fowl with a "pea" comb is mated with one having a "rose" comb, the resulting hybrids have "walnut" combs, and when these hybrids are mated together the generation produced has the following remarkable composition—nine "walnut" combs, three "rose" combs, three "pea" combs, and one single, although no single was put into the cross.

To Help Caddies.

HAUNTS OF CRIMINALS

EACH VARIETY OF VICE HAS ITS CENTRE IN LONDON.

The Blackmailers Confine Their Activities to the West End, the Boarding-House Crook Works In Bloomsbury and Hampstead, While Watch-snatchers Operate In Somers Town—"Snuffers" of Thames-side.

London is a city where crime has its peculiar centres.

For instance, blackmailers conduct their operations from the West End. You seldom find them in the East End.

The man who preys on boarding-house keepers by means of a fictitious title, a spoof foreign decoration, or a worthless check, operates in Bloomsbury and Hampstead.

In Somers Town you will find the "buzzer," or watch-snatcher, in Hoxton the "smasher," or maker of false coin, in Shadwell, by the Thames side, the "snuffer" gangs who rob drunken sailors.

The neighborhood of the Euston road is the haunt of men who steal luggage from the tops of four-wheelers, and who reap rich harvests.

Many criminals, of course, are compelled by circumstances to operate from various points of the metropolitan compass. The pillar-box thief engaged to-day perhaps in Tooting may visit West Ham to-morrow; the case of the area sneak is a like one. And the forger, the shoplifter, the pickpocket, and the card-sharper are people whom no particular quarter can claim as its own.

Humble crime has its humble haunts. Take a stroll through the East End any night; observe the large number of small shops where sweets, and hot drinks, and ice cream, and other things which appeal to the juvenile palate east of Aldgate pump are sold. These shops are well lighted, and there is a certain air of attractiveness about them. In almost all you will find gangs of youths, ranging in age from 14 to 18 years.

Some of these establishments are perfectly proper and well conducted. Others are nurseries of crime.

What happens? One night, a van or errand boy comes in flush of money; he is, as his companions say, quite "swanky." At last he tells the secret of it. By some trick, as likely as not, the familiar bird-lime trick, he has stolen a few shillings from the till of a shop kept by an old woman. He excites envy and admiration. His confidants want to go and do likewise. They meet next night, plan a raid, and agree to share the spoil.

As I have said, the Thames side "snuffer" gang plan and carry out their crimes at Shadwell. In the bar of a low public-house they await their victims—the sailor, recently paid off, who has already been having a good time on shore, and enters towards closing time. The new-comer is invited to drink; and presently one of his new friends deftly slips some snuff into his beer. The sailor feels drowsy, he is led from the house to some deserted spot near the side of the river, and there pinioned and robbed of all he possesses.

Shoplifting is often one of the most carefully-planned of crimes. One of the most expert "hoists" living told me that she hired a brougham and a footman to pursue her calling, and yet made it pay handsomely. Once she had the audacity to lunch in a West End establishment from another part of which she had stolen a sealskin coat priced at seventy guineas.

Spurious coins, made in a little back room in Hoxton by a man who used to be one of the cleverest silversmiths in Clerkenwell, are passed by a man and a woman, both well-dressed. The woman's purse contains a good stock of genuine money and only one "snide" (base) coin. She visits shops, by preference those kept by elderly women, tenders the spurious coin for a small article, and is ready to protest her innocence indignantly should the fraud be discovered. If it succeeds she rejoins her companion, takes his arm, receives from him another bad coin, and repeats the operation described until her stock of bad money is exhausted. She is called a 'snide pitcher."

Picking pockets is another organized crime carried on in London to an extent which is by no means realized. There are places where the whole art is taught. Half a dozen children are gathered in a room. The instructor, sometimes a man and sometimes a woman, sets up a dummy figure, and on this the youngsters are given their first lessons. The figure is fitted with springs, and the touching of one of these when the hand is in the pocket rings a bell. Clumsiness is punished by a thrashing. When the children are considered efficient they are sent into the streets under the watchful eye of a custodian to try their luck. And from pickpockets they invariably degenerate into something worse.

In a dark room behind a little shop in Whitechapel we may make a hurried acquaintance with another criminal who flourishes and waxes fat without running an abnormal risk—the burglars' "fence." You can get into his den only by rapping in a mysterious fashion on a shuttered door which opens on to a narrow court at the back of the premises. The "fence" pays wretchedly small prices to the thieves, who are more or less at his mercy.

And it is amazing, considering the huge number of customers with which a "fence" deals, that he is not more often given away to the police. Some of these men defy the law for years. I remember an old convict telling me that the "fence" to whom he disposed of the proceeds of a robbery he had committed, got a hint that the police "knew something," placed the "swag" in a watertight vessel and dropped it into the Thames. He had a thin but strong wire attached to it, and when official suspicion was lulled he recovered his treasure, and disposed of it in Hamburg.

Max as Story Teller.

"The eternal progression of the imperishable soul," was one of a number of fine phrases let fall in the course of Mr. Max Pemberton's lecture on "Literature and Travel," given recently in London.

Illustrating insular ignorance the lecturer told of a countryman who was shown some kangaroos at the Zoo. "What are these?" he asked. "Natives of Australia," was the reply. "Oh, heavens!" he exclaimed, "my sister married one of them!"

An American lady who professed to be a reader said she knew Scott well. "Do you know 'Ivanhoe'?" asked a dour Scott. "That's fine!" she said. "'The Lady of the Lake'?" "Still better." "'Quentin Durward'?" "A great book." "Scott's Emulsion?" "The finest of them all!"

The following story was told by a judge to Mr. Pemberton just before he came to the City Temple. Two ladies being in Warwick Prison, the governor visited the cells, and said to one of the prisoners: "Of course, you will have to observe all the conventions of the prison." "Yes," she said, "but I wish to make a communication." She was told she must make it in writing. She replied: "It is an urgent communication, and I wish to make it before a witness." The governor sent for the chaplain and the doctor. When they were all in the cell, the prisoner said: "I want to tell you that no gentlemen comes into a lady's room with his hat on!"

No Gas
No Dust
Supplies home with pure warm air.
Fused joints cannot leak.

Heating a Home Properly is Something More Than Raising the Temperature. The air must be pure as well as warm. The health of your family demands it. An odor of gas is not only unpleasant but is a menace to the health. Fine coal dust floating in the air is just as bad.

¶ The HECLA Furnace is absolutely gas and dust proof. The Joints, which in other Furnaces are made with bolts and cement, are fused in the HECLA. This process welds the cast-iron and steel into a solid one-piece construction.

¶ Expansion and contraction cannot spread the fused joint. Even after 20 years of service, the joints in the HECLA will be found perfectly tight. The fumes from the fire cannot find an opening. The air in the living rooms is always pure and healthful.

HECLA FURNACE

For Coal and Wood

Ribbed Fire-Pot

Saves one ton in Seven

This healthful heating costs less than ordinary warm air heating. The fire-pot of the HECLA is steel ribbed to radiate the heat rapidly. This, by actual test, makes a saving of 13⅓%, or one ton of coal in seven.

Do you want to give more thought to the heating of your home?

GOMEZ SAYS HE REQUIRES NO HELP TO CONTROL REBELLION

He Sends a Conciliatory Message to President Taft to the Effect That He Can Deal With the Negro Insurrection and Has Already Sent 3,000 Men to the Scene—His Tone Is Respectful, But Firm.

Havana, May 27.—President Gomez yesterday sent a cablegram to President Taft, in which he protests in friendly but firm terms, against intervention by the United States.

"It is my duty to say that so serious a resolution alarms and hurts the feelings of a people who love and are jealous of their independence," he says, after reciting that he had received from U. S. Minister Beaupre, a note informing him that the Washington Government had ordered a gunboat to Nipe Bay, and a strong naval concentration at Key West, in anticipation of possible eventualities, and also, in the event that the Cuban Government was unable to protect American property, it was the intention to land forces for that purpose.

President Gomez says the Government is doing its utmost, having within four days sent 3,000 troops by land and sea to crush the rebels in Oriente and, in that short time, having restored order in all parts of the island with that exception. He also says that 9,000 rifles with ammunition, have been distributed to loyal citizens, and that the Government is prepared to flood the comparatively small disturbed section with regulars and volunteers.

"I appeal to you," he continues, "as a loyal friend of Cuba, respecting her rights, that you will be convinced that this Government is capable and sufficiently supported by the valor and patriotism of the Cuban people to deal promptly with a few unfortunate and misguided persons without reason or flag.

"If you understand these conditions, you will perceive that it is not the part of a friendly Government to contribute, under such circumstances, to the embarrassment of a Government and people such as those of Cuba, placed, it is true, in unfortunate conditions, but not lacking in methods, patriotism and courage."

Up to a late hour last night President Gomez had received no reply to this message.

Preparing for Eventualities.

Washington, May 27.—Private despatches to the State Department during Friday night, all agreed that the negro revolutionary movement in Cuba was hourly growing more serious.

The Washington Government, it can be stated, is preparing for eventualities, but will wait another day or two before sending any more marines or troops to the island. The Cuban Government will be given adequate time to demonstrate its ability or inability to clear out at least a part of the revolution before the American forces now en route to Guantanamo are augmented.

The plans for increasing the armed forces of the United States in Cuba, it is carefully pointed out here, do not contemplate intervention. The troops would be used merely as a protective force.

Negroes Attack Plantations.

Santiago, Cuba, May 27.—A strong band of armed and mounted negroes Saturday morning attacked the plantation of Si Silo, about 15 miles from this city and carried off all the horses, provisions, etc.

The Government is despatching troops from here to Guantanamo. Steamers have been chartered for the purpose, on account of the complete interruption of the railroad.

Recruiting Being Rushed.

Havana, May 27.—Recruiting has continued throughout the morning with increased rapidity. It is noticeable that very few negroes are offering to enlist.

A column of volunteer veterans is about to depart for the Province of Oriente under the command of Gen. Emilio Nunez, president of the Veterans' Association, and it will probably number 1,000 men, who, however, will be materially strengthened by recruits on the way.

Secretary of the Interior Laredo Bru declared that the Government fully expected soon to receive most favorable reports from the front.

MILL FALLS INTO RIVER

Milwood, Man., May 27.—The Cartwright flour mill, valued at $20,000, and just bought last week by the Big Four Milling Co. of Sheldon, Iowa, is a total wreck and its ruins are floating down the Assiniboine River as a result of the washout in the dam. The only thing left of the big mill property is a small power house on the dam and the elevator that stood east of the mill.

Three or four days ago the river started to overflow between the power house and mill. No one had arrived representing the new owners. At 8 o'clock Friday evening water began to undermine the mill in torrents, tearing away all the foundations, and at six o'clock Saturday morning the five-storey structure with its entire contents toppled over into the river, taking with it a two-storey brick building containing a boiler, engine and pump.

First Lashing at Kingston.

Kingston, May 27.—Frederick Rowe is the first man to receive the lash at the county jail here. Recently he was sentenced to one month and ten lashes for attempting an indecent assault on a little girl. Saturday he was given the lashes.

Lake Erie Bonds Sold.

Brantford, May 27.—Announcement has been made here that bonds of the Lake Erie and Northern Railway Co. to the amount of $1,100,000 have been sold in Montreal on condition that $500,000 of the debenture stock is subscribed. Of this amount the directors of the company, Lloyd Harris, Henry Cockshutt, J. Muir, R. Thompson and J. A. Sanderson, have subscribed $275,000 and the municipalities which will be benefited by the line to Port Dover will be asked to subscribe the balance, Brantford's share being $125,000, and Port Dover, Simcoe, Galt and Paris $25,000 each.

Bylaws will be submitted in all of these places on the issue. Officials state that the success of the enterprise is assured. The new road will be an electric traction line.

TAXICAB SQUAD FOR NEW YORK

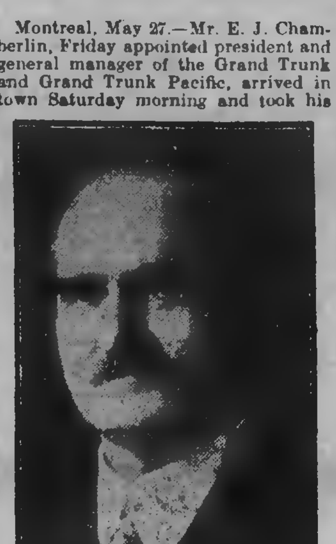
MR. HAYS' POLICY TO BE CONTINUED

Montreal, May 27.—Mr. E. J. Chamberlin, Friday appointed president and general manager of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific, arrived in town Saturday morning and took his place in the offices formerly occupied by the late Charles M. Hays, whom he succeeds.



MR. E. J. CHAMBERLIN.

Mr. Chamberlin said that the policy adopted by Mr. Hays would be continued, which would mean that the G.T.P. would be completed by 1914.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL HAD GOOD YEAR

London, May 27.—Saturday's sessions of the National Council of Women were taken up with the reports of officers.

The report of the national secretary, Mrs. Cummings, contained a summary of work of the year. The encouragement given by the press and that of prominent men and women was acknowledged. It was hoped that a campaign would soon be begun for the purpose of establishing new councils wherever possible.

The announcement was made that Lady Taylor and Mrs. Boomer had been appointed international vice-presidents at the international council meeting in Sweden. The photo of the Countess Grey had been received by the council, together with the request to keep her posted in its work.

Among the matters laid before Parliament through the council were the question of universal penny postage, a request before the Minister of the Interior for the appointment of matrons on the Indian reserves for the purpose of teaching the Indian women the principles of sanitation and hygiene and other household arts.

The council had also joined the associated charities of Winnipeg and Toronto in a petition to the Minister of Justice for certain changes in the law regarding wife desertion and non-support and had joined the social and moral council in a petition for several needed changes in the criminal code. In every instance the Government promised earnest consideration.

The treasurer's report showing a balance of $1,356.72 was received with enthusiasm followed by a motion made to make Miss H. M. Hill, to whose efforts the balance was due, a life member of the council. The motion was carried.

SIXTY-TWO MEN UNABLE TO UPSET LIFEBOAT

TESTING THE STABILITY OF THE LUNDIN DOUBLE-DECK LIFE-BOAT WITH SIXTY-TWO MEN ON BOARD.

Hundreds of highly interested spectators watched the tests of a lifeboat in the East River, New York, under the supervision of State and federal officers and army officers. The craft was the Lundin decked lifeboat, built by the Welland Quadrant & Lane De Groot Company, whose office force supplied the supposedly shipwrecked crew and passengers. Under orders they performed as nearly like maniacs as possible in efforts to upset the boat. There were sixty-two persons in it, and when they all sat on one side and leaned out over the water the failure of the boat to turn turtle or even to dip its loaded gunwale into the choppy East River waters made an impression.

WALLACE NESBITT ARGUES THE MARRIAGE QUESTION BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Special to the Review.

Ottawa, May 27.—Argument began to-day before the Supreme Court and may last all week as to whether the Federal Parliament has the power to pass such legislation as the Lancaster Marriage Bill, which provides that any marriage performed by any authorized person, shall be valid without regard to the religion of the principals or officiating officer. After Mr Newcombe, Deputy Minister of Justice, presented to the Court reasons for this reference, and council for the Province of Quebec had entered an objection to the jurisdiction of the Court, Wallace Nesbitt addressed the court in support of the Lancaster Bill, quoting authorities to show marriage is a civil contract.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK FELT AT TORONTO AND HAMILTON

Special to the Review.

Toronto, May 27—An earthquake shock was felt here shortly before eight o'clock this morning, but was so light that many indoors at the time did not notice it. At Hamilton, the shock was more noticeable, solid brick houses being shaken, dishes knocked off shelves and pictures on walls were displaced. It was also felt some distance in the surrounding country. At the observatory, the seismagraph recorded a quick shock lasting several seconds, about eight minutes before 8 o'clock. The fact that the shock was more violent around Hamilton indicates a result of some formation of the Hamilton mountain, similar tremors quite frequently felt in Quebec, having their origin in the Laurentian Mountains.

CHANGED COURSE OF ARCTIC STREAM CAUSED THE WRECK

Strange Phenomenon Explains Titanic Disaster.

Halifax, N.S., May 27.—Captain P. C. Johnson, Dominion Government inspector of lighthouses, who was in charge of the expedition sent out on the Government steamer Montmagny in search of Titanic bodies, reports a remarkable discovery made at the scene of the Titanic wreck, which he believes accounts for the disaster.

This is a change in the Arctic current, which thereby formed a great pocket of cold water within the usual course of the gulf stream. This change was not known to Captain Smith and, Captain Johnson says, explains why he did not avoid ice of which he was warned. The apex of the cold water pocket, where warm water ordinarily is, was, he found, at latitude 41 n., longitude 50 w.

Captain Johnson, who had the charts before him as he spoke of the discovery, said:

"After making a careful examination of the currents, I am convinced that Captain Smith after receiving warning of the ice took precautions which ordinarily would have saved the ship, but that from this unusual phenomenon she was lost.

"The Arctic current from some unaccountable reason, possibly prevailing winds in the vicinity of the Titanic, was driven into the gulf stream for at least a hundred miles.

"In crossing into this cold water from the gulf stream Captain Smith would get a temperature of sixty at the stern and forty-eight at the bow of his ship. I believe from my observations that this pocket of cold water forced into the gulf stream by the Arctic current is responsible for Captain Smith allowing his ship to strike the iceberg. Instead of following westward on the steamship lane which is used unless there is some great reason for doing otherwise, he changed his course when he received the ice warnings, going to the south and at the time of the accident was thirty miles south of the usual track."

Captain Johnson is confident that it was this remarkable and unusual contact between the Arctic current and the gulf stream that is responsible for the accident.

Suffers From Lighting Stroke.

Belleville, May 27.—On Victoria Day Capt. James Hunter of this city, while at the wheel of the tug Truda, on Lake Ontario, was struck by lightning, and his condition is serious. He was severely burned about the head, back, shoulder and right arm. He was brought home. The cap and clothing he wore were torn and burned where the electric fluid touched. His escape from being killed is remarkable.

BURLINGTON BAY CANOE TRAGEDY

Hamilton, May 27.—Burlington Bay claimed its first victims this season on Saturday shortly after noon, when Eric and Murray Simmonds, aged respectively 13 and 8 years, were drowned at the beach in ten feet of water, about 75 yards from shore, on the lake side of the sand strings.

The boys were sons of Mr. and Mrs. Carney Simmonds, who until a month ago lived at 67 Waverley road, Toronto. Mr. Simmonds is employed as foreman of the printing department of the Petrie Manufacturing Co. in this city, and removed from Toronto to the Beach about a month ago.

The boys were paddling a canoe and sailing a toy boat in the bay when a few minutes before 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon they were called by their mother for the midday meal. In their haste to recover the toy boat from the water and proceed to the shore, they overturned the canoe, and before help could reach them both sank to the bottom of the bay.

The bodies were both recovered Saturday afternoon by James Hazel, son of Chief Hazel of the Beach, and Charles Homewood, another young man who resides at the Beach.

The remains were taken to Green Bros.' undertaking establishment in the city, and will be shipped to Toronto to-day for burial. The funeral services will be held at St. John's Church, Norway, Monday afternoon.

DR. BEATTIE PAID NO INTEREST

Special to the Review.

Toronto, May 27—W. R. Travers, at the Farmers' Bank enquiry this morning, told Sir William Ralph Meredith that if confronted with the name of the man, who is believed to have received three thousand dollars from the proceeds of the cheque, the stub of which was labelled "C" he would answer "Yes" or "No." This was in reply to the request of the commissioner that in justice to the man described by the Toronto World as "a former prominent politician now in business" he should speak out. He also told the commissioner that nobody interested in the Keeley Mine, ever put up a dollar except the Farmers' Bank, and that he paid Dr. Nesbitt five thousand dollars to whip Geo. Wishart into line to consent to the re-organization of the Keeley Mine Company, and that Nesbitt never put up a cent for interest of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, which was handed to him for an option on the property.

TEMPLE BAND ENJOYED TRIP TO HAMILTON

The Salvation Army Temple Band had a fine trip to Hamilton over the holiday. A concert was given in the Hamilton Temple, Friday night and an open air program on Saturday night. The Sunday services took place at the Y.M.C.A., both bands being heard. Ensign and Mrs Merrett took part in the Sunday services.

WILLIAM PYLE IS NEW UMPIRE

Special to the Review.

Toronto, May 27—President Fitzgerald, this morning announced the appointment of William Pyle as umpire in the Canadian League. He will hold the indicator at St. Thomas to-day, replacing Britcher. Pyle is an old big league pitcher and was also umpire in the International league.

THEY SCORED HOME RULE BILL

Brockville, May 27.—The Grand Lodge of Orange Young Britons concluded their annual convention here Saturday night.

By a unanimous standing vote the grand lodge expressed its opposition to the Irish home rule bill, by the adoption of the following resolution:

"That the Grnad Lodge of Orange Young Britons is strongly opposed to the Irish home rule bill, at present in the British Parliament, and we do hereby extend to the brethren of Ireland our sympathy and assure them of our united support in their struggle to maintain the position under the British flag that our forefathers fought and died for at Derry, Enniskillen and the Boyne."

Strong addresses on the subject were delivered by Past Grand Master Geo. Morrison and Alex. Hall of Toronto, and Rev. F. Dealtry Woodcook, Brockville.

The following officers for 1912-13 were elected and installed: Grand master, Gordon Black, Toronto; deputy grand master, J. W. Lowrie, Russell; junior deputy grand master, Samuel Moffatt, Toronto; grand chaplain, John J. Young, Hamilton; grand secretary, Shelton Hornshaw, Toronto; grand treasurer, T. A. Carscadden, Russell; grand director of ceremonies, A. J. Kissick, Ottawa; grand lecturer, J. A. Dickson, Dundas; deputy grand chaplain, B. Wing, Brockville; deputy grand secretary, T. Ashmore Kidd, Burritt's Rapids; deputy grand treasurer, John Noddle, Todmorden; deputy grand lecturer, S. W. M. Prosser, Kemptville, and G. S. Leach, South Gower; grand auditors, Alex. Hall, Toronto, and Thomas Patterson, Hamilton.

Kemptville beat out Toronto and Ottawa for the next place of meeting.

MONTREAL LEPER TO BE DEPORTED

Ottawa, May 27.—Dr. Bryce, chief medical inspector of immigration, stated Saturday in reference to the case of leprosy at Montreal, that immediate steps were being taken to deport the victim, and that there was no possible danger of the affected man being brought to Ottawa, as was stated in a Montreal despatch.

It is likely that an investigation will be held in the department to ascertain how the leper passed the immigration inspectors.

Doesn't Need New Jersey.

Newark, N.J., May 27.—"I have more than 570 delegates instructed or pledged," shouted President Taft in a speech at Kearney near here, Saturday. "New Jersey is not necessary to my success, but I would be glad to add it. Whether I do or not, I have 570 delegates and there is a Republican National Committee that will do justice and Mr. Roosevelt's nomination is impossible."

UNIONIST MEMBERS PROPOSE MANY AMENDMENTS TO BILL

Proposed Alterations to the Bill Now Handed In Total Twenty-Eight Closely Printed Pages and If All Were Considered It Would Require Another Whole Session to Deal With Them.

London, May 27.—There have already been handed to the clerk of the House of Commons amendments to the home rule bill that fill 28 closely printed pages of the Parliamentary orders of the day. Most of them are in the names of Conservative members, and it would not take the passage of many of them to make the bill as useless as the paper it is printed on. The extreme radical members, on the other hand, aim at giving the Irish Parliament more power and making it more democratic, while some of their nonconformist colleagues would have clauses inserted to safeguard their fellow religionists of Ulster.

With the exception of Laurence Ginnell, a Nationalist with independent leanings, the Irish members have not yet tabled any amendments. Mr. Ginnell's amendments would enlarge the powers of the Irish Parliament, and, like those of the Radicals, make it more democratic.

While months will be spent on the committee stage of the bill, few of the amendments will receive a hearing. The chairman of the committee has the power to choose the amendmkents that will be considered, his decision being made generally after consulting with the leaders of all parties. Were all those already handed in discussed it would take more than one session of Parliament to dispose of them.

Rebels Destroy Bridges.

Rellano, Mexico, (At Gen. Huerta's Headquarters, Federal Troops), May 27.—Confronted once more by a series of burned railroad bridges, Gen. Huerta set his engineers at work Saturday to repair them, at the same time ordering a division of cavalry to pursue the rebels who fled northward after the battle here two days ago.

Every bridge between Rellano and Corratitos is destroyed and the rebels, continuing their flight to Jiminez, destroyed most of the railroad behind them.

Gen. Huerta Friday night said his men had found 800 rebels dead and wounded on the field. He estimated that of the 8,000 men under Gen. Orozco, 2,000 had deserted during the fight.

The federal commander said he took 200 prisoners. His own losses, he asserted, were only ten dead and thirty-eight wounded.

ANOTHER NEGRO IS LYNCHED

Special to the Review.

Nashville, Tenn., May 27—A mob this morning, took Jake Sameuls, a negro, from the officers, and riddled him with bullets. Samuels was charged with assaulting a white woman the wife of a farmer, Saturday night.

MINISTER OF MILITIA WILL OPEN THE FAIR

Col. the Hon Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, was due to arrive in Peterborough on the 4.28 C. P. R. train this afternoon to open the Peterborough Summer Fair to-night. While in the city, the question of a rifle range for Peterborough will be discussed. Everything is in readiness for the opening to-night. The interior of the armories has been completely transformed and the big crowds who will attend are assured of a fine treat.

BARK DEVONIA SMASHED ON ROCKS

Special to the Review.

St. Johns, Nfld., May 27—The bark "Devonia" owned here, lies smashed on rocks off the coast of Brazil according to advices received here. The crew escaped with their lives but the cargo of fish, valued at seventy thousand dollars was lost.

LONDON STRIKE MAY SPREAD THROUGHOUT ALL ENGLAND

Military Parades at Brantford.

Brantford, May 27.—Two militia church parades took place here yesterday afternoon. The Dufferin Rifles, 400 strong, attended Zion Church, where Rev. G. A. Woodside preached. The Brant Dragoons, 200 strong, attended service at St. Jude's Church, where Rural Dean Wright officiated. The appearance of both regiments was excellent.

STORMS RAISE 28 DEAD BODIES

Special to the Review.

New York, May 27— Two severe thunderstorms in the past month have brought to the surface of the North and East rivers, twenty-eight bodies, only half of which have been identified. Information to this effect is given in the report of the harbor squad to Police Commissioner Waldo.

One of the immigrants who arrived to-day, said he liked the appearance of Peterborough. To him it looked like Sheffield, Eng., his native city.

London, May 27.—Dock strikers to the number of 15,000 marched in procession through London streets yesterday. They held a demonstration in Trafalgar Square, and, after speeches by all the labor leaders, they adopted resolutions pledging themselves not to return to work until every grievance was satisfactorily adjusted. Some of the speakers hinted at the probability of a national strike, owing to the fact that vessels might be diverted from the Thames to other ports, and Harry Gosling, the leader of the men, announced that the electricians of the port of London are considering the advisability of joining in the strike. At present, however, there is no actual extension of the strike movement.

A strong feeling exists among the strikers at the employment of clerks to help in the unloading of ships, and at a conference of the National Union of Clerks Saturday, a resolution was adopted against the clerks acting as "blacklegs." No disorders of any kind are reported as yet.

The court of enquiry into the causes of the London strike, under the presidency of Sir Edward Clarke, terminated Saturday evening with a dramatic offer by Harry Gosling, the men's leader, on behalf of the strikers, which may possibly lead to a peace conference.

PROVINCIAL ELECTION MAY SOON BE HELD IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Verdict For $20,000.

Kingston, May 27.—Mrs. Nellie Middleton, New York, visiting the city, the old home of her husband, the late Lewis Middleton, has been notified that the jury before Supreme Court Justice Gavegan, has returned a verdict of $20,000 in a suit brought by Mrs. Middleton against the Third Avenue Railway Co., for the death of her husband. The street railway counsel regarded the plaintiff's case so weak that no defence was put in, and the verdict was a great surprise.

Middleton was a passenger on the car and was taken ill. The conductor thought he was drunk, but as he was of respectable appearance did not remove him, and plaintiff claimed negligence. The deceased suffered from apoplexy, and died next day. He was a brother of Miss Kate Middleton, who died a few days ago in Toronto.

David Goldie's Body Found.

Brantford, May 27.—After a search in which two hundred people participated from an early hour yesterday morning, the body of David Goldie, who was drowned in Smith's Creek, above Paris, was found yesterday afternoon in the Grand River, two miles below the town. A reward of $50 had been offered for the recovery of the body.

Albanians Attack Turks.

Saloniki, May 27.—In an attack by Albanians on a Turkish detachment in the village of Novoshesh, near the Montenegrin frontier seventeen of the Turks were killed.

Fredericton, N.B., May 27.—The meeting of the Provincial Government closed Friday night about midnight, and Premier Fleming and most of the members of the Government left for their homes.

While nothing has been officially stated as yet, it would not be a surprise if announcement was made soon of the dissolution of the Legislature, and the calling of the elections for a date in the not distant future. June is the date suggested.

In fact, it is understood that the necessary machinery is now in operation for bringing on the elections, and that within practically a few hours the writs will be forwarded to the sheriffs all over the province. The Premier, when leaving here Saturday for his home in Hartland, declined to discuss the matter further than to say that he might have something to say within a day or two.

Squall Wrecks Balloon.

Leipzig, Germany, May 27.—The dirigible balloon Parseval VI. was completely destroyed here Saturday morning by being torn from her anchor by a squall of wind. One of the soldiers on guard near the balloon was injured by the flying tackle.

The Parseval VI. had arrived only that morning, and had been anchored in an open field.

The flexible dirigible balloons of the Parseval type have been almost as unlucky as the rigid Zeppelin dirigibles. Parseval VI., which was destroyed Saturday had already met with several accidents.

Doctors Condemn Oily Liniments

The Public are Warned to Be Careful of These Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can't penetrate, can't sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment such as "Nerviline," to be superior to any of the white, ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica, and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment—but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache, and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

THE SUMMER FAIR

The ladies who are managing the Peterborough Summer Fair might fittingly follow the example of the National Council of Canadian Women, now in session in London and adopt as their motto the golden rule, for the charitable and public spirited work in which they are engaged, exemplifies to the fullest extent the spirit of that maxim. They are doing to others just what we can imagine they would themselves hope for if positions were reversed.

Medical science has for years been waging war on the deadly white plague but in spite of investigation, experiments and skill, the disease continues to be a menace to the world, and is, if anything, on the increase. The combat against it has engaged the best efforts not of the doctors alone but of the charitable and the philantropic everywhere. It passes from generation to generation and when once it secures a foothold the unfortunate victim may well abandon hope. The poorer classes of people, living in crowded tenements and unsanitary houses, are more prone to the disease and it is this class of the stricken that the funds derived from the Summer Fair will benefit.

The circumstandces attending the opening are sufficient to attach national importance to the event. Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia in the Dominion Cabinet, will open the Fair. With such an auspicious beginning success is assured. The Fair is backed up by public sentiment. Business men have lent their aid, ladies all over the city have given charitable assistance, the churches have without exception supported and advertised it and the railways have taken a hand by giving reduced rates on their lines. Ever since a Fair was decided upon the preparations as thorough as extensive, have been carried forward. How could anything fail under such happy conditions?

The Women's Auxilliary of the Peterborough Health Association, are the prime movers. With the proceeds from the Fair they propose to engage a nurse, skilled in the treatment of tuberculosis, who will visit the afflicted and care for those who are little able to bear the extra expense entailed by illness. Peterborough people will be taught not only how to treat but how to prevent the spread of the plague. A measure of comfort will be brought to the bedside of many a man and woman, dying a lingering and painful death.

All that is required now is the liberal patronage of the public and from present indications this will not be lacking.

ONE MORE LYNCHING

In one respect, the Southern negro is worse off to-day than he was before emancipation. When he was a slave, his life was of value to his owner and this property interest ensured him the full term of his natural existence. If he fell sick, he received medical care, that he might be the sooner rendered useful as a machine for labor. Now that he is free, no one outside of himself has any interest in his physical being. He is liable to lose his life at any time, by hanging, by bullet or worse still, by fire, as witnessed in the case of the negro so horribly burned to death last Saturday morning in Texas. His offence was a heinous one, but the awful punishment he endured can find no apology in the civilised world.

The South cannot prevent these lynchings, for no jury can be found to convict anyone who participates in them. The excuse offered is that the mob is always satisfied of the guilt of their victim, and that they are simply meting out summary justice. The mob has, it is claimed, a legal and moral right to act as principals, and for the time, to assume the powers which they have delegated to their agents, the courts and the officers who are, by law, empowered to convict and execute a criminal.

In such a case as the one in question, no such loose system of reasoning can be applied. No state in the union, makes burning at the stake a punishment for crime, and the revolting horrors of southern lynching still shock all the Christian world.

SEEING RAINBOWS

Hon. George P. Graham is not likely to grieve any because he failed to secure the presidency of the Grand Trunk railway, a position into which the Globe sought to throw him neck and crop. Not he. Mr. Graham is too optimistic by far to indulge in vain regrets. He can see a silver lining in the black cloud which hangs over his party, and gazing about him with rose-colored glasses is able to detect a rainbow in any part of the political horizon.

The latest event to fill Mr. Graham with high hope, a delusive phantom he never loses an opportunity to embrace, is the recent Quebec election. He is so pleased that he sees in the result of that contest, a result taken for granted by all sober-minded people, ruin and desolation for all political foes. To his way of thinking the Borden Government is doomed. With every appearance of sincerity, Mr. Graham says that if the Conservatives appealed to the people to-morrow they would meet with overwhelming defeat.

Mr. Graham's power as a prophet may well be disputed, seeing that he betrays the fact that he has failed to read aright the lessons that have been taught him in his own province. Time was when the Liberal party held place in Ontario with a large majority, while the Conservatives were represented at Ottawa by a proportionate numerical strength. Local issues are vastly different from Dominion questions. Sir Wilfrid Laurier lost some seats in Quebec last September because Reciprocity overshadowed everything else. That Premier Gouin won back some of the lost seats was just what was expected, and by no process of reasoning can it be construed as bearing in any sense upon the federal situation.

If Mr. Graham sees hope or derives comfort from the circumstances his temperament is something to be envied. It is sufficiently sanguine to uphold his spirits in any position of gloom in which the vicissitudes of politics may place him. Inspired with some measure of his optimism, the Reform Club, of Montreal, will hold a banquet, with Sir Wilfrid Laurier as chief speaker, when felicitation and good fellowship will prevail.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Surely the Dominion Railway Board is crowded with work. It was found necessary to hold a session on Victoria Day.

A public holiday in Peterboro, and only one drunk in the police court next morning. Can any city in the country equal that record?

The Toronto gathering of doctors show enough disagreement in the ranks of the medical profession to kill off a small army of patients.

Toronto papers have so much to say about impure drinking water in that city that cautious visitors are nervous about taking anything on the side.

There must be a sad lack of excitement in a legislature so entirely one sided as that of British Columbia, unless the two Socialist members can manage to kick up some kind of a dust.

The noble equine still has it on the automobile. At a horse show or race meet the glad rags of society eclipse those displayed at a gathering where whiz wagons are the attraction.

Premier McBride, of British Columbia, has just returned from England, where he talked with King George and the Hon. Winston Churchill. Mr. McBride says England expects Canada to do its duty in the matter of the navy, and to do it quick.

The struggle for the Presidential nomination is now in full swing in New Jersey. As it is now the open season for the huge mosquitoes that infest that State, the New Jersey people are to be commiserated because of their double affliction.

Hamilton captures another steel plant, known as the Steel Castings Syndicate, backed chiefly by Buffalo capital, and with prospective employment for 400 men. That city will soon be the Birmingham of Canada, for fair if American steel companies continue to settle there.

Col. Roosevelt declares that he never drank a highball or cocktail, never tasted whiskey in his life and that his entire indulgence does not exceed a dozen tablespoonfuls of brandy in a year. This statement the colonel makes with his eye resting on that portion of the gallery from which the prohibitionists watch the national bear fight.

Latest Quotations in Grain Dairy Products, Live Stock Etc.

Chicago Wheat Futures Close Higher, Liverpool Exchange Closed—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 25.—On account of complaints from Nebraska that rain was needed, and because the drought in Western Kansas had only been broken in part, wheat to-day showed unexpected strength. Wheat closed firm, ⅛c to 1⅛c above last night. Latest trading left corn varying from ⅛c decline to ⅛c advance; oats up ⅛c to 1⅛c, and provisions unchanged to ⅛c increase in cost.

The Liverpool Grain Exchange was closed to-day and will not reopen until Tuesday next, owing to the Whitsuntide holidays.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucuous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

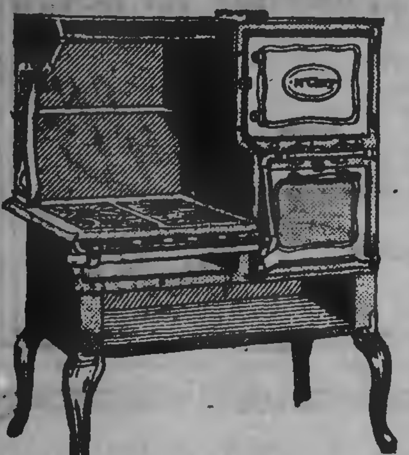
Summer cooking with comfort

NO need to stew your life out over a coal range during the hot weather. Gas is a much cheaper cooking fuel than coal, and far more convenient in the summer time. Why fatigue yourself and make the house uncomfortable for the whole family when you can save money by cooking with gas. Any "McClary" Gas Range will pay for itself in a very short time by the actual cash it saves, not to say anything about its handiness.



The Model shown in the cut is a handsome Gas Range — "McClary's" 1912 Model—and considered the biggest range value on the market. You will see at a glance that the convenience and comfort of the housekeeper has been considered by the designers and makers. The Ovens are elevated — just conveniently high—so that there is no "stooping or bending" when cooking with this range.

This Model like other McClary Ranges has the bright black enamel finish—white enamelled broiler and drip pan—Ovens just the right size with proper flue construction. Also Anti-Rust linings and plain smooth nickelled finish.

Better see the McClary dealer and ask him to tell you the reasons why you should buy a McClary gas range. He will explain the exclusive features of the range suitable for your kitchen without placing you under any obligation to buy. All we want you to do is to make perfectly certain that the Gas Range you buy will pay for itself very quickly. 505

Cynthia's Chauffeur

By LOUIS TRACY

Copyright by McLeod & Allen, Toronto

"It is high time we were out of here," he answered, turning his back to the pressure of water, which was very great in that place.

"What will happen if there are two channels, and we have pitched on a bank in the middle?"

"I must walk about a bit until I find the right track. The Wye is not very deep at this point. It must shelve rapidly in one direction or the other."

"But it mayn't."

"In that event I shall lower you into the water, ask you to hold tight to my coat collar with both hands, and let me swim. It is only a few yards."

"But I can swim, too."

"Not in a long dress . . Ah, here we are. I thought so."

In a couple of strides the water was below his knees. Soon he was standing on a pebbly beach at the nose of the promontory formed by the bend where the accident had happened. In order to lower Cynthia to the ground without bringing her muslin flounces in contact with his dripping clothes he had to stoop somewhat. Her hair brushed his forehead, his eyes, his lips, as he lifted her down. His hands rested for an instant on the warm softness of her neck and shoulders. His heart leaped in a mad riot of joy at the belief that she would have uttered no protest if he had drawn her nearer instead of setting her decorously on her feet. He dared not look at her, but turned and gazed at the river.

"Thank God, that is over!" he said.

Cynthia heard something in his voice then that was absent when they were both in peril of being swept away by the silent rush of the black stream.

"Quite an adventure," she sighed, stooping to feel the hem of her frock.

"You are not wet?" he asked, after a pause.

"Not a thread. The water barely touched my feet. How prompt you were! I suppose men who fight have often to decide quickly like that. . . What caused it? A whole seam was torn up."

"It cannot be a stake. Such a thing would not be permitted to exist in this river . . . A snag probably. Some old tree stump undermined by last month's heavy rain."

"What of the boat? Is it lost?"

"No. It will be found easily enough in the morning. The damage is trifling. How splendid you were!"

"Please don't. I haven't said a word to you, and I don't mean to."

"But—"

"Well, say it, if you must."

"I am not going to compliment you in the ordinary terms. Just this—nature intended you to be a soldier's bride, Miss Vanrenen."

"Nature, being feminine, may promise that which she does not always mean to carry out. Besides I don't know many soldiers. . . . It is charming here, by the rivers edge, but I must remember that you are soaked to the skin. Where are we, exactly?"

"About four miles from the hotel, by water: perhaps a mile and three-quarters as the crow flies."

"How far as a girl walks?"

"Let us try," he said briskly. "We seem to have landed in a meadow. If we cross it, all my efforts to save that muslin frock will count as naught, since there is sure to be a heavy dew on the grass after this fine day. Suppose we follow the bank a little way until we reach some sort of a path. Will you take my hand?"

"No, I need both to hold up my dress. But you might grab my arm. I am wearing French shoes, which are not built for clambering over rocks."

Cynthia was adroit. The use of one small word had relieved the situation. Medenham might hold her arm with the utmost tenderness, but so long as he was "grabbing" it there was nothing more to be said.

He piloted her to a narrow strip of turf that bordered the Wye, found a path that ran close to a small wood, and soon they were in a road. There was slight excuse for arm-holding now, but Cynthia seemed to think that her frills still needed safeguarding, so he did not withdraw the hand which clung to her elbow.

A light in a laborer's cottage promised information; he knocked at the door, which was not opened, but a voice cried:

"Who is it? What do you want?"

"Tell me the nearest way to the Symonn's Yat Hotel, please," said Medenham.

"Keep straight on till you come to the ferry. If the boat is on this side you can pull yourself across."

"But if it is not?"

"You must chance it. The nearest bridge is a mile the other way."

"By gad!" said Medenham under his breath.

"I wouldn't care a pin if Mrs. Devar wasn't waiting for me," whispered Cynthia, whose mental attitude during this mishap on the Wye contrasted strangely with her alarm when Marigny's motor collapsed on the Mendips.

"Mrs. Devar is the real problem," laughed Medenham. "We must find some means of soothing her agitation."

"Why don't you like her?"

"That is one of the things I wish to explain later."

"She has been horrid to you, I know, but—"

"I am beginning to thing that I owe her a debt of gratitude I can never repay."

"What will happen if that wretched ferryboat is on the wrong side of the river?"

Medenham took her arm again, for the road was dark where there were trees.

"You are not to think about it," he said. "I have been doing all the talking to-night. Now tell me something of your wanderings abroad."

These two already understood each other without the spoken word. He respected her desire to sheer off anything that might be construed as establishing a new relationship between them, and she appreciated his restraint to the full. They discussed foreign lands and peoples until the road bent toward the river again and the ferry was reached—at a point quite half a mile below the hotel.

And there was no boat!

A wire rope drooped into the darkness of the opposite bank, but no voice answered Medenham's hail. Cynthia said not a syllable until her companion handed her his watch with a request that she should hold it.

"You are not going into that river," she cried determinedly.

"There is not the slightest risk," he said.

"But there is. What if you were seized with cramp?"

"I shall cling to the rope, if that will satisfy you. I have swum the Zambesi before to-day, not from choice, I admit, and it is twenty times the width of the Wye, while it holds more crocodiles that the Wye holds salmon."

"Well—if you promise about the rope."

Soon he was out of sight, and her heart knew its first pang of fear. Then she heard his cry of "Got the boat," folowed by the clank of a sculling oar and the creak of the guiding-wheel on the hawser.

At last, shortly before midnight, they neared the hotel. You run on to the hotel, Miss Vanrenen. Good night! I shall give you an extra hour to-morrow."

She hesitated the fraction of a second. Then she extended her hand.

"Good-night," she murmured. "After all, I have had a real lovely time."

Then she had gone, and Medenham turned to thank the hotel servants and others who were going to the rescue.

"I wonder wha the guv-nor will say when he sees Cynthia," he thought, with the smile on his face of the lover who deems his lady peerless among her sex. He recalled that moment before many days had passed, and his reflections then took a new guise, for not all the knowledge and all the experience a man may gather can avail him a whit to forecast the future when Fate is spinning her complex web.

CHAPTER X

The Hidden Founts of Evil

It was a flushed and somewhat breathless Cynthia who ran into the quiet country hotel at an hour when the Licensing Laws of Britain have ordained the laws of the Medes and Persians, which altered not, must have bulged a little at times under the pressure of circumstances. The daughter of an American millionaire could not be reported as "missing" without a buzz of commotion being aroused in that secluded valley. As a matter of fact, no one in the house dreamed of going to bed until her disappearance was accounted for, one way or the other.

Mrs. Devar, now really woebegone, screamed shrilly at sight of her. The lady's nerves were in a parlous condition—"on a raw edge" was her own phrase—and the relief of seeing her errant charge again was so great that the shriek merged into a sob.

"Oh, my dear, my dear!" she wept, "what a shock you have given me! I thought you were gone!"

"Not so bad as that," was the contrite answer. Cynthia interpreted "gone" as meaning "dead," and naturally read into the other woman's anxiety her own knowledge of the disaster to the boat. "We had a bit of an upset—that is all—and the bread always flops on the floor buttered side down, doesn't it? So we had to struggle ashore on the wrong bank. It couldn't be helped—that is, the accident couldn't—but I ought not to have been on the river at such a late hour. Do forgive me, dear Mrs. Devar!"

By this time the girl's left arm was around her friend's portly form; in her intense eagerness to assuage Mrs. Devar's agitation she began to stroke her hair with the disengaged hand. A deeply sympathetic landlady, a number of servants, and most of the feminine guests in the hotel—all the men were down on the quay—had gathered to murmur their congratulations; but Mrs. Devar, dismayed by Cynthia's action, which might have brought about a catastrophe, revived with phenomenal suddenness.

"My dear child," she cried, extricating herself from the encircling arm, "do let me look at you! I want to boat upset, you say. Why, your clothes must be wringing wet!"

Dr. Hamilton's Pills Cured

"I think it should be the duty of the schools to teach children how to keep well," writes Miss Nannie E. Naydon, a well-known and highly esteemed resident of Bristol. "Ignorance of the laws of health and the use of improper remedies destroyed my vigor, and led me to the verge of invalidism. I was as a girl ruddy and strong. Nothing seemed to affect me until I was about thirty. Then gas began to form in the stomach. I suffered with bloating and a general failure in strength set in. If I went upstairs my breath hurt. My system was very irregular, and until I grew pretty bad I didn't pay much heed to my condition. Then I got blue, worried all the time, wakened in the night, and couldn't get to sleep again. None of the medicine I took helped me. One day I was reading of a very interesting case like mine cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I took the same treatment. It was just right—didn't physic me to death, but took hold of the weak, sick parts of my system, and set things right. It seems as if Dr. Hamilton's Pills have made me young again, and all my color, spirits, vigor, and health of former days have returned to stay."

Every girl and woman should use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly. They help a woman in many ways. Beware of the dealer who asks you to take an inferior pill on which his profit is larger than on Dr. Hamilton's. Sold in yellow boxes, 25c per box, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone, Co., Kingston, Ont.

The girls are carrying their handkerchiefs in the handkerchief rings which their grandmothers used long ago. The ring is worn on the little finger, and the wisp of lawn and lace is threaded through it. Another revival in line with this is the bracelet with the pendent ring through which the handkerchief is drawn. Another conceit is the long chain with a little clip in the shape of a hand, which grips the handkerchief and holds it fast.

CONCERNING YOUR EYES

Good eyesight is essential to health comfort and appearance. Have you ever noticed a strained look on your face, or your friend's? Usually this comes from eyestrain. More wrinkles are caused by eyestrain than by age. Thousands unconsciously squint in an effort to adapt the eyes to the surroundings. Success in releaving eye-strain depends entirely upon the OPTICAL SKILL of the Specialist who prescribes the glasses. Neglect of the eyes many times leads to surgical operations, which glasses worn in time may prevent. We correct errors of vision by means of properly fitted lenses.

We have every modern appliance for accurate eyesight testing, and we grind all our own lenses. Thus assuring you accuracy and promptness. All work guaranteed.

MUCH WATER AT STONEY LAKE

For many years the surface of Stoney Lake has not reached the level as now shown. As compared with normal level of last July there is about four feet more water, and wharves, landings, etc., are all flooded. The level has gone up seven inches since the 18th, no doubt on account of the excessive rains. The wharf at Juniper Island is about twenty inches under water and the unloading of the large amount of supplies taken up last week by Mr. F. Stock was only accomplished under great difficulties and inconvenience.

SONS OF ENGLAND AT GEORGE ST. METHODIST

The Sons of England attended the George Street Methodist church in a body last evening. The Rev. Mr. Couch preached an excellent and appropriate sermon, taking for his text the 24th verse of the 30th chapter of 1st Samuel which reads—"For who will harken unto you in this matter? but as his part is that goeth down to battle, so shall his part be that tarrieth by the stuff: they shall part alike."

In the opening of his address Mr. Couch welcomed the Sons of England and praised the work that the society was carrying on so usefully to others, who benefitted by their efforts. He referred to the passage in his text to show that though their alleviation of the hardships of the poor and their comforting and kindly interest in the sick, was manifested quietly their reward would be as great as though they published every action. The reward for work would not be given to that which made the most noise in its completion but that which was carried out quietly would be equally rewarded. He commended the fraternity for the good work that was being done by them and prayed that their efforts for others might be blessed.

Beef a la Mode.

Take a round of beef, four or five inches thick. For a piece weighing five pounds soak a pound of bread in cold water until soft; turn off the water, mash the bread fine, then add a piece of butter the size of an egg, a half teaspoonful each of salt, pepper and ground cloves, about half a nutmeg, two eggs, a tablespoonful of flour and a quarter of a pound of fresh pork chopped fine. Gash the beef on the sides and, together with half the dressing, place it in a baking pan, with lukewarm water enough to cover it. Cover the pan and put in the oven two hours, then cover the top with the rest of the dressing and put it back for an hour. Let it brown well. When serving the meat, if the gravy is not thick enough, stir in a little flour and add a little butter.

A Tasty Sandwich.

It was the memory of a childhood appetite which inspired a woman to serve brown bread sandwiches spread with horseradish and sugar with her afternoon tea. The snappy pungency of the horseradish was very delightful. The horseradish had, of course, been mixed with vinegar, the slightest possible amount used, and it was sprinkled lightly with powdered sugar. The brown bread was made of whole wheat and graham flour and was cut as thin as possible.

For Afternoon Tea.

Many hostesses this spring are serving with afternoon tea the tiniest little hot baking powder biscuits, not larger than a fifty cent piece. They are usually buttered and spread with maple sugar or with a paste made of the sugar and chopped hickory nuts, but some prefer to use a filling of peach marmalade or thick honey. Biscuit halves spread with grated cheese and toasted brown are the specialty of one hostess.

THE MURRAY STREET BAPTISTS OPEN THEIR NEW CHURCH

That the opening was an auspicious and successful event in every sense was the general verdict of the immense congregations, who attended the opening of the new Murray street Baptist church on Sunday at all three services. At the morning and evening services the new edifice was packed to the doors, and the Sunday school room was called into requisition. The same occurred in the evening, despite the fact that the new church can easily afford accommodation to nine hundred people.

The services throughout the entire day were crowned with success and enthusiasm. The energetic pastor, Rev. J. R. Webb, and the others behind the building enterprise, witnessed with gratitude and thankfulness the complete fruition of their efforts.

In the morning Rev. Dr. Gilmour, of Toronto, one of the first scholars in the old Murray street Sunday school, addressed the congregation, which included many visitors from other churches. He delivered a highly appropriate discourse, in which he expressed his hearty congratulations to the congregation for the splendid building they would henceforth be permitted to worship.

The afternoon session of the Sunday school was open to all. The spacious hall was well filled, and many of the adult members of the church and the parents were in attendance. On the platform were Rev. J. R. Webb, Rev. J. G. Brown, Rev. W. C. Riddiford, Dr. Scott, Mr. Raddon, the superintendent, and Mr. Dunlop, of Toronto a former superintendent of the Sunday school. Addresses suitable to the occasion were made by several of the above. Rev. Mr. Riddiford expressing the good wishes of Park street Baptists to the Murray street school. Rev. Mr. Brown also brought an effective message to the new Sunday school.

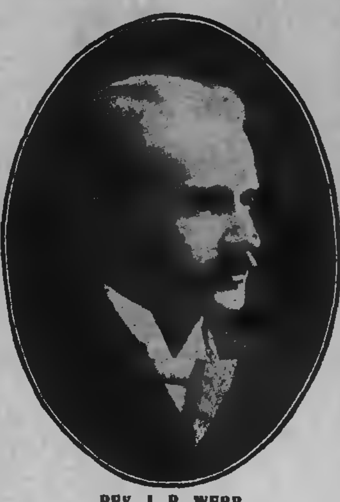
Dr. Browett read a letter of congratulation from Col. E. B. Edwards, K.C., of Edmonton, a former Sunday school superintendent.

George street orchestra was engaged to play in the afternoon while Miss Clara Kidd and Mr. Asa Huycke rendered vocal solos.

Dr. Gilmour again occupied the pulpit at the evening service.

Miss Clara Kidd rendered a vocal selection.

Altogether the new church is a credit to the city, and its dedication to the worship of God cannot fail but bring the same splendid results as has the work in the lately vacated place of worship.



REV. J. R WEBB
Pastor of Murray Street Baptist Church

New Murray Street Church, opened yesterday

In designing this church, the aim of the architects was to get away from the stereotyped barn-like proportions seen in so many churches, outside of those in the larger cities. The demand for maximum accommodation at a minimum cost, necessitating side galleries, is responsible for many an ill-proportioned structure, with its high walls and nondescript roof, while frequently its proportions are further distorted by a high basement, impossible of artistic treatment, especially if the site is level and commonplace.

Murray street church has been designed to break away from all this. With a site devoid of variety as to level, but of generous proportions, opportunity has been seized to obtain variety and interest by careful planning and grouping, treating the auditorium as an auditorium, making the school building practically an independent unit, and yet so attached and related to the main building as to unite the two into a simple composition which makes possible some increase of accommodation for special occasions, when the space available in the auditorium is not sufficient to accommodate the congregation.

The angle formed by the two principal structures thus permits the placing of minor rooms and offices in convenient relation to both buildings.

Endeavor has also been made to so treat the building externally as to indicate the internal features, and thus produce a logical whole. The central feature of the auditorium cannot be mistaken, as housing the entrance and vestibule, with generous lighting to the end gallery above, while the general bulk indicates a modest tower, not needed for bells, but sufficient to stop and mask the ridge and slopes of the auditorium roof. The flanking features with east and west gables carried high above the main eaves, indicate their use as accommodating the gallery stairs, while they also join with the tower in stopping the main roof.

At the south end of the auditorium is placed the pulpit platform, backed by the choir partially in a recess occupied by the organ and baptistry.

The baptistry is placed behind and above the choir and below the organ chamber. It is in an arched open recess and is reached from an upper floor, in which are located the robing and dressing rooms for the baptismal candidates.

To the rear of the auditorium are located the Board Room and Secretarys' room.

The school building is located to the south-east of the church, and overlaps one bay, fitted with folding doors, which when opened, permit of easy communication. It is believed that the school is modern in every feature, class rooms are separate, but all can be thrown into one by means of collapsible and folding doors. A narrow gallery is around the main room, where the primary department will gather for the opening exercises, afterwards going to their own quarters, from where they can be dismissed without disturbing the school proper. In this building is situated the pastor's study, immediately to the left of the entrance; it contains a gas grate, of which there are five in the several rooms.

The basement under the school, is devoted to the boys' reading room, Banquet hall, kitchen, committee rooms, lavatories, etc., while under the church proper is the steam heating and ventilating plant.

This article would not be complete without mentioning the architect and builders who have worked together to give such splendid results.

Mr. Edmund Burke, of Burke, Horwood & White, Toronto; designed the structure, Mr. F. Bartlett being the local architect. The several contractors were—

Rees & Hawken, stonework and brickwork.

McIntyre Bros., woodwork and carpentering.

Adam Hall Limited, heating and plumbing.

Alexander and Miller, electric wiring and fixtures.

Wm. Saxby plastering.

F. G. Roberts & Co., painting and glazing.

H. Shurter, concrete.

The low walls of the auditorium and a portion of the school building indicate the absence of galleries in places, while the higher walls over the school entrance, indicate as unmistakably, a second storey devoted to gallery and class rooms.

The adoption of stone of a soft, warm grey tint made it possible to omit all elaboration in the exterior treatment, dependence being placed upon grouping, composition and color, for architectural effect. The result speaks for itself; there is nothing to offend or tire the eye, and as times goes on, the effect of its passing will be to soften and blend any hardness of line inevitable with brand new work, and each passing decade should add some of the charm which comes to a structure such as this.

The auditorium is reached by a broad flight of steps from the street, through a double pair of doors, into a vestibule having triple doors. The auditorium is about one-fourth longer than its width, and is covered with a high pitched roof, having bold timber trusses, undressed, and stained a dark tone. The walls, which are comparatively low, are pierced with mullioned windows, filled with leaded and tinted glass. Two of the windows are memorial—one to the Gilmour family, and one to James Stratton.

In seating the auditorium, the curved pews of the past generation have been omitted, and good, sensible, straight pews adopted, giving the air of quiet dignity, so necessary to harmonize with other features of the structure.

The gallery extends across the north end, and is reached by two staircases starting from the auditorium, and not screened off from it, thus bringing the occupants of the gallery into closer touch with those on the floor below, and avoiding that isolation so often felt where the galleries empty into the lobbies.

Of the church building itself a description will be found in the very full notes supplied by the architects. The church is distinctly different from anything in the city, both in plan and materials and the treatment, and by many it is judged to be the handsomest church edifice among the many put up. It has been planned to give very large accommodation, not only to attendants, but to the work of the church, the societies and organizations within the fold. It provides ample room for expansion, and will seat a very large congregation most comfortably. The whole enterprise has been carried out in a hearty spirit of loyalty and confidence in the church's future, and while the Murray street congregation have incurred a debt, it will by no means be a burdensome one. Additions to the membership, which may be expected and looked for, will help to distribute the burden, and those who come often and make use of the beautiful building will be glad that the officers and members of the church of to-day have done as they have. Good, progressive work on the part of a congregation is never a detriment, but on the contrary, a distinct inspiration.

The opening of the new Murray Street Baptist church yesterday, Sunday, May 26th, marks the culmination of the onward movement of this important congregation. Contrasting the Past by the Present, the advance made in sixty-six years has been most marked and gratifying. In the handsome souvenir booklet issued and distributed, the facts are set forth, and it is noted that the first church erected on Aylmer street to house the adherents was followed by the acquisition of the larger premises, just vacated. As the body grew in numbers it has increased in material things, and has set a high mark in the enterprise that prompted the erection and completion of the handsome and commodious church edifice and Sunday school. The future will see the whole principal work finished when a ministerial residence is built on the grounds available and adjoining the church.

The Carpenters to Organize

A campaign of organizing has been carried on by the Union Carpenters of this city during the past week. A mass meeting has been called for to-morrow night in the Labor Hall, and Mr. T. Moore the, General Organizer for the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, is expected to speak. From present indications, there is no doubt but that Peterboro will soon once more take its place as one of the well organized cities in the carpenter trade.

CLEVER TWIRLING AND FIELDING GAME MARRED BY WILD THROWS TO THIRD

Schaeffer and Schuman Were Fighting in Great Form when the Blow Eliminated the White Cap Heaver—Teams Broke Even on Hits—Guelph Played Errorless Ball.

It is gladsome news news to have to announce to-day, and not by any means, the least is the departure of Mr. Chickering Johnson for other ball lots. That he will escape unscathed, we doubt very much. Umpire Pearson, failed to make connection—we did not hear just what his injuries were—and as a result, a player from the Capital City team, and one from the White Caps were billed to make the announcements this afternoon. Walter Jayes, whose performances in the basball game have been frequently chronicled in the Review is to join the Caps and although expected at noon, did not arrive. He is coming for to-morrow's game. Jayes is an outfielder and played last season with the Manistee Club, champions of the Michigan State League fielding at .963 in 74 games. He is a nephew of Mr. Jack Jayes of this city. Byron Nork, a pitcher, who was mentioned earlier in the season is also coming along, and with other pitchers and fielders, which he has on his line, Manager Templin is confident, that he can give Peterboro a winning team. Prospects are very bright. The fans have made a splendid response during the nine games and certainly are entitled to the heartiest commendation.

Never again, cried the fans, but they were there again in fear and trembling Saturday afternoon, and while the White Caps fell down for the ninth consecutive occasion, it was a great game of ball, apart from the eighth, when wild flinging cost the fans another dose of remorse.

Manager Templin picked big Bill Schaeffer as his heaver, while "frish Schuman" took the box for Guelph.

Umpire Johnson was still present.

Both twirlers started off in great form, and it looked like a hard fight. Not a man reached first base till the fourth, when Schaeffer gave Swartzsmier free transportation. No damage was done, however.

In their half the Caps scored on one of the prettiest plays in baseball. With one gone, and Swartz and Beard on the bags, Manager Templin took a chance on his third strike, and placed the ball midway between the plate and Isaac at third. The Guelph third sacker, as well as Schuman, turned cold at the unexpected play and while Templin was gathered at first, Swartz scored.

Guelph went one better in the fifth, when after Schaeffer had fanned the first two batters, Daniels doubled and Schuman, most unfortunately for us, hit over centre field fence, and the Royals were one ahead. This didn't get Bill's goat and he fanned Swartzsmier. White Caps got the run back in the sixth. Derr walked, and was forced at second by Templin. Beard was out of three futile attempts to bunt. Templin leading off dashed away when Dolan hit to deep left, and arrived at the plate before Daniels could touch him after the return. A quick peg got Dolan going into third.

The seventh was passed safely. There were doings in the next, when a wild heave by Dolan to third allowed Needham to come home, while a muff on Tully's throw at first, gave Isaac passage. Such is baseball; it would have looked great had the Petes been at bat.

Try as they would, the Caps couldn't get to Schuman in their half or the ninth, while another wild peg from first gave Guelph another run.

THE GAME.

Only nine faced each pitcher in the first three innings, and it was real baseball. Swartzsmier starting for Guelph grounded out to Templin. Needham sent up a foul fly, which Hartman grabbed with one hand at the fence. Fryer sent up a foul to Trout and the fans were joyful.

Jimmie Swartz went out to the pitcher, while Derr and Beard fanned.

◆

Isaac, Brady and Forech were retired on infield grounders, Tully steaming over the first and Hartman the next two. This was an exhibition of pretty pickups with speedy and accurate pegging.

Templin missed three; Dolan grounded and Tully struckout.

◆

O'Connor sent a long fly to Beard, Hemlock was out Tully to Dolan. Schuman died, Trout to first.

Hartman and Trout grounded, while Schaeffer fanned. In these innings, both pitchers twirled clever ball, and the fielding was snappy. There was not a semblance of a hit or a misplay.

◆

Swartzmier walked and was sacrificed by his manager, Tully allowing Fryer's grounder to get away and there were two on. Issac sent up a foul fly to Dolan and Brady's best was an easy one to the pitcher.

Swartz singled to centre and was sacrificed by Derr. Beard singled, sending Swartz to third and the White Caps' leader showed class in a sacrifice that scored his left fielder. It was pretty work. Dolan walked and while Tully tried hard for a hit, his long fly was gathered in right field.

◆

Forech and O'Connor fanned, Hemlock doubled and Schuman leaned on a choice one, biffing the ball over the fence giving transportation to his catcher and also himself. Schaeffer got Swartzmier on strikes.

Hartman worked for and received a walk. Trout sacrificed, Schaeffer fanned and Swartz flied to the backstop. Score—Guelph 2, Peterborough 1.

◆

Needham was passed, and Jimmie Beard took Fryer's fly. Derr muffed Isaac's fly and there were two on with one down. Brady sacrificed the runners. Forech sent a hard drive at Hartman who knocked the ball down to Tully who got the runner to first. It was fast work.

Derr walked and Beard trying hard for a sacrifice retired on the third attempt at a bunt. Templin forced Derr at second. Dolan sent a wallop to left and Templin sped around the three sacks and home, beating the throw to the plate. The Indian, however, whipped the ball to third and got Dolan. The run counted and the score was tied.

◆

O'Connor struckout for the second time. Hemlock singled but was forced at second by Schuman who in turn was forced by Swartzsmier.

Tully singled to right and made second on a wild pitch but there was nothing further doing although things looked likely, the visiting heaver going somewhat wild. Hartman sent up a foul fly to Isaac, Trout fanned, Schaeffer drew a pass and Swartz grounded.

◆

Guelph pecked the game in this half. Needham singled and was sacrificed, Dolan fielding the ball, while Templin covered the bag. Isaac walked and both basemen led off when Brady grounded to Hartman. Dolan handled the throw for an out, but threw over Hartman's head, Needham scoring and Isaac taking third when Hartman sent a low throw to Templin, the ball going through the second baseman. Again, when Hartman threw after Forech's grounder, Dolan muffed and Isaac scored, Trout got Forech trying to navigate to second.

Derr drove out to the pitcher but Beard doubled, Templin flied to Needham and Dolan went out third to first.

◆

With two in the lead, O'Connor opened with a single and kept up speed when Hemlock grounded out, Tully to Dolan. The latter in his attempt to get O'Connor at third threw over Hartman and the runner scored, Schuman fanned and Swartzsmier sent a fly to Derr.

Tully took a walk. Hartman flew out to centre and Trout forced Tully at second, Swartz fanned and it was all over.

FOOTBALL

All Saints journeyed to Stirling on the 24th, where they played an exhibition game against Stirling and won by 4-0, Edwards, Curtis, Davis, and Fitzgerald scoring. Curtis played a great game after twelve months rest and one shot he made at goal actually smashed the upright. The defence too, were like a stone wall and Cook the goalie, played the game of his life. Just at the last minute Robinson, the Saints' back, gave the ball a tremendous kick and bursted it. After the match, the Saints' were entertained to a splendid banquet, provided by their popular president, Mr. Moffatt. On the following morning, the Saints drove to Marmora, and from there to Delora, where they had the pleasure of being shown over the Delora silver smelting works. One special privilege being granted to them, was being allowed to see inside the strong room where all the solid silver is kept. The weather was glorious and altogether, the Saints had a very enjoyable holiday.

NIAGARA'S MUSEUM.

It Is One of the Most Interesting Spots in Canada.

The first building erected in Ontario for purely historical purposes is situated facing the military camp grounds. It contains more than five thousand articles of historical interest. Thousands of visitors go to the Chateau de Ramezay in Montreal every year, to see the collection of historical relics of Lower Canada, but that collection is in no way superior to that contained in Memorial Hall, Niagara, presided over by Miss Janet Carnochan, whose personal charm and devotion to the cause is responsible for a large percentage of these valued relics. Miss Carnochan thinks that the most interesting relic in the entire collection is Gen. Brock's cocked hat. She also prizes very highly the sword given up at the capture of Fort Niagara in 1813, and the first novel published in Upper Canada. Then there is the coat worn by Fort Major Campbell, who surrendered with Cornwallis at Yorktown in 1781. A collection of military buttons gives the military history of Niagara, for they represent nearly all the regiments, British, United States, or Canadian, which fought or were stationed there. A recent addition to the collection is the brass kettle in which Laura Secord hid the gold when her home was attacked by Indians; and, two beautiful silver table spoons owned by the Secord family, as well as the Secord family hamper, were willed to the Museum only a shortly time ago. Other peculiarly interesting articles are one of the two first harpiscords in Upper Canada, an old table, an old mantle with crane, hand-bills and posters printed by William Lyon Mackenzie, a collection of very old books, letters and official papers, the first paper published in Upper Canada, the Gazette, and an old library record book of the first collection of books in Upper Canada. It may be incidentally mentioned that the very first newspaper published in Upper Canada was issued at Niagara-on-the-Lake in 1793. There is a case of women's clothing which eclipses any collection in any other museum in Canada, not excepting the Chateau de Ramezay.

Fort Niagara was visited by La Salle in 1678; erected by the French in 1725; taken by assault by the British in 1759; given up by treaty in 1796; taken by the British in 1813, by assault, after the burning of Niagara; and given up to the United States by treaty in 1815.

The house in which the Count de Puisayes lived was built in 1799 and still stands intact. McFarland's house was built in 1800, and used as a hospital in the war. The Masonic building on King street is still substantial, despite the fact that it has stood since 1816, on the site used for the first hall in 1792. Butler's barracks are to be seen here, with some of the buildings erected before the war.

The centennary celebration of the hundred years of peace between Canada and the United States is to be celebrated soon, and there is no doubt but that such a celebration should be held at Niagara. Of course, there are other historical places in the immediate vicinity. Seven miles away is Queenston Heights, while Lundy's Lane, Beaver Dam, and other places claim distinction; but the real centre of historical interest, and the place where history was made for Upper Canada, is Niagara-on-the-Lake.

A Ragged Republic.

Hulbert Footner, whose great Canadian story of "New Rivers of the North," is now running in The Outlook, had some interesting experiences on the road and on board the construction train. He says:

"We rode on the uncompromising wooden seats of an emigrant car, and the train averaged exactly seven miles an hour for nine hours, but it was impossible to be bored. Never was there a more interesting carful, pioneers for the most part, with their faces turned toward the frontier and radiating an atmosphere of hopefulness. We were entranced by the scraps of conversation that reached our ears; how a-and-so had succeeded in establishing the old Indian trail to the headwaters of the Big Smoky; how somebody else had made a strike in the valley of the Grand Forks. I remember only one woman on the train, the wife of the storekeeper at Tete Jaune Cache, who had her baby with her, undoubtedly the youngest white man in the country. She had a drive of a hundred and twenty-five miles through the pass before her.

"We were reminded anew of the advantages of rough clothes as a passport on the road. Good clothes cut the wearer off from his fellows like a wall. The more fashionably clad, the more of an outcast he becomes. But let him put on a cheap or a ragged habit and go into the streets, and delightful adventures will crowd on him. He will learn what human fellowship is. The world will take him to its heart, initiate him into its mysteries, and provide him with inexhaustible entertainment."

A Welshman's Gift.

Mr. David Davies, Liberal M.P. for Montgomeryshire since 1906, has presented to the inhabitants of Machynlleth the old Senate House in that town, wherein Owen Glyndwr, in the year 1402, was crowned Prince of Wales.

For years this historic building was used for very humble purposes, but Mr. Davies has had it thoroughly restored, and formally presented it to Machynlleth.

In this Parliament House, Glyndwr, when acknowledged by his nobles and commoners of Wales as their Prince, had a narrow escape from assassination by a treacherous chieftain from Brecon. The design was detected, and the would-be assassin imprisoned, but he managed to escape to the English Court, where he was well received, afterwards attending Henry V. in his wars, and fighting gallantly at Agincourt.

The King and Queen, on their visit last July to Lord Herbert Vane-Tempest at Plas Machynlleth, were much interested in the old Parliament House and its history.

Mr. Davies, born at Llandinam on May 11, 1880, has visited Canada, Alaska, the Rockies, Korea, Japan, China, and British East Africa.

BIRTHDAY GIFTS.

Book Covers Made by Donor of Present.

The value of a book chosen for its useful or practical contents may be much enhanced by means of a pretty cover made by the giver.

Beautiful as well as hard wearing covers are made from Holland or linen closely embroidered in dark, heavy silks in an appropriate conventional pattern, while for volumes of poems or romance the cover can be of handsome brocade enriched with gold thread.

Useful covers for everyday books are made more plainly from colored art canvas, with the title worked or painted across the front.

Imitation leather is another practical material for the purpose, especially where paper covered books are concerned. It can be obtained from any stationer or bookbinder.

If you intend to make a rather costly attachable book cover as a birthday or wedding gift your best course is to measure exactly the outer sides of the book so as to buy only the exact quantity of material needed.

The back should be formed from a strip of some soft leather, such as French kid or morocco, which, although substantial, may be sewed to the side covers. These are fitted over the book by means of two inch deep flaps of kid or strong ribbon.

It is also a good plan to attach ribbon ties and a dainty embroidered bookmark to match. The cover, as an additional finish, might be bordered all round with a half inch wide silk fringe. This proves very effective.

Plain covers made from fragments of chine ribbon, brocade or tapestry are easily and quickly contrived by clever fingers and sell well at fairs.

Pasteboard Pyramids.

Quite the newest conceit in imported place favors has appeared from abroad in the form of miniature pasteboard pyramids with tiny flowering plants seeming to have grown in them. The decoration of the holder simulates porcelain, with a color note to harmonize with that of the artificial blossoms surmounting it. A set of these favors in yellow, for instance, if in accord with the chosen color scheme for the table setting, will give a far prettier effect than a favor introducing its color solidly. With these novelties there come tiny white place cards to be slipped among the flowers.

Accident Insurance

Following the Titanic Disaster no one will think of travelling without first taking out an Accident Policy.

It is interesting to know that practically all the Canadians who lost their lives through the Titanic wreck carried Accident Insurance. The average amount to be paid by Accident Companies alone, is over $30,000 for each Canadian lost.

The Double Indemnity and Bonus feature of The Dominion of Canada and General Accident Assurance Company policies are worthy of investigation before placing your Insurance.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Harriet Fairman

A sad death occurred on Sunday night, when Harriet Brabant, widow of the late George Fairman, passed away. The deceased, who was 76 years of age, was born in Quebec, and resided in Peterborough for about 53 years. She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. M. Brisbois, Sturgeon Falls; Mrs. E. Hayes and Mrs. D. Holland, Peterborough, and Miss Susie, at home; also one sister, Mrs. A. Fredenburg, and one brother, Antoine Brabant, Rochester, N.Y. Her husband predeceased her 27 years.

The funeral will take place Friday morning, from the late residence, 213 Antrim street, to St. Peter's Cathedral, thence to the R.C. cemetery.

The Late Abraham Crouter

At St. Joseph's hospital last night, about two o'clock, the death occurred of Abraham Crouter, in his 75th year. The late Mr. Crouter was born in Madoc, but had resided in Peterborough during the past twenty years. Two weeks ago he was stricken with an attack of pleurisy. He is survived by four sons, Messrs. George W., Albert W., James and Sidney, all of this city. Previous to his illness the late Mr. Crouter resided at 189 Lake street, but the funeral will take place from the residence of his son, Mr. Sidney Crouter, 551 Waterford street, to-morrow morning, the remains to be taken to Havelock for interment.

LAD ADMITTED TO THE THEFT OF BICYCLE

The proprietor of the Star Furnishing Company had a fine new bicycle stolen from the front of his store on Saturday noon, and this morning met a young lad face to face on the street with the bicycle. It was altered somewhat so that the owner would have difficulty in identifying it. The boy in charge of the stolen machine was a young lad who was in juvenile court a couple of months ago, on a charge of theft of a large sum of money, for which he was convicted.

The boy, when confronted by the owner of the wheel this morning, at first said that it was his father gave it to him. Later, when being taken to the police station, he owned up to the theft, and asked to be allowed to go free. Some time ago the same youth pilfered a wheel from the post office building, and was given a good lecture by the chief of police and allowed to go.

The owner of the wheel will not prosecute the lad, if he will return several articles which are missing from the kit of tools attached to the wheel.

BREEZES FROM THE DIAMOND

A Joke on Father.

"Can you match this typewriting for me?" inquired a customer of the head of a typewriter's office. The head of the office looked up and saw a blond and blushing beauty of perhaps seventeen. She was well dressed and well groomed, and a Boston bull pup of parts strutted from the end of a leash in her hand.

"It's very important to match it exactly," insisted the young thing.

The head of the office just glanced at the paper in her hand. "Machine No. 8 matches it," she said. "Will you tell the young lady at machine No. 8 what you want?"

The blond beauty and the girl at machine No. 8 whispered apart. Machine No. 8 clicked for a moment. There was a frou-frou of skirts and a yap from an unwilling bull pup and the visitor was gone.

"Say, that was a queer thing," remarked the girl at machine No. 8. "She had a receipted dentist's bill for $6. She had me insert on another line an item for $60 and add it up to a total of $66 above the signature. Say, do you suppose it was just a little joke on father—or what?"

Women Do the Work in City of Froissy

In the little city of Froissy, sixty miles north of Paris, there is not a municipal job worth having that a woman doesn't occupy, from mayor down to "Mother" Lafarge, who tends the gate at the main street railway crossing. The conductor on the local train is a woman, Mlle. Duroc. The letter carrier is a woman, Mme. Dauboin. The town crier is an old lady named Mme. Deubon, and the chief of police is a woman. The men are engaged in farming and fruit raising and leave municipal offices to spinsters and old women.

Guessing Proverbs.

This proverb contest is a little "different." To play it each man or girl names the subject or moral of some proverb and one of the words used in its original form. Thus a player having in mind the adage "Straws show which way the wind blows" would say, "Subject, importance of trifles; word, way." Another, "All is not gold that glitters," would say, "Subject, danger of judging from appearances; word, gold." The player first to guess the proverb wins a point toward the game, which may be any number previously agreed upon.

FATALLY INJURED IN ATTEMPT TO STOP HORSE

Alfred Johns of Cluxton Avenue, Sustained Fractured Ribs and His Head Was Crushed — Leaves Widow and Four Children

On Saturday afternoon, shortly after half past one o'clock, Mr. Alfred Jones, of Cluxton Ave., was fatally injured while attempting to stop a runaway horse near the corner of Barnardo and Cluxton Avenue.

The animal, only three years of age, was the property of Mr. Harold Walsh, and a few minutes before the accident occurred, it managed to break away from its owner, who was watering the horse, just at the foot of the steep hill on Barnardo Avenue. Pulling the halter strap from its driver, the animal rushed up the hill and along the road, past Conger st. Mr. Johns, who had just left his home for his work, at the Peterboro Cereal Company, sa wthe horse coming and ran out to stop it. The colt however was not to be stopped and in his attempt, Mr. Johns was very badly hurt.

A number of kindly neighbors cared for the injured men till Comstock's ambulance arrived, in which he was taken to Nicholl's Hospital. Drs. Frederick, McClellan and Mann attended Mr. Johns. It was found that he had sustained the fracture of two ribs and had a badly crushed head. From the first his condition was seen to be serious, but not until yesterday afternoon was all hope of his recovery abandoned. He passed away last night about 7.30 o'clock, in the hospital.

Mr. Johns is survived by a sorrowing wife and four children.

The late Mr. Johns came to the city about a year ago, from Lindsay.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon from the family residence, Cluxton Avenue, to the Free Methodist church, Aylmer street and thence to the Little Lake cemetery. The Rev. Mr. Cunningham will conduct the funeral sercives.

The same colt figured in a runaway accident last spring in which a young man attending the Normal school was painfully injured.

POLICE RAIDED CHINESE LAUNDRY DURING PROGRESS OF GAME AND MADE ARRESTS

Towards midnight, Sunday, Detective Newball and P. C. Kidd descended upon the Chinese laundry at 464 George street, opposite the Y.M.C.A. building and interrupted what looked to be a highly prosperous game known as fan tan. Incidentally the myrmidons of the law confiscated several substantial wads of green backs and a lesser quantity of "chicken feed" all of which now reposes at police headquarters.

The raid was one of the most successful and well planned pieces of clever work pulled off by the local police for some time. The revelations which are expected to come out at the trial of the three celestials, charged with keeping a gaming house will be exceedingly interesting and no doubt startling.

Besides three men charged with keeping the house, six other Chinamen will be arraigned charged with being participators in the game.

The whole nine were arrested last night and brought to the police station.

This morning before Acting Police Magistrate Armstrong, Lee Yue, Lee Hong and Lee Sing were charged with being keepers of a common gaming house at the place specified, while the following almond-eyed gentlemen were charged with being players at the above place: Lung Lee, John Hing, Wong Jim, Thomas Hong, Lee Jim, and Lee Yim.

OUT ON BAIL.

None of those implicated were asked to plead or elect this morning, owing to the absence of Police Magistrate Dumble. Bail of $550.00 in all was advanced by Thomas Him, proprietor of the Dominion Chinese Cafe, as surety for the appearance of the whole bunch on Wednesday morning at ten o'clock in the Council Chambers. It appeared as if the entire Chinese population of the city was represented at the police headquarters, when their countrymen came up this morning.

The three men accused of being the keepers are out on bail of $250.00 and the six others on bail of $300.00. Thomas Him the restaurant keeper was diligent in the interests of his fellow citizens and was responsible for collecting the money which represented the freedom of the bunch until Wednesday.

He also acted as interpreter and explained to the men charged, what the advancing of the money meant to him, a proceeding which the Chinamen appeared to readily comprehend. All the arrested ones promised to be on hand without fail at the time set for their trial.

G. N. Gordon will appear for the Chinamen and R. E. Wood will represent the prosecution as usual.

P. C. KIDD MISSED IT.

From information received, Detective Newhall and Police Constable Kidd learned that some sort of "doings" were on at the house at 464 George street. Exerting every precaution so as to not alarm the occupants, they easily affected an entry, although the doors were securely fastened. By sounds upstairs they gathered that some sort of game was in progress. As they ascended the stairs and looked in, the electric lights were switched off and the room left in darkness. A missile or weight of some description is also said to have been hurled at P. C. Kidd, barely missing him. The celestials seeing that they were caught endeavored to do the get-away act, three of them succeeding in so doing, taking a northerly direction. The others, however, surrendered when they saw that escape was impossible. A large crowd gathered and watched the proceedings.

Several important pieces of evidence which may be used to bring in a charge on another serious matter, were also taken away from the house.

The hearing of the case will be awaited with interest.

It is said that several of the arrested Chinamen are attendants at Sunday schools. Some of them can speak very fair English. One man during the proceedings this morning clung to a tea pot and two tea cups, though for what purpose could not be discovered.

PETERBORO TRAPSTERS WON BY GOOD MARGIN FROM KEENE

The Peterborough Gun Club entertained the Keene Club here on Saturday and a match was held in the afternoon at 25 birds. The day was fine and some fairly good scores were made, resulting in a win for the home team by 38 birds. Scores;

NEWSY NOTES ON SUMMER FAIR

When hot, tired and weary, come into the Summer Garden. There, amidst climbing roses, cherry blossoms and tulips, enjoy a cooling ice cream or ice cream soda, or a Teddy Bear, David Harum or Cherry Ripe. All dispensed by a bevy of lovely flower girls.

An adjunct of the Summer Garden is a pea-nut and banana cart, supervised by four charming maids from Italy's sunny clime, specially imported for the occasion.

The Summer Garden is in charge of Mrs. Louis M. Hayes and Mrs. F. P. McNulty.

All Ready for the Big Sale

The Opening Gun of Our Great 24 Day Sale Will be Fired Wednesday With a Great Sale of Dress Goods and Silks

THE interest created by our first announcement has been growing greater and greater every day. Already we've had many inquiries, people can hardly wait for the date the sale is scheduled to commence. Judging from the enthusiasm already aroused throughout this section there will surely be a big crowd Wednesday Morning waiting for our doors to open.

We cannot advise you too strongly to wait for and attend this event, for no sale ever held in Peterborough by any store can compare with this Great 24 Day Sale in its magnitude, in the vast quantities of reliable, fashionable and seasonable merchandise involved and in its unprecedented value-giving.

The values will be simply wonderful, for we have been preparing for this sale for months, making lavish purchases and securing many thousand dollars worth of wanted merchandise at 'way below regular prices.

Here's a bit of advice: It will pay you to anticipate every one of your requirements in the next few months and supply them in this sale, for another such money-saving opportunity will not present itself for a long, long time to come.

Don't miss seeing our Furnished Rooms at Peterborough's Summer Fair to-night.

Medley—Popular Songs.
Waltz—September.
Humoresque—Trombone Sneeze.

DEATH

SHERIN.—At Bowmanville, Monday, May 27th, at 5 a.m., Mr. Thos. Sherin, father of Mrs. Frank Mason, Peterborough, at the age of 80 years.

Orange and Ginger Sherbet.

Put two pounds of sugar and two quarts of water in a saucepan on to boil, stir until the sugar is dissolved, then boil rapidly for eight minutes. Remove from the fire and leave to cool. When cold add the strained juice of six oranges and one lemon, pour into the freezer and freeze without much turning. When frozen add five tablespoonfuls of preserving ginger chopped fine, cover the freezing can and stand away for two hours to ripen. Serve in dainty glasses decorated with a piece of ginger on top of each glass.

Poor Man's Rice Pudding.

An old fashioned indian pudding served with cream is delicious enough for the veriest epicure. Here is a long tried rule: Mix four cupfuls of scalding milk, a cupful of molasses, two level tablespoonfuls of sugar, a quarter of a cupful of corn meal, a tablespoonful of flour and a little salt. Let this mixture simmer over the stove for about half an hour, stirring often enough to keep from burning and lumping. At the end of this time stir in a cupful of cold water, turn into a baking dish and bake for two hours.

A TEST OF LOVE

On the Coming Home of a Soldier

By NATHAN PELHAM

"Grandpa, tell us a story about the war."

"I've told you so many stories about the war that I can't think of any more unless I invent one, and that I couldn't do. But I can tell you one about what happened when I came home from the war. How would you like to hear that?"

"Very much. Go on."

The children ranged themselves around the old man, a boy of seven climbing on one knee, a girl of six on the other. Veteran as he was, there was nothing of "grim visaged war" about him. His white locks made up in length what they lacked in thickness. His eyes beamed kindly on his grandchildren, and an arm encircled the waist of the boy and the girl sitting on his knee. A lass of sixteen stood behind him, one arm resting on his shoulder. Altogether the group made a pretty picture of age and youth.

"The first thing I have to do in telling the story is to make you understand how different we old fellows were when we were fighting the Confederates from what we are today. I was just sixteen when I enlisted. I was under age—that is, they didn't take boys for soldiers unless they were eighteen years old—and I applied at several recruiting stations before they would let me in. I had to do it all secretly, for my mother was dreading that I would be off for the war, and when finally I was accepted she didn't know anything about it. I went home and waited till after supper, when she was sitting by the globe lamp darning my stocking; then I blurted out:

"'Mother, I've enlisted.'

"It broke her all up for awhile. Then she went to work to get me ready to go for a soldier, fixing up a good deal more of clothes than I could stuff in a knapsack. I stepped out to see a girl who lived across the street. We'll call her Bess."

"Have you forgotten her name, grampy?"

"Not exactly. But since I've started to call her Bess we'll let it go at that. Bess and I were great chums, and I knew she'd be interested in hearing about my going to the war. She praised me very highly for my patriotism, and all that, but I noticed something glistening in her eye, and that was quite a revelation to me."

"You mean," said the girl standing behind the chair, "that you knew she loved you."

"That's about it. But she had a lot of stuff in her and didn't like to show how she felt about my going to the war. She realized what I was doing better than I did. Many a boy who went off full of enthusiasm, as I did, never came back. I can see certain ones now whose bones are there yet. There was Charlie Mason. I saw him as we pushed by him sitting on the ground, his back braced against a tree, shot through the lungs, struggling for breath, the blood pouring— But this won't do for children. I'll get on with my story. As I was saying, Bess understood that the chances were I'd never come back, and when our regiment did return at the end of the war more than half the men who had served in it had been killed, or died of wounds or disease.

"Bess was really a jolly girl, and all through that long, dreadful war she kept up my spirits by her letters. There wasn't one of them but had something funny in it, and these parts I used to read to the boys to make them laugh and cheer them up too. Persons who make merry under difficulties are treasures, so different from those dismal creatures who make every one about them feel dismal too.

"I said this was to be a story about coming home from the war, and so it is. What I've been telling you is simply to make you understand what follows. I tell you that was a happy day when we boys heard we were ordered home to the town where we had been organized to be mustered out of the service."

"What's mustered out, grampy?"

"Disbanding, going from soldiering back to being a citizen. I had several chums in my company with whom I was very thick, and we were talking over getting home and seeing all the folks, and I was the happiest one of the lot, thinking how glad mother would be to get me back again after having escaped all the perils I had been through and"—

"Wouldn't Bess be glad to see you too?"

"Oh, yes! I'm coming to Bess, and there's where the point of my story bangs. We boys were talking about one of our company who was going back with one eye shot out, which spoiled all his good looks, to a girl to whom he was engaged to be married. We wondered if his girl would love him as much with one eye as with two. Then some one suggested that I was mighty lucky to go back to my girl with a whole body, and I said, 'If I had lost both arms and both legs Bess would love me and marry me all the same.'

"One of the fellows, my particular chum, Billy Welch, said:

"'Archie, wouldn't it be a good scheme to try her?'

"'What do you mean?' I asked.

"'You might go home with an arm shot off.'

"'How would I do that?'

"'Tie one arm behind your back, concealed by an overcoat cape, letting the empty sleeve swing loose.'

"'That would be more like you than me, Billy. You're always up to some practical joke,' said I.

"'But think how jolly it would be after Bess had sympathized with you and stood by you, and all that, to undeceive her.'

"'It would be kind of nice. I've a good mind to try it on.'

"You see, it wasn't very long since we had been fighting, and I might have lost an arm and not written home anything about it. I couldn't bear to give them the pain, you know. Well, nothing more was said about the test of Bess' affection for me till we reached the town where the regiment had been organized. We came in a train of cars, and, since we arrived late at night, there were few persons to welcome us. The next morning I secured leave to go and see mother, and after she had hugged me and shed tears over me for awhile I went up to my room, doubled my arm behind my back under my blouse, buttoned the cape of my overcoat under my chin and, with an empty sleeve swinging loose, made a pretty good one armed soldier.

"Bess was at the door to let me in and when she saw my empty sleeve she looked as if she was going to cry. I didn't wait to get inside to put one arm around her and kiss her right before persons passing on the street. Fact is, I couldn't wait. I wished I had both arms free. Those who saw me didn't mind the publicity of the thing. All the soldier boys were coming home and were mighty popular fellows, I tell you. Every one liked to see them happy.

"'Oh, Archie!' exclaimed Bess between kisses. 'My poor, dear Archie! Why didn't you write me about the loss of your arm?'

"'I couldn't,' I faltered. 'I was too broken up. Besides, I didn't know but when you knew I must be maimed for life you would'—

"'Cease to love you, discard you! Oh, Archie, how could you think that!'

"'I only feared it. I had confidence in your nobility of soul, but I wasn't quite sure'—

"'Wasn't quite sure! Why, Archie, if I thought for a moment that you had believed I would be so base as to turn you away after you had fought all this time for your country, while I have not been able to stand my share of the burden, I would feel outraged.'

"I began to feel a bit nervous. If this was the way she felt, what would she do when she knew I had put up a job to test her? I had intended to surprise her by bringing forward the missing arm a few minutes after our meeting. Now I dared not do so. We sat down on a sofa side by side. Bess, dreading lest I should hurt the stump, kept at a distance from me on that account. I tried to get her to let me put the other arm around her waist, but she said that not for worlds would she risk hurting that poor wounded member or as much of it as the surgeon had left. The consequence was I was obliged to sit at one end of the sofa, while she sat at the other.

"I couldn't get her to talk about anything except my misfortune. She wanted to know in what fight I had lost the arm, just how far up it had been sawed off, how long I had been in the hospital. I tried to head her off, but it was no use. By and by she conquered her repugnance at looking at such a thing sufficiently to suggest that I let her see how much of the arm was left. I wasn't ready to make a confession just then, so I told her that to uncover the wounded end would pain me terribly.

"Of course I should have been ashamed of myself; but, having got into the scrape, how was I to get out of it? I tried to screw up my courage to tell her, but every time I was about to begin that look of mingled reproach, indignation and contempt that would surely come over her face if I did scared me off. I couldn't do it.

"There was a ring at the doorbell, and who should come in but Billy Welch.

"'Oh, Mr. Welch,' exclaimed Bess, 'isn't it terrible about the loss of Archie's arm? Why didn't you write me about it?'

"'I didn't have the heart to break the news to you.'

"'To think that when other boys are coming home whole Archie should suffer this loss!'

"'It's awful!' exclaimed Billy, turning his back to get a chair, or, rather, to hide an effort to repress a laugh.

"'I wish you would tell me,' Bess went on to him, 'how much of the arm is left. Archie won't let me see it.'

"'Won't he? Then I'll make him.'

"Billy came to me and landed a blow on that part of my lost arm which was near the shoulder. Bess gave a cry.

"'You awful man!' she said to Billy. 'How could you be so cruel?'

"By this time I could see that both Bess and Billy were trying to keep from exploding with laughter. Well, that ended my imposition. I threw off my cape and put the lost arm into the sleeve of my blouse. As I did so I said to Billy:

"'What did you want to give me away for—you who proposed this ridiculous scheme? I'll get even with you if it takes a lifetime!'

"I was mad, but Bess took my shot-off hand and put it in Billy's and said that I must either forgive him for telling or she would not forgive me for my attempt to deceive her.

"So there I was. I stammered an unwilling forgiveness to Billy, and that ended the matter."

"I know who Bess was," said the girl behind the chair. "She was grandma."

Eighty thousand persons waited in line yesterday to see the remains of the late King of Denmark.

One way to avoid spending money foolishly is to not have any.

Cookery Points

For Breakfast.

The simple dishes following will be found wholesome, nourishing and economical and an appetizing change from the stereotyped porridge, eggs and bacon, etc., for breakfast.

Oatmeal With Dates.—To each cupful of uncooked oatmeal add one cupful of dates, washed, with the stones removed and cut small. Cook in the usual way in a double saucepan and serve with milk without sugar, as the dates are sweet enough.

Kidney Fritters.—Take the requisite number of sheep's kidneys, half a pint of frying batter, seasoning and frying fat. Skin and cut each kidney in half. Take the frying batter and stir into it one teaspoonful each of minced parsley and shallot, a dusting of red pepper and a small pinch of powdered sweet herbs. Dip each half kidney in this mixture, then drop carefully into a pan of boiling fat, doing only a few at a time. When light golden brown in color, take out the fritters, drain carefully and serve as quickly as possible, garnished with parsley on a hot dish.

Scotch Scones.—Half a pound of flour, one level teaspoonful of cream of tartar, half a level teaspoonful of carbonate of soda, one ounce and a half of butter, one teaspoonful of sugar, a quarter of a pint of milk. Mix the flour, cream of tartar and carbonate of soda and sift them together; rub the butter into the flour, add the sugar and mix to a paste with the milk. Roll out and cut with a small round cutter or make a large round scone and cut into four sections. Bake in a good oven for about twenty minutes. The real Scotch scones are baked on a sort of griddle, and some housekeepers have been known to cook them on a well floured frying pan.

Compote of Rhubarb.—The early rhubarb is best for compotes and forms a most wholesome breakfast dish. Cut the sticks into two inch lengths and carefully wipe them. Make a sirup color with cochineal and flavor with lemon peel. When boiling put in the rhubarb and simmer very slowly till tender. Remove the fruit, reduce the sirup and pour over the fruit. This should be made the previous day and served cold.

LAYS CORNER STONE OF CONSUMPTIVE HOSPITAL

His Royal Highness Officiates at Function of Laying the Corner-Stone of the Newest Department of the Anti-Tuberculosis Movement at Weston—Must Rouse People to Prevent Plague.

Toronto, May 28.—Weston was en fete yesterday, and large numbers of Toronto people journey out by motor, carriage, tally-ho or trolley car, to the ceremony of the laying of the foundation stone of the new Hospital for Consumptive Children, on the grounds of the Toronto Free Hospital, by His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught. The velvety lawns of the sanitarium grounds were looking their loveliest, and the stand which had been erected to accommodate the distinguished guests was gaily decorated with bunting. Noticeable among the throngs around the stand were the children of the Weston Public School, who had been given a holiday for the occasion.

His Royal Highness left Benvenuto at 10 a.m., accompanied by Col. Lowther and Capt. Long, and was piloted to the scene of the ceremony by Mr. James L. Hughes, LL.D., honorary secretary of the National Sanitarium Association.

On the way out a stop was made at the works of the Russell Motor Co., where Mr. Russell presented to the sanitarium, through the duke, the sum of $150, on behalf of the employes of the factory, who thronged around the royal motor and gave three hearty cheers to speed the duke on his way, after he had, in a brief speech, thanked them for their generosity and expressed his pleasure at having the opportunity of meeting them.

His Honor Sir John Gibson, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, who presided at the ceremonies, said, in the course of his introductory remarks: "Lord Strathcona is president of the association. I have the honor of being a vice-president, but the real head and front of the movement is Mr. Gage, who has, from the beginning of this enterprise, the Hospital for Consumptives in Muskoka and the Toronto Free Hospital, all through been the head and front and chief executive of this great philanthropic movement."

W. J. Gage, who followed, gave an interesting address on the progress being made in staying the ravages of the "white plague."

After appropriate prayers had been offered by the Lord Bishop of Toronto, the duke laid the corner-stone.

In the course of his remarks His Royal Highness said:

"It should not be difficult to interest people in the preservation of their own lives and those of their children, but the apathy and obstinacy of the mass of the population is a phenomenon which is an everlasting wonder.

"It is now pretty well established that tuberculosis in its early stages is curable, and it is probably by the sanitarium system that the best results are to be secured. I pray that this new sanitarium may be the means of restoration to health of numbers of your citizens.

"But though you have the sanitoriums, do not forget, and do not let others forget, that prevention is of vital importance. Properly applied methods can stamp out the disease, and I should like to think that some day the Weston Sanitarium should stand here empty, a monument to the good sense of the Canadian public."

THE PRESIDENT IS IN NEW JERSEY

New York, May 28.—The New Jersey primary election to-day will bring practically to a close the spectacular campaigns for the Presidential nomination that have resulted this year from the adoption by several states of Presidential preference laws. The South Dakota primaries are still in the future, but it is believed that the opening of the polls in New Jersey to-day will see the end of the personal appeal for primary votes that President Taft and Theodore Roosevelt have voiced in many parts of the country.

The delegates to be voted are pledged to Taft, Roosevelt or La Follette, on the Republican ballots, and on the Democratic ballots for Governor Woodrow Wilson, or marked uninstructed." The Democratic fight has been only between Governor Wilson and his opponents inside the state. The Republican candidates found no state issues to aid them and have made their campaigns largely on personal grounds.

In all the President and Col. Roosevelt have made more than fifty speeches each since they entered the state last [illegible]day

Beef Goes Soaring.

New York, May 28.—The highest price since 1882 was reached by beef in the wholesale market here yesterday, when it sold at 13 1-2 cents a pound in bulk. It is said to mean from 1 1-2 to 2 cents a pound increase for prime meats at the retail butcher shops.

The primary cause of the high price, the wholesale men say, is the continued scarcity of cattle. Small retail dealers continue to talk of ruination of their business because consumers are greatly curtailing meat purchases.

Lady Tupper Buried.

Halifax, May 28.—Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., arrived in Halifax Sunday forenoon by special train from Quebec, bringing with him the body of Lady Tupper, which was interred in St. John's Cemertery yesterday afternoon. Sir Charles showed signs of the sorrow that has overwhelmed him.

Plumbers' Strike Averted.

Kingston, May 28.—The plumbers' strike is settled. The men will get $2.70 per day for eight hours, until May 21 next year, when the $3 schedule will go into effect.

WOMAN'S COUNCIL WARS ON EVIL

London, May 28.—That neither charity nor punishment can effect the banishment of the social evil, the question being an economic one, was the assertion of Miss Flora McD. Denison at yesterday afternoon's session of the National Council of Women, in speaking on the report on an equal moral standard and the prevention of traffic in women.

The report prepared by Mrs. Gordon of Ottawa, and read by Mrs. Plumptre, said the "older sister" movement was being tried out successfully in London and other cities.

Moving picture shows were blamed as a cause of girls going wrong, because they were used as places of appointment between girls and men of questionable character.

The report recommended the raising of the age of consent to 18 years, increased stringency in dealing with offenders under the criminal code affecting offences against women, and the supervision of boarding houses.

One report stated that 15,000 girls were imported into the United States and Canada for immoral purposes annually and that three times that number of native-born girls also became victims of the social evil. Annually in New York and Chicago, 1,500 girls disappear from social life. To stop the traffic in women it must be made unprofitable.

Mrs. Denison declared that the cause of prostitution was absolutely an economic one. Girls desired to dress attractively and could not do it on present-day wages. Techinacl training in the public schools was urged as a remedy.

Mrs. Shortt thought a large number of girls who fall are defective. Having once fallen, in order to support their children, they fall again. Baby farm keepers exacted exorbitant charges.

Margaret Gordon dealt with the care of illegitimate children. The state should be made responsible, she claimed. Baby farms should be taken over and run by the Government. This would do away with child murder. Babies would no longer be found in alleys and under the snow in the spring. Such a condition of things as existed at present was disgraceful.

The following resolution was moved by Mrs. Leathes and seconded by Mrs. Denison:

"Resolved that this national council of women of Canada heartily endorses the plan of having a national committee affiliated with the international bureau for the suppression of the white slave traffic, and that the sub-committee be authorized to confer with the executive committee of the Moral and Social Reform Committee of Canada as to the formation of this national committee and to take what further steps may be necessary in this matter."

TORONTO MAN HAD FATAL FALL

Special to the Review.

Toronto, May 28—Taken with an epileptic fit while on top of the elevator on the fourth floor of the Canada Life Building this morning, William Hurst, Weddell Street, fell to the basement and was instantly killed his neck being broken. He leaves a wife and two small children.

TITANIC COMMITTEE PRESENT REPORT TO THE SENATE

Special to the Review.

Washington, May 28.—In the course of his speech in the Senate to-day in presenting the report of the Titanic Inquiry Committee, Senator William Alden Smith, said:—

"When this vessel took its place at the head of the White Star Line, every modern improvement in shipbuilding was supposed to have been realized. When the crisis came a state of absolute unpreparedness stupefied both passengers and crew. The ship went down carrying as needless a sacrifice of noble women and brave men as ever clustered about the Judgment seat in any single moment of passing time. We shall leave to the honest judgment of England its painstaking judgment of the British Board of Trade, to whose laxity of regulation and hasty inspection the world is largely indebted for this awful fatality."

The gist of the committee's finding is that Captain Smith's failure to heed repeated iceberg warnings was the direct cause of the disaster, but responsibility for unnecessary, but life must be shared by Captain Lord, of the steamship Californian, through his disregard of distress signals.

TRAVERS STILL REFUSES TO GIVE VALUABLE INFORMATION

Former Manager of Defunct Bank Refuses to Lend Assistnce to Commission In Tracing Big Sum of Money—It Is Gone and He Has None of It, He Declares—May Tell Sir William Meredith Privately.

Toronto, May 28.—Another snag was struck by Frank Hodgins, K.C., at the Farmers' Bank enquiry yesterday afternoon, when the examiner attempted to elicit an explanation from W. R. Travers as to how a sum of money amounting to $90,000, had been disposed of. Once again the ex-manager refused to state definitely where the money went, and after tracing part of it he met Mr. Hodgins with an unsurmountable "I don't know." The banker proves very unwilling to say anything in regard to Dr. Beattie Nesbitt's connection with the institution, but he has promised Sir William to consider the advisability of telling all he knows at once.

A large amount of money, said Mr. Travers, was invested in Rosedale real estate. The house in which he dwelt and the surrounding lots cost in the neighborhood of $35,000 or $40,000 at least. Mr. Hodgins pointed out that an advance of $40,000 made to Travers in January, 1910, had not been accounted for, but the witness said that he had taken the responsibility of that and he could not tell where it had gone.

"It is of considerable interest to know where the money went," remarked Mr. Hodgins.

"I have none of it. It has gone," replied the manager.

Both Sir William and Mr. Hodgins were of the opinion that Mr. Travers should try to assist the liquidator to trace the money, so that a portion of it could be returned to the poor people who had lost their all in the collapse, but the witness said that it was absolutely useless to attempt to recover the money. According to Mr. Travers, George Wishart, the New York promoter, who so skillfully outmanoeuvred the Canadian banker, owes the Farmers' Bank $50,000 at the present time.

Sir Wiliam questioned the witness about the missing portion of the $90,000, and asked him why he would not tell where it had gone to. The manager stated that he was prepared to testify about this until a Toronto paper came out with such a scurrilous article about him, and this decided him to remain silent.

Sir William: "Then we have run up against the same snag as we did in regard to the $3,000 check?"

"Yes."

The witness then went on to say that if they had been given three months' longer no one would have been out the money. He said that he would seriously consider the question of the missing money, and might tell Sir William privately where it went.

Matthew Borden Dead.

New York, May 28.—Matthew C. D. Borden, one of the most prominent cotton goods manufacturers in the country, died at his residence here yesterday afternoon of intestinal trouble in his 74th year.

Mr. Borden was the largest individual cotton manufacturer and printer in the world.

Mr. Borden was distantly related to Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden, Premier of Canada.

Conservative Elected by One.

Quebec, May 28.—The official recounting of votes given in the last provincial election in Dorchester County resulted in the election of Morissett, Liberal, by a majority of 26.

The recount in Berthier changed the victory of Lafontaine, Liberal, into the victory of Gaboury, Conservative, by a majority of one.

Yacht Ready for Royal Party.

Kingston, May 28.—The Government yacht Lady Grey has arrived here and will wait over for the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, who will arrive Friday morning, on the trip down the river as far as Prescott.

Alex. Johnson, deputy minister of marine, came up on the yacht from Montreal, on an official visit.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER.

Whose speech at the Reform Club Banquet in Montreal to-morrow night will be caught by phonographs.

Nurses Rescued Insane Woman.

Kingston, May 28.—Quick action on the part of two nurses of Rockwood Asylum saved the life of a woman patient who tried to commit suicide. Miss May Kirkwood and Miss Sealer had 15 patients out for a walk when one ran away and jumped into the lake. Miss Kirkwood jumped into the water and grabbed the woman as she was going down, when Miss Sealer also leaped in, came to her assistance and the woman was pulled out.

New Brunswick's New Minister.

Fredericton, N.B., May 28.—At the meeting of the Provincial Government here last week, it is understood that Hon. Roger Maxwell, who is retiring from politics to accept another position, tendered his resignation as president of the executive council and member of the Government without portfolio.

It is said, in this connection, that John E. Wilson, M.P.P., for St. John, will be called to the vacancy.

Dropped Dead in Yard.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 28.—Harry O'Neill, for years prominent in life of this city, dropped dead in his own dooryard yesterday. He was 65 years old. His wife, and three children survive.

J. L. DICKSON STILL A PRISONER

Brockville, May 28.—When Chief Burke called on Inspector of Detectives Hughes of New York on Saturday, and presented the warrant calling for delivery to Brockville of J. L. Dickson, wanted here on a charge of theft of $904.33 from the International Securities Co., he was told that he could not be delivered unless extradition papers, properly signed, were given him. The Brockville chief was accompanied by V. B. Powis of Montreal, general manager of the company, and the two were taken greatly by surprise, as Dickson was being held on the warrant made out here and his telegram to the Brockville chief was taken as indication that Dickson was being held awaiting his arrival.

Chief Burke returned yesterday without Dickson, and said he did not know what would be done. Dickson is quite willing to return here and face the charge, so Chief Burke learned.

WOODSTOCK HAS SMALLPOX CASES

Special to the Review.

Woodstock, May 28.—There are seven mild, but undoubted cases of small pox in this town, under the notice of the health authorities. The first was discovered last Thursday.

CUBAN REBELS DO NOT WORRY

Santiago, Cuba, May 28.—Generals Estenoz and Ivonet, the leaders in the revolutionary rising, have declared their intention to carry on the war, whether the United States intervenes or not, until the Morua law has been repealed. This law provides that there shall be no recognition of political parties on racial lines, and is offensive to the negroes. The insurgent leaders have made the further statement, in the course of an interview with a correspondent who has just returned from the field that they received offers of money from the Cuban Government in consideration of not taking the field, but they refused rather than have the aspirations of the colored race unfulfilled.

No Intervention, Says Taft.

Washington, May 28.—President Taft yesterday sent the following message to President Gomez of Cuba, saying he would not intervene in Cuba:

"I am grateful to learn of your Government's energetic measures to put down the disturbance and to know that you are confident of being successful. As was fully explained to the Cuban charge d'affaires here, this Government's motive in sending ships to Key West, just as sending the Prairie to the Guantanamo naval station, was merely to be able to act promptly in case it should unfortunately become necessary to protect American life and property by rendering moral support or assistance to the Cuban Government. As was made quite clear at the time, these ordinary measures of precaution were entirely disassociated from any question of intervention."

LIBERALS WIN IN ALBERTA

Special to the Review.

Edmonton, Alta., May 28 — Latest returns would indicate that in the five provincial bye-elections, held yesterday, four of which were for new cabinet ministers in the Sifton Government, the Liberals have won four of the contests, while one is still in doubt.

The ministers returned are Attorney-General, C. W. Cross, in Edmonton; Minister of dEucation, J. R. Boyle, in Sturgeon and Chas. Stewart, minister without portfolio, in Sedgewick. Malcolm McKenzie, provincial treasurer, appears to have won in Claresholm and Martin Woolf in Carston.

Brakeman Is Killed.

Toronto, May 28.—While coupling cars on a freight that was being made up in the G.T.R. yards between Bathurst and Portland street at about 12 o'clock last night, E. Thornton, a married brakeman, employed by the Grand Trunk, whose home is in Belleville, was hit by one of the cars on the backing freight, and falling between two of them was instantly killed. His body was taken to the morgue, where it will remain until an inquest has been held. His wife and relatives have been communicated with.

Thaw Hearing Postponed.

Mount Vernon, N.Y., May 28.—The hearing into the sanity of Harry K. Thaw, which was scheduled to come up before Justice Keogh at White Plains on June 3, will be postponed until next fall. The delay will be brought about by ex-District Attorney William T. Jerome, who has been engaged by the state attorney-general to fight the writ of habeas corpus. Mr. Jerome, it is understood, is unable to get the state's witnesses in court on June 3, as many of them are in Europe.

COMPANY GETS A BIG VERDICT

Washington, May 28.—One of the largest judgments against an individual ever decreed by the Supreme Court of the United States was that announced yesterday against Albert S. Bigelow of Boston. He will be called upon to pay a judgment of $2,100,000 together with interest which probably will bring the total to $2,500,000. The victor in the suit is the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co. Bigelow and Leonard Lewisohn of New York promoted the company, and while owning its stock, sold to it property at an enormous profit. They then sold their stock to the "innocent public."

Suicided by Gas.

Toronto, May 28.—Depressed from financial difficulties, Oser Glickman, manager of the Lyric Theatre, Agnes street, was found dead in his office at that place at one o'clock yesterday afternoon. The gas jet was turned on full as was also a small gas stove. All windows and openings were closed tightly. Glickman was fifty years of age and single. He was at one time a musical critic in New York and later edited a Jewish paper in Montreal.

Hydro-Aeroplanes to Cross Channel.

Paris, May 28.—The Compagnie Generale Transaerienne announces its decision to establish a service of hydro-aeroplanes between Calais and Dover to enable passengers to cross the channel in about fifteen minutes.

The company announces also that the dirigible Astra will soon inaugurate the new tourist service above Paris and the surrounding country. The full service will be put in operation shortly.

First Session Ends With Hon. Wallase Nesbitt, K.C., In the Middle of His Argument—Other Supporters of Lancaster Bill Have Still to Speak — Quebec Maintains That Canadian Court Lacks Power.

Ottawa, May 28.—When the Supreme Court rose for the day, counsel for the promoters of the Lancaster marriage bill had not completed the presentation of their case, Eugene Lafleur, K.C., who followed Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., being still in the midst of his argument. The hearing will probably last a week.

The vital question involved is whether it lies within the competency of the Parliament of Canada to legislate and enact a law on the subject of marriage, and for the hearing of the question the Government has engaged the most prominent counsel in the country to support the promoters and to oppose them. Heretofore, the provinces have legislated alone on the solemnization of marriage, and, following the agitation ensuing the promulgation of the ne temere decree, the Lancaster bill, which is the cause of the present hearing, was introduced in Parliament. This bill provides that any marriage performed by any authorized person shall be valid, without the religion of the officiating clergyman or officer or of the contracting parties.

Questions arose in consideration of certain sections of the North America Act as to whether Parliament could constitutionally legislate on the question and the Supreme Court has been asked for a specific pronouncement on the questions involved. The Province of Quebec disputes the jurisdiction of the court to hear the matter at all.

Hon. Mr. Nesbitt and Mr. Lafleur quoted many authorities in support of their contention as to the right of the Parliament to enact the Lancaster bill, and the latter dealt especially with question two of the reference and went deeply into the provisions of the civil code of the Province of Quebec. In effect, Mr. Lafleur held that according to the code the religious element was not necessary for the legal performance of a marriage in the province.

Edmond L. Newcombe, K.C., deputy minister, appeared for the Minister of Justice. I. F. Hullmuth, K.C., and P. B. Mignault, K.C., for the opponents. Aime Geoffrion, K.C., R. C. Smith, K.C., and Auguste Lemieux, K.C., for the Province of Quebec; Edmund Bayly, K.C., for the Attorney-General of Ontario. The other provinces were not represented.

Eugene Lafleur, for the promoters of the Lancaster Bill, continued his argument before the Supreme Court this morning. Chief Justice Duff and Justice Idington frequently interrogated him.

DETROIT BOYS WILL START FARM

Detroit, May 28.—Another innovation has been introduced to make the 63rd annual Michigan State Fair noteworthy as the fair of real features. A model farm will be promoted and fifty boys of Detroit, twenty-five of them Boy Scouts and the other organizations which have applied including the Ford Republic, will farm plots of land 75 feet in width of one hundred feet in depth starting immediately after the plot of ground adjoining the automobile building to the east has been prepared for the young farmers. This plot of 400 feet frontage by 1,000 feet in depth will be given over to fifty farms with aisles extending criss-cross. The model farms will be exclusively a feature of the state fair as will also the Boys' State Fair School. The officials will provide prizes in gold, $100 to the boy who shows the best developed farm, $50 in gold to second, and $25 to third. Many supplementary prizes will be offered by the merchants and business men of Detroit. The state fair management makes but one condition, twenty-five farms must be actively worked at the time of the fair when the young farmers will exhibit their crops and at the close of the fair receive that which they have raised as an additional profit for their hard work.

"Jim" Hill's Son Ousted.

St. Paul, Minn., May 28.—The directors of the Great Northern Railway yesterday afternoon appointed Carl R. Gray of Portland president of the road, and retired L. W. Hill from that position. Mr. Gray's duties will begin at once.

Carnegie Library for Montreal.

Montreal, May 28.—The controllers yesterday passed a recommendation to council to spend $500,000 on a library, and to ask Andrew Carnegie to keep his promise, made some years ago, to give money towards a building.

GOVERNMENT DELIVERS FOOD PRODUCTS TIED UP BY STRIKE

Special to the Review.

London, May 28.—The striking dock laborers are still holding out for union recognition and a minimum daily wage of $1.80. They have succeeded in suspending trade in everything but food products and the strike is seriously affecting other ports indirectly. The Government has promised however, to guarantee the unchecked delivery of food products, and a force of two thousand police so far have been successful in doing this. The strikers are much chargined over their failure in this particular and a national strike may be the result.

A Discovery of Vast Importance

It Is Now Admitted That Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Coughs, and Colds Can Only Be Quickly Cured By Mixing a New Medicine With the Air You Breathe.

Scientists acknowledge that medicated air treatment is the only treatment that will cure these diseases, and that stomach medicines are worse than useless.

Catarrhozone air treatment has been found to be the most effective way to cure all diseases of the throat, lungs, and nasal passages. Its action is so prompt that in less than an hour an ordinary cold is cured, and after a more thorough use of Catarrhozone, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all diseases of the throat and lungs are completely cured.

Catarrhozone is a very simple and powerful method of treatment. You simply breathe it through the inhaler and it immediately passes over every air cell of the throat, lungs, and bronchial tubes, curing and healing as it goes.

Catarrhozone treatment affords little drops of healing for sore places in the lungs, throat, and nasal passages.

HOME RULE BILL

The Orange Young Britons, at the annual convention of their Grand Lodge at Brockville, adopted a resolution protesting against the Home Rule bill which has now reached the committee stage in the British Parliament. Coincident with this action the friends and opponents of the bill alike almost buried it out of sight by showering amendments upon it.

These two incidents are here referred to because they served to revive in the bill an interest that was moribund. For a matter of so much moment it is remarkable what little attention has been paid to the Irish policy of the Asquith Government. Stirring speeches have been made in its behalf and Mr. Bonar Law hurled at it bitter invectives but the most of these speeches were addressed to all but a vacant house.

Each side is ready with an explanation of this apathy. Friends of Home Rule say it betokens on the part of the public a friendliness for the measure, while the Unionist party say the bill is taken with so little seriousness, there is so little chance of it ever becoming a law, that the public are not worrying about it. It is certainly true that a lack of uneasiness may indicate a confidence in defeat as well as a hope of triumph.

It needs no political seer to forecast that Mr. Asquith's Home Rule Bill in its present form, or in a form at all like it, will never become law. One feature alone condemns it to defeat and that is the power which it gives Ireland to establish custom houses. No other scheme of federation ever proposed in the world contains such a provision. Suppose the Canadian act of Confederation had given such power to the contracting provinces what would be the result? Every province could, if so disposed, establish its own custom houses and adopt its own fiscal policy. What Mr. Asquith had in mind when he incorporated such a clause in the measure would be hard to say for he has never offered anything like an explanation.

It is a far cry from the Gladstone Home Rule Bill of 1886 to the one now before the British people but the difference in the general scope of the two measures tends to show how public opinion has developed. Mr Gladstone's Bill was separation out and out, while Mr. Asquith's is at least a modified form of federation. The Parnell party a quarter of a century ago would accept nothing less than Mr. Gladstone finally offered them. So unpopular was Home Rule then that Mr. Gladstone not only lost power by reason of it, but was publicly hissed on the street and in the drawing rooms of private life.

While Mr. Asquith seems to have escaped so far any hostile demonstrations there is always the chance that history is about to repeat itself. If the Unionists had any reason to believe that the Bill has a chance of becoming law they would not be regarding the situation with so much complacency.

Ireland will no doubt some day be granted Home Rule but it will not be before the Hon. W. T. White's dream of a federated empire is realized.

MAY BE VINDICATED

Let us all hope that the changed course of the Arctic current, as reported by Capt. P.C. Johnson, Dominion Inspector of lighthouses, will account in a new sense, for the Titanic disaster, and absolve the late Capt. Smith from all blame. Capt. Johnson says that the Titanic turned from her course to avoid the ice, and would have escaped but for the unusual phenomenon which he reports.

If this be true, then the Titanic's commander, who in his last moments gave the world an example of calm courage, who with the words "Be British" called into being a new watchword for his nation, whose last recorded act was to save the life of a little child, caring nothing for his own, may rest in his unfathomed grave, without a stain on his memory.

OUR NEW DANGER

The American Congress is probably the most nervy legislative body in the wide world. It tackles a matter in which may be involved a grave question of international law, and when it is thoroughly roused, proceeds to legislate without regard to consequences. Such a thing as the comity of states or nations is nothing to it. Refusing to be restrained by the terms of a treaty made with a foreign power, they pursue their reckless congressional career. It is fortunate for the American Congressmen that they have an impartial guardian, in the shape of a federal supreme court, which often takes a header, with a coach and four, at some hot headed piece of legislation and tears it into shreds.

The executive branches of the American Government, sometimes gives rise to the suspicion that it is subject to fits of mental aberration. Attorney General Wickersham has started a suit against the Coffee Trust. The fact that the foundation of that combination rests in Brazil does not phase the zealous official. He is paid to fight trusts and why should any escape?

The production of coffee is the chief industry in Brazil and a few years ago the price fell so low on account of a bumper crop that the Brazilian Government entered into an agreement with some American capitalists to limit the production and export of their commodity, in order to keep up the price. In this arrangement they were following the example set by the cotton planters of the south, and the tobacco grower of Kentucky.

Looking about for an excuse to give them jurisdiction, the United States has seized about ten million dollars worth of coffee belonging to the Brazilian Trust which was stored in some of the warehouses in New York, awaiting probably, a further rise in the market.

If the contention of the United States, that it has a right to interfere in the affairs of foreign governments is held of effect by the courts it will not be safe for another nation to do business in the American Republic. All that the latter would require would be to assume that imports were the productions of trusts and then proceed to confiscate such goods. Canada is liable to suffer in this respect, as well as Brazil.

How would the shoe fit the other foot? As before stated, southern planters clubbed together and reduced the acerage of cotton in order to keep up the price. England, following the example of the United States, might confiscate the cotton shipped to them. Kentucky tobacco raisers, not only reduced their acerage by force of arms and intimidation, but wantonly destroyed large quantities of the harvested and the growing crop, the most virulent trust of them all. According to the Wickerson contention, any Kentucky tobacco shipped to another country can be appropriated by the courts.

With Attorney General Wickerson assuming the management of foreign affairs and bellicose members of Congress, clamoring for discriminations against Canadian boats, we may well be permitted to wonder into what international mazes we are drifting.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A man was fined $16 in the Woodstock police court for playfully ducking a small boy in the river. Another time he will think before he jokes.

A Guelph young man was fined $2 in the police court for striking his mother. Filial duty must be at a discount in the Royal City.

The United States should "Remember the Maine" when they propose sending a gunboat to Cuba to interfere in another people's quarrel.

"Just keep out of this, and I will show you how to settle the negro question," says President Gomez to President Taft.

It's a safe assumption that the New York Custom officer, who questioned Sir Rodolphe Forget, M.P., on his ability to read and write, is not over-proficient in those arts himself.

An inmate of the Matteawan State Asylum in New York, has devised a scheme for raising the Titanic by magnets. Please note that the visionary inventor is not the renowned Harry K. Thaw.

The "God of Speed," is the new name employed by a Toronto clergyman to describe the mad desire of automobile, steamship and other owners of locomotive contrivances to make time.

That is the unkindest cut yet. Hamilton has always been proud of her mountain, and now the jealous Toronto people insinuate that it is a breeder of earthquakes.

Edward Bayly, K.C., solicitor to the Attorney-General's department, is representing Ontario in the marriage case now before the Supreme Court. Sir James Whitney says that the position of this province will not be determined until the cases put by the others are known.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech at the banquet of the Reform Club in Montreal to-morrow night is to be recorded by phonographs, and sets will be distributed to Liberal clubs throughout the country with a view, no doubt, to bolster up their wavering political faith.

The bank investigation, the marriage question, the situation in Cuba, the Presidential struggle across the line and even our own Summer Fair, pale in interest for a time before the pleasing announcement that our base ball boys drubbed the leaders of the Canadian League. More power to them and may they weary not in their struggle.

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Terrible Kidney Disease

MOUNTAIN, ONT., DEC. 14TH. 1910

"For six years, I suffered from dreadful Kidney Disease. My legs and lower part of my body were fearfully swollen and the pain was awful. Five different doctors attended me and all said it was Kidney Trouble, and gave me no hope of getting well.

A kind neighbor told me to try "Fruit-a-tives"—and in a short time, the swelling went down, the pain was easier, and then "Fruit-a-tives" cured me. (MISS) MAGGIE JANNACK.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest Kidney Cure in the world—and will always cure Pain in the Back, Swollen Hands and Feet, Headaches and other troubles due to poisoned condition of the blood.

Chicago Wheat Futures Close Higher, Liverpool Exchange Closed—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 27.—Reports that the first new wheat of 1912 had been harvested to-day in Texas wiped out nearly all of an advance due to fear of damage in Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska. The close of the market here was weak and varied from the same as Saturday night to 1-8c gain. Corn finished 1-2c to 1 1-8c down, oats ranging from 1-4c to 3-8c off to a rise of 3-4c and provisions unchanged to 2 1-2c up.

The grain markets of England and Europe were closed yesterday over the Whitsuntide holidays.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, May 27.—Business in grain for export was dull, owing to the holidays in England. The local demand for oats was good and sales of 50,000 bushels extra No. 1 feed at 50¼c, c.i.f., Montreal, for June shipment from Fort William and 20,000 sample oats at 47c c.i.f. A few round lots on spot were placed at 51c to 51½c for extra No. 1 feed. There is a fair demand for Manitoba feed barley. The market for winter wheat flour is strong and prices have advanced 5c per bag. Spring wheat grades are firm, business generally is quiet.

Corn—American, No. 2 yellow, 84c.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 55c to 55½c; do., No. 3, 51c to 51½c; extra No. 1 feed, 51½c to 52c.

Barley—Manitoba feed, 65c to 66c; malting, $1.06 to $1.07.

Buckwheat—No. 2, 74c to 75c.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $5.80; seconds, $5.30; strong bakers', $5.10; winter patents, choice, $5.25 to $5.35; straight rollers, $4.80 to $4.90; do., bags, $2.30 to $2.40.

Rolled oats—Barrels, $5.35; bag, 90 lbs., $2.55.

Millfeed—Bran, $25; shorts, $27; middlings, $29; moullie, $30 to $34.

Hay—No. 2, per ton, car lots, $20.50 to $21.00.

Cheese—Finest westerns, 14c to 14¼c; finest easterns, 13¾c to 13⅞c.

Butter—Choicest creamery, 27c to 27½c; seconds, 25¾c to 26½c.

Eggs—Selected, 25c to 26c; No. 2 stock, 18c to 19c.

Potatoes—Per bag, car lots, $1.70 to $1.75.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, May 27.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 109 carloads, comprising 1924 cattle, 1189 hogs, 206 sheep and 116 calves.

Exporters.

Mr. Howard bought for Swift & Co. 150 steers for Liverpool, 1276 lbs. each, at $7.50, average price.

Butchers

The best steers of export quality, bought for butchers' purposes, $7.50 to $7.90; mixed butchers' steers and heifers, $7 to $7.40; medium butchers, $6.50 to $7; common, $6 to $6.40; inferior, light cattle, $5.50 to $5.75; cows, $4 to $6.75; bulls, $5.50 to $6.40.

Milkers and Springers

About a dozen milkers and springers, all of which were bought by Fred Rowntree at $45 to $70 each, and one at $95.

Veal Calves

Over one hundred veal calves were on sale, the average price for which would be about $6.75, but prices ranged from $4 to $7.25 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Wesley Dunn reported prices as follows: Sheep, ewes, $5.50 to $6.25; spring lambs, $4 to $6.50 each; and there was a bunch of yearling lambs, which sold at $7.00 per cwt.

Hogs.

Hog prices were lower. Selects, fed and watered, sold at $8.75, and $8.40 f.o.b. cars.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, May 27.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending May 25 were 2400 cattle, 425 sheep and lambs, 2750 hogs and 1275 calves. The offerings on the market this morning for sale were 750 cattle, 200 sheep and lambs, 1000 hogs, and 300 calves.

An easier feeling developed in the market and prices were fully 10 to 25c per cwt. lower than this day week, which was attributed to the fact that owing to the high prices ruling of late a good many more drovers were induced to come on here instead of going to Toronto and in consequence the supply was larger than it has been for the past two or three weeks. Really good cattle are scarce and drovers state that it was difficult to pick a carload of such stock up in some sections of the country. The quality of the stock was generally good, but, notwithstanding this fact and the good attendance of buyers, trade was rather slow as the high prices of beef of late have tended to decrease the consumption some, consequently the demand from butchers was principally for small lots. A few full loads of choice steers changed hands at $7.50 to $7.75 and good stock at $6.75 to $7.25 per cwt.

There was no change in the hog market, prices being firmly held under a good demand from packers for all grades offered. Trade was active. Selected lots sold at $9.75 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

Sheep, lambs and calves were in good demand. Supplies were somewhat limited and the tone of the market was firm with sales of ewes at $4.50 per cwt., and spring lambs brought from $4 to $7 each.

Butchers' cattle, choice, $7.75 to $8; medium, $6 to $7; common, $5 to $5.50; choice cows, $6.25 to $6.50; medium, $5.50 to $6; bulls, $5.50 to $6.75; milkers, choice, each, $80 to $90; common and medium, each, $65 to $75; springers, $60 to $80.

Sheep, ewes, $6.25 to $6.50; bucks and culls, $5.25 to $5.50; lambs, $7.25.

Hogs, f.o.b., $9.75.

Calves, $1.50 to $8.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, May 27.—Cattle—Receipts, 20,000; market steady to 10c lower. Beeves, $6.10 to $9.25; Texas steers, $6 to $8.15; western steers, $6.25 to $7.90; stockers and feeders, $4.40 to $6.80; cows and heifers, $3 to $8; calves, $5.50 to $8.75.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucuous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Cynthia's Chauffeur

By LOUIS TRACY

Copyright by McLeod & Allen, Toronto

Cynthia laughed. She had guessed why her chaperon wished to keep her literally at arm's length. She spread her skirts with a quick gesture that relieved an awkward situation.

"Not a drop on my clothes," she said gleefully. "The water just touched the soles of my boots, but before you could say 'Jack Robinson' Fitzroy had whisked me out of the skiff—and landed me on dry land."

"You were in shallow water, then?" put in the smiling proprietress.

"Oh no, fairly deep. Fitzroy was up to his waist in the stream."

"And the boat upset?" came the amazed chorus.

"I didn't mean that. What actually happened is this. I discovered that the hour was rather late, and Fitzroy was rowing down stream at a great pace when some sunken thing, a tree-root he thinks, caught the side of the boat and started a plank. I was so taken by suprise that I should have sat right there and gone to the bottom with the boat but Fitzroy jumped straight away and hiked me out."

Ready-tongued Cynthia was beginning to find detailed explanation rather difficult, and her speech reverted to the picturesque idioms of her native land. It was the happiest ruse she could have adopted. Everyone laughed at the notion of being "hiked out." None of her hearers knew what it meant, yet it covered the requisite ground, which was more than might have been achieved by explicit English.

"Where did the accident take place?" asked the landlady.

Cynthia was vague on this point but when she told how the return journey was made, the pretty Welsh waitress hit on a theory.

"In-deed to goot-ness, miss," she cried, "you wass be-tween the Garren River an' Huntsham Bridge. It las a bad place, so it iss, however. Me an' my young man wass shoaled there once, we wass."

Cynthia felt that her face and neck had grown postively scarlet, and she could have kissed the well-disposed landlady for entering on a voluble disquistion as to the tricks by the Wye on those unaware of its peculiarities, especially at night. A general conversation broke out, but Mrs. Devar, rapidly regaining her spirits after enduring long hours of the horrible obsession that Medenham had run off with the heiress, noted that telltale blush. At present her object was to assist rather than embarrass, so with a fine air of motherly solicitude she asked:

"Where did you leave Fitzroy?"

"He say preparations being made to send boats in search of us, and he went to stop them. Oh, here he is!"

Medenham entered, and the impulsive Mrs. Devar ran to meet him. Though he had been in the river again only five minutes earlier, the walk up a dustladen path had covered his sopping boots with mud, and in the not very powerful light of the hall where a score or more of anxious people were collected, it was difficult to notice that his clothes were wet. But "Wiggy" Devar did not care now whether or not the story told by Cynthia was true. With reaction from the nightmare that had possessed her since ten o'clock came a sharp appreciation of the extraordinarily favorable turn taken by events so far as she was concerned. If a French count were to be supplanted by an English viscount, what better opportunity of approving the change could present itself?

"Mr. Fitzroy," she said in her shrill voice, "I can never thank you sufficiently for the courage and resource you displayed in rescuing Miss Van renen. You have acted most nobly I am only saying now what Mr. Van renen will say when his daughter and I tell him of your magnificent behavior."

He reddened and tried to smile though wishing most heartily tha these herioce, if unavoidable, had been kept for some other time and place He could not believe that Cynthia had exalted a not very serious incident into a "rescue," yet she might be vexed if he cheapened his own services. In any event, it was doubtful whether she would wish her father to hear of the escapade until she told him herself at the close of the tour.

"I am sure Miss Vanrenen felt safe while in my care," was all he dared to say, but Cynthia promptly understood his perplexity and came to his aid.

"Mrs. Devar thinks far more of our adventure than we do," she broke in "Our chief difficulty lay in finding the road. The only time I felt worried was when you crossed the river to retrieve the ferry-boat. But surely I have caused enough excitement for to-night. You ought to take some hot lemonade and go to bed."

A man who had walked up the hill from the boathouse with Medenham laughed and slapped him on the shoulder.

"Come along, old chap!" he cried "You certainly want a hot draught of some sort, and you must not hang about in those wet clothes."

"Yes," pursued Mrs. Devar, "don't run the risk of caching cold, Fitzroy It would spoil everything if you were laid up."

Her gracious manner almost deceived Medenham. During his years of wandering he had come across unexpected good qualities in men from whom he looked for nought but evil—was it the same with women? He hoped so. Perhaps this scheming marriage-broker had shed her worldly scales under the stress of emotion.

"You need have no fear that the car will not be waiting for you in the morning, Mrs. Devar," he said, smiling frankly into her steel-gray eyes. "Did you say half-past nine, Miss Vanrenen?" he asked, turning to snatch one last look at Cynthia.

"Yes. Good-night—and thank you."

She offered her hand to him before them all. The touch of her cool fingers was infinitely sweet, but when he strove to surprise some hint of her thought in those pools of limpid light that were wont to gaze at him so fearlessly, he failed, for all the daring had fled from Cynthia, and he knew—how Heaven and lovers alone can tell—that her heart was beating with a fright she had not felt when he staggered under the relentless pressure of the river while holding her in his arms.

To the lookers-on the girl's outstretched hand was a token of gratitude; to Medenham it carried an acknowledgment of that quality which should reign between those who love. His head swam in a sudden vertigo of delight, and he hurried away without uttering a word. There were some, perhaps, who wondered; others who saw in his brusqueness nothing more than confusion of an inferior overwhelmed by the kindly condecension of a young and charming mistress; but the one who did fully and truly interpret the secret springs of his action went suddenly white to the lips, and her voice was curiously low and strained as she turned to Mrs. Devar.

"Come, dear," she murmured. "I am tired, it would seem; and you, you must be quite worn out with anxiety."

"My darling child," gushed Mrs. Devar, "I should have been nearly dead if I had not known that Fitzroy was with you, but he is one of those men who inspire confidence. I refused to admit even to myself that anything of evil consequence could happen to you while he was present. How fortunate we were that day in town——"

The man who had suggested that the hotel pharmacist could dispense hot drinks other than lemonade nudged an acquaintance.

"Our chauffeur friend has a rippin' nice job," he whispered. "Wouldn't mind taking his billet myself—it 'ud be a change from everlastin' goff. Hello. Where is he? I meant to——"

Medenham had gone, striding away up the hillside in avery frenzy of happiness. Four days, and Cynthia as good as won! Was it possible, then, that the disguised prince of the fairy-tale could be a reality—that such romance might still be found in this gray old world? Four days! He could not be deeper in love with Cynthia had he known her four years, or forty, and he was certain now that he had really loved her before he had been in her company four minutes.

But these rhapsodies were cut short by his arrival at the hotel garage, with the displeasing discovery that no one named Dale had reached Symon's Yat that evening, while the stolid fact stared him in the face that his cherished Mercury demanded several hours of hard-working attentions if it were to glisten and hum in its usual perfection next morning.

"Queer thing," he said, thinking aloud rather than addressing the stableman who had given this disconcerting news. "I have never before known him fail; and I wired to Hereford early enough."

"Oh, he's in Hereford, is he?" inquired the man.

"He ought not to be, but he is, I fear."

"Then it'll be him who axed for ye on the telephone?"

"When?"

WOMAN'S MOST SUCCESSFUL MEDICINE

Known All Over The World —Known Only For The Good It Has Done.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

Fox Creek, N. B.—"I have always had pains in the abdomen and a weakness there and often after meals a soreness in my stomach. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me much good. I am stronger, digestion is better and I can work with ambition. I have encouraged many mothers of families to take it as it is the best remedy in the world. You can publish this in the papers."—Mrs. WILLIAM S. BOURQUE, Fox Creek, N. B.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of whom state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

Artist and His Paintings.

Lord Alverstone, when speaking the other day at the "coming of age" meeting of the Royal Society of Portrait Painters, declared that the pleasure of being painted by an eminent artist was not unalloyed. He himself had sat to his friend, Mr. John Collier, and not long ago another friend, looking at the portrait, said, "I dare say now you would like to be as wise as Collier has made you look?" "I should," said the Lord Chief Justice. "It's impossible," said the friend.

This recalls the story about Mr. Collier's portrait of his father-in-law, the famous Prof. Huxley, who always took a special pleasure in going to the Royal Academy banquet. But he confessed that in 1883 he found the banquet rather trying, because Mr. Collier's portrait of him, which was in the Academy that year, was hanging just behind him. "Somebody," said Huxley, "remarked that it was a better likeness of me than I was—and really if you try to think that out it's rather confusing."

Eighty thousand persons waited in line yesterday to see the remains of the late King of Denmark.

CONCERNING YOUR EYES

Good eyesight is essential to health comfort and appearance. Have you ever noticed a strained look on your face, or your friend's? Usually this comes from eyestrain. More wrinkles are caused by eyestrain than by age. Thousands unconsciously squint in an effort to adapt the eyes to the surroundings. Success in relieving eyestrain depends entirely upon the OPTICAL SKILL of the Specialist who prescribes the glasses. Neglect of the eyes many times leads to surgical operations, which glasses worn in time may prevent. We correct errors of vision by means of properly fitted lenses.

We have every modern appliance for accurate eyesight testing, and we grind all our own lenses. Thus assuring you accuracy and promptness. All work guaranteed.

MONAGHAN FARMER SAYS HE WILL SUE THE GOVERNMENT

Agreement Was Signed by Him However for Government Privilege.

Mr. Joseph Clark, of South Monaghan is very much disturbed on account of the high water this spring having drowned about forty acres of his land. He stated to the Review that he intended to sue the Government for the damage to his land by the water. On being interviewed on the subject Mr. J. H. McClellan, Supt. of the Trent Canal, explained that several years ago Mr. Clark had signed an agreement with the Government whereby he, in consideration of $1500 would give the Government the privilege of raising the water to a certain level. For several years there has been no need of the Canal Department availing themselves of the contract but now that the unusually large spring freschets have made it necessary to do so, Mr. Clark in default of his agreement wishes to receive a further consideration.

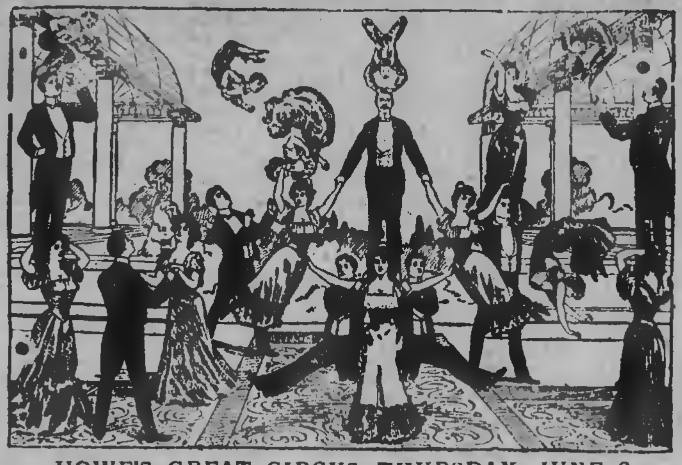
CADET SERVICE ROSS RIFLE FOR COLLEGIATE CADETS

The Collegiate Cadet Corps were inspected yesterday afternoon at 5.30 o'clock, by Col. Ogilvie, R.C.A., and made a very creditable showing. The inspection was the annual event and took place in front of the Armories. Three companies, under Major Grant Mowat, and Capts. H. Eastwood, Bert Throop and R. Dixon, were put through the various military manoeuvres, and in the more complicated movements showed that the training under Instructor C. F. Jamieson had been efficient and careful. Col., the Hon. Sam Hughes, was present at the inspection, and after the drill complimented the cadets, their officers and instructor on the manner in which they had executed the various commands. He was pleased with the smart appearance of the officers in uniform, and hoped that next year every cadet would have a regulation uniform. He promised that the whole battalion would be equipped be soon as possible with the new cadet Ross rifles, and expressed surprise that it had not already been done. The government, he said, would give $1.00 a year to each cadet for uniforms.



HOWE'S GREAT CIRCUS, THURSDAY, JUNE 6

PROFESSIONAL PALMIST AT THE SUMMER FAIR

One of the most popular attractions of the Summer Fair is the Gypsy booth. The ladies in charge have secured a professional palmist, who will be pleased to tell all enquirers what the future has in store for them. Madame Zambar, from London, England, is to be the palmistry treat, and no doubt will be in great demand. Madame Zambar has had wonderful success in delineating character and promising the best for the future. Her charge is merely nominal, but no reading will be made for less than a quarter. Madame Zambar will be in the palmistry tent each afternoon and evening while the Fair lasts.

To-morrow evening in His Majesty's Theatre at the Summer Fair a one act farce, called "A Pair of Lunatics," will be given by Miss Helen Davidson and Mr. Gerald Rackham. This is very laughable, and is full of witty sayings and comical misunderstandings. Those who arrange to visit the theatre on Wednesday night will surely enjoy the program arranged.

The attraction at the Theatre at the Summer Fair this evening is a one-act farce called "The Business Meeting of the Young Girls' Club." This laughable sketch is being given by seven young ladies and is said to be very funny indeed. The following young ladies are taking part in the farce: Misses Georgie Stevenson, Dorothy Dobbin, Amy Clementi, Grace Elliston, Phylis Cumberland, Margaret Stevenson and Geraldine Hooper.

Besides this farce there will be a number of vocal and instrumental numbers and the programme as planned promises to be a very entertaining one.

Come to the last Free Recital at the J. M. Greene Music Company's Building on Charlotte Street to-night at eight o'clock. All the new June selections will be played on the fine New Opera Edison Phonograph.

Interment Here

The remains of the late Mrs. Wm. Spencely who died in Auburn, New York, will arrive in the city on Wednesday

The funeral will be held on Wednesday from Comstock's undertaking parlors to the Little Lake cemetery. No further word has been received in the city.

Your Spring Hat.

A hat is the most noticeable feature of a woman's dress. It practically makes or mars her costume. The selecting of a good looking hat is simply a question of interest in the matter. The milliner is interested in selling what she has on hand. The trouble is the average woman is not as interested in selecting a becoming hat as the milliner is interested in selling what she has on hand. No milliner will take the interest in your appearance that you do yourself.

At least every woman should know her own limitations sufficiently well to be an intelligent factor in clothing her own head and not be a mere pawn moved about at the milliner's whim. It is all the matter of studying oneself, of being aware of one's own type. Don't be guilty of extinguishing a little face under an immense hat or load it with ornaments brighter than the sparkle of your own eyes or with colors that make you sallow by contrast. If you are built on the Juno type do not be persuaded into buying a toy hat regardless how your friends and the milliner insist that your classic braids are beautifully adorned with a Tommy Atkins toque.

Neither should one carry respect for one's own style to the monotonous extreme of never wearing but one kind of hat. Each year there are fashions which may be adapted to your knowledge of your own individuality. Each year it is possible for the woman who knows her own face and who has due regard for its possibilities to frame it becomingly without sacrificing every consideration of the modes. Adaptation of one's own individuality means harmony in hats.

Owing to rain and wet grounds to-day's ball game was called off.

THE NEW LINGERIE.

Slim Lines the Thing in Modish Underwear.

THE BODICE CORSET COVER.

Pictured is the new bodice corset cover, which is a boon to the stout women. It is very much on the order of a brassiere, as it is perfectly fitted to the figure and boned in several places.

Another advantage of this corset cover is that it is attached to the petticoat, giving a smooth hip line.

The materials used are valenciennes lace and the sheerest of tucked batiste. Pink satin ribbon ties the cover at the shoulders and is run through the beading.

To Prevent Sea-Sickness.

What is claimed to be an anti-seasick chair has been invented by an Englishman. Instead of legs, it is supported on pivots, so that no matter how violently the vessel may roll or pitch, the user remains absolutely undisturbed. Many trials have been made with this chair, and it is claimed that it is even more efficacious than the anti-seasick beds with which the Medina was fitted for the recent royal tour to India.

A Real Marriage Yoke.

In Basutoland the ladies, on reaching the happy married state, don, instead of the homely, insignificant wedding-ring, a great brass collar. All married women in Basutoland wear these collars as a sort of mark or insignia of their rank. The collars are slit at the back to allow of their being taken off.

What Some Women Pay For Aigrets.

Many women object to the wearing of aigrets on account of the cruelty entailed in their production, but there are other mondaines who not only give fabulous prices for these adornments, but add to the expense by having the aigrets threaded with pearls of great value.

JEWELED AIGRETS.

In the cut are aigrets worn in the hair by wealthy society women that have cost their owners $300 and $600 respectively.

Springtime in the Home.

A touch of springtime in the living room may be had by a simple change in the window draperies, substituting some light flowered summery fabrics for the winter ones which have grown dingy.

The color scheme of the curtains may be changed and perhaps a different tone in the wall paper brought out thereby.

The wide assortment of beautiful linen and cotton curtain fabrics now to be found in the shops offers many hints by which this change may be brought about.

Cretonnes with the black and rich dark backgrounds are suitable for living and dining room decorations, and, too, they do not show the soil so quickly as do the lighter grounds.

Scrims and nets in white, cream, tans and ecrus are particularly well adapted for the window hangings.

If the wall papers are flowered then select a plain material and stencil a border in two tones of the paper coloring, but if they are plain flowered effects are very desirable for hangings.

Paint with its saving grace will give a brand new appearance to the wicker furnishings, and the window boxes and flowerpots may be made to lend a striking bit of charm and freshness to the rooms if treated to a dress of new paint in bright green or red.

If the housekeeper will observe some of these little ideas before the spring days actually arrive she will find that she has struck a happy tune for the tired creatures in her home for whose welfare she is ever most solicitous.

Prices for D. L. & W. Scranton Coal for May and June orders will be—$7.00 Pea Coal; $7.50 Stove and Egg; $7.75 Nut Coal. Fresh Lime and Cement always in stock. ROBERT HICKS. tf

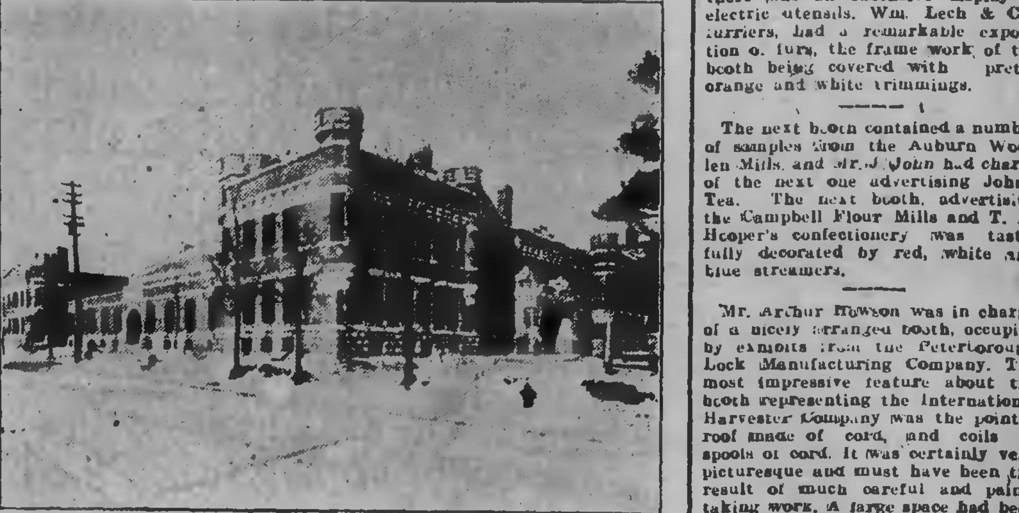
SUMMER FAIR REVEALS SCENE OF ENTERPRISE AND BEAUTY

Opening by Col. the Honorable Sam Hughes Witnessed Large Attendance --- Feature Event Was the Grand Historical March Faultlessly Executed and Big Six Day Attraction Promises to Win Great Success for the Ladies --- Made in Peterboro Exhibits to the Front.



Home of Peterboro' Summer Fair

An attempt to accurately and thoroughly describe Peterborough's great and widely advertised Summer Fair, which was formally declared open last evening, is a task of no small order, but rather one that would require the vivid word painting of some great descriptive writer, to thoroughly do it justice.

Let it be said that the only possible way to ascertain its magnitude and importance is to make a personal visit. Even then the eye can not secure a truly accurate idea of its immensity. The whole scene illustrating the marvellous transformation of a bare and plain building into a gorgeous spectacle of color, beauty of arrangement, and orderliness, is one that speaks volumes for the enterprise and downright hard work of those at the back of the movement.

A personal visit of inspection will not only bear out the accuracy of what has been said, but will assuredly create a feeling of wonderment and genuine amazement at the vastness of the scale on which the entire affair has been planned.

The whole scene resembles Fairyland as nearly as it is possible for human ingenuity to present such an effect.

The visitor to the big Fair immediately on entering the spacious building is struck by the beautiful decorations, which afford unalloyed pleasure to the eye and constitute the chief source of attraction in the artistic arrangement. Festoons of evergreens are draped gracefully across the wide hall, high over head and almost concealing the roof. A glance downward upon the view from the galleries at either end of the hall is the best manner to gather a comprehensive idea of the striking colors intermingled in pleasing harmony, completely devoid of the least semblance of displeasing irregularity, or of anything offensive to the eye.

System and excellent management can be discerned in everything and that extra special efforts have been put forth to make things as attractive and orderly as possible is easily noticeable.

The big summer festival was graced by the presence last night of Colonel, the Honorable Sam Hughes, who in a most appropriate and well chosen speech, extended his hearty sympathy to those who were behind the movement. Col. Hughes was escorted to the armories by a picked body guard composed of about seventy men. On his arrival at the building the 57th Regiment band took up an advantageous position in front of the temporary platform about the centre of the building. The body guard lined up two deep along the left passage aisle, and while the band pealed out the stirring strains of "O Canada," the Minister of Militia passed up and down in front, accompanied by Lieut.-Col. Clegg, and Captain McLean.

After this proceeding, Col. Hughes, with Mr. J. H. Burnham, Lieut.-Col. Clegg, Mayor Bradburn, W. H. Moore, K.C., and Canon Davidson, mounted the platform. Mr. Moore, in the capacity of chairman, made a few suitable remarks regarding the origin and objects of the Fair. He then called upon Colonel Hughes.

The Minister of Militia was warmly received by a hearty clapping of hands. He stated that he considered it an extreme honor to be asked to come to and open the Peterborough Summer Fair. When he learned of the splendid purpose for which the Fair had been organized it gave him added pleasure to be asked to partipate in it to some extent. The cause was a worthy one in every respect, and any efforts exerted in such a charitable and philanthropic work could not fail but be rewarded with success. When he was asked to give permission for the use of the Armories for the holding of the Fair, he did so with the greatest willingness as soon as he learned of its purpose. He paid a tribute to Lieut.-Col. Clegg and the other officers of the Regiment for the co-operation they were showing in helping to make the Fair a success, by assisting the ladies as far as possible.

In concluding he said that he had great pleasure in formally declaring the Peterborough Summer Fair open to the public.

Col. Hughes resumed his seat amidst the heartiest of applause.

Mayor Bradburn was asked to say a few words in which he congratulated the ladies, and all who had helped to make the opening such a decided success. Canon Davidson also vigorously endorsed the sentiments of the preceding speaker, and on behalf of the gathering expressed their thanks to Colonel Hughes for his presence at the opening of the Fair.

HISTORICAL MARCH.

The 57th Regiment band soon after struck up the National Anthem, and big historical march was then introduced. Combined with this display of the evolution of the people of Canada down to the present day, was the march of the seasons. This magnificent parade of characters elegantly attired, in some instances, was thoroughly representative of their respective period in the country's history, and of the attire adopted in each of the seasons of the year. The entire procession circled the building several times, giving plenty of opportunity to all to admire and comment on its effectiveness. The variety of costumes in the parade and the curious blending of colors, presented a remarkably pretty scene. Leading the parade, most becomingly attired to depict "Miss Canada," was Miss Florence Cameron. Following her came the present day soldiers, the soldiers of former periods in Canada's history, and then in succession, the back woodsmen, etc. The various costumes worn in the different ages were most ably reproduced. Col. Hughes was a very interested spectator of the march past, from the platform, and very frequently smiled his evident approval of some particular representation.

After the parade those who took part dispersed to their various booths and the big summer Fair was in full swing.

In regard to these booths much could be said relative to their neat and attractive appearance. In some instances it is evident that a vast amount of pains and hard work have been expended to produce a thoroughly first class exhibition. Time and money have been freely spent, and the excellent effects that have been evolved is the best advertising medium needed. Some of these booths, with those in charge, are as follows:

Richard Hall & Son's, Mr. Ross.

Wm. Lech, exhibit of furs, Mr. Lech.

Electric Installation Company, Mr. Grant.

Toronto Carpet Company, Mr. McNabb.

Thomas Barrie, Limited, Mr. Richardson.

Canadian Chicle Company, Mr. Lundy.

Peterborough Hardware, Mrs. H. E. representing the Ohio Varnish Company.

Quaker Oats Company and Matthews Company, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. A. Turner.

To the left of the entrance to the building, is situated the refreshment booth, ably managed by several charmingly attired young ladies. This booth did a rushing business of evening and was one of the popular places of the Fair. Directly in front of the entrance inside, is one of the nicest exhibits in the building as far as neatness and charm of arrangement count. The scene, as the name indicates, is designed to portray a gypsy encampment in the woods. Tents are pitched amidst the cedar trees, and in and out of the trees the picturesquely costumed ladies, dressed like gypsies, flit in and out. In the background is the palmistry tent, where fortunes are told, and where the secrets of your life are unfolded for only twenty-five cents. The Canadian General Electric Company have a very excellent exhibit of lighting and ignition goods in charge of Mr. J. S. McKenny, of Toronto.

Several of the five-lamp street lighting standards are shown, such as were suggested for the illumination of the streets of Peterborough.

Next to this booth is the Orange Tree and Parcel Counter, with Miss Revell in charge, assisted by several young ladies. This is the mysterious tree; you put down your money and receive a parcel in exchange off the tree without knowing its contents. This element of mystery attracted dozens last evening.

The Peterborough Canoe Company have four of their choicest and most handsomely finished canoes on exhibition, also a beautiful and splendidly constructed launch. At the extreme end of the hall the Brinton Carpet Works have arranged a large exhibit of rugs and carpets in a decidedly advantageous manner. Beside it is the Spring booth, in charge of several young ladies with Miss F. M. Burnham and Mrs. T. Cruikshanks at their head. This booth is lavishly adorned with flowers, which abound in profusion. It offers for sale almost every conceivable article in the way of needle work, including ladies' and gentlemen's neckties, fancy work, etc.

Somewhat similar to this is the Rummage booth. Articles of every description are for sale, such as pictures, cutlery, chinaware, and all manner of bric a bac.

The "Home Made Candy" booth, was immediately to the right of the entrance and like the others was very attractively adorned, the decorations being in white and green. A large number of realistic, long-stemmed water lilies were judiciously placed and prettily arranged on a white background. A roof of evergreens completed the color scheme. An alluring array of home made candy of all kinds was displayed on the counter and all who indulged in the sweets offered for sale agreed that they were as tasty as they appeared. The booth was in charge of Mrs. Geo Curtis, assisted by Mrs. Devins, Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Storey.

Next was the Autumn Booth in charge of Mrs. Matthews and Miss Alford. It was beautifully decorated with grapevines, the dark blue grapes artistically blending with the large green leaves. Large orange crysanthemums added greatly to the appearance of the booth, in which one could procure anything from a "Coney Island Red Hot" or a "Club Sandwich" to a jar of fruit jam. Connected with this booth were a number of pretty, gaily-costumed young ladies, all engaged in persuading the individuals in the crowd to buy. Mrs Denham, Mrs. R. H. Turner, Mrs. Adam Hall, Mrs W. H. Hill, Miss Hurley, Mrs. McGee, Miss Steinhoff and Miss McCrae were assisting in the Autumn Booth.

The Peterborough Light and Power Company had a space nicely decorated in black and white. Messrs. Smith and Beal were in charge and there was an extensive display of electric utensils. Wm. Lech & Co., furriers, had a remarkable exposition of furs, the frame work of the booth being covered with pretty orange and white trimmings.

The next booth contained a number of samples from the Auburn Woollen Mills, and Mr. J. John had charge of the next one advertising John's Tea. The next booth, advertising the Campbell Flour Mills and T. H. Hooper's confectionery was tastefully decorated by red, white and blue streamers.

Mr. Archur Howson was in charge of a nicely arranged booth, occupied by exhibits from the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company. The most impressive feature about the booth representing the International Harvester Company was the pointed roof made of cord, and coils or spools of cord. It was certainly very picturesque and must have been the result of much careful and painstaking work. A large space had been allotted to Coleman Bros., confectioners, and it was very prettily arranged with white and colored cloth. A dainty display of sweets was in evidence on the counter. J. J. Turner & Sons, and E. F. Mason, the grocer, had booths near the west wall of the armories.

A "Rexall" display in purple and white completed the long row of booths against the right wall. It was in charge of Mr. J. W. McDermid. A dainty display of Sweet Caporal Cigarettes was situated in the northwest corner of the armories. Two fine autos were on show, one a splendid 60 h.p Mitchell, by the Moher Bros., and the other a large red Schact.

The doll booth was charmingly decorated with colored flowers and as promised contained an assortment of dolls of every conceivable variety, size, color or nationality. It was in charge of Miss Halliday and Mesdames P. Campbell, A. H. Stratton, Hugh Waddell and R. S Davidson.

SUMMER FAIR NOTES

Many complimentary remarks were heard at the Autumn Booth about the coffee which was served there. If you want to taste a cup of really good coffee, just try it. The coffee has been supplied by Peter Connal & Son, and is one of the best lines they carry.

To-night, at the Autumn Booth, Benway's Cocoa will be served and to each one who orders cocoa, a sample will be given.

There is a bewildering display of pretty things at the Spring booth, and the prices that are charged are very reasonable. Some dainty aprons, tatted collars, Irish crochet bows and yokes, and so many other pretty things are shown that it would be difficult to enumerate them all. The best thing to do, is to see them yourself and secure some of the prettiest articles before they are all sold.

When you grow weary of poking around, climb the stairs at the north east corner of the Armories to the Cafe Chantant, pay your ten cents admission fee and enter. The cafe presents a most inviting appearance with its many flags, shaded lights and Turkish hangings, while the big easy chairs and cosy corners, promise one a comfortable half hour or more.

The young ladies in their Turkish costumes are most attentive. During the evening a program of instrumental and vocal music is given, though in a most informal way.

Great credit is due to Mrs. Kendry and the other ladies whose indefatigable efforts helped to produce such a brilliant success on the first night of the big Fair.

BAKING DEMONSTRATION.

On Wednesday Coleman Bros. have arranged to have a demonstration of plain and fancy baking at their booth at the Summer Fair. This will be of interest to those who have housekeeping duties and to domestic science students, as the demonstrators promise to show their audience many new wrinkles in the art of cake making. Two demonstrations will be given, one in the afternoon at 4 o'clock and one in the evening at 8 o'clock. Do not miss this as it will be one of the interesting features of the Fair.

WE NEVER SLEEPS IN CAMP AGAIN

Every Day is to be Receiving Day to Friends.

Camp "We Never Sleep" composed of several bright youths, all lovers, so they say of, the world out of doors, have made their debut on the Otonabee river where they intend to pass their idle hours during the rapidly approaching summer.

Prospects were never more promising they affirm for a jollier or bigger time. Everything looks rosy, and without doing anything rash, the bunch intend to make the most of the fleeting hours of youth this summer. Visitors will be always welcome and every day will be receiving day. No cards of introduction are required. The ladies will be particularly welcome. There are two or three fairly good looking, yes even pretty members in camp.

Camp "We Never Sleep" members promise every visitor the time of their lives and to back this promise they refer you to all who dropped in on them last summer.

The names of the campers and summer revellers, will be published later after they are firmly established at their new abode. Nothing eventful has transpired at the camp so far. They say, however, that it is not cold at nights, although this statement should be taken with a grain of salt.

The bunch intend to supply a further budget of news from time to time.

WARM PRAISE FOR BOY SCOUTS FROM MINISTER

The smart, trim and well drilled showing made by the Peterborough Boy Scouts last night at the Summer Fair parade was highly praised by Col. the Hon Sam Hughes.

After the parade the Scouts about seventy-five strong lined up at the west end of the armories and remained at attention while the trained and keen eye of the Minister of Militia looked them over in every detail.

The Scouts stood the review well and made such a splendid impression on the inspecting officer that he personally congratulated Commissioner Wm. Miller on their splendid appearance. The active, alert showing of the boys is largely due to the thorough drilling and instruction they have received at the hands of Commissioner Miller. Colonel Hughes remarked particularly upon the smart looking appearance of Scout Lord, Patrol Leader Common and Patrol Leader Mills.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE DREW GOOD AUDIENCES

By no means to be overlooked at the Summer Fair last night was the Children's Theatre upstairs in the armories. Here the little tots, none of them more than eight or nine years of age, and some of a much more tender age, delighted large crowds by their childish and earnest efforts in songs and recitations.

Miss Dean and Miss Choate had the training of the little ones to look after, and it was the opinion of all who dropped in to see them perform, that the theatre was an unqualified success.

The Cafe Excantant at the Fair, in charge of Mrs. E. C. Macleod, was largely patronized last night. In it, it is possible to get a dinner or light lunch. A splendid musical program was given in the Cafe.

OBITUARY

Mr. Patrick O'Donnell

An old resident of the city passed away this morning in the person of Mr. Patrick O'Donnell, 681 Stewart st. The deceased had been a resident of the city the major portion of his seventy years.

He was born in 1842 and came to Peterborough when only nine years of age. He lived a retired life and was well and favorably known throughout the city. He leaves three sons and three daughters who are William, James and Joseph of the city, Mrs. John Fagan of Cloquet, Minn., Mrs. Wm. Hutchison of Toronto, and Mrs. Edward Phelan of Peterborough.

The funeral will take place on Thursday morning at nine o'clock to St. Peter's cathedral and thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

700 PAID ADMISSIONS

There were seven hundred paid admission to the Summer Fair last night. There were also six hundred ladies and gentlemen, who were connected with the Fair and had purchased badges at a cost of 25c. each that would enable them to enter the Fair at any time.

BAND CONCERT AT FAIR TO-NIGHT

The program of the band concert to-night, by permission of the Officer Commanding the 57th Regiment, is:

March—Col. Filbrook
Overture—Crown Diamonds.
Novelette—Flying Rag.
Fantesy on Russian songs, introducing the tubeler chimes.
Selection From Chocolate Soldier, by special request.
Reminisence of the Plantation.
Indian Intermezzo, by request.
New Medley, Popular Songs.
God Save the King.

MEETING FOR TENNIS EXECUTIVE TO-NIGHT

The first meeting of the newly elected executive of the Peterborough Lawn Tennis Association will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the Y.M.C.A. All tennis clubs wishing to enter teams for the city championship should have one representative present. It is hoped that there will be a full attendance, inasmuch as plans for the coming season will be discussed and the schedule of matches drawn up.

Entries for the annual city championship singles tournament should be sent in to club representatives at the earliest possible moment.

SUMMER FAIR NOTES

Mothers intending to enter babies in the show are requested to register same with Mrs. J. C. Davidson, at St. John's rectory, or Mrs Harry Rush, Brock street, east end, before Wednesday.

The booth under the direction of Mrs McDermid, had for sale all manner of patent medicines and ready remedies which found ready sales. Mrs. McDermid's booth was very prettily decorated and showed taste combined with usefulness.

A gang of workmen are at present engaged in making improvements along the Belleville Junction line of the G.T.R., old ties being replaced and heavier rails laid down.

HARTMAN FORCED AT SECOND BROUGHT $29 TO CAPS' SHORT STOP

Unknown to the fans, it was a great stroke of luck that baseman Hartman was forced at second base by Beard in the second innings of yesterdays' game. The White Cap shortstop, when the Petes first took the field, carried concealed in a pocket of his unifrom a leather case containing $29.

He did not miss the case till the Petes came in to bat, and then great was his sorrow.

His side partner, Hartman, when forced at second, had a look about the territory at short, and spotted the missing case, whereupon Tully smiled again.

WHITE CAPS SHAKE THEIR HOODOO AND BEAT LEAGUE LEADERS ON FORM ALONE

Templin and Tully Hit in Three of the Four Runs, Dolan Assisting With Double—Derr Twirled in Winning Style and Received Strong Support in the Pinches—New Players Arrive.

If it wasn't Umpire Johnson, it must have been the fans themselves.

His umps was absent yesterday, and so were a large number of fans, and the White Caps put one over Manager Cook's league leaders as nicely as the Capital city nine could wish to trim Manager Bowerman's London speed boys with Fusserden, from the Toronto Internationals doing the heaving. And it wasn't luck, but consistently clever pitching by southpaw Johnnie Derr, to the tune of steady fielding in the pinches by his fielders.

Derr took the journey alone, while Ottawa used two twirlers. Kubat being requested to amble to the bench in the fifth, as he rocked like a street car. The Caps had already tallied twice, and with two on, Herbert, supposedly the star flinger of Cook's, was touched for a single through second.

It was Mr. Tully, who, by the way, has as yet failed to uncover his hoodoo, who drove the ball, and both

MANAGER TEMPLIN
Whose heady play in the second started the White Caps on their winning trip.

Templin and Dolan came home.

Ottawa went across the pan in the fourth for their only run, and it was Manager Cook, who came over with the necessary.

It happened like this:

Blake, first man up, grounded out, Hartman to Dolan, Callahan was given a pass, and when Trout threw low to get him at second, the ball went to short centre, and Callahan took third. Derr fanned Robertson, but Cook lined one between third and short, Callahan counting. Hopper ended by forcing his manager at second.

While both teams tumbled into the error column, the slipups came at a time when they lent a whole lot of interest to the game. Tully offended twice for the Caps. In the second he allowed Callahan's grass cutter to go through him, and in the ninth he let loose a low throw to Dolan, the ball going to the grandstand. Neither figured in a run. Trout's low throw to second to get Callahan, who walked, allowed the runner to take third, from where he was hit home by Cook.

Ottawa's only mistake was a muff in centre field.

Jimmie Beard was the star performer in the garden. Templin's sacrifice in the third, scoring Swartz, and the Trout to Tully and return pegs to get the runner to home were the feature infield plays. Both were easily worth the prolonged approval of the fans. It was the second successful play for Templin and the fifth for Trout and Tully.

PITCHER JOHNNIE DERR
Whose efforts to get his Club started resulted in success. Derr has been worked overtime and always came across with the goods.

Becoming better acquainted with Mr. J. Beard in "A Helping Hand."

Altogether the Caps played the better ball and took the honors on form.

BREEZES FROM THE DIAMOND

Of the senior game on Saturday, the Lindsay Post, says—

The Peterboro Collegiate Institute Senior ball team, showed their superiority over the L. C. I. team on Saturday afternoon when they gave the locals a decisive defeat of 9-2. The game was an excellent example of good ball, as some fine plays were worked in by both teams, but after the third innings, Peterboro had it all their own way. The locals never ceased making errors in the outfield Huycke, the Peterboro pitcher, pitched an effective ball, speedy and puzzling one which the locals could not hit in the least.

As to the Junior contest, the Post has the following—

The Peterboro short-stop, Tip Lipsett, a very diminutive player was a dandy. He could stop anything that came within his reach and could bat with the rest of them. All eyes were on Tip

The St Thomas players accuse Ottawa men of spiking and the Saints are inclined to wrath.

Champene, the regular first baseman for Ottawa, may be out of this series through a sore knee.

It was the first setback in eight games for the Capitals.

Manager Louie Cook doesn't like the idea of the Cincinnati Nationals scouting after his star heaver, Herbert, and went into the game to-day with visions of a possible departure and hole to fill.

Walter Jayes, an outfielder and two pitchers Tracey and Osborne, the former from Detroit, have joined the White Caps. It is likely that another release in the twirling department will be made.

A train load of dump cars, work cars and other equipment has recently been forwarded to Cochrane, Ont., through Cobalt, for Mr. John Marsh, the well known Chicago railway contractor, who purposes to start work immediately on his new contract for the Transcontinental Railway just to the west of Hearst, 130 miles from Cochrane. His contract is an important one, and a larger train load will follow the first, which included a large crane, 37 automatic air dump cars, and two powerful locomotives.

CHILDREN ARE PROTECTED BY THE QUEBEC MARRIAGE LAWS

Specialist In Marraga Laws Presents Phase of Case at Hearng Before the Supreme Court of Canada and Interesting Discussion Ensues — The State of Affairs Is Misunderstood.

Ottawa, May 29.—What is considered to be the crucial point in the argument of the learned counsel opposing the right of the Dominion Parliament to enact the Lancaster marriage bill, was reached in the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon when P. B. Migneault, K.C., Montreal, asserted that the general public misunderstood, and many legal fights seemingly deliberately misconstrued, the marriage law of the Province of Quebec, in referring to the fact that, under the law in Quebec, a marriage is null and no marriage at all, even though the parties contracting lived together a number of years unless, they being Roman Catholics of course, it was solemnized by a priest.

"The children are always protected," exclaimed Mr. Migneault with earnestness. "This point is absolutely misconceived and misconstrued by people who are responsible for the agitation. They have no right to misconstrue the law in this way and impute that the children are thrown on the world as illegitimate offspring. It is not the law of the Province of Quebec, and never was.

By far the most interesting discussion took place yesterday afternoon that has ensued since the hearing started. Mr. Migneault showed his full mastery of the Quebec marriage laws on which he is a recognized authority. All the justices of the court joined in the animated discussion that took place at times. Justice Idlington and Duff being particularly anxious to go into the matter deeply and surely.

Mr. Migneault is expected to complete his argument to-day when he will be followed by I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., Toronto, who will take up the matter from another aspect and reply to Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., who opened the case for the promoters of the bill. Then the two Quebec counsel, R. C. Smith, K.C., and Aime Geiffrion, K.C., are expected to present the case from the side of their province, and later Hon. Mr. Nesbitt and Mr. Lafleur will have an opportunity of replying. It is thought the case will consume the whole week.

At the morning sitting Mr. Lafleur maintained that there had never been validating statute passed for Roman Catholic marriages from 1759 to 1795.

"If that is the case, it would be very inconvenient for the majority of us under this law since 1800 in Quebec," Sir Charles Fitzpatrick stated.

"I am not trying to cause any unrest," Mr. Lafleur stated, "but the matter has never been challenged in the courts so far as I am aware. My submission is that we have a clear code now and that it can be construed without referring to the old laws."

After referring briefly to the restrictions with regard to Jews and Quakers passed specially in Quebec Province, Mr. Lafleur referred briefly to probably the most important question, at least as affecting the general public in Quebec, as to whether only a Roman Catholic priest could celebrate a mixed marriage.

"This is a most important point," Justice Idlington remarked, "and more likely to give rise to discussion."

"The question of mixed marriages, so far as I am aware, has not been raised before any court," Mr. Lafleur answered. "No doubt has ever been expressed as to the competency of a priest to celebrate marriages between Roman Catholics, there has never been a judicial decision otherwise.

"Regarding mixed marriages, under the contention of our adversaries, it would need two clergymen to perform a mixed marriage, and both might be out, perhaps, if necessity might be, of their own jurisdiction.

Mr. Mignault took up the phase of opposition to marriage in connection with the Quebec laws.

"Marriage may be prevented by means of the opposition of the father, mother, tutor or prior consort of one of the parties," he said. "In this event, there must be some officer—priest or minister—who, by legislation, is charged with the solemnization. Take the city of Montreal, for instance. There are 50 Roman Catholic parishes in that city, and about three times as many of other denominations. The law requires that, to stay a marriage, notice must be served on some officer. It is set forth in the act that the articles of marriage must say there is no opposition. This shows the status of the parties."

The chief justice: What argument is there for banns?

Mr. Mignault: That is just the argument. If the argument of Mr. Lafleur is good, then banns are useless. A man could easily, if refused at Montreal, journey to some other part of the province and get married.

Justice Idington: "Supposing a man of no church and a woman of no church were married and lived together for some years, what would be their status under the Quebec laws?"

Mr. Mignault: "The marriage would be null. I would say there never had been a marriage."

Justice Idington: "Then the children would be illegitimate?"

Mr. Mignault: "Not under our laws in Quebec. Article 63 clearly says that if the marriage is contracted in good faith in this way, but through ignorance of the parties as to the law, the children are protected. The children are always protected."

Justice Idington: "In other words, your law produces all the civil effects?"

Mr. Mignault: "Exactly."

Justice Idington: "Can the husband marry again?"

Mr. Mignault: "As there is no marriage, he is free to do so."

During the argument of the Lancaster marriage law bill reference before the Supreme Court this morning. P. B. Migneault, K.C., representing opponents of the bill, contended that the only way to avoid clandestinity in marriage was to secure the celebration of the marriage where parties are known. He said while a vast number of bodies secured power from the legislature to keep registers of marriage, any powers so conferred is restricted to members of the bodies to which it is given. He insisted it was not the intention of the legislatures to give power beyond its own respective churches. In answer to a question by Judge Idington as to whether he thought the Church of England had any right to marry Roman Catholics, Migneault declared no authority could be cited in favor of such a proposition. He declared that at the conquest Quebec retained its own civil laws, and the question resolved itself into one as to whether the marriage law was a part of civil rights. The Chief Justice remarked that was the foundation of the question submitted to the court.

FAVORS DRASTIC MARRIAGE LAWS

Toronto, May 29.—"Marriages are made in heaven," according to some authorities, but not including the editors of The Christian Guardian. This week's issue of the Canadian Methodist organ advocates drastic legislation against "the marriage of the unfit." The unfit should be eliminated by the necessity of producing health certificates with the marriage license. The Christian Guardian claims, and sums up with this declaration:

"Whether it is due to his misfortune or to sin, the man who is not normal physically and mentally, or who has a communicable or an incurable disease, ought not to be allowed, in justice both to the present and the coming generation, to marry and reproduce his kind. And the church has a duty in enforcing this sentiment upon the state for its embodiment in law."

Workman Injured.

Toronto, May 29.—Jack Graces of 210 Woodbine avenue, 50 years old, fell from the third to the second storey of the new General Hospital of College street, yesterday afternoon, and broke two ribs. He was taken to the General Hospital. He is resting well. Graves was a workman employed in the erection of the building and slipped through some flooring on to the floor beneath.

UNKNOWN ITALIAN KILLED BY TRAIN

Special to the Review.

Toronto, May 29—Stepping to the eastbound Grand Trunk tracks to escape a westbound train near Lorne Park, this morning, an unknown Italian was instantly killed by an eastbound train. There was nothing in the pockets of the victim of the accident, which would lead to his identity.

Hamilton, May 29—The ball grounds situation in Berlin is practically closed, and the franchise will not be removed.

Uncle Sam's Peaceful Invasion.

Winnipeg, May 29.—Unofficial, but approximately correct figures of immigrants into Canada to June 1, for 1912, total 175,320, as against 153,125 for the same period a year ago. While increases have been considerable from Great Britain and Europe, the greatest percentage of increase has been from south of the international boundary.

PRESIDENT FITZGERALD APPOINTS NEW UMPIRE

Special to the Review.

Toronto May 29— President Fitzgerald, of the Canadian League, announces another change in the staff of umpires. The latest is the appointment of J. Ira Davis to succeed Yerkes, who disappeared mysteriously on Monday morning in Hamilton. He was at the office of the secretary and had his transportation to proceed to Brantford, to officiate, when last seen. He informed the secretary that he was going out to purchase a straw hat before taking the train and absolutely no trace of him can be found since that time. Davis will officiate in St. Thomas to-day.

President Fitzgerald and Secretary Robinson of the league and manager "Rube" Deneau and owner "Pop" Williams, of the Berlin Club, yesterday paid a visit to St. Catharines to look over the ground with a view to a possible transfer of the franchise to that city and the two last named are still at St. Catharines.

DELEGATES TO NATIONAL COUNCIL WOULD ADMIT SIKH WOMEN TO CANADA

Divergent Views Are Expressed at the Convention In London—Worst of Our Immigrants, Says One Delegate — Opinion Favors Admitting Wives or Sending the Men Back—Work on Obscene Literature.

London, May 29.—The work of the National Council of Women progresses, the delegates do not lose interest or enthusiasm, and some of the papers are very lengthy, and in some instances overlap. There is no doubt but that an enormous amount of useful information is imparted.

The question of the admission of the wives of the Sikhs into Canada was brought forward by a resolution from Mrs. Plumptre in favor of the movement, and an amendment by the Vancouver council spoken to by Mrs. White, who said that the Sikhs were already 1 to 2 in the province, and 1 to 9 in Vancouver City, and she thought it unjust in the eastern provinces to insist that entry be still allowed. It was pointed out that the Sikhs segregate and will never assimilate.

Mrs. Plumptre said that after studying the question, she had found out that the Hindus were the most troublesome of colonists. She thought the question should be settled by allowing the Sikh women to enter Canada, or else return the Sikh men to India.

Mrs. Denison supported Mrs. Plumptre.

The amendment from Vancouver asking that no relaxation of the laws of exclusion be made, was lost. The resolution that the wives of the Sikhs should be admitted carried. Mrs. Plumptre was the mover and Mrs. Denison was the seconder of the resolution.

Mrs. Cummings announced that an invitation had been received from New Orleans that the next meeting of the Canadian Council be held in that city. Hearty clapping from all parts of the hall spoke of the appreciation of the council.

"The children of the day will be the citizens of the future," said Miss Machan, in bringing forward her resolution that the national council do memoralize the Governments in the provinces where the education act exists to provide machinery for the enforcement of the same so as to ensure the registration of all children of school age. The object of the resolution was to do away with illiteracy and increase the educational status of the country. The resolution was seconded by Mrs. Shortt of Ottawa, but was afterwards withdrawn.

The report on laws for the protection of women and children written by Mrs. Edwards, was read by Mrs. Leathes, seconded by Mrs. White.

This report stated that there is no Dominion legislation on the subject.

That much work has been done in the past twelve months by the committee on objectionable printed matter was shown by the report of Miss Liddel, read by Mrs. McNaughton of Montreal. Different councils had made rigid search into the matter of books at the libraries, printed post cards, pictures, theatres and mail matter.

The citizenship committee of the Queen City will report on the bill to extend the franchise to married women, which was defeated in the last session of the Ontario Legislature. In Victoria prison conditions of women had been much improved through the intervention of the council.

WANT NATIONAL STRIKE ORDERED

London, May 29.—The force of 2,000 policemen mobilized in the vicinity of the London dockyards has, thus far, been able successfully to circumvent the designs of the striking transport workers to inflict famine on the people of London as the quickest means of securing the concession of their demands.

The Government has invited both parties to send representatives to a conference of the Board of Trade which will be held May 31, with the object of arranging a settlement of the strike.

The Stevedores' Union adopted a resolution last night calling upon the executive of the Transport Workers' Federation to [illegible] a national strike.

The strike committee decided to accept the invitation of the Board of Trade for a conference. The Carmen's Trade Union also agreed to send representatives to the conference.

Mr. Gosling, one of the leaders of the men, said that in view of the day's developments it would be needless at present to call a national strike.

Settling Spain's Railway Strike.

Madrid, May 29.—The railroad employes on the Andalusian lines, who went on strike at Malaga May 25, have agreed to submit their differences to arbitration by the governor of Malaga. The governor has already prepared and submitted to both parties a scheme of settlement based on the suppression of the mutual aid society, to which the men are forced to contribute a percentage of their wages, and the distribution of the funds of the society among the employes. It is expected that this plan will prove acceptable.

About six thousand railroad men are involved.

ROOSEVELT MAKES A CLEAN SWEEP OF NEW JERSEY

Special to the Review.

Newark, N.J., May 29.—Roosevelt, on the Republican side, and Governor Wilson, on the Democratic side, were overwhelming winners in yesterday's primaries in New Jersey, according to nearly complete returns this morning. The Roosevelt victory is a clean sweep and the former president will apparently have every one of the state's 28 delegates at the Chicago convention. In the preferential tariff vote his plurality was fully ten thousand over Taft.

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE NOW IN SESSION AT MALTA

Special to the Review.

Malta May 29—A conference, which will probably decide Great Britain's future policy in the Mediterranean, opened here to-day. Among those participating are Premier Asquith, Winston Spencer Churchill, Viscount Kitchener and General Sir Ian Hamilton, Commander in Chief in the Mediterranean and Inspector General of the oversea forces. The conference is a direct result of the recent action of the Admiralty in retiring the Mediterranean fleet, and concentrating the vessels taken from it in the North Sea, which has been the cause of the keenest discussion in England and France, and has led to the suggestion that the existing entenete cordiale, between these two countries should be replaced by an alliance. The question of strengthening the British garrisons in Egypt and other places on the route to India, and the activity of the Italian fleet in the islands of the Aegan sea, with its effect upon British position, will also be discussed.

SURVEYORS LEAVE FOR HUDSON BAY

Toronto, May 29.—Joseph B. Tyrrell, M.E., and party left for Hudson Bay last night via Winnipeg. Mr. Tyrrell was chosen recently by the Ontario Government to locate the portion of the harbor of Port Nelson which the province is to acquire, and to report on the portion of Keewatin district which has been added to the province. Several more members of the party will be picked up at Winnipeg, and some Indian guides at Nipigon. The route to Port Nelson will be by way of Lake Winnipeg and Hayes River. It had been decided that the Nelson River is too treacherous for the journey.

In company with Mr. Tyrrell when the train pulled out of the Union Station, were two Ontario land surveyors and Prof. L. B. Stewart, a surveyor of the University of Toronto, and Ellis Thompson, a geologist.

The party will travel light. Just three canoes manned by Indians will be used. Mr. Tyrrell expects to return to Toronto by Oct. 1. This is not his first invasion to the northern waters.

AUTO DRIVERS MAY BE LICENSED

Special to the Review.

Toronto, May 29—Sir James Whitney says that because of the frequency of automobile fatalities, legislation of a precautionary nature will be introduced at the next session of the Provincial Parliament. One of the propositions under consideration is the licensing of all automobile drivers.

FAMOUS ACTORS TO LEAVE STAGE

Cleveland, May 29.—E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe announced yesterday that after two more seasons they would retire permanently from the stage.

Mr. Sothern said for Miss Marlowe and himself that it was not their purpose to engage in noisy farewell tours, but they had decided after two more seasons to retire to private life and enjoy that domesticity which a dramatic career with its constant travel does not permit.

Canal Flooded Streets.

Ansonia, Conn., May 29.—By the bursting of a retaining wall of the canal of the Ansonia Land & Water Co., late yesterday afternoon, the business section of this town was flooded and damage estimated at $150,000 was done. There was five feet of water in the streets and conditions were growing more serious when workmen were able to close the gates above the canal, shutting off the flow of water.

Minnesota For Wilson.

St. Paul, May 29.—Returns show that Woodrow Wilson was endorsed at the Democratic caucuses, held on Monday in a majority of the counties in Minnesota, Champ Clark carried only one district in the state. All Minnesota's twenty-four delegates to Baltimore will probably go instructed for the New Jersey governor.

SENATOR SMITH SCORES CAPT. LORD OF STEAMER CALIFORNIAN

HON. WALTER SCOTT
Premier of Saskatchewan
Regina papers say he has not been in his own province for over a year.

U. S. Commission of Enquiry Into Titanic Disaster Reports Its Finding and Declares That the Californian Was In Sight When the Big Liner Struck the Iceberg—Recommendations Made.

Washington, May 29.—Blame for the Titanic disaster is chargeable directly to the failure of the dead Captain Smith to heed repeated warnings of icebergs ahead, but responsibility for unnecessary loss of life must be shared by Captain Lord of the steamship Californian, through his disregard of distress signals.

This is the finding of the Senate committee which investigated the sinking of the Titanic, as prepared in a comprehensive speech delivered yesterday by William Alden Smith of Michigan, chairman of the committee.

Senator Smith declared that responsibility rests upon the British Board of Trade "to whose laxity of regulation, and hasty inspection, the world is largely indebted for the awful fatality."

In denouncing Captain Lord the Senator said the Titanic's distress signals were plainly seen from the deck of his vessel, a short distance away.

America will leave to England the chastisement of those guilty, asserted the Senator, and he quoted British law to show that Lord might be prosecuted for a misdemeanor.

Concerning Captain Lord, he said: "Why did the Californian display its Morse signal lamp from the moment of the collision continuously for nearly two hours if they saw nothing? . . . Had he been as vigilant in the movement of his vessel as he was active in displaying his own signal lamp, there is a very strong probability that every human life that was sacrificed through this disaster could have been saved."

"Obsolete and antiquated shipping laws should no longer encumber the Parliamentary records of any Government, and overripe administrative boards should be pruned of dead branches, and less sterile precepts taught and applied," said the Senator.

Other conclusions presented in brief are as follows:

Before the Titanic departed on her maiden voyage, there were not sufficient tests of boilers, bulkheads, equipment or signal devices.

Officers and crew were strangers to each other, and not familiar with the ship's implements or tools, and no drill or station practice took place and no helpful discipline prevailed.

The speed of the Titanic was 24 1-2 miles an hour at the time of the accident, although officers of the Titanic had been advised of the presence of icebergs by the steamships Baltic, Amerika and Californian.

Passengers were not advised of danger, although President Ismay of the White Star Line, who was taking the vessel's maiden voyage, was informed. No general alarm was given, nor any organized system of safety undertaken.

Of the 1,324 passengers and 899 members of the crew on board, there was room in lifeboats for only 1,176 persons, and because of lack of orderly discipline, the boats took off only 704 persons, 12 being rescued from the water.

Officers of the White Star Line "battled with the truth" after receiving information from their Montreal office Monday morning following the accident.

Senator Smith condemned "antiquated shipping laws and over ripe administrative boards," and asked that all nations act together in shipping reforms. "New laws," he said, "will best testify our affection for the dead."

Captain Rostron, of the rescue ship Carpathia, was praised by Senator Smith, and he urged that Congress recognize his valor.

The recommendations of the commission is as follows:

That all ships carrying more than 100 passengers have two searchlights.

That a revision be made of steamship inspection laws of foreign countries to the standard proposed in the United States.

That every ship be required to carry sufficient lifeboats for all passengers and crew.

That the use of wireless be regulated to prevent interference by amateurs.

That all ships have a wireless operator on constant duty.

Bulkheads should be so spaced that any two adjacent compartments of a ship might be flooded without sinking. Transverse bulkheads forward and abaft the machinery should be continued watertight to the uppermost continuous structural deck, and this deck should be fitted watertight.

Hudson Bay Line.

Lethbridge, May 29.—The C.P.R. have commenced construction work on the Kipp-Suffield branch line, which is to be one of the important feeders for the main line, and which is talked of as being eventually the southern portion of a new C.P.R. Hudson Bay line via Saskatoon.

Medal for Captain Rostron.

Washington, D.C., May 29.—The Senate yesterday passed a joint resolution extending the thanks of Congress, and appropriating $1,000 for a medal to Captain Arthur H. Rostron of the steamer Carpathia, and also a vote of thanks to the Carpathia's crew.

10% of all sales at McDermid & Jury's Rexall Booth at the Armouries will go to the Peterborough Health Association.

LAWYER DARROW IS NOW ON TRIAL

Los Angeles, Cal., May 29.—Bert H. Franklin, former chief detective for the McNamara defence, and now star witness for the prosecution in the trial of Clarence S. Darrow for alleged jury bribery, took the stand late yesterday and related what he declared to be the manner in which he and Darrow, then chief counsel for the McNamara brothers, attempted to bribe jurors in the trial of James B. McNamara.

"It's about time to get busy with the jury," Franklin quoted Darrow as saying to him on Oct. 5, 1911. The next day, he said, Darrow gave him a check for $1,000, to be used in buying the vote of Robert M. Bain, who later became the first sworn juror in the trial. He said that he had known Bain for twenty years, and that he had arranged for the corruption of the juror.

Race Suicide In France.

Paris, May 29.—The French Minister of Labor, in the report of the vital statistics of France for 1911, says the number of deaths was 34,869 more than the total of the year previous, thus continuing the unfavorable situation of France as compared with that of growing nations.

Brockville's Hotel Project.

Port Hope, May 29.—The large unoccupied brick woollen factory at Garden Hill, belonging to Hirst Taylor of Almonte, was struck by lightning at three o'clock yesterday afternoon and totally destroyed. The loss is $10,000.

Belleville's New Industry.

Belleville, May 29.—The sod for a new foundry and machine shop for the Marsh & Henthorn Foundry Co. was turned yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed by Master Jack Marsh, son of the senior member of the firm. Many prominent citizens were in attendance. A handsome silver spade was presented to the lad to perform the work by Mayor Vermilyea. Addresses were given by a number who were present.

The new buildings will cost upwards of $50,000.

Child Drowned In Creek.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 29.—Katie Kearns, baby daughter of Patrick Kearns, Steelton, met death in the waters of a creek yesterday afternoon. The creek flows immediately in front of the family residence, and while playing near it, fell into the water.

ALFALFA ENTRIES CLOSE JUNE 1ST.

The last opportunity! Entries to the Alfalfa Competition to be conducted by Farm and Dairy must be made before June 1st. Review readers who have three acres or more of Alfalfa, seeded last spring, are invited to enter their fields in this competition which is open to all subscribers of Farm and Dairy.

Several prizes probably in the form of silver cups will be given to those competitors having the best fields. Fields will be judged by the score card system, points being awarded for uniformity of the crop, vigor and uniformity of growth, freedom from weeds, rusts, insects, freedom from timothy or clover, etc., and the prospective yield. Entering this competition involves little trouble to the competitor. All that he has to do is to send a card to the Editor of Farm and Dairy, Peterborough, Ont., asking that his name be put on the list of competitors. Readers will remember that these entries must be in on or before June 1st.

SCIATICA

EXPECTED DEATH ANY DAY

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored by "Nerviline."

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor P. Hires makes the following declaration: "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service, and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, cold, and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a complete cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spent on trying to get well was wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended "Nerviline." I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day, and got relief. In order to build up my general health and improve my blood I used Ferrozone, one tablet with each meal. I continued this treatment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments, and can truthfully say that Nerviline is the stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism, or sciatica to use Nerviline. I know it will help them."

CURED SIX YEARS

There isn't a more highly-esteemed citizen in Westchester than Mr. Hires. What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." 50 cents per bottle, trial size, 25c; sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE TITANIC REPORT

Senator Smith, of Michigan, chairman of the American Senatorial Committee that investigated the Titanic tragedy, found his opportunity when his committee began its work and he has certainly, from the start, made the most of it. Perhaps never before was a man so suddenly thrust into world-wide prominence as he was when he became the central figure in the investigation. His knowledge of nautical matters was indifferent but he went at his work vigorously and used the probe without mercy.

Opportunity came to him once more when he submitted the report of his committee to the United States Senate and again he made the most of it. His address is flowery, full as to periods and comprehensive as to details. It may betray something of national bitterness but it is not so bitter as a great many people expected the oration of the Senator would be, basing their expectations upon his attitude while the committee was in session.

Taken altogether no fault can be found with the report. We are told, however, that when first drawn up by Mr. Smith it contained assertions and deductions that his more conservative colleagues insisted should be eliminated before they would sign it. It charges Capt. Smith not with neglect of duty but with over-confidence in the strength of his ship, and here it must be said that the Senator paid to the courage and exemplary death of the commanding officer as high and graceful a compliment as any one has ever uttered. While the captain of the Californian is scored for failing to heed the distress signals of the Titanic, J. Bruce Ismay is fortunate enough to escape censure entirely.

Senator Smith kindly leaves to England the punishment of those responsible for the wreck, and of those who failed to offer the assistance which might have saved additional human lives. A great many suggestions are made for the better equipment of ocean liners to ensure a higher degree of safety to passengers but very naturally the majority of these suggestions are impracticable. The members of the committee are neither sailors nor shipbuilders and their advice in such matters will not, probably, attract more than passing notice.

Senator Smith comes out of this matter in a much better light than the public, knowing something of his record, had reason to hope. He is a member of that class of public men who are obsessed with a spirit of Angiophobia, who love to make the eagle scream in defiance and who, whenever they see anything bearing the slightest resemblance to the caudle appendage of a lion, cannot refrain from giving it a twist. Of course a harmless pull or two does not hurt the lion, but think of the amusement it supplies to the galleries. During the Boer war Senator Smith was one of those American statesmen who brought pressure to bear upon President Roosevelt to induce him to take up the cause of the South Africans, but even the redoubtable Colonel knew better than to interfere. Senator Smith at that time was Congressman in a Michigan district, a large percentage of his constituents were Hollanders, an election was at hand and he needed votes.

A PREMIER MISSING

The Provincial election in Saskatchewan is to be held on June 14, and already both parties are clearing their decks and getting ready for action.

The Conservative press of that Province are making the railway question the leading issue in the election and the Regina Daily Province is pouring hot shot into the ranks of Premier Scott. It alleges Saskatchewan has not only suffered from the burden of excessive freight rates, but that there has been a discrimination of 7 4-5 per cent. in favor of Manitoba. While the matter of rates charged by Dominion chartered roads is one for the attention of the Railway Board, the Scott Government has never made any effort to take advantage of this court to secure justice for the people of Saskatchewan.

It is openly charged that in 1908 the Scott Government had the support of the three leading railways, and that this the people paid for by assuming a liability of forty million dollars because the C.P.R. exemption was continued, high freight rates were untouched and railway facilities were lacking.

Mr. Haultain, the leader of the Opposition, takes as his motto, "Saskatchewan for the people of Saskatchewan," while the policy of the Scott Government is expressed in one sentence, "Saskatchewan for the Big Railways of Canada."

And so the fight goes merrily on. One strange feature of the contest is that Premier Scott continues to be missing. He has, it is alleged, not been in the province of which he is prime minister for over a year, but leaves the entire management of public affairs to his henchman, Hon. J. A. Calder. Saskatchewan very naturally desires a premier who will take sufficient interest in his own constituency to visit it occasionally.

"Where is Premier Scott?" is the leading querry out in the prairie province as the election draws near. A few days ago his party held a convention in Swift Current, Mr. Scott's own constituency, and once more nominated him. They hoped to see him at the convention, but he failed to appear, and his absence was in the nature of a wet blanket to the enthusiasm of his friends.

Another exchange says that something more than mere local matters are to be passed upon, that the election will give a fairly good idea of the strength of the Reciprocity feeling, the issue in Saskatchewan being practically the same as in the Dominion contest last September. How can this be when the Globe, the Montreal Witness and other papers that supported the pact are forced to admit that Reciprocity is dead? Recent events in the United States, notably the primary in the State of Ohio, shows clearly that in the present temper of the American nation one of the contracting parties has dropped out and will never renew the offer again, no matter what the attitude of the Canadians may be.

FARMERS ARE WARNED

The Director of the experimental farms is out with a warning to farmers, concerning a new disease known as potato canker, which was recently discovered in an imported shipment. When once introduced the disease germs infest the soil for a period of eight years, and if once established, the canker would destroy the entire potato crop in Canada. So far, no remedy has been discovered.

The only sure preventative is the use of uninfected seed and the director in his bulletin, calls the attention of the farmers to the fact that it is illegal to use or sell for seed potatoes that have been imported from Europe.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his address to-night, before the Montreal Reform Club, can be reckoned upon to make statements strong enough to wreck almost any ordinary phonograph.

If the care which a nation takes of its children is a test of civilization, then judged by that standard, Canada should rank high with her homes and hospitals for the little people everywhere.

The counsel for Quebec, in the marriage law case, denies the right of the Supreme Court to pass upon the matter as now before it. Seeing that the Privy Council ruled otherwise, Quebec cannot be taken as a model of modesty.

The Mount Forest Confederate says that the service of Hon. A. G. Mackay as leader of the Ontario Opposition, have been gladly recognized and acknowledged by his party. By putting another man in Mr. Mackay's place, the party's apreciation assumed a very peculiar form.

Whiskey Lake is the suggestive name of a new gold field, 84 miles from Sudbury. Prospectors are rushing to it from all parts, but so far very little yellow metal has been found and nothing at all to justify the cognomen of the place.

Latest Quotations in Grain Dairy Products, Live Stock Etc.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Lower, Chicago Higher—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 28.—Increasing fear of crop damage, especially thruout the western half of Kansas and Nebraska, made the wheat market to-day develop a good deal of strength in the late trading after being weak and lower the first half of the session. There was an irregular finish, varying from 1 1-4c decline to 1c advance. Corn at the close ranged from 1 1-8c off to 3-8c up, oats down 1-4c to 1-2c, and provisions higher by a shade to 12 1-2c.

The Liverpool market closed to-day on wheat ⅝d to 1d lower than yesterday, and on corn 1¼d to 1½d lower. Wheat at Antwerp was unchanged.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucuous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address—F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

DO YOU USE PILLS?

If In Doubt About the Right Pills to Use Read the Following Letter Carefully:

"I am one of those persons whose system requires aid," writes Mr. Young Gledhill, from Picton, "but it is so easily affected by reason of the great sensitiveness of the bowels that ordinary drastic pills inflict great injury to the delicate coating, and excite such persistent activity as to be with difficulty checked.

"I wish in the highest terms to express the great value of Dr. Hamilton's Pills in cases like mine, and I am sure also for elderly people and the very weak there is no pill like them.

"Speaking of my own experience with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I can say they have proved the most stimulating pills for the liver I have found. I have proved their tonic action upon digestion, and the same results have been secured by friends upon whom I have urged their use. The manufacturers are to be congratulated upon possessing so valuable a prescription, and the public should know that so valuable a remedy has been placed at their command."

No other pill for constipation, for liver, kidney, or stomach trouble, compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are mild and sure always to restore health. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all dealers, 25c per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston Ont.

"It 'ud be somewheres about a quarter or half past eight. Lizzie tole me after the old leddy kem up to see if you'd taken the car out."

Medenham's wits were alert enough now.

"I don't fully understand," he said. "What old lady, and why did she come?"

"That's what bothered me," was the reply. "Everybody knew that the young leddy an' you were on the Wye: 'deed to goodness, some of us thought you were in it. Anyways, it was long after ten when she——"

"You mean Mrs. Devar, I suppose—the older lady of the two who arrived in my car?"

"Yes, that's her. She wanted to be sure the car wasn't gone, and nothing would suit her but the key must be brought from the orfis an' the coach-house door unlocked so's she could see it with her own eyes. Well, Lizzie ses to me, 'That's funny, it is, because she watched they two goin' on the river, and was in the box a long time telephoninn' to a shuffer called Dale, at Hereford.' Thinks I, 'It's funnier that the shuffer who's here should be expectin' a chap named Dale,' but I said nothink. I never does to wimmen. Lord luv yer, they'll twist a tale twenty ways for Sundays to suit their own purposes afterwards."

Lightning struck from a cloudless sky a second time that night at Symon's Yat, and in its gleam was revealed the duplicity of Mrs. Devar. Medenham could not guess the double significance of Dale's message and failure to appear, but he was under no delusion now as to the cause of those honeyed words. Dale had been indiscreet, had probably blurted out his employer's title, and Mrs. Devar knew at last who the chauffeur was whose interference had baffled her plans.

He laughed bitterly, but did not pursue the inquiry any further.

"Can you clean coachwork and brass?" he asked, stooping to unlock the toolbox.

The stableman shuffled uneasily from one foot to the other. The hour was past midnight, and the alarm raised at the hotel had already robbed him of two hours' sleep.

"Hosses is more in my line," he answered gruffly.

"But if I give you half a sovereign perhaps you will not mind helping me. I shall attend to the engine myself."

"'Arf a suv'rin did you say, mister?" came the panting question.

"Yes. Be quick! Off with your coat, and get busy. A man who can groom a horse properly ought to be able to use a rubber and hose."

By two o'clock the Mercury was shining above and below. Thoroughly weary, yet well satisfied with the day's record, Medenham went to bed. He was up at seven, and meant to talk severely to Dale after breakfast; then he found, by consulting a directory, that the small hotel where his man had arranged to stay did not possess a telephone. It was annoying, but he had the consolation of knowing that an hour's slow run would bring him to Hereford and reunite him with his sorely-needed baggage. He was giving a few finishing touches to the car's toilette, when the Welsh waiting-maid hurried to the garage; Miss Vanrenen wanted him at once.

She awaited him in the verandah of the hotel, which fronted the south-east. A shower of June roses, pink and crimson and white, bespangled the sloping roof and hid the square posts that supported it, and a flood of vivid sunshine irradiated Cynthia as she leaned over the low rail of the balcony and smiled a greeting. She presented a picture that was a triumph of unconscious art, and her beauty affected Medenham more than a deep draught of the strongest wine ever vinted by man. Yesterday she was a charming girl, radiantly good-looking, and likely to attract attention even in circles where pretty women were plentiful as blackberries in a September thicket, but to-day, in Medenham's eyes, she was a woodland sprite, an ethereal creature cast in no mortal mold. So enthralled was he by the vision that he failed to note her attire. She wore the muslin dress of the previous night, and this, in itself, might have prepared him for what was to come.

"Good-morning, Mr. Fitzroy," she said, with a fine attempt at re-establishing those friendly relations which might reasonably exist between the owner of a motor-car and its hirer, "how are you after your strenuous labors of yesterday? I have heard all about you. Fancy remaining out of bed till two o'clock! Couldn't that precious car of yours be cleaned this morning, and by someone else?"

He found his tongue at that.

"Mercury obeys none but Jupiter," he said.

Her eyes met his fairly, and she laughed.

"That is the first conceited thing I have heard you say," she cried, "and, by Jove, aren't you flying high?"

"Jupiter assumes disguises," he reminded her. "Once, then he peered into an Olympian grove, he saw Io, and took the form of a youth so that he might talk with her. He found her so lovable that he passed many a pleasant hour in her company wandering on the banks of the classic stream that flowed through the wood, and in those hours he was not Jupiter but a boy, a boy very much in love. Every man has, or ought to have, something of Jupiter, a good deal of the boy, in his makeup."

He turned and looked at the Wye and its tree-shaded banks. Then he faced Cynthia again, and his hands rested on the barrier that divided them. For one mad instant he thought of vaulting it, and Cynthia read his thought; she drew back in a panic. A less infatuated wooer than Medenham might have noted that she seemed to fear interruption more than any too impulsive action on his part.

"I sent for you to tell you that Mrs. Devar is ill," she said in a flurry of words. "I am afraid she suffered more from the fright than I imagined last night. Anyhow, she has asked me to let her remain here to-day. You won't mind, I am sure, though it must be a bother not to have your luggage. Can't you run in to Hereford and get it? I am quite content to rest in this pretty place and write letters."

"I do honestly believe that Mrs. Devar is more frightened than ill," he said.

"Oh, she isn't making a fuss about it. Indeed, she was willing to go to Hereford this afternoon if I particularly wanted to attend service at the cathedral. I did, as a matter of fact, but it would be real mean to insist on it after scaring the poor thing into a nervous headache."

"The affair arranges itself admirably," he said. "At most of cathedrals there is an anthem, followed by a sermon by some eminent preacher, about three o'clock. Write your letters this mornin, or, better still, climb to the top of the Yat and see the glorious view from the top. Come back for lunch at one, and—"

"I'll see what Mrs. Devar thinks of it," broke in Cynthia, whose cheeks were borrowing tints from the red roses and the white with astonishing fluctuations of color. She ran off, more like Io, the sylph, than ever, and Medenham stood there in a brown study.

"This sort of thing can't go on," he argued with himself. "At any minute now I shall be taking her in my arms and kissing her, and that will not be fair to Cynthia, who is proud and queenly, and who will strive against the dictates of her own heart because it is not seemly that she should wed her father's paid servant. So I must tell her, to-day—perhaps during the run home from Hereford, perhaps to-night. But, dash it all! that will break up our tour. One ought to consider the world we live in; Cynthia will be one of its leaders, and it will never do to have people saying that Viscount Medenham became engaged to Cynthia Vanrenen while acting as the lady's chauffeur during a thousand-mile run through the West of England and Wales. Now, what am I to do?"

The answer came from a bedroom that overlooked the veranda.

"Mr. Fitzroy!"

He knew as he looked up that Cynthia dared not face him again, for her voice was too exquisitely subtle in its modulations not to betray its owner's disappointment before she uttered another word.

"I am very sorry," she said rapidly, "but I feel I ought not to leave Mrs. Devar until she is better, so I mean to remain indoors all day. I shall not require the car before nine o'clock to-morrow. If you like to visit Hereford go at any time that suits your convenience."

She seemed to regret the curtness of her speech, though indeed she was raging inwardly because of certain barbed shafts planted in her breast by Mrs. Devar's faint protests, and tried to mitigate the blow she had inflicted by adding, with a valiant smile:

"For this occasion only, Jupiter must content himself with Mercury as a companion."

"If I had Jove's power——" he began wrathfully.

"If you were Cynthia Vanrenen, you would do exactly what she is doing," she cried, and fled from the window.

It is not to be denied that he extracted some cold comfort from that last cryptic remark. Cynthia wanted to come, but Mrs. Devar had evidently burked the excursion. Why? Because Cynthia's escort would be Viscount Medenham and not Arthur Simmonds, orthodox and highly respectable chauffeur. But Mrs. Devar plainly declared herself on the side of Viscount Medenham last night. Why, then, did she stop a short journey by motor, with the laudable objective, of hearing an anthem and a sermon in a cathedral, when overnight she permitted the far less defensible trip on the river with the hated Fitzroy? It needs no great penetration to solve this puzzle. Mrs. Devar was afraid of some development that might happen if the girl visited Hereford that day. She counted on Medenham being chained to Symon's Yat while Cynthia was there—consequently she had heard something from Dale that rendered it eminently necessary that neither he nor Cynthia should be seen in Hereford on the Sunday. Probably too, she did not anticipate that Cynthia would don the haircloth of self-discipline and avoid him during the whole of the day, since that was what the girl meant by her allusion to Monday's starting-time.

Perhaps, using a woman's privilege, she might change her mind towards sunset; meanwhile, it behooved him to visit Hereford and pry into things there.

Nevertheless, he was a wise lover. Cynthia might dismiss him graciously to follow his own behests, but it might not please her if she discovered that he had taken her permission too literally. He entered the hotel and wrote a letter:

"My dear Miss Vanrenen——" no pretense of "Madam" or other formula, but a plain and large "My dear," with the name appended as a concession to the humbug of life, even in regard to the woman he loved—"I am going to Hereford, but shall return here for luncheon. Mrs. Devar's illness is not likely to be lasting, and the view from the Yat is, if possible, better in the afternoon than in the morning. In addition to my obvious need of a clean collar, I believe that our presence in Hereford to-day is not desired. Why? I shall make it my business to find out. Yours ever sincerely——"

CONCERNING YOUR EYES

Good eyesight is essential to health comfort and appearance. Have you ever noticed a strained look on your face, or your friend's? Usually this comes from eyestrain. More wrinkles are caused by eyestrain than by age. Thousands unconsciously squint in an effort to adapt the eyes to the surroundings. Success in releaving eye-strain depends entirely upon the OPTICAL SKILL of the Specialist who prescribes the glasses. Neglect of the eyes many times leads to surgical operations, which glasses worn in time may prevent. We correct errors of vision by means of properly fitted lenses.

We have every modern appliance for accurate eyesight testing, and we grind all our own lenses. Thus assuring you accuracy and promptness. All work guaranteed.

JEWISH WEDDING IN KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS HALL

Last night in the Knights of Pythias Hall a very pretty wedding was celebrated when Miss Annie Florence, daughter of Mr. Florence, and Rabbi Black, were united in marriage. The ceremony, an unusually interesting one, both the bride and groom being of the Hebrew faith, was carried out with all the Jewish customs.

Over two hundred invited guests were present at the ceremony, at which Rabbi Gordon, of Toronto, officiated.

The bride, charmingly attired in a dress of white silk, trimmed with pearls, and white lace, and wearing the customary bridal veil and orange blossoms, was given away by her parents. Miss Rose Florence, sister of the bride, in a beautiful pink silk dress acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Louis Florence, the bride's brother, acted as best man.

After the ceremony the guests and the happy couple descended to a large dining hall, where a sumptuous wedding dejeuner was served.

Mr and Mrs. Black will reside in the city at 264 McDonnel street. All religious services by the Jewish population of Peterborough are observed at the Knights of Pythias Hall.

Prices for D. L. & W. Scranton Coal for May will be—$7.00 Pea Coal; $7.50 Stove and Egg; $7 75 Nut Coal. Fresh Lime and Cement always in Stock. ROBERT HICKS tf

CARPENTERS HAD GOOD MEETING IN LABOR HALL

A very successful meeting was held in the Labor Hall last night by the Carpenters' Union. Though the rain undoubtedly kept many away, those who did attend made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in numbers. Mr. Hugh Robertson, a very popular local labor man, along with Mr. T. Moore, the General Organizer for the Carpenters, addressed the meeting in vigorous style, and to such good effect that many one time members of the union again enrolled themselves, along with quite a number of new members. A special meeting of the Union is being held on Monday next for initiatory purposes, and as the reduced initiation fee is now in force, it is expected that many more who did not get to the meeting last night will laso come forward.

BROUGHT PARTY OF IMMIGRANTS TO PETERBORO

A party of immigrants, including its organizer, Mr. Wortley, arrived in the city to-day and all its members have received good situations on farms. Some of the party stopped off at Port Hope, but all who came to Peterborough, received positions at once.

Mr. Wortley contemplated returning again at Christmas to bring out another party, but the action of some of the men in remaining in Port Hope has somewhat discouraged that project.

JAMES WILSON BASEBALL FAN

But He Should Have Remained With the White Caps

A young man with a lengthy Italian appellation, forfeited $4.60 in police court this morning for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk.

Thomas Minicolo interpreted for the bicyclist, and asked the Magistrate to let him down easy. It was shown, however, that the young man frequently encroached upon the sidewalk.

Three young men were each fined $2.00, to be paid within ten days for creating a racket in front of Dr. Frederick's place, after midnight on May 24th. All pleaded guilty.

James Wilson, when charged with being intoxicated, claimed as an excuse that he met some of the Ottawa boys yesterday. A $10 fine was tacked on him, however, to be paid in 10 days.

HAS CONTRACT FOR RAILROAD CONSTRUCTION

Mr. Percy Creswell, contractor, left this morning for Colborne, taking with him six teams of horses and a number of men, he having secured a contract for railroad construction from the Canadian Northern.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost is the eye brows are thin and scanty, and the lashes are thing and scanty. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. Wonderful Praise Accorded Peruna the Household Remedy

Mrs. Maria Goerts, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes:

"My husband, children and myself have used your medicines, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's invaluable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my housework alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of earache and catarrh of the stomach, and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140.

"I have regained my health again, and I cannot thank you enough for your advice. May God give you a long life and bless your work."

CHEQUE FOR THE FIREMEN'S BENEFIT FUND

International Harvester Company Send Contribution.

Chief Howard is in receipt of the following letter from the International Harvester Company, which might be prefaced by the explanation that he asked the privilege of visiting the work of that company with some of the firemen.

Mr. W. A. Howard,
Chief Fire Department,
City,

Dear Sir—We enclose herewith our cheque for $25.00 being a contribution from the Company towards the Firemen's Benefit Fund. We appreciate the efficient service that the department has rendered this city and also your suggestions and advice in connection with the fire appliances of our plant. We would be glad to have you visit our plant with your men and inspect our fire equipment in order that they may be familiar with the layout, in case there should be a fire at any future time.

The Chief and his men appreciate the courtesy of the company in tendering the cheque, and will take advantage of the permission to visit the buildings of the company as soon as possible.

The Peterborough Light & Power Company's showroom will be open on Tuesday, Thursday & Saturday evenings during May and June from 8 to 10 p.m., for the convenience of those wishing to secure gas appliances, or to arrange for gas connections. 5d

MANY EUROPEAN ACTS SHOWN

Howe's Great London Shows Consolidated Will Appear in Peterborough June 6th

Howe's great London shows consolidated will appear in Peterborough June 6th.

While the trained wild beasts are a great feature, the regular line of circus acts is fully up to a-[illegible] standard.

The wonderful Zanfretta Family are a surprise and have no equals in the circus world. The riding Lowandes are among the big acts; the Bertik Troupe, Flying Juniata Twins, the Bronze Troupe of acrobats have no peer. The Kentucky menage and High School horses are seen only with this show. The clowns are funny, the gymnasts clever; the elephants numerous and the menagerie is large and the Glasgow Prize Team a great feature.

A free street parade will be given, which will leave the grounds at ten o'clock on the day of the performance.

ODDFELLOWS HAD VISIT FROM GRAND MASTER

Grand Master Popplestone, of the I.O.O.F., was in the city yesterday on an official visit to the Peterborough and Otonabee lodges of Oddfellows. Last night the two lodges held a joint meeting in the I.O.O.F. hall and were addressed by Mr. Popplestone. Col. Miller occupied the chair.

The members of both lodges turned out in large numbers, each body exemplifying a degree. The Grand Master expressed himself as highly pleased with the manner in which the lodges exemplified their work, and complimented them on their splendid standing. His address was greatly enjoyed by the Oddfellows.

Mr. Popplestone is on an official tour of Eastern Ontario and speaks tonight in Tweed. Yesterday afternoon, accompanied by Col. Miller, he visited the principal points of the city, and was pleased with its many fine parks and buildings.

Tells Why She Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills

She was Run down, Had Dark Circles under her eyes, and her Kidneys Bothered Her - Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Her Completely.

Upper St. Rose, Gloucester Co., N. B., May 28.—Special.—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are a grand medicine for suffering women." In those words Laura Robichaud a well known and highly respected resident of this place, voices her sentiments in regard to the grand old Canadian Kidney Remedy and like others who have [illegible] similar testimony, she speaks from experience.

"I can recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills because they cured me," Miss Robichaud says. "I was in a generally run-down condition. I had dark circles under my eyes and my Kidneys bothered me. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills fixed me up.

This statement is made up of few words, but it describes the exact condition of thousands of women in Canada. They are run-down, have dark circles under their eyes, and they may not even know it, but their Kidneys are bothering them. If they follow Laura Robichaud's example and use Dodd's Kidney Pills they will cure their Kidneys, and good health will follow naturally.

324 GEORGE STREET

THREE CELESTIALS ARE COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

On Charge of Being Keepers of Gaming House - J. W. Curry K. C. Toronto Assisting in the Defence.

A study in scarlet, or rather many studies, could be observed in the temporary Council Chamber police station this morning, when the nine Chinamen, charged with being keepers and frequenters of a common gaming house at 464 George street, came up for trial.

A GOOD TURNOUT.

The yellow population of the City formed the larger portion of the curious onlookers. Their stolid features gave no indication of their feelings, and with Oriental passiveness they sat through the long course of examination.

Mr. J. W. Curry, K.C., of Toronto, assisted by Mr. G. N. Gordon, were engaged in the defence of the celestials, and Crown Attorney Wood represented the prosecution. Some technicalities blocked the hearing from getting under way promptly on time. Charlie Lee Hing, a smart looking Toronto Chinaman, was present as interpreter.

When the three men, charged with being the keepers of the house, were asked to plead through their interpreter as to how they would be tried Mr. Curry interrupted. He challenged the authority or right of the Magistrate to ask the men to elect. To support his contention, he referred to the case recently tried in a Toronto court, where an almost similar case to the one being argued had arisen. The jurisdiction of the Magistrate had been questioned and to ascertain his authority the case had been submitted to a Court of Appeal. The question submitted was:—

"Have I (the Magistrate) the right to allow the accused to be tried without a jury, or to try them summarily without their consent?"

Judgment had not been delivered in the case.

Mr. Curry contended that there should not be the right of the Magistrate to ask the men to elect. His Worship, however, felt that there should be.

Mr. Curry, after consultation with Mr. Gordon, declined to either elect or plead as to how they would have the case tried.

DETECTIVE'S EVIDENCE

The evidence of Detective Newhall occupied most of the morning's hearing. P. C. Kidd, the other witness, was detained from reaching the City, having been in Montreal on business. The witness was subjected to a very stiff examination by Mr. Curry.

He stated that he had been watching the premises at 464 George St. of late, owing to complaints from time to time about the place, and of gambling going on there. For the past three Sundays he had had the place under observation. On the Sunday evening when the place was raided he saw gambling going on down stairs in a back room.

The witness, under questioning, related the methods of the men whom he saw last Sunday night, seated around an improvised table, conducting what is alleged to be a common game of gambling. An ordinary pack of playing cards appeared to be in use, also dominos and dice. Piles of money were on the tables, from which the men engaged in the game would help themselves from time to time.

The Crown requested the witness to show in court the manner of dealing out the cards, as he himself saw it performed.

The Magistrate asked witness to explain the method a little more thoroughly, as he was unfamiliar with the pieces of cardboard himself, and wished to thoroughly understand it. The detective proceeded to explain everything he saw occur, as the game and the evening progressed.

Mr. Curry then took a hand in questioning the witness. He went after the officer hard, and endeavoured to get him tangled up in his statements. The officer's story, however, did not vary to any noticeable extent, when answering questions plied him by the defence.

Several times the Crown objected to his bruque manner of handling the witness.

Mr. Curry asked to have a look at the warrant which had been taken by the officer, when he went to collect the articles of evidence shown in court. After examining the paper he objected to it, on the ground that it was only a warrant for apprehension and not a search warrant, and held, therefore, that the articles shown should be considered as only "prima facia" evidence.

The evidence ended about twelve-thirty. His Worship considered that there was sufficient to hand to warrant the men charged with being keepers of the house being committed for trial. The question of continuation of the bail arose, as Mr. Thomas Him evidently became rather scary about the ultimate safety of the money he advanced for them, and wished to withdraw his bonds. He consented to allow the $300 stand for the six men, charged as frequenters, but withdrew his bond for the appearance of the three keepers, who will consequently have to be confined to the gaol.

The case of the latter will come up before Judge Huycke at County Court this afternoon at three o'clock. Until their case is disposed of, the trial of the other six will remain in abeyance.

SUMMER FAIR NOTES

George Street Choir will give a very interesting program in the Theatre at the Summer Fair, to-morrow (Thursday) night.

Two recent railway publications are a 1912 edition of "Summer Cruises in Northern Seas," which is descriptive of the route taken by the Grand Trunk Pacific steamers on the Pacific coast, and is issued by the General Passenger Department of the G. T. P. at Winnipeg; and "The Cigarettist" the latest "Preachment" of Elbert Hubbard, which is issued by the Grand Trunk Railway Literary and Scientific Institute. The "Summer Cruises" is as handsomely got up as in previous years and contains a good deal of additional information and some new illustrations as well as paying particular attention to the change in equipment effected on the Prince Rupert and Prince George this season from coal to oil fuel. "The Cigarettist" which is couched in a style typical of the Fra, puts the case against indulgence in cigarettes, with particular reference to young railway employees, in a manner at once humorous and full of sound common sense

If Cuba can't quell the negro revolt at once and afford protection to United States interests, American marines will be landed.

Eighty persons were killed last night in a fire in a theatre at Villarreal, Spain, which was caused by the explosion of a cinematograph.

WHY WAS BURLEIGH FALLS POWER LEASED BY THE LATE GOVERNMENT FOR ONE DOLLAR A YEAR?

How the interests of the West riding of Peterborough have been looked after in the past may be gauged by one of the most extraordinary occurrences in the history of the riding. By a lease from the Federal Government to Mr. J. A. Culverwell, C.E., dated February 19th, 1900, authorized twice before in 1889 and 1.00 by governmental order in Council, Mr. Culverwell acquired the right to use the water power at Perry's Creek at Burleigh Falls to 1959, for the magnificent sum of one dollar per year, payable in advance. It is true that the land round about had been owned by private parties and was acquired in the usual way by Mr. Culverwell, but on what pretence, was the surplus water at Burleigh Falls leased to Mr. Culverwell, or anybody else for $1 per year. This lease has been sold by Mr. Culverwell for a sum not less than $200,000. His profit has been almost fabulous, being the difference between some $3000 which he paid for the land and the $200,000 which he sold the lease for. He expended nothing on the property. In the lease it says "that the lessee shall not at any time during the said term assign, sub-let or transfer these presents, nor any rights hereunder without the consent thereto of the (Minister of Railways and Canals for the time being, and no assignment, subletting or transfer shall be valid or effectual, or binding, on the lessor, without such consent. The costs of electrical development would be, of course, at the expense of the purchasers, but that has nothing to do with the fact that the right under the lease was acquired for $1.00, and sold for $200,000 at an enormous profit, by the consent of the people's representative, and without any provision being made that the people should share in the purchase price of the lease. The lease also recites the fact that "the lessor (that is, the Government) will endeavor, subject to the foregoing provisions, (which are the ordinary provisions to prevent the lessees making undue use of his power) to control, maintain and regulate the water levels or supply so that the same may be of advantage to or may tend to serve the purpose of the lessee." It is but fair to say that the West Riding of Peterborough has lost by this transaction at least the sum of $150,000 cash. The question arises, why was this gross violation of public interests allowed or acquiesced in either by the Government or the local representatives? There may be an explanation. The public would like to hear it.

The King and Queen yesterday drove through Battersea Park, in the poor district of South London, and were given a hearty reception.

BELMONT CLUB ENTERTAINED PETERBORO' AND OTTAWA PLAYERS

The Belmont Club provided a big night of entertainment at their Club House last night, their guests being the members of the Peterborough and Ottawa baseball clubs. Others present were officers of the local club and a large number of the Marlborough Club members, with President Dinsdale. The Chairman was President Fee of the Belmonts.

The entertainers included Messrs. Messrs. Clarke, Donaldson. Huycke, Mellroy and Morphet, Mr. George Schneider supplying the piano accompaniments. The first prize in the progressive euchre contest, a fountain pen, went to Mr. R. W. F. Jones, of Bowmanville, while the booby prize, an alarm clock, was captured by pitcher Bartlett of the Peterborough Club. Speeches were made by Vice-President E. G. Patterson, Mr. C. E. MacLeod, and Manager Templin, for the Peterborough Club, and Manager Cook made a neat speech on behalf of his players, thanking the Belmont Club for their hospitality.

Mr. J.O.S.H. George Ade Craig was screamingly funny in a short story. Refreshments were served and the Belmont Club are to be congratulated on the completeness of their success in providing such an enjoyable evening.

TWO MORE PLAYERS TO COME TO-NIGHT

White Caps Leave on C.P.R. Midnight for Ottawa Series

Manager Templin and his team leaves on the midnight for Ottawa to commence a two days' series with the Senators, and all hands are confident of a clean-up or an even break in the manoeuvres with Manager Cook.

Ottawa is scheduled to return with the Petes for a Saturday meeting, but it is possible that ,the game may be stag'd at Ottawa, which club would like to have matters arranged that way. It is proposed to have as an extra special attraction a lacrosse game as well as the Canadian League fixture. Such arrangement might be more lucrative for the White Caps, and Manager Templin, who holds the winning card will decide accordingly.

The situation for the Peterborough ball players is that every man must come over with the necessary if he hopes to make a prolonged stay, the White Cap's leader, after considerable search and worry, having secured sufficient material to fill any hole.

Pitcher Bartlett will be let out. While he has all the shoots necessary in the heaving game, and in practise can hold the batsmen in clever style, he has not had sufficient experience for a big show. Barty, who has been very popular with the local squad, and numerous friends he has made here, may after more seasoning return to Peterborough at a future date. Another pitcher and an infielder will arrive here this evening.

Johnny Derr will likely do the box work to-morrow for the Caps, and Tracy on Friday. Osborne, who is even taller than Bill Schaeffer, will show the fans when he has when the Petes return home for three games with Brantford, a morning and an afternoon game to be played on Monday.

President Fitzgerald, of the Canadian League, will be in the city tonight and will meet Manager Templin, who suggests that the date of cutting down be extended.

BREEZES FROM THE DIAMOND

Hemlock, the Indian catcher for Guelph, is out of the game with a wrenched ankle.

Connie Murphy with an infield clout won that thirteen innings fight of Hamilton against Brantford. Murphy went out, but the run came in from third. Hamilton scores gave Murphy a sacrifice, but Brantford papers did not.

Peterborough and Ottawa clubs are in Ottawa for one game to-morrow and one on Friday.

Ottawa returns for Saturday when a double header may be played according to schedule. The game may be switched to Ottawa.

Brantford comes to Peterborough for Monday and Tuesday, playing two games on Monday, the King's birthday.

Manager Cook says Fred Herbert is not for sale and not to be sold to Cincinnati, at least till the end of the season.

Following the Brantford games, Peterborough jumps to Guelph for two days, and then to Hamilton for Friday and Saturday.

On the following Monday and Tuesday the Berlin champions will be here.

Ottawa team left on the 11.35 C.P.R. to-day, the game having been called off. The Caps will leave for the Capital city to-night by special coach.

Four pitchers worked for Guelph in the opening game at home.

The fans did not care greatly for Umpire Johnson's elongated, long-drawn-out, continued, call of "str.! ! ! ! ! ik !e.!" It was amusing at first, but soon got monotonous.—Guelph Mercury.

One of the Guelph papers is after Manager Needham for rough language on the field.

The wet weather to-day postponed an extended visit to Peterborough of President Fitzgerald and Secretary Robinson.

ORIENTAL FANATICS.

They Do Queer Things, But Are Held in the Highest Respect.

In many parts of the orient a lunatic has always been reverenced as one who is much nearer God than any sane person. During the Crimean war a Mohammedan religionist from Bagdad joined the Turkish army as a ghazi, or warrior for religion. He was a man of rare mental gifts and immense learning.

Yet bareheaded and barefooted, with scanty clothing, his sword girded about his lean loins, this fanatic marched through snow and ice at the head of his division or led the way into the thickest of the fights.

Five times a day when he said his prayers he ungirt his sword. But save then, either by day or night, sleeping or waking, he never went unarmed.

He was a scholar, thoroughly versed in Arabic and Persian literature. His memory was almost supernatural. If, it is said, any line of a Persian or an Arabian poet were quoted he would take it up and recite the whole poem. Young men would sit at his feet and listen for hours while he declaimed from the classics of Moslem literature.

At Tebris, in Persia, Vambery, the traveler, encountered a dervish who was an object of general admiration. He was of the sect that believes the Caliphate, after the death of Mohammed, ought to have devolved upon Ali, the prophet's son-in-law, and not upon Abubekr, Mohammed's brother-in-law.

In the east men express their convictions by a symbolic deed as well as by words. This dervish vowed that never should his organs of speech be employed save to utter the name of Ali. Day and night, in season and out of season, so ran the sacred vow, would he cry "Ali! Ali!"

For more than thirty years that fanatic thus symbolized to the world that he was the devoted partisan of that Ali who had been dead more than a thousand years.

Even in his own house, though speaking to wife, children and friends, no other word but "Ali" ever passed his lips. If he wanted food or drink, if he begged or bought, his wants were expressed by "Ali." He would race up and down the streets of the city for a day, shrieking at the top of his voice, "Ali! Ali!"

Every one venerated this fanatic as a saint. The richest man in the city presented him with a magnificent horse, saddle and bridle. Vaulting into the saddle as soon as he had received the gift, he galloped through the town shouting "Ali! Ali!" Riding into the noisy bazaar, he cried "Ali!" with such strength of voice as to be heard clearly above the frightful din of the shouting buyers and pounding mechanics.

The Drink Again.

In connection with the late Dr. Frederick Temple's ardent advocacy of teetotalism, a capital story is told by a biographer. The archbishop was one day instructing a group of young clergymen in the practical work of house-to-house visitation among the poor.

"Now," he said, after laying down various principles for approaching and admonishing the sick, "I will go into this inner room and lie down on the sofa. You will then come in, one by one, and address me as if I were one of your poor sick parishioners."

Dr. Temple retired into the inner room, and there was much whispering among the curates. All felt too shy to approach the stern instructor. After five minutes' delay, the archbishop called out:

"What, is no one coming?"

Thereupon, an Irish curate plucked up courage and led the way. Walking solemnly into the inner room he stood by the archbishop's couch and, bending over him, said in a low, reproachful accents:

"Frederick, Frederick, the drink again!"

March Winds.

Out of the north they are trooping,
March winds noisy and chill,
Blustering through the branches,
Whistling high and shrill,
Tearing adown the highway,
Snatching at caps and curls,
Eagerly trying to frolic
Among the boys and girls.
This is their happy message,
This is the song they sing:
"Hurry away, O winter!
Hurry along, O spring!
We are the winds that waken
Brooks that have slept so long.
After us come the blossoms
And the springtime joy and song."

FINANCIAL SUCCESS OF PETERBORO' SUMMER FAIR APPEARS TO BE ASSURED

Newsy Notes on What's Doing at the Armouries — Band Concerts are a Treat — Time for Registering Babies for Show Extended Till Saturday—Program for To-night

Another big attendance last night encouraged the workers at the Peterboro Summer Fair, and as was the case on the opening night, the entertainment provided was all that could be desired.

The excellent music being provided by Mr. Gliddon and his band, adds much to the enjoyment of the affair. The majority are new selections and will be heard at the weekly concerts in Victoria Park.

An official of the Summer Fair said to-day that the finances were doing splendidly, in fact the management is surprised at the financial success being attained, despite the wet weather.

BABY SHOW

The time for the registering of babies has been extended to Saturday. Those mothers wishing to enter their babies in the show, are asked to do so at once, either with Mrs. Davidson at St John's rectory or Mrs. Harry Rush, 51 Brock street. Judging will commence at three o'clock.

If you have not visited the Curio exhibit which the Women's Art Association have collected, you should arrange to do so at once. It is surprising to find how many beautiful and curious articles there are in many homes in the city, articles about which there are romantic associations. The collection is made up of curios from every part of the world, from China, India, Africa, Italy, Pompeii and many old and historic things that are of inestimable value to their owners.

There is an Arab Shiek's head dress, and a Mohammaden Rosary, both loaned by Mrs. Travers; a pipe carved with Boer coat of arms, a pen carved with a knife from one piece of maple, a snuff box that belonged to Warren Hastings and a tie pin in the form of a head made from lava from Mount Vesuvius, all loaned by Dr. Young.

Then there is an interesting collection of Indian relics and curios all found in Peterborough County, owned by Mrs. E. R. Tate, as well as some beautiful bead embroidery work done by Mrs. Moody, of Lakefield. The largest collection loaned was sent by Mrs. Tate, Lakefield, to whom the society are much indebted. The following are a few of the beautiful and interesting things in the collection: A purse of Nello work, an obsolete art, being tortoise shell inlaid with silver; some beautiful specimens of carved ivory and pierced silver; two minatures painted in 1798 and 1802; snuff boxes of ivory, tortoise shell and gold; vanity box of battersea enamel and inlaid ivory; old sugar tongs of George I. reign; tear bottle which was found in tomb in Naples; picture of 17th century painted on vellum. Then there is an old Roman Lamp found in Pompeii and a necklace made from stones found there. All these with many others are the property of Mrs. Tate, of Lakefield.

Some beautiful handpainted carved ivory and pearl fans, a 200 years old brooch, and some old colored prints are loaned by Mrs. Frederick. A copper hand-warmer that evidently saw good service in olden days is shown by Mr. H. Rush, while a crumb of Queen Victoria's wedding cake and a document signed by Lord Nelson are shown by Mr. Thomas Rush.

Mrs. (Dr.) Hunter has loaned a beautiful copper teapot from Thibet, also a temple censor and a hand-warmer such as is used by the Chinese.

Some war knives from Chili, some colored etchings and engravings of the time of Napoleon; a Chinese Mandarin's coat; a Chinese Flag, which strange to say, is more valuable because worked in cotton than in silk; an African chief's full dress, are in evidence and are very interesting.

Mrs. Morris, president of the Women's Art Association has loaned many articles, among which are a gun which was used by Louis Philipe of France, a boudoir chair that was the personal property of Mrs. Goldwin Smith; a number of old pictures and a beautiful cut glass jug, made before machinery was used in cutting.

There are two maps of England worked on silk and linen about the year 1770, which are the property of Mrs. Edgcumbe Pearse and Mrs. Collins.

A valuable jug is one that is lent by Miss Rubidge, being an "Apostle Jug" of Wedgwood. These are very rare and are coveted by all collectors. The figures of the twelve Apostles are shown in base relief around the body of the jug.

An interesting document is the naturalization certificate issued to Bartholomew De la Fosse who went from France to England at the time of the persecution of the Protestants in the former country. The document is signed by Queen Anne and is dated January 29th, 1710.

Some quaint old gowns are shown that are especially interesting to the ladies. One dress, the valued property of Mrs. Hazen Ritchie, is of a pretty figured goods and is bountifully edged with fringe. In this regard it is up-to-date.

Some Chinese nail shields, such as are used by the high caste Chinese, as protection to their long pointed finger nails are shown.

This is only a few of the interesting things that may be seen. The collection is in charge of a committee of the Woman's Art Association who will be pleased to give any visitors all information as to the curios.

AT THE DOLLS' HOUSE.

Have you seen the dolls yet? If not don't put off doing so any longer, for there is such a variety of them. There are large dolls with elaborate frocks, small dolls dressed as nurses, babies and Dutch children, while perhaps the ones that attract the most attention and always bring a smile are the "Campbell" Kids, and the "Flirts." The former are the dolls whose faces one sees in the advertisements of Campbell's soups, and they certainly are laughable.

There is always a crowd around the dolls' house, for interest centres there for so many of the little folks. Millinery in the latest style from Paris is shown, as well as motor coats and opera wraps, and complete wardrobes for young lady dolls. They have for sale also dolls' hammocks and beds, with bedding and eiderdown quilts.

CANDY BOOTH.

Do you like home-made candy? They have some of the nicest you ever tasted at the candy booth, just inside the front door of the building. Just read some of the different kinds that are being sold and you will surely want some. You can buy a small basket for 5 cents or a box at from 10 cents to 75 cents.

Here is the list: Maple Cream, Turkish Delight (two flavors) stuffed dates, divinity fudge with walnuts or with Brazil nuts, peanut brittle or taffy. These are all home-made and are very good. Try some.

AT THE SPRING BOOTH.

Here is a list of some of the pretty articles that you can buy at the Spring booth. In many cases the price of the articles barely covers the cost of the materials, so that some good bargains may be had.

In centrepieces there are some dainty ones in Wallachian eyelet, solid embroidery from $1.00 up to $4.00. A luncheon set of a centrepiece, and six small doylies to match is particularly nice. There are several different styles of Irish crochet hand bags, ranging in price from 50c. to $5.00.

One article that is very useful is a travelling case of tan linen, bound with pale blue, and lined throughout with rubber. This has many pockets for necessary articles for making one's toilet, and it is fully fitted out with sponge, soap, tooth paste, etc. This only costs $2.25 and is a bargain.

The laundry bags are fine—roomy as well as pretty. One of pretty cretonne with yellow roses and wide yellow satin ribbons is very pretty. Another in blue is equally attractive.

Then you can get a mauve ribbon coat hanger for 50 cents, an Irish crochet neckbow, with black or red ribbon velvet for 25 cents; a crochet needle protector that looks like a pink carnation, for 25 cents; a pretty boudoir cap from 35 cents to 75 cents, and a host of other pretty things for very little money.

Make a guess as to the number of beans in the jar at the Spring booth and run the chance of getting the beautiful $8.00 centrepiece. Five cents a guess.

Belleghem's furniture establishment has a large and attractive display of furniture. Mr. G. S. Wald was selling an instrument for opening air tight fruit jars, which he claimed would save the housewife much trouble.

The High Tea Room in the northwest wing is a spacious dinner hall and last night one hundred and fifty hungry patrons satisfied their appetite with its menu of undisputable quality and taste. It was in charge of Mrs. G. J. Scott.

Every imaginable article of consumption from bread to Coney Island Red Hots were on sale, except cigarettes. These harmful little paper cylinders cannot be purchased within the confines of the armoric walls, though it is quite permissable to "import" them and enjoy a good smoke in the Fair.

If you wish for an ice cream, a lunch, or a meal, visit the Spring, Autumn, Summer or Winter Booths, the High Tea Room or the Cafe Enchantant.

In regard to the four booths representing the seasons, Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter, special reference must be made. In each of these was exemplified all that artistic skill could produce in the way of giving realistic impressions of the objects striven for.

The Spring booth is remarkably well decorated in accordance with the season's flowers. Apple blossoms and Westaria, a graceful flower are used extensively, the predominating colors being mauve and white.

The Autumn booth is in charge of Mrs. W. H. Denham assisted by Mrs. R. H. Turner, Mrs. Adam Hall, Mrs. W. H. Hill, Mrs. F. W. Matthews, Miss Hurley, Mrs. McGee, Miss McCrae and Miss Steinhoff. Some realistic looking bunches of grapes and Autumn leaves were worked into the decorative plan very effectively. Tea, coffee and cake were purchaseable at this booth.

The Summer booth in charge of Mrs. L. M. Hayes and Mrs. (Dr.) McNulty and others, is remarkably pretty and is one of the biggest attractions.

The Winter booth is indicated by long tables covered with snow white cloths. Meals can be had at these tables which were capable of accommodating nearly one hundred at one time.

The following program will be given in the "Cafe Chantant" Summer Fair, at the Armories to-night at 8.15 by the St. George's Choral Society, conducted by Mr. R. J. Devey.

Part Song—"Waken Lords and Ladies Gay."
Male Quartette—"A Basket of Chestnuts."
Song—"Because I Love You," Miss A. Wells.
Chorus—"Awake Aelian Lyre."
Song—"Bunkered" Mr. F. Dickson.
Glee—"Here in Cool Grot."
Quartette—"Pro Phundo Basso."
Song—...... .... Miss A. Lee.
Part Song—"Boat Song."
Song—"Mona" Mr. C. Deakin.
Part Song—"Tell her I love her so"
Song—...... .... Mrs. B. Read.
Part Song—"Bells of St. Michael's Tower.

AUTUMN BOOTH

Try the pan cakes and Maple syrup at the Autumn booth this evening. These will be served at six o'clock and again at nine o'clock in the evening and will be made by Miss Steinhoff Domestic Science teacher. Try some.

Miss McCrea has painted some unique and beautiful advertising posters for the pancake demonstration at the Autumn booth to-night. These posters are in the windows of McDermid & Jury, and Lech & Sons.

Buy a cook book from the ladies of the Autumn booth. These books contain favorite recipes of the ladies of Peterboro and are sold for 35 cents.

COOKING WITH GAS AT THE FAIR

Exhibit of Peterboro Light and Power Company.

Prominent among the exhibits at the Peterborough Summer Fair, is a striking display of the the very latest gas appliances, of which the Peterboro Light and Power Company are sole agents in Peterborough. The exhibit is under the management of Mr. Snyder, a chef of wide experience, who demonstrates the cooking conveniences of gas, while the heating and other appliances are shown and explained by Mr. Harry Beal, of the local staff.

It will be worth your while to visit this booth and ask to be shown some of its contents. The various conveniences on exhibition are manufactured by Canadian and American firms, the sole contract for handling their goods having been obtained by the local exhibitors.

The display is of a unique character and will appeal most to the woman who has to do her own housework, and to all who desire a quick method of heating in the home. Through the agency of the gas conveniences displayed at this booth, the household drudge, the woman who slaves from morning till night, with never an hour for herself, is rapidly becoming a thing of the past. Through the medium of the numerous devices controlled by gas, household duties are everywhere, being marvellously lightened and simplified.

One of these devices is known as the "Simplex" ironing machine, a contrivance constructed to relieve the usual irksome and tiresome method of ironing, so commonly in use. The "Simplex" is a cylinder shaped roller operated by a handle, which turns out, neatly creased, sheets, pillow slips, table cloths, towels, etc. and in every way, superior to the results obtained by the common method of ironing by hand. The Simplex roller is heated by gas of course.

Then there are combination gas and coal ranges, with the option held by the householder of either burning gas or coal in the same stove, according to wish.

Then another device is a steriliser operated by gas, which thoroughly cleanses and disinfects all articles, such as towels, handkerchiefs, razors, or in fact anything. Barbers would find it to be a valuable possession. An automatic geyser, used in conjunctions with bath fixtures is also another convenience, unmistakably serviceable, easily operated and an accessory that would find general favor. Another exhibit is the Rapid Heater which, when turned on, heats water to boiling pitch or to whatever degree of temperature desired in less than one minute. Just the thing for man wanting the use of hot water, when he finds the furnace out, or some other unforseen occurrence.

One of the nicest and most convenient appliances shown however, is the "Solar Grand" gas heater fireplace. It is in every sense a rival or even superior in some respects to the ordinary coal and wood fireplace. It is handsomely built, very economical and perfectly sanitary. The price is very moderate, being only thirty five dollars, installed by the Company, free of cost, and the cost of burning it only 3 1-2 cents an hour. The demonstrators will be pleased to explain the workings of everything shown to all inquirers.

The both is very attractively equipped to show off to best advantage the various exhibits. A row of colored gas lamp shades aid materially in this effect. These lights can be turned off and on, at a switch. Gas illumination can also be turned on and off by a switch in any part of a residence now, with fully as much satisfaction as electricity.

Mr. Snyder, the demonstrating culinary artists turns out batches of hot cakes, baked with gas, in a remarkably brief space. These cakes are made without any shortening, but lose none of their toothsome properties thereby.

ROSEDALE LOTS

Most citizens of Peterboro, are aware that Rosedale, of Toronto, is the High Class Residential District of that city. Where naught but blue blood is to be found, and where residence therein is a passport to high society. It was sub-divided and put on the market by a Scotch syndicate about 35 years ago, at 20.00 per front foot, and it is now selling from $75.00 to $250.00 per foot. About the same time the high class citizens of Peterboro' determimed to keep step with Toronto, quickly selected and sub-subdivided that beautiful block of land north of Smith Street, east of Jackson Park, west from Normal School, and Chemong Road. Having gone so far, they wearried of well-doing, leaving the task of putting ou the market to your humble servant, in the late afternoon of life, and because of that lateness, and of the superior High Class Property, I am offering at a fraction of it's value five years hence. I most respectfully solicit your early investigation, believing that when you see the property, hear my price and terms, you will be pleased to accept at once. And as I want the assistance of every good man and woman in this meritorious work of furnishing home-foundations and the safest and most profitable way to invest and save, small or large sums of money. And in return for this assistance I agree to pay 5 per cent. of the net price, at which each lot is sold, to the treasurer of the church to which the buyer belongs. I will do this as a precedent for others to follow my example. Payable out of half money received from buyer. Bear in mind I only own 38 lots in what I have properly named "The Heart of Rosedale", and you or your descendants will buy that property soon, or later at 5 or 10 times my price. Is it not in your interest to buy now, and use or sell later at big profits as many others have done? It is always safe to buy wheat or gold dollars, when they are offered at half value, and that is what you are doing when you buy lot in "The Heart of Rosedale."

Unavoidable delay compels me to name June 5th, as the opening day for sale of those lots. In the mean time, I suggest that every auto owner in the city, in his own interests, not only to go himself, but to take all his big friends with him, to carefully inspect and fully verify my statements.

How to find it—Second block north of Smith St. and west of Dixon, marked by small flags, and five minutes' walk from car line at Jackson's Park.

Plans, and further information will be available in a few days.

The Cyclone Cure

A Case Requiring a Severe Medicine

By CLARISSA MACKIE

"I'll never give in," declared Jeremiah Butterfield grimly.

"And I'll never give in," affirmed his wife Eva just as grimly.

"You are obstinate as a mule," snarled Jeremiah.

"And you are ugly as sin," retorted Eva.

"We might as well give up this cat and dog life."

"I for one would be glad to experience a peaceful existence."

The result of this mutual disagreement was that the Butterfields separated and went to live at opposite ends of Blusterville, in the cyclone belt. Jeremiah took as his share of their mutual possessions all the farm implements and stock and the wornout furniture of the house, while Eva Butterfield was content with the rest of the household furniture and the fat carriage horse and a little phaeton.

Jeremiah went to farming, for it was the only thing he knew how to do, and his wife opened a summer boarding house because she could cook better than anybody within ten miles of Lilac Villa, as she called her new home.

Because Jeremiah stuck to his farming he marketed his crops promptly and placed money in the bank every month. He soon became prosperous, but he was not happy. Every time he walked over his broad acres and saw the tilled land and the green growing crops and the comfortable green painted farmhouse, with the red painted barns and outbuildings, he tried to feel proud and satisfied, but he only succeeded in suppressing a pang of sorrow at the thought that he had parted from Eva, whom he really loved after all.

As for Eva, her house was filled each summer with city people, who praised her cooking and said that nowhere in the world had they tasted such delicious homemade bread and biscuits, such light cake, such toothsome apple pies and doughnuts. Mrs. Butterfield would nod her brown head in acknowledgment of their compliments, and that was all, for she cared not a whit for the praise of any man or woman save that of her husband, Jeremiah, from whom she had voluntarily parted herself forever—so she said.

"For I'll never give in," she said obstinately, though her heart ached every time she made an apple pie, and she vaguely wondered what sort of food the Widow Bentley was serving Jeremiah in her capacity of housekeeper for the lone farmer.

"I'll not give in," was Jeremiah's slogan, and he meant it, although fine wrinkles gathered about his eyes and the hair on his temples became gray.

Of course they were foolish, and, as it often happens in cases of this sort, fate stepped in and settled their difficulties in the strangest sort of way.

"Working up to a storm," wheezed the Widow Bentley one afternoon as she met Jeremiah in the front piazza when he came up from the fields. She was big and ponderous and of a violent temper that brooked no contradiction even in matters of small importance, and Jeremiah Butterfield had learned that the easiest way to get along with his housekeeper was to acquiesce in everything she had to say.

"Yes, yes," he said pleasantly, fixing a doubtful eye on the clear pale blue of the sky and the glorious orange and crimson of the sunset.

"I feel it coming in my bones," wheezed Mrs. Bentley once more, sinking heavily into a rocking chair. "It looks clear enough now; but, mark my words, we'll have trouble before tomorrow night."

"I guess you're right, Mrs. Bentley," agreed Jeremiah pleasantly. "We might as well get snugged up for a storm. I find you're a pretty good weather prophet."

Mrs. Bentley nodded her head sagely. "It's to be the kind that makes you glad you've got a good cyclone cellar," she said significantly.

"Cyclone?" repeated Jeremiah incredulously. "This isn't cyclone weather."

The Widow Bentley's brow darkened, and she arose and shook her white apron at an encroaching hen. "I wasn't born and raised in the cyclone belt without knowing something about cyclones," she said, with dignity, and departed for the kitchen, where she could be heard preparing the evening meal to the accompaniment of clattering crockery and rattling pans.

"I've gone and put my foot in it now," mused Jeremiah as he fed his horses for the night. "I expect the widow will see to it that I can't eat any supper tonight. I'll bet you everything will be either too salty or too sweet. That's the widow's way, and I wish I'd known it before I engaged her. It's easier hiring a housekeeper than it is getting rid of one. Cyclone weather! Huh!"

It had been an oppressive day, and the setting of the sun brought some relief to the overheated earth. Now light, fleecy clouds showed high in the heavens, and over in the northwest a low rim of black clouds bordered the horizon.

"I don't know but what the widow was right after all," admitted Jeremiah Butterfield as he went in to supper, and he told Mrs. Bentley this, but it was too late, for, although the housekeeper smiled triumphantly, the supper was eloquent of her displeasure. The baked beans were too salty, and the biscuits had received an overdose of saleratus and were consequently bitter. The apple sauce was sickishly sweet and flavored with cinnamon when Jeremiah preferred nutmeg. But he ate what he could of the meal and said nothing, then went out to the porch to smoke his pipe, and so he fell to thinking about Eva, his wife, and to wonder if she missed him as he missed her and to think of the happy days before they had disagreed.

It was a sultry night, and the morning was thunderous and threatening. The cattle hung about the gate to the pasture and refused to eat. Even the chickens seemed to feel some impending calamity in the air, for they huddled in corners, and some of them went to roost as the day grew darker.

Jeremiah went in and out of the house several times, and each time he passed through the hall he noticed that Mrs. Bentley was neglecting the housework to attend to the safety of her own effects. Once when she was struggling down the stairs with a huge feather bed in her arms he came to her assistance and carried the burden down to the cellar and from there to that deep subcellar which had been prepared for cases of emergency.

The cyclone cellar was a small apartment, cemented all over, and now it was crowded with the possessions of Jeremiah Butterfield's housekeeper. Her feather bed was the crowning eminence of a small mountain of chairs piled with clothing and boxes. A birdcage with its little occupant hopping cheerily within stood on a chair, together with a young rubber plant which Mrs. Bentley was coaxing to maturity. A lantern hung from a hook in one corner.

"You going to come down here before dinner?" asked Jeremiah in a matter of fact way.

"It'll be time enough when the cyclone strikes," said the widow courageously. "I hope you'll have sense enough to let the cattle take care of themselves and come down here, too."

"I got to look out for my stock," said Jeremiah stolidly.

Once or twice he looked at the barometer and saw that it was rising rapidly. Then the wind came, light at first and steadily increasing in velocity until it might have registered ten miles an hour. Matters looked serious enough. Mrs. Bentley had retired to the cyclone cellar and pulled the trapdoor down after her.

Jeremiah stood outside watching for the funnel shaped cloud that must come out of the northwest if they were really going to have a cyclone. He had housed all his horses and cattle and hoped that the path of destruction might not be laid in line of his house and barns. His standing crops he expected to lose and was resigned.

A clattering whir overhead brought his gaze to the revolving blades of the tall windmill back of his barn. He had meant to lock the blades so that the approaching storm would meet with resistance there. His water tanks were overflowing now and the mill must not be permitted to run any longer. There was only one thing to do. Jeremiah hastened to the room under the tower and moved the lever that locked the blades of the big circular fan. But something was the matter, and he went outside and looked. One of the blades had broken loose and in falling had so jammed the lever bar that there was nothing to control the big fan unless one released the broken blade and so give the lever an opportunity to do its duty.

In a trice Jeremiah was climbing up the narrow iron ladder that led to the platform under the whirring fan. For the moment he had forgotten the coming storm, nor had he seen the funnel shaped cloud whirling down upon him. Just as he reached the platform the wind hurled itself upon the structure.

Something snapped in the deafening disturbance that followed. Jeremiah knew that it was part of the windmill and that he was also clinging to it by main strength as they were sucked into the center of the circular windstorm and borne along at a velocity of forty miles an hour. The atmosphere was filled with debris of every sort. Jeremiah was conscious that his house kept pace with him for awhile as he was swept along on the platform, much as was the Arabian prince who in days of old traveled through space on a magic carpet.

Something large and dark sent him a stunning blow just as he was sent to the outer edge of the low traveling storm center, and so it happened that he fell to earth on a great mound of soft hay. What became of the platform he never knew. When he recovered consciousness his wife, Eva, was bending over him and crying because she thought he was dead.

"Where am I?" demanded Jeremiah, sitting up and looking around at the cloudless sky and then down at the haystack on which he sat. When he saw his wife he really thought he had died and gone to heaven.

Then Eva told to his incredulous ears how the cyclone had brushed the edge of her property and that the house was unroofed and the hay he was sitting on and which had undoubtedly saved his life had come from her own vanished barn. The fat carriage horse was dead and her chickens had disappeared from Lilac Villa.

"We will have to begin all over again, Eva," said Jeremiah firmly. "We can sell the two places and buy one in California. I'm sure the Widow Bentley would like to buy Lilac Villa, and maybe if she stays in the cyclone belt long enough she'll get caught in one and lose her bad temper."

"The cyclone cured us, didn't it, Jerry?" whispered Eva as she kissed her husband's gray hairs.

SIR WILFRID ADDRESSES REMNANTS OF HIS LEGIONS

Liberal Chieftain Skims Lightly Over Reverses and Evokes Thunderous Applause by Reciting Victories in Last Session of Parliament — Liberals From All Over the Country Assemble.

Montreal, May 30.—Surrounded by Liberal leaders from practically every province of the Dominion and enthusiastically cheered by hundreds of his most ardent admirers, Sir Wilfrid Laurier last night described the Liberal party as rising superior to the defeat of last September and gaining day by day in prestige and power.

Passing lightly over Liberal defeats since the Conservative regime at Ottawa and interpreting recent Liberal successes as certain indications of greater triumphs to follow, the leader of the federal opposition evoked thunderous applause.

Sir Wilfrid promised to fight till the last, and attacked the Conservative Ministers for, as he alleged, abandoning principles for office.

As a tribute from Liberals of the whole Dominion to their leader, the banquet tendered Sir Wilfrid Laurier by the Montreal Reform Club at the Windsor last night was an unqualified success.

Probably never before has such a gathering of Liberal leaders as that which met last night to honor Sir Wilfrid, been in attendance at a single function. Leaders of Liberal Governments from those provinces wherein the party is in power sat side by side with their brethren who lead Liberal Oppositions. Practically all of the last Liberal Cabinet were in attendance. Nearly 600 were present.

When Sir Wilfrid rose to reply, round after round of applause rent the air, and one after another the guests leaped to their feet cheering. It was many minutes before the speaker of the evening could commence.

Sir Wilfrid expressed his gratitude at the welcome given him and said that he felt proud to see so many of his old comrades present who had fought for the Liberal cause in victory and defeat.

He interpreted their continued steadfastness to the party as testimony to the immortality of the Liberal principles which, he said, would always rise again after temporary defeat.

"We are met perhaps under the shadow of defeat, but to-day I come before you and feel as undaunted as ever. I asked my friends in the last contest to follow my white plumes. Now again I ask them to follow my white plumes, and never shall they say that I showed the white feather. (Laughter.)

"Party government may become nothing less than a mere scramble for office, and that is the charge I have to make to-day against the men now in office at Ottawa. I speak by the book when I say that not later than last session, when the question of privilege arose for some of them, we were told that they were looking not to principle but to office. And on one occasion one of the Ministers, Hon. Mr. Monk, had on one side his office and on the other side the principles he had laid before the people of Quebec as the inspiration of his life, and said he was riveted not to principles, but to office. We have heard in the past of men riveted, bolted and barred to principles. Dr. Monk is not of that class. He was tried and found, instead of adamant, to be of the softest clay.

"A few months ago we appealed to the people of the country on the question of reciprocity. In this province, at all events, it was not the question of reciprocity which was uppermost in discussion. There were other issues which had, perhaps, no cause to be brought up, but which were introduced. If we were defeated it was not upon the main issue which was submitted to the country, as far as this province was concerned, and, perhaps, in Ontario also. We were defeated by the most heterogeneous combination of elements which bind together people for destruction, but which would never hold together for construction. (Applause.)

He referred to the famous Taft letter to Roosevelt regarding reciprocity, in which he said he looked upon reciprocity as tending to make Canada an adjunct of the United States.

"It was to be expected," said Sir Wilfrid, "that such a letter would be taken up by all who were opposed to reciprocity; it was natural that the Conservative party should so take it up. It was seized by the Conservative party with glee and quoted as a justification of their attitude. But there was nothing new in it. We were familiar with all it contained and had heard the word adjunct before from the Conservative orators. In fact Taft in that letter only repeated what had been said by the Canadian jingoes, and admitted he had borrowed both the idea and expression from the Canadian Tories.

AMERICANS TRIED TO ROB TRAVERS

Toronto, May 30.—"What do you think the plot was for?"

"The plot was to beat the Farmers' Bank out of $150,000."

The above was the startling disclosure made by W. R. Travers to Sir William Meredith at the Farmers' Bank enquiry yesterday afternoon. The former manager uttered the statement after explaining to the commission how several Americans attempted to cheat him out of $150,000 in currency, which he carried to Syracuse in a satchel for the purpose of making a loan.

There still remains work for the city detectives to do in connection with the investigation. A ledger has disappeared, and Sir William advised Mr. Hodgins to get the police to search all the offices for this and the rest of the missing documents.

"What can you say, Mr Travers, about the Keeley mine affair?" enquired Mr. Hodgins.

"Only that I differ with Mr. Clarkson. I gave an option to a man in New York for a one-quarter interest in the Keeley at $600,000. It was given in 1910. When the option ran out I refused to renew it That is the only reason that the deal fell through."

Asked about his reasons for thinking so highly of the mine, Travers opined that the Keeley would make some man rich, and Mr. Hodgins and himself would both live to see it. He told of taking 140 pounds of silver out of a "kidney," and they had not done much sinking or drifting. Although Mr. Clarkson stamped it as worthless, he still retained faith in its producing quality. The examiner corrected the witness on this part, however, by saying that Mr. Clarkson declines to say whether the mine is good or bad.

MOTHER'S WILL CHIDED DAUGHTER

Los Angeles, Cal., May 30.—"To my daughter, Edith Alice Ogilby Ticombo Druse, living in the Champs Elysee, Paris, I bequeath $5 with which she must purchase the work of a reliable author on the wages of sin and ingratitude."

The above paragraph contained in the will of Mrs. Louise E. Warner, on file yesterday, revealed that the once prominent Los Angeles woman was never reconciled to her daughter, who went abroad to live. Her two other daughters received the bulk of the $250,000 estate.

Sir Charles at Ottawa.

Ottawa, May 30.—Sir Charles Tupper, whose train reached here at 1.10, was met by Premier Borden and many of the Cabinet Ministers, who personally extended their sympathy to the ex-Premier on the death of Lady Tupper. He wil reside in Vancouver in the future. Sir Charles, who is the only surviving father of confederation, is now 91 years of age, but is in good health.

INTERNATIONAL STRIKE NOW THREATENED BY LEADERS

Special to the Review.

London, May 30.—Labor leaders threaten to call an immediate national strike of transport workers and riverside laborers, to be followed by an international strike, unless a result favorable to them be reached at the conference to be held at the Board of Trade offices to-morrow. To this conference trades-unions will send their delegates although employers, including the port of London authorities, have refused to take any part in it.

Italian Killed by Train.

Oakville, May 30.—An Italian, who had apparently been walking in the direction of Port Credit, on the railway track, was struck and instaneously killed by the 8.17 train from Oakville to Toronto yesterday morning a short distance west of Lorne Park station.

CRUSH THE CATERPILLAR

The attention of your readers has been called repeatedly of late to the great danger of a caterpillar scourge, if preventive measures are not taken at once to kill off this pest.

The citizens are asked to kill as many as possible in their own neighborhood, and in this way lessen to some extent what will be a great evil if not stamped out.

Prevention is of vital importance—Crush the caterpillar—Do it now—Every nest means thousands—Let everyone help.

CATHOLICS ARE NOT LEGALLY MARRIED UNLESS BY PRIEST

P. B. Mignault at Hearing of Ne Temere Case at Ottawa Says Wedding of Two Members of Roman Church Would Be Null and Void Without a Parish Priest—Church of England Can Marry Hindus.

Ottawa, May 30.—Even if two Roman Catholics were to publicly declare their intention of marrying so that it was known from one end of the province of Quebec to the other that they would get married, but not before a priest, the parties almost repudiating their church, as it were, and such a marriage were to take place, it would be null and void and non-marriage under the Quebec law.

This was brought out in the argument before the Supreme Court yesterday by Mr. P. B. Mignault. K.C., counsel appointed by the Dominion Government to oppose the enactment of the Lancaster bill. Mr. Mignault maintained that the publication of banns and the presence of the parish priest of the parties was necessary and that publication elsewhere than in the parish was of no avail, as was marriage under the circumstances of the two Roman Catholic by a non-Catholic. Clandestinity such as this was contrary to the law.

"I submit that Justice Charbonneau is wrong in his judgment when he says that no nullity is declared," stated Mr. Mignault in dealing with this point.

The third day's argument on the marriage reference proved to be of a most interesting nature. It saw the completion for the moment of the side affecting the laws of Quebec and the resumption of the argument affecting the broad constitutional and jurisdictional points by Mr. I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., who, for the opponents of the bill, followed Mr. Mignault.

Mr. Hellmuth claimed that the Lancaster marriage bill was aimed boldly at the rights of the provinces, and that the promoters declared their intention of usurping rights by asking for legislation enabling the Dominion to declare its power to deal with solemnization.

Incidentally Mr. Hellmuth announced that he had merely been asked by the Dominion Government to represent the opponents of the bill and had no instructions whatever from the Government, any announcement or attitude which he was taking being solely on his own initiative.

There is a probability that the hearing will conclude to-day. R. C. Smith, KC., and A. Geoffrion, K.C., representing the Province of Quebec, are still to be heard, while Hon. Mr. Nesbitt and Eugene Lafleur, for the promoters, will have the privilege of replying.

At the morning session during Mr. Mignault's argument, Justice Idington interrupted with the remark:

"The Church of England has had power since the conquest of Canada, 1759, and would not distinguish between Hindus, Buddhists, or any other race. And yet we are asked to believe that they have no right to marry Roman Catholics. Has the Church of England any right to marry Roman Cotholics in your contention?"

Mr. Mignault—"No authority can be cited in favor of that proposition. It involves the consideration of what was the law after the conquest. There is no evidence that the English law, excepting criminal, was introduced into the province of Quebec. I state this on the authority of the late Justice Lafontaine. Never was the English civil law the law of the province of Quebec."

Justice Idington—"Supposing two well-known people, Roman Catholics, declared their intention and it was known from one end of the province to the other that they would get married. but not before a priest, almost repudiating their church, as it were?"

Mr. Mignault—"Of course the question assumes they are still Roman Catholics?"

Justice Idington—"Yes; how can you bind them when clandestinity does not cover their condition?"

Mr. Mignault—"Clandestinity consists in marriage before anyone but the parish priest. The same case would apply as if they were prohibited by degrees of relationship."

Justice Duff—"Then the presence of their parish priest is essential?"

Mr. Mignault—"Yes."

TORONTO WORLD PAID BACK LOAN

Special to the Review.

Toronto, May 30.—When the Farmers' Bank enquiry was resumed this morning. George T. Clarkson, liquidator, asked permission to deny that he had ever stated that the Keeley mine was worthless, as he had been reported by a couple of Toronto daily papers to have said. The mine, he said had already produced thirty thousand dollars in silver, and with further development would probably produce more. He also confirmed the statement in the World this morning that the loan of the Farmers' Bank to that publication had been repaid.

W. H. Greenwood, formerly managing director of the Toronto World, admitted having used all the influence he could bring to bear to get Col. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer, to make a deposit with the Farmers' Bank. He admitted he did so in order to make it easier to raise money for the World which was financially good, but found difficulty in getting money to carry on business. Col Matheson said Mr. Greenwood had pestered the life out of him to get him to deposit with the Farmers' Bank, but he averred the friends of every other bank in the province did likewise.

MALTA CONFERENCE STANDS FOR PEACE

New York, May 30.—A cable to The Tribune from London says: "Council of war" does not describe to-day's important and unprecedented meeting at Malta. "Council of peace" is the true designation, said an official of the Foreign Office, speaking of the conference.

"The meeting is significant of two facts," this official continued. "The first is that the present is a 'look-about you' government. The second is that the chiefs of the Empire realize the necessity of abandoning attempts to check German naval development. The corollary is that Britain must strengthen its defences in the Mediterranean."

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS PAYS HIS SECOND VISIT TO LONDON

H.R.H. and Duchess Received With Full Honors.

London, May 30.—It was a pleasant duty which fell to the lot of the delegates to the National Council of Women yesterday, namely, that of joining in the loyal civic welcome given to the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia.

At 12.30 p.m. the ducal party drove up to the Normal School. Company "K" of the Royal Canadian Regiment lined the route from the road and to the steps, where the civic address was read by Mayor Graham of London. The duke and duchess had for escort the mounted Hussars of London.

In his reply, His Royal Highness paid a compliment to the beautiful city of London, and stated that he had vivid recollections of a former visit forty-three years previous.

At the entrance, Mrs. Boomer of London and Mrs. Torrington, president of the National Council, received the duchess and Princess Patricia. Flowers were presented, and then the party ascended the stairs lined by the students of the Normal School, who sang "O, Canada."

The women of the council received the duchess and the princess standing. A few graceful words of welcome were said by Mrs. Torrington and replied to by Her Royal Highness. The princess was included in the welcome, and beautiful bouquets of roses, lilies of the valley and orchids were presented.

ARGUMENT WILL BE CLOSED TO-DAY

Special to the Review.

Ottawa, May 30.—It is expected that the argument in the marriage case will be concluded before the Court rises this afternoon. Mr. Hellmuth continued this morning, quoting a speech of Edward Blake in the Dominion Parliament thirty years ago, on the deceased wife sister's bill, to the effect that nothing should be done to interfere with the rights of the provinces in the solemnization of marriage. He also quoted from laws of England regarding the marriages of Jews and Quakers. Messrs. Smith and Geoffrion, for the Province of Quebec, have yet to be heard. and Messrs. Nesbitt and Lafleur will reply for the promoters of the Lancaster Bill.

Japan Violating Monroe Doctrine?

Washington, D.C., May 30.—Negotiations of Japanese interests for land on Magdalena Bay, Mexico, were referred yesterday by the Senate foreign relations committee to a sub-committee for investigation to determine if any acquisitions of territory or concessions there encroach upon the Monroe Doctrine.

HON. A. B. MORINE HAS RESIGNED

Ottawa, May 30.—The resignation of Hon. A. B. Morine, as chairman of the Public Service Commission, appointed by the Government last session, will take effect on Saturday, June 1.

Mr. Morine tendered his resignation shortly after Easter, immediately following charges made by F. B. Carvel, M.P., against Mr. Morine's character while he was a member of the Newfoundland Government in the 90's. These charges were made just at the close of the session, and Mr. Morine immediately replied to them. Mr. Morine, however, took the ground that he should not hold such a high and important position of public trust while even the slightest suspicion was harbored against him.

It was insisted that he should complete at least some of the work which he had undertaken, and for the past month an enquiry has been conducted into the Government Printing Bureau, the Sorel shipyard, and certain departments of the public works. This work has been concluded, and a report will be placed in the hands of the Government in a few days.

Mr. Morine's successor is now under consideration.

BOTH MANAGERS CLAIM VICTORY

Washington, May 30.—The Washington headquarters of all the Republican candidates will close this week, and managers and their assistants will establish themselves in Chicago Monday for the opening of the battle before the national convention on June fourth.

Senator Dixon, campaign manager for Col. Roosevelt, returned to Washington from New York yesterday and made the prediction that Col. Roosevelt would have more than 600 delegates on the first ballot in the Chicago convention. Included in this number, he said, would be more than thirty from New York.

President Taft's manager, Representative Wm. B. McKinley of Illinois, asserted yesterday morning that the President's actual strength at present was 574 delegates, exclusive of the delegates at large in Ohio and Texas. He was emphatic in his prediction of a nomination for the President on the first ballot.

Clean Sweep in Jersey.

Newark, N.J., May 30.—The Roosevelt victory in New Jersey is a clean sweep, and the former President will apparently have every one of the state's twenty-eight delegates at the Chicago convention. In the preferential vote his plurality is fully 10,000 over Taft. In some districts Roosevelt received ten votes to every one cast for the President.

Governor Wilson's triumph at the hands of the Democratic voters was only a trifle less complete. The governor lost but four delegates out of the twenty-eight, and these four were uninstructed from Essex County, the stronghold of the anti-Wilson machine, where he had no hope of winning.

Must Kill Bear First.

Oyster Bay, N.Y., May 30.—"The result in New Jersey speaks for itself," said Col. Roosevelt yesterday. "I don't see that Jersey has left much for me to say."

Roosevelt was asked whether he would now begin to make plans for the fall campaign, since he felt confident of obtaining the nomination.

"In the course of a long period as a hunter," said he, "I have learned never to divide the bear skin until the bear is dead."

Montana Stands by Clark.

Butte, Mont., May 30.—Montana Democrats in state convention here yesterday unanimously adopted the resolutions endorsing the candidacy for President of Champ Clark, and instructed the eight delegates to Baltimore to vote for him.

Loyal to "Favorite Son."

Atlanta, Ga., May 30.—Georgia's 28 votes to the Democratic National Convention will be cast for Underwood "until his nomination shall have been assured," according to the instructions given to the delegates yesterday by the state convention.

GRAND MASTER OF ORANGE ORDER DENOUNCES LAURIER

Grand Lodge of British North America Opens Its Session In Fredericton, N.B., With a Big Attendance—Sir Mackenzie Bowell Speaks—Eighty-Nine Lodges Organized During the Past Year.

Fredericton, N.B., May 30.—The Grand Lodge of British North America opened yesterday afternoon with a large attendance from all parts of the Dominion and Newfoundland. Grand Master Lieut.-Col. Scott presided. The afternoon session was taken up largely with the drafting of committees, which are in session preparing for the work to-day.

A feature of the proceedings was an address by Sir Mackenzie Bowell of Belleville, Ont, ex-Premier of Canada.

The report of the grand secretary showed that the growth of the Orange Order in Canada during the past year has been the largest on record, 89 lodges having been organized in the Dominion.

Ontario is largely represented at the grand lodge, the delegation from Toronto being particularly strong. Manitoba has nine delegates, Saskatchewan three and British Columbia two.

In addition to attacking the Laurier Government on the reciprocity issue, the grand master's address referred to "It's open alliance with the church," as one of "an accumulating list of reasons which justified a complete withdrawal of further confidence." In reference to the ne temere decree and the resulting bill introduced by Mr. A. E. Lancaster, M.P., the address said:

"The reference of the bills itself as part of the stated case commits the Government to the adoption of its principles and its readiness to submit the matter with all possible speed is an evidence of its desire to grapple with this vital question and put an end to the feeling of unrest which exists at present."

Referring to the Manitoba school question, the address stated that it was creditable to the Dominion Government that "It was able to resist the great pressure brought to bear upon it to attach certain school concessions in connection with the province's (Manitoba) extended possessions.

LIGHTNING BOLT DERAILS ENGINE

Special to the Review.

Philadelphia, May 30.—Struck by lightning a locomotive of a Baltimore & Ohio freight train left the tracks in the extreme southern section of this city last night, overturning, and crushing the conductor, Daniel Edwards, to death. The engine driver was probably fatally burned and three other members of the crew were seriously hurt.

Catarrhozone

Cures Permanently
BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, CATARRH

Throw medicine to the dogs. At best they are unpleasant, often useless. You are suffering from some disease of the throat, nose, or lungs. Doctors call it Bronchitis, Asthma, or Catarrh, or it is a slight or severe cold. Germs cause these diseases—they have a common root.

Catarrhozone destroys disease germs, but it does more, it heals disease tissue.

CATARRHOZONE is little drops of healing carried by air to the exact place where Catarrh exists. Observe, Catarrhozone not only destroys the cause, but immediately repairs the result of diseased condition.

Catarrhozone means little drops of healing carried by air and placed over the lungs, throat, and nasal passages.

Catarrhozone is endorsed by doctors, druggists, and by thousands of Canadian people who have used it.

Catarrhozone

Yes, Sir, it is taken in air.

MR. SCRIVER QUITS

City Scavenger Scriver threatens to throw up his contract with the city for the collection of garbage, for the very best of reasons—he says he is losing money on the job. When he figured on the contract, it is possible that he made a mistake and offered to do the work for less than it is really worth. No one is in a position to dispute his assertion that he is out of pocket with his present equipment for he surely knows if any one does. This being so, the proposal to have him put on more men and teams for the better prosecution of the work is out of the question.

There have been complaints that the collection of garbage has been indifferently performed. As it now looks that to do it at the present figure is impossible, there is only one course left and that is to increase the compensation.

Mr. Scriver says he pays two men $1.75 each to help collect the garbage. Their wages would total $1035.50 a year, thus leaving their employer $1654.50 out of the price of his contract with the city. If at present prices, he can keep three horses and wagons out of this, and still leave a living for himself, he has missed his calling and should be a financier.

AN HONEST MAN

When the immortal Pickwick in his rambles through England, found a stone, on which was inscribed hieroglyphics, which he thought were a relic of a pre-historic age, we are told that the best minds in the circle of which he was a member, not only prized the find as one of the most remarkable of the day, but lent their best energies to a translation of the characters. They could make nothing of it, until a simple minded countryman, solved the mystery. He had written the words himself, in an idle moment and characters which the Pickwickians regarded as of an antedeluvian age, resolved themselves into the simple legend "Bill Stumps, his mark." And so a question that puzzles a nation, may admit of a solution as ridiculous in its simplicity.

Just now, the practical politicians of the United States, the scarred veterans of many a state and national struggle, are puzzled to understand that kind of a personage is the scholarly Governor Wilson, of New Jersey. A combination of wealthy men offered to knock the head out of a money barrel and use the contents to help nominate, and then elect Mr. Wilson to the presidency. It was an open secret that the offer was made and the barrel was rolled out into the arena, with an axe ready to demolish it and turn loose the golden stream. Even Editor Watterson counselled that no time be lost in accepting the terms, and fitting Governor Wilson out with the proper sinews of battle.

But the governor would have none of it. No assistance for him from the money power against which he has been preaching for years. He would make the campaign unaided and win on his merits, or fall in honorable defeat.

To men who regard every weapon fair in such a struggle here was an enigma. Could any man since the days of Don Quixote exist in a condition of modern civilization, not only that but presume to aspire to a place of power. "What kind of a proposition is Wilson? they asked each other aghast.

The answer to the riddle is as simple as that of the translation of the Pickwick inscription. Governor Wilson is simply an honest man and that rarest of all specimens in the American Republic, an upright statesman who would rather be square with his conscience than on any other terms hold the highest office in the gift of his countrymen.

MR. LOWREY RESIGNS

Robert W. Lowrey, of Cobalt, has resigned by request of the Department, his position as a member of the Board of License Commissioners for Temiskaming, and thus once more is brought to light the fact that Provincial Secretary Hanna stands firmly for a business-like administration of the liquor laws of Ontario, a stand which has won for him the approbation not only of his political opponents but of the most radical temperance advocates of the day.

No objection is made to Mr. Lowrey personally and his probity has never been called in question, but he is a tobacco dealer and from the nature of his business would necessarily have close business relations with the holders of licenses. When he was appointed a short time ago these circumstances were not known. Mr. Hanna states clearly that no such person can hold a position on a License Board anywhere in the province.

A number of new licenses were recently granted in Temiskaming district by the Board of which Mr. Lowrey was member, but Mr. Hanna promptly vetoed any extension of the traffic. And now the official head of Mr. Lowrey drops into the basket.

NEW BRUNSWICK ELECTION

This seems to be a good year for the holding of provincial elections. Following close on the Quebec contest came five simultaneous bye-elections in Alberta. The Saskatchewan election will be held on June 14, and now comes the announcement of New Brunswick's political side show billed for June 20.

This election will be held on purely local issues, as all such contests usually are, and the government which Hon. J. D. Hazen formed and so successfully led until he gave up his premiership to accept a portfolio in the Borden Cabinet, has every hope and assurance of repeating the triumph of 1908. Mr. J. K. Flemming, who succeeded Mr. Hazen as leader of the party, has closely followed the course laid down by his predecessor, and is appealing to the people on his record.

The present government has done much to promote the farming interests of the province and great care has been taken in dealing with the timber problem, the products of the forest being one of the chief sources of New Brunswicks' wealth. In the past four years' education has made more advances than for a generation under the former administration.

This is one of the provinces in which no change of government is anticipated.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Governor Wilson has done what neither President Taft nor Col Roosevelt was able to accomplish. He carried his own state.

Just now W. R. Travers carries concealed about his person more good newspaper scoops than any other man in the world.

No wonder they had an earthquake in Toronto. The price real estate dealers are asking for lots in and near that city would jolt any self-respecting land.

The present social status of John D. Rockefeller and W. R. Travers is vastly different, but in one particular they are as twin brothers. Both can hold up, and in every way balk an investigating committee to perfection.

Finance Minister White believes not only in honest money, but in money clean in a physical sense. His call on the banks to send in all soiled bills, for which clean ones will be given, is meeting with prompt and general response.

An English gipsy queen who was an inveterate smoker, has just died, aged 104 years. According to some scientific theories, if she had never smoked, in order to remove her fifty or sixty years hence, it would be necessary to kill her with a club.

Terrific forest fires swept several miles of territory near Hillsboro, N. B., yesterday, raging in the direction of the oil and gas wells.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, May 29. — Statements from Kansas and Nebraska bankers, that crops would be all right if rain came within the next six or seven days, tended to make wheat speculators go slow to-day regarding sensational despatches sent in by field experts. Largely in consequence the market closed weak, with prices ranging from 1-8c to 5-8c net decline to 1-8c up. Corn showed a loss of 1-8c to 1-2c from last night. Oats were off 1-4c to 1-2c, and provisions finished irregular, varying from 7 1-2c down to a gain of a shade.

The Liverpool market closed to-day on wheat ⅜d to 1¼d higher than yesterday, and on corn ⅜d to ⅝d lower. At Antwerp wheat closed unchanged; at Berlin, ⅜c higher, and at Buda Pest, 1⅛c higher.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, May 29.—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending May 25 were 850 cattle, 400 sheep and lambs, 3100 hogs and 1700 calves. The supply on the market this morning for sale consisted of 500 cattle, 600 sheep and lambs, 1700 hogs and 1500 calves.

There was no further change in the condition of the market for cattle; prices being steady at the decline noted on Monday. Choice steers sold at $7.75 to $8; good, at $7.25 to $7.50 and the lower grades from that down to $6.50 per cwt.

The market for good to choice butcher cows was stronger, owing to increased demand and smaller offerings. Choice stock sold as high as $6.75 to $7 and good at $6.25 to $6.50, while the common sold down as low as $4.25 per cwt. Bulls were firmer and choice sold at $6.75 to $7; good at $6.25 to $6.50, and common, from $4.25 to $5.50 per cwt.

Sheep and lambs were active, owing to the increased offerings and prices were easier with sales of sheep at $5 to $5.50 and spring lambs at $3 to $4.50 each. The demand for calves was good at prices ranging from $3 to $10 each.

Hogs were weak, owing to the large supply and prices declined 25c to 50c per cwt., with sales of selected lots at $9.25 to $9.50 per cwt., weighed off the cars, but even at this reduction some were left over.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucuous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Cynthia's Chauffeur

By LOUIS TRACY

Copyright by McLeod & Allen, Toronto

Then he reached a high and stout stone wall of difficulty. Was he to fall back on the subterfuge of "George Augustus Fitzroy," which, of course, was his proper signature in law? He disliked this veil of concealment more and more each instant, but it was manifestly out of the question that he should sign himself "Medenham," or "George," while he had fought several pitched battles at Harrow with classmates who pined to label him "Augustus," abbreviated. So, greatly daring, he wrote: "Mercury's Guv'nor," trusting to luck whether or not Cynthia's classical lore would remind her that Mercury was the son of Jupiter.

He reread this effusion twice, and was satisfied with it as the herald of others. "My dear" sounded well; the intimacy of "our presence" was not overdone; while "yours ever sincerely" was excellent. He wondered if Cynthia would analyze it word for word in that fashion. Well, some day he might ask her. For the present he sealed the letter with a sigh and gave it to a waiter for safe delivery; he fancied, but could not be quite sure, that a good deal of unnecessary play with the motor's Gabriel horn five minutes later brought a slender muslined figure to a window of the then distant hotel.

From Symon's Yat to Hereford is about fifteen miles, and Medenham drew out of the narrow lane leading from the river to Whitechurch about a quarter-past nine. Thenceforth a straight and good road lay clear before him, and he meant to break the law as to speed limit by traveling at the fastest rate compatible with his own safety and that of other road-users. It was no disgrace to the Mercury car, therefore, when a dull report and a sudden effort of the steering-wheel to swerve to the right betokened the collapse of an inner tube on the off side. From the motorist's point of view it was difficult to understand the cause of the mishap. The whole four tires were new recently as the previous Monday, and Medenham was far too deeply absorbed in his own affears to grasp the essential fact that Fate was still taking an intelligent interest in him.

Of course, he did not hurry over the work as though his life depended on it. Even when the cover was replaced and the tire pumped to the proper degree of air-pressure he lit a cigarette and had a look at the magneto before restarting the engine. Two small boys had appeared from space, and he amused himself by asking them to reckon how long it would take two men to mow a field of grass which one of the men could mow in three days and the other in four. He promised a reward of sixpence if the correct answer were forthcominng in a minute, and raised it to a shilling during the next minute. This stimulated their wits to suggest "a day and three-qaurters" instead of the first frantic effort of "three days and a half."

"No," he said. "Think it over, ponder it with arder, and if you have the right answer ready when I pass this way again about midday I'll give you a shilling each."

There is no saying what sum he would have given those urchins if some magician had spoken by their mouths and bade him hasten to Hereford with all the zest of all the horses pent beneath the Mercury's bonnet. But he left the boys ciphering on a gate with a bit of lead pencil which he lent them, and pulled up at the door of the Green Dragon Hotel in Hereford just five minutes after the Sunday morning express to London had snatched a fuming and indignant Earl of Fairholme from off the platform of the Great Western railway station.

"Whose car?" inquired a hall-porter.

"Mine," said Medenham, rather astonished by the question.

"Sorry, sir. I thought you might be the party Lord Fairholme was expecting."

"Did you say 'Lord Fairholme'?"

Medenham spoke with the slow accents of sheer astonishment, and the man hastened to explain.

"Yes, sir. His lordship has been a-damnin' everybody since two o'clock yesterday afternoon because a Miss Vanrenen, who had ordered rooms here, didn't turn up. She's on a motor tour through England, so I thought—"

"You have made no mistake. But are you quite sure that the Earl of Fairholme asked for Miss Vanrenen?"

"Not exactly that, sir, but he seemed to be uncommon vexed when we could give him no news of her."

"Where is his lordship now?"

"Gone to London, sir, by the 10.05. He damned me for the last time half an hour ago."

"Oh, did he?"

Medenham glanced at his watch, twisted himself free of the wheel, leaped to the pavement, and tapped one of the hall-porter's gold epaulettes impressively.

"I am forced to believe that you are speaking the truth," he said. "Now, tell me all about it, there's a good fellow. I am a bit rattled, because, don't you see, Lord Fairholme is my father, and he is the last man on earth whom I would have expected to meet in Hereford to-day. During the less exciting intervals in his speech did you find out why he came here?"

"Perhaps the manageress may be able to tell you something, sir. Beg pardon, but may I ask your name?"

"Medenham."

The man tickled the back of his ear in doubt, since he was aware than an Earl's son usually has a courtesy title.

"Lord Medenham?" he hazarded.

"Viscount."

"I thought, perhaps, you might have been a gentleman named Fitzroy, my lord," he said.

"Well, I am that, too. If you feel that I ought to be presented to the manageress in state, kindly announce me as George Augustus Fitzroy, Viscount Medenham, of Medenham Hall, Downshire, and 91 Cavendish Square, London."

The hall-porter's eyes twinnkled.

"I didn't mean that, my lord, but there's a chauffeur, name of Dale——"

"Ah, what of him?"

"He knows all about it, my lord, and he's hiding in a hayloft down the stable yard at this minute, because your lordship's father threatened to give him in charge for stealing a couple of portmanteaux."

"Tell me he thieved successfully and I shall fork out handsomely."

The man grinned. He was shrewd enough to realize that, no matter what mystery lay behind all this, the aid of the police would not be requisitioned.

"I believe——" he began. Then he made off, with a cry of "Wait a few seconds, my lord. I'll bring Dale."

And Dale appeared, picking bits of hay off his uniform, and striving vainly to compose his features into their customary expression of a stolid alertness that hears nothing but his master's orders, sees nothing that does not concern his duties. He gave one sharp glance at the car, and his face grew chauffeurish, but the look of hang-dog despair returned when he met Medenham's eyes.

"I couldn't get away to save my life, my lord," he grumbled. "It was a fair cop at Bristol, an' no mistake. His lordship swooped down on me an' Simmonds at the station, so wot could do?"

Medenham laughed.

"I don't blame you, Dale. You could not have been more nonplussed than I at this moment. Will you kindly remember that I know nothing whatever of the Earl's appearance either at Bristol or Hereford——"

"Gord's trewth! Didn't they tell you I telephoned, my lord?"

Dale would not have spoken in that fashion were he not quite woebegone and down-hearted; and not without reason, for the Earl had dismissed him with contumely not once but a dozen times. Medenham saw that his retainer would be more muddled than ever if he realized that Mrs. Devar had intercepted the telephone message, so he slurred over that element of the affair, and Dale quickly enlightened him as to the course taken by events after the departure of the Mercury's tourists from Bristol.

The Earl, too, had referred to Lady St. Maur's correspondence at Bournemouth, and Medenham could fill in blanks in the story quite easily, but the allusions to Marigny were less comprehensible.

Dale's distress arose chiefly from the Earl's vows of vengeance when he discovered his son's baggage had been spirited away during the 2breakfast hour that morning, but Medenham reassured him.

"Don't bother your head about that," he said. "I'll telegraph and write to my father a full explanation to-day. You have obeyed my orders, and he must blame me, not you, if they ran counter to his. Take charge of the car while I change my clothes and make a few inquiries. To save any further mix-up, you had better come with me to Symon's Yat."

Within five minutes he ascertained that Count Edouard Marigny had occupied a room in the Mitre Hotel, just across the street, since the previous afternoon. More than that, the Frenchman was traveling to London by the same train as the Earl. Then Medenham felt really angry. It was inconceivable that his father should have allowed himself to be drawn into a pitiful intrigue by such doubtful agents as Marigny and the Countess of Porthcawl.

"I'll write," he vowed, "and in pretty stiff terms, too, but I'm jiggered if I'll wire. The old chap should have shown more confidence in me. Why on earth didn't he announce his visit to Bristol? Jolly good job he left Hereford to-day before I arrived—there might have been ructions. Good Lord! He evidently takes Cynthia for an adventuress!"

Yet, in spite of the chance of ructions, it would have been far better had Medenham not missed his father that morning. He was too dutiful a son, the Earl was too fair-minded a parent, that they should not be able to meet and discuss matters without heat. By noon they would have reached Symon's Yat; before lunch was ended the older man would have been Cynthia's most outspoken admirer. As it was—well, as it was—there used to be a belief inn the Middle Ages that the Evil One's favorite nook lay amid the deepest shadow of a cathedral, and modern fact is ofttimes curiously akin to medieval romance.

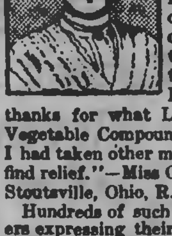
The Experience of Two Girls Here Related For The Benefit of Others.

Rochester, N. Y.—"I have a daughter 13 years old who has always been very healthy until recently when she complained of dizziness and cramps every month, so bad that I would have to keep her home from school and put her to bed to get relief.

"After giving her only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound she is now enjoying the best of health. I cannot praise your Compound too highly. I want every good mother to read what your medicine has done for my child."—Mrs. RICHARD N. DUNHAM, 311 Exchange St., Rochester, N.Y.



Stoutsville, Ohio.—"I suffered from headaches, backache and was very irregular. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken the whole of two bottles I found relief. I am only sixteen years old, but I have better health than for two or three years. I cannot express my thanks for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had taken other medicines but did not find relief."—Miss CORA B. FOSNAUGH, Stoutsville, Ohio, R.F.D., No. 1.

Hundreds of such letters from mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for their daughters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

NEWSY ITEMS FROM APSLEY

Special Correspondence.

Apsley, May 29—A fish pond basket social was held in the town hall here, on the evening of May 24th, under the auspices of the Presbyterian church, after which there was a fine display of fireworks.

We are pleased to have Mr. D. C. Soules, Presbyterian student, with us again for another summer.

Evangelists Folkes and Heaslip have been holding meetings here for the past two weeks.

Miss Mildred Hales of Rose Island spent the holiday at her home here.

Misses Mattie and Annie Bullied visited friends here a couple of days last week.

Rev J. Prosser and Mrs. Weir, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony recently. We wish them many years of happiness.

The L. O. L. of this place have begun the erection of a new Orange Hall.

Mr. Roland Sanderson and Miss Maud Lean visited the latter's parents here on Sunday of last week.

The remains of Mr. Frank Flood who died suddenly in the lumber camp passed through here last Thursday on the way to his relatives at Peterboro.

Mrs. Dr. Bell is the guest of Mrs. Duncan Brown.

OSHKIGMONG NEWS

Special Correspondence.

Oshkigmong, May 22.—While visiting friends here Peyahpetwawedung, of Christian Island, took a fancy to one of our maidens and being so much captivated by her, was quite reluctant to return to the Island without her and knowing that "delays are dangerous" at once proceeded to pop the question, and having obtained the necessary compliance and without any more questions went to the city accompanied by his fiance, proceeded to the officiating minister and were made man and wife. On Wednesday of last week the pair took leave to go to Christian Island where they will reside in future.

Last Sunday morning the pulpit was occupied by the Rev. Mr. Ireland, of Bridgenorth, who administered the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The reverend gentleman took for his text the words found in Hebrews 10; 19, 22.

Quite a number of our boys came home from the drives and spent Sunday at home.

Miss Lovenia Whetung has returned to Hiawatha.

Mr. Bert Anderson and Mr. D. Muskrat, of Hiawatha, made a flying visit here last Sunday. Both are working on the drive.

CONCERNING YOUR EYES

Good eyesight is essential to health comfort and appearance. Have you ever noticed a strained look on your face, or your friend's? Usually this comes from eyestrain. More wrinkles are caused by eyestrain than by age. Thousands unconsciously squint in an effort to adapt the eyes to the surroundings. Success in releaving eyestrain depends entirely upon the OPTICAL SKILL of the Specialist who prescribes the glasses. Neglect of the eyes many times leads to surgical operations, which glasses worn in time may prevent. We correct errors of vision by means of properly fitted lenses.

We have every modern appliance for accurate eyesight testing, and we grind all our own lenses. Thus assuring you accuracy and promptness. All work guaranteed.

OVER SIX INCHES OF RAIN DURING MONTH OF MAY

Heaviest Fall Came Yesterday — Jupiter Pluv Was Busy on 15 Days.

That the month of May has been a wet one is a fact that does not need demonstration. There is an old saying that should there be rain on Ascension day (on May 16th this year) we are destined to have forty days of dampness. By the way the rain has been coming down practically every day since that date it looks as if this particular proverb is going to be fulfilled this time. The following is a list of the days up to the present on which rain has fallen. Two and a half inches is about the average amount for the month of May, but a look at the total below will show that that figure has been much exceeded:

DOWNIE STREET CREEK ON ITS BAD BEHAVIOUR

Water water everywhere, is the Peterboro' slogan these days. Once more the "sea gulls" are attracted to Riverside Park, where water is very much in evidence, and baseball will have to be played in canoes, if Jupiter Pluvius continues to remain active.

That Downie Street Creek, of which so much is heard these days, is filled to overflowing, and it is with difficulty that some residences remain safely anchored.

The city already faces one claim for damages from Mr. Spenceley, as a result of the spring flood. All creeks are swollen, and the river has risen.

NOTICE TO MITCHELL OWNERS

GARBAGE MAN NOT ON THE JOB

Where O where is the garbage collector? At noon Inspector Spence had not been aware of any operations for the day and it would appear that Mr. Scriver has remained true to his word and refused to continue the work.

REV. DR. WALLACE AT MURRAY STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

Morning and evening service at Murray street Baptist church, on Sunday will be taken by Dr. O. C. S. Wallace of Baltimore, Md., whose reputation places him as one of the greatest preachers on the continent. During his visit to the city Dr. Wallace will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. V. Eastwood George street.

LOCKS CLOSED TO CANOEISTS

People are warned from attempting to go down the Peterborough locks in canoes, launches or other small boats, owing to the strong current and high water caused by the recent rainfall.

CHIEF HOWARD RECEIVES PRAISE

Mr. W. Parker, president of the Guelph Trades and Labor Council, was in this city last week as a delegate to the Ontario Educational Association. When he returned home he handed, through the medium of the Mercury, the following bouquets to Chief William Howard and the Peterboro' Fire Department:

"The man at the head of the fire department in Peterborough," stated Mr. Parker to The Mercury, "is Chief Wm. Howard, formerly of the London and Owen Sound Fire Departments. Mr. Howard, although a young man, has the full confidence of the citizens of Peterborough, and has a free hand, and is in full authority, having the power of hiring all firemen, and if they are not efficient, of dismissing them. When Mr. Howard was first appointed, he experienced the same trouble they are having in Guelph.

"He was a new man and all the citizens were down on him until he had proved his worth. Now he has no trouble whatever, and gets along well with everybody. A permanent brigade was organized four years ago, and they now have one of the best paid brigades in the province. There are 14 men in the department, about twice the number Guelph has, and there is not a man in the brigade who is not courteous to the Chief and the general public, with whom he comes in contact."

Mr. Parker adds that a trial run of the brigade was made for the entertainment of the visiting delegates and that the firemen were hooked up and clear of the hall in 13 seconds.

Knox Church Notes

Knox church choir will not practice to-night as usual, but will meet on Friday at eight o'clock in the church. A full turn out is requested.

To-night Mr. W. Singland o' Knox College, Toronto, will lecture on Northern Ontario and the Canadian West, in Knox church lecture hall. The lecture will be brightened by the use of lantern slides, illustrating the two selections of the country. The public are cordially invited to attend.

SUCCESS OF MISS GLADYS SEWARD

Miss Alice Roger Collins, who has for some years been most helpful in furthering the interests of Miss Gladys Seward in securing a musical education abroad, writes to the Review about her protegee. As many Peterborough people have generously contributed to the fund formed to cover expense of tuition, the announcement will be of great interest. Miss Collins writes:

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—I should like through the columns of your valuable paper to let the Peterborough people know of the continued good work of Gladys Seward, and to announce that the Fund for her benefit is now closed, as other provision has been made for her maintenance.

Realizing her talent and the great future that is before her, Mr. Harry Field has, with Mrs. Seward's permission, adopted Gladys, and so all financial difficulties are at an end for those who were in charge of the fund.

Mr. Field believes that Gladys in a few years may be the Kathleen Parlow of the piano. I quote from his last letter, where, in speaking of his adoption of Gladys, he says:—"I have thought of this for some time and I think it is in Gladys' interest in order to realize something from her great talent in which I have great faith. She can at any moment earn her own living by teaching, but once she starts that, her pianistic career will be hopelessly interfered with."

I feel sure that all public spirited people of Peterborough will be delighted to know that a future, unhampered by lack of funds, is before our talented Peterborough girl, and will appreciate the generosity of Mr. Field.

I wish personally to thank those who, by contributions of money, and by kind words of encouragement, have helped in the good work of giving a great Gift a chance to develop. On behalf of Mrs. Seward also, I thank most heartily all those who have helped her clever daughter to begin a great career.

Mr. Field hopes to bring Gladys to Canada next year, when her many friends will be delighted to hear her play once more.

I thank you, Mr. Editor, for the great help you have always given, by bringing the subject of Gladys Seward's progress before the public in your widely circulated paper.

Believe me,
Yours truly,
ALICE ROGER COLLINS.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE

In connection with the meeting of the Property Committee last night a letter from L. G. Dobbin was read, applying for a boat house site on a vacant lot on the river front, south of Dalhousie street. Some applications were made for this site some time ago. On motion of the Mayor and Ald. Morgan, the application was granted, in accordance with the usual terms.

Tenders will be asked for coal required for the city institutions for the season.

Mr. Wm. Hedge offered to put in a hedge and two flower beds at the park at the corner of Park and Charlotte streets for $45.00

Mr. J. J. McBain wrote the committee offering two lots for sale. The matter was left in the hands of Ald. Graham and Brown to inquire into.

A fence will be placed at the south side of Mark street church, and J. T. O'Connell will be notified to remove waste material from the lot.

Prices for D. L. & W. Scranton Coal for May will be—$7.00 Pea Coal; $7.50 Stove and Egg; $7 75 Nut Coal. Fresh Lime and Cement always in Stock. ROBERT HICKS tf

MR. T. H. ADAMS GOING OUT OF BUSINESS HERE

It will come as a great surprise to the citizens of Peterborough and district that Mr. T. H. Adams has decided to give up business in Peterborough. Mr. Adams has been actively connected with the dry goods business on George street for the past 25 years, and for many years was associated with a leading dry goods house.

Eight years ago Mr. Adams started in business for himself, in the store known to every lady in the city and district as Adams' "Exclusive Ladies Store." During those eight years he has built up a splendid business and enjoys to a marked degree the confidence of the general public, who will regret to learn of his removal from Peterborough. While the contemplated change in Mr. Adams plans has been under consideration for some time, the final arrangements were only completed a few days ago, and since then, preparations for a mammoth clearing sale of the splendid stock of ladies' and children's garments and furnishings have been going on quietly, promising an event of most unusual interest to the buying public of Peterborough and district. The store contains a practically new stock of $25,000 worth of carefully selected goods, and to get this large amount of merchandise turned into cash, in a short time, will mean a big sacrifice in selling prices, and as the need for haste is urgent, in order to allow Mr. Adams to assume his new duties at the expected time, the public may look for a veritable harvest of bargains.

Every effort will be made to reduce the stock to the smallest possible proportions, as quickly as it can be done, when the balance will be turned over in block. The sale starts at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning, particulars of which will be found in the large display advertisement on another page.

SUMMER FAIR

The Baby Show is gaining popularity and several registrations came from out-of-town. The prize are well worth competing for.

The admission to the Armories is 10 cents, and not 25c, as has been reported.

The Children's Chorus in connection with the Conservatory Orchestra programme last night was warmly received. The children, in their costumes, presented a pretty scene, and the selections were heartily received.

The Cafe Chantant is doing a splendid business. Last night those in charge had to work hard, and then all could not be served.

Pancakes are very popular at the Autumn Booth. The ladies have $113 in the treasury for the three nights.

St. George's Choral Society gave a splendid concert in the "Cafe Chantant" at the Summer Fair last night, under the direction of Mr. R. J. Devey, the glees and part songs all being delightfully rendered. The Cafe was at times overcrowded, a sure sign of its popularity, and the ladies in charge expressed their thanks to the performers through Mr. R. J. Devey. Miss Flowers presided ably at the piano.

The booth of Richard Hall & Son, Ltd., is one of the neatest at the Summer Fair. In it, two rooms of a residence are represented, and both are furnished with the finest appointments. One representing a drawing-room is furnished in retan with velvet curtains, lamp shades, and wall paper to match. The dining room has walnut furniture and the colors in the rest of the fittings harmonize exactly with that of the walnut. Altogether the rooms are two excellent samples of modern decorative art in home furnishing.

Among the fur displays is one by Barries, Ltd. The upper portion of the walls of the booth are covered with Canadian mink, trimmed with Russian Ermine. The lower part of the three walls are hung with Persian lamb, trimmed with Arctic and cross white fox. The front rails are prettily arranged with Persian and Alaskan otter, Labrador mink and leopard. The display includes an exposition of the newest styles in mink, seal, trimmed with ermine and long seal coats, and coats of natural Russian pony.

All the Peterborough Boy Scouts who can turn out on Friday night without interfering with their studies, are requested to be at the Armories. All boys are asked to wear their uniforms and have their staves. They will meet at 7.30 p.m. sharp at the Murray street entrance.

By order,
W. J. MILLER.
District Commissioner.

Another drawing card is the bean jar where a large number of guesses have been recorded.

Warne Bros. have purchased the decorations of violets, Wisteria and apple blossoms at the Spring Booth.

You've got to hand it to the ladies.

SUMMER BOOTH.

Try some of those cool drinks and ices at the Summer Booth. Here is the list:—

David Harum Sundae
Banana Split Sundae
Maple Cream Sundae
Maple Walnut Sundae
Chocolate Sundae

Our special soda is Crushed Strawberry Cream Soda. Try it. All flavors in cream sodas can be had.

Particular mention must be made of the Italian girls, who, in the pretty costumes of sunny Italy try to dispose of their stocks of peanuts, bananas, and oranges, from a large push cart. The young ladies who are in charge of this department are the nurses Eleanor Morrow, Aileen Sullivan, Amy Clementi and Margaret Stevenson. They have been the recipients of many compliments as to their striking and pretty costumes.

Two small, but very busy young ladies, who have been selling posies with great success are little Marcel McNulty and Margaret Hayes. The former wears a pretty little costume of blue silk, bountifully trimmed with flowers, representing "Forget-me-not", while the latter represents a butterfly. The little ladies are doing their best to make the Fair a success, and they have become quite popular with the crowds.

The scheme of decorations at the Summer Booth has been much admired, as have been also the costumes of the young ladies, who are assisting Mrs. McNulty and Mrs. Hayes. Each young lady wears a white gown, trimmed with the flowers which she is supposed to represent. Miss Dorothy Aylmer and Miss Genevieve Sanderson wear roses, pink and yellow; Miss Genevieve Sullivan, violets; Miss Marguerite Barret, and Miss Georgie Stevenson, poppies; Miss Annette Collins, sweet peas; Miss Laura Logan, red rose; Misses Clementi, daisies; Mrs. Basil Hall, pansies.

BAND CONCERT TO-NIGHT

March—Simper Fidelis.
Selection—Semeremide.
Cornet Solo—Polka. Band Sergt. Hughes.
Selection—Russian Folk Songs.
Intermezzo—Hobomoko.
Selection—From the "Chocolate Soldier."

Two numbers will be played, by special request, at nine o'clock, namely—"The Chocolate Soldier", and the group of Russian Folk Songs.

One of the most attractive features of the Summer Fair is the grand march which takes place each evening at eight o'clock. The ladies who had charge of the arrangements are to be complimented on their success. In case the significance of the different costumes represented is not generally understood, it is explained as follows in the order in which the characters appear:
